Rat Eradication Demonstrations To Be Held At Meetings Over County

County Agent's Office
The County Agent is making available this information to farmers for each use and kill his rats on his farm. The farmers should pick up each day all the rats and the County Agent will like for them to report the number of rats killed and kind of rat used.

1. Prevent inhaling the dust.
2. In case of nose bleeding and eye irritation it may require a physician. This could happen when handling a large amount of poison but in small quantities, it is less likely to happen.
3. Wash hands good after use. With these precautions it is safe to use.

Chemicals To Be Used In Killing Johnson Grass

County Agent's Office
Killing Johnson grass with Atticide or Sodium Chlorate should be done when Johnson Grass is growing and green to be effective. It does not matter too much about the size as long as it is growing, however the best time is in the blooming stage. When Johnson Grass is headed and stalks are drying up, the chemical will not kill as effectively. If it is small and growing good the chemical spraying will get the job done. This may influence somewhat the location of each of the demonstration in each community precinct; a rain now in the county would damage the cotton considerably, but a rain is needed on some of the Johnson Grass to revive it; so the chemical spray can kill the grass. The grass should not be plowed under but left on land for a considerable length of time after spraying several weeks or even until spring. The spray will penetrate the roots when grass is green and growing but it will not penetrate if the grass is dormant or drying out. In the stage of ideal growth of Johnson grass it requires a minimum of three weeks for the chemical action to take place advised County Agent, Homer E. Thompson.

The announcements will be made by letter to all farmers in the county as to time and location of each demonstration if held before this paper comes out again.

County Agent's office requests the location of Johnson Grass growing now from 4 to 20 inches high. If it had been cut or plowed under in the last month or so it should be green and growing now.

Use one pound to one pound and half of the Atticide or Sodium Chlorate to each gallon of water, spray a gallon and a half to two gallons of this mixture on 100 square feet or on a square 10 feet by 10 feet on the growing Johnson Grass. Leave it alone for several weeks and the grass is killed completely, roots and all. The first week, one might think he has helped it, but just wait, time will do the rest, advises the Agent.

Cotton Harvest Underway In Cochran County

Cotton harvest is getting underway in Cochran county, with various farmers bringing their first bale to the gin.

Morton Coop Gin reported fifty bales received by mid-week and next week will show a marked increase.

Last week's crop report caused a sharp drop in the price of cotton but the market closed steady with slight gains during the early part of the week. Tuesday's close was 31.01 for December on the New York exchange. Current seed prices are steady at $80.00 per ton.

Dry weather has caused short staple on most of the cotton ginned to date but later maturing bolts should be of a better staple length. Ginners report no spotted cotton being received.

Information On Defoliation Of Cotton Given

County Agent's Office
A good many questions have come into the County Agent's office for information on defoliation of cotton.

Defoliation can be done when early enough that all bolts of cotton on the stalk are formed that will eventually make cotton. It does not make any difference if bolts or green or half grown. The latter will go ahead and mature. The chemical knocks off the squares and most of the leaves. It will not hurt the bolts formed. When the cotton is growing and green the chemical will give the best results for defoliation. This should be applied when a few bolts or no bolts are open in order to not affect the grade of cotton. For example "Aero Defoliant" chemical is black and when dusted on the cotton with several bolts open, it will affect the grade.

Now after the first pulling of cotton and if the stalks are still green and a farmer wants to sled or harvest with a mechanical harvester, and he does not care if grade is lowered on cotton some, then a defoliant can be used. It will kill the bracts, but bracts will not fall off. If the cotton is drying up, it is doubtful if the defoliant used will be very effective, advises the County Agent.

Farm Laborers May Be Secured By Contacting County Agent's Office

The County Agent, in cooperation with the Farm Bureau of Texas, is working on plans whereby farmers may secure transient farm laborers, especially Mexicans, for the cotton harvest soon to reach its peak.

Farmers in Cochran county who have granaries or other living quarters for Mexican harvest hands are urged to contact the County Agent at once by writing or visiting his office and answering the six questions:

1. Farmers name and address.
2. Number of acres of cotton ready for harvest.
3. Average cotton yield per acre.
4. Number and size of houses for workers.
5. Is fuel and water available.
6. What do you expect to pay for pulling.

Requests for laborers will be sent to Brady and Abilene, where a central office will advise other County Agents the locality farm hands are needed.

Just advise your County Agent when you want cotton pullers. It is his job to secure them for you and every effort will be made to fill all requests.

Morton Power and Light Installs 3 Transformers

Lights were off in Morton from 8:00 to 10:00 A. M. last Sunday during the installation of new transformers in the local Power and Light Company.

Morton's 650 customers will be assured of more dependable service from the new power units.

State Maps Plans For Controlling Bang's Disease

The organization of a state advisory committee to map plans for controlling Bang's disease in Texas livestock herds is nearing completion.

Appointments on the committee have been made out of all livestock breed organizations in the state, including Jersey, Guernsey, Aberdeen Angus, Brahma, Hereford and milk goat associations. Cattle raisers associations, the Livestock Sanitary Commission of USDA's Bureau of Animal Industry, the state department of health and the Extension Service, Agricultural Experiment Station and the teaching division of Texas A. and M. College—all are represented on the committee that will attempt to curb the high toll that Bang's disease, or Brucellosis, is taking among the state's livestock.

Dr. E. A. Grist, Extension veterinarian at Texas A. and M. College, says that several new ideas have already been set forth for consideration of the committee. One proposal being a vaccination program for heifers without tests of adult animals. Another is the possibility of complete herd vaccination with special permission.

Also up for discussion by the committee is a plan to include local practicing veterinarians in a Bang's disease control plan.

The committee will next meet in Ft. Worth February 12.

Prevailing Prices on Cotton Pulling Announced

In compliance with a request from the Texas Farm Bureau to make a survey of the average wages paid for cotton pulling, County Agent Homer E. Thompson supplied the following information:

Bailey, Lubbock, Lynn, Terry and Garza counties have set a standard price of $1.50 for pulling and $1.75 for pulling and delivery to the gin. A few farmers, strictly in a minority, in different localities are reported to be paying 25c more per hundred.

Cochran county farmers agree that the price scale set by other counties is fair to both farmer and laborer.

THREE-MINUTE SERMON

"REMEMBER ME"

The words, "remember me" came at a very crucial hour in the life of this individual. The same thing is true with thousands today but very few are doing anything about it. It is horrible to think of the many that are going carelessly down the way and never seem to think of a hereafter. We are admonished in Eccl. 12 to remember our Creator in the days of our youth. This does not mean that man can not be contented unless he does remember the Lord in his youth. For this to be, there would be no hope for a person when he is old.

The words of the text was spoken by a man that was well in years and at a very crucial hour in his life. Jesus was being crucified between two thieves, one on either side. One of these men spoke these words because of the great sorrow that was upon him and because of the deep need of a Savior in his life. No doubt this man had been very happy in life but now he was facing life differently. All of them were in great sorrow yet with Christ there was great joy. Jesus was in great sorrow because of the pain of death, the millions that were yet in sin and for the turmoil that the world was in. Jesus was happy because men could be saved even at a late hour in life. The thief was in great sorrow because of the pain of death; for the sins of his own life, and of the judgment that he was facing. This was enough to make any man be in great sorrow and even bring him to think very deeply. He cried out in the midst of great sorrow to Christ who hang by his side and said, "Lord, remember me."

Victory came to him as it will to any one who cries out to the Lord. He saw Jesus as he had never seen him before. He cried for mercy as never before, even in the face of criticism. Jesus heard and responded to his cry in that, that he said "today shalt thou be with me in paradise." No doubt those were the sweetest words that he had ever heard. They were words that brought sunshine in the midst of darkness. They brought comfort in time of trouble and above all rest to a weary soul. Paul states in 2 Cor. 6:2 I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in a day of salvation have I succeeded thee; behold now is the expected time; behold now is the day of salvation.

Friend will you not remember that the Lord is near and call upon him while you have time. He will hear you and will respond as you call upon him.

Report Issued On Europe's Food Situation

By George Mahon

As reported from Washington several weeks ago, an Act of the House of Representatives required the Speaker to appoint a Committee of 19 members to make a study and recommendation in regard to our program of feeding and financing Europe—our foreign aid program. I was appointed as a member of the Committee. There are 8 Democrats and 11 Republicans on the Committee. It is headed by Christian Herter, a Republican from Boston. The Committee is working under a mandate from Congress and is under great pressure to do a good job. The report of the Committee may have a far reaching influence on our critical time in world history. The interests of the United States must come first and no aid to Europe should be recommended which will not also serve the best interests of America.

The war has now been over for more than two years. What does Europe look like to a West Texan?

First about England. In going by train the 70 miles from the port of Southampton to London, I was struck with the intensity with which the land is cultivated. The grain was off the wheat fields but many other crops were growing. However, they were not growing very well because England is in the midst of a terrific drought. I have since learned that most of Europe has been in a severe drought for about three months. This is making a marked reduction in the food supply. The clamour throughout Europe is food, food, food! At home we complain at the prices of food but here the emphasis is on food at any price.

I noticed in England that the Victorian gardens were still very much in evidence. In suitable areas the British are using such places as the right of way on the railroad for countless little gardens, and they are all well cared for. I went out in the country and met with what we would call the AAA committee for one of the farms. We looked at some of the farms. The farmers are doing a good job.

A farmer in England has to cooperate with the government program. If he fails to do so the government can take over his farm; but the farm committee explained that they had encountered no serious trouble in securing cooperation.

England is far from being self-sufficient in food and the people are up against it. They are not producing enough manufactured products to sell abroad to acquire enough dollars to pay for the food from abroad which they need. They call this the dollar crisis. The monetary complications are hard to understand but the results are quite easy to see. The people are reducing their import of food and struggling to increase their exports—doing this to get dollars and prevent the collapse of the government.

In spite of the fact that more than two years have elapsed since V-J Day, the British still have a severe rationing system which apparently works much better than our OPA ever did. The severity of the program is indicated by the fact that each person is allowed only one egg per week and only twenty cents worth of meat per week. Gasoline is strictly rationed. Clothing and textiles are strictly rationed also, and while the British produce large stocks of clothing they are not released in quantity for local sale but are exported, the idea being to acquire more dollars to be used for the purchase abroad of raw materials and food.

The British are a sturdy lot. They are unwilling to admit defeat; they are determined to prevent the collapse of their country. This was the impression which I got in conference which we held with officials of the British Government.

Our officials feel that the collapse of England and Western Europe would mean Communism and the domination of all Europe by Russia. In that event the security of America would be seriously threatened.

The most dynamic British officials with whom we conferred in London were the Foreign Minister, Ernest Bevin, and the Minister of the Board of Trade, Sir Stafford Cripps.

HOME FOR THE AGED

Bill's retired

And he's only six months old! Yes, the Treasury Department says the average dollar bill holds up only about half a year before it goes to pieces!

But any housewife can tell you the life expectancy of a greenback is even shorter than that. When a dollar goes to market nowadays, it lasts hardly any time at all—and seems to buy less

But don't forget electricity! Actually the service you get for your electric dollar is just about the biggest bargain in your budget. If yours is an average Plains family, that dollar buys you about twice as much electricity as it did 15 years ago!

Break it down into terms of service, and that little greenback lasts a long while. It can run a radio for 100 evenings—or do your family wash for 5 months—or tell you the correct time for more than a year and a half! It'll even vacuum clean 600 rugs—or brew you 1,000 cups of coffee!

No matter what service you want it to perform for you, that electric dollar has a very long life, indeed!

Santa Claus mail has started coming in but Santa, even with our help, is having trouble reading the one from Beth Bucy who lives on route 1, Morton.

Which reminds us that some of the letters received in a newspaper office are about as hard to read as a doctor's prescription written with a postoffice pen in the rumble seat of a second hand car.

After remarks made by Tye Williamson, George Graham and Jiggs Baker we feel that we did the "New Look" more harm than good when we came out in a long, plaid dress with voluminous skirt.

Those young chaps did not take into consideration the youth and good looks of Odessa, Zephia and Colleen when they made their disparaging comments. Anyway we feel confident the three wives mentioned will have something to say about the length of their skirts.

Ben Dyer sent us a couple hunks of salt from 750 feet underground at Grand Saline where he and Mrs. Dyer are operating a theatre. The hunks make nice paper weights. But we suppose our two little boy friends, Bo Brown and Danny Redwine of Snyder will take them away from us as both collect "pretty rocks."

This tale on Oliver Wendell Holmes never fails to amuse us. Realizing that he had mistaken an insane asylum for a college, he explained to the gatekeeper and commented humorously: "I suppose, after all, there is not a great deal of difference."
"Oh, yes, sir, there is," replied the guard. "In this place you must show some improvement before you can get out."

LOOKING AHEAD By George S. Benson, President, Harding College, Searcy, Ark.

SHALL AMERICA FOLLOW?

Among all the postwar nations, no countries have so quickly restored their productivity without damage to standards of living as have Canada and the United States. These two countries have restored productivity to the 1940-41 level, and in many industries have surpassed this level. It is no coincidence that a recent New York Times 22-nation survey showed that except in Canada and the United States, the trend is toward government management of industry.

Countries that are exchanging their freedoms for government controls are not making good postwar records. In general, they are the countries that are crying the loudest for help from outside. Those nations which desire to turn everything over to the government for complete control and management are the very countries that are slipping backward. Still, the trend is in that very direction, toward government management.

Public Must Decide

The Times declared: The prospects for the survival of the competitive free enterprise system outside the Western hemisphere seem covered with uncertainty in view of the growth of nationalization under communism. The tendency is apparently toward moderate exercise of government controls in Britain, the western areas of the continent and the Pacific, and toward extreme application of government control in the Soviet Union and in Eastern Europe.

Shall America ultimately follow this trend? In my opinion, the public in this country has not yet decided that issue. There are some voices crying loudly for government management. Even our Attorney General points his finger at American industry and accuses it of being responsible for high prices. Political maneuverers may please critical people and get votes, but in making industry unpopular the way is paved for replacing our free enterprise system.

Best System

As an educator, I favor that system which will provide the highest standards of living for the masses of the American people. If government management of our industries would provide higher wages, more productivity and greater purchasing power for each dollar spent, then certainly I would be in favor of it. Actually, our system of private enterprise has put America far ahead of other nations that have tried anything else.

There are other dividends offered by the American Way. We have freedoms. We can work at what we please, where we choose. We can speak our minds, assemble in groups as we care to. These freedoms and other liberties we did not have under the control of despotic and dictatorial governments in previous centuries. Why, ever, should we want to follow a trend that leads us backward toward new despotism

A lot of lumber will be available for building purposes in the 25 buildings at Midland Army Airfield No. 1, which are being offered for sale to the general public until October 7 through the Office of Real Property Disposal of the War Assets Administration at Grand Prairie, Texas. Fixtures in the structures are being placed on the market in the same sale. Buildings, which are to be removed from the field, include hospital wards, administration, hospital barracks, mess halls, laundry, steam plant, boiler house, dental clinic and infirmary.

Riveting and punching machines, rivet setting machines and automatic rivet setters along with automatic lathes and screw machines feature the sale of many thousands of dollars worth of heavy machine tools which comes to a close in the Customer Service Center of the Grand Prairie office of War Assets Administration October 3. The machinery is offered at fixed prices to both priority groups and the trade.

Transfer of all equipment of a $10,000 machine shop at Waco's Blackland Army Air Field to Southwestern University at Georgetown was recently announced by WAA. The transfer was accomplished through the Federal Works Agency, which is presently engaged in distributing millions of dollars worth of war surplus materials to schools and colleges through its Bureau of Community Facilities at Fort Worth.

Act With Wisdom

The experience of England should make us pause and think seriously. Those freedom-loving people have not found government management an asset. Their coal production has been extremely disappointing under government management. Rationing has become more and more severe. Burdens of the people have become more and more heavy. Today, the very future of England is threatened by strict government regulations and management of industry.

In this dark hour, Englishmen should study their own history. They will find that whenever their individual freedoms were greatest, it was then their prosperity was the most genuine. If we in America think soberly and act in our best interests, we will act with wisdom to preserve the fundamental patterns of our economy: the right of private ownership of property and the freest possible exercise of private management of our entire economy.

An opportunity for Texas public schools to obtain choice textbooks at bargain prices was created this week under a new WAA program of distributing three million surplus volumes now in the custody of the Library of Congress. Catalogs are being mailed this week to approximately 600 eligible educational institutions by the Priority Claimants Division of the Grand Prairie office, and additional catalogs will be furnished on request. Schools may buy the surplus books at five per cent of fair value by submitting orders before November 1 direct to the WAA Customer Service Center, 4th and Jefferson, Washington, D. C.

The carbon black plant at Odessa, operated during the war by the United Carbon Company, has been sold for $4,300,000 to Sid W. Richardson, Fort Worth independent oil and gas operator. WAA has announced. The plant was designed for the manufacture of channel type carbon black.

Rheumatic Heart Disease Takes Toll Of Deaths

AUSTIN—Rheumatic heart disease is now the first cause of death among children aged 10 to 14, and is second only to tuberculosis at ages 15 to 25. Despite the importance of this disease its epidemiology is not completely established. No vaccine such as those that prevent typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox, and whooping cough has yet been developed for its prevention or control. We do know, however, some of the danger signals and with the physician's accurate diagnosis some of the damaging results of the disease may be prevented.
 Exposure to frequent chilling, damp or over-crowded living quarters, a poor diet, an attack of scarlet fever, a bad cold or other infection caused by certain streptococcus germs are likely to be predisposing factors in the appearance of rheumatic fever.
 Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, points out that in general the danger signals of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows, or wrists. The pain usually is felt in one of these cen-

Missouri's Woman Industrialist Builds New Kind of Women's Dress Factory

A plant four acres in area devoted exclusively to the manufacture of women's dresses, nearing completion in Kansas City, Missouri. Headed by a woman, Mrs. James A. Reed, and employing women workers almost exclusively, it will be the last word architecturally. Sky-blue glass windows, that give diffused working light, form the east and west walls, which are two blocks long.
 A private spur railroad will run to the north end of the building, delivering fabric that will proceed through the building, coming out the south end in finished dresses, to be delivered to stores in 2400 different communities through the United States.
 The masculine minority of employees (there are less than a hundred) consider it highly appropriate that the new plate glass windows are to be sky blue, since the firm dates its first success from a sky-blue cotton dress, made in the home of Mrs. Reed, thirty-one years ago.

Combination Main Dishes Offer 2-Way Economy

Combination main dishes offer a two-way economy, especially important for low cost meals when food costs are up, according to Louise Mason, Specialist in Food Preparation of the Extension Service of the A. and M. College.
 Such combinations, as macaroni and cheese, spaghetti and meat sauce, rice and meat stew, or creamed eggs on toast are familiar examples.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
We All Need Fun!
 Nobody in Our Town is exactly (even though Pete Swanson's claims he sleeps till seven AM). But the hardest working man of all is Doc Hollister—on all morning, noon and night.
 Funny thing, Doc's favorite prescription to his patients is: You ought to have fun. The pace of modern living, even on the farm, demands some relaxation.
 And as Doc says—fun is a personal thing. For the missus it may mean a movie or a good book; for him, a mellow and refreshing glass of beer; and for the kids, parcheesi or the radio. Doesn't mean everybody has to like the same thing—so long as they relax, have fun, together, in the home.
 Doc doesn't have much time himself. After a hard day, he'll relax before the fire with a glass of beer—and wait for the phone to ring again. And from where I sit, Doc deserves each well-earned minute of that relaxation.
 Joe Marsh

The economy in such dishes is that the inexpensive cereal foods "stretch" the meat, cheese or eggs and make them go farther in serving the family. A more important economy, however, is the other way around—the meat, eggs, milk or cheese stretch or build up the nutritive value of the cereal foods.
 The protein in grains or cereals is not complete. To be fully useful for growth and body repair, grain protein can be reinforced with animal protein. Therefore, if cereal foods, such as bread, flour and rice are to be used to the best advantage in the diet, thrifty housewives will combine them with at least a little milk, cheese, meat, or egg. In the union there is added strength and added flavor.
 Dried skim milk at current prices, is the cheapest food and one of the best for building up cereal protein.

ters and spreads to the others. Oftentimes a child will get irritable and cross without any visible signs of a good reason for this attitude; he may cry easily or develop habits of nervousness. A physician should be consulted at once in such a situation, for these symptoms may be the beginning of rheumatic fever.

According to Dr. Cox the best safeguards against this disease are to have each child examined at least once a year by a physician, to have the right kind of food and plenty of rest. When the disease is suspected of being present, a doctor should be consulted at once, and if he prescribes complete bed rest, his advice should be implicitly followed.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

We All Need Fun!

Nobody in Our Town is exactly funny (even though Pete Swanson's usual claim is he sleeps till seven A.M.). But the hardest working man of all is Doc Hollister—on all morning, noon and night.

Funny thing, Doc's favorite preparation to his patients is: You ought to have fun. The pace of modern living, even on the farm, demands some relaxation.

And as Doc says—fun is a personal thing. For the missus it may mean a movie or a good book; for me, a mellow and refreshing glass of beer; and for the kids, parcheese or the radio. Doesn't mean everybody has to like the same thing—so long as they relax, have fun, together, in the home.

Doc doesn't have much time himself. After a hard day, he'll relax before the fire with a glass of beer—and wait for the phone to ring again. And from where I sit, Doc deserves each well-earned minute of that relaxation.
