New Schedule Of Classes Started Thurs. By Schools

Morton high school began a new schedule of classes last Thursday, starting classes at 8:30 and dismissing at 12:30. This schedule was a compromise between those desiring school to be discontinued for a few weeks and those wishing regular hours to be maintained.

By shortening the six periods from one hour to forty minutes the required school work can be accomplished without extra time being added at the end of term. When weather conditions obviously indicate field work cannot be done school will maintain regular hours.

Parents are urged to send their children to school for the half day period. School children can never completely regain the hours lost from the class room.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

New Well Located In South Cochran Hits Pay Dirt

Oil discovered in a well 15 miles south of Lehman in Cochran county has possibly opened a new field in the south central section of the county. It was learned Tuesday. The well is Stanolind Oil and Gas company's No. 1 Hall.

That prospector ran a two and half hour drillstem test at 10,483 feet. The 1,500 foot water blanket flowed at the surface in 35 minutes oil started flowing at the top in one hour 10 minutes.

The drill pipe flowed pipeline oil at the estimated rate of 20 barrels per hour of the remaining one hour 20 minutes of the test. The petroleum was 37 gravity. There was no water in the fluid.

The possible pool opener was drilling ahead below 10,510 feet in lime at last report. Operator representatives say that the formation which developed the flowing oil is probably lower Pennsylvanian.

There is no official confirmation of reports in some circles that the top of the Strawn was at 10,300 feet.

This discovery is adjacent to the Landon field, where there are a few small pumpers from the San Andreas Permian from above 5,100 feet. The new well is located 538 feet from west lines of section 13, block L, PSL survey.

"All Veterans' Day" Oct. 14 At State Fair, Dallas

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, often called the greatest Texan since Sam Houston, will come to Dallas October 14 to lead Texas veterans of all wars in a rededication to the principles of American Freedom.

The occasion will be "All Veterans' Day" at the State Fair of Texas when for the first time in the history of the state tribute will be paid to veterans of all wars in all branches of the service.

More than 200,000 veterans and their families are expected to take part in the day's activities, R. L. Thornton, president of the Fair, announced. Among the many service groups participating will be the American Legion, Spanish-American War Veterans, Reserve Officers Association, Air Force Association, Air Reserve Association, Veterans of Foreign Wars and numerous others.

Admiral Nimitz, whose brilliant naval career took him from the Hill Country of Texas to become commander of the Pacific Fleet and conqueror of the Japanese navy, is now Chief of Naval Operations, one of the highest military titles which his country can bestow. He will fly from Washington to Dallas in his own plane to participate in the day's activities and to address a crowd of more than 50,000 the night of October 14, in the Cotton Bowl.

"This will be the veteran's own day at the Fair and we are doing everything possible to make his visit enjoyable," Mr. Thornton said. "The public address system network which covers the grounds will be at the disposal of those veterans seeking to locate their buddies, and special meeting places are being arranged for the various military organizations which are planning to assemble at the Fair."

THREE-MINUTE SERMON

By T. L. (Jack) Bullard, Pastor
Missionary Baptist Church

"GRACE AND TRUTH"

"For the Law was given by Moses, but Grace and Truth came by Jesus Christ. (John 1:17.)"

It is surprising to note how many professed Christians go according to their "Think So" rather than by the word of God. So many think that Old Testament Christians were saved by keeping the law, not withstanding, the word of God which plainly states that the law was the "Ministration of death" and not of life.

A contrast is drawn between what was "Given" by Moses, and what "Came" by Jesus Christ. Grace and Truth were not merely given, but they "Came" by Jesus Christ. Came in all their fullness, came in their glorious perfection. The law did not belong to Moses, it was given him. Grace and Truth were not given to Christ, for these were His own essential perfections.

Grace and Truth are fitly joined together. We cannot have the one without the other. There are many who do want salvation by grace, and there are many who would accept of God's grace if they could have it apart from Truth. Many who heard Christ during his personal ministry wondered at his gracious words but as soon as He urged the truth upon them they were filled with wrath. Human nature is no different today than it was when Christ walked upon the earth. Those who reject the truth, reject grace as well. When truth gets too strong they jump up and run. They try to find refuge with another group. Brother, "Grace and Truth" are things that you can't hide from.

NATIONAL GUARD ASSN.

The National Guard Association of the United States concluded its 69th annual conference at Columbus, Ohio September 20th by unanimously electing Major General A. Walsh, Adjutant General of Minnesota, for his fifth consecutive term as president.

Brigadier General Raymond H. Fleming of Louisiana and Brigadier General Charles G. Sage of New Mexico were elected vice presidents from the Fourth Army Area, for three years.

"Grace reigns through Righteousness" (Rom. 5:21). Grace does not ignore the law, or set aside its requirements, but it establishes the law. Rom. 3:31. The grace which saves the sinner is no moral weakness. For one to ignore either, God's grace or his truth, is to ignore salvation. It was truth that drove our first parents, Adam and Eve, from the garden. It was grace that sought them and provided for them a covering. God dealt according to, "Grace and Truth" with Israel on the passover night in Egypt. It was grace that provided shelter for them beneath the blood; it was truth that demanded the death of an innocent substitute in their stead.

Remember, Grace and Truth are outstanding factors in a Christian life. God offers grace and truth to every man through Jesus Christ our Lord. Be with us in our services and study of these great doctrines. We need you and you need the church.

Texas Society for Crippled Children To Meet In Waco

The state convention of the Texas Society for Crippled Children is to be held in Waco in 1948, it was decided at the tenth annual convention held Sept. 29-30 in Dallas. The Waco convention will be the first of subsequent ones to be held in various parts of the state so that all persons interested in crippled children's work will have a better chance to partake of the information presented at the meetings. Roscoe L. Thomas, president, said.

During the coming year, four regional clinics also will be held. The first of these will be in Lubbock.

Hailing the Texas Society as an organization "in the forefront of a national movement to provide treatment centers and research work in the care of children with cerebral palsy," Lawrence J. Link, of Chicago, executive secretary of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, said that the Dallas medical research staff was the first such staff in the country.

More than 500 interested medical and lay workers attending the convention heard Dr. Temple Fay of Philadelphia, world-famous neurosurgeon, and Dr. Jerry Price of New York, authority on epilepsy. The meeting was concluded with a demonstration treatment at the Dallas Society for Crippled Children's Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center.

Farm cash income for the South Plains increased 150 per cent from 1927 to 1943, more than any other crop reporting district in the state.

Overseas Parcels Must Be Properly Boxed, Wrapped

Despite complete instruction, packages addressed to areas overseas are still being submitted to the post office improperly boxed, according to postmaster Walter Taylor.

Parcels improperly packed and insufficiently wrapped will not be accepted for mailing to members of the armed forces overseas. A suitable carton must be of metal, wood, solid fiberboard, or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard, testing at least 200 pounds.

In addition to the strength of the container used, articles should be cushioned to prevent rattling. Also, in the case of fiberboard boxes, a complete wrapping in heavy paper will add to the strength of the container.

Boxes should be well secured with strong cord. Gummed paper may be used across the ends. The gummed tape alone is not sufficient, as the boxes are subjected to moist air and the bindings will loosen. Sealed boxes must bear the printed inscription authorizing opening for postal inspection.

Contrary to the belief held by many, more than one address is a hindrance rather than an aid. Postal employees are accustomed to finding the canceled postage near the address. In the event of more than one address the package may be rated with postage due before discovery that postage stamps are affixed to some other side.

BOYCE HOUSE

'Gives You Texas'

An advertiser in an Eastland paper says he will haul away the carcasses of dead livestock and signs himself, "Your used cow dealer."

And an equipment house in San Antonio has a jolly style of advertising. For instance, "blue-denims—if you bought 'em down town, they'd be trousers and cost you 50 cents more" and "army cot—have trouble sleeping? Then you're sure to enjoy lying awake on this cot" and "fountain pen—if you can't write, this'll keep the cigars in your pocket from getting broken."

The author of Cub Reporter is amazed and happy at the reception the book is getting. Evelyn Oppenheimer, famous book reviewer, told about it over the radio and Capt. and Mrs. Tim Healy had me over to tell on the air about my new book and Jack Lait, New York Mirror editor, devoted his entire "column" to recollections of C. P. J. Mooney, Memphis Commercial Appeal editor and principal figure in Cub Reporter. U. S. Senator K. D. McKellar and Clarence Saunders (originator of Piggly Wiggly) were among the first purchasers.

Your hard-headed, "practical" man says, "Seeing is believing." Well, as an automobile speeds away from you, it gets smaller and smaller; do you really believe it changes size? If you look down a railroad track, the rails finally run together. You see it; do you believe it?

And did you ever notice that the man who belittles humor and poohs the ability to make people laugh is usually a sourpuss himself? Like the rooster who was about to have a fight with a horse and the rooster said, "Before we start, let's agree not to step on each other's feet."

The South Plains harvests over 50,000,000 bushels of grain sorghums per year, more than a quarter of the nation's supply.

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Wind that has driven a ship across the sea has retained its strength to push another sail. Truth loses none of its power through use.

Flagstones over which the sandals of greatness have trod were previously part of a massive wall across the path of zealous ambition. Beneath bright bridges that span shadowed chasms of chaos, are the deep, sturdy pillars of secret tears and failures.

Another objection to gossip is the truth which it frequently contains.

Progress is like fire in dry prairie grass and by its light we see miracles of science become common implements in our soft hands. We rub the lamp of need and the wish, wrapped in cellophane, is delivered by automat. Fantasy greater than our power to dream is in the bassinet of tomorrow.

Blood is on my hands since murder of my white Tom cat in the stillness of a summer dawn. Dew was on the leaf and the fragrance of freshly mowed grass was in the motionless, ashamed wind. A sentence had been pronounced against the predatory habits of my feline pet. I called him to die and hoped he would not appear. From out of lingering night shadows he walked proudly in answer to my summons. A few yards away he suddenly lunged to the side of his course, as if he had seen death and was afraid. Never before in eight years had he shown any fear of me. He paused and looked thru the gloom. The gun spat a little tongue of fire and he buried his white paws in the grass trying to cling to life. I placed his limp body in a small box and washed the crimson stain from the grass. With the box on the seat beside me, I drove through purple and gold splendor that had been spread for the arrival of day. Red gold framed blue clouds anchored in the estuary of pink light but the closed eyes beside me looked at eternal darkness. Several miles away I stopped at a small bridge and dropped the box into tall grass and weeds growing from the creek bed. At the instant it struck there was a flutter of wings and a great snow-white owl rose from the opposite end of the bridge. I watched the bird's erratic flight over the mesquites and into the sunrise. I am a simple person but my thirst for understanding is not satisfied from the dusty cup of coincidence.

The manner in which a man finds God is not important, but the discovery is wealth loaned from the treasury of his soul.

Altho the rich man will never know his riches, violins must play in his heart when he is certain of one.

Mr. W. A. White who has been hospitalized at Galveston is back at home and apparently much improved.

The community of Whiteface is happy to have Mr. White at home.

The movie at the high school last Saturday night was well attended. The movies are a weekly event sponsored by the Whiteface Lions Club and the public is invited to attend.

Church services were well attended last Sunday. The Methodist Church had 90 present for Sunday school.

There has been quite a bit of improvement made in Whiteface recently.

Hubert Taylor has a brand new service station. He seems to have made a good start.

J. C. Casey has modernized his grocery store by doubling the floor space.

The Schneider Grocery and Drug stores are being remodeled and enlarged by the removal of the east wall of the drug store and west one of the grocery.

Sam Bozike has treated his store building with a coat of stucco.

These improvements have added much to the appearance of Whiteface.

The Forrest Lumber Company, managed by M. T. Baird, has been doing quite a bit of improving.

The City Drug and Stephenson Grocery are always alert to the appearance of their buildings and keep everything in tip-top condition.

Leo Roulaine's Garage is a new business. Just old enough for the City to tax this time. Leo is always busy.

There are several new dwellings going up in town. Herbert Lindsey has completed two houses, both modern. One is being occupied by John Taylor and the other by Mrs. Baldwin. Lindsey has another building under construction.

Chas Bills has a nice dwelling under construction. Ward Thoms has a nice five room house, modern in every way, almost complete. Mr. Drumheller has a nice home almost complete.

Several more houses are being planned and will soon be under construction.

The school is progressing nicely under the management of Mr.

Clemmons, superintendent. H. J. Knox has been employed by the City Commission as City Secretary, Tax Assessor and Collector.

Berry Lyons has been appointed to a place on the City Council, made vacant by the resignation of W. A. White. Mr. White was unable to carry on his duties due to his failing health.

Whiteface is growing, there are great opportunities in Whiteface for new businesses. More needs to be done. Everyone will have to pitch in and help to make Whiteface grow.

Before a fertilizer is offered for sale in Texas, it must be registered with the State Chemist, and must meet all requirements of the fertilizer law.

Annual farm income of the South Plains in normal times is around $100,000,000.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to Tell You're Getting Old

Doc Walters gave me this formula: It's a sure-fire sign you're getting old when you resent other people having a good time.

And the Doc means it hasn't much to do with age. There are old folks in our town who get a big kick out of seeing other people enjoy themselves—seems to keep them young in spirit, with a twinkle in their eyes!

And there are some others who resent the young folks going fishing; who feel that community games and dances are just a waste of time; or who criticize temperate people for enjoying a mellow glass of beer with friends.

They're often well-intentioned folks, too. But from where I sit, the minute we criticize our neighbors for enjoying wholesome pleasures—like a game of horseshoes, a glass of beer, or an afternoon's fishing—it's a sure sign we're growing old (in spirit anyway) no matter what our age is.

South Plains Fair Attended By Over 100,000

Attendance at the 30th Annual Panhandle South Plains Fair which ended a six day stand in Lubbock, October 4, zoomed to over 100,000, between 15,000 and 20,000 more than last year. Outstanding attraction of the week was the giant balloon and rodeo parade.

Broadway reverberated with laughter and giggles as children and grownups alike expressed their approval of the biggest parade ever to be seen in this area. Led by Mayor C. A. Bestwick, the parade included bands from Texas Technological College, Whiteface, Levelland, Littlefield, Plainview and Lubbock high schools. Following each band were some of the 50 giant balloons which appeared in the parade. Mounted rodeo contestants, floats, midget autos and bicycles made up the rest of the procession.

Good crowds viewed the rabbit show held in the new livestock and judging building, and the Tech livestock exhibit. The cattle and swine entries also drew many people.

The Steiner rodeo was enjoyed by thousands. Rodeo fans said Steiner had the best stock they had ever seen in the arena, and that the cowboy entrants put on an excellent show.

Thursday afternoon, two scholarships of $100 each were awarded to Eloise Woodruff of Shallowater and E. P. Wicker, Jr., of Southland for outstanding 4-H work. Scholarships are to be used at Texas Tech and were awarded by the Lubbock Jaycees.

YELLOW CORN

The man from the city stopped to chat with the farmer standing in the corn field.

"Well that corn is yellow isn't it?"

"Yep," replied the farmer.

"How come it yellow," asked the city man.

"Cause I planted yellow corn," replied the farmer.

"Well, I see you're not far from a fool."

"Just across the fence from one," replied the farmer.

Home Making Teachers Conference To Be Held At Texas Tech October 11

Between 100 and 150 home making teachers and school administrators from high schools in Lubbock and 24 other counties are expected to attend a district conference of home making teachers October 11 at Texas Technological College. The conference is jointly sponsored by the state board for vocational education and the college.

Dr. Berniece Moore, home and family life consultant with the Hogg foundation and the Austin public schools, will be luncheon speaker. Visiting school superintendents or principals will be honor guests at the luncheon.

The program will begin at 9 a. m. and will continue until 4 p. m. Speakers include Miss Ruth Huey, state supervisor of home making education of Austin; Mrs. O. V. Adams, head professor of home economics education at Texas Tech; Miss Doris Nesbitt, Miss Martha Graves and Miss Elizabeth Hawley, also of the college home economics education faculty; Miss Pearl Watson and Miss Gertrude Watson of the Lubbock public schools; Mrs. Ima Dora Hale, Anton; Mrs. Nancy Murphy, Seymour; Velma Ruth Howell, state reporter for Future Homemakers of America, Tahoka; and Peggy Ross, Area II FHA president. Pres. W. M. Whyburn of Texas Tech and Dean of Home Economics Margaret W. Weeks will give brief welcoming addresses.

Dean Weeks and Miss Esther Sorenson, district supervisor for the state board for vocational education, are in charge of local arrangements.

Counties in Area II are: Baylor,

All Possible Vegetation Should Be Left

Farmers should leave all possible vegetation on the surface of the soil to serve as a windbreak and prevent soil erosion by blowing, according to Dr. A. W. Young, head of the Texas Technological College plant industry department.

Plows of the Hoeme type that work soil underneath the surface without pulverizing topsoil are highly desirable as further protection against wind erosion, he said. When the soil is dry the chisel points should be set deep, but if moisture is present to be conserved, sweeps should be set for shallow cultivation.

Dr. Young sees little prospect for a "dustbowl" in the immediate vicinity of Lubbock because sufficient vegetation is now on most of the land to hold it if it is not grazed to closely and if farmers do not destroy all vegetation in their fields by improper plowing.

Much acreage in other sections, however, that has been broken for cultivation should be seeded back to pasture, he warned, pointing out that only deep soil should be in cultivation. Unless the owner is sure that new sod is deep, he should consult a soil conservation authority before breaking new grass lands for cultivation, the professor stated.

LOOKING AHEAD By George S. Benson, President, Harding College, Searcy, Ark.

GREAT TEACHER, EXPERIENCE!

They thought that industrial strife would be over. High production, harmony, and peaceful work—all would be rosy ahead. No longer would the coal mines be operated for profit! That ghastly dragon, private enterprise, had gasped his last in a free election. From now on, the coal mines would be operated for use—for the benefit of the public. A labor government had taken possession of the mines and would be in charge of operations. Since labor was the government, said brain-trusters in the party, all would be harmony. Of course there would be no more strikes in the coal mining industry. Labor would have no cause to strike against a labor government which was operating the mines solely for the welfare of the nation. This kind of fanciful thinking was popularly done in England when the British government took possession of the coal mines in January, 1946.

Learned The Lesson

The English people have had to learn an important lesson from their experiments in socialism, a lesson the Russians and other totalitarian governments also have learned. This lesson is: You can't change economic fact and law by switching political power over to another group through elections or revolutions. It did not take Mr. Stalin long to discover that men work best for the incentives of increased pay, promotions, and more buying power. Slaves to paper plans make poor producers. Stalin therefore tried to copy incentives that are traditional in America.

What is the English experience? On September 3, 1947, the Associated Press reported from London that 50,000 miners were on strike. This action closed 46 mines in a spreading strike called "England's worst labor disturbance in three years." Coal had become so scarce because of the strike that 2,400 industrial plants employing 100,000 men warned the government they would be forced to shut down unless they could get coal.

Less Coal Than Ever

There are deluded souls who have been shouting that we in America should turn to government management. This is the way, they say, to settle industrial strife in the coal industry and other industries. They should observe that Britain, with a labor government in charge of coal production, has more trouble than we have. (Britain gets less coal from her mines than in 1933, even though she has more men and better machinery).

This present strike is most serious. England is in a crisis of Dunkirk proportions—certainly her worst since peace came. Yet, despite the crisis, regardless of the labor government and the fact that it manages the coal industry, still the great, spreading strike occurred. A labor government has not been able to keep workers from striking. Britain's program of nationalization has not resulted in cooperation from labor.

Free Work Is Best

For a long time the world has been plagued with ideas that there are substitutes for work. There will always be men who can make such ideas sound pretty good. But the ideas are just as false as are the men who want the political power required to put some paper "plan" into effect. There is no substitute for the opportunity of honest work, under the kind of free economic system we have in America. When some political system calls for all the economic power it can get, you may be sure that the common man is going to lose out. One of the first powers sought is the power to control industry.

In a country that speaks our language and enjoys our same civilization, a government that manages industry has brought forth no solution for industrial strife. Government management of industry has made conditions worse. It has brought loss of efficiency in England, to the tune of 60 million less tons of coal a year. Do we want high wages (which come only with efficiency and high production), and do we want industrial peace and national prosperity? Then surely we want no part of government management of American industries.

Weekly Cotton Market Review

(Texas and Oklahoma)

Spot prices continued to decline during the week and there was a further weakening of the basis. The demand for Army Purchase qualities continued strong. Harvesting conditions were ideal and all sections need pickers.

The Dallas price for Middling 15 16" on Thursday was 29.95 cents, or $3.00 per bale lower than a week earlier and $8.00 lower than two weeks ago. Houston-Galveston prices of 30.40 cents and 30.50 cents were about $2.25 per bale lower than last week.

Sales of spot cotton increased as reported by the three designated spot markets in the Southwestern Area. Dallas sales of 49,084 bales compared with 44,257 bales a week earlier. Reported sales in Houston and Galveston of 34,563 bales compared with 31,008 bales last week.

Activity in farmers markets was rather hesitant during the week. A weaker basis and the lower grades and shorter staples of current ginnings were the contributing factors. Reports indicate more cotton is going into the loan in both Texas and Oklahoma.

Picking and ginning made rapid progress with the excellent weather. An ample supply of pickers would be a boon to all areas.

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

North Camp Hood, entered through Gatesville, Texas, will be the scene of a $600,000 War Assets Administration clearance of war surplus October 13, 14, and 15. In the various lots to be offered at informal public bidding will be a huge assortment of bunk beds, valued at a third of the entire inventory. Other items include pillows, army comforters, restaurant and kitchen supplies and stove parts. The first two days, Monday and Tuesday, October 13 and 14, have been designated as inspection and bidding period, with the bid opening to be held at 9 a. m., Wednesday, October 15.

Buildings of the Big Spring Army Air Field found eager buyers at the rate of one per minute at WAA's third Texas spot bid real property sale recently. Nearly 400 people, mostly from points in West Texas, turned out to participate in the bidding. The sale netted Uncle Sam a total of $99,143.43 for 164 structures ranging from barracks and recreation halls to ammunition igloos and sentry boxes.

Thirty lots of consumer goods will go on the high bid block October 20, 21 and 22 at the Grand Prairie War Assets Administration's sales warehouse. Metal materials such as aluminum and magnesium coils, tubing and sheeting will comprise a good share of the offering. Also included will be warehouse trailers and miscellaneous construction equipment. Goods will be open to public inspection and bidding from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. October 20 and 21, and until noon October 22. Announcement of awards will begin at one p. m. October 22.

A sale of 100 buildings, with the hue of red tape taken out, is to be held at Camp Fannin, 9 miles northeast of Tyler, Texas, October 17. The general public is invited, says WAA. This will be the first on-location spot-bid sale of surplus buildings in East Texas, according to WAA's Office of Real Property Disposal.

Production would have been delayed and employment curtailed if surplus industrial plants and production equipment, sold by War Assets Administration, had not been put to use. Increasing the national annual output of pig iron 11 per cent, represented in nearly 5,000,000 net tons; steel over 7 per cent or close to 5,000,000 net ingot tons, and contributing to the employment of 40,000 workers in these two fields alone are advances made toward American industrial activity since ce the inspection of the war surplus property distribution program. These figures are based on a quarterly report of WAA to Congress. During the last two years, nearly two and a half million product tons of steel were disposed of. Over 140,000 gross tons of iron and steel products were sold as scrap and salvage during the months of March, April and May of 1947 alone.

Shortage of men's clothing was aided by supplying scarce pocketing material and linings. To aid in harvesting the cotton crop, 3,500,000 yards of tent material for sacks were released. In the motor field, 460,000 motor vehicles were sold, these being divided into 308,000 trucks, 77,000 trailers, and 75,000 jeeps, motorcycles and passenger cars. Education and research have been advanced through the donation program.

Hospitals and housing also have been aided by sales.

Jester To Speak At Convention

The first "full dress" postwar annual convention of the Young Democratic Clubs of Texas will be held at Longview, Texas, Saturday, October 18, and indications point to an attendance of over 1,000 young party leaders from all over the state, according to James H. Blundell, executive secretary of the organization.

Governor Beauford Jester will speak at a pre-convention dinner the preceding Friday night which will be tendered by local people honoring him along with officers and executive committeemen of the Young Democrats.

With the purpose of stimulating the interest of young people in government affairs the convention will seek to form the basis for an effective arm of the party in the 1948 campaign, Blundell declared.

The convention will close with a dinner Saturday evening.

Sidelights from Germany

(by George Mahon)

In a previous report I made reference to England where food is scarce and where life is hard for the British. From London our Congressional committee on Foreign Aid proceeded to Germany for three days. This was not time enough to see much but one of our sub-committees will spend three weeks in Germany.

Generally speaking, Germany after the lapse of two years since V-J Day is still a nation of rubble and ruin. It hardly seems possible that places like Berlin, Essen and Frankfurt could be rebuilt within a decade. Some progress is being made in clearing the rubble and reestablishing business and industry but Americans who have not seen the war damage in Germany cannot possibly visualize what German cities look like. At long last the German people know with complete certainty what war is like.

Here is one of our difficult problems in Germany: Russia and Poland have control of the pre-war breadbasket of Germany. The United States and Britain have joint control of the industrial heart of Germany but our area is far from being self-sufficient in food. Under our agreement with Russia, the Potsdam Agreement, Germany was to be operated as an economic unit but Russia has refused to live up to the agreement. Under the law of nations an occupying power must prevent starvation in the area occupied. We can escape this responsibility by pulling our troops out of Germany, but if we stay we must maintain order and prevent starvation. If we pull out of Germany, few doubt but that the vacuum would be filled by the Communists, which would mean that the full industrial capacity of the Ruhr would be at the disposal of the Russians.

I saw hundreds of German farms. I went into some of the farm homes and walked over some of the fields. The farms are extremely well cared for and, generally speaking, they have not suffered war damage. Fertilizer and equipment are needed but otherwise I doubt that there is much room for the improvement of European agriculture. The farmers apparently use every foot of ground to the best advantage. This year the crops are short because of the severe drought. Some of the Irish potatoes which were being harvested in Germany were little bigger than marbles.

German coal production is the key to economic recovery and coal miners are being given extra food rations to encourage output of coal. I visited a mine, talked with the miners and tasted some of the rations.

If the coal and industrial production in the British-American Zone can be sufficiently increased, this will enable the Germans to export enough to get the money to make up the deficit in food. That is the objective now being sought—to help the people help themselves.

There is no evidence of happiness in Germany. Indeed, there is little for these defeated people to be happy about. Yet they have no one to blame for their misery but themselves and their leaders. The people are not inclined to be friendly or to smile at passersby. Perhaps I mistook a state of hopelessness and bewilderment for unfriendliness.

Rarely do you see a woman on the streets of a German city who does not carry a satchel or small handbag of some kind. They are black-marketing, trading, and trying to devise means for getting food and other necessities. We went into some of their homes in the basements and bomb shelters of their devastated cities where conditions are the worst. Their cupboards were almost bare. Of course, there are variations of misery among the people. Some of them live better than others. The people who live on the farms are in far better position than the rest of the population.

Prior to the war many of the nations of western Europe relied on Germany for coal and steel and heavy equipment. Germany's neighbors are now in difficulty because those products are no longer available to them. How to permit the revival of Germany without encouraging the future rebirth of German militarism is the big question. The French are very vocal in opposing the revival of German production. America and Britain are trying to work out a level of industry for Germany which will enable Germany to become self-supporting without becoming a menace to the peace of the world. Of course, the Big Three have not yet made substantial progress on the Peace Treaty with Germany and until the treaty is made, makeshift policies will have to be relied upon.

Lions Club Meet Attended By 23 Wed., October 1

Morton Lions Club resumed weekly meetings on Wednesday, October 1 with 23 members present.

The program consisted of vocal numbers by Misses Grace Ann Hawkins, Jo Ann Lackey, Doris McMaster, Doris Wages and Audra Fae Kelly. They were accompanied by Mrs. L. F. Hargrove, pianist.

During the business meeting it was decided to have ladies night on Tuesday, October 28.

Members voted to have the two program chairman each week meet with the boy scouts at their regular meeting with a penalty of $1.00 to be assessed for failure to meet with the scouts. This money will be applied to scout fund.

W. B. Cox and C. M. Cravy will have charge of the program on October 8.

-- annegrams -- by ann england --

Well here we are—home again—after a grand trip to the Texas State Fair and a lovely visit with relatives in Ft. Worth. Trips are fun and we thoroughly enjoy going but there is still no place like home.

The trip to and from was made with Forrest and Ruth Weimhold, probably two of the nicest people in the world. The weather was hot and sticky in the metropolis and all of us agreed that we could breathe a lot better after we hit the plains Sunday evening. We do have the best fresh air out here—and so much of it.

Saturday was press day at the fair and we loved seeing all our friends and talking "shop." However we still feel more or less like an interloper when we appear at these press things as an editor.

The State Fair Association had everything arranged beautifully for the entertainment of members of the press. We were especially pleased and flattered when Charles Kelly, Fair Publicity Chief, ran us down to say "hello." He is a nice young chap with a Big Job.

In our opinion the 52nd Anniversary of the fair is the best yet.

The West Texas Barbecue lunch served the press by the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang was wonderful.

From the attending crowd it appeared that everyone remotely connected with a newspaper (there are about 700 in Texas) was there, accompanied by all his friends.

The show "Annie Get Your Gun" is one of the finest productions we've ever seen and well worth the time and expense involved in going.

While in Dallas we saw a million dollar diamond and a $100,000.00 birthday cake; also an old lady in a fashionable hotel lobby take her teeth out and give them a working over right there in front of every body.

The exhibits at the fair are bigger and better than ever before. Visitors this year are particularly fortunate in being able to see pictures by old masters from the Metropolitan Museum of Art now on display in Dallas.

Fashions in the cities are about as varied as they are here. Those who have them are wearing longer skirts and we saw them in all lengths from knee to ankle.

And hats—we saw one that was out of this world. It was a rather small brown one topped with a tree and four little scotties. The wearer was trying on shoes very nonchalantly in a smart shoe salon.

Bill E. got the itemized figures on building permits for Morton. Mr. Whitman told him that they were all probably very inaccurate.

ate as he knew the guest house Carl England built cost more than $500.00. Well it did cost more than the amount applied for in the permit.

Morton is growing right along. Business men are building new or improving old property just as fast as they can get materials and workmen.

Occasionally we hear some one remark that Morton will never grow or progress, etc. All one has to do to dispute that is to open his eyes and look around. It is very evident that some of our most substantial businessmen have a tremendous amount of faith in the future of Morton or they would not erect new buildings and improve old ones.

Too, new businesses are coming in here all the time. Many more would if suitable business and residential locations were available.

Must be purely localism but the pronunciation of Mrs. (which is an abbreviation of mistress) as heard around here has puzzled us for sometime. The dictionary gives it as mis'tris and not mis'tress, the r is definitely silent. All of which is neither here nor there. Just something we wanted to get off our chest.

Doctors advise us that we need an operation (that looks like the hard way to get a rest) so if we don't back out will enter the hospital Thursday with surgery scheduled for early Friday.

The chief point in getting so personal is to advise our advertisers that we are depending on them to cooperate with the Tribune staff. We ask all of you to get your ads in or call for ad layouts at the earliest possible moment.

Club reporters are requested to bring or send their reports in, written legibly in full, with names and initials—Please. If this is not done there is a good possibility that your club activities, parties, etc., will not get in the paper.

Of course we are going to be horribly disappointed if, while the doctor is working us over he doesn't: (1) trim us down to a size 12, (2) make us beautiful and (3) restore our youth.

If any of our friends (assuming of course that we have a few) have an inclination to visit us, out of curiosity or otherwise, please observe the hospital visiting hours. We'd certainly be embarrassed if some one came in and caught us without our face or something.

Swing Of Southwest Farm Markets

Southwest farm markets paid mostly firm to higher prices for livestock, grains, and many other products last week, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Hogs scored gains of mainly 50 cents to $1. San Antonio and Fort Worth established new all time high prices of $28.25 and $29.50 respectively. Week's top at Oklahoma City was $29.75, Wichita $29.60, and Denver $30.50.

Cattle closed the week generally strong to 50 cents higher, although Houston and San Antonio netted losses on steers and yearlings. Houston paid a top of $22 for medium and good caked grass steers. San Antonio bought low to average medium steers at $20. Fort Worth took good fed steers and yearlings at $23 to $27.50. Oklahoma City paid $27 to $29 for good and choice steers, and Wichita gave $20 to $25 for medium light steers and yearlings. Denver set a new all time high of $33 for choice steers, while other medium to choice kinds brought $25 to $31.

Eggs and poultry sold firm to a little higher in the southwest last week. Seasonally best white graded eggs brought around 55 to 58 cents per dozen at most places, and mixed colors 50 to 56. Most markets paid 37 to 40 cents per pound for good quality full sized fryers, 24 to 28 for heavy hens, and 10 to 15 for roosters. Continued good domestic and export demand kept grain markets strong most of the week. Wheat and corn netted gains of 5 to 15 cents, while oats, barley and sorghum grains advanced about 5 cents. No. 1 hard ordinary wheat closed Friday at $2.94 per bushel at Texas points; while No. 2 white corn brought $2.55 to $2.60. Slight ups and downs during the week left cotton $1.25 to $2.50 lower Friday. Growers in all sections called for more pickers as harvesting conditions were ideal.

Renovate Your Lawn For Better Expectations

Has your lawn failed to come up to your expectations this summer?

If so, there's something you can do about it now, say Extension horticulturists at Texas A. and M. College.

Filling in the low spots to make mowing easier is a good September lawn job. And if there are spots where your grass hasn't grown well because poor lawn grasses like Dallis or smut grass have crowded it out, you can dig those grasses out, fill in the holes when you do your smoothing job. And while you're at it, you can make yourself a nice green winter lawn by sowing two lbs. of Italian rye grass over 100 square feet of lawn area. Just scatter the rye grass seed over the surface of the lawn and cover it lightly with rich loam soil.

In some localities in Texas, say the horticulturists, San Augustine grass has been damaged by a disease known as "brown patch". Areas several feet in diameter turn brown, the grass looks like it is dying out and the general appearance of the lawn is spoiled. A pound of seed disinfectant mixed in eight gallons of water and applied to the browned areas ought to clear up the trouble. A few days later, follow up with an application of commercial fertilizer—one pound to 100 square feet. Best fertilizing time is late evening, when you can sprinkle the area and wash the fertilizer down into the soil.

Lubbock and the South Plains have appeared in white on the Map of the Nation's Business more during the past several years than any other section of the United States.

Farming on the South Plains is more profitable than in any other part of the Southwest.

Ninety five per cent of South Plains land is tillable. The Texas state average is 70 per cent.

EUGENE NEAGLE, student at the College of the Pacific, Stockton, California, is at home for a visit with his parents.

Pneumonia Caused 2,460 Deaths In Texas Last Year

AUSTIN—According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, pneumonia caused approximately 2,460 deaths during the past year in Texas, a total which is entirely too high. This disease is most prevalent during the winter and spring seasons.

Pneumonia is caused by a germ called the pneumococcus, which many of us have lurking in our throats ready to start trouble, when our resistance to it is lowered. We can keep up our resistance by avoiding undue fatigue and unnecessary exposure to extreme weather conditions. When we go outside in cold weather sufficient wraps should be worn to protect us. Keeping the temperature of our homes as low as is consistent with comfort will greatly lessen the difficulties encountered in adjusting ourselves to the cold when we leave the house.

Another method of prevention in pneumonia is not to neglect a cold, for the common cold often results in pneumonia when neglected. A person with a severe cold should stay at home, and call his physician for advice if temperature persists or the cold lingers on. He should follow his physician's advice until the cold has disappeared. A patient may really have beginning pneumonia when he thinks it is only a cold. If the physician's advice is sought, he will have an opportunity to start treatment early if pneumonia is present, or develop in such cases.

Bill's retired . . . . .
And he's only six months old! Yes, the Treasury Department says the average dollar bill holds up only about half year before it goes to pieces!

But any housewife can tell you the life expectancy of a greenback is even shorter than that. When a dollar goes to market nowadays, it lasts hardly any time at all—and seems to buy less.

But don't forget electricity! Actually the service you get for your electric dollar is just about the biggest bargain in your budget. If yours is an average Plains family, that dollar buys you about twice as much electricity as it did 15 years ago!

Break it down into terms of service, and that little greenback lasts a long while. It can run a radio for 100 evenings—or do your family wash for 5 months—or tell you the correct time for more than a year and a half! It'll even vacuum clean 600 rugs—or brew you 1,000 cups of coffee!

No matter what service you want it to perform for you, that electric dollar has a very long life, indeed!
