

Big Hotel Bill In Boarding Rats

When you pay a hotel bill, you figure you've gotten something for your money... But there's one hotel bill you're paying that's just pouring money down a rat-hole.

And that's the literal truth. The Rodent Control Service people at Texas A. and M. College say that the United States loses between five and eight hundred million dollars a year in rat damage. They get that figure by multiplying the rat population... by the price of grain. A rat can eat 50 pounds of corn in a year and waste another 50 to 100 pounds. So when you buy feed, you can figure that the rat is getting part of your money.

Up at Iowa State College they say... "If you never see rats, but see signs of rats and rat damage, there are from one to 100 rats on your farm... if you see rats now and then at night, there are from 100 to 500... if you see rats every night and occasionally in the day time, you are boarding from 500 to a thousand. If you see lots of rats at night and several every day... you probably have a thousand to five thousand rats."

Poison is the one effective way to get rid of rats... Red Squill is a good poison to use if you have animals around your place. The Rodent Control Service uses a new powerful poison called "1080"... but that's used only under controlled conditions.

To keep rats away... to save the grain in the barns and cribs... there are ways of rat-proofing the buildings. M. R. Bentley, extension agricultural engineer at Texas A. and M. College, says that your county agent can give you information and plans on how to rat-proof effectively, whether you're repairing the old barn or crib, or building new ones.

Stop pouring that money down a rat-hole!

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

Two cash bids for the purchase of the carbon black plant near Seagraves, Texas, have been received by the Office of Real Property Disposal of the Grand Prairie zone office of War Assets Administration. A cash bid of $1,420,000 from the Columbian Carbon Company, present lessee of the plant, has been opened by WAA officials. The Producers' Pipe and Supply Company of Tulsa, Oklahoma, submitted a cash bid of $97,500 for the purchase only of the treater plant and pipe line conditioned upon the right to remove these items. The two bids have been submitted to Washington WAA officials for final action.

Bids will be opened December 8 on hardware, heating, electric and safety equipment, including 38 heavy duty, hotel type, gas ranges, now being offered to both priority and commercial channel groups through the Customer Service Center of the Grand Prairie zone office of War Assets Administration. Clothing, for which there always has been a good demand, and a limited amount of office supplies are likewise being tendered for sale. The property put up for sale in this offering is variously located at Houston, San Antonio and Texarkana, Texas; Camden, Arkansas; New Orleans, La.; and Oklahoma City, Okla.

World War II veterans quickly grabbed off 29 Stearman trainers located at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Dallas, last week at a fixed price sale of surplus planes, the War Assets announced at Grand Prairie. Nearly 200 eager veterans were present when the sale opened. Members of WAA's aircraft disposal division conducted a series of impartial drawings to determine buyers. Several of the successful purchasers were former army and navy pilots who plan to use the craft for private flying. Others said they are now engaged in GI flight training or plan to complete a flying course in the near future.

Twenty thousand steel cots originally costing $87,800 located at Camp Maxey, near Paris, Texas, will be marketed in a single lot on a non-priority, high bid basis, according to an announcement by the location clearance branch of War Assets Administration at Grand Prairie. Pros-

Samples In Catalog of International Affairs; The World On Our Backs

France wants U. S. aid to the amount of $18 million dollars. Italy wants $12 million. Germany, Austria and Japan are listed to receive 500 million dollars. These are only samples in our catalog of international affairs.

When Congress convenes in special session on November 17, the aims and purposes of the Marshall Plan will be the biggest headache of all. It calls for money and materials at sums greater than the average citizen can visualize.

Notwithstanding the patience and anxiety of our own people, it is our lasting credit that the United States has never ceased efforts to outlaw wars and establish permanent peace. The United States hates wars. Nevertheless, the rowdy Russians accuse us every day, and accuse us of "war mongering." Their narrow Stalin's Molotov's, Vishinsky's and fellow Communists are making World Peace.

President Truman has said truthfully, "A period of crisis is now at hand. The perils of danger and cold make this Winter a decisive one in history. . . . We must help some Nations through this immediate crisis."

Of course there are unbalanced domestic challenges facing Administration and the Congress. We could get away with National problems if we did not have the World on our backs. The above is a short summary of the terrible demands upon our Nation and the National Government. Even the United States isn't unlimited wealth or money.

That brings us short-up again—the stubborn fact that inflation is right on our heels. Clothing prices and household furnishings are up 18 per cent; food up 40 per cent. Building materials are up 41 per cent. Our best forests have been cut over and the timber is gone. Coal, iron ore, oil, minerals, and agricultural products are today's family puzzles. There is no doubt what a major part of the people of the United States are scratching the bottom of their resources in their efforts to feed American families.

From Frying Pan To Fire

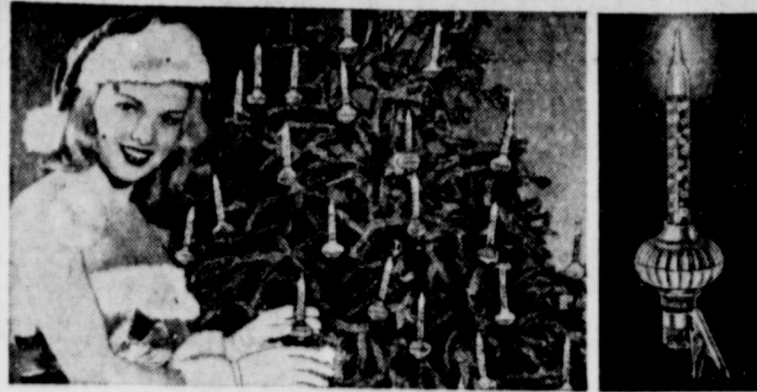

New homes are going up in large numbers in nearly every part of the United States. There are building material shortages including plasterboard, pipe, plumbing fixtures, nails, cement, brick and other essential materials.

One group of "specialists" may be expected to argue the theory that rents are rising so fast that the only way to escape the greedy landlords is to build houses. Of course the answer to that is that is one way of jumping out of the frying pan into the fire.

The story, if told the other way around admits the fact that home building costs are going up so fast that the only way to prevent being stuck with a high-priced house is to rent a room or an apartment. The chances are you'll get stuck which ever way you jump.

VISITED IN GOODMAN HOME

Mrs. J. K. Abernathy and Miss Chloe Abernathy of Lubbock were Sunday visitors in the H. E. Goodman home.

New Santa Claus—New Christmas tree lights

The brilliantly lighted Christmas tree as we know it today originated late in the 18th Century. According to legend, Martin Luther became entranced one night with a starry Christmas sky and returned home to set up for his children a tree illuminated with numerous candles to represent the star-brightened sky.

The first written reference to a Christmas tree is found in the works of an unknown writer of the early 17th Century who said: "At Christmas they set up fir-trees in the parlours of Strasbourg and hang thereon roses cut out of many-colored paper, apples, wafers, gold-foil, sweets, etc. . . ."

But the relationship of light with the observance of Christmas goes all the way back to the birth of Christ when the brilliant Star of the East became the most universal symbol of the Nativity.

Even as the early converts gathered in the catacombs to observe Christmas during the dark days of the Church there were tiny oil burning lamps to brighten their somber surroundings. The interiors of the medieval cathedrals and churches always were banked with rows of flickering candles during the Christmas season, while later in English-speaking countries the dancing light of the Yule log burning in an open fireplace added cheer to the occasion.

This flickering motion of light, so long identified with the grave observance of early Christmases,

Early Winter Best Time For Shade Tree Transplanting

Most favorable time for transplanting shade trees and flowering shrubs is as soon as the plants shed their leaves in late fall or early winter, according to Dr. W. W. Yocum, professor of horticulture at Texas Technological College.

Contrary to wide spread opinion, these plants make roots all during the fall and winter, and their chances of surviving transplanting is greatly increased if they are allowed to begin growing in a permanent location during this season, he stated.

Evergreens should have been transplanted in September or October, he stated, but if this has not yet been done, November is a better time than during the spring.

MAGIC?

During the war a USO troupe embarked at San Francisco for a tour of the South Pacific areas. One of the members of the troupe was a magician, complete with all his rabbits, hats, etc.

About one week out of port the ship was suddenly torpedoed and went down so fast that the magician was just able to get over the side with a talking parrot that was part of his act. Fortunately, he came upon a life raft and clambered aboard.

As dawn broke, there was no other sign of life on the horizon and so it continued for the next three days. Finally the parrot, which had not said a word up to this time, remarked:

"Look, Mac; I've been with you for twenty years and know most of your acts. This one beats me, though. What did you do with the ship?"

Home Makers Club Meeting Held November 12

Cleanliness is the first essential of a good bedroom, said Miss Manley to the Home Makers Club in the home of Mrs. Rex Faulkner on November 12.

Fresh air, sunlight and good screen are also very important for a good bedroom. A bed room should also be restful. Soft colors are more suitable than bright flashy colors.

Refreshments of gingerbread, topped with whipped cream and hot chocolate were served to Mesdames Be Tisdale, Johnny Brooks, D. A. Ramsey, K. Mings, Miss Manley and hostess Mrs. Rex Faulkner.

The next meeting will be Nov. 26 with Mrs. D. A. Damsey.

School Officials In Need of Employees Invited To Contact Mrs. Jenkins at Tech

School superintendents and other executives who are in need of competent employees are invited to contact Mrs. Harmon Jenkins, the former Miss Jean Ayres, secretary to the Texas Technological College placement committee, Pres. W. M. Whyburn announces.

Mrs. Jenkins, a Texas Tech graduate, has recently opened a central placement office in room 108 of the college administration building where she will be available to arrange conferences between prospective employers and Texas Tech graduates and former students of all divisions who are seeking work.

"We are quite fortunate in having secured Mrs. Jenkins as secretary to the placement committee," Dr. Whyburn stated. "In addition to her wide acquaintance throughout the region surrounding the college, Mrs. Jenkins has a well established position on the campus through her past service in the registrar's office, dean of women's office and the dean of Arts and Sciences office."

The college placement committee is composed of academic deans, Dr. R. C. Goodwin, dean of Arts and Sciences, is chairman.

Louis Bromfield and 150 National Leaders Visit Tech

Agricultural practices will probably be improved 75 per cent by the next generation of farmers who, in their youth, have had advantages of specialized agricultural education in colleges, and of participation in 4-H and FF's activities, according to Louis Bromfield, noted author and proponent of soil conservation.

Bromfield and more than 150 other national leaders in business, finance, nutrition and land saving visited Texas Technological College recently while on a tour covering Texas agricultural and industrial centers.

Texas Technological College and other schools that teach agriculture are playing a vital part in furthering soil conservation, Bromfield stated, pointing out that conservation does not end with preventing soil erosion, but also includes building up the soil by sound agricultural practices.

"Only about 15 per cent of today's farmers are really good farmers," he said, "with some 10 per cent, frankly, are very poor."

"It is up to today's youth, with its improving knowledge of sound farming, to step in and save the situation," he continued. Bromfield stated that Texas appears to rank above the average national level in taking care of the land.

State Health Dept. Examinations Slated To Be Held

AUSTIN—Competitive examinations for positions as Medical Consultants with the Texas State Department of Health have just been announced by the Merit System Council for the Texas State Department of Health. Examinations are for public health medical positions in the Divisions of the State Department of Health, and will consist of an evaluation of training and experience and an oral examination. Veterans preference will be allowed applicants who have been honorably discharged from the United States armed forces, and who make a passing score on the examination.

Applications will be received continuously until further notice. Positions for which examinations will be held are: Maternal and Child Health Field Consultant, Senior Pediatric Consultant, Senior Obstetrical Consultant, Field Consultant Local Health Services, Pediatric Consultant, District Consultant, Tuberculosis, Epidemiology, Latin American Medical Consultant, and Consultant Venereal Disease Control. Salaries range from $2400.00 to $6500.00, according to the classification and the qualifications of the individual applicants.

Application blanks may be obtained from Russell E. Benson, Merit System Supervisor, Littlefield Building, Austin, Texas.

Sweet Potato Is All-Round Food

It's sweet potato time again—and Louise Mason, extension food preparation specialist for Texas A. and M. College, says that sweet potatoes can't be beat for an all-round food.

They are blue ribbon winners in food-value—rich in vitamin A—an important source of vitamin C—they furnish minerals and a small amount of the B vitamins as well as sugar and starch.

They fit into any menu—as a vegetable, a garnish for meat dishes, or desserts. They can be baked, mashed, candied or fried—or turned into the old-time dessert, graded sweet potato pudding—or a deep-dish, custard or meringue pie.

Baked—or candied—sweet potatoes are a natural when ham, pork roast or spare ribs are served, and to some folks, Thanksgiving dinner wouldn't be complete without sweet potatoes, boiled and mashed, full of nuts or raisins, topped with marshmallows and browned in the oven.

Miss Mason says that when you buy sweet potatoes—be sure they are smooth and firm—if there's a good condition, they can be stored for several weeks in a cool place. If they're killed, they keep better—and you can use them in larger quantities. Cut-up ones with growth-cracks take too much time to prepare—and cuts or bruises cause them to spoil quickly.

There are plenty of sweet potatoes on the market—and they're mighty good eating.

GOVERNMENT AND RAILROADS

American railroads are being built increasingly on the spot. It had tough times during the depression years of the Thirties. It then went bankrupt and in that way, despite the tremendous volume of wartime business, times are good on the roads now, too. They are doing all the freight they can. Well, then, asks the public, business is so good, why can't railroads keep on granting increases?

As a matter of fact, payroll and payroll taxes took more than half the gross revenues of the railroads in 1946. At the same time, the rate of return for stockholders, based on property valuation, has dwindled to around 3 per cent. Not more than 3 1/2 per cent is the estimate by the Interstate Commerce Commission for 1947, and this does not include wage increases. That's mighty poor investment!

Everybody seems to be unhappy about the railroads. The various unions are usually ready to complain about wages. Yet management finds wage increases coming, with no profits to absorb them. And sometimes the public gets sore. Pretty soon somebody gets the bright idea. We'll just let the government take the railroads over, and that'll settle everything. They just think it will. That's what the trouble is now. Government trouble.

ample of how a bankrupt railroad has to pay out money. And that's not all. Its gross revenues were up 54 per cent in 1947 as compared with 1929, and net income was up 40 per cent. But here's the catch. Its taxes have gone up 173 per cent!

More Protein Use Is Advocated To Save Grain

United States Department of Agriculture authorities and other livestock leaders advocate increased use of protein in livestock rations this season to save scarce grain, make fast gains with less feed, increase production and reduce costs.

Protein, scarce during wartime, now is relatively abundant and cheap compared with grains; and amounts of protein used in livestock rations should be increased to levels that will take full advantage of its grain-saving qualities. A larger 1947 cotton crop has made increased amounts of cottonseed meal and cake available for this purpose.

"Feeds and Feeding", standard livestock text, quotes feeding experiments showing that 100 pounds of cottonseed meal, in a balanced ration, are worth 287 pounds of corn for fattening steers. Five hundred to 600 pounds of corn are saved by 100 pounds of protein supplement in feeding pigs. Dairy cows fed restricted amounts protein produced 22 to 50 per cent less milk and fat than those fed protein liberally.

In balanced work stock rations, one pound of protein replaces two pounds of grain; and idle work stock and brood mares on pasture may be fed economically on one to two pounds of cottonseed meal, without grain.

Protein save grain because they improve digestibility of all feed; stimulate milk and egg production; are necessary in growth, maintenance and body processes; and when fed in excess of needs to balance rations, economically meet total energy and fattening requirements under today's conditions.

Grain may be almost entirely eliminated in many cases by proper use of roughages and protein concentrates, supplemented with minerals and, when necessary, with Vitamin A. Pastures and range forage, supplemented with cottonseed meal, cake, pellets or cubes, and roughages, should produce much of the volume of meat and livestock products needed this season.

Beef steers on good grazing may be fattened satisfactorily by feeding four to six pounds of cottonseed meal or cake, daily per head. In the feedlot, three to five pounds of protein concentrate will balance full roughage and limited grain rations. Calves make quick, early gains on their mothers' milk, grazing and one to three pounds of protein concentrate. Brood cows need one to three pounds of protein concentrate daily to supplement grazing, stay in good condition and produce strong calves.

Dairy cows on good pasture need a mixture containing 13 to 15 per cent protein. A grain-saving mixture is: 100 pounds of ground grain, 100 pounds of cottonseed meal, and 200 pounds of hay, ground bundles or cottonseed hulls. To supply at least 20 per cent protein needed when cows are on poor pasture, increase the meal to 200 pounds.

Feeding adequate protein supplements, while limiting market weights to 200-225 pounds, is the best way to save grain in swine feeding. An excellent protein supplement for young pigs, bred sows and sows with pigs is: 40 pounds of cottonseed meal; 40 pounds of tankage or other animal protein; and 20 pounds of alfalfa leaf meal. This supplement may be self-fed, free-choice with grains to young pigs; and hand-fed to sows in a mixture of 20 per cent supplement and 80 per cent ground grain. Pigs over 100 pounds in weight do well if self-fed grain and a protein supplement mixture of 60 pounds of cottonseed meal, 20 pounds of tankage and 20 pounds of alfalfa leaf meal. In hand-feeding, use 20 per cent of the supplement and 80 per cent of ground grain, changing to 15 per cent of supplement in the mixture when pigs reach 175 pounds.

Metropolitan Papers Please Copy!

Folks here were burned up over an article on Our Town I reprinted from a city paper. Made us sound like a bunch of "hicks" who whittled sticks and wore chin whiskers. (Last person I saw with chin whiskers was passing through on his way east.)

So I ran an editorial on how we spoke of city "slickers"—as over-dressed wisecracks, only interested in making money, and spending it in night clubs.

Fact is, if we got to know each other we'd probably find we're not much different, underneath. City folks work hard; like to come home at night to their families; and relax with a moderate glass of beer, like we do.

From where I sit, it doesn't matter if you live in an apartment house or on a farm—work in an office or a cornfield—the American tradition of quiet home life, temperate habits, and neighborliness is common to all of us.

government regulations are fundamentally to blame for the railroad's failure to make ends meet despite the greatest volume of business they ever had in peace time. American railroads are probably regulated by government more than any other major industry. In years when railroads see that profits are too small, or even non-existent as in 1946, they may petition the government for rate increases.

These may be granted or they may not. Some relief was granted the railroads early this year. But these prospects were at once swallowed up in wage increases, and additional increases are being asked even though many railroads are already on the rocks. If things go on for another decade in this manner, we shall see a great and important industry fold up completely.

How to Pay and Pay

There is one alternative: complete government management and operation. More wrong ways and methods will not make things right. Although some persons in America like to think that more government management is the way out of any difficulty, the majority of American people do not want our railroads to be government owned. In countries that have adopted socialism, communism, and fascism, one of the first steps has been to nationalize transportation.

The future of our industry depends much upon the future of our railroads. Yet, unless railroad credit can be restored, unless the lines are permitted to earn enough money to pay fair dividends and attract new investment, to keep equipment and properties in good condition, then it will not be possible to keep paying good wages to employees. In this critical period, wage increases may be the burden that breaks the railroads. If the railroads are crippled, or if government ownership comes, the public will pay and pay and pay.

There are nearly 600 people to the square mile in Puerto Rico and most of them live off the land.

MEATLESS DAYS - EGGLESS DAYS - POULTRYLESS DAYS -
B A H !

Merely advertising the shortage—That's All—Farmers, Feeders, Poultrymen, Hog Raisers, Cattlemen—

DON'T GET CAUGHT SHORT!

Pork and Eggs are scarce—What's more the shortage is getting worse—It will really be felt next year. This situation will add to the demand for all other Feed Lot Products (Beef, Milk, etc.) and the supply of these items is definitely not burdensome NOW!

SO WHAT!

Stay with your livestock program. In 1946 over half of all cash farm income came from Livestock and Poultry Products. If farmers sell ONLY CROPS the entire economy of the nation will be dealt a body blow.

- BREED NOW FOR EARLY SPRING PIGS!
- BREED EXTRA GILTS LATER FOR MAY FARROWING!
- KEEP LAYING FLOCK INTACT—THE REWARD IS COMING!
- THERE'S MONEY IN SIMPLY "WARMING UP" BEEF CATTLE!
- THE DEMAND FOR MILK WILL TAKE CARE OF THE DAIRYMAN!
- YES, MUTTON, RABBIT, CHICKEN & TURKEY WILL BE EATEN AS NEVER BEFORE!

WHAT ABOUT THE FEED?

THERE IS LOTS OF FEED — ALMOST AN AVERAGE SUPPLY —
BUT IT'S HIGH --

- Sure, it's high—Everything is high. What else can you expect, with cottonseed $10.00 per ton—Milo $3.00 per cwt.—Wheat $2.65 per bu., Alfalfa $40.00 per ton—etc.—What's more, grain is worth almost twice these values when marketed through livestock.
- Now—There is nothing to waste. Wasting feed and food is nothing short of criminal anytime—And especially so now.—With so much of the world engulfed in starvation.
- To prevent waste—To secure maximum production from the available feed supplies—To keep our livestock program intact—And at the same time to realize the greatest return from the effort and outlay—

Not Enough Boxcars Is Dilemma Facing Railroads; Hitting Cotton Industry Hard

Too much freight... not enough boxcars. That's the dilemma facing the railroads and it's hitting the cotton industry hard!

The cotton warehousemen are doing their best, in the face of the critical shortage of cars, to move the cotton on time but beyond a certain stage their hands are tied. Meanwhile, the merchants and mills clamor for shipments.

A car shortage had been anticipated this year but nothing like the critical one now being encountered. The crop matured late this year, mill stocks are lower than usual, and the crop is much larger than last year's. Added to this, the purchases by the Commodity Credit Corporation are moving early. These are some of the factors which have brought the transportation bottleneck to the critical stage.

Besides cotton, many other of the country's major crops are now moving to market further adding to the strain on rail facilities.

"The only means of easing the critical situation is the quick loading, moving and unloading of boxcars to utilize to the maximum the available equipment," Vic Alexander, Memphis traffic expert and spokesman for a regional branch of the National Cotton Compress and Cotton Warehouse Association, said at Memphis.

"Warehousemen are doing their part toward rapid loading and unloading of cars," Mr. Alexander stated, "and they ask the co-operation of other branches of the cotton industry in order to make the most headway possible against the bottleneck."

As warehouses must load outbound shipments in the order in which complete shipping orders are received, shippers can be of material assistance by clearing their shipments at the earliest date on which the shipment can move; however, they should not lead them too far in advance as this too causes delay.

The cotton mills can help by unloading cotton shipments as fast as possible and also by demanding prompt shipment only when absolutely necessary.

Mr. Alexander recently attended a meeting in Little Rock, Ark., where representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Office of Defense Transportation and the Association of American Railroads were in attendance.

While full cooperation is being given to insure equitable distribution of the available boxcars, Col. J. M. Johnson, director of ODT, explained that there is just not enough equipment to go around.

I like limeade made with plain, and not carbonated, water. Orangeade is made with plain water. Lemonade is made with plain water. So what is there so peculiar about wanting limeade made with plain water? But most people prefer it with carbonated, and, regardless of my request, that's the way it's always served to me. If and when I ever get limeade with plain water, I'll know that the good old days when the customer was always right have returned.

Most of us blame nature because we do not become famous. We don't have the voice or the presence or something else. There are many singers with far richer voices than Cantor or Jolson or Durante—but these three have personality. As Durante says, "It's gotta come from the heart." Opportunity is lacking, did someone say? Irving Berlin began as a singing waiter. He can scarcely pick out a tune with one finger on the piano but he has composed 800 songs, many of which have gladdened millions of hearts, and will live as long as the human race.

Edison was deaf. Milton was blind. Byron had a club foot. Napoleon was five feet "tall." Demosthenes had a weak voice but developed it by declaiming against the roar of the ocean.

Paul Revere and Jesse James didn't amount to much until each got a horse.

This cockeyed world: In Houston, on Sunday you can buy a sack of peanuts at the zoo if you feed 'em to the monkeys. If you take the peanuts home and eat 'em yourself, you have broken the law.

A study in Texas shows that costs of producing cotton in the state range all the way from 29 1/2 cents to less than 4 cents per pound.

Abilene College Receives $2500 In Gifts For Lounge

Gifts valued at $2500 to equip the lounge of the new President Hall for women at McMurry College were recently announced by college officials.

Furnishings for the spacious lounge in the $250,000 structure opened for use this fall follow a color scheme of aqua, tan and rose. The furniture is of modern design and includes two sectional divans, four chair and divan suites, four coffee tables, two triple-end tables, two library tables, one drop leaf table, four lamp tables, and a Pilot table model radio with frequency modulation and regular broadcast reception. The wood is of light blend finish which compliments the fabric colors of rose, aqua and tan.

The furniture is the gift of A. B. Barrow, owner of the A. B. Barrow Furniture company of Abilene and the radio was given by KRBC, Abilene radio station.

The word "Texas" is derived from the Indian greeting "Texas," which meant "Hello, friend." Hence the reference to Texas as meaning "friendly."

HOW MUCH LIGHT is enough to GET GOOD GRADES?

Scientific tests have proved that children can read faster, read longer and remember better when they study under proper illumination. The plain truth is that many children do their lessons reluctantly because their eyes rebel at th hard work of trying to see under poor lighting.

Help your children keep their prized possession. Keep their eyes young. Provide them with a lamp using at least a 100-watt bulb, or preferably one equipped with the 100-200-300-watt size.

A MAN OF THE WORLD

Yes, and we mean in an important sense, for the eyes of the World are upon him.

He is the American farmer.

He, alone, among the farmers of the major nations, is able to feed his own countrymen and hungry millions in other lands. Last year he sent 20 million tons of food abroad while maintaining our own diet level — already the best in the world.

This high production efficiency—achieved by the persistent application of new tools and scientific discoveries—must be maintained in months to come. For food is still fighting for peace.

And so is steel.

Steel companies, which already have set new peacetime production records, are spending more than one billion dollars on improvements and expansion to meet the needs of reconstruction abroad and our expanding economy at home.

Through steel and farm production lies a great source of American strength. And only the strong can hope to keep the peace.

DOAN'S PILLS

THREE-MINUTE SERMON

By T. L. (Jack) Bullard, Pastor Missionary Baptist Church

"STAND"
Paul in writing the Ephesian letter, in the sixth chapter made this statement: "Having done all to stand, stand therefore." It is an easy task to sit down when it comes to doing a job or performing a task of any kind and let the other fellow do the job. One of the greatest demands today is the demand for real men who are willing to stand for principals of God's word. Christian people have set down on the stool of do nothing so long that the Devil has a tail hold and a down hill pull. A majority of the people today do not know what they stand for.

Why should we stand? This question should be of vital interest to any and all people. Paul asked us to stand therefore having our lions girth about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness. Our feet shod with the gospel of peace, and taking the shield of Faith wherewith we will be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked, Eph. 6. Again stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage. Spiritually speaking the world has not faced such crisis, since the dark age, that we are facing now. It is high time that men be real men and let God come into our lives and take the lead. There are so many isms and cisms in the world that God does not have much place. It is necessary to stand because sin is abroad in the land as we have never seen it.

Another question; How may we be able to stand? There is but one way that we will be able to stand and that is to put on the whole armor of God, Satan is armed with every implement of war fare that is produced and he is going about as a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour. We can hear the shrieks and shrills of sin, the groans and cries of those in despair and yet we are not willing to take a stand against the devil and his work. Some are watching their own children go down to a devils hell and are not disturbed about it in the least. How long will this continue? How long oh Lord will we have to wait until thou dost avenge our adversary? I tell you how long it will be; until we from the very deep of our hearts can say: "My faith looks up to thee, thou Lamb of Calvary, Saviour Divine; Now hear me while I pray, take all my sins away; O let me from this day, be wholly thine." Some day we will have to take a stand before God, Will it be for or against him? Remember, having done all to stand, stand therefore.

Sanger Bros., Find Three Texans Born On Nov. 7, 1857

Texans live a long time. That's the opinion of E. P. Simmons, president of Sanger Bros., Dallas, after a state-wide search for 90 year old Texans whose birthdates coincided with that of Sanger Bros. disclosed three oldesters who were also born on November 7, 1857.

In observance of the occasion, Mr. Simmons sent birthday greetings to the three old timers and asked each what they would like for a 90th birthday present.

Mr. B. S. Montgomery, White-wright, Grayson County, decided he would like an easy chair and an ottoman. Both were presented to him on his birthday at a party attended by three of his ten grandchildren.

Mr. G. F. Bomar, McKinney, Collin County, shut-in, asked for a battery radio to help him pass the time.

The third 90 year old, Mrs. W. E. Pinkston, Chireno, Nacogdoches County, has not yet told Sanger Bros. officials what she wants for her gift.

"We are happy to salute these pioneers," Mr. Simmons stated in extending birthday congratulations to the three old timers. "That they have defeated life's adversities so long is ample proof that they are of hardy, determined stock—the kind which builds great states such as Texas."

Mr. Simmons also said he deeply appreciated the hundreds of letters sent in about other venerable Texans. "The response was beyond our expectation and we are honored by the interest shown," he declared.

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Q. What is the best breed of chicks to select for a broiler business?

A. A great deal depends on the market conditions in your section of the country. It is wise to study the market and select a breed that is making money in your territory. Cross-bred chicks have become popular in recent years. Breed preferences vary in all sections of the country, so there is usually a wide choice. Probably, more important than the breed is selection of the right strain—chicks that are from vigorous disease-free flocks.

Q. How much more feed do laying hens need when egg production is high than when production is low?

A. The Ralston Purina Company's Research Farm recommends feeding according to the following table:

When Egg Production is	Amount of Feed Required Daily
70%	29 to 32 lbs. per 100 hens
60%	26 to 28 lbs. per 100 hens
50%	23 to 25 lbs. per 100 hens
40%	20 to 22 lbs. per 100 hens

Q. What measures should be taken in a rabbitry to prevent snuffles?

A. To keep snuffles out of your rabbitry the first rule to follow is one of strict sanitation. Disinfect all feeders, waterers and other equipment regularly. If any rabbits show signs of illness, isolate them immediately from the rest of the rabbits for at least two weeks. Do the same with newly acquired breeders and returned show rabbits. Don't return them to the rabbitry if they show signs of this disease.

Q. In breeding ducks, how many females should there be for each male?

A. The ratio should be five or six females for every male.

Send your questions about livestock or poultry problems to FARM FACTS, 815 South Eighth Street, St. Louis 2, Missouri. Questions will be answered without charge, either by mail or in this column, as a service of this newspaper.

Swing Of Southwest Farm Markets

Most southwest farm products sold at fairly steady to moderately higher prices last week, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Unfavorable prospects for next year's winter wheat crop and large export demands still dominated grain markets. Wheat registered further substantial gains to sell Friday at $3.11. Other grains held close to last week's levels.

Cotton harvesting and ginning continued active during the week, although cool days and sandstorms retarded progress somewhat in Northwest Texas and Western Oklahoma. Sales decreased slightly despite net price advances of around $4 a bale.

Week's cattle sales went largely at steady to stronger prices, with many lots going higher at Wichita and Denver. However, low grade cows at Texas markets moved counter to the trend to sell as much as 50 cents lower at $8 to $12 for canners and cutters. These grades brought $9 to $12 at Oklahoma City, $10.50 to $13 at Wichita, and $11 to $14 at Denver. Texas paid $12 to $15 for common and medium cows.

Hog markets rallied some during the week but butcher classes suffered losses up to 25 and 50 cents at some terminals. Feeder pig prices dropped 50 cents to $1 at San Antonio and Oklahoma City and $4.50 at Fort Worth, where top offerings sold at $20. Closing top butchers ranged from $24.75 at San Antonio to $25.50 at Denver.

Turkeys moved to market in greater volume for the Thanksgiving holiday trade. Prices stayed close to support levels at most places. Fryers and broilers in the Northwest Arkansas surplus area weakened further to mostly 28 to 31 cents per pound for 2 1/2 pound birds. Other eggs and poultry changed little for the week.

Tomato prices broke sharply in the Lower Rio Grande Valley but rallied slightly toward the end of the week. Thursday's price of mostly $4.50 per lug box for 6 by 7 and larger U. S. No. 1's remained $1.50 to $2 lower than a week before. Peppers held about steady. Onions strengthened in Colorado, while potatoes changed little. Sweet potatoes sold firm to slightly stronger in Louisiana. St. Louis and Kansas City wholesale markets quoted beans, onions, and sweet potatoes higher.

By treaty with Panama, ratified in 1904, the United States acquired title to the Panama Canal Zone.

NOTHING TO ADVERTISE

IF THE MERCHANT HAS NOTHING TO ADVERTISE, HE HAS NOTHING TO SELL, SO HE'D AS WELL GO FISHING . . .

One of the most common (and certainly the most monotonous) reasons the advertising solicitor for the small-town paper hears is, "We don't have anything to advertise this week."

Some day some smart-aleck solicitor is going to obey that impulse and come back with the answer that nearly every solicitor would give if he had the nerve: "Well, why don't you close your door and go fishing?"

Any merchant who contends that he has nothing to advertise admits that he has nothing worth selling, for anything that can be sold can be advertised, and advertised profitably; providing of course the right medium is employed.

Perhaps the reason that so many merchants assume that they have nothing to advertise is because they entertain the false idea that to advertise profitably they should have something sensational or at least out of the ordinary to feature. Yet there is no real basis for such an assumption, for people buy at least ten times more commonplace merchandise than unusual or sensational goods.

What could be more commonplace than beans, or soup? Yet two of the nation's biggest advertisers advertise almost nothing but soup and beans. Both companies are highly successful. It is reasonably to assume that advertising beans and soup pays them, or they certainly would not spend so much for advertising.

If it pays to advertise beans and soup in colored pages that cost $8,000 to $15,000 per insertion, it is reasonable to believe that it would pay local merchants to advertise commonplace things in their local paper.

If it pays a locomotive manufacturer to advertise his wares in expensive magazine space with the hope of a sale no more often than once a year; if it pays Wrigley to spend $9,500 for a single page to extol the virtues of a single five-cent item; if it pays steamship lines to advertise to landlubbers and ice manufacturers to advertise to a nation that has gone mechanical-minded—then it certainly should pay the local merchant who has a thousand different items needed every day by nearly every person to advertise regularly.

There are 24 Colorado mountains higher than Pike's Peak, but few people can name even one. Yet some people do not believe in advertising.

Frequent Visits To Family Doctor Should Be Made

AUSTIN—According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, there are too many persons who approach the choice of a family physician casually. Viewing the doctor much as a fireman, whose services are required only in an emergency, such families wait until an illness strikes, and then get hold of the first doctor who can respond to the call. While such an attitude still reasonably assures one of satisfactory medical services, it can handicap the physician somewhat, and in the long run does not permit the supervision and close personal contact which can exist only by having a regular family doctor.

"Knowing his patients enables a physician to give advice on maintaining health and preventing disease, based on his intimate knowledge of the physical and mental make-up of the members of the family," Dr. Cox stated. "The casually summoned physician plainly cannot have this background or opportunity. It is well known to students of medical science that no one procedure or drug can be applied to the cure of every disease. It would indeed be fine if we could have some panacea for all diseases, but unfortunately the healing art is not as simple as that."

"People are far from being alike," he continued. "Bodily and mental characteristics markedly differ in members of the same family. Reactions to medicines of various types, the habits of the individual, environmental influences, and personal factors vary widely. Armed with an intelligent appreciation of these facts, as applied to the members of the family, a physician possesses the maximum opportunity to render his best advice, not only in curing disease, but as medical counselor to the family as a whole."

Reception Sunday
Honored Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cooper

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cooper were honored at a reception held in the Roy Hill home Sunday, November 16, by members of the Baptist Church. Receiving the guests and inviting them to Mr. and Mrs. Cooper were Rev. and Mrs. W. C. and Mr. and Mrs. Roy

Verna Mae Lowe and A. J. Wartes Married Nov. 8

Mrs. Verna Mae Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rush, and Mr. A. J. Wartes, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wartes, were married at the First Baptist Parsonage on November 8. Rev. Ralph Grant officiated. The bride and groom were married in Morton schools. Mrs. Wartes was discharged from the hospital two months ago after three months of service. Mrs. Wartes chose for her wedding ensemble a grey dress and with which she wore black shoes. Her bridal corsage was a shoulder arrangement of roses. The couple are at home in Morton following a wedding trip to Worth.

Person-Barton Wedding Vows Read Friday

Tommy Adelphene Henderson, daughter of Mrs. Alma Covington and Mr. Jack Barton, and Mrs. Minor Yarbrough, were married at the Methodist parsonage, Friday morning, November 14, Rev. A. A. Kendall officiated. The bride's attendants were the bride's mother and sister, Miss F. Covington. After the ceremony the young couple took a short wedding trip. Mr. Barton is employed at the Plains hospital. Mr. Barton is a Shell Oil Company employee.

Mrs. Morrow Guest of Levelland Garden Club

Albert Morrow, president of the Cochran County Garden Club, was a guest at the Levelland Garden Club meeting held on November 12 in the ballroom at Luke's Steak House. Forrest Weimhold was host to the club. Mrs. Morrow reported to the Levelland Club on the state executive meeting held recently in Lubbock. She was presented with a vase of ivy from the Levelland Club.

Well-well-we have a disgruntled reader; since at various times we have printed excerpts from complimentary missives it seems only fair that we go ahead and print portions of our one and ONLY COMPLAINT.

According to the letter the writer cares neither for Vagabond house nor our old car nor things beautiful. He or she as the case may be think we are boring, etcetera, etcetera; and winds up the thing with "Yours for better editorials, A Dissatisfied Subscriber."

Dear Dissatisfied Subscriber: In view of the fact that yours is the only letter of complaint received since this column was originated and inasmuch as we would not want to disappoint our other readers (whose letters we have with signatures attached) by discontinuing this column may we suggest that you quit reading the column. Or if you haven't the strength of character to do this why not cancel your subscription to the Tribune and devote your reading time to some other publication; any publication would do as anagrams is a feature carried exclusively by the Morton Tribune.

There isn't the remotest possibility that we will encounter any difficulty in disposing of the canceled subscription as we have many calls each day for the paper. Some who are moving request papers for packing dishes, the hatches frequently request them and we feel sure others would be delighted to get them for wrapping parcels. What with the paper shortage and everything.

Customarily an unsigned letter is burned with the rest of the trash but this one gave us such a wonderful incentive for this week's column we couldn't resist using it.

See the publicity you missed by not signing your name, practically a whole half column devoted to A. D. S. The lack of which (publicity) in times past probably being the cause of the dissatisfaction.

Notice where Emily Post says it is definitely a faux pas for a member of the shower's family to help make up the guest list; as showers are always supposed to be a surprise to the honoree.

Apparently twins in the E. E. Coon family are the rule rather than the exception. Mr. Coon himself is a twin, his daughter, Mrs. H. A. Beard is the mother of twins born Sunday before last and the E. E. Coon's son, A. R. and Mrs. Coon of Roswell, have twins.

The Sam Beards (paternal grandparents of Lynda Fay and Lyndon Ray Beard) are also grandparents of another set of twins, those of their daughter, Mrs. M. A. Tanner and Mr. Tanner of Enochs.

Pretty Rose Marie Markham has been confined at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Roberts, with a severe attack of flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morrow are driving a beautiful car (Jiggs and Colleen Baker have one just like it). Soon after the Morrow's got their Mrs. M. took a trip down south where she attended Legion Auxiliary and Garden Club state conventions.

Mrs. Morrow is 19th district president of the American Legion Auxiliary and recently there was a very pretty picture of her in the Auxiliary magazine as well as the Avalanche-Journal.

Much to our relief and probably a lot of other folks we got old iron sides out of the garage. Now if it will run eleven more years we will be all fixed up for transportation purposes.

Vagabond house has been looking pretty bedraggled lately but some these days we hope to get that new coat of paint applied. Some one, probably grem-lins, cut a few weeds 'round the place last Saturday, improving the looks somewhat.

Old timers here tell us about the pretty exterior and interior Mary Evans had when Vagabond house was her home. We are sure of that as Mary has excellent taste.

Been sort of rainy and murky around here off and on for several days and a lot of the transient boll pullers have left town. Going to the sunny south presumably.

Dorothy Tarver Barker admits serving the breakfast preserves in their original container. We remember very vividly Dorothy's remark, to the effect that she hated to see old jars and things on the table, when she presented Colleen Smith Butler with a lovely crystal jelly and jam container at her shower. Dorothy wasn't both a housewife and a career girl at that time.

We never have been able to decide whether monkeys are so funny because they remind us of people or vice-versa.

MORE WACS NEEDED IN PACIFIC AREA

More Wacs are wanted by Army Commanders in the Pacific, according to Col. Mary A. Hallaren, WAC Staff Director, who is just back from a tour of the Far East.

Many Army commanders have put in requests in advance for the assignment of Regular Army WACS, such request being contingent of passage of the WAC Integration bill to establish a permanent Women's Army Corps as part of the Regular Army.

Now's The Time To Do Something About Cattle Grub

Paul Gregg, extension entomologist for Texas A. and M. College, wants us to remind all cattle and dairymen that now is the time to do something about cattle grubs.

Cattle grubs cause the loss of five million dollars to Texas farmers and ranchers each year... they make beef cattle harder to fatten... cut down on milk production... ruin hides.

Control of the grub isn't particularly hard... takes a little time, that's all. Extension entomologists recommend rotenone... in fact, it's the only material they do recommend. It's safe, effective and has proved its value over a period of years. During the war, rotenone was rather scarce, but a pretty good supply is on the market this year.

Whether you spray, dust, wash or dip your stock, it should be done at least three times before spring... at 30 day intervals. For the spray, use 7 1/2 pounds of five per cent rotenone in 100 gallons of water. For the dust, mix thoroughly one part of five per cent rotenone powder with two parts of pyrophyllite... (pirofi-lite)... or Tripoli earth. Use about three and a half ounces per animal, rubbing it into the back thoroughly.

Your county agricultural agent can tell you more about grub control. Go by to see him... and don't wait too long.
