Antidote Found For

A life-saving drug for domestic animals and human beings who accidentally consume ANTU rat paison was described recently in veterinary journals. A sulfhydryl compound, investigated by Army esearch workers, was called an 'apparently suitable antidoe" for this type of poisoning.

ANTU, a highly effective ratkilling compound developed during World War II, causes an accumulation of fliud in the lungs and literally drowns its victims. Last year, a wave of deaths occurred among dogs and cats in a midwestern town following a ratkilling campaign in which this poison was used. People of the own had been erroneously informed that ANTU-treated food bait could be consumed by animals without harm.

Three Levelland Persons Injured In Car Accident

Three Levelland persons were injured early Sunday morning when the car in which they were riding overturned about fifteen miles south of Morton, on the Plains highway.

Slight injuries were suffered by Freda Bennet and Floyd Pool and more extensive injuries were received by Earl P. Autrey, driver of the vehicle

Orvil Bennet, brother of one of the accident victims, was preceeding the 1946 Pontiac when it overturned, rushed the occupants to West Plains Hospital where Mr. Autrey was treated for multiple facial injuries. His condition is not serious, according to a member of the hospital staff.

Deputy Sheriff Herman Crockett said Mr. Autrey reported he had removed both hands from the steering wheel to light a cigaret. The right front wheel hit the sand at the edge of the pavement and control of the car could not be regained.

The wrecked car was brought to Morton by Cliff Davis Wrecking Service a few hours after the accident occured.

Eliminate rats, mosquitoes, and tunity, houseflies, and destroy their breeding places. Every effort should be made to secure approved garbage collection systems and safe water supplies. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is vitally important to maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

All swimming pools should maintain standards approved by the State Department of Health which includes maintenance of proper chlorine level.

Only approved milk should be used, and raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use, and protected from flies, filth, and insects. All foodhandling establishments should adhere strictly to the zation of dishes and utensils. Those restaurants with insufficient personnel to maintain approved sanitation should close one or two hours a day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness.

Over-exertion in children should be avoided, and they should not visit in homes where there is illness. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts, especially in children during an outbreak of this disease. It is not advocated that schools, churches, and theaters be closed.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear ,a physician should be called immediately.

Profit is a word that folks must utter today only in whispers. In fact, it is a nasty word, the way most people use it. And this is a oined to the continent balked pity. Actually, the word has in it a great measure of progress and and, before that, the attempt of once meant the results of that Spain, whose Armada was shat which was "proficient," or useully productive. But folks today have twisted their ideas on profit around so that that word indicates to them the ability of business to take advantage of some-

Work an dProgress

The thing that is directly responsible for human progress and human welfare is work. Work is human energy. Without work, and without the pay that people get for their human energy, progress would be at a standstill. But, there is something else. The tools, the factories, the land, the buildings-all the things men use in drawing upon their human energy, these things are simply human energy stored up for use.

Looking at this a little further, we see that wages and payrolls represent that part of the selling m., on May 27, for the purpose of price of an article which must be answering any questions you used for human energy. Woman's Column in the Clarion under the name of "Nancy Gale"gets letters about recipes, advice on etiquette, home management, etc.

One letter she got last week was about a recipe she published for Welsh Rarebit-made with tart cheese, Worcestershire, and a cup of sparkling tangy beer. "Turned out great," says her correspondent. "But you didn't mention what beverage to serve with it. Should I serve beer? Cider? Iced tea?"

The missus' answer was simply:

"Any beverage your guests prefer. You don't have to serve cider - any more than you have to serve beer ... but it's often courteous to let guests have a choice."

From where I sit, that simple answer applies to more items than Welsh Rarebit. In a world where everyone has different tastes and ideas - we should recognize those differences - and never deny the right of choice to anyone!
