Local Lions Club Minstrel Plays To Full House

Capacity audiences saw the minstrels of 1949 last Thursday and Friday nights at the school auditorium.

The show sponsored by Morton Lions Club highlighted the season's entertainment program. Plans are all ready underway to make the minstrel an annual affair.

Sales of candy and tickets amounted to around nine hundred dollars, according to David Todd, secretary-treasurer of the club. After expenses are paid we expect to clear something over five hundred dollars," he said.

Prizes given away during the performances were contributed by business firms of Morton and included many expensive items; such as an electric waffle maker, given by Morton Power and Light Company and a clay back heater by McDermott Liquefied Gas Company. A complete set of the more than fifty prizes is not available Wednesday.

The Lions band, organized especially for the minstrel, was well received by the audience as were all the specialty numbers. Miss Wanda Tolliver, soprano, singing, "Can't Help Loving That Man," proved especially popular. McAllister provided one of the show's outstanding features with his singing and dancing.

The girl's sextet of Morton school received a tremendous ovation at each appearance. Funds derived from the minstrel will be used in the charitable work carried on here continuously by the Lions Club. Chairman of the various committees expressed their appreciation to all who in any way helped in the success of the show.

MR. and MRS. CARL ENGEL spent Saturday night and Sunday in Roswell, New Mexico.

Brannan Talk Will Feature Demos Confab

Cochran county Democrats who anticipate giving more than lip service to the Democratic party's platform are expected to be out in representative force for the Texas Tech campus barbecue on Saturday night of this week, May 7, when Secretary Charles F. Brannan, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will be the principal speaker at a Jefferson-Jackson day dinner.

Goal of Cochran county chairman, W. B. Evans, is 25 or more attend the barbecue. Plates will be $10. Funds over actual expenses are due to go into party coffers to help replenish the depleted party treasury.

"The Democratic party is the little man's party, and we want every man who desires to have a chance to contribute his $10 to this effort," said the local county chairman. "The dinner will be an informal outside barbecue and will be honoring Charles F. Brannan, U. S. Secretary of Agriculture. We are particularly fortunate in having the secretary come our way, so he can be shown this great area and can be shown our primary problems which are those of agriculture."

At this time Texas enjoys an enviable position in national party circles, and Democrats of the area are being called upon to keep it that way in the usual fighting Texas manner.

Tickets for the barbecue honoring the secretary are on sale this week by W. B. Evans, county chairman, it was announced Monday. The chairman said that "we cannot over-estimate the importance of a big contribution and a large attendance from Cochran county at this rally, where a thousand or more Democrats will be gathered."

The Cochran county list of Democrats who will attend the barbecue should be completed not later than May 4, when the list of those who will attend will be made up.

Precinct chairmen in the county are being contacted this week and other party stalwarts notified.

Lawless Era Recreated in Movie To Show in Morton

A page torn from the days when the Rio Grande ran red with blood has been re-created by Paramount into one of the most exciting Western spectacles ever filmed—"El Paso", which arrives Sunday at the Wallace Theatre with stars John Payne, Gail Russell, Sterling Hayden, George "Gabby" Hayes and Dick Foran.

Set in the chaotic post-Civil War days, the story of "El Paso" centers on the life-and-death struggle for control of the town between the most ruthless and most lawless element in the country and a handful of freedom loving people.

The latter, led by Payne, a lawyer, try by legal means to hold on to their homes and land, but when they fail and the robbing and killing continue, Payne takes the law in his own hands, becoming more ruthless and lawless than his enemies. How he is redeemed from outlawry and how he finally routs the killers by legal means, is said to make "El Paso" thrilling entertainment.

COUNTY-WIDE CHEST SURVEY BY X-RAY STARTS WED., MAY 11TH

Final plans are being made for a four day stay in Cochran county of a mobile X-ray unit for a county-wide chest survey. The X-ray equipment will be moved into Veterans Hall, two blocks west and one south of the square. Wednesday, May 11, and will be kept there the remainder of the week.

The X-rays will be given to all Cochran countians 15 years of age or over, and local sponsors are urging full cooperation of students 15 or over and adults throughout the county.

The pictures will be made beginning at 9 a. m. Wednesday, continuing until 6 p. m. These same hours will be observed on Thursday and Friday. On Saturday the pictures will be made commencing at 10 a. m. and closing at five p. m.

No Charge For Service

Emphasizing the fact that the X-ray service is free of charge, Mrs. Fred Collins, county health nurse, said that undressing will be unnecessary and the entire registration and X-raying process will consume about two minutes of the individual's time.

The mobile X-ray unit is being made available to local people through the Cochran County Health Unit, the local Cochran County Tuberculosis Association and the State Health Department.

Civic clubs in the county are joining hands with the sponsors to publicize the four day stay of the portable X-ray equipment in Morton. Individuals, as well as organizations, have pledged their support in the drive to discover early signs of tuberculosis.

Numerous questions have been asked concerning the X-raying process, Mrs. Collins said.

Procedure Outlined

"At the time the X-ray is made, the person is asked to name the physician to whom he wishes the report sent, should there be any abnormality found. Then if the film interpretation for an individual shows signs of tuberculosis, the designated physician is notified. If the interpretation of the film is negative, the person X-rayed is notified directly by post card."

Confidential File Kept

After reports from the county are compiled, a confidential list of positive tuberculosis infected individuals is mailed to their family doctor. Mrs. Collins emphasized the fact that findings from the free X-rays are completely confidential.

"No matter what it shows, your chest X-ray was a good bet, a sound investment, cheap insurance and a sensible idea. Get an X-ray of your chest every year, or oftener if your doctor says so," is the advice of the X-ray unit sponsors.

So far as tuberculosis is concerned, the health nurse said, the chest X-ray can show one of three things—no signs of tuberculosis, signs of an old infection or signs of diseased lungs. In any case, local sponsors of the X-ray suggest that Cochran county people find early signs of the disease.

Tuberculosis found early and treated at once has the best chance of being cured and less chance of being spread to other people, Mrs. Collins declared.

320 Acres Public Land Located in Cochran County

State Land Commissioner, Bascom Giles, states there is still public land for sale in Texas.

However, not much of it, as Texans measure land. Less than one per cent of the once colossal public domain is available to high bidders as the unsold acreage has dwindled to a total of 1,025,875.70 acres. (The total acreage of the state is 172,687,000).

The unsold land includes 320 acres in Cochran County.

Not all of the million acres can be purchased, Giles explains. The domain is administered by the School Land Board, of which Giles is chairman.

"No school lands within five miles of oil or gas production can be sold," Giles points out.

When there is sufficient demand, the School Land Board authorizes the sale of specified tracts. A public sale is advertised and information about the tracts supplied by the General Land Office upon request.

Sale is by sealed bids. The high bidder, if conforming with all regulations, is the new owner.

The terms are 20 per cent down with 40 years to retire the balance at five per cent interest. The Permanent School Fund retains one-sixteenth free royalty in all oil production and one-eighth free royalty in sulphur production.

HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE

By ARTHUR E. COOK
National and Olympic Rifle Champion

Where To Shoot

Finding a safe place to shoot is most important. A safe shooter is a skillful shooter—he knows where every bullet is going and he has a backstop behind his target to stop the bullet. This applies both to hunting and target shooting. And no matter what kind of shooting you intend to do, get your practice on the target range. It is the only good way to learn the basics.

For beginners I recommend firing at 50 feet, the standard indoor distance. Later you can increase to 50 and 100 yards, the standard outdoor distances. The illustration at left above shows a safe bullet stop for a 50-foot range in your basement or shed. Fill a large packing box or crib with sand and place it in front of a solid brick or masonry wall. Board-up all windows with steel or one-inch hardwood. Reinforce the front of the box and arrange lights as shown. Sand about eighteen inches from front to back will stop .22 caliber bullets, but remember to repack it regularly.

Outdoors select a steep hill or bank which is free from rocks and hang your target in front of it. Build a simple frame to hold your target; don't tack it to a tree or the bullets will ricochet dangerously.

Best of all join or form a rifle club in your community or school and build a real range. You will quickly become safe and skillful.

(This instruction based on the book "HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE," published by The National Rifle Association, Washington, D. C.)

Never point your gun muzzle at anything you do not intend to shoot!

142 Polio Cases in Texas Reported For First of Year

AUSTIN—During the first seventeen weeks of 1948 there were only 55 cases of poliomyelitis reported to the State Health Department, while in this same period for 1949, there have been 142 cases reported from different sections of the State, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Seven cases were reported in the past week, with three from one county.

"Poliomyelitis is one of the most dreaded of all diseases," Dr. Cox said, "and justly so. It is more often a crippler than a killer, but in either case it takes a heavy toll among young Texas citizens, and is a health menace against which our children should be carefully guarded."

Immaculate cleanliness of person and homes is urged as a precautionary measure against polio, and community hygiene assumes a place of major importance when the disease makes its appearance. Clean communities, clean homes, and strict personal hygiene all play a part in helping to prevent the spread of diseases, and Dr. Cox advises close inspection of home screens for keeping out flies, and unremitting efforts in rodent control, and the extermination of roaches.

"Until it is definitely understood just how polio is transmitted, it is well to guard against all household pests and eliminate all insanitary conditions," Dr. Cox said. "We do not know with certainty how polio may be spread, and filth, which affords a breeding place for germs, should not be tolerated."

DAIRYMEN YOU CAN USE DDT!

The Federal Security Agency and the Department of Agriculture issued the following statement on April 5, 1949 after a meeting of the principal government agencies concerned with the utilization of DDT in the national and international health and economy.

"A number of statements have been published during the last several days which have misled and alarmed the public concerning the hazard of using DDT as an insecticide—The Food and Drug Administration has not prohibited the use of DDT in spraying dairy cattle and barns . . . There is no justification for public alarm as to the safety of the milk supply from the standpoint of DDT contamination."

5 Girls Model 4-H Revue Thurs.

By Jeanette Mills

Approximately 85 girls will model in the 4-H dress revue which will be held May 5, at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium, according to Miss Mabel Manley, 4-H sponsor. The Home Economics classes will model dresses they have made in class as part of the 4-H program. There will be no admission charged and the public is invited.

Three judges from Bailey county will judge the dresses from 8:00 to 2:00 p. m. but the revue at evening is open to the public. All participants are to report at the auditorium at 6:30 p. m. Miss Manley added.

The 4-H club of Morton High school sold food at the Fat Stock show Saturday with the proceeds being used to purchase prizes for the expenses for the girls who will attend District Camp in Dallas this Saturday.

Girls making this trip include: Nancy Ramsey, Jowynn Cheshier and Janice Grimsley.

Katherine Fleenor has been selected to attend a meeting at College Station, this summer.

Texas Air-Medics Assn. to Meet at Randolph Field

Texas doctors will get off to a flying start on newest developments in medical treatment of aviation afflictions Sunday, May 1, when they are to be guests of the Texas Air-Medics Association at Randolph Field.

A luncheon, an air show of jet-propelled and other aircraft as well as a scientific program on atomic medicine have been scheduled by Gen. Harry Armstrong, commandant of the Randolph School of Research Aviation Medicine, as a pre-convention activity with all physicians attending the 82nd annual session of the State Medical Association of Texas May 3-5 in San Antonio as guests.

This will be the first annual meeting of the Texas Air-Medics Association, composed of doctors interested in combating the results of the unnatural forces of extreme altitudes, speeds, sounds and temperatures. Moving pictures and an inspection tour of the premises will also be a feature of the program.

Dr. T. J. Cross of Fort Worth, president of the Texas Air-Medics Association, announced that the Air-Medics would also have a scientific and business session Monday, May 2, before the opening exercises of the State Medical Association convention Tuesday, May 3, at 9 a. m. at the Municipal Auditorium.

More Boys are Class Prexys in Morton High School

By Glenna Kennedy

WAYNE SHAFER
... Senior President.

KAT KENNEDY
... Freshman President.

58 1/3 percent of all organization presidents are boys, it was discovered in a recent survey of these. 75 percent of all class presidents are boys. Only one girl, an arburn-haired, 13 year old Freshman, holds the title of class president, but it is found that she holds her own against the husky presidents, for she is none other than Kat Kennedy.

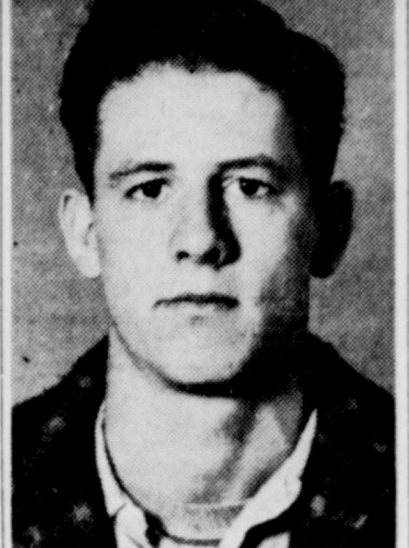

Heading the Sophomore Class is a very dependable lad who thinks the world of Mr. Ray—Jimmy Gast.

The Junior class selected the 17 year old "football hero" as their leader in the form of Corky Evans.

The upper-upper classmen, those dignified seniors chose as their president a young man who also knows of the gridiron, blue eyed, black haired Wayne Shafer.

Presidents of other organizations, proving the boys are the majority are: FFA, Kenneth White; Band, Gene Williamson; FHA, Nell Brown; Choral Club, Beverly Blackley; Captain and co-captain of the football squad, Glen Yeary and Wayne Shafer.

All of these presidents have helped lead their organizations and MHS to a successful year.

CORKY EVANS

... Sophomore President.

GRADES REPORT

By Sue Smith

The sixth grade elected Gloria Nations and Steve Bracken Good Citizens last week. Jerry Mills and Mary DeFord were chosen as the citizens having the best posture. The class plans to buy pot plants for their room with the money won for selling book cards, according to Jane Wingham, reporter.

A Southern Plantation is being built in connection with their study of South America in Mrs. Bishop's fifth grade. Materials used are things that usually go into the waste basket.

There have been two birthdays in Mrs. Miller's room recently: Mary Louise Parish on April 23 and Christine Gray on April 19.

First grade boys started spring football training last week.

Theresa Kay Doss was honored with a birthday party in the third grade room. Her mother served individual birthday cakes with the word "K" written on them and ice cream.

Mrs. Wingham's third grade is weaving May Baskets.

Mrs. Williams reports that her students have been writing stories recently, one of which was especially amusing. "I was planning to have a garden this summer and it popped up that we have to go to Alaska."

Nelda Brisco and Olin Coon have been selected to attend Boys' State and Girls' State in Austin. The boys will meet June 5-11; girls will meet June 6 through June 12. Olin Coon was selected by the American Legion.

Only one girl will be permitted to attend as their rules are different. If more than one boy is permitted to attend Lonnie Allison has been selected by the Lion's Club and the 4-H and Chamber of Commerce have selected Royce Smith and Clifford Wall.

OLIN COON

These students are to learn the duties of each office of the state. There is to be a formal banquet with the governor as guest speaker. These students are to learn the privileges and rights of American citizenship.

These students are to conduct elections for various city, county and state officers. They will make and enforce their own laws. They will use the constitution and state statutes as a guide.

SENIOR KID DAY IS BIG SUCCESS

In spite of the fact that the sun barely showed its face all day, the seniors came to school Thursday dressed in short dresses and knee breeches. Many suckers, dolls, balloons and bubble gum were carried around.

At noon the seniors barbecued chickens, and ate bread, potatoe chips, pops and roasted marshmallows at the barbecue grounds.

Mrs. Orville Tilger, Mrs. Alan Bryan, Carl Macon and Wendell Watson were special guests.

The seniors presented a program in assembly Thursday afternoon. Each senior represented a faculty member, and presented a little skit. The class prophecy was read by Wanda Hancock and the will by Bill Ed McDaniel.

Riding Circle Around Whitefaces

by Art. N. Wall

Bobby Neal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Neal is really getting to be an old man. Bobby, last Thursday the 28th, celebrated his eighth birthday by serving ice cream and cake to his fellow students in the second grade. Boy O Boy, I'll bet that was a break from that old mean arithmetic and spelling.

Commencement cards are being received through the mail. Commencement exercises in the Whiteface Public School will be held at 8 p. m. May the 19th. We are going to miss those seniors from our school who graduate that night. Let us hope that the Whiteface School training that these youths received will serve as a firm basis in their ways of life. It is the duty of us all to see that our school is constantly improved and streamlined to today's times. We must graduate youths who we are confident can enter with ease any school of higher learning. Cooperation among us all—, a keen community interest in school affairs—, talks with our school superintendent—, our school board—, all of this will place our school on a higher basis. We must do this. We have a beautiful school building, we have a wonderful reputation for having a good school, but let us not stop here, let us keep climbing to higher standards.

Just happened to be cruising the streets of Whiteface and saw some kids playing in a front yard. What do you know? These "kids" happened to be young ladies of the third grade. When I stopped to talk to them they were just setting down to lunch. They informed me quite politely they were member of the "Busy Bee Embroidery Club." They stated quite firmly that they had organized this club all by themselves and without any help. They said the object of this club was to study embroidering of course. They reminded me the name ought to have told me that. They had even elected officers who are: President, Miss Betty Lou Hallford; vice-president, Miss Glenda Miller; secretary, Miss Gay Dorsey. Members present were Miss Mary Kay Rankin, Miss Nelva Jo Miller, Miss Wanda Wilson, Miss Barba Wright, Miss Vicki Dorsey, Miss Verda Wright, Miss Dona Lee Fitzgerald. A salute to these young ladies for getting this club started off so well. A salute to Mrs. Dorsey for keeping watch over them though she insists she is not sponsoring it.

Thursday, April the 28th, Miss Margaret Jo Spurlock, senior of our school and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Spurlock, entertained approximately forty-five young people of this community at a dance held in the Stanolind recreation hall at the Mallet "G" camp. This dance was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Spurlock. There was not a youth present but who enjoyed him or herself immensely.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Waggener of Pampa, Texas are spending the week-end of April 30th and May 1st, with their son, Tom Waggener, who is superintendent of the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company's gasoline plant.

All of the kids in this community are writing letters. What are these letters about? That swimming pool they want built as an addition to their school. If this column gets all the letters that it has promised I'm going to have to have a big steamer trunk to put them in. Kids, don't write over 150 words and write on this subject, "Why I Want a Swimming Pool at My School." You must understand we can not promise a swimming pool but we sure will try hard to get one. I will publish a few of these letters every week in my column. Address these letters to Box 822, Whiteface. We can always try to get something. Can't we?

Isn't that a good name for our local theatre? "Home Theatre". I have never heard of a theatre being named that but I believe it beats such names as "Rialto", "Grand", "Ritz" and so forth.

Howard Brown is moving from his home seven miles south of Whiteface into Whiteface where he has rented Mr. Bacus' house. Howard is now employed by the DeKalb Agriculture, Incorporated.

Tack, of Amarillo Globe-News, you mentioned in a column of yours that you thought we should name the to-be-constructed Sanford dam Lake Borger. No, Tack, let's don't do that. Such a wonderful and worthwhile project should not be lightly named but dedicated to those men and women who were our Panhandle Pioneers. Those men and women who in the early days of that country very nearly had to regulate their lives to the moods of the Canadian River. For instance such a simple question as, "Are you going to vote next Tuesday?" Would often receive the answer, "If I can cross the Canadian I will." Think of the dry spells those Panhandle Pioneers had to contend with? Think of the flash floods when a wall of water came down the Canadian, passed with a deafening roar, sweeping range cattle and many human lives before it. The results: New homes had to be built and before the new homes were built new crossings over the Canadian had to be found. When one Christmas eve night a rancher set in his wagon, his wagon loaded with toys. All was quite but the restless stomping of his team and the mysterious slap-slap of the Canadian eating at its banks. Across the river the rancher could see the lights of his home. Again he asked himself the question, "Will I take a chance and swim the team across and enjoy Christmas eve with the wife and kids or had I better camp here tonight." Surely you heard this about the judge who horseback and his saddle bags full of court records found he had to swim the Canadian River in order to reach the courthouse. True to his duties he spurred his horse off into the whirling torrent. Two cowpunchers who were riding the banks of the Canadian in search of sinking cattle, saw the judge and his horse floundering around out in mid-stream, the judge hanging on to the horse's tail. One cowpuncher yelled as he uncoiled his rope, "Let's save the judge." The other cowpuncher answered angrily as he whipped his horse off into the water, "Judge hell, save that law book he carries. It says some of these sons-of-so-and-so's in this country can't shoot at me every time they want to. We can make any man a judge." No Tack, Lake Panhandle Pioneer is the proper name for the Sanford Dam.

DOYLE JACKSONS OF LUBBOCK ATTENDED MINSTREL SHOW

Dr. and Mrs. Doyle Jackson, Lubbock, were in Morton last Thursday evening for the initial performance of "The Minstrels of 1949," presented by Morton Lions Club.

Dr. Jackson is Professor of Education at Texas Tech and Deputy District Governor of Lions Club.

A few days ago we received such a pleasing note from Rosemary Sanders, thanking us for a delightful week-end. Actually we had nothing to do with it as we were out of town the week-end she and Dr. Sanders were guests at Vagabond House.

Isn't that a sweet name. Rosemary? There is a Rosemary junior too, a lovely 18 months old one. Dr. Sanders hopes to get his family moved here from Alice as soon as the two older children have finished this term of school.

Another letter much enjoyed was from Ben Petmecky, brother of our own little Paula P. Brown. Ben lives in Austin, attends the University of Texas and from what we hear is "quite a guy."

Ben's talents run to oil painting, interior decorating, creative writing AND Sunday School teaching—an unusual combination to say the least.

Don Ormand, young son of the R. D.'s, was the little "nigger" helping sell candy at the Minstrel show Thursday night. He did right well too, understand he sold as much candy as the older fellows.

No matter what garb Willard Cox puts on he is still a dude. If we ever saw a "colored" hot shot it was W. B. walking amongst the crowd Thursday night in a regular jelly bean suit, straw hat, big black cigar n' everything, including a huge bow tie and flower in his lapel. (The tie was around his neck).

Tom McAllister brought down the house when he sang and danced, "Dark Town Strutters Ball." In answering repeated encores Tom said, "the applause is about 20 years too late, I'm give out." Tom is Morton's Mayor.

Artie Hicks, who replaced W. B. Cox at the last minute as "Hambone," displayed a tremendous amount of talent.

The Lions Swing Band hastily put together for the Minstrel was excellent.

The whole show was unusually good and we feel mighty proud of all the Lions for doing such a wonderful job of the minstrel. Altho for awhile, along with Paul Goodman, we were in despair for fear the thing wouldn't go over.

Dr. Doyle Jackson and his attractive wife came out from Lubbock for the minstrel. He is the nicest ol' boy and we have long since added him to our extensive "crush" list.

Wanda Tolliver, with the sweet voice, really got her share of the applause with her singing of "Can't Help Loving That Man." Wanda is fair haired and pretty. She wore a blue off shoulder evening dress and stole of net that was very becoming.

Of course the whole show was good and those of you who didn't go really missed something.

Mr. Mac Woodrum of Veterans Administration was a guest at Lions Club last Wednesday. When we asked what he does along with about 500 other employees at VA, he just grinned. Mr. W. apparently isn't as loquacious as some of the VA personnel—which is probably just as well.

Tuesday night little Lulu asked us to the Garden Club meeting at her home. We wound up with several others in the kitchen watching the antics of two gold fish, three snails and one clam in the aquarium she keeps in the window.

We had a gold fish once but during a cold spell it froze. Mama thawed it out two or three times but finally it froze when no one was looking. That was our first and last experience with a gold fish.

Herbert Hillman has planted flowers in his yard right in back of our kitchen. At first he told the spouse he wouldn't have time to bother with flowers. We are glad he changed his mind.

Looks as if we will be forced to get a rain gauge. Those boys at the Avalanche-Journal, who call at all hours of the night, seem thoroughly disgusted when we "guess" at the amount of water that has fallen. It was comparatively easy as long as the roof leaked, all we had to do was put a tub in one corner of the kitchen but since the spouse had the house reroofed we have no way of knowing.

Mrs. Morrow gave us an arm load of plants, lilies of the valley, chrysanthemums, etc. We set them out and then it rained—not a leaf wilted.

Thought for awhile there was going to be an addition to our family. The spouse found a darling kitten in the alley, brought it in and fed it milk but while we were at church the two little Sanders girls, Ann and Jane, came calling and found their kitten asleep on our couch.

Mrs. Pat Hatcher was in a few days ago; said she'd been wearing the pants since Pat went off to a hospital at Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

A card from the Arthur Cooks vacationing in North Carolina, indicate they are having a wonderful time.

Bill Williamson returned a few days ago from Lake Kemp. He left Lillian and little Bill (grandson) down there for another week.

Here we go again—sent three entries to the State Press contest and one to South Plains. One of these days we are going to wake up and find we have pushed our luck too far.

However our good friend, Vern Sanford, manager of the Texas Press Association, wrote and insisted that the spouse enter the Tribune in one or more of the contests. Actually Vern didn't say "boo" to us but we like him anyway.

Mr. A. H. Hemphill and a Mr. Hunt from Levelland were by the house Friday evening. In introducing us Mr. H. said, "Ann is the best writer in these parts." Now isn't that something? Whatever it is Mr. H. wants us to do—we will.

We have a FREE (they are selling for $10.00 each) ticket to the Jefferson-Jackson Day Barbecue Dinner to be held in Lubbock, Saturday, May 7. It says so right here in a letter from the committee. Looks as if we will get all we want to eat again without having to pay. The South Plains Press is meeting in Lubbock this week-end and as usual the Panhandle South Plains Fair Association is treating the press to a luncheon.

A week ago on Tuesday we took turns with Paula attending a shower for Mrs. Windom at the Nairn home.

That house is one of the most attractive in Morton. Bud and Bertha certainly used good taste in decorating, arrangement and color scheme.

The addition on top of garage has two large bedrooms, hall and bath. Entrance to the upstairs portion is made from a hall in the house on ground level. Bertha has the bathroom in yellow. Little Butch's room has pine paneled walls, ranch type furniture with twin beds.

Bud has a pine paneled den on main floor. It has red leather furniture. The living room is large and comfortable. Kitchen and dining area adjoins the LR.

Geneva Nicewarner, Mattie Ramby and Eltha Russell came to the shower together. All looking smart in spring suits. Geneva's was of navy blue faille and with it she wore a blue straw hat and blue slippers.

Mrs. C. B. Markham, a little bitty gal, was wearing cinnamon colored, embroidered linen with ear rings and necklace of aqua—a wonderful combination.

Heard Bill and Mickey Garrett discussing their savings account the other day. He said, "Why is it that we haven't more money in our savings account? and she answered, "Do you suppose it's because there's so many ways to spend it and only one way of saving it?"

MR. and MRS. W. R. ADAMS were business visitors in Lubbock last Saturday.

Fly-Proofing of Homes Urged by Health Officer

Countless thousands of lives are lost annually throughout the nation from diseases that are transmitted by the common housefly. Dysentery, diarrhea, typhoid fever, tuberculosis and many other disabling and even fatal diseases are spread by flies, and the control of houseflies becomes of great importance when considered in the light of public health.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that in order to protect our families we should make sure our homes are fly-proof through proper screening, and then concentrate on eliminating filth, garbage, and other breeding places for flies.

"See that your windows, doors, and porches are screened so that the stray fly from some careless neighbor cannot molest your family," Dr. Cox said, "and make sure that your grocer observes proper sanitation standards and keeps your meat, food and vegetable supplies screened from flies.

"Then direct your efforts to eliminating all fly breeding places such as open garbage pails, open privies and other filth that offers the fly proper warmth, moisture and food. Flies thrive on filth, and inasmuch as one female housefly will lay from 600 to 1000 eggs per season, it can easily be seen that one breeding place left available in a community, can be responsible for a tremendous horde of flies."

Dr. Cox recommended organized community efforts as being effective in ridding a community of flies, and emphasized that no matter how clean one family's home and premises are, they are not safe if another home down the street leaves exposed filth where flies can breed.

Hints on Having a Good Lawn Given By A-M Specialist

It takes mowing, watering and fertilizing to keep a yard looking its best.

That's the word from Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. and M. College. Regular mowing with a sharp, properly adjusted mower keeps your lawn looking neat and helps the grass grow and spread.

How high the grass is mowed depends on what grass you have. Bermuda, St. Augustine or centipede grass can be mowed closely if the yard is well fertilized. The fescues and bluegrass should be mowed at one and a half inches or higher, Miss Hatfield says.

Now about watering the lawn. If you have the water supply to do this during the hot, dry weather, it's best to soak the ground thoroughly now and then—just soak long enough to keep the plants alive.

Here's a point to remember, too. Light sprinkling every day just to cool things off encourages shallow root system and helps crabgrass more than it does the better lawn grasses.

Further information on lawn grasses and fertilizing the yard can be obtained from the local county agent.

Nice green lush lawns in the summertime means taking care of your yard the year round, Miss Hatfield concludes.

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, Harding College, Searcy, Ark.

POLITICAL MEDICINE

Most of the tyrannies of the world began first as cast of kindness and benevolence. It is interesting that self-styled "liberals" of this modern age propose to take us into bondage again, by first offering the people security of one kind or another. That's the gimmick by which the bureaucrats propose to perform colossal feats of magic—and get elected (and appointed) again and again.

These "securocrats" are ready to trade anybody all the security he'll want, in exchange for his freedom. I hope that we in America can see through the smoke screens of all this talk about the "government" doing these wonderful things—always much, oh so much, better than they have ever been done before. An example is the latest scheme for socialized medicine being proposed in Congress, under the false name of "compulsory national health insurance."

Who Wants It?

We have been told for years that the nation's health is in an awful shape, that the American people are a bunch of weaklings. Most of this ballyhoo has come from the federal agency that wants to supervise and direct the medical care of every person in the nation, under "compulsory national health insurance." This is the Federal Security Agency, the same bureau that once spread the untruth that half the nation's young men were unfit to bear arms in the recent war.

Actually, only about 6 per cent of all men examined for the draft were rejected for health defects that could have been remedied. Our nation is the healthiest nation on earth. It is far and away ahead of any country that has

Motorists Should Give Automobiles Thorough Check

"In line with the traffic safety drive of the National Safety Council being conducted this spring, motorists should give their automobiles a thorough safety checkup," E. L. Harrig, director of service for the Chevrolet Motor Division, said.

"A thorough examination of brakes, tires, wheel alignment, steering, glass and lights can easily mean the difference between life and death on the highway," said Harrig. "A preliminary examination of these potential danger points on the car can be made by the motorist himself. Chevrolet dealers are well equipped to make a more detailed inspection of those items on the car that the owner may think need attention."

Harrig listed the various points of the car that have a bearing on its safety, and told how to ascertain whether they are functioning properly:

Brakes—If you can push the brake pedal to within one inch of the floor, it should be inspected. If the brakes pull the car to either side when stopping they should be inspected and brought up to standard. If, under customary driving conditions, it takes you longer to stop than previously, this also is a danger signal. Have the brakes inspected.

Tires—If they are worn smooth they will skid more easily. If irregular wear spots show on some tires, it is an indication of improper wheel alignment. It is well in any case to have wheel alignment inspected in a regular service department.

Steering—If there is more than an inch or so of play in the steering wheel, or if the front wheels are slow to react to a turn of the steering wheel, this feature should be inspected and brought to standard.

Glass—Check windshield and all windows for discoloration which sometimes is found in old cars. If your vision in any direction is restricted by faulty glass it should be replaced for protection of passengers and other cars. Never drive with a dirty windshield.

Lights—Make certain that both headlights burn on both upper and lower beams, and that tail and stop lights are working. Stand in front of the car with headlights on the lower beam and be certain that they do not blind approaching motorists. Keep headlight and tail light lenses clean at all times.

ever tried socialized medicine. There are communities that could use more doctors, to be sure. More hospitals are needed. But the FSA contention that half the population cannot afford medical care, is just pure bosh.

Pamper the People

It is said that right now at least 50 million persons are insured against hospitalizations and accidents. This means that more than half of our people have voluntarily provided themselves with medical care plans, without benefit of bureaucracy. Yet, a benevolent "securocracy" continues to blare forth its propaganda for state medicine. Government assumes it must pamper the people, from cradle to grave.

Where will the money come from? It is easy to forget that the things government does for people cost money, too. (Alas, politicians are aware that people can be notoriously blind to that question!) We have not yet learned the important lesson: that government can pay out only that which it collects. It is a major tragedy of this century that so many have been taught to believe that they can get something for nothing!

Who'll Pay?

You and I, if we're such boneheads, will pay the costs! It is estimated that you would be asked to chip in to the extent of $192 in taxes for national health insurance. A payroll tax on workers and employers would have to bring $4 billion in to Washington a year—at first. Later, the overall cost of all "security" is estimated to run about $12 billion yearly—only six years from now. By 1990 payroll taxes would run about 18 per cent!

That is only the beginning. Some wise economists estimate the eventual cost at 25 per cent of the national payroll! The bill will make necessary in the future very heavy charges against the general revenues of the Treasury. Vast sums of money will be taken from you and you to support the league of officeholders that a compulsory plan will require. As for me, I don't want my medicine from the bottle marked "political."

LIVESTOCK LIFE-LINES

Crowding of sheep in muddy corrals favors the spread of foot rot.

Brooder stoves should be kept burning until all danger of cold weather is past.

Veterinarians say it is dangerous to vaccinate pigs that are not in good health.

Vaccination is the only dependable means of protecting calves and young cattle against blackleg.

The greatest number of cases of plant poisoning in livestock occur west of the Mississippi River.

Hairlessness in newborn pigs can usually be traced to a deficiency of iodine in the sow's ration.

If nursing sows are allowed to wallow in mud, their pigs may swallow enough of it to develop fatal impaction.

A cow with a bad tooth is likely to lap water as a dog does, in order to protect the sensitive tooth from chilling.

Farm animals and pets of all ages may suffer from vitamin A deficiency, but young animals are particularly susceptible.

Horses should be vaccinated against sleeping sickness in May or June—before biting insects begin their summer rampage.

Prevention of chick diseases is aided by locating the brooder house on ground that has not been used by other poultry for at least two years.

MORTON, SUDAN SPLIT TWO GAMES

The Morton seventh and eighth grade girls split two games with two squads from Sudan on the local hardwood Wednesday afternoon at 3:30.

In the first games of the twin-bill the local seventh graders played a ball-hawking brand of game to outpoint the Sudan eighth grade "B" team in a close game, 12-8.

But then came Sudan's time and they gained revenge with their eighth grade "A" team trampling the Morton eighth graders under a 21-7 barrage on the basket.

Wool and Cotton Lead in All Men's Clothing

Nature's two great fibers, wool and cotton, are still the overwhelming preference of men for all items of their clothing, with synthetic fibers of only minor interest, declares The Wool Bureau in an analysis of the report on the first Consumer Fiber Preference Survey just concluded and made public by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture.

The survey, which the Bureau of Agricultural Economics declares represents the opinions of fifty million American men, was completed in June, 1948. It includes inquiries as to men's fiber preferences in summer suits, dresses and sport shirts, pajamas, socks and robes, and raincoats.

The outstanding preference for wool, the Bureau reports, is in men's summer suits. Sixty-two per cent of those questioned stated that they insisted on wool for summer outer apparel because of its comfort, its resistance to wrinkling, its durability and appearance, and satisfactory cleaning. Eight per cent preferred cotton suits for summer and seven per cent said they would take rayon. In this connection the bureau emphasizes the survey included all of the South, rural and urban dwellers and low, middle and high incomes.

Cotton, the great natural vegetable fiber around which so much of the economy of the South is built, the Bureau says, is still preferred by men for their underwear, pajamas, socks, and summer business and sport shirts. The invasion of wool into the fields of sport shirts and men's robes is an outstanding feature of the survey. In the field of men's robes, the preference for wool was overwhelming. Forty-eight per cent of the men questioned declared they preferred wool because of its comfort, its durability and its appearance. Thirteen per cent wanted cotton and twelve per cent said they would take rayon.

THE BIG DIFFERENCE!

BOYCE HOUSE

'Gives You Texas'

If you go to Mexico City, should you attend a bull fight? Whoever you decide to do, you will probably be sorry. If you attend, the suffering inflicted on the bulls will make you regret being there; but if you do not go, you will miss one of the sights of Mexico.

I have seen "death in the afternoon", as Ernest Hemingway calls the national sport of Latin America and Spain. The arena del toros in Mexico City is the largest in the world, even larger than the arenas in Madrid and Toledo. The wooden bowl has no top and it seated 12,000—it may have since been enlarged. Seats are "sombra" (shade) and "sol" (sun). Those in the hot glaring sunlight are cheaper. The fights are held on Sunday afternoons and the stands are always packed.

First there came a flourish of trumpets; then the participants paraded around the ring. The matadors were lavishly attired in tight, knee-length trousers, shirt and jacket, each of a different hue. Some of their admirers flung their hats into the arena, the matadors tossing them back and waving and smiling to the cheering thousands. The circuit completed, they filed out, and then expectancy descended upon the throng.

Suddenly a gate opened and a big, spirited bull dashed into the ring. At the shouts which greeted him, the animal paused, his head high and turning from side to side. And then he became conscious of the presence of a man near him—a man with a bright red cloak. The bull charged and the man sprang to one side. The bull slowed, stopped, turned and charged, this time coming so close that another man sprang out to divert his attention.

Then came a picador—a man on horseback with a spear. The horse was little more than skin and bones, but the rider was a man whose size indicated his power. When the bull charged, the rider wheeled so that the steed's side was protected by a heavy padding and the man drove his lance into the bull. The weapon would not penetrate very deeply and the wounded animal would push furiously in an effort to reach his enemy. It was a contest of strength between man and bull.

Another picador repeated the performance but this time the bull swung so quickly that he was on the unprotected side of the horse and gored the poor creature who reared and then dropped to the sand. Peons rushed in with their capes to distract the bull while the picador could extricate himself and the dead horse was then dragged out.

And then entered the banderillos, each armed with a dart in either hand. As the bull would charge, the banderillo would wait until the last split second, spring to one side and at the same time would implant one of the arrows in each shoulder. It was cruel by American standards but it was superb timing and highly dangerous.

Several times, the bull wheeled and re-charged, forcing the banderillo to run for the shelter of one of the wooden shields built at intervals near the wall. Once, no shield being close, the banderillo climbed the wall, inches ahead of the vicious horns.

And then came the matador, "armed" only with a cape and he played the animal while the crowd cheered. There is a certain ritualism to follow. The matador spins and sidesteps; sometimes he does not move from his tracks but merely twists his body a fraction of an inch out of the path of the horns.

By now, the bull's side is stained from the wounds of the spears and from the ornamented arrows that still cling to his shoulders and he is tiring from his exertions and from the loss of blood. As the animal stands motionless in pain and puzzlement, the matador drops tauntingly in front of him on one knee and the crowd cheers.

At last, the matador is given a sword and he keeps it concealed behind the waving red cape until he induces the bull to lunge. The cloak is dropped and the naked blade gleams for a moment, then enters the vital spot between neck and shoulders. To the hit, it goes and remains; the blood pours in a stream; the bull sways, then suddenly topples and in a moment or so, he is dead.

But that was only the first one. There were six more to be killed!

A total of 78 different designs were submitted for the Navy's 65,000 ton aircraft carrier USS United States before one was accepted.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins New President At Texas Tech

Dr. D. M. Wiggins becomes the fifth president of Texas Technological college, Tuesday, May 10. Formal installation ceremonies are to be conducted at Jones stadium, on the campus, in the evening following a full day of honors and courtesies for Dr. and Mrs. Wiggins.

Forerunning the evening program is to be a luncheon meeting honoring Dr. and Mrs. Wiggins and attending as special guests will be the board of directors membership, and the visiting delegates. Dr. William H. Cowley, professor of education from Stanford university is to be the featured speaker.

Dr. Doak S. Campbell, president of Florida State university, will make the inaugural address, and Charles Thompson of Colorado City, Texas, chairman of the college board of directors, will conduct the investiture service.

When Dr. Wiggins came to Texas Tech in September, he took over the leadership of a student body which numbers almost 6,000. The first president, the late Dr. Paul Whitfield Horn, was over a student group numbering more than 1,000, principally from west Texas, who came that opening year of 1925.

Under the few months guidance by Dr. Wiggins thus far some 48 new courses have been added already to the regular curriculum to be offered for the first time next year, 1949-50. Also a 10-year master building program involving an expenditure of $4,000,000, has been approved, and acquisition of Pan-Tex ordnance plant as part of Texas Tech has been realized.

Dr. Wiggins, a long time resident of West Texas, went while a young boy to Canadian, where his parents established permanent residence. He was graduated from Goodnight college in 1917, and went immediately to Burk Burnett High school as principal and coach. After military service, he re-entered college this time going to Hardin-Simmons university where he took a bachelor of arts degree and was appointed principal and coach of Vernon High school.

Dr. Wiggins succeeds as president of Texas Tech Dr. W. M. Whyburn who resigned to join the faculty of the University of North Carolina.

Street Markers and House Numbers

Some time ago the local Lions Club started a movement to get street markers and house numbers for the principal streets of Morton. Has this project bogged down?

Morton's tremendous increase in population and construction hundreds of new houses makes the marking of streets and numbering of houses a necessity.

4-H and FFA Fat Stock Show

Now that the 4-H and FFA Fat Stock Show is over for another year it seems proper and fitting that something be done about a suitable building for this show before another year rolls around.

Boys and girls belonging to the clubs work at their job. They are the future leaders of our community. Let us seriously consider doing our part toward construction of a building for the show.

Band Instruments Needed

Approximately 51 Morton school students have indicated a desire to play in the school band. Many of these students are not able to buy band instruments. On hearing of this, Paul Goodman, offered an instrument to the school for use by some student.

Is there any one else in Morton with a band instrument not being used, that would be willing to lend, or give it to the school.

Mr. Fred Danforth, who joined the school faculty this year, has made wonderful progress with both the band and choral club.

The bigger band Morton school has the better music they will produce and better showing make at the various school meets. Let all get behind the band and help in any way possible.

Memorial Day Services at Levelland

Memorial day services announced for Levelland on May 30 will honor William E. Evans, who was killed just seven days before his 21st birthday, during World War I. Young Evans was a brother of Lloyd Evans, Morton Piggly Wiggly Store owner.

Have Chest X-Ray Made

Everyone is urged to plan now to have an X-ray chest picture made on one of the four days that the mobile X-ray unit will be here from the State Department of Health. The unit will be in Morton at Veterans Hall on May 11, 12, 13, 14. These X-rays are free and will only take a few minutes of each person's time. It is an extremely worth while effort and may mean the future health of YOU, or some of your loved ones.

Spring Clean-Up Drive

In all probability a spring clean-up drive will be sponsored here within the near future by the Lions Club. The club has sponsored this drive in the past, with considerable success.

As you know, each year the Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture cooperates with the National Fire Protection Association in sponsoring local Spring Clean-Up campaigns. This annual drive, unlike Fire Prevention Week in the Fall which is also sponsored by the NFPA, has no set date but is held in various communities, at different times, as the Spring season moves northward.

Good housekeeping is the cornerstone of successful fire prevention. Clean farms and homes seldom burn. Ninety percent of all fires that are killing our citizens and disrupting our economy can be prevented if we all "team up" and clean out rubbish and unnecessary combustibles and by correcting other obvious fire hazards.

We hope that you will urge all your neighbors to take advantage of the natural urge to "spruce up" their property this Spring by joining wholeheartedly in the local Spring Clean-Up Campaign.

A successful Spring Clean-Up campaign can be a mighty potent weapon in reducing local fire loss.

Crucial Days in Austin

The crucial period of the 51st Legislature is at hand in Austin. The battle lines are being drawn and major issues hang in the balance. Their fate must be decided soon.

One of two things stand out as fairly clear to any close observer of this and past legislatures in Texas. The personnel of this session compares favorably with that of any other legislature. In fact, it would average above most of them.

Considering the controversial issues, this legislature has proceeded with a marked degree of decorum. Moreover, its members, especially in committees have worked harder and longer than usual.

What, then, explains the log-jams of the session? First, several of the bills are far-reaching in their importance and possible effect upon public policy. Naturally more difficult and more controversial. Secondly, and the significance of this fact hangs heavily upon the business economy of Texas, for months before the session opened there was constant talk about the huge surplus in the State Treasury.

Out of the situation have emerged two conflicting viewpoints regarding the session's fiscal policy. One of these considers more necessary in order to prop and sustain the state's ever-spiraling costs of government. The other maintains that taxation has reached the saturation point and increasing spending must be checked.

This latter viewpoint has gained considerable headway in the legislature recently. It is expressed clearly and unequivocally in comments issued recently by two different groups in the Lower House. One report says in part:

"When this session of the Legislature convened, we had more money available for appropriation than any Legislature in history. In spite of the fact that amount has been scaled down, we can still appropriate $152 million more than we appropriated in 1947."

"We believe that all of the services of the state can be provided without the necessity of raising more money by levying additional tax burdens upon the people."

The tax load already is heavy. It is taking one-fourth of all income. It is taking nearer 35 percent of all spendable income—only a prosperous economy—in fact a booming economy—can carry the load already fastened upon us. No economy of private enterprise, once gripped in another depression, or even a prolonged recession, can carry such a load any longer.

Highlights From Cochran County H. D. Agent's Office

Mabel Ann Manley

WITH H. D. CLUB WOMEN OF COCHRAN COUNTY

National Home Demonstration Club Week begins May 1 and lasts through May 7. The theme of the week which some 3,500,000 women will observe is, "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World." It is quite fitting to review some of the accomplishments of Cochran County's Home Demonstration Club members. Mrs. E. D. Courtney, a long time member of the County Line Club, has proved that a pretty lawn and shrubs can be grown in Cochran County despite hot winds and little water. Mrs. Courtney has been a landscape demonstrator for some six or seven years. The evergreen shrubs at the front of her home just seem to say, "You are welcome" all through the year.

Mrs. Courtney's daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. K. Courtney, has started her landscape plantings and will be the hostess for the demonstration to be given by the county home demonstration agent on out door furnace. Mrs. W. K. Courtney enjoys the honor of being the one charter member of the County Line Club with about fourteen years in club work. She has served in every office in her club and nearly all offices in the County Home Demonstration Council. Mrs. Courtney is teaching four of her neighbors tailoring.

Mrs. K. A. Wilson is the president of the County Line Club. She is also a member of long standing.

Mrs. Rex Faulkner is the County Council chairman and a landscape demonstrator for her club. She will be hostess for the outdoor furnace demonstration in her club. Some other outstanding members of the Home Makers Club are: Mrs. Woodrow Cunningham, club president, 4-H Club sponsor and landscape demonstrator. She is chairman of the 4-H Club Girls Dress Revue Staging Committee and was the leader that represented the county at the Lamesa forum.

Mrs. D. A. Ramsey is the County T.H.D.A. Chairman. Another member of the Home Makers Club that has obtained distinction is Mrs. O. D. Chesshir.

Last year Mrs. Chesshir scored higher than any other Cochran County women in the Radio Listening Contest and was a guest at the dinner given by Lubbock Radio Stations.

The Lehman Club has her distinguished members too. Last year Mrs. P. E. Liles, Mrs. J. W. Pond and Mrs. V. V. Scott did not miss a club meeting. Mrs. Liles has read enough books to receive a reading certificate. She served her club as president last year and this year she is council vice-chairman.

The Council's most efficient secretary also comes from the Lehman Club. She is Mrs. Charles Sanders. She served her club as secretary for three years before she was elected Council Secretary. Mrs. O. S. Taylor is the president of the Lehman Club this year. Mrs. E. L. Freeland is one of the people in the county to receive a reading certificate.

These are only a few of the county's good club members. If all of the accomplishments of all of the club members in the county were put to gether they would fill a very thick volume.

NATIONAL H. D. WEEK May 1-7, 1949

Theme: Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World.

Objectives: 1. To acquaint the general public with the objectives, activities, and accomplishments of home demonstration work.

2. To highlight: (a) Achievements of families through home demonstration work. (b) Problems affecting rural families that demand attention. (c) Need for further development of home demonstration work in light of these problems.

3. To bring out the relationship of home demonstration work to the entire extension program and encourage more families to participate.

4. To give recognition to volunteer local leaders whose services in their communities have contributed greatly to the success of home demonstration work.

5. To emphasize the opportunities in extension work to bring about better understanding of public problems—local, state, national and international.

This is not theory. It is cold historic fact. Over much of the world today economic systems already have collapsed amid the wrecks of mismanaged and disordered finance. The value has gone out of their money, their debts repudiated, their social security systems have become hollow mockeries of all the term implies, and their people have turned toward various forms of socialism, communism or regimentation.

Whenever freedom has been lost, the disaster has been accompanied by, if not caused by, excessive expenditures and taxation.

This is no time to push peace-time expenditures into new records and new heights. Every fact of expediency and common welfare calls for moving in the other direction.

It is time to abandon the easy optimism and face the facts in Austin. Regardless of what happens, state spending will be pushed into all-time highs.

The state's favorable financial position should be preserved. To accomplish this, continuing appropriations should stay generally where they are.

Texas has one of the most liberal old-age assistance programs in the Union, when we consider the fact that twice as many recipients receive aid in Texas as the national average. The program should be left alone.

The one vital question to ask about every new and improvised expenditure is, "Can we afford it?"

There are those in Austin who are trying to steer the affairs of state along safe and sane paths of fiscal policy. They deserve your encouragement and support.

It's Wishful Thinking!

Too many Americans are harkening to socialism's easy promise of security.

We are victims of wishful thinking. War came to us, hot and now cold, because we thought we could go along with pre-war Hitler. We thought we could live with Communism, even after Yalta.

Now we wishfully think a Pyramid Club of socialistic Federal spending can give us security.

Yet only very few really want socialism. Americans want to keep their precious individual freedom. The drab leveling of socialism is alluring only to people frustrated under the ancient class system of exploitation.

Agricultural Short Shots of Interest

If your coffee percolator will not operate efficiently, check it over. The percolator valve or pump may be clogged. Clean the valve or stem by forcing water through it or use a small round brush to unclog it.

Tourists crossing the U. S. Mexico border at Zapata, Texas are subject to a little more inspection than at other points. A customs inspector there has a cat called Solomon, who has a ravenous appetite for fresh meat. Solomon sniffs out the meat in cars attempting to bring it back to the United States illegally. Another version of the "cat-and-mouse" game.

Mice are being used in laboratory tests to check on the effectiveness of new fly sprays. The mice are rolled around several times on an old style phonograph rigged up under a shower spray. Then they're dried with a stream of air, and used in the tests the following day.

Grasshoppers are expected to hit this year's crops heavily unless something is done. Kill them out. Check on poison supplies now, so you'll have enough on hand when you need it.
