

Texas Polo Team Wins 6-5 Victory At Illinois Field

Spills and hard riding thrilled 300 polo fans as the Texas ranchers nosed out the Waukegan Polo club in a sudden death overtime period 6 to 5 at Arlington Farm Polo field, Illinois.

The fast tempo of the game was set with the first toss-on and the game was played at a full throttle throughout.

Waukegan got off to an early 2-0 lead in the first chukker with Tom Cross scoring twice and then the Texans came back to take a 2-2 lead in the second frame.

Hard riding and vicious checking and blocking featured the play throughout the game and held down the offensive efforts of both teams.

Tom Mather, rugged veteran leader of the Texans brought the crowd to its feet when he collided with Capt. Bill Grant of Waukegan and took a bad spill midway through the game.

Joe Mertz, who scored the winning goal in the sudden death overtime period, also spilled after collision with Tom Cross of the Waukegan quartet.

Mertz and his brother, Mort, led the scoring for the victors with three goals apiece while Jess and Johnny Casey each tied twice for Waukegan.

The Texans went into the game as heavy favorites to win, but were forced to go all-out as the Waukegan club played inspired polo.

Several Teachers Become Students For Summer Term

At least 8 of Morton's school teachers just can't get enough school during their regular teaching assignments. These ambitious souls are determined to give Morton children the best education possible and are doing so by attending summer school sessions at various universities in Texas and New Mexico.

Eastern New Mexico College at Portales boasts the attendance of 5 of the 8. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Danforth, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Macdon, and Mrs. Fred Stockdale are taking summer courses there.

Mrs. John Alford is studying this summer at Texas Tech in Lubbock. Mrs. Ina Fern Gray is enrolled at Hardin-Simmons at Abilene, and Mrs. Iva Williams has chosen West Texas State College at Canyon for her summer school.

Morton Firemen Return from Highly Successful Galveston Convention

Morton's representatives to the 73rd Annual Convention of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshalls' Association of Texas, Fire Marshal Oscar Brown and Chief Amos Taylor have pronounced the convention a huge success. The convention was hailed as the "best ever" by convention officers with only approximately 15 Texas cities not represented.

The annual convention coupled with the Firemen's Training School to be held in July represent the two most important gatherings yearly for state firemen. Attendance at each of these meetings earns for the entire city which the firemen represent, a 3% credit rating with the Fire Insurance Companies.

The credit rating earned for the city is a very important boost both for the city and for the fire department according to Fire Marshal Oscar Brown. In years when fire losses are very heavy, the city is assessed a penalty over the amount of fires that should occur in a certain sized city. These rates are determined by the Inspector's office. By attendance at these conventions and schools and by instigating improvements in the town toward fire prevention, a city may bring their penalty rating down as low as 15%, and thereby obtain better fire insurance rates for everyone in the town.

In the rates figured for the five year period 1940 to 1945, Morton's penalty was 35%. As of now the Morton Fire Department has brought that figure down to 25%, just 10% short of the lowest available figure.

This year's Convention was held at the Buccaneer Hotel in Galveston June 14 through 16. Approximately 500 firemen throughout the state were in attendance. They were addressed by Mayor H. Y. Cartwright of Galveston; Hon. Paul H. Brown, Fire Insurance Commissioner of Texas; Chief A. L. Rathke, Training Division, San Antonio Fire Department; and Mr. Hugh Keepers, Asst. Manager of the Texas Inspection Bureau, Dallas, Texas.

Ansion Brundage, Editor of the Grand Prairie Texan also addressed the convention on "How Your Local Newspaper Can Assist Your Fire Department."

The Firemen's Training School for this year will be held at College Station, Texas, July 10-15, and Morton will have representatives there.

Elkins and his pilot, Ben E. Ferguson disappeared in a private plane flight May 29 and after extensive searches for three weeks the bodies were located in a valley in the Ouachita Mountains in Southwest Arkansas, Friday, June 17.

Ormand had flown over the area in his private plane in search of wreckage of the missing plane two weeks ago. He spent three days aiding in the search. Dodge-Plymouth Wins 13-4 Victory

Pitcher Jim Hill and a smooth working infield combined to hold the Atlantic softball nine well in check Tuesday evening at Slaughter Field as the Dodge-Plymouth team hammered out a convincing 13-4 triumph.

Hill allowed 12 hits but scattered them well except for the second inning when Atlantic bunched four bingles for three runs. His mates jumped on two Atlantic pitchers for 16 hits and capitalized on four errors. The auto boys sewed up the ball game in the third inning scoring one run to take a 5-3 lead. They added six runs on five hits for insurance in the last half of the fourth inning.

In contrast to Monday's slugfest there were few extra base blows Tuesday with no home runs, one triple, and only three doubles recorded off the three hurlers. Youngblood was charged with the defeat for the Atlantic nine but he was relieved in the fifth by Keyser.

The game was marred by an injury to second baseman Eure of the Atlantic whose ankle was injured when he attempted to flag a Dodge-Plymouth runner who was stealing second. Eure was the second player forced from action since league play opened. R. S. Spence, manager and pitcher of the Texaco team was burned in a fire Monday evening an hour after he had twirled his mates to victory in the league opener. Line score of Tuesday's game:

Atlantic 0 3 0 1 0 0 0—4, 12 4 D-Ply. 4 0 1 6 0 2 *—13 16 1 Youngblood, Keyser (5) and Crone; Hill and Lilledahl.

R. S. Spence Burned in Pump House Fire-Explosion Monday Evening

R. S. Spence was painfully burned about the face, arms, and hands when a fire-explosion destroyed the pump house of the Texaco Wholesale 9:15 Monday night.

Spence, who is recuperating at West Plains Hospital, said he was engaged in unloading the tanks on one of his transports when the machine started sucking air.

Three times he had gone to the pump house to check the valve and stop the air leak. Suddenly a spark, possibly from the motor, ignited the fuel fumes and the pump exploded enveloping the house in flames.

Spence luckily was able to escape and rolled on the ground to put out the flames burning his clothes. The fire department responded speedily and through their efforts the flames were checked before any more explosions occurred. There is no telling how much damage might have resulted if the flames had exploded other tanks, according to Spence.

Spence said that the pump house was completely destroyed at a cost of at least $500 and about 1,000 gallons of gasoline were lost. The transport escaped damage.

The victim expects to be hospitalized for at least two or three days.

Texaco Clubs East Siders, 13-11 in City Softball League Opener Mon.

Seven costly errors spelled the difference between victory and defeat for the East Siders as they went down to defeat before the slugging Texaco nine 13-11 in the Softball League opener at Slaughter Field Monday night.

The game was a slugfest from the onset and when the smoke had cleared away the Texaco club had garnered 13 runs on 17 hits including a two run homer. East Side slashed out 15 hits but the seven errors they committed behind their pitcher eventually cost them the ball game. Those seven errors donated five unearned runs to the Texaco total. Harris and Ensor clubbed homers for the East Siders.

Texaco jumped off to a 6-1 lead in the first two turns at bat but a big 5-run second for the East Siders knotted the count. A run in the third put Fred Morrison's boys ahead for their only lead but that was soon erased but Texaco with two in the fourth and five in the fifth. Both teams were held scoreless in the last two innings.

In Tuesday's game Atlantic was slated to face the Dodge-Plymouth nine and this afternoon V. F. W. will meet the High School team under Coach Melvin Crawford.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. Crupper left for Borger, Texas June 15th for two weeks vacation.

If the rains had continued a great number of cotton crops would have been washed out. Wheat, too, was in grave danger of rust. Now the rains seem to be over at least for awhile. Farmers in our community are anxious to get in their fields and declare war on weeds. With all this rain we all wonder where all the dust comes from that we still have in the air.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hollingsworth left for two weeks vacation to the southern part of the state. "Shorty" as Mr. Hollingsworth is better known, says he is just going to take it easy for a while and rest up. Shorty is gangpusher for Stanolind Oil and Gas Co.

Here is a young couple that has made many friends in Whiteface. They are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Henson who operate the Gulf Service Station. Last Sunday June 12th Mr. and Mrs. Henson spent the day in Lubbock just doing nothing but thoroughly enjoying themselves. The reason for this holiday off from their business was to celebrate their first wedding anniversary. On June 12th, 1948 they were married at Lamesa, Texas. Mrs. Henson is the daughter of Mrs. Tressie Wright of Levelland. Mr. Henson is the son of Mrs. Mae Hinton of Sundown. The many friends of this young couple wish them many years of happy married life.

What are we going to do about the swimming pool, folks? It seems as though every one talks of it but no one knows exactly where to start. Has it been talked at any civic meeting? Are we going to let the kids down?

Mr. A. N. Wall, Whiteface, Texas Dear Sir:

The Whiteface school wants a swimming pool because the children want to learn how to swim. I would like to have one because I think it would be a lot of fun. Everyone needs to know how to swim. I think it would be nice to have an instructor to teach us how to swim. Swimming is one of the best exercises for a boy or girl. The other children would like to have one, too. The children will learn to associate with one another. I think they would like to swim all through the year.

Sincerely yours,
Billy Fred Stegall.
Thanks Billy. Nice letter from a fine boy. Write again Billy. Here is another letter.

Dear Friend:
The children of Whiteface want a swimming pool because they want to learn how to swim. Swimming is the best exercise you can get. The children want the fun, too. We think swimming is the greatest of all sports. Learning how to swim is the greatest joy for anyone. They will be proud all of their lives if they know how to swim. If you learn how to swim you might be needed when a child falls in a lake or swimming pool. A year ago I fell in the creek. If it wasn't for Albert Linderman I would have drowned. I know how to swim now and I am proud of it. You see swimming is a good sport and also exercise and that is why we want a swimming pool in Whiteface. We could also have an instructor to teach us how to swim.

Sincerely yours,
Joe Henry Rhyne.
Thanks Joe. Appreciate your letter and am glad you know how to swim. If you are ever around a swimming pool this summer you may save a life by knowing how.

Mr. A. N. Wall Dear Sir:
The reason I want a swimming pool in Whiteface is that the children here need something to do to keep them out of trouble in the summer. If we were in swimming, our parents would know where we were and where to find us when they wanted us. I think we need a good instructor to teach everyone to swim and be a good swimmer because everybody needs to know how to swim to protect themselves and other people.

Yours truly,
Shirley Strickland.
Thank you Shirley. If we do not get a pool this summer maybe next summer. Anyhow we will keep trying and you help, Shirley, by talking it to everyone you know. Thanks again for the nice letter.

All the kids still hope for a pool. They have no one to look to for this pool but us elders. The money spent now for a reasonable pool would never be missed a few years from now and look at the joy, the health, the clean wholesome fun it would bring our young people. That is worth the price alone of all the money spent on swimming pools in this world.

I go to Midland, Texas Saturday. Maybe something will be noticed that will be put in this column next week. Till then, adious.

National Dairy Month Is June

In view of the fact that June has been proclaimed National Dairy Month, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges that with the more extensive use of milk, both producer and consumer be concerned as to its quality. The use of clean safe milk is a health measure.

Local interest in improved methods of producing wholesome milk has increased greatly in the past two decades and the striking advance in milk control has been responsible for the enormous saving in infant life.

Milk is perishable and especially during hot weather. To insure milk of good quality requires cleanliness, sterile utensils, protection against flies, careful bottling and maintenance at low temperature. The presence in fresh milk of large numbers of bacteria, due to insanitary methods of production is a health hazard.

Dr. Cox added, "Among the diseases which may be transmitted through milk are tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, septic sore throat, undulant fever, diarrhea and enteritis. Numerous milk-borne outbreaks of disease occur every year in this country from the use of milk that might have been safe with proper care."

"We should firmly insist that the milk we drink be carefully produced, so that we will have the maximum practicable protection along the line from the cow to the consumer."

—THIS IS AMERICA—

This is freedom, many religions, many races, living in harmony together. For freedom is more than a way of life. It is a state of spirit—and our richest asset.

Under freedom of religion, Americans attend more churches than any other nation. Under freedom of speech, we have more newspapers, more radio stations than any country in the world. Under freedom of opportunity, our children attend more schools, have more chances to succeed in life.

We are only 7% of the world's people, living on 5% of the world's land. Yet we in America have the highest standard of living the world has ever known.

Under freedom of enterprise—you may call it Democracy, or Capitalism—we make just about one-third of the world's goods, mostly for our own use. We drive three-fourths of the world's autos, use about half the world's electricity. Our homes are unrivaled for comfort and labor-saving devices. We eat more meat, buy more clothes, see more shows, own more insurance. We even save more money.

Yes, freedom pays—in the coin of tolerance and understanding, and in the coin of progress and prosperity.

Cochran County Garden Club to Honor Husbands with Picnic Tuesday Evening

A picnic honoring husbands of members will be given by the Cochran County Garden Club on Tuesday evening, June 28 at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Baccus.

Mrs. Baccus was installed as 1949-50 president of the Garden Club at a meeting held at the Cliff Davis home June 14. The installation meeting featured an educational talk and an entertainment program under the direction of Mrs. H. W. Sanders.

Mrs. Sanders discussed "flower arrangements" emphasizing the importance of "when and how" to cut flowers. She also suggested effective means of adding to an arrangement; that is by adding color to the water in crystal or clear containers to produce contrast or harmony with the flower arrangement and in order to carry out a particular color scheme. Another suggestion offered by Mrs. Sanders was that of using moth balls and soda in a floating arrangement; "this," she said, "gives off a cool effervescent quality which is especially appreciated during the hot months."

It was further pointed out by Mrs. Sanders, that the following points are well to keep in mind when planning a flower arrangement. "First, selecting and cutting of flowers, choosing place where you plan to use flower arrangement, define your mood and let arrangement express it for you, picture in your mind how you wish flowers to look, select container for flowers which will complement and aid your arrangement, sit down while you complete arrangement. First, this will help you relax and second, most arrangements will be viewed from a seated position."

Flower arrangements were brought and displayed at the meeting by the members. Mrs. Sanders displayed two arrangements.

Dickey May Sanders, nine year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sanders, was presented in two dance routines. She was accompanied by Mrs. C. E. Prestridge of the Aloha Studios on the electric guitar. Darlene Prestridge was presented in a guitar solo.

During a business session the club voted to honor Mrs. Carl England with an associate membership in the club. A refreshment plate of lime punch and cake was served to the following members: Mesdames V. L. Lawson, Albert Morrow, Hattie B. Spotts, R. E. Dunham, R. E. Burleson, Lester Baccus, Carl Macon, and hostess, Mrs. Cliff Davis.

Guests, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. C. E. Prestridge, Mrs. Courtney Sanders, Mrs. Orville Tilger, Mrs. Milton Brown, Ann and Jane Sanders, Darlene Prestridge, and Dickey May Sanders.

"South of St. Louis" To Show June 29-30 at Home Theatre in Whiteface

An action-jammed historical adventure yarn set in the lawless period of the Southwest following the War Between the States, "South of St. Louis," filmed in Technicolor, comes to the Home Theatre, Whiteface, Wednesday and Thursday nights, June 29-30, headed by a four-star cast including Joel McCrea, Alexis Smith, Zachary Scott and Dorothy Malone. The picture is a United States Pictures Production released by Warner Bros.

South of St. Louis was the nomad's land of the Civil War. It was that vast area of Texas and the Southwest in which, for the most part, the war was fought on a guerilla basis, although there were organized army groups on both sides. The film depicts the scout, personal drama of three hard-riding men of the range, set against the violent background of the open spaces. Smuggling was rampant then and the reckless tempo of the time made life exciting and dangerous.

McCrea plays Kip Davis whose purpose in the lusty tale is to restore the ranching land burned and pillaged by guerillas in Union hire. Miss Smith departs from her usual roles to that of a flamboyant entertainer of the old west. As Rouge de Lisle, this beautiful blonde star displays a completely new side to her talents. Zack Scott plays a cowboy, not exactly a new role, as he hails from Texas and spent many of his younger years on a ranch. Miss Malone, completing the roster of stars, is cast as Deborah, who is loved by McCrea but who loves another.

Most of the film was shot on "location", at the Warner ranch in Calabasa, California, at Victorville and in the San Fernando valley. Some of the greatest action spectacle scenes to be filmed last year were made, with a great cast, scores of horses, in western panoramic settings enhanced by gorgeous Technicolor.

Double the Sessions, Triple the Pay?

(First of a series of 10 articles covering the proposed ten amendments to the constitution)

Among the 10 proposed amendments to the constitution to be voted on in a general election September 24, 1949, is a plan to raise the salaries of the Legislators to $3,600 annually and to provide annual sessions of the Legislature.

The author and sponsor of this proposal, Representative John L. Crosthwait urges the passing of this bill to enable handling of emergency matters.

"It is not humanly possible for the Legislature to foresee what conditions and needs will be 30 months in advance," Representative Crosthwait says. For examples, he cites that the 50th Legislature, in 1947, missed the rural aid needs by $4,000,000; and that the Highway Patrol ran $250,000 short because of unpredictable increases in the cost of gasoline, oil, and tires. Despite these shortcomings which necessitated emergency appropriations, the state revenues over that period covered were $50,000,000 more than had been anticipated.

"The state will save millions of dollars when we start making annual budgets," Crosthwait said.

The proposal will not change the present sessions held in the "odd years" except as to length. It simply adds a meeting on the "even years" when only appropriations, emergency subjects submitted by the Governor and other matters brought up by four-fifths vote of the members could be considered. Another section of the proposed amendment provides a year around salary of $3,600 for the legislators instead of the present $10 per day for the first 120 days and $5 per day thereafter. Pointing out the high cost to the legislators of living in Austin and at the same time maintaining a residence at home, Crosthwait said that more pay for members is "long overdue".

He claims that the amount of money the state will save by more exact planning and budgeting in annual sessions would be many times the amount required to pay annual salaries at the increased rate.

Certainly this proposal has its good points. Annual sessions of the Legislature would eliminate many of the problems that arise during the "off years". It has always been our contention that the Legislators have, foremost, a duty to the people of their state to enact legislation that the people of the state want enacted. In states where the Legislators receive a lump sum salary but only meet every other year they are failing in their duty. For this reason we feel that Legislators should meet every year.

The question of salary is a different matter. It is agreed that Legislators in a great many states are underpaid. Ten dollars per day is not a huge sum in this day and age when you consider the large expense of living away from home and supporting a home at the same time. But we must not forget that Legislators usually are engaged in some other work for the remaining two-thirds of the year. At the proposed salary increase they would be receiving approximately $30 per day for their service or $10 per day for the entire year, two-thirds of which they are not performing their service to the people. It would seem to us that only a small percentage of the people in Texas earn $10 for every day in the year and $30 per day workers are few and far between.

Isn't it possible that this proposed boost is a little high? Isn't it possible that some of the Texas Legislators are forgetting their first duty in being a Legislator is to provide for the future of the people of Texas as economically as is possible and not to line their own pockets with spending money during their stay in office? Certainly there are plenty of honest Legislators left but we believe voters should give serious consideration to the tripling of Legislator salaries.

Few Citizens Understand Need of Reforms in the Legislature

The Beiden poll comes up with a release which says that the people will again defeat the proposed increase of pay for the Texas legislators. A reason is that few people know much about the pay of this body, and judge the entire membership by the antics of a few members.

The Dallas News comes forward with a proposal which will be widely approved by voters. That is, to cut the membership in both houses, and to safeguard the interest of the State in requiring active attendance upon session before the members are paid.

Having served in two regular sessions and five extra sessions, we can see the justification of these suggestions. The suggestions are wholly in the hands of the members of the legislature. If the members feel that they are entitled to more pay, certainly they should justify their claim by doing a better job, and being willing to increase their work, rather than shirk on the job.

The average citizen is prone to believe that the only expense of holding a session of the legislature is the salaries drawn by the members. As a matter of fact these salaries constitute only about half of the expense. There are many, many employees to be paid; extra incidentals in the way of postage, telephone and telegrams, newspapers, extra porters, supplies of all kinds, etc., etc., which are hard for the layman to understand.

In years past there has been too many idlers among the members. Naturally we would not chide the present body without observation. But it is true that the tendency has been toward more and better recess periods, and less and less actual time in sessions.

At any rate, the voters of Texas will have the opportunity to speak out when the amendment is presented to them in September. This will be a special election, with a very, very low number of poll tax payments, and probably little interest on the part of the voters. —Canyon News.

Second Battle Of The Alamo

Let's Continue the Tidelands Fight

When the Federal Government sets out to seize and appropriate for itself the public lands of the states as it started out to do some years back under the sponsorship of former Secretary of Interior Ickes and as it now is doing under the sponsorship of President Harry Truman and Attorney General Tom Clark, it becomes very persistent and manhandles the states rather roughly.

It takes a stalwart state advocate to weather this type of a fight from Washington.

We believe that it was last year that Governor Beauford Jester was in the forefront battling for the rights of the states to their tidelands and other public lands. He presented the matter to a conference of the governors and got their almost unanimous endorsement for Congressional legislation quitclaiming the tidelands to the states. Attorney General Price Daniel secured the same kind of endorsement from the attorney generals of the various states of these United States. Acting on this popular demand, Congress passed the quitclaim legislation by a little less than a two-thirds majority. Ignoring the will of the Representatives of the People of the United States, President Truman vetoed the bill.

Texas political leaders then were united against permitting the federal government to take our public lands. But now the picture seems to be changed. Lieut. Governor Shivers is advocating a compromise which would rest title in the federal government and Attorney General Price Daniel alone is actively carrying on the fight to stop the federal grab of Texas public lands. Shivers says the fight already is lost and that we should compromise and get something for the school children of Texas, who get most of the oil lease money.

We do not think that Shivers' stand is well-taken. We think the fight should go on. Daniel says we have a chance to win in the Supreme Court and we also have a chance to repass the quitclaim of title legislation in favor of the states.

If we agree that the federal title is superior, there will be nothing to keep the federal government from renouncing the lease agreement at some future date and taking all the lease money from the Texas school children.

If the federal government decides to take our public lands, we probably will have to submit to it, but it is somewhat beneath the dignity of the descendants of those who won these lands by battle valour at San Jacinto to ask of those who take our property, "Won't you please leave us the price of a meal?"

We do not believe that Shivers' logic is good. Many million dollars is involved in the intended tidelands grab—and Texas can ill-afford to be thus looted. But that is not the most important thing involved—the thing which is important not only to Texas and other coastal states but to every one of the 48 states, no matter how far inland it might be.

The contemplated tidelands grab is only one step in a current move to greatly increase the power and scope of the federal government at the expense of the governments and people of the states, with its ultimate aim the elimination of state lines altogether with the central government in Washington ruling in the local affairs within the states.

Attorney General Daniel deserves every element of support in his lone fight.

And the Texas delegation in Congress should be told by every voter in Texas that the people of Texas want Congress to repass the Tidelands Quitclaim of Title to the States Bill by so overwhelming a majority that no Presidential veto will keep it from becoming a law which will hold the title to these public lands in the states, where such title has been since the start of this nation.

If the federal government is permitted to get away with this public land grab, nothing which the states now have will be safe from federal government loot. The Shivers Compromise is practically knuckling down to the federal government without a fight. That is not the Texas way of meeting an issue.

SERMONETTE

By Monsignor John Reilly

HE CAME BY NIGHT

There was a man who came at night once to see Our Blessed Lord. This man desired to inquire about his eternal destiny. He was a person of importance and came by night, evidently not wishing to be too closely associated with Christ, and not wishing perhaps to be observed. Nicodemus came at night to see Jesus Christ and he left at night, and no one seems to know just what became of Nicodemus save that he was present at Our Lord's burial.

It is easy to believe that Nicodemus was not too well impressed by his midnight visit to Our Lord. Did he receive the grace of faith or did he resist it? At any rate, when he was told that his eternal destiny hinged upon his being born again, he showed that he was puzzled, for he kept repeating: "How can these things be done?" Did Nicodemus go away convinced that this could not be done; did he feel he could not be born again?

"Unless a man be born again, of water and the Holy Ghost, he cannot enter the kingdom of God." (John 3:5) These were the words of Our Blessed Lord to Nicodemus, the man who came at night, and it was to insure man's being born again so as to see the Kingdom of God, that Christ, God Himself, was born on Christmas day at Bethlehem. Nicodemus came to Christ at night that he might learn of his spiritual nature and his spiritual destiny, and when he went away it would seem that he had not learned that there was still dark night in his soul. He had not understood that to enter the Kingdom of God he must be transformed. He had to become entirely different.

The trouble with many religious-minded persons is that, like Nicodemus, they insist on having their own ideas of what they should be; they insist on having their own ideas of just how far they should go along with Christ; they insist on having their own ideas of how good they should be. Nicodemus came at night expecting to discover a great light for his life. He went away apparently not knowing that he had missed the explanation of life itself, Christ, the Life and Light of the world.

Tomatoes Must Be Watched Closely to Prevent Wilt or Damage from Insects

Best is to plant disease resistant varieties as marglobe or Rutgers. These resist fusarium wilt. Other wilt immune varieties will be available next year at county agent's office. Get the seed, start in a box inside your house about March. Plants should be six to eight weeks old when transplanted in the garden.

If you notice bacterial spot canker, speck, or blight on tomato plants these may be controlled by sprays and dusts.

Here is a spray formula:
1 pound spraycop
1 pound calcium arsenate
25 gallons water

Spray with hand spray on bottom leaves, that is where the trouble begins. If hand spray is used then 1 ounce each of the above chemicals to 2 1/2 gallons of water is good. If spraycop is not available substitute any one of the following: Copper A Compound, Copper oxychloride sulphate, basicop, microgel, tribasic copper sulphate or copper king.

If leaves are turning yellow on tomatoes, a teaspoon or two of copperas worked into ground around plant may bring back green leaves again. Perhaps the same amount of 4-8-4 fertilizer will be helpful.

As for dusting tomatoes, many farmers have found copper-calcium arsenate dust effective, as will likely be as good or better than using the hand sprayer. Quick action is the secret if you see this trouble existing. See the county agent if you need further information.

Life is full of ups and downs. But the most difficult of all is keeping appearances up and expenses down.

So That Tax-Payers May Know

PUBLIC NOTICES NOW MANDATORY—Governor Beauford Jester is shown here as he affixes his signature to Senate Bill No. 375, the Bill, known as the Mandatory Publication Law, requires that all public notices called for by Texas Statutes be published, or the official responsible for such publication suffer loss of salary, or removal from office for neglect of duty. Senator James E. Taylor of Kerens, pictured on Jester's left, sponsored the legislation through the Senate. House sponsor was Phillip L. Willis of Kaufman. Covered by the law are all public officers of the state, counties, cities, and school districts. Governor Jester signed the bill into law June 8, and it became immediately effective.

—by ann england—

Well—it is grand to be home again! We had a lovely trip—loved seeing everyone but missed the daily routine—the friendly "howdodoes" of our homefolks.

Monday morning when we started out on our rounds, several said to us, "It's good to have you home—we missed you." That is the sweetest music to our ears.

One thing noticed especially on this last trip was the new attractions offered in practically all restaurants, lounges, etcetera, the addition of television for one thing. It seems that no self-respecting place dares show its face unless it can boast a television set. Too date we are not very impressed with same.

Altho we sat thru almost a full show at the Eagle Mountain Yacht Club during our visit in Ft. Worth, the main attraction for us was a perfectly lovely evening on Eagle Mountain Lake in the cabin cruiser of the Odell Allen's, friends of the spouse's sister, Mrs. C. C. Langford and family.

While cruising around, the boat was anchored several times and everyone aboard took a swim. We also stopped briefly at the Ft. Worth Yacht Club. The Allen's are very hospitable hosts.

We also visited briefly in Calvert, Texas, with another sister of the spouse, Mrs. Glenn D. Scott. Glenn D., who in times past has visited in Morton while associated with the Triple A, returned from officers training in Washington D. C. while we were there.

Glenn has only lived in Calvert since his release from the army but has been instrumental during that short period in getting street markers and house numbers for the town. Not only is he a go-getter but handsome in a Tyrone Powerish sort of way.

He has known Roy Hickman for several years and sent greetings to him. As did Wayne Sellers, we saw him and his pretty wife in Galveston. We also brought greetings from the Doug, Las Hicks to his brother Artie. And Price Daniel asked us to say hello for him to M. C. Ledbetter.

We enjoyed a beach party while in Galveston along with Attorney-General and Mrs. Price Daniels. She is a charming person, the mother of four children but still extremely youthful, pretty too. The Jake Smyth's and their darling 17 year old daughter, Margaret, were also in this group. Jake, Price and Led were all classmates at Baylor University.

Newspaper contest awards were made at an Early Bird breakfast Saturday morning and we were enchanted when the spouse's name was called to receive the award given Morton Tribune as third best in typography, makeup and press work. There were 216 entries from 75 newspapers in 17 different events.

We ate, swam, ate some more, listened to a lot of good talks on many different phases of newspapering. The convention was outstanding in many ways and we thoroughly enjoyed it.

One of the outstanding talks was given by the Right Reverend Clinton S. Quin, Bishop of the Diocese of Texas. The title of his talk was P. D. Q.

Besides being "pretty damn quick," said the bishop, the "P" in his topic stood for "the principles of our democracy, which are rooted in your faith in God and man. It's a partnership affair. . . If you want to preserve this democratic system so that you keep a right to your institutions and a right to freedom, you have got to do something to hold on to your faith in God." The "D," said the bishop, stood for "the dangers to this sort of

Family Picnic and Reunion Held at Lubbock Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lytle welcomed their family and relatives at a family picnic-reunion at McKenzie State Park in Lubbock Sunday, June 19.

Members of the immediate family attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lytle of El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lytle of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown and daughter of Bledsoe, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lytle and children of Lamesa, Maurice Lytle and daughter of Lamesa, and Mrs. Lola May Stephens and children of Silverton.

Other relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. Dink Cox and son of Amarillo, Mrs. Thurl Lemons and children of Lehman, and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Irwin and son, who are spending the summer in Morton.

an operation . . . Only half of the people in the United States of America are identified with any religious body. Less than that exercise the right and duty of the franchise . . .

The "Q" stood for the "quiet," Bishop Quin continued, as the result obtained when dividing the principles by the dangers. "You wield a power that is beyond your own appreciation and told the evangelist.

"Go into your home life. Is it any better where you live than it is in communist Russia?" "Evaluate your own thinking, your conversations, your business and professional standards.

CITES RESPONSIBILITY
"And if you are a man, you have a responsibility in this democracy to share the good things of life, the American way, with each other and your people. I am inclined to believe if we talked a little less about this communism, and leaned a little more on God; if we in America could demonstrate how democracy works it would be a more convincing argument to get other nations to adopt it," Bishop Quin said.

Rev. Quin prefaced his remarks by saying, "I didn't come here to try to reform you newspaper people" and cited the following: "A pretty tough customer heard an inspiring sermon on Sunday and decided to reform, so on Monday he cut out tobacco, on Tuesday he cut out liquor, on Wednesday he cut out women, and on Thursday he was cutting out paper dolls."

Elmer Wheeler, nationally known public speaker and writer spoke at length on "Sizzling Salesmanship" at a noon luncheon Saturday at the Hotel Glavier. Wheeler took about 40 minutes to say what we've always maintained, "Like people and let them know you like them."

We also got a lot of help (photographically that is) from Bob Garland, technical representative from the photo-journalism department of Graflex Corporation, Rochester, New York. Bob's young, good looking and smart as all get out—on top of that he bragged on the first pictures we made with press camera.

Bill Garrett and the Browns (Paula and Milton) did a super job on the Tribune the week we were gone. Not only that but Thursday morning when we arrived at the hotel in Galveston there was the Tribune awaiting us. Milton had airmailed the first one off the press to us.

Another thing that made us happy to get home was to find Eddie Irwin here and on the job. Eddie attends Butler University in Indianapolis. He helped us last summer and did such a good job that the spouse is giving him full responsibility of all Tribune news writing this summer. Our more wonderful "break" for us.

Our objective now is to give Tribune advertisers a "fit" which we have all this time devoted exclusively to advertising.

There were some mighty good advertising men on the program at the convention and we learned a lot of new ways to help sell merchandise via newspaper advertising.

Saw Mrs. R. T. Roy Tuesday morning. She is enjoying a vacation and visit with her sister Mrs. M. L. Williams of Maxwell, California. Mrs. W. is making her first trip to Texas in 23 years.

We were thrilled to a polka dot when we learned that the Cochran County Garden Club at their last meeting had voted to make us an associate member. The Garden Club has long been one of our favorite organizations but we've felt too busy to become an active member. We feel this associate membership is quite an honor and we appreciate it deeply.

Really hated to miss that Garden Club meeting. Wanted to hear Rosemary Sanders give her talk and see Dickey May dance. It was certainly nice of the Alpha Studios to furnish musical accompaniment and entertainment for the party. Know Mrs. Davis' back yard looked nice—it always does as she has so many pretty flowers, lawn and trees, really an ideal place for a party.

Mrs. Mary Weimhold, mother of Forrest, who came to Leaveland from Vega, especially to get with Forrest and Ruth to the convention had the misfortune of slipping and injuring her ankles while getting off a boat following a cruise of Galveston harbor last Thursday afternoon.

We felt so sorry for Mrs. W. she had looked forward to the convention and had to spend the night in a hotel room at the hotel.

Concessions and Rides to be Feature Of Local Legion Sponsored Show

Morton's American Legion is sponsoring a carnival starting Monday, June 27 and continuing through July 2 according to Homer Thompson, Legion Command.

The carnival, traveling under the name of Big State Shows, will set up in a lot donated by Albert Morrow, just east of the Hume Russell Gin. There will be 20 concessions or games in addition to the rides all of which will donate 10% of their proceeds to the Legion.

Proceeds of the Legion will go toward finishing the tile floor in the Legion-VFW building. "We still have cement walks to build, someday we hope to be able to buy a piano, and there are lots of things that need fixing up," Thompson said in urging support of the project.

In addition to the concessions maintained by Big State Shows, Thompson hopes the Legion can round up enough hands to set up a few concessions of their own.

Pasture Grasses Have Pretty Tough Time With Weeds

Pasture grasses have a pretty tough time of it fighting their way through weeds. And, many times, weeds win out in the plant war.

Mowing is generally considered a good practice for getting rid of the weeds in pastures, says Robert R. Lancaster, extension pasture specialist of Texas A. and M. College. Mowing the brush, brambles, vines and the husky weeds that spring up on newly-cleared, fertile land puts them on the way out and gives the desirable pasture grasses a good chance to take over.

At the same time, mowing pastures freshens the over-grown, starchy grasses. But, often, too much is expected of weed eradication by mowing, especially on poor-land pastures, he says.

Pasture weed control in the humid regions of Texas usually calls for fertilizing, and in some cases reseeding. Until the pasture grasses are thrifty enough to replace mowed weeds, mowing is hardly worthwhile.

If you're going to mow to control weeds, mowing must start when the first of the worst weeds begin to bloom, or soon enough to mow all of them before the seed can form. Bitterweed, a common pest in bermudagrass pastures, may hold enough vitality to mature seed from the blooms even after it has been mowed. So, the way to stop this, Lancaster says, is to mow early and often. Cut high enough the first time so the "sprouting stubble" can be mowed again and again as it blooms repeatedly.

Clovers volunteer best in short grass. The fall clover stand and spring lespedeza stand in permanent pastures depend largely on enough sunlight for germination and growth of the seedlings. This indicates close grazing or mowing in both seasons to favor these crops.

Grazing too close in both fall and spring might injure the pasture, Lancaster concludes. So, to avoid this, two pastures might be grazed alternately.

Texas Grain Producers Are Face to Face With Real Problem, Storage of Grain

Texas grain producers are face to face with a real problem; namely, how to save and, at the same time, get the most money from this year's bumper grain crop. The situation is due to grow progressively worse as the harvest shifts into high gear and the flow of grain from the combines becomes a torrent with no place to go except the ground.

The falling cash market prices and the lack of storage facilities are a threat to the continued prosperity of Texas grain producers, says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A. and M. College. The production costs that went into this year's grain crop were high, and unless the storage problem is solved quickly, adds Bates, so that producers can take advantage of the higher returns available through government loans, they stand to lose millions of dollars.

Texas farmers are old hands at helping themselves and then each other. The present situation calls for such action. B. F. Vance, chairman of the state PMA committee, says the organization he heads is interested in seeing every farmer who has grain to sell take advantage of the government loans. These loans are handled by the PMA organization.

Vance gives the following examples to show just what he means. Last fall many farmers could not take advantage of the government loan on grain sorghum because they had no on-farm storage facilities and no elevator space was available for rent. The result—farmers sold their crop on the cash market for considerably less than loan rates offered but not J. H. Graham and Fred Schmoker, who farms five miles west of Vernon in Wilbarger county.

They foresaw the need for on-farm storage and were ready with a structure 81 feet long, 12 feet wide and 10 feet high. The total cost was $980. They held the cost down by using secondhand materials and doing a lot of the work themselves. They were offered $1.75 per hundred for their milo, but it went into storage and they secured a government loan at $2.28 per hundred pounds. They stored 205,400 pounds and the difference between the market offer and the loan value was $1,088. This difference paid for the storage structure with some to spare and it is now available for future use.

Richard O. Smith, who lives and farms in the Progress community in Bailey county, had a similar experience. He constructed, on a contract basis for $1,475, a building 60'x16'x8' at the back and 10' in front. He stored 268,500 pounds of No. 1 milo and secured a government loan on this grain at $2.28 per hundred pounds. The difference in the loan value and the market price at the time of storage lacked less than $60 paying for this building.

Any farmer who is selling grain under the present conditions, has even a wider margin to work on. Smith, Graham and Schmoker can tell you that it is just good common horse sense to provide your own farm grain storage facilities. It can mean dollars in your pocket now. Vance says.

"Chicken Every Sunday" to Show Here June 29-30

Paradoxes are a dime a dozen with Dan Dailey, whose latest picture, "Chicken Every Sunday," offers him the opportunity to demonstrate anew his histrionic ability after three smash musicals since the end of the war.

Dan had the distinction of being, at one and the same time, a brand-new discovery as well as a film veteran of more than a dozen good roles. It happened just after he got out of the Army, when he was re-discovered as a dancing star. Signed to play opposite Betty Grable in "Mother Wore Tights", Dan lost no time proving that he hadn't lost the facility he had had as a dancing star on Broadway.

But his newest film, "Chicken Every Sunday", which co-stars Celeste Holm with him at the Wallace Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, June 29-30, gives Dan the opportunity he's been wanting to re-establish himself in a straight, albeit a comedy, role.

"Chicken Every Sunday" is the film version of Rosemary Taylor's best-selling novel which tells the humorous story of life in a boarding house in Tucson, Arizona, at the turn of the century.

"GREAT WISDOM"

The other day a friend of mine sent me a copy of a quotation, saying that he was putting a copy of same into his scrapbook. He copied it from a Canadian publication, under the title: "Great Wisdom". The whole thing is so well put, and carries such good old fashioned logic, that I thought you might like to have it, too. The message of the whole piece packs a genuine wallop. I'll let you have it, as follows:

"There are a few great documents, which contain so much wisdom that they can bear endless repeating. Here is an example: 'I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest of dangers to be feared. To preserve our independence, we must not let our rulers lead us with perpetual debt.'

Rigid Economy

"We must make our choice between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude. If we run into such debts, we must be taxed in our meat and drink, in our necessities and in our comforts, in our labors and in our amusements. If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy.

"The same prudence which in private life would forbid our paying money for unexplained projects, forbids it in the disposition of public money. We are endeavoring to reduce the government to the practice of rigid economy to avoid burdening the people and arming the Magistrate with a patronage of money which might be used to corrupt the principles of our government."

No Reactionary

"The man who wrote this was not some reactionary believer in an old system of society. He was no enemy of the masses of the workers. He was not a great capitalist, trying to maintain special privilege, nor was he the heir of a great fortune trying to preserve it. He was the first of the great democrats of North America, a man whose name is commemorated and revered by all believers in human liberty.

"His is a name permanently linked in history with the struggle against oppression. The words were written by Thomas Jefferson." There you have it in full force. The impact of this Jeffersonian wisdom is greatly needed today. Crisis is before us in these times, in an even more serious way than in Jefferson's time.

Practice Economy

Nowadays, nobody pays much attention to the national debt. Oh, we think, it's just some big figure that the statisticians use. Besides, why bother about it, don't we owe it to ourselves? Jefferson has given us the answers. We owe it to ourselves all right, that is it. We owe it to ourselves to get our whole governmental budget in a stable and balanced condition. Our $250 billion national debt represents obligations of the government to the people.

With more deficit spending and public borrowing, this debt would grow. Our whole national financial structure would become more unhealthy and unstable. Interest payments are already fantastic, with not much attempt in proposed budgets to whittle down the principal. We cannot afford higher taxes. We must not be so foolish as to indulge in deficit spending. The only way out is to get our fiscal house in order by following the advice laid down by Thomas Jefferson: practice economy. The report of the Hoover Commission explains how we could save between three and five billion dollars a year without impairing government services and without any wholesale firing of employees. Will we insist that our government follow the plan?

Farm-Ranch Land Prices Drop 6% Since Last Year

Farm and ranch land prices have dropped six percent since last year. But that's only a drop in the bucket when you compare it with land prices during the period between 1935-39.

C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A. and M. College, says that today's land prices in Texas are still 96 percent above those of 10 to 14 years ago. After ten years of steady climbing, farm and ranch land prices in the entire nation appear to have passed a postwar peak.

Declines in prices of farm products in recent months was probably the major factor affecting the level of land prices. This downward drift began little less than a year ago in August, and has had quite an influence on prospective land buyers.

Since the land values have risen slower than the net farm income since 1940, there's a good chance that land price declines will lag behind commodity price drops. If farm costs remain extremely high and limits the net return to operators, the land value drop may increase in rate, Bates says.

Buyers should attempt to keep land payments down to a manageable size to prevent hardship or possible loss of equity in lands recently acquired, Bates concludes.

Amarillo Pantex Plant to be Used For Grain Storage

First shipments of wheat for storage in the Pantex plant near Amarillo are expected to arrive early next week, officials of Texas Technological college have announced.

Contracts have been signed with several organizations and in each instance top preference is to be given members of co-operatives, Pres. D. M. Wiggins said. Space in warehouses and igloos of Pantex will be used to store about 6,500,000 bushels of wheat.

Tech moved to aid farmers of the Panhandle several weeks ago when it became apparent that storage space was short for the crop estimated to be upwards of 60,000,000 bushels. Officials of the War Assets administration, which recently gave the 17,000-acre Pantex property to Tech, speedily approved the program.

Workmen speeded renovation of storage buildings, and the Santa Fe railroad cooperated by repairing Pantex trackage to facilitate wheat movement.

Arrangements for the wheat storage were made by a committee of the Texas Tech board of directors which included Chancellor E. Weymouth, Amarillo; O. E. Ratliff, Lubbock; and Charles C. Thompson, Colorado City, board chairman.

MAC CRAVY ENTERTAINED FRIENDS ON 7TH BIRTHDAY

Mac Cravy, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cravy, entertained a number of little friends on his seventh birthday Saturday, June 11, with a birthday party in his home.

The seven year olds played "Pin the Tail on Mr. Elephant", "Fish Pond Blues", and "Match Me" and had bean bag races.

Home made ice cream, cake and punch were served.

Building Program To Get Underway At Texas Tech

Financed mainly by the lowest interest bonds ever issued by the College, a $4,000,000 building program will get underway at Texas Technological college as soon as plans can be drawn.

Tech is issuing $2,800,000 in bonds which have been purchased by a syndicate headed by Stife Nigalaus and associates of Chicago at an interest rate of 1.5965 per cent. Tech officials say if all options on the issue are taken up the interest will run only 1.45 per cent.

Wyatt Hedrick, Fort Worth architect, is drawing plans for two wings to the Administration building to add about 16,000 square feet of office and classroom space. Two additions to the Engineering building, enlargement of Home Economics quarters, a new Science building and a new Music hall also will be erected. Cost of the first project, the Administration building, is estimated at $700,000.

The bonds will be retired from funds obtained from unused Confederate pension money under a constitutional amendment approved by Texas voters in 1947. Some of the funds already have been set aside for Tech by the state.

Bitterweed, a common pest in bermudagrass pastures, may keep enough of its vitality after it has been mowed to produce mature seed from the blooms. To avoid this, stockmen should mow this weed early and often.

Do not go out of doors or remain out during thunderstorms unless it's necessary. If there's any choice of shelter to get under, the Farm Division of the National Safety Council, suggests choosing the following shelter in the order named: large metal farm building, lightning protected building, large unprotected building, or a small unprotected building.

LIVESTOCK LIFE-LINES

Vitamin A deficiency may lead to blindness in farm animals.

May through September are the principal months for outbreaks of anthrax in livestock.

Cases of bloat are likely to occur in a herd of hungry cattle placed on damp legume pasture.

Use of recommended amounts of 2-4-D for spraying pastures to kill weeds is reported to be harmless to livestock grazing such pastures.

Soil fertilized with turkey or chicken manure is a frequent source of blackhead outbreaks in poultry flocks.

Rations for dry sows should be easily digestible, well supplied with essential minerals and vitamins, and not too rich in protein.

UNDER TEXAS SKIES

A. Garland Adair, Curator of History, Texas Memorial Museum

Of all the grand groups of American youth who have toured the Texas Memorial Museum since its opening to the public a decade ago, Girls' Staters, in Austin recently, take the cake. Not a lovelier bunch of girls ever came to the capitol city to charm all whom they met. Bravo! Great work of the American Legion and Auxiliary! In the hands of such a democratic citizenship, of the immediate future it may well be said "God is in His heaven, patriotism still lives and all is well with the Lone Star-Girl's State."

The girls—graciously chaperoned, were merely accompanied. Such was their nature, reared in Godly homes and surrounded by a cultivated and righteous environment that the young ladies knew well, without being told, just how to conduct themselves. They were truly courteous and grateful, characteristics that pave the way to happiness and which are lacking amongst so many of the school set.

That leads to the thought expressed before in this column that the world's greatest need today is kindness.

Kindness begets gratitude and gratitude begets courtesy.

Consequently much depends upon the mothers. It's worthwhile to think of being prepared for the future by equipping and training militarily the young men of the country. But the Peace of America and of the world around may most assuredly and permanently be won with the spirit of kindness enveloping the earth—kindness taught and exemplified first and always by the mothers of men.

The other way, we saw a young mother and her little boy standing on a street corner waiting for a bus. The child was fretful and in tears. The mother would occasionally lean down and with a flash of anger in her eyes give the little lad a sneaking slap and a cruel pinch on the cheek. (Similar scenes are enacted almost everywhere daily).

"Slapping, spanking and whipping children are very common" wrote Alice Park more than a quarter of a century ago—soon after world war I. In more barbarous times such practices were almost universal. Indeed the youth of that early day were brought up with the rod and inquisition in their infamous glory. Says Miss Park: "In our day, inquiry proves that most parents believe they have a right to strike their children."

How appalled we were when we read about a mother chaining her child to a bed post and subjecting her to most inhumane treatment. This in 1949. Humane societies rise up indignantly and protest cruelty to animals. When punishments of helpless waifs are known to be extremely severe, neighbors and officers sometimes interfere, as is reflected in the newspapers of the day. For one such case, to the shame and disgrace of their perpetrators, there are hundreds of instances where the heartless parent is the sole witness, and there is no court of appeal. Is it any wonder that boys and girls are running away from their unhappy homes as never before?

Any article or discussion on this subject is almost certain to include the false statement that the Bible says: "Spare the rod and spoil the child." The Bible concordance contains references to rods and to whipping. But the quotation nearly everybody has heard and many have quoted, is not from the Bible, but from Hudibras, a humorous poem written in 1663 by Samuel Butler.

The faults of little children are largely the results of ignorance, accident and the forgetfulness of immature and growing minds and bodies. Children say frequently when asked how it feels to be slapped, that it makes them feel ugly all day; they want to retaliate by striking their playmates, or kick the dog or the cat. Grown persons justly resent any sort of punishments visited upon them for ignorance, accident or a different point of view. Children, generally speaking, try harder to fit themselves into an adult world than parents try to make a happy home and peaceful world for their children.

Whipping, in the home or in the school or reformatory, is destructive of self-respect, creates a complex often of fatal consequences, and leads—not to kindness, but to a nervous disorder, revenge, hatred and bitterness.

Bones in canned fish are so softened by the canning process that they can be crushed or mashed and mixed with the fish, thus adding calcium and phosphorus to the diet. The liquid in the fish can may also be used in flavoring sauce for creamed fish, or in soups, chowders, or dressing for fish salad.

Big Fourth of July Exhibition Slated For Cotton Bowl

A rip-roaring, old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration, featuring a gigantic fireworks exhibition and super thrill show, has been scheduled for the nights of July 2, 3 and 4 at 8 p. m. in the Cotton Bowl, Dallas, R. L. Thornton, president of the State Fair of Texas, has announced.

Feature attractions will include the celebrated Zucchini sisters, Victoria and Duina, in their world-renowned human cannonball act, and Peejay "Human Meteor" Ringens who will speed a bicycle into a sensational leap for life through space. Both attractions will be making their first appearance in the Southwest.

The State Fair has planned a truly outstanding Fourth of July program for the people of Texas," Thornton said. "We have engaged one of the nation's outstanding fireworks concerns to stage the spectacle. It will be the largest, most colorful exhibition of its kind ever seen in this section."

"The church that serves and cares"

W. C. WRIGHT—Pastor Morton, Texas

Miss Tommie Ann Bogard and Glenn Gaston United in Marriage Friday

In an informal candlelight ceremony at the Bula Methodist church Friday evening, June 10, 8 o'clock, Miss Tommie Ann Bogard and Glenn Gaston were united in marriage, the Rev. M. Walker of Amarillo, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bogard of Bula, and Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Gaston of Beck.

The church was beautifully decorated with an arch of flowers, hanging baskets of pink gladioli on either side and white tapers and candelabras. The family pews were marked with white candles.

Mrs. M. J. Gibson of Enochs sang the traditional wedding hymns and accompanied Mrs. M. Cravy of Morton who sang "Happiness" and "Till the End of the World."

Candles were lighted by Leatrice McBee and Loretta Angel, both of Enochs. The ushers were Perry Ray and Sardis Palmer of Beck.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose as her wedding attire, a tailored white tulle gown with large pearl buttons. She wore a large white hat or lacy straw and a pair of white buckskin. Tiny pink pincho roses, formed her bridal bouquet, arranged on a white ribbon and tied with white ribbon on which pink roses were showered.

For something old, the bride wore a strand of pearls belonging to an aunt; something new was carried out in the bride's wedding outfit; something borrowed, the white Bible which she carried; and something blue, her buttons.

The bride's honor attendant is Miss Charlotte Hall of Beck, who carried a bouquet of pink pincho roses tied with white and white satin ribbon. Other girls were Barbara and Edna Bogard, younger sister of the bride, Edward Gaston of Lubbock, brother of the groom, and a friend of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church annex. Mrs. Edward Baston, sister of the groom, registered the guests in the bride's book. Following the cutting of the cake the bride and groom, Mrs. Jim Munch of Bula served and Mrs. Marvin Drake of Bula poured the punch.

The bride's table was beautifully laid with a lace cloth over pink. Two white and pink heart shaped cakes, bearing a miniature bride and groom, were centered on a large reflector, circled by pink roses and fern. White candles in crystal holders and a beautiful crystal punch set completed the table arrangement.

Baskets of pink gladioli and pink and white roses decorated the reception room.

Guests included relatives and close friends of the families, with out-of-town guests from Clarendon, McLean, Morton, Enochs and Abernathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaston will make their home thirteen miles west of Bula, when they return from their wedding trip to New Mexico.

Mrs. Gaston was valedictorian of the 1949 Bula senior class. Her husband is a graduate of the 1949 Sudan senior class.

Boy Scouts Lower Entrance Age of Scouts One Year

Dr. F. B. Malone, President of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced this week that in an unprecedented move, the Boy Scouts of America has lowered the entrance age for its three programs of Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Senior Scouting, effective September 1, 1949.

In announcing the far-reaching change authorized by the National Executive Board of the organization, Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive, said the decision was reached after a three years' exhaustive study during which opinions were obtained from experienced leaders as well as parents.

After Sept. 1, boys may become Cub Scouts at eight years of age instead of nine; Boy Scouts at eleven instead of twelve and Explorers at fourteen instead of fifteen years of age.

The program known as Senior Scouting, Dr. Schuck announced, now becomes "Exploring" with its scope broad enough to include land, sea and air activities as well as life exploration. Units specializing in seamanship or in aviation will be known as Explorer Ships or Explorer Squads, respectively.

Four Morton youth were delegates to the annual summer assembly of the Northwest Texas conference Methodist youth fellowship, conducted June 6-11 on the campus of McMurry college, Abilene. They were George Hargrove, Sue Smith, Wilma Trice and Laura Sue Waller.

The summer assembly this year was under the direction of the Rev. W. A. Appling, pastor of the First Methodist church, Vega. Platform speaker was the Rev. Hubert H. Bratcher, St. John Methodist church, Lubbock; and the Rev. Dewitt Seago, Seminole, served as registrar.

Among the activities of the conference were courses in Christian doctrine and action; worship materials and church business. The attendants also engaged in directed recreation and worship.

In a special pledge service, 339 youth, representatives of the 9,000 Methodist youth in the conference, set as their financial goal for the year $6832 to provide scholarships, home and foreign missions work and local expenses.

Former Morton Teacher Undergoes Unusual Operation

Her mother, Mrs. Johnnie Graham of 308 North Tenth Street, Gatesville, plans to take her to Gatesville about June 22 to recuperate. Mrs. Graham has requested that Mrs. Jones' friends and former pupils write to her there.
