Fred Stockdale Speaks to Lions Club Members at Luncheon Wednesday

Fred Stockdale spoke briefly to the Lions Club at the regular meeting last Wednesday noon on "Teamwork for Good Citizenship." Mr. Stockdale, local attorney at law, had given the same talk in more detail the previous night at a meeting of the Morton Parent-Teacher Association.

Stockdale charged each citizen with the responsibility of promoting better government; saying, "it is more important now than ever in our history for each individual to consider seriously his duties as a citizen in order to prevent infiltration of subversive movements and to safeguard our democracy."

He cited instances where foreign elements trying to wreck our form of government have resorted to violence in order to gain their point.

Altho Mr. Stockdale did not know he was going to be called upon for a talk, he responded beautifully. At the conclusion of the talk, R. C. Strickland expressed appreciation for himself and

Family Insurance Benefits Under SS Based on Wages

Retirement and family insurance benefits under the Social Security Act are based on the wages received and the time spent by each worker in covered employment. John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security Office, explained today.

"A record of each earner's wages is kept from the reports which employers send in with social security taxes four times a year. Since the benefits which a worker or his dependents will get are based on his wage record, it is important that each worker's wage be correctly reported," Hutton said.

Accuracy in recording the wages is made possible through the employer's use of the exact name and correct number of each worker as it appears on his social security card.

Hutton urged all employers to cooperate with their employees by reporting wages properly. This applies to all workers, whether full or part time. Employers are helping to pay for the protection of their workers when they get old and for their families when they die. Properly completed reports assure getting value received for social security tax payments.

the club to Mr. Stockdale.

Raymond Strickland reported on the street marking project; he asked that the club sponsor a formal unveiling of the first marker installed with suitable ceremonies as a memorial honoring the late David C. Todd. Mr. Todd at the time of his death in December was president of Morton Lions Club, had worked unceasingly with other members in an effort to get the streets of Morton marked and the houses in town numbered.

Carl Ray, reported that Three Way school has asked the Lions to present the Minstrel at their school.

One guest was introduced. C. A. Niemeir of Lubbock. There were thirty members present.

Planting Delinted Cottonseed Is A Money Saver

Cutting the costs of producing cotton in 1950 is one way that cotton farmers can increase their income from growing cotton and that is a mighty important consideration. Lower selling prices and continued high fixed production costs have started farmers searching for ways to cut costs and Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist of Texas A. and M. College, says planting delinted cottonseed is a money saver.

He says many gin communities have installed the necessary equipment and are performing this service on a community basis and he cites the work done in Childress county as an outstanding example. Farmers in Childress county estimate their savings at more than $2.28 per acre and here is how they figure it.

One bushel of delinted seed will plant 3 1/2 acres while a bushel of fuzzy seed will plant up to two acres. The delinted seed can be planted with a 5 hole corn plate rather than the regular cotton plate and this gives an even spacing of the seed and saves many hours of hand hoeing or chopping. On a 100 acres, Elliott says, 50 bushels or more of fuzzy seed are required for the planting operation against 27 bushels of delinted seed.

At $3.50 per bushel, the 27 bushels cost $94.50. Delinting costs and seed treatment bring the total to $106.16. The fuzzy seed will cost $175. Then add a conservative $10 for loss of time for stopping to refill the old type planter box and another $150 for a necessary extra chopping and thinning and the total is $335. Subtract and you have a difference of $228.24 in favor of the delinted seed on the 100 acres. Elliott says that is what the farmers in Childress county figure they saved last year on a 100 acres of cotton by planting mechanically delinted and treated cottonseed.

POWDER YOUR FACE WITH SUNSHINE

By Beth Winder
Your smile is your reaction to a happy emotion. This reaction should not be a forced smile because the "put-on" smile because the look of a twinkle in your eyes betrays you. Your smile is a facial expression to show people you are very well pleased and are beaming over with happiness.
People who smile all the time, are to be happy all the time, are those who seldom smile are the saddest, and often considered dull.
You probably have some friend whose smile you love to see. This friend's smile makes the whole world seem to be beaming over with happiness. You, too, can be like that friend if you just stretch your mouth a little to each side and burst forth with a big happy smile. Try it once and see if you aren't a happier and more pleased person.

Always remember and try to profit from this little ditty which says, "It is easy enough to be pleasant when the world goes along like a song but the man worth while is the man with the smile when everything goes dead wrong."

Curl Up With A Book

By Joye Seaney
Picture yourself on a cold winter night sitting in a big soft arm chair with a hot cup of chocolate. What is lacking? "The story of Dr. Wassell" by James Hilton tells the simple true story of an American navy doctor, who got his wounded men out of Java through the turmoil of the Japanese invasion.
An interesting book for girls is Nina Levitt's, "The Divided Heart", story of a young and tender heart, Julie, dreaming the long sweet fantasies of fifteen remembering the shadowy and sunny places of her childhood.
"National Velvet" by Emid Bagnold, story of a girl, Velvet Brown, her passion in life for horses; and so when she won a notorious and unwanted piebald in a village lottery, Velvet began to dream.
"I Married Adventure" by Osa Johnson, underneath the thrills, it is a record of a man's dream of a happy marriage—it is for the reader, truly, a literary adventure.
"The Running Thread," by Drayton Mayrant, Charleston was living on borrowed time until lovely Dinah Corley, a gentle Irish girl, stepped from the immigrant ship on which she had been an unwilling passenger. This engaging story of an Irish immigrant girl and her love for a Southern aristocrat will have an enthusiastic reception.

JANELLE JONES

What America Means To Me!

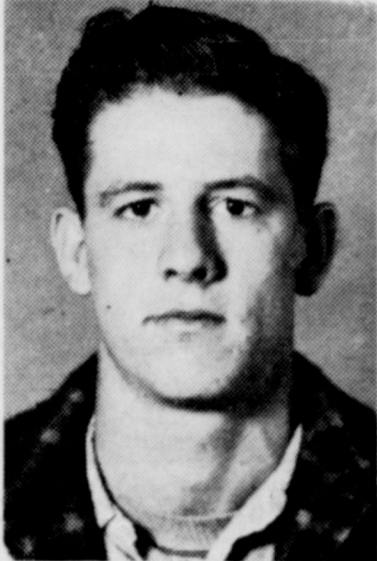

By Janelle Jones
I think I am very lucky to live in a land like America. In this country, a person is free to do the things that are natural without being punished. When this nation was first founded, the people were not allowed to choose their own religion. If a person didn't own "so" much property or go to a certain church he was not allowed to take part in the government or vote. Today, thanks to our ancestors, we are able to go about our own occupations and way of life without being punished for something that wasn't really much to start with anyway.
Of course, by doing things in the natural way, I don't mean things like committing crimes or other things that are harmful to us or anyone else. We have our laws to protect us. The government doesn't try to take advantage of the people who are not in some government office. They know that it was those people who put them in office.
I can't help feeling sorry for the first people who came to America. Just think of the hardships they went through. Some of the things they did were unnecessary, but I guess that they had their reasons for doing them, or surely they wouldn't have done them. Before I do anything that I have my doubts about, I usually think twice, so, naturally, I would expect them, too.
Here in America we have the right to speak as we please, print what we want to, associate with whoever we like and numerous other freedoms. Sometime s we get in trouble for talking too much, but, really, it's our right to say what we please. Some people take advantage of these rights and do things that are uncalled for. I think if a person wants to get along with the world, he will try to say and do things that are right. Sometimes people are hurt by what other people say about them, but they can't do anything about it because it's an American's rights. I wish there could be some way of keeping people from doing "hurting" things to other people. If that was done, the people would be right back in the old rut of no freedom of speech.
I can't quite express in words just what America means to me. I can just think to the way people in Russia and behind the "Iron Curtain" must feel and be thankful that nothing like that is in America. I just wish I could give them the peace and comfort that we have over here.

EVANS WINS 1ST IN READY WRITING; JONES SECOND, GAST AND WRIGHT TIE FOR THIRD

If Corky Evans were not in his fifth year in Morton High School he would represent us in the Ready Writers contest. In the try-outs he wrote a clever essay on "The Other Half" which gave him one first place and two third places. Janelle Jones, with her well rounded paper "What America Means To Me," won a second third, and fourth ranking. Bobbie Gast and Norma Ruth Wright, talented members of the Freshman class, tied for third place in the local contest.

CORKY EVANS

Morton High School is allowed only one contestant. Corky is ineligible. Janelle Jones will represent us at district meet.

The judges were Mrs. J. A. Gowdy, Mrs. John Alford and Mrs. Johnnie Love, all English majors teaching in our schools.

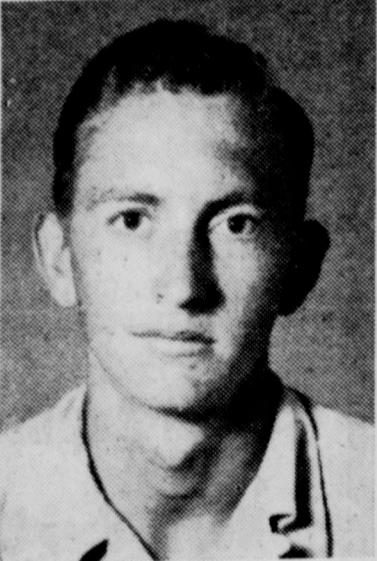

The Other Half

By Corky Evans
Half of the world is men, the other half women. Being a man, I had rather talk about the other half. In fact they are my favorite subject.
The first way you can tell one of these creatures when you see them is that a continual flow of babble ensues from their red mouths. Of course another, but less important method is to see if they wear dresses and have fairly long hair. I once read that the nearest thing to perpetual motion was a woman's mouth.
The most interesting thing about them is their minds. A woman can change her mind so fast and with less reason to change it and in less time than a man put in the midst of them can change colors.
I haven't had many dealings with women and this information has been accidentally acquired by ways I don't wish to disclose.
They are very simple in their desires, they all want a creature that wears britches and a tie. And if they can get extras included in the order like a new car, good looks, manners, money, and no pride they are sure to order one. Too bad Clint, Texas doesn't sell them, they always have plenty of extras.
Women gossip too much! I once told a girl as a gossipping experience that I was going to get lit! The next morning I was almost expelled from school. This one last sentence had been so exaggerated passing from mouth to mouth that you could write a book on what all kinds of horrible things I did the night before.
However after telling you all the bad points about them I will tell you the good. Most of them are nice looking and sometimes you run on to a beautiful one.
What is it about these creatures that make men kill each other over them, that makes them beat them and love them in the same day? How can any one living thing cause so much trouble? God only knows!

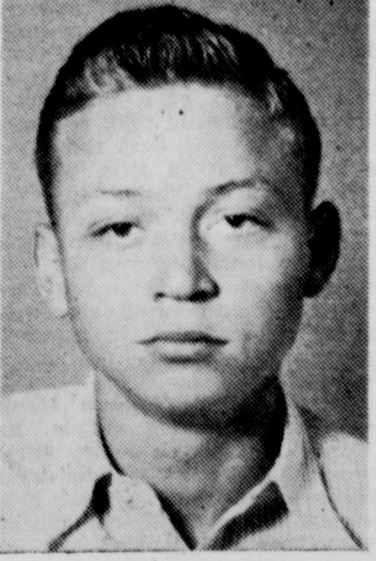

More than 67,000 Americans are saved from cancer every year by prompt treatment with surgery or radiation, the American Cancer Society points out.

Skating Party Given Sophomores Monday
"Gee I'm sore," was the remark heard from many of the sophomore's after their skating party last Monday night.
Drinks were served to the group by room mothers; Mrs. E. P. Farmer, Mrs. F. G. Kennedy, Mrs. B. W. Bolton, and Mrs. B. H. Tucker.
The party was sponsored by the room mothers and class sponsors, Miss Lanora Jackson, and Herman Raphael.

Clarence Moore and Bo Allsup are two members of the basketball team that won't be back. Both these boys have played regularly with the "A" team for two seasons.
Bo has lettered in three sports while wearing Morton colors. He won two letters in football and basketball and one in baseball. Clarence has also lettered in three sports. He earned two letters in basketball and football and one in track. Baseball and track letters have not been issued yet this year and both boys will probably get letters in their respective sports.
Both these boys have gone to Morton schools all their school days. The other graduating basketball players will follow in next week's paper.

Miss Helen Dunlap, C. H. D. A. of Terry County will be the guest speaker at the February 28 meeting of the Cochran County Garden Club. The meeting will be held in the First Baptist Church at eight p. m.

The two Junior Garden Clubs in the county will be guests at the meeting.

She will give a description of the country around Kerrville where the camp is located, something of the courses offered at the camp and a story of some of the field trips made by the campers. She has some slides that were made while at the camp that will illustrate the camp activities. Photography and nature study are Miss Dunlap's hobby and she will show slides of some of the wild flowers native to the South Plains area. This part of the program should be of interest to the Junior Garden Club members.

Mrs. Fred Stockdale will be hostess for the meeting and will be assisted by Mrs. Fred Collins and Miss Effie Knott.

GUESTS OF CLYDE SHUES

That Christmas tree on the court house lawn is beginning to look a little bedraggled isn't it?

★ Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Ashworth got off to their new home in Socorro, New Mexico, about Wednesday last week. He said they'd never have left here except Mrs. A feels so much better at Socorro.

★ Roy and Dorthea Weekes bought the Ashworth home. I know D will have it mighty pretty as she has excellent taste and will be so glad to be in a home of her own. I've never been in the house.

★ Understand the L. F. Hargroves bought the Lloyd Allsup home and Joe Bennett and family bought the Hargrove place and are moving into town.

★ Lots of out of town folks here for the square dance Wednesday night hosted by the local club. Noticed Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wolfenberger from Plains; the Alvie Harrises from Bledsoe, also the L. L. Morins, W. M. Ellingtons; and of course many from Muleshoe, Sudan, Littlefield and Brownfield that I'd never seen before.

★ Dorothy Ormand looked mighty pretty in her old fashioned dress but wasn't feeling very well on account of a cold.

★ Mrs. John Holloman, neighbor to the east, came in for a short visit Wednesday evening. She is such a nice person.

★ The Herbert Hillmans who formerly lived in back of us have bought and moved into the house across the street from their old home. The place they moved to has just recently been remodeled and a big picture window added in the living room.

★ Mrs. Lester Baccus, president of the Garden Club, showed a whole bunch of the most beautiful colored slides of flowers at the meeting the other night. She got many of them from a nursery and several were pictures she had made.

★ While the business meeting was going on Mrs. Fred Collins and I ate two dishes of candy that Mrs. Arnn had on the coffee table in front of us.

★ Later on when Iva served refreshments there were little cups of candy on the plates but by that time Thelma and I had decided the candy wasn't any good. She said, "the first pound I ate tasted all right."

★ While we were talking I told her I thought Fred (her spouse) was pretty nice—she agreed with me. Also said they'd had some laughs over Fred's radio business. You see one of the chaps on radio station KLVT is another Fred Collins. Radio Fred visits over here quite often.

★ The Morton Fred, as everyone knows, is head of the Soil Conservation office here and she is the county's school nurse.

★ That red Oldsmobile surely is flattering to Paul and Lavina Goodman—maybe becoming is the word.

★ Mrs. N. J. Russell is planning on moving over to Lubbock and staying while Jo Beth finishes her beauty course.

★ Received a precious Valentine from Michael Irwin. Mike is my Indiana boy friend—he will be two come July. The spouse came across with a pretty posey and several of my friends remembered me.

★ Made some candy the other evening. It is Mexican Penuche and one of my favorite recipes; hadn't tackled it in a long time so wasn't sure how it would turn out. The recipe calls for 4 cups brown sugar; one tablespoon butter; one cup of milk and one teaspoon of salt; boil these ingredients until a firm ball is formed when tested in cold water (it takes some time, 15 or 20 minutes) remove from fire, add two teaspoons vanilla, two cups nuts and beat for five minutes; then pour on large buttered platter; cut in squares when nearly cool.

★ Dr. and Mrs. Norman Monk are an attractive couple, he blonde and she a pretty little brunette. They have started their home furnishings of French provincial. She made drapes and he helped—isn't that nice?

★ Pauline Ogg writes a cute little column called "Ogganitions" in the Seminole Sentinel. Trying desperately to be funny I'm wondering if Pauline was born an Ogg or married one?

★ Morton Drug will move over by the Steak House while a new building is being constructed. Mr. Taylor is now having shelves built in preparation for the move. The new one will be in the same place as the present Morton Drug Store.

★ Goodness, the other owners on north side of square, will have to remodel and improve in order to keep up with the other improvements on that side of square. Some of those old buildings are sure shabby.

★ Friday morning we had a little trouble moving out from the post office—mainly on account of the Roadmaster wouldn't start. Decided to just leave it there but Wes Lackey came over and started it by juggling some things under the hood—showed me how too. "In case," he said, "that you get out in the desert somewhere and the thing won't start," (confidentially I'm not planning on getting stuck anywhere alone, but it is nice to know).

★ Now that is what I call mighty accomodating—but then Wes is a typical south plains gentleman.

★ The spouse contributed the following:

Advertise For Her!
Little Dorothy had been praying for a baby sister. Her mother, while reading the paper, exclaimed: "I see Mrs. Smith has a little daughter."
"How do you know that, mamma?" Dorothy inquired.
"It says so in the paper, dear."
"Read it to me."
Her mother read: "Born to Mr. and Mrs. Smith, a daughter."
Dorothy thought a moment and then said: "I know what I'm going to do. I'm giong to stop praying and begin advertising."

FREEDOM UNDER TEXAS SKIES

By Garland Adair, Curator of History, Texas Memorial Museum

The Washington sesquicentennial, commemorating the 150th anniversary of the establishment of the national capital, will be celebrated April 15-Nov. 22 this year. The celebration will be followed by the Freedom Fair, also in Washington, during the same period in 1951 and 1952.

A 45-member commission to prepare a Texas exhibit for the fair has been recommended to Gov. Allan Shivers.

The recommendation was made by Colonel Paul Wakefield, chairman of the committee which had been named by Gov. Shivers to draft tentative plans for participation officially by the State of Texas in this year's great historical observance in our national life.

The committee also suggested that Governor Shivers request the current special session of the Legislature establish the Texas commission. Current press comments add that "The commission members, to be appointed by the Governor, would serve without pay. None of the state's money would be used for the exhibit. It would be financed entirely by public subscriptions."

Wakefield's committee suggested an exhibit which could be easily dismantled and reassembled for display in Texas."

George Washington's Town
The following is quoted from an article by the late Frederic J. Mott:

"George Washington selected the site of the District at the confluence of the Potomac and Annapostima, or Eastern Branch, Rivers. The father of his country was the founder of its capital, in a peculiar and particular sense. He selected the site, he directed the acquisition of the land, he formulated the plans for the Federal City, which was to bear his name and with the aid and advice of Jefferson directed the work of the engineers. At first the city of Washington and the towns of Alexandria and Georgetown were given separate municipal governments, and each elected its officers. The district outside the incorporated towns had no government except that of the levy court which assessed and collected taxes. A mistaken impression prevails all over the country that the United States pays all the expenses of the District. On the contrary the government paid nothing at all until 1878, when the present arrangement of half-and-half taxation was arranged between the District and the Federal Government."

"In 1871 Congress changed the form of government and created the Territory of Columbia, with a government based on the plan adopted for the other Territories. The Governor was appointed by the President, the Council and House of Delegates, composing the Legislature, were elected by the people, and the Territory had a delegate in Congress who could speak, but not vote. The new government undertook the improvement of the city on a comprehensive plan.

"Alexander R. Shepherd, a plumber by trade, first a member of the Board of Public Works and then Governor, was the moving spirit in the new government. It was Washington was the founder, Shepherd was the builder of the capital city. He found it a straggling town without public improvements, and left it well on its way to be made the most beautiful city of the world. . . . In less than two years he paved thirty miles of street with wood and fifty miles with gravel. He laid thirteen miles of sewers and fourteen miles of water mains. The wooden pavements were a failure and had to be replaced with asphalt, but once there was a pavement the people would not consent to return to the mud lanes which had disgraced the capital for so many years."

WTSC to Feature Well-Rounded Summer Sessions

Registration for one of the most well-rounded summer school sessions in the history of West Texas State will be June 2 and 3 as announced this week by Dr. Walter H. Juniper, dean. Class instruction for the first 6-weeks term will begin Monday, June 5.

Registration for the second 6-weeks term will be Monday, July 17 with class work beginning on the 18th. Graduation exercises have been planned for the night of August 23 in Buffalo Stadium.

The instructional faculty for the stream-lined summer session will consist of 59 expertly trained personnel with programs worked out to offer teachers, business people, and undergraduates the very latest in methods and operational means.

For either summer session, 1950, a person may earn 6 hours of credit. Tuition for either term will be $20.00 for a resident and $50.00 for non-residents of the state. Fees will be based upon the session's work and not upon the number of credit hours for which the summer student is enrolled.

Prospective students desiring room accommodations are urged to write at their earliest convenience to either the Dean of Men or to the Dean of Women.

More Food in Less Storage Space in Home Freezer

Much of the storage space in the home freezer is often wasted because of the type and size of containers used. Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A. and M. College, says that research workers in the USDA have found that rectangular containers use space to the best advantage, regardless of whether the storage space of the freezer is round or rectangular.

The use of different sized rectangular containers more fully utilized all of the freezer space than did containers of other shapes and sizes. Mrs. Claytor adds that flimsy cartons and those packed too tightly with food will bulge during freezing, and will take up more space. If rectangular cartons are placed broad-side down freezing, bulging can be kept to a minimum and thus space can be saved.

The main purpose of the research, she says, was to find a better method of estimating the storage capacity of home freezers. To any family that goes shopping for a home freezer, the size needed and how much food can be stored in the different models are important considerations. The usual estimate is likely to be a vague and uncertain guide.

Control Measures Of Hog Parasites Listed by Agent

From County Agent's Office

Many farmers growing hogs have hog lice and mange trouble. These are serious pests and hogs do not do well when no control measures are taken—sanitation is a most important factor of hog mange. The mites do not reproduce off the body of the host animal—but if they are dislodged, they will remain active in the litter for at least a month. For best results, before spraying hogs, remove litter from pens and keep clean, advises County Agent, Homer E. Thompson.

Demodectic mange is not easily controlled, but fortunately this type is not commonly found in Texas.

A good control insecticide for sarcoptic mange is benzene Hexachloride (BHC) wettable powder used at a strength of 12% gamma—a dilution chart for BHC is shown below.

6% Gamma BHC wettable powder concentrate, 4½ lbs. to 25 gallons of water; 12% Gamma BHC wettable powder concentrate, 2 lbs. to 25 gallons of water; 25% Gamma BHC wettable powder concentrate, 1 lb. to 25 gallons of water; 33% Gamma BHC wettable powder concentrate, 12 oz. to 25 gallons of water.

Lindane, which is pure gamma isomer of BHC may be used at ¼ pound to 25 gallons of water said Thompson. Chlordane is excellent when ¼ pound of 40% concentrate in 25 gallons water. The above spray mixtures are used to control both hog lice and hog mange mentioned above.

These are good clean sprays which will last for several weeks. One application usually is sufficient to give excellent control. Do not exceed the strength of the solutions given above because then there may be acute toxicity—pigs should not be treated until weaning time, said the county agent.

Colds Steal Time And Money Saves Health Officer Cox

There is hardly anyone who hasn't caught cold at one time or another and besides making you feel miserable they steal your time and money, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. They fool you too, because the early signs are often the same as those of more serious illnesses.

Long continued colds may pave the way for an attack of pneumonia, tuberculosis, or a chronic infection of the nose, throat, ears or sinuses. Do your best to keep from catching cold. If you do catch one, take care of it promptly by going to bed, keep warm and dry, drink plenty of citrus juices and water. If the cold is severe, consult your physician.

Another enemy is pneumonia, an acute infection of the lungs. Virus pneumonia is the most common of all pneumonias today. It may occur at any age, and usually appears in local outbreaks instead of far reaching epidemics. In any case of pneumonia, good medical care and nursing play a great role in recovery.

Lobar pneumonia is caused by a bacteria, not a virus, and is very contagious. A generation ago one out of every four who had this disease died. Today, thanks to the "miracle drugs" many are saved. It is most common in late winter and early spring.

The most frequent victims of broncho-pneumonia are the aged, the invalid and the baby.

Texas Families Received $44,804,000 in Life Insurance Payments During 1949

Texas families received $44,804,000 in life insurance death benefit payments during 1949, compared with $43,552,000 in the previous year and $27,945,000 in 1941, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

"The death benefit payments in this state last year were made under 33,194 policies, compared with 31,362 policies in the previous year and 23,128 policies in 1941," the Institute reported. "Of the aggregate 1949 payments in the state, $32,310,000 was under 11,905 ordinary policies; $8,157,000 was under 3,509 group life insurance policies; and $4,337,000 was under 17,780 industrial insurance policies. These payments were $16,859,000 greater than the corresponding payments in 1941, representing increased funds for family income, educational needs, mortgage payment, retirement income and other protection uses. In addition, an even larger amount was paid to living policyholders by their life insurance companies."

The national total of death benefits paid last year was $1,489,742,000 which compares with $1,446,607,000 in 1948 and $1,009,636,000 in 1941.

The 1949 national benefits were paid under 1,358,659 policies, compared with 1,334,658 policies in 1948 and 1,074,606 policies in 1941.

"The death benefits nationally were the greatest on record," the Institute continued. "This was in spite of the lowest death-rate among policyholders ever experienced. The greatly increased volume of life insurance owned accounted for the greater benefit payments. Death benefit payments last year were 48 per cent greater than in pre-war 1941, and the total amount of life insurance in force was 75 per cent greater."

Civilians interested in knowing more about atomic energy, a-bombs and the theories behind the construction of a hydrogen bomb can get their knowledge in pleasant doses from the film library at Texas Tech's extension division.

Director J. H. Millikin says the library has several recent films on atoms and energy which institutions and organizations may rent from the Tech division for a nominal fee. They include "Atomic Energy," "Electrons," "Energy and Its Transformation" and "The Theory of Molecular Matter." A silent, color film of the atomic bomb tests on the Bikini atoll is also available.

How to Get That Homework Done

Miss Gilbert, our grammar school principal, spoke the other night at the regular Parent-Teachers' meeting, on getting children to do their homework when they want to listen to the radio.

"We mustn't give them a flat 'no'," Miss Gilbert said. "If we adults really believe in tolerance and moderation, we should instill these qualities in our children. Listening to the radio is fine—in moderation—as long as homework gets done, too."

From where I sit, the lady was dead-right. This radio vs. homework problem is a wonderful way to see to it that our youngsters acquire the sensible moderate habits they'll need later on.

I've never believed in hard and fast rules—except where absolutely necessary. Let the other fellow do as he likes, as long as he's temperate and tolerant. Guess that's why I've never felt we should quarrel with the fellow who is partial to a glass of beer—the "Beverage of Moderation."
