4 eggs
1/4 cup top milk or light cream
1/2 teaspoon salt
Speck of pepper
Fat

Separate eggs. Beat the yolk slightly, add liquid and seasonings; then beat until thick and lemon colored. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Heat frying pan, add fat enough to oil sides and bottom of pan. Turn in omelet mixture. Spread evenly over pan and cook slowly. When well cooked and delicately browned underneath, put in moderate oven (350°F.) and cook until top is dry and firm but not brown. Loosen omelet with spatula, fold and turn onto a hot platter. If desired, instead of cooking on top of stove, place in oven for entire cooking period. Four servings.

Tech Professor Writes Poems About Pioneers

"Sunrise in Texas," a book of poems about the men who made Texas by Dr. Everett A. Gillis, has been published by a San Antonio firm.

Dr. Gillis, associate professor of English at Texas Technological college, dedicated the new book to his mother, Mrs. Earle A. Gillis, Fort Worth. Mrs. Gillis was selected as the "Texas Mother of the Year" and "National Mother of the Year" in 1949.

Poems in the booklet include "Parson John," "Sam Houston," "Bigfoot Wallace," and "Davy Crockett."

Dr. Gillis also wrote two earlier books of poetry—"Hello the House!" (1944) and a collection of war poems, "Who Can Retreat?" (1944).

GIVE! GIVE! GIVE!

Disaster operations in which the Red Cross gave assistance last year killed more than 500 persons, injured 4,400 others, and destroyed or damaged nearly 50,000 buildings. More than 228,500 persons received Red Cross emergency aid and rehabilitation. The disaster program cost $7,640,200. You can do your part in making Red Cross help instantly available to victims of disaster by supporting the 1950 fund campaign.

GOOD AND BAD ECONOMICS

The farming people of Arkansas banded together last week for mutual financial benefit. It isn't political. No frantic appeals for funds are being sent up to Washington. Home folks are simply getting together, looking a common economic problem squarely in the eye, and pooling their ideas, energies and resources to find a solution. It seems to me there are several good lessons in this approach.

Farm agencies had found that 1,500,000 acres of productive Arkansas farms would lie fallow when spring planting began. About 500,000 acres is extremely rich cotton and rice land removed from production by federal acreage control—in a logical outgrowth of the present price support program. The other 1,000,000 acres is mostly in small hill farms on which cotton has failed as a paying crop. This much productive land out of use would hurt many farmers directly and everybody in the state indirectly by holding down both farm commodities production and the creation of wealth.

Facing the Problem

The Governor called a meeting. All farm groups were represented. An "Action Program" was set up, with the president of the state University as director. Organizations of such diverse political views as the Farmers Union and the Farm Bureau Federation pledged 100 per cent support. The program recognizes (and this is significant) the almost limitless opportunities of a free market, the adaptability of our soils to many uses, and the need for agricultural education on the part of a large percentage of our farm population.

Farmers of the rich cotton and rice lands, for instance, will be reached and told how they may plant, cultivate, harvest and market soybeans and alfalfa, two highly remunerative crops now in big demand on the market. The hill farmers will be helped into livestock production on acres that wouldn't pay off in cotton but will make fine pastures and feed crops. Farm feeds imported last year cost Arkansas farmers $35,000,000. So this market is wide open to Arkansas producers of feed crops.

Same Economics

The results, if successful, would be like putting 15,000 farm families (with 100-acre farms) on a self-supporting basis, from scratch. Or like putting perhaps twice that many established farmers in the profit column who otherwise might go in the red, support programs notwithstanding. Instead of a sky-rocketing federal outlay to support a market-glutting farm production, we have here, in the Arkansas farmers' self-reliant action, the intelligent turning of land into newly developing crops for which the consuming public will pay good prices.

This has the basic elements of sane economics. Add to it, constant, well-supported research to develop new, improved farming methods that would lower crop production costs (and thus the consumer price)—and we have the broad basis for an economically sound long range program.

The Political Potatoes

In contrast to the free market idea, toward which the Arkansas farm leaders are catering in this instance, we have an example at hand of the politically-planned "controlled" economies. It's the potato story. It is ridiculous. It would even be amusing if so much of the taxpayers' money weren't involved. Since undertaking the economic control of potatoes, the federal government has spent about $500,000,000 buying spuds at $1.25 a bushel. The artificially hiked retail price hit consumers (taxpayers) for untold additional millions at the retail markets.

The government burned millions of dollars worth of its potato hoard. It now is treating the remaining mountain of spuds with chemical dyes and selling them back to the farmers at 1c per 100 pounds, for swine feed. Meantime, a New Orleans food broker has just imported a million pounds of Canadian potatoes to sell to American housewives. He truthfully points out that he can buy and deliver the Canadian spuds cheaper than he can the politically-regulated potatoes of Maine and Idaho. Political planning and potato economics don't seem to mix.

Millions of Flies Help to Cause Illness, Deaths

Millions of flies help to cause the illness and death of thousands of children and adults each year in the United States. Hundreds of these casualties may be in the State of Texas this year if residents fail in their responsibility for developing the best possible sanitation measures in the area where they reside. Typhoid fever, summer complaint, and other intestinal diseases can be traced to the common housefly as the carrier of infection.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, speaking in this connection recently said, "Be sure that your windows and doors are tightly screened so that stray flies from a careless neighbor will not endanger your family. Be sure that flies are kept away from food, drink, and utensils used in the preparation of food. Make sure, if you live in rural districts, that outside privy vaults are tightly covered so as not to permit the entrance of flies. Infections from this source can be picked up and spread to human beings through contact with food, drink, and utensils. Keep all garbage covered until collected or buried. Eliminate all breeding places for flies and you will be helping your community in its work of controlling communicable diseases and preventing unnecessary illness."

Dr. Cox said that the State Health Department would furnish upon request a pamphlet outlining safe and practical methods recommended for use in fly control.

51st Legislature Asked to Expand Vets Land Plan

Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office and Chairman of the Veterans Land Board, Tuesday issued an "informal memorandum" to the 51st Legislature calling attention to the necessity of expanding the $25,000,000 Veterans Land Program at the next regular session. "Within a very short time," Commissioner Giles pointed out to the legislature, "we will have received a sufficient number of applications to fully obligate the total $25,000,000 authorized by the constitutional amendment. But only approximately 5,000 veterans will have been taken care of, when many times that number desire to participate in the program."

"While we are processing an average of ten applications a day," Giles added in his prepared statement, "we are receiving new applications at the rate of 20 per day. Of the 4,700 applications received, most were signed for only a 90-day period. It was, therefore, to be expected that many options expire unless the sellers were willing to stand with the veteran and with us."

He described the personnel of the Land Program, of which Alvis Vandagriff is secretary, as consisting of "10 appraisers, 2 attorneys and 15 clerks, stenographers and typists."

"Our incoming mail is averaging approximately 200 letters per day," he stated, "and most of these letters require personal attention."

Listing the program's progress to date, Giles said that 1,600 farms and ranches had been appraised with approximately 72 per cent approved for the contract price, 500 purchases had been completed at an average price of $5,750, an average of $52 per acre including improvements.

"Due to the heavy back log of applications and our limited staff," Commissioner Giles pointed out, "the time necessary to process an application filed at this time is at least 200 days."

Change Takes Place in Principal's Office; Junior Given Credit

What a change has taken place in the office of Principal Wendell Watson. You walk in for a pass and he looks up with a very satisfying and pleasing grin, and writes you the pass without questioning you—that is not too much.

We wonder what has happened to him when a fellow student explains that our principal is the father of a bouncing baby boy. The boy is named Joseph Wendell Watson, III, and his father is quite proud of him since he is the fourth child and the only boy of the family. "Junior" has three very petite, blonde headed, big sisters.

GRADE SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

By Roselyn Sandefor

Although Valentine Day was last week, no news of how the grades celebrated was printed.

Mrs. Gray's first grade like most of the others had a Valentine Party and invited guests. They were: Missy Barker, Jan Hawthorne, Susan, Anna Jo, Terry Watson, Cheryl Miller, Don Ray, Sandra St. Clair, Betty Lou Ledbetter, Teresa Ashworth, and Linda Gail Weston. Mrs. Hatcher, Mrs. St. Clair and Mrs. Ray all attended. They were served cookies and ice cream. Favors were Valentine candy.

Mrs. Ledbetter gave them a new pot plant; and the P. T. A. gave this building 3 record players. They have been using them pretty regular.

The pupils have colored and cut out pictures of George Washington, cherry trees and hatchets. Along with these they have Western pictures because they are studying about ranches. The subject of "Roy Rogers" and "Trigger" is often brought up by some of the little children.

Mrs. Stockdale has one new pupil. He is Ray Milam.

Several students have had the chicken pox. Butch Nairn is absent this week and Stanley Sandefor was absent last week.

Mrs. Beard's third grade lost several children: Kent Yates, Don Culpepper, Lorenzo Escalante, and Florine Corder. They have gained Allen Tolloway, Marvin Woodson, Julia Cruz, Mary Lou Lopez, Lavonna Woodson and Wanda Lou Milam. At the present there are 37 enrolled.

Mrs. Rose's third grade room had a Valentine party, too. They had an electric ice cream freezer and made ice cream. The children brought home made cookies.

They have been very busy studying plants, and have several pot plants. They had six gold fish but one of them died.

Two new students from Paducah have enrolled. They are Clorene and Clendon Whatley. Clorene is in 8-1. Mrs. Aikev's room, and her brother is in Mr. Myrick's room.

CATCHING THE BUS

By Janice Buchanan

Every morning before I catch the bus;
I get the whole family in a terrible fuss;
The clock is wrong and I think I'm late—
That's when my mother meets her fate.

She cooks my breakfast in her night gown—
By this time I'm rushing around.
I comb my hair and wash my face
Find just one of my shoes that hasn't a lace.

I look through old shoes and find a string—
Then all at once I hear a terrible thing—
Its moanin' and groanin'—Oh its the bus.
I'm so mad, I'm not ready, I think I could cuss.

I grab my shoe, my coat and book
Everybody smiles at the way I look.
You may think I'm not quite sane
But if you ride a bus I'll bet its the same.

--annegrams -- by ann england --

Noticed in last week's Van Horn Advocate where that paper had started on its fortieth year of publication. Our good friend Carl Garner is publisher and he said, "the present management has been with the Advocate 24 years, coming here in November 1925, and hopes to stay a few years longer." Congratulations to you Mr. G and your wife, Opal.

Well, we too, are celebrating an anniversary. March 1, yesterday, the spouse and I, started our fifth year with the Morton Tribune. And like Mr. Garner we certainly hope to stay on a few years longer. It has been mighty pleasant and the four years have really slipped by.

Met Mrs. H. A. Barnes Monday. Altho we know and see her daughter, Mrs. T. M. Tanner, quite often, it was our first meeting with Mrs. B.

Mrs. Willie Rose brought us a clipping from a Los Angeles paper telling of a polo game played thereabouts in which John Mather scored six goals to lead San Antonio poloists to a 9-6 victory over the Beverly Hills Polo Club.

The Mathers have a home here but follow the horses around all over the world and honestly it is next to impossible to keep up with them.

Bob Kirk, Lamb County Attorney, is running a series of interesting facts concerning law in the Anton News and other papers. Bob is a nice boy. We met him last year at an American Legion convention and once while visiting in Morton he had lunch with us (he did cooking of same.)

Looks as if the classified advertising in Morton Tribune really gets the job done. Not long ago Hazel Hancock advertised a cow for sale and he said before he could get down here to cancel the ad he almost had to go out and buy some more cows in order to have some to sell.

Wish the enthusiasm shown at the Chamber of Commerce meeting last Thursday night would continue on and on. This community could certainly look forward to a lot of improvement if some of the ideas projected could be carried out and they could if every individual would just put his shoulder to the wheel and work at it.

The two men from Tulia, Henry Teubel and De Wayne Davis, made nice talks, as did several of our own local men, including Bill Williamson, J. W. McDermott, James St. Clair, G. W. Thompson and several others.

The spouse said he never ate any better hot rolls than served that evening. Everything was good and that is somewhat of a job. Jiggs Baker did the catering. Those of you who failed to attend—missed something worth while, both as to food and talk.

Mattie Ramby is back in the drug store after being out for several days because of illness. Fifer took down with an unusually bad cold just about the time M felt like getting into the groove again.

We missed them at church Sunday—as well as a lot of other regular attenders. Fred Stockdale and Pegues Houston took care of the layman's day program quite nicely—they were assisted by Wendell Watson; oh, yes and the men's choir. Each layman's day when I hear those men sing together I wonder why they don't do it more often.

This spring weather, preceding a big snow or rain (my own personal weather prediction) is certainly causing a lot of yard work. Even I got out and pruned the shrubs the other day. The spouse trimmed on the cottonwoods that have grown all out of bounds lately.

Noticed some mighty pretty forsythia blooming on north side of Helen Dosses house. It won't be long until the flowering shrubs start blooming. The tulips planted last fall by garden club members and others are way up. There are two purple lilac bushes in our yard that we look forward too each spring.

The pyracantha was frozen back this year—this seems to be customary with the red but even the orange got it this winter—and we haven't had much cold weather either.

Mrs. Gowdy told me that all theirs froze. I believe she said this was the first time it had happened.

The McCarthy's who have been staying in our guest house while the Selbys were in Seminole have three darling children. Two little blonde daughters, Kathy, who will be three this summer and Sue, nearly two; and a five months old son.

Jo Ann Lackey, a student at Eastern New Mexico University, has made the Tribune almost every issue lately it seems to me. Last week we carried a story about her in connection with the choir and this week she is a Queen candidate.

Martha Leeman, another Morton girl, is in a beauty contest at the same school. I don't seem to remember Martha.

Played bridge with Eunice McDermott the other night. She is so pretty—altho a little wan from recent illness. At the same party Dorothy Rose was wearing a beautiful soft aqua blouse with a grey suit, which was most becoming.

Saw little Linda Baker a week or so ago getting her hair done and she was the best youngster—went fast asleep under the dryer and I helped the operator tie her in the chair. We were afraid she'd topple out. Linda is the daughter of the Ray Bakers and I'm sure not over three.

Speaking of the small fry—we could hardly keep our face straight Monday eve at Guild. Mary Katherine Miller, now that she is three and a big girl, was allowed to stay up for the meeting, and of all the monkey shines Mary Katherine (or Tooter as she is better known) did them. At one time when we glanced over her way she was trying to pick up a book from under her little chair and in so doing not only had her feet on the floor but also her head. Only a three year old possesses such agility or utter unselfconsciousness.

Reading in one of the new magazines on curious customs of orientals the following struck a funny chord. It seems that there is a law in one of these strange foreign countries whereby a gentleman (?) caught alienating the affections of a married woman is fined $7.50. At second offense the woman is fined a like amount and if the offense is committed a third time the husband is fined; we suppose for being so lazy and unconcerned.

Lions Hear Agricultural Expert Speak
On "Freedom" at Luncheon Feb. 22

Morton Lions in regular meeting Wednesday noon, February 22, heard Archie L. Leonard, Professor of Agricultural Economics at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, in a discussion on "Freedom."

James St. Clair and Floyd Smith were in charge of the program.

Mr. Leonard in introducing his subject said, "I can think of no more important date than George Washington's birthday to discuss this important subject of 'Freedom' which we all love but which we seem hell-bent on destroying."

"The people who settled this country came from all the European countries—not to establish a government but to escape the tyrannies of government. They were seeking not security but an opportunity to enjoy freedom—the freedom of religion, the freedom to work at a job of their choice and the freedom of being left alone."

He continued, "Our freedom and establishment of free-enterprise came from this conglomeration of peoples; but today the spirit of self-reliance that inspired our people to exercise their initiative and develop this country, while preserving their independence, is fast departing. Too many want to lean upon the Government; too many are 'thinking of security instead of opportunity.'"

Professor Leonard illustrated his talk with charts showing the trends of industry and agriculture during the past forty or fifty year period. He said that in the various groups the farmers were probably the last to feel the strain of having their liberties cut down.

Explaining the shifting of prices according to supply and demand; he pointed out the reasonable stability of prices and products during the period of 1910 to 1914. "Then," he said, "war came along, and a war always raises havoc; with prices on raw products going up first and raw products from the farm going up first and farthest." He explained that industry has the ability to make adjustments and control production; and agriculture, in order to stabilize production and prices, must practice the same tactics. It is up to us to figure out some way of keeping supply and demand on an even keel." He further stated, "there must be some sort of control, otherwise the laws of supply and demand get completely out of hand and we have inflation." Which we are all familiar with in the adjustment periods immediately following the last two wars."

"Farmers in an effort to establish some sort of stability for their products and prices of same, have finally banded together in an effort to help themselves. They are now facing the future and asking, 'What shall we do?'"

"We can study the restrictions placed on farm products, we can discipline heads of industry, and it would seem prudent for us to put our financial houses in order, hold fast to our free-enterprise system of government and not allow a concentration of governmental power with its tendency to ever-advancing socialistic programs."

Other than the speaker four other guests were introduced at Wednesday's meeting, they were: L. M. Dawson, instructor in Cochran County Vocational school; Orville Tilger, owner of Piggly-Wiggly; and a potential member of the club; O. D. Peden and J. E. Leech, representatives of Gideon International, Lubbock.
