Portales Joins Hawkins, REA In Tourney Win

Honolulu Oil and Portales were the winners in the second evening of softball play in the second annual Invitational Softball Tourney held on the local diamond Thursday night.

Honolulu, already a one time loser, kept from being eliminated by blasting a 14-1 decision over Shaw Construction of Sundown, eliminating the other Sundown entry. The game took only 3 innings as Clyde Mantooth spun a one hitter and his mates backed him up with a solid hitting attack. In the second game Portales came back strong in the last three innings after trailing 5-0 and took a 10-7 decision from Enochs. A late heavy hitting barrage including two home runs won the game for Portales. Wayne Caffey who got off to a good start for Enochs was the victim of the later bombardment and also was victim of early errors on the Enochs team. Portales played tight ball effort, one of the best defensive performances of the tourney.

BUSINESS VISITOR

Jim St. Clair of Lubbock was a recent business visitor to Morton. He commented that the country looked much better than he had heard. St. Clair only recently moved from Levelland to Lubbock.

Another meeting was held Tuesday, Sept. 14 in the home of Mrs. D. E. Benham.

REA Wins Again; Enochs Is Out In Morton Tourney

REA of Muleshoe, a surprise double victor in the Invitational Softball tournament and Honolulu, a strong entry from Sundown, moved a step nearer possible championship honors in the tourney Saturday night as they each posted their second victory.

REA downed Hawkins Oldsmobile 9-6 for their second win with, out a loss and moved into a meeting with Honolulu. Hawkins suffered their first loss and were still in contention.

Honolulu, beaten by Hawkins on opening night, handed Enochs a 7-0 alcing to knock that entry out of the tourney. Clyde Mantooth hurled three hit ball, walked no one and hit two batters. After the first inning, Honolulu had the game won by scoring two first inning tallies. Harry Pollard of Enochs only surrendered nine hits in the game.

One other entry was unbeaten through Saturday's games, Portales having played just one game.

Bula Defeats Flomot, 18-0 In Grid Tilt

BULA (Sp.) — The Bula Bulldogs, rebuffed in their regional game last year after an undefeated season which brought them the district 6-man football championship, began anew Thursday.

The Bulldogs, a little ragged but playing doggedly determined ball, rolled over a touchdown in each of the first three periods to take an 18-0 victory over Flomot in the opener for both teams.

The dogs delighted their home town fans by displaying a rugged defense, what their Coach Claude Morrison hopes to carry him to another district championship. Quenton Nichols and Deewayne Neel sparked the defensive game.

On the scoring end, Gerald Neel's 25-yard sweep was the longest payoff plunze of the night. Carl Wayne Hallford, Bula's biggest man and also a speedster, bulled five yards through the middle for one score and then raced around end for 15 yards and another scoring dash to complete the scoring.

The game was a non conference affair. Bula steps into the thick of the 6-man conference fight next Friday night when they meet to onslaught of Spade's Longhorns, touted as one of the "teams to beat" in the rugged conference.

Last year's Morrison coached Bulldogs also were a strong defensive minded team. They had plenty of potent offense but Morrison sacrificed it in most of the earlier games to concentrate on protecting his own goaline. As a result they rated extremely high on the list of the state's top 6-man teams.

3000 CONVERTED

Last week we wrote about Pentecost, the day of beginnings. We pointed out that it was the beginning of the preaching of the gospel of Christ as a fact, and salvation in and through the name of Jesus Christ.

The conversion of the three thousand is significant because it is the first case of pardon under the new covenant. Peter was given authority to state the terms of pardon (Matt. 16:18). He stated them on that occasion and God has never changed them, neither did any of the other apostles or early preachers.

1. PREACHING. (Acts 2:14-36) Peter by inspiration of the Holy Spirit preached the death, burial and resurrection of Christ—the gospel (1 Cor. 15:1-4).

2. BELIEVING. Those who heard believed the message, for verse 37 says, "They were pricked in their hearts and said, 'Men and brethren what shall we do?'" This shows their change of mind.

3. REPENTANCE. Peter's answer is clear. He said, "Repent and be baptized... for remission of sins." (Acts 2:38) If baptism were left out of the sentence, all would accept it. "Repent for the remission of sins." What does "for" mean? "Repent in order to have your sins remitted." This is a change of will and of life.

4. BAPTISM. Why were they baptized? If "for" in "repent... for the remission of sins" means "in order to" (and no one will deny that) what does it mean when Peter says, "Be baptized for the remission of sins?" Even a child would know that it meant the same thing was for the same purpose. Three thousand were added that day because as many as "gladly received the word were baptized." WHY? In order that God would remit their sins and thus their relationship was changed. (Galatians 3:27)

Coach Spears reported the lineup and weight of the boys and their positions as:

What does it take to make a garden? — some water, good seed fertilizer and much hard work. Then enjoy fresh vegetables for several months. "It also takes much work to can and freeze food", said Mrs. Belcher, "but I enjoy doing it."

All of Mrs. Belcher's time and effort haven't gone to vegetables. She has flowers, shrubs, and grass in the yard that is watered from the irrigation ditch too. Then there is time to be interested in and to help Paul with his 4-H work. He has hogs, cows and three calves that he is keenly interested in.

Mrs. Belcher is a member of the County Line Home Demonstration Club which meets each month. Until frost Mrs. Belcher will have peas, beans, okra, tomatoes and sweet potatoes in abundance. There will probably be a turnip and mixed green patch planted soon.

We think the garden Mrs. Belcher made is typical of many in the county where water is available. We know where we will be welcome for a good home cooked meal, too.

Mrs. Belcher has an 18 cu. foot freezer filled with beef, pork, chickens, fruit and vegetables. There isn't enough room in it for all the garden produce too.

Mrs. Belcher bought 150 baby chicks and didn't lose any. She kept most of the pullets and killed the roosters for fevers. The beef and pork are home grown too. You can say the Belchers practice a "Live at Home" plan — milk, butter, eggs, vegetables and meat. The only fruit in abundance at the farm is apples. They bought pineapple, peaches and strawberries.

Mrs. Belcher thinks she couldn't cook without the milk, eggs and butter she so generously uses. She does extra baking to store in the freezer when she has time. Home-made ice cream is hand turned then stored in the freezer for dessert and snacks.

Mrs. Belcher did nearly all of the garden work — during coolest part of the day. The two small areas were watered from an irrigation ditch that borders the house and yard. 13 year old Paul had a hand in one garden plot.

The 500 jars of canned food include beets, beans, peas, tomatoes, soup mixture, redishes, carrots, cucumber pickles and apples. Frozen foods are akra, pineapple, squash, corn, peaches and strawberries.

Watermelon and cantaloupe have supplied the Belchers with ample vitamin for the last month and you should see the tomatoes! The vines have just been loaded — another good source of Vitamin C.

Mrs. Belcher has shared vegetables and work with her nearest neighbor. Just about any hour of the day they could be found working together to put up the winter supply of food. Mrs. Belcher has enjoyed characteristic of this farming region. Those farmers who are interested in establishing a plant cover on their farm are advised to investigate the new practice approved by the State A. S. C. committee in regard to the seeding of grass, small grain (except wheat) or legume. A large percent of the cost of applying the practice, including seed and fertilizer, will be borne by the Department of Agriculture.

This information may be obtained from Mrs. McGhee of our local A. S. C. office or from anyone of the local Soil Conservation Service Technicians.

Mr. Hume Russell has planted approximately 18 acres to Vetch in grain sorghum, approximately 5 acres to Austrian Winter peas and 15 acres to Dixie Wonder peas. All seed were inoculated and 225 pounds of 20% superphosphate was applied per acre.

Both peas and vetch will be irrigated during the winter months. All growth along with the grain sorghum stubble will be left until June 15, and will be followed by grain sorghum and peas.

Grass and Legumes Introduced for Soil Building
Cooperators of the Cochran Soil Conservation District are planting for soil building purposes and to reduce soil blowing through the winter and critical blow period in the Spring of next year include:

Mr. J. W. Cunningham, a member of the Board of Supervisors of the District, whose farm is approximately 9 miles southwest of Morton. Cunningham has seeded approximately 16 acres to Austrian Winter peas. Seeding was carried out by the use of the District's legume seeder. This seeder is available to all farmers in the Cochran Soil Conservation District who are interested in plantings of winter legumes on their farms.

Mr. Leon Paterson whose farm is approximately 3 miles east of Morton has made plantings of 5 acres to Hairy Vetch and barley plus another 5 acres to Alfalfa and Bromo-Orchard grass mixture. All legume seed were inoculated and land was fertilized with 20% superphosphate at the rate of 200 pounds per acre.

Mr. L. E. Childs has planted a mixture of Crimson clover and Kentucky 31 fescue. Childs' Crimson clover is the first planting of its kind in this immediate area and might be interesting to observe from time to time to determine whether or not it has possibilities for our area. This legume, it has been, though in the past, is primarily adapted to East and Central Texas and is used there in soil building programs and for grazing purposes.

Those cooperators who have made grass plantings include:

Mr. C. E. Buchanan, whose farm is approximately 10 miles southwest of Morton, with 7 acres seeded to Blue Panic, to be utilized for grazing purposes.

Mr. K. S. Head, 4 miles East of Morton with 8 acres seeded to Blue Panic.

Mr. W. M. Harryman who has seeded approximately 3 acres to Blue Panic grass.

Mr. Lonnie Hooper, approximately 5 miles Southeast of Morton has seeded 3 acres to Blue Panic. Hooper seeded approximately 10 acres to Blue Panic earlier this year and plans are with an additional 20 acres of native pasture to supplement grazing with the Blue Panic to enter into a diversified farming operation. With our present Cotton allotment plus a probable grain sorghum allotment in 1955 it might justify more farmers who have in the past and are at this time carrying out a straight row crop operation to be thinking along the lines of a diversified operation as Mr. Hooper.

Mr. J. W. McDermitt has seeded his entire cotton land to rye. McDermitt used the District legume seeder which plants two rows per middle to carry out this operation. McDermitt states that he is thoroughly convinced that there should be a cover on the land of his area at all times for protection against soil erosion as well as for water erosion because of our high intensity of rainfall which is characteristic of this farming region.

Indians Impressive In 7-7 Tie

If ever a Morton team won a moral victory, the Indians did so last Friday night.

The Morton Indians, opening their season against a Class AA school, the Post Antelopes, fought back gallantly with a fourth quarter touchdown with less than two minutes to play and gained a 7-7 tie.

Post — far from the strongest AA school in the area, But Morton is expected to be far from the strongest Class A team, too. Starting a new season under a brand new set of coaches, knowing practically nothing about Post before the game, the Indians stood off the opposition gallantly. They took home their moral victory in out-penetrating the Antelopes, 4-1, out-gaining them 178 yards to 139, out-passing them, out-blocking them.

Yet it was a couple of typical first game misplays that cost them a chance for victory. Twice they drove inside the Post 10 yard line only to be penalized back across the 20 for an overzealous clipping foul on the crucial play. This could have so disheartened the boys, they could have quit. Other teams have done so. But not this bunch. They roared back to the touchdown and then, in precision-like manner pulled off as slick a deceptive extra point maneuver as one could ask for.

This was not a hero's game. Nor was it a game in which only the breaks kept Morton from winning. Make no mistake about it, the two ball clubs were evenly matched. Post played good defense but lacked a little on offense. Perhaps not enough of a varied attack. One boy seemed to be carrying too much of the load. His passing was very good, this junior back, Tom Murray. And the Morton pass defense wasn't so outstanding. The thing that stopped Murray was a hard charging Morton line that refused to give ground or time to an anxious passer.

But the Morton attack, if ever so, was a team attack in this game. Never was there such a complete lack of heroes or a profusion of heroes. Almost everyone of the boys did his job. They worked at their jobs with eagerness and spirit. To single out a few men in the line would be unfair to others. To mention a backfield man is even worse. Our line, was the vital factor.

Morton received the kickoff and moved 18 yards before Coats had to kick out of danger. Post came back for 22 yards, 12 on a jump pass and then Murray booted back to Morton. On two successive plays the Indians fumbled and the second one was captured by Post on the Indian 37 yard line. Murray hit end Ted Tatum with a fine 22 yard pass and Tatum was run out of bounds on the 19 yard line. A jump pass was incomplete. Norman circled end for 4 and Gary cracked center for a yard. Fourth down and five to go and Morton knew a pass was coming up. But it didn't come. Instead a pitchout to Ronnie Kennedy netted the TD. Darrell Norman then dropped back and got the break that kept Morton from winning. His kick hit the inside crossbar and bounced through the upright for the extra point. It was the second week in a row he'd gotten the same break.

That was about all the real spark Post generated in the game. Morton got the ball and took to the air. Coats dropped the first pass, a beauty that hit him dead center in wide open spaces. Then he combined with Jerry Mills to post a sensational passing record of even completions in nine tries. He grabbed a 15 yard aerial on the 42 yard line. Two plays later another fumble stopped the Indian drive.

Post lost ground on three plays and was forced to boot. Morton picked up 12 but lost 5 on a penalty and was forced to punt. Again both defensive teams halted the drive and Morton got a late first half break when Floyd Rowland fell on a bad Post lateral to recover for Morton on the 46. The Indians drove to the opposing 30 yard line with a 22 yard pass to Coats getting most of the yardage but Mills was swarmed under trying to get off another pass and the half ended as he gained back nine yards of the loss on a bootleg play.

Morton kicked to Post in the second half. Co-captain Paul Cox recovering a Post fumble on the second play, Morton ripped to the Post 16 yard line but a fourth down pass to Coats went awry and the drive stopped. Post ripped up three first downs on some fine running but their passing attack was halted and they were forced to kick. Morton took over on their own 35 and began to roll. Harrison streaked 15 yards on a handoff. Mills hit end Johnny Howton on a 13 yard pass. Waller raced to the 18 a 15 yard run. A pitchout to James Holloman took the ball to the five but Morton was halted for clipping and the ball was carried back to the 20. Mills hit Coats for a seven yard wide right this time to the 7 yard line. Again clipping was detected and Morton was carried back to the 25. Here the drive fizzled out, despite another pass completion to Coats.

Backed back to his own goal line and forced to kick, Norman then made the kick that put Morton back in the game. It rolled weakly off the side of his toe and traveled to the 37 yard line, only 23 yards from scrimmage, then rolled back to the Post 30 before going out of bounds, a net kick of only 16 yards.

Mills took a keeper to the 23. Waller bulled five yards for the first down. An eight yard pass to Coats and Mills two yard center plunge put the ball on the nine yard line, fourth down one yard to go. Mills cracked center for two yards and the first down, Harrison drove to the five. Then Waller took a handoff for the touchdown.

Mills dropped back as if to kick the extra point and then looped a perfect pass to Howton for the extra point catching the Post defense completely napping.

Post had time to complete two long passes of 16 and 32 yards before the game ended but all that resulted was the extra yardage added to Post's total gain. Finals statistics (hurriedly compiled) showed Morton gaining an edge in most departments. (If Post writer Charles Didway has any dramatic differences, we'll report them next week after we see his game story.)
