Morton Loses

Morton's team entered in the Portales invitational Softball tournev last week was victim of hard uck in the scheduling and was unable to field a team. The local team, entered as an all-star aggregation with players from all of the local teams, had no trouble getting players lined up but other committments kept the from fulfilling the obligation. The Morton boys were first scheduled on Friday and made the trip with just seven players, picking up a pair of Portales youths to round out the team. Morton and Bula had local tourney games to play. With Don Lamar on the mound, the local boys dropped a 4 to 2 decision in the opener, though they outhit the SouthSide Wreckers of Portales, five to three.

After having lost, the Mortonites were obliged to return on Saturday night for their second game & Lamar and Archie Sowder, both of the Maple team were uanble to be on hand. Morton and Bula wound up their series also on Saturday, so the Morton team was unable to line up enough players to ranke the trip and decided to forfeit, They were to have played Frions who lost to the Sinelair Ollers of Clovis in their first game.

SOFTBALL SEASON is over, as is our custom, we'd like to thank everyone who helped make it a big success for the eighth straight season. Morton remains unique in its acceptance of the sport as a means of inexpensive recreation and nowhere we have ever heard of, even in the largest cities, is softball so popularly accepted and so thoroughly enjoyed. Congratulations to a thing Morton team that played ts best ball this season when the chips were down. Also a word of praise for Bula, certainly the most improved team in the league; they lmost, but not quite beat out the team that was made from a combination of two of last year's strongest teams: and that certainly is credit to their spirit and fight.

BETWEEN THE size of the crowd that attended the budget earing last year, and the one on Monday of this week.

IS THAT LAST year, there was group trying to get an outside audit called, and the budget hearing was a good place for them to get the issue before the court. It no longer is an issue, thus folks lost their interest in the budget proposal. But the budget proposed very interesting, especially considering that no one seemed to be able to interpret a lot of the figures that is, no one except the outside auditor who made up the proposals or estimates that were being reulated. We'll have to get a lot of it explained before we can try to break it down where everyone can understand. Anyway, there is no tax reduction, as folks had been told last year their should be. However here was no tax rate raise, and maybe we should be thankful for that in view of the fact that its obviously costing more money each year to run the county, just as cost of living for families have gone up.

WE STRONGLY expect the idea of reducing taxes which was advanced last year, was just a lot of political hot air that never was to

DIVINE HEALING

No one questions the power of God to do anything He chooses. He possesses unlimited resistless, and almighty power. However, God cannot do evil since that is inconsistant with His nature. God will not act so as to contradict his revealed will in the New Testament.

Every Bible student knows that in the days before the New Testament was delivered in written form, God exercised direct, super natural powers and enabled the blind to see, the dumb to speak, the deaf to hear, and the dead were raised.

These miracles were to confirm the word spoken. John said, 'These were done that you might believe. Mark wrote that the disciples went out preaching, "the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following." In Heb. 2:3 we read: "... was confirmed unto us ... The work, then, of signs and miracles was finished when the word was confirmed; thus Paul said such works would cease. (1 Cor. 13 7-9).

Men, today, claim power of healing-divine healing. Does it strike you as strange that there are many different religeous sects that claim power to heal; that they do not agree among themselves; that they call one another frauds, fakes and imposters? Is God doing these conflicting things Does God work miracles with these groups? Does he approve them all? If not, which

SOME QUESTIONS

(1) Does God give power to anyone today, to raise the dead, like he did the apostles? (Matthew 10:6). (2) Since some of these advocates of miraculous healing tell us it depends on faith, tell us: (a) How much faith did the dead son of the Widow of Nain have? (Lk. 7:12) (b) How much faith did the daughter of Jairus have as she lay dead? (Mk. 5:41) (c) Did Malchus have any faith in Jesus when the Lord replaced his ear? (Lk. 22:51) (d) Upon whose faith did Jesus heal the palsied man? (Mat. 92) (3) Why do divine healers (?) call in doctors and take members of their families to hospitals? (4) Should one, while praying for the sick, use every available remedy to restore them, asking God to direct the means used? (5) When one prays for daily bread does this exclude the necessity of working for such bread? (6) Do all of the five signs (Mk. 16:17-18) follow believers today? If one has ceased, why have not all five ceased? HAS GOD CHANGED ?

God healed once. Why won't he continue to do it? God fed Isreal with manna once. Why won't He feed His people today and free them from the toil of daily labor? Manna was for a special purpose and so also were the signs that followed after confirming the word. Now turn and read 1 Cor. 13:8, Eph 4:11-13

Mrs. Wanda Hughes, 4-H Club Leader, Royerton, Indiana, explaining how to estimate the cost of canning tomato juice.

When asked to what she attributes her success as a 4-H Club Leader, Mrs. Wanda Hughes, home economics teacher at Royerton, Indiana, High School, gave the stock answer, "hard work."

Mrs. Hughes said teen-agers must be sold on the worthwhileness of a project before they accept it with enthusiasm. For example, a lesson in canning is interesting and important to those who know the story of how the whole great 4-H Club organization grew from little tomato clubs. And, appreciate the real value of tomato juice when they learn that it is rich in minerals and vitamins needed for health and health.

Mrs. Hughes makes bacteriology, arithmetic and economics a part of each lesson. Bacteriology, when she explains why improperly canned foods spoil. Arithmetic, by showing how to figure costs. Economics, when she points out the amount of money to be saved by canning. Learning how to save appeals to teen-agers because many who plan to marry before or shortly after graduating know the must live on small income.

they must live on small income.

And, how does Mrs. Hughes figure the cost of canning? Simply by dividing the cost of the produce by the yield and adding 3¢ for each quart canned. From Purdue University she learned that anybody who has the use of a plot of good earth, in a sunny garden or back yard, can raise tomatoes for about 25¢ a bushel, and that an average of from 12 to 16 quarts of juice can be canned from a bushel of sound tomatoes. (A bushel will yield from 18 to 20 quarts of canned tomatoes.) A quart Mason fruit jar, based on a life of 8 years, a Dome Lid and fuel cost approximately 3¢. Add 2¢ for the raw tomatoes and it adds up to 5¢ for a quart of juice.

numerous names for most of them, and dozens of slightly different "receipts" for each name. Here are a few old family favorites that have been handed down through generations.

Grandma Sehl's Chili Sauce ½ teaspoon ground cloves 2 teaspoons cinnamon

1 basket (about 28 lbs.) red-ripe tomatoes
2 quarts chopped onion
2 quarts chopped green peppers
3 teaspoon Cayenne pepper
4 tablespoons salt
1 quart vinegar

Skin, core and chop tomatoes. Mix together everything except the vinegar and cook about 1½ hours. Add vinegar (and more salt and seasoning if needed). Cook until thick. Pour, boiling hot, into hot jars; seal at once. . . .

> Granny Fanny's Corn Pickle 1 tablespoon celery seed

1 cup chopped onion 1 cup chopped green pepper 1 cup chopped red sweet pepper 4 cups chopped cabbage

1 tablespoon salt 1 tablespoon turmeric 1 tablespoon curry powder 4 cups vinegar 1 to 2 cups sugar 2 tablespoons prepared mustard 1 tablespoon mustard seed

Mix all ingredients. Simmer 20 minutes. Boil 3 minutes. Pour, boiling hot, into hot jars; seal at once.

Aunt Lula's Spiced Grapes

8 cups grapes 4 to 5 cups sugar 1 teaspoon cinnamon 1 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon alispice 1 cup vinegar

Wash, stem and measure grapes. Press to separate grapes from skins. Cook skins until tender in just enough water to prevent sticking. Cook grapes in own juice to loosen seed, then press through sieve. Mix all ingredients. Cook until mixture almost, but not quite, sheets from side of metal spoon, as in jelly test. Pour, boiling hot, into hot justs seed at once.
