Tex Says He's No Expert But He Believes lke Is

The other night a bunch of us were sitting around in the drug store after the football game, drinking coffee and talking. You know how it is after a game in a small town, especially after the home team loses. Nearly every man in the crowd had a theory as to why we didn't win the game. Most of them, of course, blamed the coach. I couldn't help remembering that before we consolidated the county schools we didn't even have enough boys to make up a football experts who were saying what. Rockne or Bud Wilkinson would have done, up until a few years ago they didn't know a football from a watermelon.

But that's the way it is in a small town (and in big ones, too, I understand). I guess there's no real harm done, although sometimes it's pretty rough on the coach.

I guess we have a right, in this free country, to be self-appointed experts in any time we want to free country, to be self-appointed experts in any line we want to pick out. It seems to me that most people choose either football or politics.

Take this presidential election coming up next Tuesday: During the last few weeks I have heard so many stories and theories from the last few weeks I have heard so many stories and theories from so many different political experts that I nearly get confused sometimes. I have to stop and think that the fellow who is talking probably doesn't know any more about it than I do, and that helps me keep straightened out.

In fact, I guess I have had my mind made up all along. To make no bones about it, I like Ike.
He's a man you can always look up to and respect—the kind of

Strickland's Cleaners Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Strickland

This is truely "it" for Whiteface. The last big hurdle before being able to claim the District Crown. Unbeaten in District play, Wilson could be tough - but we're betting on the Antelopes - and pulling for them to win. As for Bula, this should be a breather - if there s such a thing -Win this one, Bulldogs and then worry about the two yet to come. For Three Way and Morton, the end of a dissappointing season is in sight. There's little hope for titles but that's no reason for letting down. Each have two games they can win, and by doing so, each can still be a vital factor in determining the final outcome of their Dist-rict races. C'mon Morton, let's beat Springlake and really give the league something to talk about. Three Way gets a rest this weekend-
