SMALL BUSINESS

According to reports from across the country, the business picture has been a greater disappointment than the U. S.

This is perhaps natural in view of the fact that so much of the goods sold in the U. S. are Canadian in origin.

And even though there are complaints across the border of slow business, it is significant to attempt to see how far we have come up since through the vicissitudes of these years.

Think it is of great interest to everyone, as everyone is vitally affected by newspapers, that Sen. William Brewster, Wisconsin, has introduced a bill in Congress to give the Small Business Administration sufficient funds to set up a pilot test plant or making newspaper out of low grade hardwood from the state of Wisconsin, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Sen. Brewster pointed out that in the state alone, almost half of the land, or somewhat over 20 million acres is covered with hardwood with the other 80 million acres in the form of pulpwood. The Forest Service has found that this low grade material makes good newspaper.

He also points out that besides building a workable industry and source of employment in these states, sources of such a measure would be a good substitute for the pulpwood from Canada.

It is not the intent of his bill to put the government into the paper business. Rather, it is merely that government set up and operate for a limited time a pilot test plant to prove that such a low grade hardwood, but that such an operation is practical. Private enterprise would then enter into this industry.

Success of such a project would probably open the doors to entirely new competitive forces in the vital newspaper industry. At present, some of the plants of the industry, being business as usual, are heavily invested in Canadian operations and thus are practically immune to Canadian multiplicity.

About two years ago the Senate Small Business Committee made a very searching inquiry into the newspaper situation and concluded until smaller independent news is relieved of reliance on imported newsprint, traditional American sources of a free press would always be in danger.

In addition, the study pointed out, as practically every province, the newspaper, newspaper, furnished the only economical and practical advertising medium for independent business.

Local Tire Dealer Cautions Drivers As Memorial Day Week-end Approaches

Carlton Luper of Luper Tire Service this week urged drivers of the area to think of the questions asked of all drivers in the current issue of the firm's "Watch Up and Live" booklet before starting out on the 3-day Memorial Day week-end.

Some of the questions are:

Do you adjust seat and rear-view mirror before starting car?

Do you drive at reasonable speeds — at or below speed limit if weather and road conditions are good, slower if they are not?

Do you keep in right lane if driving slowly on highway?

Do you stay one car length behind the car in front of you for every 10 mph of your speed?

Do you pass cars on curves or near crest of a hill?

Do you signal properly when you want to turn, stop, slow down or pass?

Do you "jump" a red light and try to get away before the other driver?

When your car is on the left entering an intersection, do you yield to the car on the right?

At night, do you use low-beams

New York—What does an epicure—or nutritionist—eat for breakfast when just about anything can be ordered? Pictured above are three food perfectionists who attended the March meeting of the New York Gourmet Society in the Brevoort restaurant. Left to right: Mrs. William H. Sebrell, Jr.; Dr. William Sebrell, Jr., of Columbia University's School of Public Health and Administrative Medicine; and J. George Frederick, president of the Gourmet Society.

Seven members of the Society attended the breakfast, and they didn't hold back with knives, forks and spoons. What is the menu for people with "discriminating tastes?"

The Gourmet Society breakfast started with fruit juice. Then came small hot corn muffins, enriched white bread toast, hot sweet rolls, special rye, small Danish, and whole grain bread. The enriched white bread toast was topped with marmalade and cottage cheese, served side by side.

Then came scrambled egg combinations. The first was prepared with sturgeon and mushrooms, the second with smoked salmon and the third with English kidneys. Pinner haddie also was on the menu.

For the heartier appetites, there was chicken à la king, broiled lamb kidneys, and steaksburgers. Toasted coffee cake and French pastries completed the meal.

This is admittedly not the breakfast the average American family can consider, but the nutritionists point out that even the gourmets are aware of complete nutrition in their meals and that they recognize the vital importance of a good breakfast.

Boiled to simple basics, the Gourmet Society breakfast followed the recommended nutritional pattern for breakfast—juice, cereal, toast, breakfast meat, eggs and beverage.

Mrs. G. C. Kieth of Whiteface, Mrs. Joe Sutton and Mrs. D. A. Ramsey from the Lady Fair Home Demonstration Club, and Mrs. L. Z. Seagins from the Friendly Circle Club attended the training meeting on Consumer Credit last Friday afternoon.

STRAWBERRY PRESERVES

1 pound prepared strawberries
¾ pound sugar

Sprinkle sugar over fruit; cook immediately. Bring to a boil for 10 minutes. Stir to prevent scorching. Pour into a flat pan and let stand about 8 hours or overnight.

Drain berries. Fill hot, sterilized jars three fourths full of the preserved fruit. If syrup is thin, boil until thick or to the desired consistency. Pour enough hot syrup over the fruit to fill the jar to ¼ inch of the top. Cover with hot paraffin; seal at once.

CUTWORM CONTROL

This is the season for cutworm damage in the garden.

There are three insecticide dusts commonly used to control cutworms—they are (1) a 5 percent DDT dust, (2) 10 percent Chlordane dust and (3) 20 percent Toxaphene dust.

In applying these insecticides a method commonly used in the home garden is to open the row where we want to plant just a little deeper than normal.

Then take the garden dust gun and dust the furrow bottom and the sides with one of the insecticides. Then with a rake pull the soil back into the furrow until it is filled to the desired depth to plant the seeds. Then the seeds are planted and when they are covered this gives them a protective zone from the cutworms. It may be necessary to dust around the plants after they get some growth on them to control the cutworms later.

Tomatoes and Pepper plants are easy prey for the cutworms. Before putting out the plants work up an area about one square foot around where the tomatoes or other plants are to be set out. Then dust around the plants after you have set them out to control the cutworms.

Cutworms can destroy a garden in just a few days. Leaflet L-255, "Guide for Controlling Insects on Vegetable Crops in Texas" can be very helpful. It can be picked up at this office.

TROUBLE WITH TOMATOES

Each summer, when the weather becomes hot, there are many complaints from home gardeners stating that their tomato plants have been blooming "like a house afire," but are setting few, if any, fruit. This condition seems to be general over a wide section of the state. Very often there has been a period of excessive rainfall which prevented many of the blossoms from setting. These conditions are usually followed by extremely high temperatures, plus hard winds, which cause tomato plants to shed a high percent of their blossoms.

The ideal temperature range for fruit setting on the tomato is between 70 and 85 degrees. Anytime the temperature goes above 90 degrees and stays there any length of time there is not much possibility of setting many tomato fruits on such standard varieties as Rutgers, Marglobe, Pritchard, Stokes, Jalo, etc. These varieties have a

Blankets treated in this way are soft and fluffy... some shrinkage was noted (depending on the combination of fibres used to make up the blanket)... Clothes temperature in the dryer used for the tests was 175 degrees F. on the HIGH setting.

MOST FAMILIES USE CREDIT

How much did you charge to your accounts last month? The average customer came closer to $100 than to $10; according to Mrs. Eula Newman, extension home management specialist.

Debt can be constructive or destructive depending upon your credit capacity and management. It would not be wise to mortgage needed income tomorrow, next month or next year to satisfy pleasures and comforts that are to be consumed today. A fine durable product gives good service far beyond the last payment date may be worth the extra charge for credit.

Many young families have taught themselves to save by buying on the installment plan. Planned spending is the secret to sound use of credit. There are advantages and disadvantages in using credit.

Paying cash for little things, paying when the bill is due, limiting the number of accounts will make for smoother financial sailing.

Try to keep charge accounts under control. The amount of credit you can use depends largely on capacity to meet financial commitments; the prospect of continuing employment or income, and assets or capital on hand.

If we learn to use credit wisely it can serve us... otherwise we may become slaves to excessive charge accounts and worry.

Proof of the power is in the performing—and in engine test cells such as this, a new diesel tractor engine has become the star performer before a critical audience. Aided by complex instruments which take the "pulse" of its forged steel crankshaft, measure its meager "appetite" for fuel, and check its "acting ability" under punishing loads, this dynamometer laboratory researcher has proved that this new Diesel is so temperamental, caviar-hungry "prima donna". This rugged and compact four-cylinder diesel engine now "is taking the show on the road" under the hoods of a new line of Ford tractors, which are being "billed" as the first U.S.-made Diesels that Ford Motor Company has produced.

Wallpaper Wins Men

With so many of today's new wallpapers reflecting masculine interests, many men have begun to move in on the selection of wallpapers, especially in choosing a paper for the den or family room.
 The paper shown above is just the thing for the man who has a yen for sailing, collecting old marine pictures, ship's models or even boats and jetsam.
 The paper is called "China Trade" and shows ships in full sail skimming across a sea of old gold, while wind-worn buildings and feminine figures wistfully look seaward. These figures are colored in sharp accents of skyblue and Chinese red. Other papers catering to masculine interests show old motor cars, old firearms, rare stamps, tin soldiers, art posters, golf clubs and tennis rackets. According to today's decorating trends, most of these papers should be accompanied by textured wallpapers on adjacent walls and ceilings.

It's the law

(The following is a release prepared by the State Bar of Texas.)
 Vacation time is near. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. STOP! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.
 2. RENDER AID. If anyone is injured: (1) Render first aid. (2) Stop bleeding. (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both. (4) Do not move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injuries.

3. Protect the Scene from FURTHER DAMAGE. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers unless these are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night have someone turn his headlights beams on the wrecked vehicles.
 4. CALL AN OFFICER. Police-men, Highway Patrolmen, Sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.

5. GATHER INFORMATION ... write it down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess—be specific. Measure skid marks. Stop off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the other driver—and he must do the same.

6. Be Careful What You Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that the other driver was equally at fault or more so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.

7. See Your Doctor if there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.

8. Consult Your Lawyer immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protect your rights. He can obtain statements from the witnesses while their memories are fresh, and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Get your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews or statements to investigators or adjusters for the other side.

 9. Inform Your Insurance Company Promptly. Failure to do so may void your policy.
 10. Report the Accident to the Department of Public Safety. This is required by law if there is any injury, death, or total damages exceed $25.00.
 An official accident report form may be procured from the Police, Sheriff's Dept. Highway Patrol, or State Dept. of Public Safety. (This column based on Texas law, is written to inform, not to advise. No person should apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

INSECTS
When cotton has been up 3 to 5 weeks it's time to start early season control for thrips and fleahoppers. Three applications of insecticides at weekly intervals will do the job as far as setting fruit for the bottom crop. This is the most important crop.

Thrip and fleahopper control is not a very costly operation, as the insecticide will not cost over 60 to 75 cents per application per acre. This is good insurance. Why? . . . well, in 1954 the $2.00 spent per acre for 3 applications paid off $101 per acre. It paid off $52 per acre in 1955 at the experiment station. In 1956 it did not pay, but now it's $2.00 per acre cost compared with $50.00 to $100.00 per acre increase. Those two years, 1954 & 1955 early season control paid for about 75 years cost of insecticides at $2.00 per acre. That's what they mean when they say it's good insurance.

It has been reported in this area that both "spring tails" (Collemboles) and thrips are attacking the cotton in this district. Observation in the most indicate that collemboles damage occurred when the cotton was in the "crotch" stage before the plants emerged. Little damage occurred from "spring tail" attack after the plants emerge to a stand. (That's eating holes in leaves in or out of the soil.)

In fields where damage is apparent and chemical control is needed, suggest tomatophene at 1 1/2 pounds per acre be used. The best control can be obtained with ground machines; however, it is recognized that it is a dangerous procedure to disturb certain types of soil during this period (early). If airplanes are used suggest that the dosage be increased 50 percent.

New grasshoppers are found in all fields in dangerous numbers too. All eyes to be trained on this pest too. Cotton may disappear overnight when the grass and weeds dry up or get touched. As long as no cotton is eaten, hold up the operation until you begin your early season control about June 15. The same insecticide that gets the thrips and fleahoppers will get Mr. Grasshopper, too. If eating by the grasshopper begins sooner, then don't wait. It does take more dosage to kill the grasshopper than it does the fleahopper.

Close into the County Agent's office and ask for cotton insect guide L-23 for 1958.

Here is the grasshopper insecticide and dosage:

DUST
A. Dieldrin, 2 1/2 pct., 15 lbs. per A.
B. Aldrin, 2 1/2 pct., 15 lbs. per A.
C. Heptachlor, 5 pct., 15 lbs. per A.
D. Toxaphene 20 pct., 15 lbs. per A.
SPRAY

A. Dieldrin (1.5 lbs. per gal.), 1 pt. per acre.
B. Aldrin (2 lbs. per gal.) 1 pt. to 2 pts. per acre.
C. Heptachlor (2 lbs. per gal.) 1 pt. to 2 pts. per acre.
D. Toxaphene (6 lbs. per gal.) 1 to 2 qts. per acre.

Either of the above insecticides applied at the recommended dosage will get Thrips, fleahopper, & grasshopper. Let's be ready for the grasshoppers, and recommend all cotton farmers do the early season control to set the lower crop.

4-H ROUNDUP THEME

It is noted this year, the theme of the 4-H Round-Up and the activities to follow in the counties will be "Learn today — Lead tomorrow." The estimated attendance for the round-up this year is 2,200 with 4-H members making up the majority. Many friends, agents, leaders and parents will be there.

PRICE SPREAD

Farmers are looking up the tab for six billion dollars a year worth of "multi service" built into many foods consumers buy — other folks call this "price spread." In 1956 says USDA, we spent $53 billion for against only $15 billion in 1940. Of this big bulge $6 billion went for things we did not get 17 years ago. These fancy items include pre-packed and ready to cook foods, frozen vegetables, meats and pies, and complete frozen meals. Meanwhile the farmers share of the food dollar is about 39 cents less than he got in 1940 prior to the gadget food services.

What does "price spread" mean to you. It is the difference between what the farmer receives for his raw product and the price paid by the consumer at the grocery store. Price spread is payment for a number of essential services and processes necessary to bring food from the farm to the consumer, including research, manufacturing, transportation, wholesaling and retailing.

This process could mean the adding of conveniences as transferring of the meal preparation from the kitchen to the manufacturing plant. Example, a pint and one half of orange juice made from frozen concentrate costs about 20 cents. Squeezed at home from fresh oranges, the cost is about double.

In 1946 consumers paid $767 for the food basket. In 1957, they paid $1010.00 an increase of $243.00. In 1946, farmers received $397.00 for raw farm products entering the market basket. In 1957, they received $400.00 or an increase of only $3.00.

The price spread rose from $370 in 1946 to $610 in 1957, an increase of $240.

The price spread rise from 1946 to 1957 was due to: higher cost, up $130; higher transportation, up $33; higher federal tax on food processors and distributors, up $4; and higher business expense, up $69.

To sum it all up, spread is equal to research plus manufacturing plus transportation, plus wholesaling, plus retailing.

Taxes, transportation and labor, account for 75 percent of the spread since 1946, according to the Grocery Manufacturers of America.

HOG PRICES DOING WELL

Hog prices previously ticketed light record the first few months. Prices climbed above 20 per pound and early in the year and are likely to stay above that figure until early or mid-summer. Their decline this fall will not be severe.

Why this is true: (1) Hogs slaughtered in recent months came from small pig crops of 1957. The spring crop of 1957 was down 3 percent and the year's total was down 1 pct. (2) Much of the pig crop of last fall is going into larger retention of sows and gilts for 1958. (3) Lack of a stable supply (4) Beef supplies have been reduced (5) Hog production is on the uptrend and will continue. The 1958 spring crop is larger than the 1957 spring crop and this fall's crop will also show again.

Furthermore the spring rise in farrowing is being confined to the in 10 states increased their Dec., Jan. and Feb. farrowing, but planned only one percent increase in farrowing in March, April and May, normally the bigger farrowing months.

Hence marketings will be up from last year in the late summer and early fall than later in the fall marketing season. Hog prices late this fall may not be very far below a year earlier. The 10 states reporting above also report a 13 per cent increase in farrowing in June, July, and August. The danger of over expansion has not vanished.

Cotton seedling discloses during 1952 1956 caused an annual reduction of 2.17 percent of the potential Texas cotton crop of $15,000,000 loss each year. Research in Texas and at other locations across the cotton belt shows that the practice of mixing certain fungicides with the soil surrounding and covering the seed will substantially reduce seedling disease losses.

The objective of the fungicide treatment is to mix the chemical with the soil from the seed level to the soil surface in a band 3/4 inch to 2 inches wide to produce a treated area through which the seedling will grow. A gradual filling of the seed furrow tends to give a better mixing action of the soil and chemical and gives a more desirable mixing in the critical zone. It is important that the top 3/4 inch of the soil be treated since the post emergence damping off and "sore sun phase is generally more active in this area.

Effective treatments can be done by using fungicides in the form of dusts or sprays, irrespective of the method of application, following seed furrow opening and closing adjustments are necessary for adequate coverage.

The planter should be equipped with V wings of sufficient width to control the flow of soil past the furrow opener.

For further information write to Dr. R. D. Lewis, Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas & request a copy of Progress Report No. 2003 "Fungicides mixed in the covering soil at planting for cotton seedling disease control."

Remember the use of the narrow bottom opener is essential since it restricts the seed of the middle of the area to be treated. Where a seed press wheel is used the maand behind the press wheel to get satisfactory distribution.

Baseball Tilts Set For Sunday

In an effort to allow full use of the Babe Ruth - Softball field at the County Park, so that there will be no conflict as to who has the field scheduled, managers wanting games on the field are urged to stop by the concession stand on the nights games are being played or on Sunday afternoons, and see Hank Zielinski, or to phone 4586 to reserve the field for a game.

Under present plans the field will be in use on Mondays, Tuesday, Thursdays and Fridays for softball and Babe Ruth League play.

Next Sunday afternoon, a game will be played on the diamond to allow immediately after the first.
