Hub King of Brownfield, District Farm Bureau Director Will Speak Tonight at Annual Farm Bureau Meeting

Area II State Farm Bureau Director H. L. (Hub) King will be the speaker tonight when the Cochran County Farm Bureau meets in the Banquet Room of the County Activities Building at 8:00 p.m.

The occasion is the annual membership meeting at which officers are elected by the membership and policies favored by the local farmers are adopted for reporting to the coming state Farm Bureau meeting. It is perhaps the most important meeting of the year for members and they are urged to be on hand to express opinions and to ask whatever questions both the

2-AA Favorite, Abernathy, Is Indian Out-of-Town Opponent Friday

The team picked by most area grid fans and followers as the top Class AA team in District 2AA, and perhaps the top Class AA team in the Panhandle, Abernathy's Indians, will provide the opposition Friday as Morton's short-handed grid team opens its 2AA slate on Friday night.

Abernathy, unlike Plains, and Farwell, and even Sundown, is a natural enemy. They have no cause to remember past defeats and dream about "peering it on" the weakened Indians. For this reason, it should be a better game from the standpoint of both the fans and the schools. It won't be the first meeting between the two schools. In years gone by Morton met Abernathy several times, though it will be Morton's first venture into any AA athletic competition.

It won't be what you could call fun for Morton. With only about 15 boys, give or take a couple, in physical condition to play, the Indians are probably just as overmatched as they have been. And yet, with the courage and determination they have displayed in most of their previous games this year, they could give the overconfident Antelones a scare — if not an upset.

The game will be played on the Antelones' field and will be one of four district encounters. Abernathy is considered almost a shoo-in for the Class 2-AA title over Lockney, Olton, Mulshoe and Morton. Mulshoe is the only team rated much of a chance to pull off the big upset. However, as is always the case in a small conference of four or five teams, one upset victory over the kingpin could throw the race into a real jumble — often only settled by the flip of a coin or drawing of straws.

Hospital Vote Is Called

Two highly important items of business were passed upon by the Cochran County Commissioner's Court Monday, but the official minutes were unavailable for the exact wording of the action.

by the Tribune late Wednesday, were to have a legal notice published in this edition of the Tribune concerning the election. The legal did not arrive and the Tribune publishers began to have some question as to whether or not there was sufficient time by law, to publish the legal notice and still set the election date for November 4th.

The minutes, kept in the meeting by a member of the Court, hadn't been given to the County Clerk yet, so the Tribune correspondent was unable to check the minutes.

To resolve this question in their minds they called Judge Stockdale who said over the phone, Wednesday, he had been preparing the legal notice and discovered there could be no legality to it. It had to be published 20 days prior to the called election. Therefore, he determined the election would be more of a poll or straw vote, rather than a legal vote.

One of the important items of business was the setting by the Court of November 4th, General Election Day as the date of a referendum vote by the people of Cochran County as to whether they would like to see the hospital leased out or run by the county.

Reasons for setting the election on the 4th were twofold:

The Court called the election after being presented with a petition signed by approximately 140 persons, asking for the vote.

(1) to save the expense of a special election by having it coincide with the date of the General Election.

The vote is not a mandatory thing. It is simply a method of ascertaining the wishes of the people concerning the hospital. The Court has the legal right to leave it out or continue running it as a County Hospital.

(2) to get a better vote out under the theory that more people will turn out to vote in the General Election than would turn out at a special election.

Nevertheless they felt they would like to have an opinion on how the people felt at this time.

The most important item of action was the acceptance of the resignation of the County Health Nurse, Mrs. Bob Cross, and the abolishing of the office by the Court.

The Court also passed on monthly bills.

The reason for this action stemmed from the fact that Morton Schools had hired a full time Health Nurse early this month, and according to the Commissioner consulted the Court felt there was not sufficient need for the office to bear the expense of it.

The Jessie R. Bond American Legion Post 374 will hold its regular meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock at the Veteran's Hall.

 synopsis of "Flower Chronicles", delightful wisps of history.

Mrs. England donated this book to

For her review Mrs. England chosen "The Great Charles of An-product of the silversmith's art up in 1910 by Arab workmen in the has been proven as First Century craftsmanship. It is the opinion of

World's Fair Medal Winner, 1959 Ford Goes on Display Dealer Showrooms Everywhere, Friday, October 17

1959 Ford car line, which also has received an award at the Brussels World's Fair for styling excellence, will go on display at dealerships, including Mahan Motor Company in Morton, on Friday, October 17, J. O. Wright, Ford Company vice president and regional general manager, announced today.

The 1959 Ford car line is new in concept, new in style," Mr. Wright said. "The 1959 styling theme is a result of consumer demand for more elegance and more automotive styling as well as for gaudiness or extreme styling.

In addition to Ford engines that were engineered for greater economy, Ford offers quality construction and a new Fordomatic transmission with fewer parts than in 1958, Wright said.

Every piece of body sheet metal on the 1959 Ford has been changed for the good taste of the Thunderbird — America's most successfully styled car. The Thunderbird's crisp, but lines have given the Ford a formal quality and the impression of a bigger, heavier car without the addition of bulk," Mr. Wright added.

Ford's 1959 styling earned the plaudits of the noted fashion authority the Comité Français de l'Élégance, which, for the first time in history, bestowed a gold medal for styling on an American automobile at the close of the Brussels international exposition.

The 1959 Ford engines offer greater operating economy and improved engine performance in the normal driving ranges, 30 to 70 miles per hour. Ford recommends regular grade gasoline in all standard engines, which can result in a saving of up to one dollar a tank full. These benefits have been achieved in part by a slight horsepower reduction.

Mr. Wright said every 1959 Ford is "quality - designed," a term

Ford engineers use to define the emphasis placed on quality in the basic design of the car, starting from the drawing board stage. The result is a simplified design where possible, elimination of unnecessary parts as in the case of the new transmission, and more durable parts, such as Ford's new extended-life muffler and Diamond Lustre finish, an enamel that requires no waxing for the lifetime of the car.

Supporting the "quality design" program is a "quality built" philosophy, that centers on Ford's recently dedicated Quality Control Center at Allen Park, Mich., where 1959 models were assembled on a pilot line months before introduction to be sure that each part met all engineering specifications and assembly requirements.

The 1959 Ford line includes 17 models ranging from the Custom 300's, which are six inches longer than in 1958, through the six station wagon models, to the Fairlane and Fairlan 500's. Station wagon length has been increased more than five inches; cargo area is eight inches longer and cargo space is 11 cubic feet more than in last year's models. All 1959 Fords will be on a 118-inch wheelbase and will have an overall length of 208 inches.

Windshield area has been increased 280 square inches, or 29 percent over 1958 Ford models.

With its refined engines, Ford is introducing a new version of the Fordomatic transmission. The 1959 Fordomatic, a two-speed automatic transmission, has eliminated the need for 105 parts, which with the use of aluminum for the transmission case and bell housing, has reduced the total Fordomatic transmission weight by 50 pounds, or 22.8 percent.

Ford's four modern engines combine efficiency, durability and economy with the added customer savings resulting from quick and easy servicing. The full-flow oil filter, standard equipment on all 1959 engines, permits Ford to recommend an oil change only every 4,000 miles, resulting in further savings to the customer.

Shown in a picturesque Brussels World's Fair setting is a 1959 Ford Sunliner convertible. Ford offers two convertibles in 1959: the soft-top Sunliner and the retractable hardtop Skyliner. Ford's tasteful styling theme in 1959 is a result of consumer demand for more elegance and dignity, as opposed to gaudiness or extremism. In the background is the Atomium, prominent landmark at the Brussels World's Fair.

Fresh air by mechanical dampers instead of modulating the water temperature in the heater core, thus maintaining a constant temperature even when car speed is changed.

Ford engineers have improved the already superior quality of the 1959 Ford with a new, light-type, rubber-bushed ride, specially designed to reduce road noise, and reworked shock absorbers for a smoother, easier ride.

The 1959 Ford with new Diamond Lustre finish, a super enamel that doesn't require waxing, is available in a wide selection of solid and two-tone exterior colors, color-keyed to match the interior upholstery.

The 1959 Ford aluminum muffler is designed to last twice as long as conventional types. It is standard on all models. Use of aluminum-coated walls and heads to resist corrosion, a double-thick inner shell, and an asbestos wrapping between the inner and outer casings results in a slower condensation rate, less corrosion and, consequently, longer muffler life.

A new foot-operated parking brake, affording more convenience and knee room for the driver, is released with an easy-to-operate tip-down handle.

The safety concept of "padding the passenger" against injury, which Ford introduced to the industry, includes as standard features the extra-rugged, six-cross member frames with wide-flared side rails, safety door locks and the Lifeguard steering wheel. Safety seat belts, padded instrument panel and padded sun visors are available as optional equipment. Laminated safety glass, which Ford pioneered, is used in the windshield and side windows. The roof is strongly supported at the four corners and reinforced by channel-section cross bars.

Its classic new design was awarded the Gold Medal of the Comité Français de l'Élégance at the Brussels World's Fair! With new Thunderbird flavor in each lively line and tastefully new interiors, these 59 Fords are beautifully proportioned for elegant driving.

Power, performance and economy are served up in new proportions, too. All standard Ford engines—Six or Thunderbird V-8—thrive on regular gasoline at regular prices. You save up to 5 cents on each gallon! There's a new aluminum muffler that normally will last twice as long as conventional mufflers used on other cars... full-flow oil filtration that lets you change oil at 4000 miles instead of the 1000 often recommended... new Tyrex cord tires for greater economy and safety... a brilliant new Diamond Lustre Baked Enamel Finish that's so durable you won't have to wax it ever... and two new economy power-transmission teams that will bring you savings automatically. That's why we say, for '59, Ford is truly a masterpiece of underpricing!

NEW economy team Number One! Get all the high performance of a completely new Fordomatic Drive teamed with a Six or Thunderbird V-8—at a price that puts automatic driving within everyone's car budget. It's a simplified Fordomatic with nearly 1/3 fewer parts. NEW economy team Number Two! Miller, whose oral resignation they accepted. They discussed possible names for the vacancy but refrained from voting until the man in question could be contacted, and until one other Board member could be on hand for the meeting.

President Pegues Houston was in charge of the meeting and all Board members except Raymond Ross were on hand.

Minutes were read for the last two previous meetings at which a Tribune representative was not on hand. Important items of business included in the meetings were:

On September 8, the money in the Senior Class Fund of the Activity Fund was to be given to the class to be used at their own discretion. Barnes said, after this action was completed, the Seniors no longer have any money in the Activity Fund.

On September 19, at a Special meeting, a bid by Lubbock Christian College in the amount of $650 was accepted for two buses, a 1947 Chevrolet and a 1952 GMC.

All bids on the Negro school property were refused and another notice was placed in the Tribune with new bids to be opened at 11 a.m. on September 27th.

On September 27th, a bid by Hub Cadenhead and Max Bowers, in the amount of $1,225 was accepted for the property as advertised in the Tribune, 1/2 block 19 of City of Morton and two building on the property.

Bills for the month of September were approved in the amount of $5,266.59 for local maintenance and $1,139.53 for transportation.

Among the major items was a bill from the firm of Clifford, Blanchard, Somers, Moore for $722.14 which Mr. Barnes said represented 15 per cent of delinquent taxes the firm aided in collecting.

Other items discussed, in addition to the future appointment of another Board member and the discussion about the nurse, included a request for Mr. Barnes to look into the possibility of having a pay telephone installed on school premises, and a discussion on efforts to place one member of the staff under Social Security status.

Once again the Board was assured by Mr. Barnes that school buildings are open at 8 a.m. for those students who have to arrive early. However, Mr. Barnes said, the students must go to certain rooms and study if they are admitted early.

Research: A Key to Medical Progress

The next time you are in a drug store, take note of the hundreds of drug preparations lining the shelves. These are only a fraction of the great number of medicines available to you through the doctor and pharmacist.

The United States enjoys the best medical care in the world, and much of the credit for this belongs to our pharmaceutical companies, large and small, who research, develop and produce the life-saving medicines.

Seventy per cent of the prescriptions written today are for products which didn't even exist less than a decade ago. Without research, we would still be using herbs, nostrums and potions of yesteryear.

A very large part of all medical research is carried on by the pharmaceutical companies. It is estimated that the pharmaceutical industry spends upwards of $127 million annually searching for newer and better medicines. Pharmaceutical manufacturers spend about 21.3 per cent of their net profit before taxes on research, compared with 15.3 per cent for the chemical industry as a whole.

What does this money go for? One item: it costs about $75,000 a year to equip and maintain a research scientist. Several large drug makers maintain as many as several hundred research scientists.

After a product is developed and is on the market, efforts to improve it continue. So do efforts to find methods for less expensive production, which will help bring the price down. An example of this is penicillin. Soon after this product went into production in the early '40s, it was very expensive and world production made enough to treat only 400 patients. Before the decade ended, the American pharmaceutical industry was producing enough penicillin each year to treat 570,000,000 patients, and the price had declined 90 per cent. Unknown to most people, millions are spent every year by the pharmaceutical companies just to insure high quality, purity of materials and accuracy of dosage, among other things. Nothing is ever left to chance. What are the chances of finding a new drug? From the hundreds of thousands of compounds screened and tested last year, only 400 new products were placed on the market. In the case of a broad-spectrum antibiotic, 55 scientists screened 100,000 soil samples, taking two and a half years and $4 million, before finding one that was good enough to market. Of the 5,000 analgesics discovered, only eight are in common use. Who benefits from all this expense and effort? The public does, for in the final analysis we cannot place a price tag on life and good health.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Probably nothing in current policy confuses the average citizen more than the fact that the United States is engaged in trading with Russia.

The Department of Commerce licenses exports to nations behind the Iron Curtain. But while trade with Russia is fine, it is tabu with Red China, which seems quite a paradox.

In a current report for the second quarter of 1958, Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks reported that export licenses to the Iron Curtain totalled $5.6 million, up slightly from the first quarter total of $5.2 million.

Most of the exports in the field of machinery, chemicals, tobacco and soy bean oil. While Poland, East Germany and others were recipients, 25% or more went directly into Russia.

But in addition, Russia probably gained a much more valuable commodity... good old American dollars.

Because the report continues, in the first two months of 1958 American imports from the Iron Curtain nations totalled $9.4 million as against export licenses granted to ship into these countries of slightly over $5 million for a three month period.

Thus, Communist imports to this nation are running almost twice as much as they are exporting. This may explain how Communism acquires dollars to carry on worldwide propaganda.

And it is also interesting, in view of the fact that this year the U. S. is showing the biggest farm surplus ever, to note what comprises these communist exports to the U. S.

A large part of the exports are in the form of canned cooked hams and shoulders from Poland. Probably if there is anything not needed for the welfare of American farmer right now, it is foreign pork products.

Cameras from East Germany are another item, plus furs from Russia.

Yet for some reason, perhaps only known to Dulles and The Almighty, trade with Red China is absolutely verboten. But trade with Russia flourishes.

And this is posed a pretty question. In a China where hunger is not unknown, would there be a ready market for U. S. farm surplus?

Of course, there still remains the question of the propriety of trading with any communists, but it seems that trade with European communists is fine; but forbidden with Oriental communists.

Of course, according to all reports, the British Crown Colony at Hong Kong does a nice business trading with Red China.

But one thing should bring joy to Midwest corn and hog farmers. They should be very pleased to learn that while they are taxed to defend against communists, their American market is getting plenty of canned pork from the communists.

Sundown Whips Battered Indian Gridgers, 23 to 6;

Despite two major injuries which for the duration of the game at least cut the bench strength to three men, the Morton Indians won a full measure of victory Friday night at Sundown by a score of 23-6.

The Indians, vastly out-guessed, were unable to cope with the driving power of fullback Bo Sessums blowing behind a hard charging line. The combination ate hearty holes in the Morton line and chewed up considerable yardage for a score of touchdowns.

It was an original Morton mistake that started the Roughnecks to their first score of the game. The first kick of the game for the Indians rolled off the side of the kickers foot, and Sundown had the ball in Morton's end of the field without a struggle.

Thereafter they used three first downs and 14 plays in covering the remaining yardage for the touchdown and adding the point after.

The Necks and Morton each tallied one more time before the end of the half and Morton was still in striking distance at the halfway juncture though they had lost the valuable defensive services of end H. L. Hanna whose elbow was battered by a foot as he made a tackle midway in the first half.

In the second half it was mostly a case of real guts and stamina for the Indians to hold the Roughnecks to a single touchdown and if anything, the Indians played the socks off the Sundowners in the second half.

True enough, Sundown did not come up with the great teams that have been their trademark for the past 10 years. They ran a few of their basic plays well but did not play inspired ball — not even what one could call good ball. But the play did manage to injure Hanna & a plucky pair of linemen, Mervyn Garthright and Eugene Tarlton. And, as Coach Alexander put it, the one thing we didn't go over to Sundown for was to have any more injuries. But that's the way it just seems to happen sometimes.

Young Matrons Hear Reports On City Government, Local Schools

The Young Matrons' Junior Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Dexter Nebhut, Thursday, October 9th.

The president, Mrs. Lowell Webb called the meeting to order, called for the reading of the roll and the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Biddy Hanna.

The treasurer, Mrs. Ruel Kelly, gave a report on the club's finances.

One of the club's projects for the year is the Nurses Junior Auxiliary. Several High School girls have enrolled and are working one day each at the local hospital. The local club is proud of this start.

Further plans were discussed to go to Lubbock and to tour the Lubbock School of Nursing, Oct. 23. All the members are looking forward to this trip. Mrs. Bill Lee is to be the chairman for the club.

A very interesting report was made by Mrs. Sammy Leavritt on the District Meeting which was held at Lubbock on October 9th at which Waggoner Carr was guest speaker. He gave an interesting speech on Texas. Also appearing as a guest speaker was Ben, Carson Mahon.

Morton was well represented at the meeting by five women, members of the various study clubs.

The highlight of the evening meeting was the program for the evening. Mrs. Roy Tarver, Jr. had the program and it was entitled "SEARCHING OUR COMMUNITY — THE HEALTH GOVERNMENT AND SCHOOLS." She had two guest speakers, Mayor Roy Tarver, Jr. and Supt. of the Morton Schools John Barnes.

Dr. Bill Lee was to have been a speaker also, but was detained at the hospital.

Mayor Roy Tarver, Jr. gave an interesting talk about city government. He discussed many things in which he felt improve the city — for instance, the paving of the streets, if the citizens wish.

His talk enabled the club to find out a great deal about city government.

Supt. Barnes gave a most enjoyable talk of the schools, saying the schools have improved a lot and that they have no serious problems now. He commented on the fact that in the near future there will probably be a ten month school year.

The club wishes everyone could have heard the talk, so they would appreciate the wonderful teachers and the fine job they are doing.

The club was adjourned and delicious refreshments were served to Mesdames Bill Bridge, Bill Gandy, Biddy Hanna, Weldon Hill, Ruel Kelly, Sammy Leavritt, Kenneth McMaisters, Steve Monroe, Jerry Winder, Kenneth Watts, Lowell Webb, Roy Tarver, Jr., and the hostess, Mrs. Dexter Nebhut.

Alan Ladd wishes Ernest Borgnine and Katy heads back and happens on their new life together in this scene from "The Badlanders." MGM action drama of adventure in the old Arizona Territory.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

By C. WILSON HARDE

In the coming elections in many areas the so-called "right to work" issue is a hot one.

It is not without significance that the nation's independent businessmen, in a nationwide poll just completed of the membership of the National Federation of Independent Business, found 85% in favor of laws prohibiting the closed shop, only 13% against such prohibitions, C. W. Harde, and 2% expressing no opinion.

Labor leaders, claim unless everyone is forced to belong to the union, there are some who would reap benefits gained through organized effort with no support on their part.

That is probably true. To paraphrase a well known passage, it is fitting to say, "Yes, verily, the free leaders will be with us until the end of our days."

For example, in any given community, it is actually only a handful of citizens who fight for better schools, libraries, roads, improvements that benefit all. In fact, in this nation, despite the priceless heritage of the secret ballot, there is no compulsion on anyone to vote.

Thus, it seems far fetched for labor leaders to assume that they, and they alone, should have such a wide power of compulsion.

It is, of course, much too early to predict outcome of "right to work" measures this November. But it seems obvious public sentiment is on a march toward clean up of labor organizations.

It also seems obvious that with the growth of Big Monopoly business, National Federation of Independent Business

The labor leaders themselves should be bombarding Congress with requests for many reform laws such as the following:

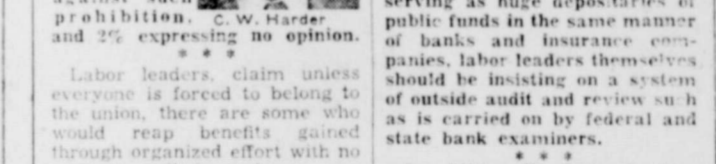

Strict adherence to the principle of the secret ballot and the democratic processes of nominating candidates for office should be one. And inasmuch as unions, with both treasuries from dues and for pension funds, are serving as huge depositories of public funds in the same manner of banks and insurance companies, labor leaders themselves should be insisting on a system of outside audit and review such as is carried on by federal and state bank examiners.

In addition, Big Labor leaders have too long neglected the fact that the major employers of American labor is small, independent business, and thus too many times have tried to impose on independent business the same wages, hours and conditions gained from some giant corporation in a given field.

And it is probably on this latter point that Big Labor has brought down so much public sentiment on its head.

A picket line around a U. S. Steel plant makes headlines, but actually draws little public interest. It's just another big battle between giants.

But when Joe's Sheet Metal Shop on the other side of any small town is picketed just because Joe can't pony up with all the fringe benefits that U. S. Steel has agreed upon, the situation not only gets ludicrous, but in addition, a lot of people get pretty mad. Often the maddest of all are Joe's employees.

Farmer Must Be Jack-of-all Trades; Ag. Teacher Expected to Be Master

by C. D. KNOTT
Teacher of Vocational Agriculture, Morton High School
Vocational Agriculture and the Adult Farmer.

Present-day scientific farming is a very complicated business. It is often said that a farmer must be a businessman, entomologist, agronomist, mechanic, electrician, rural leader, veterinarian, etc. Abilities in these areas are essential in farming.

The high school teacher is expected to be an "expert" in these various areas. But even with his college technical background of training, it is difficult for him to stay abreast of technological changes that are occurring in these various fields. Consequently, teachers are compelled to seek the cooperation of other professional agricultural workers to assist them with their local community educational program in agriculture.

The Texas Education Agency, realizing the importance of providing assistance to high school teachers of vocational agriculture and to adult farmers, recently initiated a program whereby specialists in certain agricultural areas would be available to assist teachers and farmers. The specialists that are presently available are working in entomology farm shop and farm welding. These men are stationed at Texas A & M College. According to E. V. Walton, head of the Department of Agricultural Education at Texas A & M College, these specialists will be joined by others as they are employed.

The teacher of vocational agriculture, then, in addition to furnishing technical assistance to farmers, provides for them the leadership required to obtain assistance from specialists in agriculture. This leadership function makes it possible for farmers to obtain, through the cooperation of the teachers, assistance with farm problems.

At the present time there is not an organized adult program at Morton High School. The work that has been done with adults in the Morton School district has been on an individual basis. And, anytime our assistance is needed you are invited to call on us.

Consideration is being given to the possibilities of forming an adult group. At the present time a survey is being made to determine whether or not there are enough adult farmers in the Morton School District who would like to form such an organization.

The possibilities exist for one of the best adult farmer organizations in the state of Texas. If you would like to see such an organization formed, please contact C. D. Knott at the Agricultural Building of Morton High School, or write to Box 474, Morton.

(Next week Mr. Knott will discuss "Vocational Agriculture and College Preparation.")

Today's the Day, for Chevrolet of 1959; Allsup's Shows Car With the Lines of "A Space - Conscious Age"

A complete styling transformation, along with more safety, comfort and performance, was announced today for the 1959 Chevrolet passenger car line.

The cars which will be displayed at Allsup Chevrolet in Morton, along with nationwide dealer showings on Thursday, October 16, represent one of the most imaginative designs ever to come from the automobile industry.

In shape, and in detail, the new styling reflects the influence of a space-conscious age. Lines sweep rearward in a virtually level plane. Tons are flatter and visibility is dramatically increased.

Appreciably lower, the overall appearance of sleekness is further conveyed by an admirably sculptured frontal area. At the rear, horizontal wings branch out from the center of the deck in a simulation of mobility that might have been conceived on the sands of Cape Canaveral.

While the unusual appearance will draw instant admiration, Chevrolet has not neglected other phases of engineering in its bid to continue the sales popularity registered by the company in 1958.

Here are some of the 1959 mechanical highlights:

A new six-cylinder engine named the Hi-Thrift because of added economy through re-design in valving and carburetion, gives up to 10 per cent more mileage, plus more usable horsepower at normal driving speeds.

Fundamental improvements in coil spring suspension, incorporating specialized controls. Refinements in the optional Level Air suspension to acquire softer, quieter operation.

Larger braking surfaces, benefiting further by flared drums and 27 per cent more lining area provide sure stops, longer life. Tires improved for durability and reduced in rolling resistance through newly developed cords, which run cooler, offer a softer ride and last longer.

A Turboglide transmission of advanced design. One of two automatic transmissions in the 1959 line, the quality of Turboglide has been raised to a new peak.

Easier steering and the inclusion of a second, shock-resistant universal joint. A radiator increased in cooling area. A simplified, more productive electrical system.

In addition to a bold, fresh design, Chevrolet bodies for 1959 excel in comfort and structural unity. An impressive increase in passenger room is exemplified by almost five inches more width in the five and one-half foot front seat. With 20 per cent greater capacity, the trunk has been increased up to 32 cubic feet. Still another example of general commodiousness can be found in station wagons. The cargo space has been lengthened to almost eight feet.

Sedans have been reduced in height one inch; sport models two inches. Through lower body mountings and a new roof configuration, the advantage has been accomplished without sacrifice, and in some cases an actual gain, in headroom. Station wagons are now no higher than the four-foot, eight-inch sedans. Front tread of the car has been broadened 1.5 inches; the rear tread 5 inch. Wheelbase is 119 inches, and the overall length is 210.9 in.

Worthy of particular attention in the new bodies is the introduction of a new acrylic lacquer, a nine-step metal finishing process that adds depth to color and remarkable luster longevity. Under experiment for several years, the new acrylic body surfaces will not require polishing for as much as three years in normal climates.

The Impala line, which won wide acclaim in 1958, has been broadened to include a new 4-door sedan and a 4-door hardtop, in addition to the sport coupe and the convertible.

The Bel Air series is offered in 2 and 4-door sedans.

The Biscayne series, offered in 2 and 4-door sedans and a utility sedan, takes over the lowest price niche formerly occupied by the Delray, now discontinued.

The station wagon series includes 2 and 4-door Brookwoods, a new 4-door Parkwood, a 9-passenger Kingswood and the sumptuous 4-door Nomad. The third seat in the 9-passenger Kingswood faces the rear and may be folded flush with the floor.

All the station wagons feature a rear window which lowers into the tailgate. Also of interest, when the tailgate is open the cargo area in all station wagons is extended to 10 feet.

The two passenger Corvette sport car, also refined and improved, cut the 1959 Chevrolet passenger car line.

Extraordinary visibility characterizes the entire line. Glass now extends into roofs and curves further inward at corners of the body super-structures. Narrow pillars, as well, encourage the feeling of airiness. Typical of increased vision safety is the 4-door sedan. The windshield alone gets 604.7 square inches of glass more than its last year's counterpart and total glass area is 1189.5 square inches more than in 1958 sedan models. The overall visibility area has been increased up to 50 per cent.

Among other outstanding styling features of the 1959 models:

Twin headlamps have been lowered seven inches and are located at the extremities of the grille.

Air intakes, which are coupled with parking and turn lamps inside an anodized aluminum border, are above the headlamps.

The bumper is higher and the extension of rounded sheet metal below it provides a finished, tailored look.

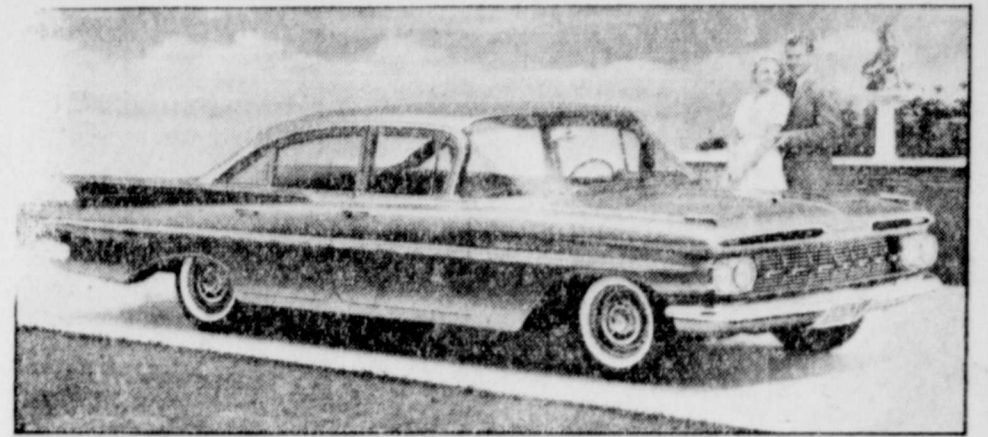

Tail-lights, located under the wing spread of the rear quarter panels, are of an elongated teardrop design.

The concealed fuel filler cap is now centered below the "V" of the wings, behind the license plate.

Exclusive exterior and interior treatment gives individuality to each series. For example, the Impalas abound in rich fabrics and trim. Some of the fine car touches in the Impala are deep-pile carpeting on closed models, paddle-type door release, twin-contact safety arm-rests on all sport models. The roof extends beyond the rear window on the sport sedan.

All cars are marked by color keyed interiors in upholstery and high-visibility wall treatment. Three interior shades are available on the Biscayne series, five on the Bel Airs. Five trim combinations are offered on the Impala 4-door sedan and the Nomad station wagon. Other Impalas have six optional trims.

Acrylic lacquers, standard on all

Chevrolet again offers the popular Bel Air series in 1959. This model maintains its reputation for stylish interiors and appointments, with increased passenger room and additional visibility in new compound-curved windshields. All 1959 Chevrolets feature a new acrylic lacquer finish said to retain brightness for years.

headlamps accent the front end. Both two-door and four-door sedans incorporate the venture, some new design features, plus improved brakes, suspension system and handling advancements.

hich inch engines. Passages are now cast in the cylinder head through enlargement of the outer deck. Better temperature control and heat distribution add to the life of the plugs.

All these, and many other, features await the viewer when he stops by today (Thursday), for a look at the new Chevrolet at Allsup's.

One angle cannot show the complete styling changes which have been made in the 1959 Chevrolet. Lowered headlamps, set into the freshly styled grille, and functional air intakes accent the beauty of the front view of the Impala convertible (below). Smart and original is the bold sculptured treatment given the rear quarters and trunk deck of the Impala sport sedan (above).

This 1959 Ford Country Sedan is one of six models in the Ford station wagon series. Ford station wagons are available in two- and four-door models, accommodating six or nine passengers. The new, longer Ford station wagons have a cargo space that is eight inches longer and 11 cubic feet greater than in 1958. The second seat has a locking device that prevents the seat from folding forward in a sudden stop, and the foam rubber cushions from the third seat can be removed and used as ground cushions.
