NEW TAX VALUES TO BE SHOWN AT COUNTY-WIDE MEETING, FRI.

A meeting of the utmost importance to all Cochran Counties, from an informative standpoint, is to be held Friday, at 8:00 p.m., at the County Auditorium, County Activities Building.

The County - Wide meeting, called by County Judge Glenn Thompson and the Commissioners' Court, is for the purpose of explaining the tax program for next year. New schedules are being drawn up with a tax re-evaluation of all property in the county — including, city and rural. This re-evaluation, which is being done by the Court, sitting as a Board of Equalization, is being done from a new set of land values; and will no doubt cause much confusion to those who do not try to understand it.

The Court urges everyone who can to come out for this meeting. To wait until the new plan is put into effect, and then come to the Court for an explanation will not only cause hard feelings, but will also make acceptance of the needed program harder to come by.

Don't forget, Friday, that's tomorrow, at 8 o'clock. Get it first hand, and know that your information is right.

At 10:30 the following workshops will be held. Immigration, Mrs. C. W. Ratliff. Rural Life, Mrs. Walter Schmalstieg. Catholic Charities, Mrs. D. J. Ferguson.

Mayor Roy Tarver, Jr., is the promoter of the petitions. Tarver said Wednesday he had the petitions prepared because he thinks an aldermanic form of city government will be more representative of the people. Instead of two Commissioners and a mayor, the city would have five aldermen and a mayor.

SWINE COMMITTEE COCHRAN COUNTY

Five committee members met in the County Agent's office Monday afternoon, April 13, 1959. They were: W. M. Butler, Ray Lewis, J. C. O'Brien, Erwin Merritt, and Ed Nieman. G. W. Garrett was absent.

The purpose of their meeting was to make decisions on matters pertaining to the Sears 4-H Swine program now being initiated in Cochran County.

At the meeting the committee decided three things: (1) breed selected, Hampshire; (2) animal to purchase, a Hampshire boar; (3) to require 4-H boys to write an essay entitled: "The Value of Producing Hogs as a Source of Cash Income on Our Farm." The essay must not be more than 500 words must be in the hand of the County Agent by May 1; must be on notebook paper; typed or in ink; and must contain name of club member, club and address.

The essays will be judged by the committee. The committee suggested the parent write a paragraph of interest and giving experience in hog raising, and equipment available for raising hogs.

The program calls for the awarding of 8 gilts to 8 4-H club boys in Cochran County. The boy keeps the gilt, and one gilt to be selected from the first litter will be awarded to another boy in the Sears 4-H program next year.

Each essay must be accompanied by an agreement blank signed by the contestants and parents. This can be done when essay is submitted at Agent's office.

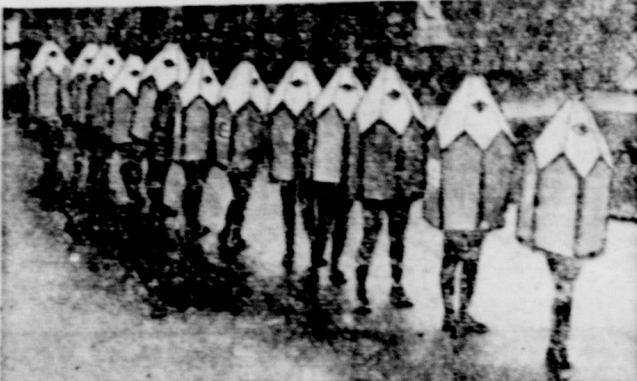

TIPS ON WRITING ESSAY

A Hampshire gilt will be awarded 8 boys who are selected in the essay contest. Gilts will be awarded as prizes on the basis of 40 percent for best essay showing knowledge and information the contestant has on the subject; and 60 percent upon his facilities and ability to successfully complete the demonstration. The committee reserves the right to talk to the contestants, and to inspect the farm, and talk to parents and others in making their decisions.

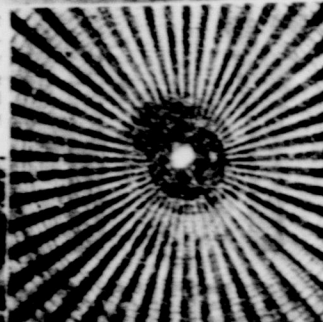

The Agreement signed by the contestant and parent agrees to feed, care for, and breed the sow pigs under the direction and supervision of the County Agent. They further agree to return either $15.00 or the choicest gilt, with certificate of registration, from their first litter to the County Agent for distribution to other club members in the county the following year. The County Agent will select the top gilt from the first litter, or he may choose to take $15.00 in lieu of the sow pig, as provided for in the agreement. If the gilt is selected, it is to be delivered on or after it is ten weeks of age.

Cousins Could Cause Plenty of Postal Confusion

It happens occasionally — two pastors with the same names in two towns with almost the same names.

Rev. James E. Harrell, pastor of the First Methodist Church observed this week that he receives two publications addressed to two pastors with similar names in two different, but similar, towns.

One comes to him addressed to Rev. J. E. Harrell, Morton, Texas.

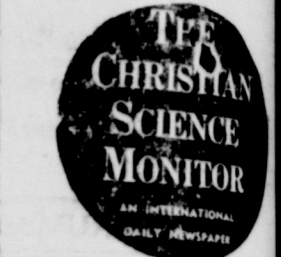

The other publication comes to him addressed to Rev. W. M. Harrell, Norton, Texas.

The Rev. W. M., who only recently transferred from Norton elsewhere, is a cousin of Rev. J. E. of Morton.

In case you don't know — Norton is in Runnels County, north-west of Ballinger.

How to Keep a Free Press FREE

SCHELDOM does Freedom of the Press disappear in one annihilating blow. In countries where the Press has been chained, there was first a period when it failed to realize and resist the beginnings of its end — the first encroachments on its freedom. There were powerful interests which wanted certain facts "kept out of the newspapers." There was pressure here and pressure there to have the truth withheld.

Before the Press of any nation succumbs to tyranny, there always has been a period of failure to speak out.

Here in America there is only the limitation of national security — the necessity to protect and preserve confidential military and scientific information — which can be accepted by a Press that is determined to stay free.

America's newspapers have made, and will continue to make, a conscientious effort to protect that security — at the same time keeping the people informed as fully as possible on all matters concerning their welfare. So long as American newspapers pursue that policy fearlessly, our Press, our people and our country shall remain free of tyranny.

Letter from...

The Nation's aged - those 65 and older - are increasing at a rate of 100,000 a year. For one thing, people are living longer. The life span of the average American has been increased from 48 years in 1900 to 70 years today.

It is a waste of talent, training, vast experience and needed skills. I suspect that only a fortunate few find real satisfaction in ending a lifetime of work. For most of us, there is no substitute for work as a source of personal satisfaction and a feeling of achievement.

As a Nation, we recognize the necessity of conserving our natural resources. But - at the same time - we indulge in this costly luxury of abandoning priceless human resources.

The Nation needs these people now, and it will in the future. This is the age of the atom, and we are speeding into an era of automation and nuclear power. With the advancement comes the thought of people willing, able and wanting to work - but who have been thrown into discard at a predetermined age.

Our goal is evident. We must assure an expanding economy so that brains, abilities and skills of all our people can be utilized. We must strengthen the Nation's backbone of initiative so that bold men with fresh ideas will move into new fields to provide more goods, more services - and more jobs - for more people.

That is one of the reasons the Congressional Joint Committee is now engaged in the most intensive study of its type undertaken in 20 years.

From it's work, I look for beneficial returns that will enable the Senate to help answer this challenge.

Senator Preston Smith

The voters of Texas may be called upon in the near future to say whether or not some important changes should be made in the Texas Constitution.

Currently dedicated to the task of beginning a serious study of our Constitution is a group of 18 men and women who believe the Constitution of 1876 should be given a general overhauling.

In the years since it was adopted in 1876, following a constitutional convention, this basic law of the state has been patched and cluttered, the committee said.

It more resembles grandma's often revised and continuously built-up cook book, filed with inserts on new ways to bake, fry and stew.

Dean Robert G. Storey, SMU law school, chairman of the citizens advisory committee authorized by the 55th Legislature, simply refers to the extraneous matter in the Constitution as "deadwood."

Two years ago the Legislature approved a resolution establishing the advisory committee composed of six appointees of the governor, lieutenant governor and the speaker of the House. The resolution in effect gives the advisory group the status of "watchdog" to keep things moving. The task of a four year research and study of the Constitution was turned over to the Texas Legislative Council.

But lack of funds halted the study. In the interim the citizens advisory committee, with no financial assistance, has prepared a report to the Legislature to this effect: "The committee is concerned by the extent to which the Constitution contains hollow phrases, defective provisions and creaking antiquated policies, most of which involve no true clash of principals. To a surprising degree the Constitution embodies sections that have been preserved not because they reflect the current conviction of some determined element of the public, but for no better reason than that nobody has bothered to remove them after they had served their original purpose."

AMMO-PHOS FERTILIZERS

ARE HIGHLY WATER SOLUBLE

Experiments prove that crops take up more phosphate from water soluble AMMO-PHOS fertilizers than from ordinary mixed fertilizers.

Let Us Demonstrate This Easy Test.

AMMO-PHOS fertilizers are highly water soluble and we can prove it by simply placing a small amount of AMMO-PHOS in water and placing the same amount of an ordinary fertilizer in another equal amount of water. You'll be able to see how water soluble AMMO-PHOS GOES INTO SOLUTION while the ordinary fertilizer collects at the bottom of the glass. You'll know then why AMMO-PHOS fertilizers give the quickest response to crops.

Increased Spending

The House of Representatives has approved the largest spending bill in Texas history. The giant appropriations bill received overwhelming support on final passage after beating down amendment upon amendment.

I voted against this measure because so many of you have expressed your desire not to have further taxes placed on you by the State of Texas.

When we pass the largest spending measure in the history of the State, then, of course, we will be forced to pass the largest tax bill in the history of Texas.

Plus and Minus I voted for several increases on this measure which should have been adopted. These increases included more pay for state employees and increased assistance for Texas's older citizens. However, I also voted for several amendments which would have substantially reduced what I termed "excessive expenditures." This bill increases spending in many places where it should have been cut. Thus, I cast my votes for the needed increases and against the unneeded, excessive fat in this bill.

GAS TAX INCREASE

It seems to me that Gov. Daniel is talking both ways at once on his tax proposals. He says he is against a general sales tax, and he criticizes proposals of broad based specialized sales taxes. Yet in spite of all of this he says he will recommend a one cent increase in the sales tax on gasoline. This is a sales tax placed directly on the people of Texas and is certainly inconsistent with Gov. Daniel's earlier statements.

It would be much easier on the legislature if we had a Governor who would take a definite stand and then stay put on these tax matters. It is unfortunate in these days of crisis for Texas that we do not have a strong, forceful leader in our Governor's office.

R. L. Bowers, State Representative, District 98

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

In one famous remark, Mark Twain said, "everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it."

Likewise, even several years after making final reports, everybody talks about the soundness of the conclusions reached by the Hoover Commission. It is doubtful that any candidate for public office, or office holder, has ever had a nastier word to say about the Hoover Report. Yet, so far, a great deal has been left undone about it, including the recommendations in regard to world wide give aways.

However, there has been introduced into Congress by Rep. Laird, Wis., a bill that would cut the number of reports businessmen must furnish each year to government on social security and income tax withholdings.

Actually the amount of time required of businessmen, or their employees to fill out forms for government bureaus has reached the point where form filling has become almost as big a user of man-hours as any single industry in the nation.

The Hoover Commission found that businessmen spend up to as much as 25% of their time on government reports, or up to as many as 70 out of the average 240 working days in a year.

This gets to be a staggering amount of work. For example, some independent businessmen must spend equivalent of more than two months each year, working Saturdays, Sundays, to keep up with this pile of work.

It is impossible to estimate the monetary loss this causes business, but perhaps a wild stab at an estimate may be interesting.

Assume a man operates a big auto servicing establishment. Now, if instead of filling out forms, it is assumed he spends that time lubricating customer's cars. In an eight hour day he can service at least 16 cars.

Thus, in 70 days, he could lubricate 1120 cars.

If the average price per lubrication is $2, this means in a year $2240 worth of business has been lost while he has been filling out forms.

This, of course, does not take in account the time spent by the receiving bureaus in shuffling papers back and forth.

Based on the average speed of a bureau employee with work speed of a man who has to meet a payroll and also pay taxes, it seems logical to assume his 70 day of work is matched by at least 140 days of work in government bureaus.

Thus, it seems logical that some 210 days of what should be productive work is tied up in forms. It seems impossible to estimate the value of these hours in productive work. But 210 days is about the number of school days in a year. Now if a competent dairy hand spent those 210 taking care of cows, he would produce about 378,000 gallons of milk.

This would give over 6,000,000 school children a bottle of milk every day at lunch for a year.

And Rep. Laird, coming from a great dairying state where folks are inclined to be practical, perhaps had this in mind when he introduced his bill.

Amendment to Fair Labor Standard Act Is Announced by Labor Department

An amendment which expands and consolidates several seasonal industry determinations under the Fair Labor Standards Act for the storage of grain and rice was announced last week by Administrator Clarence T. Lundquist of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

Regional Director William J. Rogers in Dallas explained that under the new amendment the exemption from overtime pay will apply not only to grain storage in elevators but also to storage by establishments that bulk store grain in non-elevator type structures. In addition, he said, a determination now applicable to the flat warehousing of grain and another one for the drying and storing of rough southern rice will be consolidated with the grain storage determination.

The amended determination also includes the drying of grain before storage and otherwise defines the industry in greater detail, he said.

The Act provides that employees in industries determined to be seasonal in nature are exempt from its overtime pay provisions during not more than 14 weeks of the calendar year — except for hours worked over 12 a day or 36 a week, whichever number of hours is greater. Unless an exemption is applicable, the Act requires payment of at least time and one-half the employee's regular rate of pay for all hours worked in excess of 40 a week.

The Administrator's action makes final his proposal of February

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

BRUSH CONTROL AND RANGE SEEDING

The time for shinnery oak to put out and cause trouble for cowmen is rolling around again. This thought brings to mind the work done by Mr. J. Frank Bennett last year.

He sprayed and then seeded about 200 acres of shinnery land and the results obtained were very successful. The amount of moisture which shinnery draws from the soil is something most of us never really thought about. The grass reacted as a coiled spring with the pressure released. This phenomenal difference wouldn't be so noticeable except that moisture is very low here and plant competition, coupled with palatability really shows up. Your more palatable perennial grasses which were dominant in the climax were gradually eliminated under over grazing and your less palatable woody species began to take over. This process would have continued until we would have had a situation similar to a desert, except for one thing. Nature fights back in every way possible to prevent man from abusing her to this extent. In the case of shinnery, it is poisonous for about a six week or two month period, which forces man to give it the required rest to maintain its vigor and density. However, as we obtain a good understanding of range management through SCS technicians assisting your local Soil Conservation District, your local County Agent, A.S.C. or other sources we can or should begin a complete plan for improvement of our land. Proper use and deferred grazing are our most important

Farmers Reminded of Fair Labor Act Regulations

With the coming of spring planting, Texas farmers were reminded today that while the Fair Labor Standards Act permits children of any age to work on farms after school and during vacation, it prohibits farm work by children under 16 during school hours.

This reminder comes from Dallas' William J. Rogers, Regional Director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, the agency which administers the Act.

He said that the child-labor provisions apply to local youngsters and children of migratory workers alike. The only exception to the law is in the case of children working exclusively for their parent or legal guardian, he added.

To make sure of the age of any young worker he hires, the farmer should ask for and obtain an age certificate. These certificates, which serve as proof of age for the purposes of the Act, can be obtained in Texas from the Texas Employment Commission, as a public service.

The child labor provisions apply to farmers whose crops go either directly or indirectly into interstate or foreign commerce. Mr. Rogers pointed out that a farmer must observe the law if he has reason to believe that his crops — either in their original form or processed — will eventually cross State lines.

Additional information about the application of the Act to children working on farms can be obtained from the Wage and Hour Division Office in Dallas, Ft. Worth, Houston, San Antonio, or El Paso.

Soil Bank

There's a possibility of Congress being asked for more funds to take up to 40 million acres out of production . . . would cost about $575 million or $200 million more than the current annual payment ceiling.

We Suggest

If anybody is going to get paid for not growing cotton, we suggest that ginners get paid for not ginning . . . merchants for not buying, servicing and selling . . . crushers for not crushing . . . warehouses for not storing . . . transportation lines for not hauling . . . newspapers, radio and television for not advertising . . . department stores for not selling and customers for not buying cotton . . . this way we would all have nothing to do and would still get paid . . . wonder why somebody hasn't thought of this before???

Red Cotton Up?

Reports from Red China say its 1959 cotton crop may reach 15 million bales . . . more than double the '58 production . . . will this mean that more Red China textiles will be sold at very low prices in the East?? . . . Japan and India both have suffered from this in the past and of course U. S. cotton feels it in reduced Eastern mill markets.

Make A Guess

How much money is spent by cotton farmers each year to control weeds???. It's almost $450 million . . . surprised???. . . think what it would mean to the pocketbook if research could stop this!!!

Vega, Texas, Man Reports— 5000-pound Maize, Using Ammonia

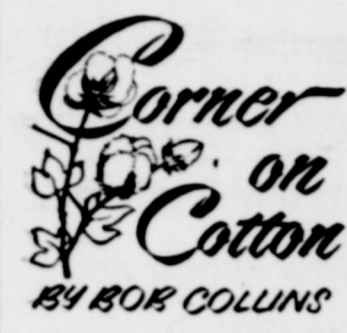

Don W. Berger, prominent Oldham County farmer, says: "Even with what I consider a light injection of Phillips 66 Ammonia—20 pounds per acre—I averaged 5000 pounds per acre on my grain sorghum last year. On a De Kalb 3-acre contest plot, I harvested 6400 pounds per acre.

"This experience sold me on Phillips 66 Ammonia. I plan to use 120 pounds of ammonia on my grain sorghum land this year; 100 pounds on my wheat."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin. Yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased. Profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage. . . more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied either by you or your distributor. See us today about Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia. . . it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Confusion as to how many acres will be planted to cotton this season follows the government announcement of farmers choosing "B" with its 40 per cent increase . . . about 2.5 million acres went into Choice "B" . . . resulting in increase making over 3.5 million acres that will be planted to "B" cotton . . . this looks like 16.8 acres of cotton planted (a half million acres of the authorized land will go into conservation reserve) . . . but there won't be for its looks are deceiving . . . all of the "B" acreage will be planted if possible, but a considerable amount of the "A" acreage won't be . . . many farmers won't plant and won't turn in their allotment so some one else may use it . . . and some men have allotments who aren't farmers anymore . . . they have abandoned their farming and moved to the city and have found it too much trouble to notify their ASC committee . . . as predicted, California put a greater percentage of acreage into "B" than any other state . . . 50.6% . . . and Georgia was low with 14% . . . about 16% of the basic allotment of the country went into "B"

Let's Have A New Kind Of Pie

THERE'S A WONDERFUL TREAT IN STORE for you when you try this "no-cook" cheese pie. It's as light and airy as a spring breeze and just as refreshing. It takes only minutes to prepare because it's made with lemon chiffon pie filling mix, whipped up according to package directions and blended with cream cheese.

Chill the pie until set and serve it with steaming hot coffee. This is, indeed, a dessert to serve over and over again.

- CHIFFON CHEESE PIE
- 2 cups (1 pound) cottage cheese
 - 1 package lemon chiffon pie filling mix
 - 1/2 cup boiling water
 - 1/2 cup cold water
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1 baked 9-inch graham cracker crust, cooled

Beat cottage cheese until smooth. Place pie filling mix in a large deep mixing bowl. Add boiling water and mix thoroughly. Add cold water. Then beat vigorously with rotary beater, or at highest speed of electric mixer, until mixture is very foamy—about 1 minute. Add sugar and beat until filling stands in peaks—takes 1 to 3 minutes. Fold in cottage cheese and vanilla. Pour into pie crust. Chill until set, about 2 hours. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Whiteface Girls Get State Degree

Two Whiteface High School juniors, Misses Zada Snodgrass and Anna Pond, will receive Future Homemakers of America state degrees Friday, April 24, in Dallas. It was announced this week.

Miss Snodgrass is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arvel Snodgrass and Miss Pond is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pond, all residents of the Whiteface area.

The state degree is one of the highest honors that a local FHA chapter member can receive. It represents years of hard work, and is considered a goal which any FHA student can be proud to achieve.

To be considered for the degree, a girl must be active in the community, home, and activities of FHA on the area, state, and local levels.

Miss Snodgrass and Pond have worked in FHA for the past three years.

Miss Snodgrass is now serving her chapter as president. She has been active on committees, the year book, and aided with the chapter's banquets in addition to her other chapter work.

Miss Pond, chapter reporter, has served her chapter in the year book, variétés committees, the planning of chapter banquets, and other chapter activities.

Other general capacity recommendations for 1959 include flowers in the following colors: White-Ostia; Yellow-Astoria; Gold Lobe; Honeycomb; Bright Forecast and Sunstone; Bronze - Resolute; Humilisman; Andante and Toronto; Red - Remembrance; Pink - Allegro; Lavender and Purple - Fuschia Fairy; Orchid Helen and Candytuft.

Large flowered exhibition types include Major Pink Chief, Pink Chief, White Box, Peggy Ann Hoover and Kathleen Steer.

"ORTHOcide Soil Treater X gave me a perfect stand of cotton. . ."
 says cotton grower Virgil Burnett of Brownfield, Texas

Referring to last year's conditions, Mr. Burnett adds: "This was in spite of cold, wet soil during planting. The soil temperatures averaged 56 to 59 degrees which is pretty cold for cotton. ORTHOCIDE Soil Treater X more than pays for itself in stronger plants and more of them. It gave me strong early season growth and an earlier harvest."

ORTHOcide Soil Treater X is the best insurance against the high cost of replanting. It creates a protected zone in the furrow allowing the tender seedling to develop normally in spite of cold, wet, infected soil. The early maturity and better stands which result can bring greater profits from higher yields of top grade cotton.
