OTHER AREA COUNTIES SUFFER HEAVY CROP LOSS AS HAIL STRIKES BAILEY AND HOCKLEY COUNTY

Cochran County got two general rainfalls in one day, Wednesday, one in the wee hours of the morning and one in the early part of the night.

For most farmers in this county the rain was a real boon. For the most part it fell just right, so as not to injure crops.

Heavy rains accompanied by heavy hail were received in wide sections of the South Plains, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, but as the Tribune went to press early Thursday morning they had no reports of hail in Cochran County.

What were believed to be rains hard enough to cause some crop damage, though the extent was not known, were received around 8 p.m. Wednesday, and they fell in the City of Morton for a period of about 2 hours, at times rather heavily.

Electric power was out for about 20 minutes in downtown Morton, and it caused a major disruption of operations at the Tribune office for well over 1 1/2 hours.

The Tribune had no official measurement of the Wednesday night rain but estimated it at near 1 inch in Morton.

Cochran County was more fortunate than neighboring Bailey and Hockley Counties in the storms which hit the area earlier in the week. On Monday, in Bailey County, hail practically wiped out a huge section of the wheat crop, north of Muleshoe.

Monday night's hail and heavy rain battered an area south of Pop and east of Pettit bringing heavy crop losses to a big part of Hockley County.

The Tuesday night rain, which was so helpful to Cochran County farmers, wrought additional losses in Hockley County. It was estimated in the Levelland Daily Sun-News, one fourth of the crop may have been lost.

Winds as high as 70 miles per hour were recorded, and a number of telephone poles between Whiteface and Levelland were blown over causing delays in telephone service between Morton and Levelland, Wednesday.

But the rain which fell in Cochran County late Tuesday night and early Wednesday was a real blessing to most County farmers.

Wednesday morning's rainfall little over an inch in the county.

At McDermott Liquefied Gas a .9 inch rainfall was recorded early Wednesday.

The measurement was .7 10 mi. west of Morton.

Bill Wood, also west of Morton, had 3. And about 3 miles north-east of Morton the gauge showed an even inch.

At Enoch's the gauges showed about an inch, also. Lloyd Miller, just south of Morton had a .84 inch reading. Jack Watts had an inch, just north of Morton and Spec Ward showed .8.

Raymond Lewis reported between 1.5 and 1.7 inches of rainfall northeast of Morton.

The official gauge at the U. S. Soil Conservation office showed the least, .62, and the SCS Office also reported the total for the month of May was 4.62.

All of these reports concerned the early morning rain, yesterday.

Among the speakers scheduled to address the boys are Governor Price Daniel, Zolie Steakley, Secretary of State; Attorney General Will Wilson; Rep. Waggoner Carr, Speaker of the House; and Department Commander J. Walter Janelo.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

Out in the broad prairies of Nebraska and the rest of the West, the critter that does not run docilely with the herd is termed a mustang.

And so it is possible that on the broad green pasture land that reaches from the Potomac to Capitol Hill, Rep. Glenn Cunningham might well be considered a mustang, and a very auto spoken one at that, judging by a recent report he issued to his district.

Commenting on the recent disclosures of Congressional payroll habits, he makes the point that these situations are not too surprising. Rather, he claims, recklessness with Congressional office help allowances are to be expected from a body that is reckless in throwing the people's money around in all types of boondoggling ventures.

The forthright Congressman Cunningham had this to say: "Whenever we read of some politician proposing a 'bold, new approach' to our problem, we can always expect to read in the next sentence that what he has in mind is bold, new, increased spending of the taxpayers' money."

He goes on to say "I believe that the much touted leadership of the Congress is bankrupt of new ideas. It seems to me that the much published leadership does not have the ability to abandon its outworn program of a quarter century ago."

"But," Congressman Cunningham continues, "that's the way of the 'liberals' and welfare sisters. Much more money for Westward of Gorman."

defense on account of Soviet "scare," thereby proceeding merrily on our way to spending ourselves into bankruptcy and destruction."

"And," he said, "Billions for relief for depressed areas, thereby killing private enterprise, making individual enterprise unnecessary, and assuring that such areas will stay on permanent relief."

And he comments quite wryly, "If the Congress had such a notion fifty years ago, we would still have the Federal government supporting the blacksmith shop."

In addition, he also says that the Washington spending cult should come right out and be honest, admitting this talk of balancing the budget is just so much talk, and that they really don't want a balanced budget.

While Rep. Cunningham is one of the more outspoken members of Congress, he is not the only one who is taking this viewpoint.

It is possible bureaucrats are going to find much tougher going in trying to wring more billions out of the taxpayers.

In fact, it would not take too many like Rep. Cunningham to form a spearhead in Congress that could lead the nation into a swelling crusade that would at last clean out the waste, extravagance and corruption.

Because as evidenced by reports received daily by the National Federation of Independent Business the people are no longer fooled by any claims that government spending cannot be reduced. It is quite commonly held that billions could be lopped off the budget with no loss of security or essential services.

The only question being asked is why it is not being done now.

Golf Tournney Set Friday Here

The Morton Country Club is expected to be a busy place this weekend, beginning Friday, as the top golfers in the area will compete in a Pro - Am Tourney, as a prelude to the Third Annual Morton Invitational Golf Tournney.

The Pro - Am event, with a $50 added Pro Pot will feature the Friday qualifying for positions in the two day invitational, to be unraveled Saturday and Sunday.

Local tourney committees couldn't predict what the turnout might be for the invitational, but they were shooting for five or six flights of competition in addition to the Championship flight.

Golfers from nearby Levelland, Muleshoe and Brownfield were in Morton almost every day the past week "testing" the 9-hole course which has developed added "character" over the past three years by the addition of grass greens, now three years old, several new sand traps, two water obstacles on different holes, and some young trees that are just now beginning to be a factor in the playing of the course.

Weather will be the key to the tourney. Chairman Tom McAllister, and others in charge, agree. Rains have cut into the crowd in previous years, but local officials think, if Friday happens to be a good day, they'll be assured of a good meet.

There are attractions. The $1,500 in prizes to be awarded is perhaps the biggest drawing card. A traditional barbecue dinner served on Friday night is another. Still another is the two day meet. It is believed the two day meet will outdraw the three day affair because lots of golfers can get off on Saturday and Sunday, but not on Friday, too.

Local golfers have been qualifying since Monday for the tourney. The entry fee is $12 for the Invitational with awards for 1st, runners-up, and consolation winners in each flight.

The Pro-Am entry fee is $3.00. And, of course, the barbecue is free to all players in the meet.

Club officials have stressed that the ladies are invited to come along for the weekend of festivities and the absence of nearby tourneys should also help increase the crowd.

Qualifying for the championship flight will be on Friday only with the brackets to be drawn up Friday night. The medalist award will also be awarded. Golfers will have to play two rounds on Saturday and two on Sunday to win their flight.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM THE State CAPITOL

AUSTIN, Tex. .... Whether and how the state's tax problem is met now depends largely on the Senate.
House members, apparently eager to "get the monkey off their backs," passed out most of the program recommended by Governor Price Daniel.
Biggest milestone was House passage by a 71 to 56 majority of the governor's "package bill." As finally passed, it would raise about $10,000,000 in two years—only about $10,000,000 short of the governor's goal.
Included in the package would be an increase levy on natural gas, a new franchise tax on interstate corporations and bigger taxes on tobacco, liquor, automobiles, utilities, etc.

Some members bitterly criticized the bill as dangerous to Texas' industrial future and a product of the labor-liberal lobby. But, most seemed to agree that it is "the only way to avoid a general sales tax or income tax."
Senators showed no apparent desire to set a speed record on the first money raising bills sent them by the House. Bookkeeping bill, designed to erase part of the $65,000,000 deficit by changing the accounting procedure, was sent off for an Attorney General's opinion for its constitutionality.
A bill to increase the corporation franchise tax for one year only—also to ease the deficit—was set aside. Better to wait for the whole program, the Senators decided, than to work at it piece meal.
Senate did take one step forward, however, when Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro introduced the abandoned property bill which had bogged down in the House taxation committee.
Ten lawmakers, five from the House, five from the Senate, have the difficult task of making one package out of the different spending bills passed by the two houses.

Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria and Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah head the group. House-passed appropriation bill is more than $20,000,000, larger than the Senate's. Conference Committee's task will be to cut a little off here, tuck a little on there until an acceptable compromise is reached.
In past sessions, this piecing-together process has taken several weeks. Even on a day and night schedule, this committee will be handicapped to finish its job before the present session ends in mid-June.
More than different spending ideas separates the House and Senate. Each house used the bill to express its ideas on how the State Board of Insurance should operate. House says full time; Senate, part time. Unyielding views have been expressed on each side.
Other members of the committee are Sen. Floyd Bradshaw, Weatherford; Ray Roberts, McKinney; Crawford Martin, Hillsboro; and Wardlow Lane, Center. Reps. John Huebner, Bay City; Truett Latimer, Abilene; B. H. Dewey, Bryan; and Jesse Osborn, Muleshoe.

ALL ONE JOB
Two House committees—taxation and appropriations—would be merged under a resolution proposed by Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene.
One committee of 31, called the House ways and means committee, would replace the 21-member groups.
Latimer Declared that since money raised and money spent have to come out even, it would be more logical to have the decisions made jointly rather than separately.
Since the Colson Briscoe Act was passed in 1949, the General Revenue Fund has been automatically nicked $15,000,000 a year for F-M roads. Goal was to build 35,000 miles of all weather roads.
Rep. Richard Slack of Pecos has introduced a bill to take F-M road spending out of the State Highway funds rather than from General Revenue. It could not cut farm road spending, but it would reduce the money available to the Highway Department for state highways.

Sen. Neville Colson, Navasota, co-author of the 1949 act, opposes any alteration in the program. Even though more than 29,000 miles have been paved, she said there are still school bus and mail routes that are not "out of the mud."
Farm Bureau opposes, as well as others who say that it will lead to an increase in gasoline taxes to make up the cut in highway funds.
Those favoring the change argue that the farm road program has had a creamy spending for a long time, but that with general revenue going $65,000,000 in debt it can no longer be afforded.
NOT YET, DOT DECIDES: Democrats of Texas threw a lot of bricks at the U.S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson at their Austin convention, but stopped short of an open drive against his nomination for President.

State AFL - CIO President Jerry Holleman headed off resolutions, saying "this is not the time."
DOT did agree to change its name to the Department of Texas Clubs (DOTC) It had been frequently criticized for having a name that could be confused with the official Texas Democrat Party organization.

Homemakers See Cake Decorating Demonstration

Clyde McKee of the Morton Bake Shop, which is connected with the East Side Cafe, showed Summer Homemaking students how cakes are decorated, Friday, May 29. His demonstration was given in the kitchen of the East Side Cafe. Twenty students watched as he worked out a design for a cake to be used at a farewell party. The top was trimmed with blue forget-me-nots and pink fluting.

This is the first of three demonstrations to be given to adults and youth as a part of the Morton High School Homemaking summer program. The next demonstration will be given June 19 by Mrs. Lem Chesser of the Morton Floral and Greenhouse. Mrs. Chesser will make arrangements for the four seasons of the year. The time and place for the demonstrations has not been set, but probably will be held in the afternoon, in the school cafeteria.

The third demonstration will be held August 10. The theme of this demonstration will be meals from the Home Freezer and will be given by the local Homemaking teacher, Mrs. Mabel Sanders.

Two of the high school students, Sue Ramsey and Dwana Henry, are attending a workshop with the Hockley County Homemaking students in Levelland this week. The girls are learning to make trays, pictures and plaques of ceramic tiles. They will conduct a workshop for the other summer homemaking students, June 15 to 17, in the local homemaking department.

OUT OF HOSPITAL

The many friends of Henry and Lola Rodgers of Whiteface will be happy to know that they are back home from the hospital, and feeling much better.

They are very grateful for the many kind things done for them during their recent illnesses, and wish to thank everyone who helped in any way. "May the Lord Bless Everyone of You," is their sincere wish.

New Dis. Judge Speaks to Local Jaycees

District Judge appointee M. C. Ledbetter was guest speaker to the Morton Jaycees Monday at their luncheon meeting, explaining the set-up of the new Judicial District and the reasons for its coming about.

Other guests included L. F. (Snook) Russell of Morton and Bill Rust, new employee of Tarver Furniture now living in Levelland, but moving to Morton as soon as he finds a house.

Judge Ledbetter explained that a change in judges in the 106th District this past January, made it possible for the first time since the need for a new district was originally discussed, to get open support from the judges of both the 106th and 72nd district for the new district.

He also corrected a mistake that had been published several times, stating that it was Wesley Roberts of Lamesa who originated the Bill — House Bill 87. The bill passed was a substitution for the original bill.

and October as it had previously been. He felt this would make it much easier for farmers who had to serve on the Grand Jury and on the Criminal Juries, since the months of March and September didn't find them as busy as they would normally be in April and October.

Why Buy Vitamin Products From Your Druggist? You have probably heard someone say, "Why should I buy vitamins from the Drug Store? After all the government guarantees vitamin products and cheaper vitamins are available from mail order houses and from door-to-door salesmen." There has been an increase of advertising in magazines and books urging people to buy vitamins and food supplements by mail and save. The contents of these mail order vitamins and door-to-door salesman's vitamin products sometimes compare favorably with doctor's prescription vitamins, and the literature tells you that government inspections assure you of getting an adequate vitamin cheap, which is guaranteed by the government.

SENATOR ☆☆☆ Yarborough's Report

Occasionally we hear some so-called expert darkly predict that someday in the future much of Texas "will become a desert."

Most of us have not forgotten the terrible dust bowl days and almost indescribably hard times on Texas farms. But we don't expect them to return and for very good reason. Many thoroughly trained and dedicated folks are working to see that it doesn't happen again.

It gave me great pleasure recently to note that eleven Texans were among the agriculture specialists recently recognized by the United States Department of Agriculture for their outstanding work.

The Texans honored in ceremonies in Washington recently were James D. Abbott of Lubbock for his outstanding work on the soil conservation program in the Great Plains; Edwin D. Allen of Hillsboro for developing farm practices which raised the standard of living for rural families in Hill County; Charles M. Dean, Jr. of Nacogdoches, for working up a program to help make family sized farms in the East Texas area more livable and more efficient; George S. Dean Jr. of Groveton, for turning out a plan to improve the agricultural economy in Trinity and Polk Counties; Henry H. Marshall of College Station, for unusual skill in directing state and county production adjustment programs to the extent that he is recognized as the outstanding specialist in this field in the Southwest; and Miss Dorothy Sherrill, now of Portland, Oregon, but a native Texan from San Antonio, for establishing a food marketing program for consumers and producers.

Also recognized were Meril G. Carter a native Ohioan who is now serving at Uvalde, for his administrative leadership of a soil conservation program in the Rio Grande plains of Texas; and Dr. Erma S. Vandercant, born at Elwood, Illinois but now serving at College Station, for research on laboratory and field investigations into methods of controlling the boll weevil and pink bollworm.

Three other Texans were honored for their long-time service to the Department of Agriculture. They were William W. Dezell of Alice; Herbert R. Prickett, Lubbock; and Frank P. Solano, Dallas, all with 40 years of service in improving conditions for farmers and ranchers.

It is my hope that folks all over Texas will join me to extend a special wish of congratulations to these dedicated people and their associates who are at work in all parts of our state to provide better things for Texas' agriculture and

Senator Preston Smith

Texas will vote on four constitutional amendments on the 1960 general election ballot. The proposed amendments are the results of 76 joint resolutions proposing amendments offered during the regular session.

One amendment would increase the three per cent ceiling on veterans' land bonds to three and one-half per cent, to make the unsold portion of a present $100 million issue salable.

The "loan shark" amendment, to allow the Legislature to set interest rates above the present 10 per cent ceiling, and to classify loans for different interest rates and to license lenders is another proposal to be up for 1960 voting.

House Joint Resolution three, to fix an annual salary of $4,800 for thus a better life for all of us.

members of the legislature, plus $12 per diem for 120 days of regular session and all special sessions, and limiting the regular session to 140 days.

The fourth proposed amendment to be submitted would authorize creation of hospital districts in Lamar, Hidalgo and Comanche Counties, a similar amendment to several one-or-two hospital proposals previously submitted and adopted.

Failing to make the list for 1960 voting were two proposed constitutional amendments that would have authorized issuance of $300 million new state "self liquidating" bonds. One called for a third $100 million issue of veterans land bonds; and another would have permitted sale of $200 million state bonds to aid industrial development.

Livestock interests won final passage of four of the "big six" bills in their ambitious program in the regular session. They aim to prevent, control and eradicate livestock diseases.

But there remains one big catch for the special session to decide. That is how much of the state money authorized by the law will actually be put in the appropriation bill for the coming two years.

Better from Houston

Dear Friend: A lot of you have asked why I voted for the Kennedy-Ervin labor bill, and I thought this might be a good time to answer that question.

The bill was approved in the Senate by a vote of 90 to 1. Let's look at a few of the many good reasons for this overwhelming support. For instance, as approved by the Senate, this bill:

- Sets up strong bars against persons convicted of serious crimes from serving as union officers.
- Spells out the fact that union members have a right to know what is going on in their union.
- Requires that unions make available to each member—and lay open to public inspection full financial and administrative reports.
- Guarantees, as safeguards in the conduct of union elections: a secret ballot; written notice of all elections to each member and opportunity to nominate opposing candidates.

Further, this law would prohibit picketing for extortion or to obtain employer pay-offs and provide as penalty not only a heavy fine but up to 20 years in prison.

It closes a no man's land in labor-management relations by authorizing state agencies to assume control over labor cases in which the National Labor Relations Board does not take jurisdiction.

I believe this bill will mark a major step in throwing out hoodlums and racketeers.

The law spells out a "bill of rights" for union members. Certain fundamental rights are guaranteed by the law - and where a member is denied any of these rights, he can go into court and ask that justice be done.

This is aimed at one thing: to insure that honest American working men and women will run all unions in our country.

GOVERNOR WINS ONE, LOSES ANOTHER FIGHT

Governor Daniel won one round in his tax fight but lost probably the easiest and most important in the Senate.

sent to the Attorney General for an opinion as to its constitutionality. Although this does not kill the measure, the action will result in delay before the bill can again be considered.

CORPORATION TAX IS POSTPONED

The increase in corporation franchise taxes also suffered a setback in the Senate. This bill, also endorsed by Governor Daniel, was postponed indefinitely until the Senate could "get a look at the big tax bill."

DANIEL WINS HOUSE

Daniel won his round in the house when the House approved his Daniel's "bookkeeping" bill was whopping tax bill to pay for the giant appropriations and spending bill. The bill passed second reading with an eleven vote margin. The bill then met a temporary stumbling block and some delay because of the enforcement of a House rule.

This rule required that the bill be reprinted or engrossed before it could be finally passed. This delay seemed to irritate the Governor and his water boys in the House, but it was strictly according to rules.

DANIEL'S GAS TAX

Daniel says that his natural gas tax will hit the long line transmission companies and that the rate by the northern cities. I believe this is true because Daniel really knows that he is going to have to pay the bill or else it will be unconstitutional. This is simply another attempt to fool the public and the taxpayers of Texas. It is long overdue for the public.

Sincerely, Robert L. Bowers, Jr. District 98

Better Grade, Increased Yields on Cotton

Wallace Kelly, successful West Texas farmer says: "Side dressing of Phillips 66 Ammonia on cotton has really paid off for me. Since starting to use ammonia, I have increased my cotton lint yield at least 1/2 bale to the acre. When the cotton starts squaring, I apply my first side dressing—75 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia. This is followed with another side dressing of ammonia in August. Not only have my yields improved, but I'm also getting a grade better at the gin." Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton than classes higher at the gin. . . . yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased. . . . profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage. . . . more marketable vegetables are harvested. Phillips 66 Ammonia can be applied pre-plant as a side dressing. It can be easily applied either you or your distributor. See us today about Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia. . . . it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt
Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry
University of Wisconsin

Recommend "Watered Stock"

Feed and watered both, that water is the most important and also the cheapest feed. Actually, livestock would live longer without feed than without water. Reduce the water content of the body to ten per cent below normal, and the animal dies.

During cold weather it is more difficult to have water readily accessible to animals and to have it in wholesome condition to be consumed in large quantities, as needed.

Dr. Bohstedt

If the water is too cold, particularly if cows are watered only once a day, they reduce their milk production for the simple reason that it takes from four to five pounds of water for every pound of milk produced. So it is especially important with high producers to take care of their water requirement.

The state of Maine would seem to have a sufficiently severe climate for a good test in this respect. On some 500 farms there it was found that cows watered from drinking bowls produced 19 per cent more milk than cows watered outdoors, and 9 per cent more milk than cows watered from a tub in the barn.

But even in states with much milder temperatures than Maine it has been paid to have drinking bowls from which the cows can drink at will. Cows usually drink about ten times during a 24 hour period, one-third of the water being drunk during the night.

Dairy cows of about average production drink from 10 to 15 gallons a day, but water consumption may go up to twice that much for high producers.

Beef cattle and horses, depending on size, will need from 10 to 12 gallons or more daily. Sheep need at least a gallon a day, nursing ewes twice that much.

Swine need from about one to one and one-half gallons of water per 100 pounds of live weight, the larger proportion when young. For all livestock, of course, more water is needed in hot weather than cold.

It is fortunate that during recent years more and more watering systems have been installed on stock farms whereby a constant supply of water in a sanitary condition is being delivered to bowls that can be heated to keep water from freezing during cold weather.

Question: We keep losing lambs that we have on feed, and post-mortem examinations show urinary calculi as the cause of death. Reading of possible causes and preventives of this trouble we recently learned that salt is used as a preventive. How should the salt be fed?

Answer: The cause of urinary calculi in the bladder or kidney has been variously ascribed to feeds high in silicates, as present in some forages, or high in other minerals, while low in vitamin A. Insufficient water consumption is sometimes blamed for urinary calculi.

The various causes given are not always consistent, but Dr. T. D. Bell of Kansas State College observed that after having lost lambs from urinary calculi, he included 5 per cent salt in their rations and thereafter lost no more lambs. State College of Washington workers found that 10 per cent salt in the rations of experimental wethers prevented calculi, but think that 5 per cent salt might be as beneficial as the larger amount.

Seniors Return From Colo. Trip

The Morton High School Seniors of 1939 returned Friday night from an eight-day trip which took them into parts of New Mexico and Colorado.

After their graduation exercises on Friday, May 22, the seniors boarded a chartered T.N.M. & O. bus and at 12 midnight headed for Pike's Peak, Colo.

The seniors stayed at the Villa Motel in Manitou Springs. They visited "Seven Falls," the Cheyenne Park Zoo and the Colorado State Penitentiary.

They went horse back riding through the "Garden of the Gods," which took them to Hidden Inn where they watched an Indian do a hoop dance.

One of the highlights of the trip was going up Pike's Peak on a cog train. While on the summit, the West Texans got their first taste of a mountain blizzard.

The trip to Denver was the high spot of the trip. While in the big city the group visited the museum of Natural Science, the zoo, and the Lakeside Amusement Park.

The group also walked across the highest bridge in the world which spans the Royal Gorge.

For recreation the seniors went swimming and ice skating at the Broadmor Hotel, bowling and Roller Skating and a Senior Dance sponsored by Manitou Springs.

Sponsors on the trip were Mrs. Willard Henry, Mrs. H. M. Christian, Mrs. T. Hodges and Mrs. Loveta Brownlow, all of Morton, and Art Dofson of Lubbock, driver of the bus.

Sponsors and Seniors reported they enjoyed the trip.

COTTON SEEDLING DISEASE

Now is the time of year that cotton seedling diseases show up. Seed should be treated and fumigants applied in the soil covering the seed as temporary treatment of diseases and fungi. The early plantings and damp wet soils are most favorable for the seedling diseases to work and the most unfavorable for cotton to grow. There is no treatment after the cotton comes up. Cotton grows fast and may outgrow a lot of the diseases.

USE CARE IN HANDLING AND USING INSECT SPRAYS AND DUSTS

Sprays and dusts for the control of agricultural pests are a must if today's farm operations are to be successful. However, like other modern tools, these must be used with care to insure safety of the operator.

Here are some simple suggestions from entomologists at Texas A & M College for safe use of insecticides:

1. Always read the label before using sprays or dusts and follow warnings on the label.

2. Always store sprays and dusts in original containers. All sprays or dusts should be stored outside the home and out of reach of children.

3. Never smoke while spraying or dusting. Avoid inhaling sprays or dusts. Wear protective clothing or masks where indicated by labels.

4. Wash hands and face and change clothing after spraying or dusting. Avoid spilling sprays or dusts on skin or clothing. If they are spilled, remove contaminated clothing and wash thoroughly.

5. If symptoms of illness occur during or shortly after spraying or dusting, call a doctor or get the patient to a hospital immediately.

EXTENSION SERVICE OFFERS NEW BULLETIN ON INSECTS

A "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Corn, Sorghum, Small Grain and Grasses," is the title of a new publication released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The insecticides to use for control of these insects are given along with the amount of the insecticide to use. Also listed are the major pests of these crops and the way to identify each.

How to make infestation counts, when to spray and seed treatments to control certain soil insects are discussed.

Results of research indicate that sprays and dusts are equally effective in most areas when properly applied. Copies of the publication are available from local county agents of the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for MP-339.

You may also receive copies of insect publications on cotton, garden, and ornamental shrubs from the county agent's office.

MISS PEGGY ANN FOWLER and M. C. COOK WED AT ENOCHS, SATURDAY

ENOCHS (Special) — A double ring ceremony was read at 4 p.m. Saturday by Rev. C. C. Dorn in the First Methodist Church for Miss Peggy Ann Fowler and M. C. Cook.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Fowler and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cook of Morton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown designed with a scalloped Sabrina neckline dusted with iridescent sequins. The molded bodice was fashioned with long sleeves and the bouffant full length skirt extended into a train of tulle ruffles. Her finger-tip veil of nylon net was attached to half hat of tulle embroidered with iridescent sequins. She carried a brown orchid surrounded by white carnations and streamers.

Miss Paula Griffith of Portales, N. M., was maid of honor. She wore a princess style dress of yellow crystalline. Misses Carolyn and Melba Cook, junior bridesmaids, wore similar dresses of pastel pink and blue crystalline.

Doyle Fowler was best man and ushers were Sam Drum and Don Richardson. Candles were lighted by Billy Fowler and Donnie McCall. Judy Snitker was flower girl and Rony McCall was ringbearer. Jimmy Cook and Don Morgan of Dallas were the bridegroomsmen.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. John Gunter, pianist, and Mrs. Jimmy Renfro, soloist.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony. Members of the house party included Miss Gayline Fred and Miss Sandra Seagler.

For her wedding trip to Clovis, the bride chose a beige lace three-quarter length jacket with tangerine accessories.

The couple will make their home at Whidbey Island, Wash., where he is stationed with Patrol Squadron Fifty.

Good News For The Kids

Seeing is believing.

Tiny Tourist kit.

Wilkes Barre, Pa. — There's good news for the younger set in the announcement that the nation's oldest pencil company has diversified into the toy field.

Eberhard Faber, which has been putting writing and educational tools in the hands of children for 110 years, presently manufactures and markets over 3,200 items in the writing instruments and craser field.

Introduced at the American Toy Fair and pictured above are the first four outstanding items from the Eberhard Faber Toy and Game Division.

Leading the line is a family of "Paint with Pencil" sets in three different sizes. They're complete water-color sets using pencils which make water-soluble markings instead of the conventional paints. It enables the children to get a life-like water color painting by coloring the pre-sketched pictures.

A "kaleidoscope" pencil box is a delightful as well as useful toy, in that it acts as a container for 12 assorted sharpened color pencils. By turning the top of the box hundreds of designs are formed by crystals in a capsule at the end of the tube.

A juvenile coloring set, the Tiny Tourist, is a unique compact unit ideal for travel as well as fun for home. It is especially designed to keep a child occupied on trips as there are no loose, messy papers to fall all over.

The fourth of these items, is "Trace A Face"—including pad, acetate stencils of face parts, instructions, colored pencils, and tracing pencil.

The biggest problem the children will have with these toys, specially designed for their creative and educational value, is keeping their parents away.

Pirates - Cubs Battle to 9 to 9 Tie In Feature Little League Game of Week

THURSDAY —

The first tie game of the season, a real 9 to 9, 7-inning thriller, was unveiled by the Giants and the Cubs last Thursday night as darkness overtook the boys. This game was a thriller all the way with neither team dominating it for more than an inning at a time. Each scored twice in the first and second innings for a 4-4 tie. The Giants scored 3 in the third, but the Cubs added 3 in the 4th, and the Giants one-run in the 4th, gave them an 8 to 7 lead at the end of that frame. The score was tied in the 5th and neither team could push over the decisive run in the sixth or seventh inning.

Bill Sokora started for the Cubs on the mound and Tommy Terrell wound it up. Sherrill Griffith, Lamar Pollard and James Joyce did the hurling for the Giants.

The Giants got only three hits in the game but took advantage of seven Cub errors and seven walks. The Cubs got 10 hits and six walks, and got four men on base on errors, but they left too many potential runs stranded on base.

Gordon McDaniel had three hits, Tommy Terrell and Benny Turney each hit safely twice.

Line Score:
Cubs 2 2 3 1 1 0 0 — 9 10 5
Giants 2 2 0 3 2 0 0 — 9 3 7

FRIDAY —

Pushing across four runs with the aid of only one hit, the Pirates withstood a last ditch two run out burst by the Cubs and won a thrilling 7 to 5 victory. Gordon McDaniel, who relieved Tommy Terrell in the 4th inning, after Terrell pitched the full 3 and two thirds innings he was allowed, developed a wild streak in the final inning and that cost him the game.

Each team managed only five hits in the game, but the only three Cub errors in the game were committed in the 6th frame along with the five walks.

Gary Welch went all the way to become the winning pitcher for the Pirates. Charlie Hill's solo homer was the longest hit of the game for the Pirates. Benny Turney got a single and a double and was the only man on either team to get more than one hit. However, he failed to left with the tying run at the plate to end the game.

The win kept the Pirates just a notch behind the Cards in their battle for second place.

Line Score:
Pirates 0 0 0 0 4 1 7 5 4
Cubs 2 0 0 0 1 2 5 5 3

SATURDAY —

Piling up 14 runs in the first inning on seven hits, four walks, and four Card errors, the Sox walked to a lopsided 20 to 2 win over the Cards, Saturday.

Five 2-base hits came during the first inning onslaught and six men scored twice for the winners. Gary Franklin wielded the most timely bat, driving home six runs in the game with two doubles and two singles in five times at bat. Charlie Ledbetter bunched two home runs out of the park and drove in four runs.

Pat Risinger allowed six hits and fanned ten to take the victory. Three of the hits came in the 6th Sox three errors of the game to allow the two Card tallies. Every man in the Sox starting lineup got at least one hit.

The victory left the Sox undefeated in the league play.

Line Score:
Cards 0 0 0 0 2 2 6 6
Sox 14 1 4 0 1 0 20 15 3

With Robert Walker blasting out two three-run homers, to equal the most productive single game effort of anyone this season, the Cards humiliated the Cubs, 18 to 3, in the Little League game Monday.

Batting stars of the game were a dime a dozen for the Cards who totaled 15 hits and scored in every inning.

Walker scored two more runs in his big output. Joey Newsome and Eddie Lyon had three hits each and Lyon never did get retired at first base in five trips to the plate.

Only one man who played the entire game for the Cards failed to hit — David Holland, and he walked three times.

Every batter for the Cards was on base at least once, including a pinchhitter.

The Cards took an equal assault on an assortment of Cub pitchers. They tallied eight runs off of Sokora, three off of John St. Clair and seven off of Benny Turney. Turney was the victim of both of Walker's home runs and Joey Newsome missed a home run only by inches as his blast hit the top of the fence and bounced back in the playing field for a single. The Cards also bunched two ground rule doubles over the fence.

The Cubs got six hits, divided two each among Turney, Tommy Terrell and Bill Sokora. But for the most part, Sandy Wallace, who pitched the first three innings, and David Newsome, who tossed the last three, had complete control.

Wallace allowed no runs, two hits, walked none and struck-out four. Newsome gave up four strikeouts and walked two, but struck-out five. The Cards made only one error in contrast to the six miscues by the Cubs. The Cub hurlers also gave up nine bases on balls.

Line Score:
Cards 4 1 3 3 4 3 — 18 15 1
Cubs 0 0 0 2 1 0 — 3 6 6

TUESDAY —

Pat Risinger hurled five and one third innings of no-hit ball until a substitute player, Penn Tom Burke ruined his no-hitter with a line drive single to center field, Tuesday, but the Sox shut out the Giants, 12 to 0.

The Sox wrapped it up in the first inning with four tallies on 3 hits. Decker homered in the second for two more. Gary Franklin and Decker each clubbed out three hits in the game.

Risinger fanned ten men and only two others reached base in addition to Burke. An error at second base and a walk allowed the other two men to get on base, but one was erased when picked off first base by the catcher.

Ledbetter and Decker each tallied three runs and Decker and Franklin each batted in a trio of runs. Decker's home run, a line shot to right field, smashed the windshield of a car parked just beyond the fence.

Line Score:
Sox 4 2 0 2 3 1 — 12 11 1
