Court Rejects Tax Computer

After a recent demonstration of the two types of tax calculating machines in the office of Tax Assessor - Collector, the Cochran County Commissioner's Court has rejected purchase of the machines.

The Court checked purchase price and lease purchase price and felt the expenditure was too great. The office would not use the machines enough to pay for them, County Judge Glenn Thompson said and added that the rental was only on a 12 month basis, and the county would only use them two months of a year.

One of the machines was left in the Assessor - Collector's office, Thompson said, because the salesman had car trouble and hadn't picked it up yet. This led the Judge said, to the circulating of rumors that the County bought it, and others that the county intended to buy it. Neither of these ideas were correct, the Judge told the Tribune. "We never expected to buy it, simply told the salesman he could demonstrate it as long as it didn't cost anything," the Judge said.

Thompson said County Auditor, Joe Nicewarmer, and County Treasurer, Bill Crane, said they did not care to use the machines in their work, and the cost was far too great for two months use by any one office. He did say, if the company could rent the machines on a monthly basis, it would save the county some money in figuring taxes.

County Commissioners Hear First Of 1959 Local Taxpayer Complaints

The Cochran County Commissioner's Court had their first of three planned sessions with taxpayers, Friday, and interviewed about 25 persons about their tax raises, according to County Judge Glenn Thompson.

The Judge said they divided the list of names into three groups and set three days to hear complaints of taxpayers. A second group will be asked to meet with the Court today. (Thursdays), if they are unhappy with the tax raise notice they have received. Another group will meet with them tomorrow.

Judge Thompson said that most of the complainants seemed to go away satisfied, as soon as it was explained just what took place. Some, he said, didn't understand the reason for the raise, and some thought the raises would bring in a large amount of money - more than needed to run the county. He explained that the total increase would only mean about $9,000 additional in tax money, to take care of increased costs and to apply

NEW CITY ALDERMEN SWORN IN; WILL DISCUSS PAVING PROPOSAL

Three new City Aldermen were sworn into office here Monday night as the six man group of City fathers spent most of a short 45-minute session, discussing projects now "in the mill" and those which need attention shortly.

Minutes of the last previous meeting were read to which two members had been added, but a third member had not yet been appointed.

City Clerk Joe Seagler said the Equalization Board, as soon as complete, would meet, probably on July 27th.

One of the Aldermen had to leave early on account of sickness in the family, so most of the first meeting consisted of briefing of present projects.

Concerning chuckholes in the City paved streets, Clerk Seagler told the group that recent rains had dampened the ground to such an extent that the patching would not hold up. He said as soon as the paving had dried sufficiently, in the chuckholes, the patching process would begin.

The group discussed the pre-Location is on the northwest corner of the square.

Ailing, Unhappy Cow Goes Wild Sends Two Men to the Hospital

Two Morton men, one a farmer, the other a bracer laborer, escaped serious injury Saturday as a group of men doctored some cows for screw-worm infections and pink eye, and one of the cows ran wild.

The incident occurred on the T. K. Williamson farm just a few miles southwest of Morton, where Bob Dunham, who operates the farm, Williamson and several others were doctoring a group of 10-15 cows that had been dehorned and had developed screw worms.

The injuries to the two men, Dunham and Juan, occurred in separate incidents involving the same excited cow. The cows were being roped both around the neck and hind leg, jerked down, held tight and doctored.

In the first incident, inside a small corral, the rope missed the hind leg of the cow and the animal charged Dunham, stomping on him and knocking him into a barbed wire fence. Dunham, his ear badly torn and suffering broken ribs, was taken to the hospital and the animal was roped and tied down. After doctoring her for both the screwworms and for numerous cuts she had sustained in charging the wire fence the ropes were loosened and the cow turned loose. It was thought everybody got out of the corral. But Juan, crouched in the corner of the corral, not attempting to get out. The animal, seeing him, lowered her head and sending him to the hospital, where surgery was required on Monday.

Dunham was kept in the hospital over Monday and then released.

AREA MAN ELECTROCUTED IN FARM ACCIDENT; YOUTH ESCAPES DEATH IN SIMILAR MISHAP, TUES.

A 47-year-old area man, Jack Lowe who farms near Maple was killed and an 18-year-old, Tracy Rowland, is recuperating at the Cochran County Hospital in two separate incidents involving electrical contact a few hours apart, Tuesday morning.

Mr. Lowe was found 75 yards from his irrigation well motor, just underneath the guy wire of an REA electrical pole, lying on wet ground. The body was discovered at 11:30 a. m. and he was dead when Singleton Funeral Home ambulance arrived on the scene.

D. B. Lancaster, manager of the Bailey County Electric Cooperative, pieced the incident together this way. He said insulation had worn through on wires leading to the irrigation well, in one small spot and contacted the motor base. The electricity passed 75 yards to the guy wire, and on up to the transformer on the power lines. He theorized Lowe, standing on very wet ground, grabbed the guy wire and was electrocuted.

The Rowland youth narrowly escaped electrocution as he upended a piece of irrigation pipe to empty a rabbit and it came in contact with the power line. His father, F. F. Rowland working a few feet away with a power tool, heard him shout for help when he shut off the motor and rushed to him. He was able to get up and walk to the pick-up under his own power. He suffered burns on both hands and on one foot, his skin was swelled, his nose was bleeding and he had a bump on the back of the head, believed to have been caused by his fall. The father said he may have been hit by the pipe.

At the hospital it was said Tuesday he was resting well, apparently out of danger.

The Rowland incident occurred at about 9:30, the father said, 11 miles west of Morton, just a few miles from where Mr. Lowe was electrocuted a few hours later.

However, it was not known how long Lowe had been dead and was said Tuesday, he may have been dead an hour or more before the body was discovered.

Lowe apparently was working on the irrigation well near the scene, just north of Maple, on the east side of the pavement, just at the point where the "Y" in the highway turns toward Goodland to the west and Enochs to the east.

He had left the house about 1 and one half hours earlier and his son, Don, and an insurance salesman, William Corbin came upon the body in the field, while looking for Lowe.

The tragedy was the third to occur in the John Lowe family since they came to this area.

On Tuesday, July 9, 1946, James R. Lowe, 24-year-old son of Mr. Lowe and brother of Jack, and his 14-year-old nephew, John Wayne Millar - grandson of the John Lowes - were killed instantly when a bolt of lightning hit between two tractors they were driving 100 yards apart in a field near Goodland.

T. K. Williamson Heads Morton Chapter Of Nat'l. Federat'n of Indep. Businesses

T. K. Williamson of the First State Bank of Morton was appointed Thursday to head the Morton chapter of the National Federation of Independent Businesses.

The tabulation is sent, with the signed ballots, directly to the desk of Congressman George Mahon in Washington. Inasmuch as all this action takes place before Congressman Mahon and other members of congress are required to vote on debatable legislative issues that are proposed to become law, it is the only manner in which it is possible for Rep. Mahon to know the personal opinions of his independent business constituents in organized manner, Bennet said.

The announcement was made by Leo Bennet, Lubbock, district manager of the group.
The federation is a non-profit business and professional organization designed to place before federal government officials the desires of independent businessmen throughout the nation maintaining a vote membership, and is polled by ballot each month on the legislative bills and issues that affect independent business enterprise in the nation.

Organization officials explained that it was the federation which obtained efforts of Congress in passing the first step in tax relief for small business -- $260 millions in the closing days of the vast session of Congress.

The organization also spearheaded the drive to make the Small Business Administration a permanent agency in the government, thus creating for the first time in the nation's history a situation where the small businessman was placed on the equal status with "big business" in executive councils dealing with the Commerce Department, Bennet said.

A column "Washington and Small Business" appears regularly in the Tribune. It is written by C. Wilson Harder of NFIB.

D'lene made and modeled a two-piece black all-wool suit. There were seven all-wool garments modeled by girls from clubs over the county. The winner is a former resident of Morton and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hap Rogers of Morton.

A hem marker and large sewing box were presented by Miss Clea Price, Assistant County Home Demonstration Agent to the winner, at the conclusion of the program Saturday morning.

This is the fifth year for the Texas Junior to enroll in the clothing project. She has made and modeled a skirt, a jumper, a cotton school dress, a linen two piece suit, on which she placed first last year, and now the all-wool suit. This is the third year for the local girl to win trips to the State 4-H camp. Last year she won first place in the county on Demonstration of "How to Make Pastry" which she gave at State Camp and received a red ribbon. Previously D'lene won first in the County and District Contest at Roswell to entitle her to compete in the State Talent Hunt where she also received first place and a big plaque.

Working with wool is not entirely new as she made an all-wool garment at school last fall in her homemaker's class under Mrs. Jimmie Altman and received first place in the sub-deb division at the District All-Wool Contest held on the campus of Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, last fall.

"It's always such a thrill to win a trip to the state camp. It's worth every effort," says the Miss who plans to become a home-making teacher. PREVENT SPOILAGE AND POOR QUALITY IN HOME CANNED FOODS

You lose time, labor and money when your canned foods spoil. If quality is poor, the food may lose appeal and nutritive value.

Three causes of food spoilage are: under-processing, faulty seals and improper handling.

Work for top quality in canned products by following these suggestions from the specialists.

Use young products . . . as fresh as you can get.

Gather and can in the cool of the morning.

Clean food thoroughly . . . keep all utensils and containers clean.

Use aluminum, unchipped enamel or glass for holding or pre-cooked food.

Aim for speed in preparation. "One hour from the garden to can is ideal."

Use proper type of can or jar for food being canned.

Have food hot when sealed unless canning vegetables by one-step cold-pack method.

Get a good seal.

Do not overcook or under-process.

Cool quickly.

Store in dark, dry place.

Store in a cool place -- 50-70 degrees F.

You can get the latest information on canning from this office.

CONTROL FOR SILVERFISH

Damage from silverfish may increase during hot weather, according to our Extension Entomologists.

Silverfish thrive on vegetable foods having a high starch or sugar content and are very fond of moist wheat flour. They feed upon sizing in paper, book bindings, wall paper and starchy insulation materials, causing much damage. Thin fabrics such as rayon, curtains and starched clothing may be severely damaged by these insects.

Five percent DDT or two percent chlordane household sprays will control silverfish.

If dusts are preferred, use five percent DDT or chlordane.

Thorough application is important for control. Apply the insecticides to surfaces over which the insects crawl. Caution: do not use sprays around open flames.

SOUR CREAM MAKES TASTY CHICKEN CASSEROLE

Brown the seasoned chicken in the onion mixture. Then cover tightly and simmer until chicken is fork tender. Remove the chicken from the pan and add flour to the drippings.

Stir until uniformly thickened. Then add equal parts of tomato juice and sour cream. About a half pint each will cover one chicken well. Blend until creamy.

Place chicken in the sauce. Cover tightly and simmer about 10 minutes. Serve hot.

Marine Reserves Fly To Summer Training Camp

Two United States Marine Corps Transport planes left from Reese Air Force Base at 8 a.m. the morning of 19 July for Coronado, California.

Aboard these two planes will be approximately 90 officers and men of the 40th Infantry Company, of the United States Marine Corps Reserve. The unit is located in the City of Lubbock, 710 College Avenue. The company commander is Major Gerald H. Sanders of 2413 - 36 street Lubbock, Texas. The reservists are mostly from the city of Lubbock, but the unit also include many men from the surrounding communities.

The reservist arrived in California at 11:30 a.m. PST Sunday morning, and will then proceed by trucks to the Naval Amphibious Base at Coronado, California where the start of the first weeks training will commence.

All of the men in the Company are being taught information about amphibious warfare during the first week and on 23 July, 1955 the company will embark aboard a troopship and on Friday morning the company will make an amphibious assault at a point on the coast of Southern California. Thus, the training of the first week will be put to use by the Marine Reservist the morning the amphibious assault takes place.

The second week of training, the Marine Reservist will be located at camp Matthews, a Marine camp near the city of San Diego. There the reservist will spend several days on the rifle range learning greater proficiency in many types of infantry weapons. A skill for which the Marine Corps is justly proud. Also the last few days of training will be spent on small infantry type problems.

Early Sunday morning, 1 August at 7:30 a.m. the 40th Infantry Company will return to Lubbock, landing at Reese Air Force Base.

Two Morton boys, Greg Zelinski and Herschel Hancock, are attending the summer camp.

Representative Democratic Leaders Condemn Nat'l Foundat'n 'Closed-door' Tactics of DOTC Group

Robert J. Hill as the Texas representative for the National Democratic Executive Committee. It was recently in Morton Friday, checked the Cochran County Foundation opera-

The so-called 'Democrats of Texas Clubs' (DOTC) splinter faction has changed its name at the insistence of the official Party organization. Otherwise, it's the same old clique, same faces, same closed-door political plotting," says the Texas Democratic Newsletter of July 16.

The newsletter is published by the State Democratic Executive Committee. Continuing, the newsletter says "In true DOT fashion, reporters are barred from their secret session — the latest incident being in Abilene, where a news reporter was forced to leave.

"We feel the public interest cannot be served in smoke-filled rooms — behind closed doors — as is the DOT Policy. This practice has been noted at every DOT meeting. The only conclusion to be drawn is that DOT's leadership is too 'politically practical' to expose publicly its radical philosophies, aims, and objectives."

The newsletter, the official voice of the Democratic Party of Texas, also condemns Chairman Paul Butler of the Democratic National Committee for his recent attacks on party leaders.

J. E. Connally, Texas chairman of the party, says "It is unfortunate that Mr. Butler continues to make public statements which divide the Democratic Party. Our State Committee has cooperated with Mr. Butler and the National Committee for the last three years, but he makes this extremely difficult with his repeated attacks upon our Democratic leaders."

The newsletter also says of the national chairman, "Talk of booting Butler from his high party post began several years ago, when his record became an embarrassing liability to Democrats throughout the nation. His inability to raise needed funds, his idea of running a Party on resolutions rather than achievement records, his extremist beliefs and constant knifing of responsible leadership in Congress, all have hurt the Democratic party with wounds not easily healed."

as far as the city was concerned, and they should draw up an ordinance at the hospital board meeting, which the city would then adopt.

The group discussed prices for water taps and water meters, but took no action on meter deposits, which the Clerk said were far too low.

They also discussed the auditors recommendations for creation on a fund for gas and water repairs, but took no action.

The Commission did take action on two things.

On a motion by Roy Gentry and seconded by R. C. Strickland, they authorized the Clerk to purchase five joints (250 feet) of 600 lb. pressure, treated, fire hose. The Clerk had received one price on the hose and it was accepted.

In the other action the group set Thursday (today) as the date for a meeting with the engineering group from Clovis, which has been attempting to start a paving project in the City. The Clerk was to contact the engineers and try to set up the meeting for 5 p. m.

sent covered garbage can ordinance now in effect and will give it serious consideration at the next council meeting. As one of the members put it, "we should either enforce the law we have on the books or repeal it and forget about it." The city now has an ordinance requiring every household to have a covered garbage can in which to place wet garbage.

The group noted the fly and mosquito problem was getting bad and steps needed to be taken to better the city's health conditions.

The City Secretary read to the group the City Ordinance prohibiting the following of emergency vehicles, and Mayor Roy Tarver, Jr., asked that the Tribune publicize this issue again, reminding folks that this law will be enforced.

Seagler told the group a hospital spokesman had contacted him concerning the city passing an ordinance to keep unauthorized persons from parking in the hospital parking lot and blocking the ambulance unloading port. He said he informed this person the city had no authority, since this was private property

Enos Welding Has The Experience You Can Rely On

Herman Enos, a resident of Morton for the past nine years, is another in a large group of Morton merchants who have proved successful, because they have a background similar to the people who patronize them.

Herman, proprietor of Enos Welding Shop, is a former farmer and rancher. This group comprises a large portion of his customers... customers who are satisfied because they are dealing with a man who knows their problems... and their welding needs.

Herman and Dorothy Enos wed in Vaurika, Okla., on a happy December 7, just six years before the infamous December 7, 1941, now remembered as Pearl Harbor Day. Through the process of farming and ranching the moved to Henrietta, Texas, and in December of 1956 they took the steps that brought them to Morton.

Just two months later they opened the welding shop, in February of 1957. Before the year was out, in September, they moved their business to the location which it now occupies — at 505 North Main, in Morton.

The Enos', and their two sons, Tracy, 18 and Billy Don, 15, are all lovers of a good fishing trip. To this fun-loving pastime they recently dedicated the purchase of a boat, which will, no doubt, come into much use, shortly.

Herman does all types of welding... there is no speciality. Knowing full well that every year there are lots of welding repair needs around each farm, and even some need for homemade and home-devised variations of equipment, he stands ready to serve you every welding need.

In addition, Enos Welding Shop handles farming implements such as go-devils, stalk-cutters, knife sleds, etc. They will construct and attach trailer hitches to your pickup or car, or other machine accessory equipment.

In a day when the high price of new farm equipment has a lot of farmers "on the ropes", the averting of the knockout punch may depend upon the efficient and economical repair and longer operation of present equipment. Here is where Enos Welding can help share your troubles. Whenever you have a problem that appears to require a welder, drop by Enos Welding Shop and let them help you decide just what needs to be done. You won't be sorry you did.

Bedwell Implement 't — Service Center For Area Farmers

Whether you refer to it as a "M-M", a "Twin City", or a Minneapolis Moline, almost any Cochran County resident who has lived here very long knows that Bedwell Implement Company is the local sales and service house for this tractor... one of the most popular in the area.

Founded and headed by Henry Bedwell, the company is in its 15th year, and its second location since coming to Morton. Formerly located on the southwest corner of the square, Bedwell Implement is now located on the corner of 1st and Jefferson Streets... one block north and one block east of the square.

Three Bedwells take an active hand in helping maintain the busy establishment now. Sons, Eugene and Herman, are now associated with their father in business.

Henry Bedwell and family... including wife, Amy, and the two boys, moved to Morton in 1934 from Quitaque, At Quilake, and before he opened the Minneapolis-Moline dealership here, Bedwell was a farmer. Since moving to Morton the Bedwells have added another member to their family, a daughter, Henrietta, who is a student at Morton High School.

Henry admits to be from, is proud of, and brings with him a typical Arkansawyer trait... a love for fishin'. Almost as prominent in his hobby-time is golf, and Henry, as a member of the Morton Country Club, plays whenever he can find time from his busy business establishment. His wife is a more indoors loving person. Amy's hobby is ceramics.

The Bedwells were married on March 19, 1922. They are members, attend regularly, and are very active in the First Missionary Baptist Church. Their sons, both married, are also very active in the same church.

Only a few years back Henry served on the Morton City Council.

Henry is president, serving his second term, of the Cochran County singing convention... a group of folks who gather once each month to enjoy gospel singing, at a local church.

In addition to the big M-M tractors, all models, the Implement House is also headquarters for GEHL Combines, Excide Batteries, Briggs-Stratton Gasoline Engines, sprayers and other farm equipment.

Henry, whose many previous years of farming on his own have taught him what the farmer needs, has seen to it that Bedwell Implement has built up a fine reputation as a tractor service center... certainly one of the best places to go for farm equipment and repair in Cochran County.

Whether it's a major overhaul, a minute item out of Bedwell's large supply of parts, one of the big brand name products already named, or even just to check your account with bookkeeper, Dan Swicegood... Bedwell's appreciates every time you drop by the Implement House. And, if none of these reasons avail themselves, you'll find dropping by for a chat with Henry will prove enjoyable and informative for those who farm for a living.

COFFEE AND RECIPE SHOWER HONORS MISSES DEANNA ROSE, DIXIE LOVELACE

"Coffee on the patio and a recipe shower" set the mood for a party honoring two prospective brides, Misses Deanna Rose and Dixie Lovelace, Saturday morning at the Vagabond's house, home of Mrs. Carl England, hostess.

Mrs. Neal Rose and Mrs. N. H. Lovelace, assisted by their daughters in greeting approximately 50 guests and in filing the guests favorite recipes. Hostess gift to each honoree was a recipe file box.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Earl Louder, Mrs. N. A. Monk and Mrs. Bill Garrett, of Lubbock; and Mrs. Don Mc Dermott and son of Crosbyton.

Large, colorful garden flowers in a Mexican push cart provided the main decoration on the patio, with miniature flowers in corresponding colors repeating the theme on the serving and coffee tables. Recordings of romantic music were played during the calling hours.

Other pre-nuptial parties have been planned for the two young women, both of whom have set August 21 as their wedding date.

Miss Rose will become the bride of Don Cullen Van Pelt of Wellington in a late afternoon ceremony at the First Baptist Church; vows will be said at twilight by Miss Lovelace and Wayne C. Porter in the garden of her home, 413 Southeast First Street.

ORAL POLIO VACCINE NOT LIKELY FOR IMMEDIATE FUTURE, BASIL O'CONNOR SAYS; URGES EVERYONE TO GET SALK POLIO VACCINE SHOTS AS SOON AS THEY POSSIBLY CAN

It is most unlikely an oral vaccine will be licensed for use in this county in the immediate future, Basil O'Conner, president of the National Foundation, announced in a letter to chapter chairman this week.

He continues, "It would be a tragic mistake for anyone to delay in getting Salk inoculations in anticipation of being able to get a new kind of polio vaccine soon."

"Since 1933 the National Foundation has been deeply interested in the possibility of developing a live-virus vaccine. We have not only awarded grants amounting to more than $1 million in support of the live-virus vaccine work of Dr. Albert B. Sabin of the University of Cincinnati, but have been also backing other live-virus research as well. A live-virus vaccine, made with strains of each of the three polio virus types, weakened and "tamed" (rather than killed, as they are in Salk vaccine), would, when perfected, presumably have these advantages: it should be of lower cost, simpler to use because it is fed by mouth rather than injected, and potentially capable of having a long term protective effect on a community basis because the vaccine viruses sometimes spread from person to person.

O'Conner goes on to say there are three live-virus polio vaccines undergoing testing.

"Dr. Sabin's vaccine has been more widely tested than the other

It has been given to some 6 million people around the world, including 4 and one half million in the Soviet Union, with no apparent untoward effects. However, recommendations for caution and further testing came from an International Live-Virus Vaccine Conference held in Washington, D. C. last month and attended by 81 scientists from 17 nations.

This was followed on June 30th by an announcement by Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney that the U. S. P. H. S. would not license an oral polio vaccine for use in this county at this time.

With polio incidence mounting alarmingly in several parts of the country today, it remains urgent that Salk vaccinations be stepped up everywhere.

APPLICATION OF NITROGEN ON STUBBLE

The use of nitrogen fertilizers on wheat or grain sorghum stubble is excellent practice in most areas. In the Rio Grande Plain, grain sorghum stubble will start going under soon and could be profitably fertilized with nitrogen. In North and West Texas, where wheat harvest is almost complete, nitrogen applications will aid the following crops. Application of nitrogen to stubble does not necessarily hasten decomposition of the stubble but does keep soil nitrogen from being tied-up, thus resulting in more nitrogen being available for the subsequent crop. The amount of nitrogen to apply will depend on the quantity of stubble. A good "rule of thumb" is 20 pounds N per ton of residue. Hence, on most grain sorghum and wheat stubble, 20 to 40 pounds of actual nitrogen will be sufficient. In some areas, where supplemental irrigation is practiced, it may be profitable to go to 60 pounds N, but this rate would generally be a maximum.

WATCH SOIL MOISTURE, ROOT DEVELOPMENT AND PLANTS

It's rather ironic to "holler wolf" so quickly after the rains most of the High Plains have experienced. But we are finding that in many places frequent rains have held soil to almost saturation condition. Roots of plants have not had to penetrate deep to of the 94th district. Lodges represented included Brownfield, Meadow, Levelland, Plains, Anton, Denver City, Sundown, and Morton.

Recognized as the visitor from the lodge most distant from Morton was Master Sgt. F. D. Peasch of the A. F. & A. M. Lodge No. 949, Ft. Knox, Ky.

The welcoming address was given by County Attorney M. C. Ledbetter. The address had been scheduled by Mayor Roy Tarver Jr., but he declined following recent major surgery. Special music was provided by a quartet from Brownfield.

Following the serving of dinner in the cafeteria, the group moved to the auditorium to hear the Grand Master, who was introduced by Gene Huggins, Antelope Lodge Grand Master, presented W. A. Brasher of Levelland a 50-year gold award from the Grand Lodge.

A. G. Jones of Morton was recognized as having been a Mason for more than 65 years.

"Many sorrows and many honors come to a Grand Master," the official head of the Texas Grand Lodge said, "but none gives him more pleasure than the presentation of a 50-year service award."

Brasher had been a member of the Levelland Lodge for more than 20 years.
