Individual Cotton Allotment Notices Are Mailed Out To Cochran Farmers

Official notices of 1960 cotton allotments are now being mailed to Cochran County growers, according to Ruth McGee, Office of the Cochran County ASC. The notices should reach all operators of "old" cotton farms within the next few days.

As in 1959, two allotments for 1960 crop upland cotton will be established for each farm, and if marketing quotas are in effect for the crop, each farm operator will have an opportunity to choose the one he wants to comply with. If he elects and complies with the regular - choice (A) - allotment, he will be eligible for price support at not less than 75 per cent of parity; if he elects and complies with the choice (B) allotment (which is 40 per cent larger than the "A" allotment), his crop will be eligible for price support at not less than 60 per cent of parity.

If marketing quotas are not in effect for the 1960 crop of upland cotton, only the "regular" allotments will be available and price support to cooperators will be available at 50 per cent of parity. Farm operators who elect the choice (B) cotton allotment must register their choice at the County ASC office. If the referendum on Dec. 15 approves marketing quotas for the 1960 upland cotton crop, farm operators will then be notified of the deadline for filing such (B) choices.

If the operator intends to grow his cotton under the (A) choice, no action need be taken. Failure to elect choice (B) will automatically make Choice (A) effective on the farm for 1960.

All persons who, as landlords, tenants, or sharecroppers, engaged in the production of cotton in 1959 are eligible to vote in the Referendum on Dec. 15th.

NEW HOSPITAL MANAGER, SUPERINTENDENT OF NURSES, ANESTHETIST ARE HIRED HERE

Chas. E. Lewis, who has had some seven years experience in the hospital field, was named Monday night as administrator of the Cochran County Hospital by the hospital's board of managers.

Also announced was the appointment of Mrs. Tom Rowden, registered nurse as superintendent of nurses, and Mrs. Bob Cross, registered nurse and registered anesthetist, as hospital anesthetist.

The board had interviewed Mrs. Rowden and Mrs. Cross at previous called meetings, and had asked them to assume professional duties Dec. 1.

Lewis, who applied for the position some two weeks ago, was asked to assume his duties as administrator with the hospital's six anesthetists, under the direction of Dr. J. S. Bolling.

The changes in superintendent of nurses and anesthetist was announced at a meeting of the board Nov 21 to which all staff employees of the hospital were invited.

Mrs. Cooter Barnett has been serving the hospital as superintendent of nurses and anesthetist.

The position of hospital administrator has been open since the resignation of Dewitt Allsup in October. Allsup accepted the post of business manager and director of clinical and electrocardiographic laboratories at the Medical Center here.

Mrs. Homer Thompson, hospital bookkeeper, was named by the board as acting manager until an administrator was named.

Monday night's meeting was called by J. C. O'Brien, president of the board, for the purpose of interviewing applicants for the

Cotton Harvest Nearly Completed; TEC Says 46,000 Bales Are Ginned

The final report of the TEC as to the cotton harvest for Cochran County, listed cotton 98 per cent open and 77 per cent harvested.

It showed 46,225 bales ginned in the county. The crop estimate was still carried at 60,000 bales. The report, which usually runs about 5 - 10 days behind the actual figures, will be the last one, it was said, since crops for the area are nearly harvested. Local observers estimated earlier this week, the crop would be almost completely harvested by the time the Tribune went to press, and that final ginning would fall short of the predicted 60,000 bales. They based this on the fact that the cotton wasn't ginning out as much as hoped for for the weight of cotton picked.

To Area FFA and 4-H CLUB MEMBERS & INSTRUCTORS:

The purpose of this letter is two-fold — First, to acquaint the members of your club with a Free Farm Tractor Safety Check Program which we are conducting, beginning December 10.

Second, to offer to your club as a group, the facilities of our Service Department as an "auxiliary classroom," where you may come to observe, examine, study, and learn about the newest farm tractors and implements and the techniques of modern equipment maintenance.

During the next few weeks, we will be offering free to farmers, a Tractor Safety Check in which we will apply a set of accepted safety standards in inspecting any tractor brought to our shop to ascertain its mechanical safety for field and highway use, and for inside storage. Your group is cordially invited to bring to our shop, in a group, your fathers' tractors, and to help conduct the actual safety checks.

I also want to offer, to your group, an invitation to use our shop facilities, under the supervision of our mechanics and your own instructor, to further your knowledge of farm tractors and other equipment.

If you wish to take advantage of either of these offers — which I am tendering to you without obligation — please contact me personally, or have your instructor do so.

Sincerely,

Headlines . . .

By EDDIE IRWIN

LET'S START out this week by saying thanks to Sam Marshall at the SCS office, for tipping us off last week about the A & M graduate students in town. We thought contacts with people who would call us when a story is developed, we'd be lost. Therefore, we appreciate those calls, and matter who planned the event or sponsored it. The one who calls us, enables us to get a story, and for that we are grateful.

WE HAD A TRACE of snow on Thanksgiving Day, but fortunately, the weather has stayed for the most part dry. Just a few days more, and we should have most of this year's crop. Then snows can come.

without any serious complaints. by chance . . .

WE HAD AN OCCASION the other day, along with going to Lovington, N. M., on business, to see and talk with Clyde Carson, who formerly lived in Morton for a few years. Since a lot of folks here remember him, and probably didn't know what ever became of them, we pass along the word that they are doing fine. Clyde has a job in Lovington. The oldest son (they called him Dutch) is a sophomore in high school; Mason is in her last year of elementary school; and Little Margaret is in the Carson's. Clyde and his wife, also, since they left here, have had a fourth child, now a year and half old. In Morton, in addition to working at the Tribune Office, Clyde was Scoutmaster here and Mrs. Carson (Jackie) was a member of the L'Allegro Study Club.

ASKED, the other day, what boys make a run to your house your gin, or your farm. Who will send the bill?

well, actually . . .

THERE WILL be no bill sent out, although there is a bill. The Volunteer Fire Department does the best job they know how to do, and they spend considerable time learning how to do it. But the fact remains, the city is footing most of the bill.

what should be . . .

DONE, and what has been proposed many times but has not been done, is that the county should pay a portion of an ambulance on the out of town fire run made by the department. But the county hasn't exactly been "flashed" in the slang usage of the word.

what the individual . . .

CAN DO, and we think should do, is as follows: Make out a check to Volunteer Fire Department. You know the fire run was worth something to you and your business. How much cannot be the determining factor. Too often, you or I couldn't pay what it was really worth. The important thing is that we all appreciate the year. They get, as paymen each year, a dollar a cheaper water rate, a dollar per fireman, for each each prairie make (and for each prairie meeting they make) and some insurance. If they stay on the department long enough, they get a small retirement monthly benefit.

but none . . .

OF THESE THINGS can pay for the service they render. You and I know that. The Volunteer Firemen just get to be one of those groups we learn to expect and depend upon, without giving much of a second thought.

WHEN THEY DO MAKE A run to your place, don't forget to personally thank them. A little

ONE MORE REMINDER TO MOTORISTS

from WILLIAMSON INSURANCE AGENCY

In going over the list of conflicting points, in regard to the new Texas Safe Driving plan, we find three points that appear to be the most confusing. One of the most asked questions, concerns the distribution of assigned points in a policy which covers one car driven by two or three members of a household, or more. The answer is simple. Add up all the points of the drivers of the car.

The second question, is a reverse of the first. In a household with more than one car, (say a car and a pickup), both insured under one policy, how are the points assigned? The answer: Points are assigned according to the usual operator of each car. If both units are operated the same amount by both drivers, the total points for both drivers will be assigned to one car and the other auto will receive the maximum credit.

The third question is: How will points be assigned in the event of an accident where the driver is also convicted of a traffic violation? Will he receive points for both the accident (2 points) and the traffic violation (1 point)? Answer: Only the two points for the accident will be assigned, except in the event of DWI, Negligent Homicide, or Hit and Run, conviction. For any of these three, the four points for the conviction of the offense, and the two points for the accident will apply, making a total of 6 points.

Other questions will come up, questions which we will make every effort to answer to your satisfaction. Please feel free to call on us, when needing an explanation of how points are assessed, and how they will affect the cost of your vehicle insurance.

City Vitrally Needs a Chamber . . .

A few years ago, after several monthly meetings of the Morton Chamber of Commerce, in which only two or three directors even bothered to attend, it was decided to disband the Chamber, and, in fact, to bury the organization.

The action was a fitting thing. No Chamber of Commerce at all is better than a "half baked" organization. Complete lack of anyone to turn to for Chamber services is better than one or two people being asked to receive these requests for service.

Frankly, we've enjoyed the past two years, being able to say to those who came to the newspaper office for Chamber of Commerce clearance on a project, "we don't have a Chamber."

It isn't because we don't want Morton to grow. But it is because we believe that complete lack of a Chamber for a period of time, will do more toward the creation of a REAL Chamber of Commerce, than anything else.

Do we need one? You bet we do. We always have needed one. But we need one on the terms of full time proposition . . . no other way. Any further attempt to hire a part time secretary to a part time job, in our opinion, is wasted time and money.

Perhaps the time is not yet ripe. Perhaps we still have not argued long enough. If we are still in the stage where merchants approached about the subject simply say, "I'll go if . . . goes," then the time is not yet ripe.

The formation of a Chamber of Commerce needs to be a positive action. It needs to be done with forethought by those who set it up. It cannot be a "try it and we'll see" proposition, or it is doomed to failure.

When we start, those who are for it, must be ready to support it. They must enter into it ready to pay the dues that will hire a manager who is on the ball. Preferably, they need to hire a man who is already successful in the field of Chamber of Commerce work.

The time may be ripe. We are not sure of the answer to that question. But if you, as a merchant, are tired of this constant pulling apart instead of pulling together, of our merchants; if you are ready to map out plans for holidays, and trade, and giveaways, and donations on a community wide basis, without a bitter feeling that this man or that man is not taking part . . . you may be ready for a Chamber of Commerce.

It's time. WHEN YOU, AS A MERCHANT, ARE READY, and not before.

Facts Support Point System . . .

A question has been raised in some circles, as to why the point system is so important in the new safe Driving Insurance law instituted in Texas, effective, January 1, 1969.

The reason can be seen in the statistics released by the State Highway Department during the past few weeks.

The statistics show conclusively, that there is consistent increase in the ratio of accidents among drivers who have more moving traffic violations than others.

A careful analysis of 40,365 driver's records was made. First of all, it was proved that drivers who have prior traffic offenses, had more accidents than those who had none. Then it shows a consistent increase in this accident ratio.

In the group, 31,905 had no traffic tickets at all, 2,730 of these had accidents. Moving into the next group, those with one traffic ticket, 1,518 of the total of 5,402 had accidents. That was an increase of 2.23 times as many accidents per individual driver.

Those with 2 traffic tickets had 4.77 times as many accidents as those with none. Those with 3 traffic convictions had 5.94 times as many accidents, 4 - 6.13 times as many accidents; 5 - 8.08 times as many accidents; and 6 - 9.25 times as many mishaps.

Some may say, turn the figures around and check the other way. They say, "you have so many more drivers in the group that have not had accidents, that the percentage of accidents will, of course be less." This is incorrect figuring, but just for the sake of argument, let's figure it by ratio of accidents to drivers, in each group.

In the first group, no previous tickets, the ratio is .2761, 3 - .4083, 4 - .5088, 5 - .5220, 6 - .6316, and in the final group, the ratio is .7917. Thus it is easy to see that the incidence of accidents per driver, and the total number of accidents in the entire group, increase with each ticket given . . . regardless of how many drivers are in that category.

With the fact assured that nine times as many accidents occur to those who have had six tickets, than to those who have had none, the proof is conclusive.

Soil Test Becoming Integral Part Of Farmer's Fight For Better Quality Crop

In an age where not only greater yield . . . but greatest yield possible is an important factor to an individual farmer's economic welfare, and where quality of his crop is the most important price factor, County Agricultural Agents all over the Plains have been inspiring farmers to test their soil, and to fertilize on the basis of best showings. Rather than just putting fertilizer down because it is indicated, fertilizer can produce more crops.

Lubbock County Agent Lee H. McElroy pointed out recently the many farming practices of this area that were unknown less than 10 years ago.

It is, through this complete program, that a farmer can see how the use of fertilizer can be fitted into his crop production to make more money.

In Cochran County, for a long time, County Agricultural workers have urged soil testing and conservation practices that are tailor-made for a certain type of land. They have recognized for a long time that a farmer cannot look at his soil and accurately predict its ability to supply nutrients for top crop production.

Fall is an ideal time for soil testing. Not only are the soil testing laboratories uncrowded, but a plentiful supply of fertilizer is available. Soil is also usually in ideal condition for taking of soil samples.

County Agents are ready and willing to supply all the information necessary for each farmer to be able to take a correct sample of his soil. And certainly, farmers should be ready to take advantage of this service.

In meeting after meeting, discussing the cotton situation, in the Cochran County Auditorium this past year, it has been emphasized every time, that the salvation for the Cochran County farmer lies in the quality of cotton he produces. Quality alone won't do the job.

Now is an ideal time for Cochran County farmers to lead the parade of South Plains farmers in this vital need . . . that of every farmer testing his soil, so that he can know the needs of his soil . . . so that he can produce the quality of crop that will bring a top price on a flooded market.

And the farmer who is still unconvinced, will find the facts . . . yieldwise, and dollars - and - cents-wise, available right here in Cochran County. They won't have to try to understand figures taken from a Lubbock, or Hale County farm. Enough Cochran County farmers have already made the tests this past crop season, to convince even the most skeptical farmers, that proper management will pay off in increased net profits.

What causes changes in farming practices, is a question that cannot be answered in one or even a few terms. Even the most obvious proof of the value of a farming practice in the increase of crops, often meets with cold reception from a skeptical, suspicious farmer. Often it takes a long circumstance of events, to convince a sizeable segment of farmers of the need for a change.

Often a farmer may be convinced of the value of a practice, such as fertilizing, but still does not take the necessary steps to fertilize properly, and in the long run defeats his purpose by over fertilizing, underfertilizing, or fertilizing with the wrong ingredients.

To fertilize by the "bag or two" cannot bring the desired results. The farmer must know just what is deficient in his particular soil, and add the right amount. To know his soil is deficient, but not know what is lacking, can be more costly than no knowledge at all.

Agents point out how simple, inexpensive, and profitable it can be to sample and test soils. But if the farmer completes the soil testing cycle, and follows the fertilizing recommendations to the "T", this still is not enough. Today's farmer is in the same boat with today's businessman. He must study the complete story of crop management and soil management. Too much economy in use of fertilizers, in not taking the time to get the complete story, is failing to understand the nutrient - supplying power of the soil, can prove to be no economy at all.

The best and most practical way for a farmer to obtain top yields is to first start by obtaining a test of soils on every field on his place.

This soil testing is part of a new intensified soil fertility program that the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is launching to help area farmers increase net profits through a complete soil management practice . . . which includes, intelligent use of fertilizers.

In a four county area, Lubbock, Hale, Lamb and Terry Counties, the program in practice will include the soil testing first, to be followed by demonstrations on moisture management, balanced fertilizer usage, and crop management.

Quick Work Halts Gin Fire

The quick and efficient fighting efforts of the ginning crew at Casey's Gin, may have saved the gin from total destruction Saturday morning.

A gasket on a hydraulic pump, which blew, and spewed hydraulic fluid all over the press area of the gin, was listed as the immediate cause of the blaze. A stove pipe gas heater ignited the fluid and the end of the gin housing the press was aflame.

Employees quickly sprang into action with a garden hose and CO2 extinguishers and when the Morton Volunteer Firemen arrived, the blaze had been knocked out.

Care In Christmas Mailing May Prevent Failure of Christmas Mail to Arrive

Postmaster Murry Crone this week announced his annual "Mail Easy for Christmas" campaign, and outlined plans for insuring delivery of all Christmas gifts and cards by Christmas Eve. "Public cooperation," he said, "has been a key factor in moving Christmas mail on time in recent years, and I am hopeful that it will be even better this year."

The Postmaster urged patrons of the Morton Post Office to start mailing Christmas packages now. Packages to distant places especially should be mailed as early as possible.

"This is also the week to prepare and mail your out of town Christmas cards," he said.

Crone gave these pointers on the proper mailing of packages, "Use sturdy corrugated mailing cartons, plenty of heavy brown wrapping paper, and be sure that every package is tied with strong cord. Cartons containing several gift packages should be stuffed with tissue or old newspapers to cushion the contents."

"If your article is of unusual size or bulk, check with the post office because there are restrictions on size and weight."

"It is also important to make sure your package bears the correct mailing address and your return address. If you are sending your package to a large city be sure to include the addressee's zone number. Including the zone number in the address always will facilitate delivery in large cities. Zone numbers also should be used on Christmas cards and other mail to cities with postal zones."

"The address should be on top of the package, and it should be carefully written or lettered. A piece of transparent cellophane tape placed over the address will usually prevent defacing in transit. It is also a good idea," he said, "to include the address inside the package in case the outside address should become defaced."

"If you use Christmas stickers or seals, place them where they will not conflict with the address. Then, before you drop the package in the mail, be sure you have firmly affixed proper postage."

The Postmaster reminded that the entire Christmas mailing period is primarily a battle against time. A delay now will contribute to a serious pile up, particularly in the larger post offices, as the holiday approaches.

All packages going to distant cities should be in the post office by December 10. Other mail should be sent on its way as soon as possible, and all local mail should be in the post office no more than a week or 10 days later. This kind of cooperation would mean that all Christmas mail would be delivered on or before Christmas Eve, the Postmaster explained.

Hodge Podge of — SPORTS NOTES...

By Eddie Irwin

THERE'S NO use trying to figure out what happened to Olton in the playoffs last Thursday against the Denver City Mustangs. Suffice it to say that the Mustangs of Denver City had too many "horses" for the Mustangs of Olton. They ran 'em into the ground, and that ends the football season from District 2 - AA teams.

Olton shouldn't feel so put out. Levelland has a perennial habit of winning their district title and then getting the shivers on Thanksgiving Day Two years in a row they have beaten Andrews in the regular season game and then lost to them in the Bi-district. And, if everything goes as is expected, this will be two years in a row that Breckenridge, given a terrific battle by Levelland during the season, has walked all over Andrews in the playoffs. There just is no way to figure those things.

ONE OF THE problems our Indians are going to be plagued with again this basketball season, is lack of the big man. Through several good years of basketball teams, the Indians never can seem to come up with a man over 6 foot 2 inches tall. This year is no exception. We'll do all right in comparison of overall height on the team, but the real tall man to get those rebounds off the boards is not there.

IT'S JUST possible we may have one of the better girls teams to have played at Morton in many a year of basketball. Morton has always had its share of good forwards, but somehow, except in a few years, we had trouble knitting the girls into a well rounded team. This isn't to say that has been done this year, or will be. But indications are that we could get the job done.

Obituary Also Applies to Morton

The following article was taken from the Nov. 26 Muleshoe Journal but can also be adapted to fit our own post office.

AN OBITUARY

Thousands of Christmas Cards died last December 25th at your local post office.

There were no known survivors — due to the lack of proper addresses.

Authorities agree death could have been averted if first class postage had been used and returned address applied to upper left hand corner.

Services were conducted in the post office.

Burial was in the local waste paper basket.

Interment of the demand was under the auspices of the Dead Letter Branch of the Post Office Department.

Pall bearers were local clerks and carriers.

— Submitted by Arnold Alcorn, Muleshoe Postmaster.

undred team. This isn't to say that has been done this year, or will be. But indications are that we could get the job done.

Wage Findings Remain the Same

In the recent report received by the Tribune from the Department of Labor, no prevailing wage finding from survey made November 16, was released.

The notification, from Ed McDonald, regional director of the Department of Labor, and sent through the Lubbock office of the Texas Employment Commission, indicates there was not sufficient evidence on which to base a wage finding. The last previous finding was $1.50 per hundredweight for pulling cotton in Cochran County.

MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE TO MEET THURSDAY

The Cochran County Ministerial Alliance will meet at the First Missionary Baptist Church in Morton, Thursday, Dec. 3, at 10 a. m. (Today). All ministers of the area are cordially invited to meet with the group and join their program.

Lions Hear Talk On Research In Agricultural Field

Four guests were on hand Wednesday, at the regular noon meeting of the Morton Lions Club, including the guest speaker, Don Jones, of the Experimental Station in Lubbock.

Other guests were Doyle Nix, Dan Davis and Harvey Pool.

Jones spoke to the group on changes in the South Plains agriculture based on agricultural research. He traced developments from the era of "goose necked" grain to today's hybrid sorghum, from hand pulled cotton to today's storm proof, pre watered, irrigated, machine pulled cotton.

He noted that today's farmer must invest in these increased services, at increased cost of raising a crop, such as use of fertilizing, delinting and desiccating, etc; but at the same time he is raising a commodity which the rest of the nation is trying to cut the cost of.

Jones pointed out the two facts of research work; first, the fundamentals, which includes the "hows" and "whys" of crop raising; and second, the basic, which includes the actual plans or methods of improving crops.

He lauded the American farmer for increasing his production by 83 per cent, while industry has increased its production by only 38 per cent. "Yet," he said, "This very progressiveness, is what is hurting the farmer. Their efficiency is being penalized, as the nation looks for a cheaper price on commodities that are farm raised."

He also gave the South Plains farmer for being more progressive than farmers of other areas, but emphasized that we still haven't come up with the answer to the farm problem... where it costs more to produce but the price is going down.

The club also discussed the Christmas Shopper's Night and parade and agreed to help pay for the cost of Christmas Candy at the annual Legion supper, if one was held.

The board then interviewed Marshall, who had arrived shortly after the meeting was called to order.

Another visitor arriving during the meeting was...

post of administrator. The only other applicant to appear Monday night was T. D. Marshall of Morton.

Other members of the board present were L. W. Barrett, vice president of the board, Arvel Edgness, J. C. King, L. L. Donald, and Bill Glassboro, secretary.

Shortly after the managers met six persons appeared before the board requesting that the board reconsider its decision regarding Mrs. Barnett.

They presented the board with a petition bearing 46 signatures and stating: "We protest the firing of Mrs. Barnett, supervisor of nurses at the Cochran County Hospital."

Presenting the petition were Mrs. G. D. Lewis, Mrs. William Zuber, William Zuber, Hughes Smith, Ken Coffman, and Mrs. Ken Coffman.

The president of the board explained that the board had acted in unity with due consideration, and believed that such action was in the best interest of the hospital.

Following general discussion coffee and cookies were served, and the visiting group expressed their appreciation for the board's time, and in turn were "thanked" for their interest in the hospital.

They departed shortly after 8:30 p. m.

PARADE —

The Tribune office will be notified of the decision. Anyone wanting to make a last minute check can call the Tribune office before 5 p. m. Monday night to find out.

Other plans being made in conjunction with the parade are the turning on of the Christmas lighting on the square on Monday night. The playing of Christmas music from the Court House will begin Monday night.

Merchants who are willing to sponsor a float by helping some school group pay for the crepe paper, etc., to decorate with, and securing a wagon or whatever is necessary, is urged to contact Mrs. Sue Travis, phone 2216 or Bob Hulse, phone 6321. They will serve as co-chairmen of the project.

All floats entered in the judging will have as a theme, the title or words of a Christmas seasonal song. Entrants must phone Mrs. Travis and notify her of the song title or words they are using, so no two entries will be alike.

The parade will begin to form at 5:30 p. m. The Morton band, several local choral groups, the Whiteface band and other invited groups plan to be a part of the parade.

Lackey Grocery and Market here Jan. 15, 1951, and have continued its operation to date.

In 1954 they constructed the present brick and tile building which houses the firm north of Smith Furniture and Appliances. They have been residents of Morton for the past 29 years, moving here from Oklahoma on May 1, 1930.

Lackey first entered the automotive repair business, and continued in that business for five years. For six years he served as Cochran County Treasurer.

From 1939 through 1941 he operated Piggly Wiggly in Morton, and since then has been employed at Truett's Food Store, Doss Super Food Store, and again at Piggly Wiggly prior to opening the Ford Tractor business here in 1947.

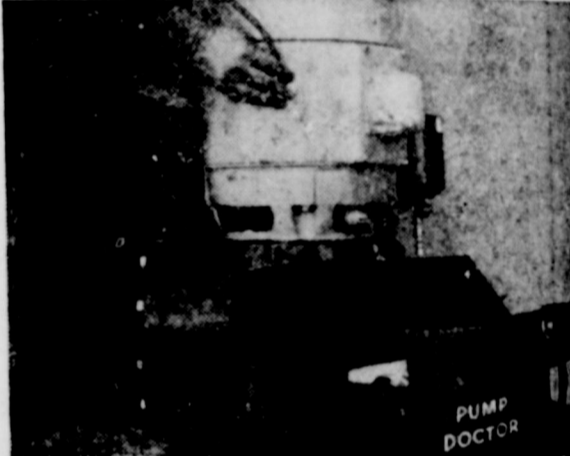

The Lackeys only break from Morton was in the early 40's when he attended a six month diesel school in California.

Upon returning to Morton he became associated with Allsup Chevrolet Company before opening his own garage business.

A varied experience, and from talking to Mr. and Mrs. Lackey one may make sure they've enjoyed each experience.

And as some old timers say, Lackey has founded more successful businesses in Morton than any other man.
