MORTON, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1960

NUMBER FORTY - SIX

VOTE IN THE WATER DISTRICT ELECTION, TUESDAY

COUNTY GETS 6 INCH SNOW

Cochran County got its first moisture of the new year, Monday, when a slow drizzle of rain, which began around 11 p. m. at night, turned into a snowfall at about 5 a. m. Tuesday and continued to fall intermittently throughout the day.

Officially gauged, by the Soil Conservation office, after it had quit falling, sometime Tuesday night, at 5 1/2 to 6 inches in Morton, the snow contained an official .45 inches of moisture.

A highly beneficial to cropland, type of snow, it remained on the ground Wednesday night, despite the fact the sun shone most of Wednesday, and a Wednesday night freeze put a halt to the melting temporarily.

Most of the South Plains benefited by the snowfall, but Cochran County was among the counties getting the heaviest fall, this far south in Texas.

Inconveniences which accompanied the snow include, of course, icy roads and hazardous travel that forced school buses to take the rural students home early Tuesday, and they did not make their runs yesterday and were not scheduled to make them today. But the town kids attended school as usual.

Fortunately, by Wednesday night, there were no reports of any serious accidents on account of the snow, but the re-freeze Wednesday night caught the streets still wet and made them treacherous.

The temperature in Morton dipped to a few degrees above zero, depending on which thermometer you used to gauge the cold. In downtown Morton the thermometer read 2 degrees above zero at 6 a. m. and was still down to 4 above at 8 a. m. It was the coldest spell in the past two winters in Morton.

The moisture got the county farmers off running on a good crop year. In 1959, though the rain was received in December of '58 and the ground was in fair condition, the moisture wasn't even measurable in January. In fact it was May of last year before more than an inch of rain was received.

City personnel were routed out of bed to worry with bursted gas lines at 2 a. m. Wednesday morning.

Albert Morrow Appointed . . . JUDGE A. D. FOREHAND RESIGNATION RECEIVED

Justice of the Peace A. D. Forehand resigned his office effective January 1st, and Albert Morrow has been appointed to the office by the Commissioner's Court.

The resignation came about the middle of last week but was not acted upon and accepted by the Court until a session Saturday morning, January 2nd, since Court House offices were closed on New Year's Day.

Mr. Forehand, in a letter of resignation, listed the failing health of both he and his wife as the major reasons for not allowing him to "take care of the office as I should". He dated the resignation effective January 9th, but later changed it to January 1st, when it was pointed out that it would be a much greater problem in bookkeeping and other county business, if the transaction was made nine days after the first of the year, than if it would become effective on the 1st.

He expressed his pleasure at working with the group and thanked them for their cooperation, wishing each of them success for the future.

After accepting the resignation, the Court discussed the appointment of Morrow, who is also County Service officer, to the position of JP of Precinct One.

Under Texas law he could hold both jobs. After informing the county he would accept, he was appointed with unanimous approval of the Court.

He immediately began service in the new post and on Monday of this week he was busy with a full schedule of cases.

TWO IN COMMISSIONER'S RACE . . . LEONARD O. COLEMAN, ALBERT MORROW ARE CANDIDATES

The county had its first election race underway this week with announcement that Leonard O. Coleman will be a candidate for Commissioner of Precinct One. Ran Holloman had announced for reelection last week.

Two other candidates announced for office during the week, one in the county and one in a district race.

Senator Preston Smith authorized the Tribune to announce his candidacy for re-election to the post in the 28th Senatorial District this week. He was the first candidate to announce for the post.

On Tuesday, Albert Morrow, recently appointed Justice of the Peace of Precinct One, announced he would be a candidate for that office in the 1st Democratic Primary.

Candidates have until February 2nd to request that their name be placed on the ballot for the primary elections of 1960.

County Man Seeks Place On District Water Board

Cochran Countians within the bounds of the High Plains Underground Water District, which includes most of Precinct One, about two fifths of Precinct Four and a small section of Precinct Two, will go to the polls Tuesday morning to elect a District Committeeman, a man to serve on the District Board.

Voting for this post will be in Cochran, Lamb, and Hookley Counties, and each of the counties has one man on the ballot. Roy Hickman will be on the ballot from this county. Henry Scmidley, of Levelland and Roy B. McQuatters, Sr., Littlefield, are the other men on the ballot.

In addition to this voting, in the small section of Precinct Four within the Water District, voters will elect one man to serve on the county board from a field of three candidates. The three men on the ballot are Roy Greer, W. C. Millsap, and D. A. Ramsey.

The polls will open at 8 a. m. and will close at 5 p. m. it was announced this week. Voting in Cochran County will be at the Star Route Coop Gin, in Precinct Four, by special request of the local board, since the regular voting place, the old Neely Ward School House is in a bad state of disrepair; and at the County Activities Building. Folks from Precinct Two in the water district will vote at the Activities building in Morton.

The voting places, the judges named, and all plans for the election were made by the Lubbock headquarters of the water board.

Local Water Board members have made a special effort to notify area residents of the qualification of voters. In order to be eligible to cast a vote, the person must live within the bounds of the water district and must have been eligible to vote in the 1959 elections by virtue of holding a 1959 poll tax receipt or exemption.

They specified that City Residents of Morton, as well as rural residents around the city are living in the district and are thus eligible.

The local board is making a special effort to "get out the vote" for the Tuesday election, because of the need to get our water problems before the district board. In Roy Hickman as a candidate, they have picked a man who has tried will vote at the Activities building.

The group spent better than two hours discussing various phases of city business, including paying the monthly bills, but little action was taken.

Uppermost in the discussion was the problem of needed adjustment of prices of water and gas taps to individual customers, and the need to place certain lo-

Community's Responsibilities to Be Emphasized By Texas Delegates to White House Youth Conference

Texas delegates to the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth will emphasize the Community's responsibility in combatting the problems of today's future citizens.

The 154 member State Committee for the Washington meeting conducted extensive studies throughout Texas in pinpointing the problems facing children and youth.

A state wide Governor's Conference will be held in the House of Representatives in Austin Saturday to study the Committee's report and recommend its practical application on the local level.

One of the most comprehensive reports compiled was on the problems relating to welfare. Although many recommendations were made for welfare improvement the Committee pointed out: "Public welfare is still essentially a local responsibility."

This is true, the report adds, despite increased activities in the welfare field by governmental agencies.

In its study and recommendations on welfare, the Committee covered many categories affecting public welfare of children. These include migratory workers, dependent children, foster care and adoptions, day care and home maker services, family counseling, divorce and broken homes and community planning and coordination among welfare agencies.

ermine the effectiveness of mobile classrooms, a traveling child welfare worker, and a mobile health unit.

DEPENDENT CHILDREN. A great deal of confusion surrounds the term "Dependent Child," which the Governor's Committee explained as follows: "There are those who are, in fact dependent under Texas law by virtue of being abandoned, deserted, lacking in parental guidance, residing in immoral surroundings, etc., and there are others who are economically dependent."

The actual number of Texas children who are in need of economic assistance is unknown. Statistics show that 23,585 families representing 74,564 children, are receiving Aid to Dependent Children funds in Texas. The amount totals $1,668,025 per month, representing approximately $22 per month for each child.

ADC may be provided in cases of desertion by the father, physical or mental incapacity of the wage earner, illegitimacy, and death of the wage earner.

The race extraction of families receiving ADC in Texas are: Anglo American, 18.3 percent; Latin American, 39.3 per cent; Negro, 42.2 per cent, others, 2 percent.

Extended U. S. Social Security benefits have resulted in aid to 79,393 Texas children who are receiving $2,852,000 per month, averaging $35.92 per month per child.

The Committee cited other forms of economic assistance to needy children, such as the national school lunch program, local welfare agencies, certain state schools and religious groups.

In its recommendations relating to dependent children, the Committee urged changes in the ADC law so that aid would be available to children residing with a legal custodian regardless of the relationship, and that aid be available to children over 13 years of age when warranted.

Other recommendations: 1. That funds and facilities be provided for temporary foster home care of children adjudicated dependent by the courts. 2. That one worker or agency service the overall needs of one family. 3. That more attention be given to assisting economically dependent normal children in their own homes rather than in institutions. This information in the Federal Social Security Offices, such as addresses and earnings of occupying fathers, be made available to local courts to facilitate securing of child support.

FOSTER CARE AND ADOPTIONS. Approximately 6,000 children in Texas are in licensed private foster care homes and institutions, and a limited number are in state institutions. It is not known how many are in unlicensed homes or in boarding homes not requiring licenses.

Last year, petitions were filed in Texas for the adoption of 7,080 children.

Of the non-iterative adoptions only 1,099 resulted from placements made by licensed child-placing agencies.

The Committee cited the need for facilities for handicapped dependent children for whom private homes can not be found. In adoptions, the Committee pointed to the need for qualified social workers to make investigations for the courts.

It was recommended that medical, legal and theological schools and associations assume responsibilities for educating members of their professions as to the ethics and laws regarding adoption.

"Many dangers are involved when unqualified persons engage in the profession of child placing," the Committee stated.

A lack of knowledge regarding facilities for unwed expectant mothers was indicated in the Committee's report, which told of many private and public agencies throughout the state offering hospitalization, counseling, and child placement services when needed.

"Such expectant mothers should be informed of the facilities available," the report said, "and officials and professional people in each county should know the name of, and how to reach, the public assistant field worker or child welfare worker who can provide this information."

DAY CARE AND HOMEMAKER SERVICES: Last year Texas had 755 licensed day care centers, institutions and homes serving between 12,000 and 13,000 children; but there are 310,000 Texas children under 14 whose mothers work, with 24,000 of those having no supervision whatsoever.

The Committee, in citing the problem of day care, recommended that "the Department of Public Welfare staff be augmented as quickly as possible so that this important field of service will be given proper and prompt attention."

The Committee recommended the establishment and further development of homemaker services throughout the state. This is a new field which provides a temporary homemaker when the mother is unavoidably absent. It is much less costly than boarding care and keeps the child within his own home and surroundings.

FAMILY COUNSELING, DIVORCE, BROKEN HOMES: Pointing out that many problems of children may be traced to broken homes, the Committee suggested the need for additional family counseling services which do much to prevent divorce. Education of the public regard present counseling services was recommended, and communities not having such facilities were urged to establish them.

COMMUNITY PLANNING AND COORDINATION: The vast majority of welfare services are provided by voluntary contributions on the community level. The work of charitable agencies in many instances has no coordination, the Committee indicated in recommending that communities analyze their needs and meet them on a planned basis so that the greatest of welfare services be given for each dollar spent. Studies and evaluations also were urged so that all areas of welfare needs will be covered.

General Telephone Presents Story of Extended Area Service to Lions Club

The "other" side of the telephone story was presented at a two hour meeting of the Morton Lions Club, Wednesday, at their regular weekly luncheon meeting.

Optional Dates For Filing '59 Income Tax

Farmers and ranchers are afforded optional filing dates with their Federal income tax returns according to Howard O. Nichols of Internal Revenue Service, Lubbock.

Uncle Sam's tax laws define a farmer or rancher as one who gets two thirds or more of his gross income from farming or ranching. "Farmers and ranchers," Mr. Nichols said, "have until Friday, January 15, to file their estimated Federal income tax return for the 1959, unless they choose to file their final return on or before February 15."

The IRS representative said that farmers-ranchers who file an estimate return on January 15 and pay the tax due have until April 15 to file their final returns and pay any balance of tax due. Otherwise, they must file final returns and pay the full amount of the tax due by February 15.

"Those who filed Federal income tax returns last year should already have received by mail their necessary forms for 1959," Mr. Nichols said. Additional tax forms are available at the IRS office at 1600 Nineteenth St., Lubbock or at local post offices and banks.

Everyone who had a gross (not net) income of $600 or more during 1959 must file a Federal income tax return this year, whether or not any tax is owed.

Only exception to this rule is for taxpayers 65 or over at the end of the year, who are not required to file a return unless their gross income was $1,200 or more.

Mr. Nichols said that questions about their Federal income tax returns may get a copy of the IRS publication, "Farmers Tax Guide," by phoning P05-5706-7-8 or by writing his office.

Ray Red, of San Angelo, who is in charge of the General Telephone's negotiations with other telephone companies; Dusty Kemper, of the Brownfield office of General Telephone; and Paul Farrar, Brownfield District man of the same company, explained to the group what General Telephone Company has proposed to Five Area Telephone Cooperative, in the way of an extended area service contract.

They also, while maintaining they had no intention of proving or disproving anything that had what Five Area Telephone Cooperative had refused to agree to, and what they had advised General Telephone, that Five Area wanted in the way of an agreement or contract.

Kemper traced the history of General Telephone's dealings and contracts, and types of service provided, with Five Area, in other exchanges. He maintained that General Telephone has an obligation to its customers, the phone subscribers of Morton, and also the City Commission of Morton, which is the Telephone Company's regulatory body in Morton.

They discussed what they called a standard 60-40 agreement of which they have many in effect with other cooperatives, and explained why they felt this was the best agreement. They said it had been approved by REA many times, though it was rejected by Five Area Telephone Cooperative.

General Telephone also admitted they had been forced into agreement.

Jaycees Will Check On Need for C of C

The Morton Jaycees held a lengthy discussion about needs which would insure the growth of Morton and passed a motion before they adjourned, Monday, that the organization investigate the possibilities of getting a Chamber of Commerce organized in Morton.

Difficulties in the proposed project were pointed out but a group of the members planned to first journey to area towns to see how Chamber of Commerce organizations are set up, how they are being financed, etc.

Further steps in the program will be mapped out after the initial investigation.

EDITORIALS ...

YOUR VOTE IS NEEDED ...

Tuesday, January 12th, is the first election day for Cochran County. . . an election that seldom draws much interest in this County . . . though it certainly should.

Voters in the High Plains Underground Water District, of which Cochran County is a member, will elect a County Committeeman to the district, and a District Committeeman to represent a three county area of the district.

Area farmers have a habit of caring little about how our water is handled . . . except in their own instances when it has to do with their own irrigation farming.

Area city dwellers care even less. They know that when they turn on a water tap, they expect water to come out, and until that falls to happen, or until the water that comes out is polluted or unusable, they don't give it much thought.

But water in this area, just as it is the nation over, is a very precious commodity God granted us. Unless we use it with good sense, protect the supply by sound judgement, and look forward to guaranteeing future supply, with careful research, we may wake up someday with a serious shortage.

The High Plains Underground Water District is here for the purpose of executing these practices. They are here to see that water is not senselessly, needlessly wasted. They are here to see that no one causes our water to become polluted with foreign matter that will negate its use for irrigation or drinking. They are here to protect an individual's rights to water for his use. They are formed to keep a careful check of the water levels and of practices set up to insure water for the future.

Every County should be, at one time or another, represented on the Board of Directors of the District. Every County has its own water problems, that will come into greater focus, if a man representing that county is sitting on the district board.

Cochran County has had those problems. Among them is a serious problem of pollution of water by salt which has rendered it unsuitable for drinking or for irrigation. Several farmers in this County have been greatly affected. The District has taken up the problem, but with a county man on the board, it would get even greater consideration.

Cochran Countians who live within the bounds of the water district can perform a service for themselves and the county.

Area taxpayers are urged to file their returns for '59 with their IRS District Director as soon after January 1, 1960, as possible.

"Although the filing deadline is April 15, folks who wait until the last minute find it more difficult to get technical help the nearer the final day approaches."

"Also," Mr. Nichols said, "last minute filers make costly errors in their returns."

Checks or money orders for any tax due should be clipped, not stapled, to the return and should be made payable to the "Internal Revenue Service."

Taxpayers with technical problems may have them solved by phoning IRS at POG-5707-7-8, or by visiting their office at 1600 Nineteenth St., Lubbock.

Special taxpayer assistance day is every Monday, 8:30 - 12:30.

NEW YORK - CHICAGO - BOSTON

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The Federal Trade Commission is without doubt the most wonderful bureau in the whole bureaucratic shebang.

As is well known, the FTC is supposed to enforce the Robinson-Patman act, which is an integral part of the nation's anti-trust laws.

Yet almost every day in almost every city throughout the land, some huge C. W. Harder retail operation is getting a secret rebate, or benefitting by some illegal practice.

And where, as all this goes on almost openly so that these illegal transactions are a public scandal, are the brave, and true lands of the FTC?

They are really lousy.

Right now the Federal Trade Commission is going heavily into the subject of women's legs. Perhaps on the theory that no man is dead if he notices women's legs, FTC is seeking to establish it is really not dead.

There is a firm in New York that offers correspondence courses to help women fill out skinny legs, or to reduce excessively fat legs.

Now FTC is charging that it is not so, that presumably galled customers of this service are not obtaining "shapely and alluring" legs. Language in quotes is FTC's word.

Therefore, it must be presumed that somehow the FTC has set up a standard as to what constitutes a "shapely and alluring" leg.

just what constitutes a "shapely and alluring leg."

Yet, with all this preoccupation with leg work, the FTC does not seem to be able to find what constitutes an alluring kiltback to a big chain.

There is something utterly fascinating about all this. On reflection, it perhaps makes people want to stand up and salute Old Glory to know in this land there is a big government bureau busily engaged day after day in solemn and presumably sober deliberation of just what constitutes "shapely and alluring" legs.

As nothing is said about men, presumably the formal bureaucratic listing is "legs, shapely and alluring, feminine."

Apparently FTC is all too concerned with the allure of masculine legs as it is with the widespread violations of the Robinson-Patman laws designed to provide free, honest and aboveboard competition in the market place.

It will be interesting to see how many pages of printed matter will eventually be turned out at taxpayer's expense by the Government Printing Office carrying FTC decisions as to just what constitutes shapely and alluring legs.

But presumably, until this most vital issue is settled, and there is no doubt that it will take many a long deliberation before it is officially defined what constitutes alluring legs, the illegal rebate and kiltback artists will go blithely on their way undisturbed, unhampered, and unfettered. After all, in the face of such important issues, the preservation of free enterprise in America can wait.

Judge W. T. McDonald of Bryan Will Seek Criminal Appeals Court Post

District Judge W. T. McDonald of Bryan said he will seek the office held by Judge Lloyd Davidson on the Court of Criminal Appeals.

McDonald, 48, completing his fifth year as district judge, has been in the Texas Legislature and has been a city attorney and city judge.

"I feel that a court should not concern itself with theoretical probabilities in the administration of justice, but should concern itself with things actual and material," he said.

In promising a vigorous statewide campaign, McDonald said he has received support from judges and attorneys throughout the state.

A graduate of Texas A&M College, McDonald has practiced criminal and civil law in the Bryan area for 18 years, with the exception of time spent in the Texas Legislature and in the Army during World War II, until he became district judge.

He was elected to the House of Representatives, Texas Legislature, in 1956 and served four consecutive terms before entering military service.

He was president of the Brazos County Bar Assn., a director of the State Bar of Texas and was city judge in Bryan in 1949 and 1950 and served as city attorney from 1950 to 1955.

McDonald was elected district judge in 1954, winning the office over three opponents, and was re-elected in 1958 without opposition.

The district judge is married and the father of two children, a son 19 and a daughter 11. He is a member of the Episcopal Church, having held every elective and appointive position on the Bryan church's vestry. He is also a member of the American Legion, Sons of Hermann, SPJST Lodge, American Bar Association.

How? Here's an idea that will help: Follow the U. S. Department of Agriculture's monthly list of plentiful foods.

Lower prices usually accompany in-season and abundant food supplies. Wider selection for quality also enters the picture, and when crops are large, quality usually runs higher.

USDA's monthly list is determined by the Agricultural Marketing Service on the basis of expected availability. When the supply of any farm produced food exceeds normal trade needs, that food is eligible for listing.

Newspapers, radio stations and the food trade in general, then cooperate with growers and the USDA in nationwide promotion. Special prices often accompany these efforts.

Start with January: Look for an abundance of eggs. Supplies are increasing, seasonally. Eggs, especially the larger sizes, right now, return a lot of nutrition compared to cost.

Plenty of apples, oranges, raisins and cranberries also are in prospect. Vegetable bins will be loaded with sweet potatoes, onions and Irish potatoes. Lamb is the only meat on the January list. Then, there'll be an abundance of rice, for economy dishes, and vegetable fats and oils, for salad dressings and all cooking.

That's the 11-item list that can help you hold down the cost of feeding your family in January. Keep them in mind all through the month. Serve them often.

MEXICAN RICE

1 cup rice
1/4 cup minced onion

3 C. soup stock
2 c. cooked tomatoes

If minute rice is used, use 3 cups. Cook 30 minutes.

MEAT IMPORTS TO REACH NEW HIGHS IN 1959

During the year 1959, net imports of meat to the United States will exceed one billion pounds for the first time in history. Imports of live animals and meats will account for more than 9 percent of the nation's meat supply this year.

Imports of meat during 1959 will be up more than 15 percent from 1958. The strong livestock price in the U. S. compared to world price is a major factor in increasing U. S. meat imports.

LIVE IMPORTS DECLINE IN 1959

Lower livestock prices within the United States coupled with export restriction in Mexico has slowed the importation of live cattle during the calendar year 1959. The total will approach one million head but is not expected to reach the record of 1,152,407 head which crossed our borders in the 1958 calendar year.

In addition to cattle, 39,769 sheep and lambs and 9,094 hogs were imported live during 1958.

MANUFACTURING MEAT ACCOUNTS FOR A LARGE PERCENT OF MEAT IMPORTS

During 1958 manufacturing meats accounted for 54 per cent of all meat imports. This was up from 28 percent during 1957. This year the total imports of manufacturing meats will be up sharply and will account for a greater percentage of all meat imports than in 1958.

Two factors have contributed to this increase in the importation of manufacturing meats. One, with the build-up in cattle numbers taking place, cow slaughter during 1959 will be lowest in over 15 years.

With a large part of manufacturing meats coming from cow slaughter, the supply of this type meat has been considerably below normal. As a result, imports have increased to make up part of the deficit.

The Anglo-Australian long term meat agreement which formerly required Austria to ship almost all its exports to the United Kingdom has been modified. Now Australia is free to ship low grade beef and mutton to any destination without this restriction.

Australian exports of beef and veal to the United States rose 72 percent the first 8 months of 1959 over this same period in 1958.

Imports of manufacturing meats which competes with our cow beef and mutton is expected to remain high in 1960.

MEAT AND LIVESTOCK IMPORTS COME FROM MANY COUNTRIES

Imports of cattle come largely from Mexico and Canada with these two countries accounting for over 99 percent of the total in 1958. Several other countries contribute materially to our meat imports. During 1958 Argentina, New Zealand, Canada, Mexico, Netherlands, Denmark, Australia, Poland and Ireland all exceed 20 million pounds of meat exports to the United States. Argentina led the list with a total of 216.7 million pounds.

Extension Service Announces Meeting, Tuesday, Jan. 12

With the County's Salt Water Pollution Committee

A meeting for January 12, 2 p. m. County Extension office, Morton, with Salt Water and Pollution Sub-Committee. Mr. W. D. Power of Mr. V. T. Hancock, State Health Department Field Representative of the Division of Sanitary Engineers will meet with the sub committee. This will be a joint meeting with the Home Demonstration Council at 2 p. m. and a separate meeting follows with the committee and the State Health Representative. The re have been reports of some home water wells supplying drinking water being contaminated with various organisms. How to correct or clear up these water problems will be discussed. Anyone interested is invited to attend. The Health Department will test free of charge any home water wells. If you wish, secure your sample water bottle at the County Extension Office and collect your sample of water for sending to the Health Department, Box 1495, Lubbock, Texas, advises Homer E. Thompson.

been on the salt water problem from its start, several years ago. This problem is one basically faced by farmers located in the area with oil fields. Salt polluting the water, coming from pumping residue, gets into the water of the area and renders it unusable for irrigation or drinking.

This problem, aired at home and in the district, was taken directly to Austin where the Railroad Commission ordered oil companies to show reports of the amounts of oil pumped, salt used, and the residue and how it was being handled.

The local candidate is also acquainted, he said this week, with a problem not so generally known around this area, attempts by the State Board of Engineers, to have control of the state's water resources placed under their jurisdiction. He said that he felt, along with many others of the area, that control of the water supply by the Engineers would bring about rules and regulations that might reduce individuals the right to drill wells in certain areas, and that would place a limit on pumping from individual wells.

In a recent trip to Austin he dug into that problem and the reason for the introduction of the measure which did not become law, but which will probably be introduced again, and again, and one day may become law if water districts don't ready themselves to fight it.

Pointing out that voting for water election is traditionally very weak, and that a concentrated vote from Cochran County could result in the election of a county man to the board, an all out effort was pledged to get out the vote in this county.

4-H Winners In '59 Projects

Two 1959 project winning boys from Texas, both 17, attended the 35th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

They were G. C. Dean Jr. of Bishop, dairy project winner whose Chicago trip was provided by the Oliver Corporation, and Herky Killingsworth of Paducah, the state's best on 4-H entomology projects, who went to Chicago as guest of Hercules Powder Company.

Both have completed their 4-H work under direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

In eight years of club work Dean has earned nine trophies and 199 ribbons, including a number of grand and reserve championships.

Young Dean has fulfilled a dream of becoming president of the Bishop 4-H Club. He is a senior at Bishop High school.

Through his 4-H study young Killingsworth has become the Lone Star state's outstanding 4-H entomologist for 1959. He has done valuable work along this line for the Texas A & M College system. For two years he was a member of the winning Cattle county entomology team, placing fourth this year at the State Round-Up.

A junior at Paducah High school, Killingsworth has organized and is junior leader of an entomology club for younger girls and boys.

4-H Champions Back from Chicago

Two 17-year-old Texas girls are 1959 state winners in 4-H canning and garden programs. They are Elaine Friske of Gainesville and Barbara Ann Kolar of 212 Oak Drive, Waco.

Both were on expense-paid trips to the 35th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago during the first week of December.

Miss Friske, the garden project winner, as junior leader helps other members with gardening record books and demonstration. She is vice president of the Gainesville Girls 4-H Club.

On her Chicago award trip she was the guest of Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co.

Canning expert for 1959 is Miss Kolar. A sophomore majoring in home economics at Texas Technological College, she won seven blue ribbons in dress revue during her 10-year 4-H career.

Miss Blackmon is Lubbock county council secretary and a junior leader. The Cooperative Extension Service judged her 4-H records.

KEEN TEEN TIP

Walking around with a book on your head will help you learn how to enter a room like a lady... memorizing the text will put you at the head of your class... but to be a real cool kitten — start your homework by scrubbing your face and applying a new, invisible medicated astringent "ice" to control pimple-infection, prevent blackheads and reduce an oily skin condition. Ice-O-Derm is a completely different kind of treatment for skin problems of teenage girls & boys...and it's invisible on the skin.

THEN WED HAVE TO CLEAN THE SOOT AND RUST OUT OF THE OLD STOVE FIRST AND BEGIE FIRING UP FOR THE FIRST TIME.
 WED GET SOME PROTECTION FROM THE COLD WIND BY INSULATING WITH SANDWICH AND DRIED LEAVES TO KEEP THE COLD WIND FROM BLOWING UNDER THE HOUSE.

4-H Boys' Agricultural Awards Winner

ROY DEE GREGG, 17, of Plainview, Texas, receives $400 scholarship from Frank W. Jenks, International Harvester president, during 35th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Roy was one of the six winners in the National 4-H Boys' Agricultural Awards Program sponsored by Harvester. In the foreground is a miniature replica of Cyrus Hall McCormick's 1831 reaper which revolutionized agriculture.

Roy, as did five other national winners, received an all-expense trip to the congress and also was awarded a $400 International Harvester scholarship as a result of his outstanding record in agricultural projects.

The objectives of the program, known as the National Boys' 4-H Agricultural Awards, are to develop leadership and gain a better knowledge of those agricultural projects and activities which contribute to better farming and a more satisfying rural life.

Arranged and announced by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, the program is sponsored by International Harvester Company and conducted by extension services of state agricultural colleges and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Roy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gregg, is a senior at Plainview High School. He has spent eight years in 4-H club work and is a member of the County Wide Club.

Working on 4-H projects came naturally to Roy since his older brothers were active members and his father an adult leader. This year he carried out six major projects, including steers, lambs, calves, grain, garden and cotton.

In addition to earning a profit of nearly $7,000 from his 4-H projects, Roy has won numerous awards and ribbons for a variety of activities. In 1959, he was a judge on the first place team at the El Paso Fat Stock Show and took high individual honors in that event.

Roy likewise has been a member of the first place livestock judging team at the Texas State Fair and has been winning prizes for his cotton since 1953.

A past president of both his local and county clubs, Roy is a member of the American Junior Rodeo Association and is active in church and community work. He lives on his parents' 500-acre farm.

Tops in Texas

Achievement in a 4-H home economics project produced 1959 state honors for Jorja Hue Blackmon, 19, of Shallowater.

The Texas winner, she attended the 35th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago as the guest of Montgomery Ward.

A sophomore majoring in home economics at Texas Technological College, she won seven blue ribbons in dress revue during her 10-year 4-H career.

Miss Blackmon is Lubbock county council secretary and a junior leader. The Cooperative Extension Service judged her 4-H records.

Miss Blackmon

Best in Dress

The all-expense Chicago trip she was awarded by the Simplicity Pattern Co. for rating tops in the Texas American Junior Rodeo seemed a part of Annie Lou Williams' birthday celebration. The brown-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy N. Williams, of Raymondville, turned 18 Nov. 28.

The 35th National 4-H Club Congress she attended was held Nov. 29-Dec. 3. Here she also modeled her prize winning dress of blue wool. It featured a bateau neckline and belted tabs that criss-cross slightly above the waist in front.

The nine-year 4-H'er has held almost every office in the Community 4-H Club as well as several county, district and state posts, according to the Cooperative Extension Service.

Miss Williams is a senior honor student at Raymondville High school, where she is president of the student council.

THERE IS VERY little worth talking about this time of this week, except the wonderful snow we've had this week. By the time folks got ready to go to their businesses Tuesday morning the snow had already covered the ground an inch or so, but by noon Tuesday, after a morning of continuous snowfall, a heavy snowfall had been received and travel had really become extremely treacherous.

One thing about ...

A GOOD SNOW or a good rain in this country, if you have troubles, its pretty hard to think about them, because everyone you meet is happy about the moisture, which is so tremendously important to our agricultural economy.

and Monday ...

WAS NO EXCEPTION. The snow was the main subject of discussion and day, and has been ever since.

as usual ...

THE SNOW caused a lot of complications in the general activities going on in the area. People that were planning to conduct, attend, or be connected with any meetings, social functions, school activities, etc., had to begin to think about the possibilities of cancelling them or checking to see if they had been postponed or cancelled.

government' motivated me to sponsor a bill to require admission of news media to any meeting of any group charged with spending tax money.

"While Texas has taken big steps toward many worthwhile goals since 1956, the job in government is far from complete. There are new challenges resulting from Texas' progress. And my years of experience in state government make my duty clear to me. I shall become a candidate for re-election and pledge to continue to serve for West Texas' progress."

Highway Department Says 'Thanks' For Help Received During Snowfall

Elzie Browne, senior maintenance foreman for the Texas Highway Department here, expressed his and the department's appreciation for the cooperation given the department by the public, local officers, and others during the Tuesday snow storm.

He especially pointed out the aid given the department by Sheriff Hazel Hancock and staff in securing information regarding road conditions, and Ran Halbo-man and employees of precinct one who aided in removal of snow.

The department had equipment running Tuesday night clearing the snow.

Although no highways were blocked, Browne said driving became "extremely hazardous" before snow plows had gone over the area.

Preston Smith Seek Second Term As 28th District State Senator

Senator Preston Smith of Lubbock announced today he will seek election to a second term as state senator representing the 11 county 28th Senatorial District.

Sen. Preston Smith

Smith, 47, elected senator in 1956, was recently appointed to the Texas Legislative Council, one of the state's most important law making and recommending groups. He is the first West Texas senator to serve on the council.

Senator Smith, his wife Ima, and their two children, Mickey 18, and Jan, 15, reside at 2803 22nd St. Mrs. Smith is the former Ima Smith, daughter of Mrs. W. J. (Peck) Smith of Crosby County.

Smith, a businessman, has lived at Lubbock since 1930. He was raised on a Gaines County farm, attended Lamesa High School and is a 1934 graduate of Texas Tech.

He is a member of the Lubbock Kiwanis Club, a trustee of St. John's Methodist Church and a director of the Salvation Army.

Smith's career in Texas government began in 1944 with his election to the Legislature representing the old 119th District. He was elected twice to this post, and in 1950 campaigned for the office of Lieutenant Governor, placing third in a field of 12 candidates and leading the tickets of 68 counties.

Among his activities in the Legislature, he was author or co-author of bills for better higher education, more hospitals, rural telephones, legislative redistricting to give West Texas true representation in state government, and was co-author of the Briscoe-Culson Farm to Market Road program.

During his current term as state senator, Smith has emphasized many times, in every place possible, that Texas government belongs to the people. Any public official who believes otherwise is not of the proper attitude to serve the people.

"To keep state business from the people is to start a trend toward stronger, more authoritative boards and commission which can enforce rules contrary to the will of the people of the state.

"A good example of this excessive board strength is the current auto insurance plan enacted by the state insurance commission. The rate plan is being condemned in part for its complexities which adversely affect all drivers, even those with excellent records. Any policy that affects so many Texans deserves study by the legislature, in order to bring the opinions of all citizens to bear on the problem.

"During the past three and one half years, my office has kept close communication with public news media to help keep state government activities before the people of this district. My feelings in support of 'openness of cal businesses on water meters. The city agreed, though no vote was necessary, to give the City Secretary the authority to purchase a surplus gas testing machine from a large area firm that is installing new type gas meter or testers. The machine to be purchased will be installed in a room to be added to the present meter building at the City Hall. Local gas department employees who repair their own meters, will then be able to test them and see that each part is working efficiently.

A short discussion on paving was held in which the Secretary notified the Commission that he had returned the bonds to the unsuccessful bidders and that the paving engineers had informed him that they had notified the successful bidder, of the price per running foot on each of the streets. He told the group he had received one complaint so far about the cost of paving.

A discussion was held on a local compensation case which grew out of injury to a local employee. The group went in to the need for repair work on the roof of the fire department and from that discussed need for other repairs, including the laying of a cement floor ordered by the State Board of Health.

The group instructed the City Secretary to have the city attorney notified of future meetings so that he can be present and they will have legal advice available.

A discussion was entered concerning salaries and one employee appeared before the Commission asking a salary boost. The group asked him questions concerning his work, and later agreed to offer a $10 per month salary boost, noting at the time that they were unable to boost all city salaries, although it was pointed out that other employees were deserving of raises, if and when it was possible.

The meeting adjourned with the Secretary to furnish, by the February 19 meeting, a list of water and gas meter tap prices from other surrounding towns and also rates charged for water.

VISITED IN OKLA.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover D. Edgar spent New Year's in Elk City, Okla., with Mr. Edgar's relatives there.

U.S. CHAMBER WARNS OF INCREASED INFLATION IF CEILING IS TAKEN OFF SAVINGS BOND INTEREST

WASHINGTON — If Christmas buying dug a deeper hole in your pocket than it did a few years ago, one reason might be the higher costs of presents. Costs have jumped for you, for merchants, and for manufacturers, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States points out. The jump is part of inflation.

Economists say that inflation is a process in which too many dollars chase too few goods, and they predict that the amount of dollars may leap, (but not the amount of goods) if Congress does not do something about what seems like a rather far removed matter: the interest rate ceiling on long term government bonds.

A law passed during World War I set a 4 1/2 per cent rate ceiling on these bonds. Up until last year the Treasury did not have to worry about the ceiling. Then suddenly people demanded so much money to expand businesses and start new firms that they began paying more than 4 1/2 percent for loans. The Treasury could not sell its long term bonds to investors and savers. It could only sell short term bonds. Commercial banks usually buy these bonds. Selling a bond to commercial bank, the Chamber points out, has about the same effect as printing money. In either case there are a lot more dollars but no more goods.

This fall Congress failed to remove the 4 1/2 per cent interest ceiling on long term bonds although President Eisenhower urged the removal. Congress apparently had an eye on saving a few million dollars in interest payments, forgetting that these payments would be pitance beside billions in buying power people could lose through inflation. The Chamber expects that Congress will again be asked to remove the ceiling.

Law Cited On Social Security Withholding Tax

Farmer and rancher employers with one or more employees are being asked two questions by Harold O. Nichols, Administrative Officer, or Internal Revenue Service, Lubbock.

"Have you paid an employee $150 or more in cash wages during 1959, or has the employee performed agricultural labor for you on 20 or more days during 1959, for cash wages figured on a time basis?"

If your employees meet either of these two tests you must withhold social security tax from the cash wages paid to these employees at the rate of 2 1/2 per cent of such cash wages. This 2 1/2 per cent, together with another 2 1/2 percent representing your share as the employer, must be sent to the IRS district director in Dallas.

Mrs. Nichols says that farmers and ranchers subject to this tax are required to file a return, Form 943, with their district director of Internal Revenue before January 31 of the year following the year covered by return.

IRS recommends Circular A for non-technical explanation of Uncle Sam's tax rules for withholding of social security tax from farm employees' wages. It's available free at Internal Revenue's office, 1600 Nineteenth St., Lubbock.
