Trights and Sidights from your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN, Texas — With an eye on the growing costs of government and need for new taxes, a committee from the Texas Senate has launched an economy study.

Overall state budget for the present two year spending period is $328,000,000 more than for the previous two year period. It was an increase of about 11 percent. There is every indication that the next Legislature will be faced with demands to raise salaries and expand and improve state services in approximately the same proportion.

Some of the cost increase is attributed to sheer quantity. With Texas population increasing an estimated 26 percent from 1950-60, there are more youngsters to educate, more patients for state hospitals, more cars wearing out the roads.

More significantly, the percentage of oldsters and youngsters is in increasing faster than the percentage of middle aged people. Older and younger people generally up revenue needs — for welfare benefits and schooling — but contribute less in taxes than income earning middleagers.

Some of the increase in costs results from a drive for quality — better schools, hospitals and highways. With undeniable money needs so great, the Senate committee was set up to seek out any indications of extravagance or waste and "see if we are getting our dollar's worth for the money we're spending."

As a starter, the committee, headed by Sen. Ray Roberts of McKinney, agreed to hold its own expenses to the bare minimum. BRIDGES TO LOW — State Highway Department Engineers are faced with the task of re-designing bridges for the interstate highways to conform with a U. S. Defense Department requirement for a 16 foot clearance.

Texas has 254 bridges in the interstate system which do not meet the newly announced overhead clearance requirement. U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, which works with the Highway Department in planning the joint federal and state road system, has specified only a 14.5 foot clearance.

Bridges cost approximately $1,400,000 apiece, and re-designing to meet the new standards would cost about 55 percent of the original cost. By passes for transport of missiles and other defense equipment is being considered. MARATHON WATER HEARING When the subject is water development, Texans always seem to have a few million well-chosen words to exchange.

Hearing before the State Water Board over whether Houston and the Trinity River Authority shall receive a permit to build a new Trinity reservoir is one of the longest ever held. It has been in progress off and on since November.

Main opponent is the San Jacinto River Authority which wants Houston to use its money developing the San Jacinto rather than the Trinity.

SJRA witness contend the Trinity water will be inadequate in amount and unsuitable for domestic use.

OIL FLOW CUT — Texas Railroad Commission set the March oil allowable at 2,900,568 barrels a day.

This is 120,498 barrels a day less than the February allowable. It continues February's 10 day production pattern.

Most of the industry testimony before the Commission was gloomy. There is an oversupply of oil now, said some spokesmen, and another month of over-production would be "disasterous." CITIES DUE RECOGNITION — Cities of Harlingen and West University Place (Harris Co.) are to receive awards for their water and sewage plants on March 2.

Dr. J. E. Peay, State Health Commissioner, will present cups to representatives of the cities at a banquet sponsored by the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association.

Harlingen will be recognized for having the "most attractive water treatment plant in the state" and West University Place for the "most attractive sewerage treatment plant."

Presentation will be made during a short course for city water and sewage plant personnel to be held Feb. 28 to March 5 at Texas A & M College.

CARE FOR OLDSTERS — Texas' need for more mental hospital space has focused attention on the number of state mental hospital beds occupied by persons not mentally ill.

In a talk before the Texas Association for Mental Health, Gov. Price Daniel said, "One of our toughest problem now involves those 5,000 hospital patients whose only illness is advanced age."

"Senility is not insanity," said the governor, "and a concerted effort must be made to enable these aged citizens to be cared for in nursing homes or in their own homes."

State Hospital Board Chairman French Robertson called it "a sad thing that people send their old people to mental hospitals when they don't want to take care of them."

PATROL EXAMS SET — Young men between 21 and 35 years of age will have an opportunity in April to seek admission to one of the nation's most highly regarded law enforcement agencies. Col. Homer Garrison Jr., Director of the Department of Public Safety, announced that entrance examinations will be given April 12, 13, and 14 for candidates for the State Highway Patrol.

Applicants must be high school graduates, in good physical condition and of high moral character. They must not be less than 68 inches tall and weigh not less than two pounds nor more than three pounds per inch of height.

Applicants could contact regional or district DPS offices or write the Texas Department of Public Safety, Austin.

GAS HIKE OKAYED — Texas Railroad Commission has granted Lone Star Gas Co. permission to raise its rates from 30 cents to 35.4 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. Lone Star, which sells to 328 Texas cities, had asked for an increase to 40 cents.

Twenty-eight cities vigorously opposed the company's request, keeping the matter in heated controversy before the Commission for more than a year.

NO COMPETITION — Several legislative races have been "won" without a shot fired. Texas Legislative Service reports 20 announced candidates for legislative posts have withdrawn.

really proud of the way their show came off this year, and they have a right to be. There seem to be more people pleased with the general way the show progressed than ever before. Merchants contributed a tidy amount for premiums, and yet no one was overtaxed. All the top 20 percent of animals brought a real fine premium at the auction sale, but the better animals claimed this premium money, where in years gone by, often an animal well down the line brought more money than a third or fourth place animal.

UNFORTUNATE THINGS about the show was that a lot of the boys didn't get their stock up to the proper weight standard by show time, having started a little late, figuring the show would be held in mid-March. But, the date a week before the Levelland show appears to be a better date, if they keep that date every year, or let the youngsters know in time, if they intend to change.

In the 4-H . . .

THERE WERE AT least a dozen boys whose animals just weren't big enough to make the weight minimum, and probably were just as many in the FFA groups.

but all in all . . .

THE SHOW WENT tremendously well thanks to the efforts of Ray Lewis, General Superintendent of the show and all of his Division Superintendents and workers; to Neal Rose and Roy Hickman who contacted the merchants; and to J. W. McDermett, J. R. Kuykendall and H. S. Hawkins, who contacted the packer buyers.

SCOUTS GOLDEN JUBILEE EXPOSITION SET FOR COLISEUM, LUBBOCK, Mar. 12

Boy Scouts throughout the 20 county South Plains Council are preparing for scouting's biggest event of the year — the Golden Jubilee Exposition, scheduled here March 12 in Municipal Coliseum.

Participating in the exposition will be more than 12,000 Boy Scouts and Leaders, said J. W. Smith, Chairman of the exposition.

"Scouts of the area will devote special attention to the exposition during this week, Boy Scout Week, to plan booth demonstrations highlighting every scouting skill," Smith added.

The exposition is designed to show the public how Scouts operate their advancement program and special skills training. In special demonstration booths, thousands of Scouts will stage live demonstration and present special stage shows.

Instructions kits showing plans and policies of this year's exposition have been mailed out to all Scout units, Smith said. "We are urging all scouting groups to select subjects and sign up for exposition booth space as soon as possible."

Each Scout unit to sign up will then appoint a booth advisor, get help and advice from other community groups in preparation of material and training, and complete plans for participation in the exposition.

Theme this year is "golden jubilee" to help celebrate "50 years of service to the duty to the country by Boy Scouts", Smith said.

Booth provided by the exposition committee will be about 8 by 12 feet in size. Each booth must be the result of "boy action" and "boy made" things, Smith emphasized.

Attendance will be encouraged through special sale of admission tickets by all units in the South Plains Council. A meeting of the ticket sales committee has been set for Feb. 18.

The exposition will be presented in two performances, at 2 p. m. and 7 p. m., March 12.

Other committee leaders engaged in the exposition, besides Smith, are Bob Hilliard, arrangements chairman; Dr. H. E. Cone and Mike Simpson, in charge of health and safety; J. T. Jones, Jr., ticket sales chairman; Don Austin, participating chairman; Ben Low, public relations chairman; and Otice Green, in charge of publicity.

Counties participating in the South Plains Council of Boy Scouts are Lubbock, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cochran, Hockley, Crosby, Dickens, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Gaines, and Dawson.

Near Complete 1959 Ginning Season Report Shows High Plains Cotton Crop 2nd Largest In History

LUBBOCK — Despite delayed plantings and other obstacles, Texas High Plains cotton producers harvested their second biggest cotton crop in history for 1959, according to the latest ginning report figures released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Census Bureau.

For 1959 the 23 counties on the Texas High Plains harvested and ginned 1,869,353 bales of cotton. This production is second only to the all-time record crop of 1958 when 2,025,439 bales were produced.

Thus 1959 becomes the fifth time in the last 10 years when Texas High Plains cotton production topped the 1½ million bale mark. Other top years were 1957 with 1,572,389 bales; 1956 with 1,654,904; 1954 with 1,581,148. Also 1949 saw 1,760,840 bales produced on the Plains.

As to top ranking counties in cotton production, Lubbock County in 1959 ranked eighth in the nation with 209,790 bales. Other Plains counties included Hale with 180,274, tenth in the nation; Hockley with 178,398, eleventh in the country; and Lamb, 174,397, tw-

Kern County California was number one in the nation with 543,875 bales while Fresno County California was second with 483,878 and Tulare County California was third with 329,264. Maricopa County Arizona was fourth with 254,579. Another California County, Kings was fifth with 253,842 while Mississippi County in Arkansas was sixth with 242,293. Pinal County Arizona was seventh with 229,648. Hidalgo County in the Rio Grande Valley was ninth with 200,422 bales.

While these ginning figures are not final for 1959, they represent about 99 percent of the cotton harvested. Final figures will be available at the end of March.

Below are ginning figures for the 23 member counties of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. for 1959:

Bailey, 96,714; Cochran, 63,240; Hale, 180,274; Hockley, 178,398; Lamb, 174,397; Lubbock, 209,790; Terry, 132,313 and Yoakum with 32,030.

U. S. Chamber Publishes Pamphlet Telling of Economic Opportunities

WASHINGTON — The American public is probably getting as much economic growth as it wants, despite criticism to the contrary, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States reports in a new pamphlet.

For the government to force growth above the historical rate of 3½ percent a year would mean some government control of the liberty of individuals, the Chamber warns.

Publication of the 55 page pamphlet, "The Promise of Economic Growth," was announced by the Chamber's Committee on Economic Policy.

The pamphlet points out that in a free society, economic growth is determined largely by the many choices made by individuals between work and leisure, consumption and investment. To force growth the government would have to influence these choices. Other factors determining growth are: education and skills, invention and innovation, and the use to which skills and resources are put.

Conditions leading to sustained rapid growth in a free society, the pamphlet declares, are: discontent with the status quo; enterprise; a spirit of adventure; a desire for novelty; incentives for innovation and investment; and moderate stability in economic conditions, including price levels.

Considering the differences between the structures and the stages of development of the American and Russian economies, the pamphlet said, "it is meaningless to assess the relative progress of the U. S. and the USSR in terms of their steel output or engineering graduates as it is to do so in terms of the number of passenger automobiles or private swimming pools. For the time being the two countries are not traveling the same road."

For a copy of the pamphlet send $1 to the Economic Research Department, Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Washington 6, D. C. Bulk prices are less.

The need for more and better trained workers is clearly pointed up in the new "Occupational Outlook Handbook" just released by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. In announcing the issuance of the 1959 edition, Mr. Brunswick A. Bagdon, Director of the Bureau's Southern Region, observed that the new Handbook presents the latest information on some 600 occupations in 30 major industries. It deals with such subjects as nature of work, training requirements, prospects for advancement, employment outlook, location of the job, and earnings and working conditions.

In keeping with our developing technology, new sections dealing with electronic computer programmers, technicians and instrument repairmen are included in this latest edition. Up to the minute information on jobs in the missile and spacecraft field is also a part of the Handbook.

The Handbook updates job outlook information to bring counselors, students and job seekers abreast with changes in America's dynamic economy. Although the nation will have some 16 million new jobs by 1970, some sectors of our economy will provide fewer jobs. For example, Mr. Bagdon noted that the long term decline in agricultural activities will continue because of technological advances. Employment in all other industries will increase in the coming decade. Employment in finance, insurance, and real estate will probably grow fastest followed by construction, services, trade, and communications and public utilities. Manufacturing, mining, and government will grow at a slower rate, with transportation ranking last in expected rate of growth.

Occupational trends indicate that at the outlook will be best for jobs requiring the most education and training. Professional and technical occupations are expected to grow most rapidly, followed by clerical and sales occupations. Service workers will just about hold their own. The proportion of blue-collar workers as a whole will not change much; the proportion of craftsmen will increase considerably; there will be a decline in the proportion of laborers.

In the professions, the outlook for engineering is continued expansion. The scientific fields will, in general prosper, but some fields will much faster than others. Physicists and mathematicians will have a very favorable outlook. Employment of technicians, especially those who work with scientists and engineers, will increase rapidly in the coming decade.

Teaching, the largest of the professions, will continue to enjoy generally favorable employment prospects. The high birth rates of the late 1940's and the 1950's will bring school enrollments to unprecedented levels, resulting in heavy demands for new teachers.

Employment opportunities for programmers, the new group of workers who prepare "instructions" for electronic computers, are expected to remain very favorable through the early 1960's. Shortages are reported in most medical professions: The demand for physicians, dentists, nurses and other health service workers continues to grow.

The demand for trained librarians is expected to continue to increase well into the 1960's. In 1957 it was estimated that there were at least 6 vacancies for each library school graduate.

Clerical work, one of the largest fields of employment, will continue to provide the bulk of the employment opportunities for young women. The rate of growth in this field is expected to slow down, however, because of increasing use of electronic data processing machines and other office machines.

Sales occupations will provide a great many openings for new workers in a wide range of jobs.

CLUB MEETINGS
The Friendly Circle Home Demonstration Club meets Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. Z. Scoggins. Mrs. Oland Clifton will be hostess to the Farm, Oil and Ranch Club Wednesday afternoon. The Whiteface Club will be "Vitamin C in Pleasant Ways". Members will bring a treasured souvenir to show.

Clothing leaders will give demonstrations at the clubs' second meetings in March. Tailored Buttonholes will be their subject.

Visitors are welcome to all club meetings.

HELPS FROM THE EXTENSION OFFICE
Bulletins on a variety of subjects are available from this office. Seasonal bulletins are displayed on the bulletin rack but many others are available upon request. Subjects may range from accessories to whitewash.

Another service from this office is training or demonstrations for special interest groups. People do not have to be members of Home Demonstration Clubs to attend these meetings. Meetings may be held by special request if wanted.

During this month workshops on covering shoes and making handbags will be held. These will be announced or the time can be learned by calling this office. A workshop is a meeting where all participate.

MARCH PLENTIFULS
A ready made shopping list for hearty March appetites is implied in the 15 diet important foods listed as plentiful this month by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Pork and eggs are two high protein foods expected to be in abundance. These will be featured in Texas during March as production continues high. Both were plentiful in February, too.

Shrimp, especially frozen shrimp, will be plentiful. Peanuts and peanut products continue on the list. And milk and dairy products join the plentiful this month as production increases seasonally.

Plentiful fresh vegetables include cabbage, carrots and celery, as warm-winter garden areas provide harvests. Oranges and orange products, canned freestone peaches and cranberry products will be in sufficient supply to encourage frequent use of these fruits.

Rice is the versatile cereal grain that tames plentiful honors this month. Almonds, filberts and raisins are on the list, to provide added flavor and intrigue to March menus. And lard, right along with pork, will be in good supply all month.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, food distribution division works closely with producers and the food trade in determining the monthly plentiful foods list for each state. Food markets in many areas feature special sales on these foods as the industry tries to bring demand and supply into balance. Economy and wide selection are in favor of consumers who serve plentiful foods often.

Enos Welding Shop In New Location

The Enos Welding Shop of Morton is now open in a new location — 401 North Main.

Herman Enos, owner, has served the farmers of this area in his old location, one door south of Texaco Inc., since 1951.

The formal opening of their new shop will be announced later.

to be handled would be their presentation to the College Board of Regents when the necessary number of qualified voters have signed them (5 percent of the voting strength). If the Board then passed a resolution saying they would admit the Morton School District to the College District, the petitions would then be presented to either the County School Board or the Cochran County Commissioners' Court, asking for an election.

If the election carried, then another election would also have to be held to equalize the tax structure for assessing of the school district taxes.

At a meeting here two weeks ago, Dr. Thomas Spencer, president of the college emphasized that the tax rate now being employed in the college district is 34 cents on the 100 dollar valuation, and that the valuation is based on 10 to 20 percent of the actual value of property.

Safety instructor to class: "This bottle has 331 pills in it. Just one is poison; the rest are sugar pills. Who wants one? Nobody accepted. Said the instructor: "You're smart. That's the same chance you'd take if you tried to slip through a red light."

He also said that any school district included in the college district will be represented by a director on the college board from that district.

Dr. Spencer told the Tribune the petitions were prepared at the college when Mr. Nairn let it be known he would like to carry them to the people of the Morton District. He emphasized the idea is not new.

Morton was included in the original plans for a vote when the college district was first organized, but efforts to get a petition signed were started a little late and were later stopped, because it was felt to wait for local signers and a local election, might be to wait too long for the entire district to present their proposal in Austin, asking for the creation of a district. Thus the district was formed without Morton School District attached. Later, on a vote of Whiteface residents, that school district was incorporated into the South Plains College District.

Asked about rumors that bus service would be cut out in Cochran County next year, Dr. Spencer said there was no basis for these rumors. He said as long as they had enough students on a route to pay for the cost of running the bus, even though it was not in the district, the bus would continue to run. However, he did say two routes were stopped this year because there were not enough students on the route. "We can't justify, by law, the payment of school tax money to run buses out of our district," he said.

He said 55 persons from Cochran County are now attending the college and in a recent talk to the Morton Senior Class, a South Plains College representative indicated that 28 Morton seniors were considering attending junior college.

Labor Association Is Formed Here

The formation of the Morton Labor Association was announced Wednesday, with Troy Hanson as manager of the new organization.

Hanson reminded area farmers this week that they should get their membership established early so that the proper papers can be filed and there will be no delay in contracting Mexican National labor.

OPPORTUNITIES —

from salesgirls in 5 and 10 cent stores to manufacturer's salesmen.

The skilled trades are expected to grow at a faster rate than the work force as a whole over the next decade. There will be many thousands of job opportunities for automobile mechanics, industrial machinery repairmen, and business machine repairmen. Carpenters, bricklayers, and other building trades workers also will have good employment prospects as a result of an anticipated large rise in construction activity. Although some metal trades workers will be adversely affected by automation and other technical changes, tool and die makers will be needed in increasing numbers.

The "Occupational Outlook Handbook" is part of the Bureau of Labor Statistics' integrated occupational Outlook Quarterly, a period issued four times a year to report on current developments. The handbook may be had from Bureau of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor, Suite 540, 1371 Peachtree Street, N. E. Atlanta 9, Georgia.
