Taylor Avenue to remain open

Church men object closing street

A portion of East Taylor Avenue north of Highway 116, near Eastside Church of Christ will be closed.

The decision was made by members of the Morton City Council at a regular meeting Monday afternoon.

Iron Willis, representing the Eastside Church of Christ, asked that the street not be closed. Willis explained members of the congregation used the street extensively enroute to and from the church.

If the street is closed, there would be only one approach to the street, Willis said. "Approximately 100 to 150 cars leave the street after church services. Sunday closing the street would slow the flow of traffic."

Willis also explained the congestion feared, in the event the street were closed, the small triangular strip of land might become a dead end property. The possibility of a service station or possibly a tavern, in the event Morton be "wet" were presented by Willis.

The council decided to keep that portion of the street open.

Members of the council considered two sections of Taylor Avenue, one on either side of Highway 116, separately. Tommy Lynch, C. E. Luper and Dorsey Ollinger appeared before the council to discuss the closing of the portion of East Taylor on the north side of the highway.

Lynch explained he represented Wallace Theaters, The Oliphant Theatre, 510 E. Taylor Avenue, owned by the theater chain. Lynch explained the theater manager explained the owner wished to know how the proposed closing would affect the theater and traffic.

Engineer Ralph Douglas explained the drainage of the area would be improved after completion of the proposed highway widening.

The highway will be lower with a higher elevation on the curve", Douglas said.

Councilman R. C. Strickland expressed his belief traffic would be less if a dead end street were closed.

Tommy Lynch, owner of property abutting the street in question was also concerned about the drainage of the area, in the event the street was closed. Lynch presented an alternate plan. As proposed by Lynch, a very short, light street would be added, running through the triangular piece of land owned by the state. A straight approach would be a factor for motorists entering the highway, a reason listed for closing the existing street.

Commissioners approve salaries for new year

Salaries for officials and employees of Cochran County for 1964 were set by members of the County Commissioner's Court Monday.

Only three changes were made from salaries paid in 1963 to county personnel.

Mrs. Hallie Sybert, first deputy in the County - District Clerk's Office was raised from an annual salary of $4,200 to $4,500. Deputy Sheriff Vaughn Killian was raised from $4,500 to $4,800 annually.

Maintainer operators in all precincts were raised from a salary of $4,500 annually to $4,680 yearly.

Members of the commissioners court considered the various salaries separately.

The commissioners voted to continue paying county employees by the salary method, rather than the fee system, as some counties in Texas do.

Three trees on the north side of the Cochran County Courthouse will be removed. Commissioners voted to remove the trees because of damage to cars of the sheriff's department resulting from birds nesting in the trees.

Construction now underway for new Farm Bureau office

Construction of a new $8,000 office building for the Cochran County Farm Bureau Office is scheduled to begin this week.

The directors of the farm organization awarded the contract to Higginbotham - Bartlett Lumber Company at a regular monthly meeting Thursday night.

The new building will house two Farm Bureau offices and a waiting room. The rear portion of the building will be leased by Frontier Labor Association as a receiving station for bracers. The receiving station will house 24 men and have cooking and bathing facilities, as prescribed by Public Law 78. The 24 x 60 foot structure will feature tile construction and is to be erected east of the present Farm Bureau facilities.

Bids will be accepted by the local Farm Bureau until Friday, January 17, for moving or razing the old building. The Bureau reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids.

The Cochran County Farm Bureau will have temporary offices in the old Flash-O-Gas building until completion of the new building.

Other business during the monthly meeting included the reading of the financial report of the Frontier Labor Association and a report from Glenn Thompson, delegate to the State Farm Bureau convention.

Thompson and Roy Hirkman were chosen during the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau and Frontier Labor Association to represent Cochran County at the convention in Ft. Worth, November 10-13.

Thompson told the group that it required two days for the delegates to vote their way through the 500 resolutions submitted to the state convention from the various counties of Texas. He explained

Weldon Newsom elected director of water board

Weldon Newsom was elected to serve on the Water Board of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation Association in the water election Tuesday. Two County Committeemen were also chosen at the election.

Newsom defeated V. E. Diersing of Pep, to represent Cochran County on the three county water board. The three counties are Cochran, Lamb and Hockley.

The two county committeemen chosen were H. B. Barker and Ray Griffith. Other names on the ballot included Henry Schindily, H. G. Walker, D. A. Ramsey, E. J. French, Sr., and E. E. Thomas. W. E. Angley, election judge, reported that 78 ballots were cast in the local box. Star Route Gin, the other poll location netted 18 ballots.

The other proposal to be voted on called for the annexation of Swisher county to the present water district. The ballot count was 41 for, and 3 against the proposed expansion.

Station doors to close at Bledsoe tomorrow

Tomorrow will be the last day of operation for the Bledsoe depot of the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railroad.

G. A. Alexander, Railroad Superintendent at Slaton reported Friday, January 17, would be the last working day for the station.

The Railroad Commission of Texas recently granted a request of the railroad to change the Bledsoe station from an agent to non-agent operation.

A letter from the Railroad Commission read in part:

"After due notice the matter hereinabove identified by docket number and caption (request of railroad) was called for hearing in Morton, Texas, September 19, 1963 at which time evidence and statements were presented in favor of and in opposition to the application. Based upon such evidence and statements the Commission is of the opinion and finds that the application should be granted.

"Therefore, it is ordered by the Railroad Commission of Texas that Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Company be, and it is, hereby authorized to discontinue its agency at Bledsoe, to establish Bledsoe, Texas as a non-agent prepay station in the freight tariffs for the handling of carload shipments only; and to retire and dismantle the depot building there.

The letter was signed by Ben Ramsey, Chairman of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

The railroad was laid into Bledsoe in the latter part of 1925 and was primarily a shipping point for cattle and grain.

At one time, the Bledsoe station was one of the Southwest's largest cattle shipping centers.

Improved highway construction and the semi-trailer truck was the beginning of the decline of cattle shipments from the community.

Alexander explained, prior to the

City council and engineer are preparing list for paving

Members of the Morton City Council and City Engineer Ralph Douglas prepared a map listing approximately 120 blocks of Morton to be included in a proposed paving project.

The men, at the regular meeting of the city council Monday, included in the paving project, explaining that approximately one half the 120 blocks included might be paved.

An engineer's roll, including the location and names of property owners of the blocks will be prepared by the city engineer.

Property owners in the "proposed paving area" will be contacted by representatives of Pioneer Pavers, Inc., Lubbock contractor to determine which persons want the paving and which do not.

The engineer's roll, including the location of areas in the "proposed area" will be published in the Tribune three times. The legal notice in the newspaper will also include the date for a public hearing. Persons opposed to the paving and persons favoring the paving are asked to attend the meeting.

After publication of the engineer's roll, the public hearing and personal contact of property owners, the city council will determine which of the proposed blocks

Board extends contract for school administrator

Eli Douglas, Superintendent of Schools of the Morton Independent School District, received a "vote of confidence" from members of the school board Monday night.

Jack Loran, President of the Board of Trustees, made the statement as he informed Douglas of the board's decision to extend the superintendent's contract until July 1, 1967.

Members of the board discussed progress of construction of the new high school building. Douglas reported the contractor had started moving equipment onto the site.

The board voted to widen two, possibly three blocks of Buchanan Street to 60 feet. The additional width is necessary to handle traffic of autos and school buses when the new high school is constructed.

Douglas reported that school buses from New Mexico had been transporting students living in Texas to a New Mexico school. The Morton superintendent wrote the superintendent of the New Mexico School, reminding him it was against the Texas state law for buses of one school district to enter another district and transport students. Douglas said the bus stopped entering Texas.

The Morton Independent School District will accept bids for the purchase of gasoline. Douglas reported a survey, conducted by

Federal Insurance now available to Cochran farmers

COLLEGE STATION — Cotton farmers in Cochran, Deaf Smith, El Paso and Gaines counties and grain sorghum growers in Deaf Smith and Randall counties will be eligible in 1964 for Federal Crop Insurance.

Under the program, participating farmers are protected against crop losses from natural hazards, said Ben A. Jordan, Jr., Texas director of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. He added that some 12,000 farmers in 45 Texas counties have already received more than $1.4 million to cover 1963 crop losses. He said that final payments will exceed $2 million. These payments, Jordan said, are made from premiums paid by the participating farmers who are policy holders.

FCIC coverage, nationally, in 1963 increased by 30 percent. Almost $500 million in crop production investments were under the protection of FCIC, Jordan said.

The state director described the program as a cooperative one designed to help growers take a business like approach to the problem of protecting their capital investments, credit and the economic strength of their community.

When crop damage hits an area, it hurts everyone for miles around, Jordan said. Federal crop insurance is designed to put money back into an area when weather, insects or disease have reduced or wiped out the major source of income, he said.

The Morton Indians are resting up the District 3-AA basketball this week after winning their first two conference outings, slaying Olton, 62-43, here last Friday night, and dropping the Friona contest, 68-42, on the local court Tuesday night.

Morton's Maidens have had their share in their district tilts, losing a heart-breaking 46-45 decision Olton in a double-overtime Friday night, and being thoroughly thrashed Tuesday night by Friona, 57-32. The Friona sextet is currently ranked No. 1 in the district.

The Morton squads travel to Dimmitt this Friday night for their first loop game on the road, and Tuesday night they will be at Dalhart for the final first round conference game.

Against the Mustangs of Olton, Morton boys held a slim 14-8 lead at the end of the first period before they began to warm up. The Indians completely befuddled their opponents in the second period with their pressing man-to-man defense, and were ahead, 34-20, at intermission time. Morton held a commanding 48-29 margin going into the final eight minutes of play.

Ernest Chesshir rammed in 22 points to lead the local scoring, and he was supported by Rhodney Williams with ten, and Terry Davis with nine. George Jones was high scorer for the Mustangs, with 18 points.

The improved Friona club gave the Indians a bit of trouble in the early minutes of the Tuesday night contest, but the local five finally pulled ahead to lead 18-15 at the end of the first canto. Morton finally began to click in the second period, and went to the dressing room at halftime with a 34-21 margin. Going into the fourth quarter, the Mortonites were out in front, 46-32.

Rhodney Williams scorched the nets for 30 points, 13 field goals and four from the charity line, and Ernest Chesshir had 13 for the period, as Evelyn Butler made good the first shot of a one-and-one free throw, but missed the second. The Olton girls took the rebound, and went down the floor to score the winning two points. In a sudden death overtime, the first team to score two points is the winner.

Olton's Sherry Caddel pumped in a rebound shot for the Fillies to give them their 46-45 sudden-death overtime win over the Maidens last Friday. The two teams were tied 40-40 at the end of regulation time, and were knotted again at 44-44 at the close of the first two-minute overtime period. Morton scored first in the sudden death minutes to tie the game and send it into the overtime. Lynne Freeland was high scorer for the Maidens, with 26 points, while Miss Butler made 17. Gayle Nicholas of Olton took scoring honors in the contest with 34, while Miss Caddel added ten, four of which were in the overtime periods.

The high-ranked Squaws from Friona completely overwhelmed the Olton girls at the close of the Maidens on Tuesday. They led the first period and led 35-15 at the half. Count going into the final quarter was 44-25. Lynne Freeland and Evelyn Butler again led the Maidens attack, with 15 and twelve points, respectively. High scoring Teto Jennings made 22 tallies for the winners, followed by Linda Davis with 18.

Visitor from Berlin relates experiences while wall built

By WENDELL HOLLOMAN

A representative of the Morton Information Agency who was in Berlin when East Germany constructed the Berlin Wall is visiting Morton.

Zaki Farhat, a 26 year old Jordanian, is visiting his brother, George. He is waiting for the second semester of school to begin at Southern Methodist University at Dallas. He is a senior student majoring in Electrical Engineering.

Zaki, pronounced Za-key, was born in Romallah, Jordan. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sulaiman Farhat. He attended school at Friend Boys School, an institute of the Quakers. He graduated from high school at the National College in 1955.

After high school, he was hired as an interpreter for the U.N. R.W.A. in Beirut, Lebanon. He was transferred to Cairo, Egypt, then to Gaza. In 1956, he was recalled from Gaza two days before Israel entered that country.

He began his college work at Istanbul University at Istanbul, Turkey. He studied Electrical Engineering and the Turkish language.

Not agreeing with their way of teaching, Zaki left Turkey in 1957 to go to Berlin to study in the Technical University of West Berlin. Berlin is the most electrical industrialized city in Europe, he said.

He was in Berlin when the East German Communist Regime constructed the Wall through the city. This is his account of the happening:

"It was Sunday, August 13, 1961. I lived in Tiergarten near the Brandenburg Gate. I heard in a news report on the radio, that the East German Regime had decided and was starting to divide the town completely. No one imagined that they would be able to build this wall in the middle of the city. This town is like so many others all over the world with relatives and friends living all over the town.

lieve it. American tankers drove to the borders from the west and Russian tankers arrived from the eastern side on the afternoon of that day.

Then, it was clear to me that Berlin was completely divided.

The Berlin problem became my problem, as I saw my friends in East Germany become slaves to their communist government. Before the wall, if they couldn't resist their communist system, they were able to come into West Berlin to study and work.

Many students studying with me in the university were spending their summer vacations in East Berlin with relatives and were not able to come back.

I started visiting them, taking with me chocolates, cigarettes and fruit which they were not able to get. Thousands of East Berliners were buying these and a lot of other necessities from West Berlin before the wall was erected.

In October of 1961, I had a chance to work with the German Federal Press Office in Berlin. It was my job to take care of foreign press people visiting in West Berlin, supplying them with pictures and information. They found an interest in the pictures I took at East Berlin and bought 100 of my pictures.

This was a part time job, during my studies. It was also part of my job to show the wall and East Berlin. In the two years I was employed by the office, I met more than 200 journalists, industrial people, and professors officially invited to Berlin by the government.

In January of 1962, I was sent by the press office to the middle-East where I made a series of 10 lectures in Jordan, Lebanon and Syria, entitled "The Two Berlins". As a result of the lectures, and my press office work, I have been authorized to make lectures here in the United States through the German Information Center in New York.

While working in the press office, I met the American author, Andrew Tully, and helped him on his book, "Berlin, Story of a Battle". I interviewed the German soldiers who had fought during the battle of Berlin in World War II.

The greatest difference in the communist side of Berlin is their method of election. The ballot is a small piece of paper on which the voter marks yes or no, for or against the Socialist Union Germany party. On the reverse side of the ballot the voter must write his name and address. If the vote is no, the voter will get into trouble. If the person who writes no on the ballot is a worker, he will be fired from the factory in which he works. All factories are owned by the government. He cannot find another job and cannot come into West Berlin anymore.

The economy of East Germany is waning. They export all their manufactured goods to get money to run the country. East Germans must do without because they cannot buy the goods they need. When they can, it is too expensive to buy. The Exacta camera can be bought anywhere in the U. S., but not in East Germany, where it is manufactured.

East Germany cannot get help from other countries behind the Iron Curtain, because they too are in bad financial shape.

I have been told by friends in East Germany that Russia wanted to punish the Germans for the damage done to Russia by Germans during the war," Farhat said.

Russian soldiers do not man the wall. It is the East German soldiers that guard the 90 mile wall separating the two cities. This way it is German killing German.

Each 200 yards along the wall, there are two guards, watching to see no East Germans escape and at the same time, both watching each other.

There is a workers shortage in East Germany, most of the workers are guarding the wall. Something has to happen to change this situation. East Germany cannot give up their working youth, guarding the wall.

The reason, I think, for the East German government opening the wall during Christmas was for money. In 1961, the East German offered to open the wall to West Berliners to visit their relatives, if West Germany would loan them a large amount of money. West Germany refused because any help to East Germany's economy would help Ulbrecht, secretary of the controlling party of East Germany.

The Communists don't do something for nothing. They gained nothing in the way of propaganda, so I think they were paid a very small fee by the West Berlin city government, to open the wall.

There is a joke in Berlin that

Berlin Visitor

ZAKI FARHAT, right, shows his brother George the book he helped write. The book, a story of Berlin during the battle of Berlin against the Russians in the last war, was written by Andrew Tully. Farhat met Tully in Berlin when Tully went to Berlin to write this book. TRIBUNE Photo

Lubbock USDA office

Lubbock Classing Office of U. S. Department of Agriculture Cotton Division classed 117 samples during the week ending January 10. This is about 10 percent less than the previous week brings the season's total to 100 samples. Last year on same date the total for the year was 1,635,000.

Lamesa office had classed 9 samples through January 10. Brownfield office had classed 1,000. A total of 1,961,000 samples have been received by the three offices. On January 10 last year, 1,000 had been received. The Lubbock office is now receiving approximately 5,500 samples daily and Brownfield office is receiving about 2,500.

Spotted 7 percent and Strict Low Middling Spotted 14 percent. Staple length continued to decline. The average was 29.5 thirty-seconds of an inch as compared to 29.6 the preceding week. Three percent of the cotton classed stapled 3/4 inch or shorter, 41 percent 29/32 inch, 49 percent 15/16 inch and 4 percent 31/32 inch or longer.

"Mike" about same. The percentage of cotton "miking" below 2.5 remained about the same. However, cotton in the category of 2.6 and below increased 6 percent over the preceding week. Percentages for the different micronaire ranges were: 19 percent 2.6 and below, 29 percent 2.7 to 2.9, 36 percent 3.0 to 3.4 and 16 percent 3.5 and higher.

Movement of the present crop into market channels is running behind last year. During the last three months of 1963 purchases of 291,000 bales in Lubbock were reported to the Agricultural Marketing Service. For the same three months in 1962, 400,800 bales were reported.

The past week was one of the most active in marketing of the new crop cotton, according to reports to the Agricultural Marketing Service. Prices paid farmers were steady to slightly higher, generally being 20 points below loan rates to 90 points above. Wasty cotton remained in good demand at prices up to 250 points above the loan.

Quotations changed. On the Lubbock market quotations were changed for Middling Spotted and Strict Low Middling Spotted and are being quoted 20 points higher. All other quotations remained unchanged with Middling 1 inch quoted at 32.50 cent per pound. Other quotations for grades with micronaire readings of 3.5 or higher were: Strict Low Middling 15/16 inch, 30.05, Middling

Ranchers invited to attend first beef course here

The first beef cattle short course to be conducted in Cochran County is scheduled for Friday, January 31, according to county Agent Homer Thompson.

"Persons engaged in raising cattle or who expect to raise cattle in the future will not want to miss this program", the agent said.

The course features a two hour program in the morning, beginning at 10 a.m., and a two hour period in the afternoon. The afternoon session will get underway at 1:15 p.m.

A panel of all speakers, plus local persons, will conclude the course.

The program was arranged by the local Livestock Committee to bring ranchers up to date on general and recent information on stockering, feeding, cow and calf production, and how bermuda grass fits into different beef cattle production, according to J. L. Scholer, chairman.

Speakers scheduled for the beef cattle course include John Seibert, Area Farm Specialist; Don Rummel, Area Entomologist; Dr. Dixon D. Hubbard, Area Livestock Specialist; all of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Dr. Fred G. Harbaugh, Doctor of Veterinary Medicine and Professor of Animal Husbandry, Texas Tech.

Eighty-four trips will be awarded to the state 4-H Club Junior Leadership Training Laboratory to be held at Lake Brownwood this summer. The six highest scoring 4-H junior leaders - three boys and three girls - from each district will be chosen to attend the lab.

This training would be an excellent opportunity for some of the 4-H Club members of Cochran County. Winners of the trips are determined on basis of their past records and accomplishments in 4-H Club work. They also need to be enrolled in the Junior Leadership Training Program.

The purpose of the 4-H Junior Leadership Training Program is to encourage older 4-H Club members to develop leadership qualities that are essential to progress and wholesome community life, to hold the interest of older club members, to produce leaders from club members, and to develop opportunities for service and helpfulness to others.

If you are interested in the Junior Leadership Training Program and in winning an expense paid trip to state Junior Leadership lab, contact the 4-H Club leaders in your community or Jennie Allen and Homer Thompson, Cochran County Extension Agents.

Sprinkler irrigation systems operate efficiently - even when two or more wells are connected delivering water to central storage and from this storage pumping directly into the high - pressure main line. The method is gaining acceptance in the Martin - Howard Soil Conservation District and in some other areas.

It's called the "collecting irrigation system." A central water storage is installed into which two or more irrigation wells are pumped. When designed correctly, the collecting system is simple to install and operates efficiently with few adjustments during operation.

Water storage can be purchased in the form of used oil storage tanks of 500-2,000 barrel capacity, or be constructed using reinforced concrete. It is located at a convenient location to the wells and to the land being irrigated. Water is delivered from wells to storage using low pressure pipe because it is an open discharge into the tank. The water is taken from the storage by a centrifugal pump and delivered to a high pressure pipeline. The storage has to be only large enough to allow the operator to start all wells pumping, then water is used by the sprinkler system at the same rate as produced.

Melvin Graves, Stanton farmer, was among the first to use this system. He has four wells, each producing about 100-150 gallons per minute and pumping into a central storage located at the edge of the field he is irrigating. E. C. Hale, Cochran County, has one such system and others are thinking about making similar installations according to the County Agent.

Graves uses a 10-horsepower "booster pump" to his main irrigation line. A "by-pass" on this booster pump regulates water going to the main line with the total amount received from the wells. "I was about ready to give up on irrigating with my small wells before I installed this collection system," Graves reported. "I am sure at least one well was producing nothing when I had all wells pumping into a high pressure pipeline."

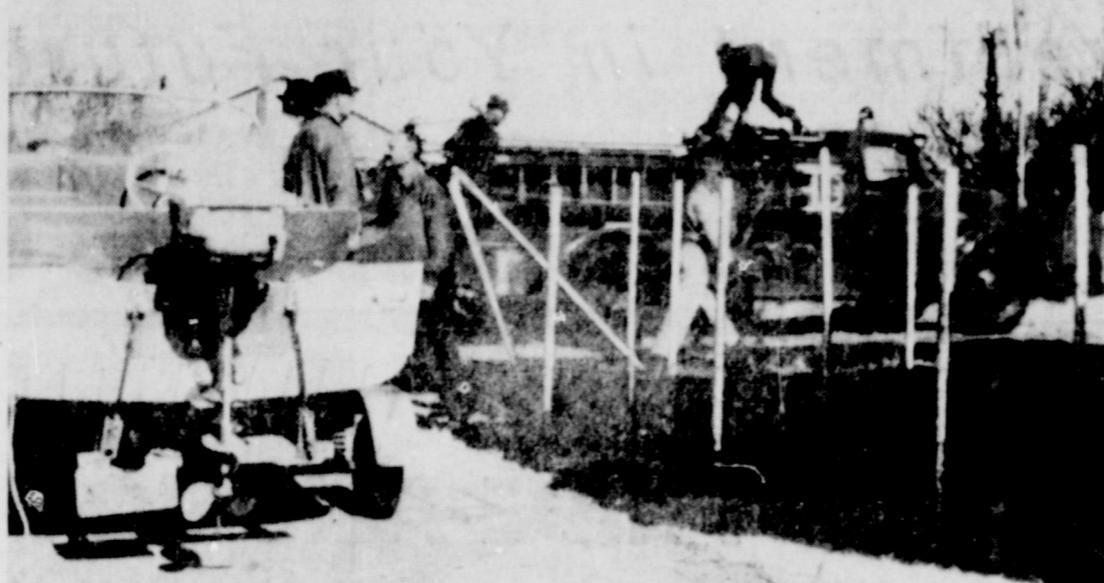

Farmers who have installed systems similar to Graves' say low operating cost, ability to irrigate with a constant amount of water, and ease of adding other wells to the system, are the main advantages of this type system. It is adaptable in most operations where an attempt is being made to sprinkle - irrigate with more than two wells. Dave Sherrill, Area Irrigation Specialist, says one system has been installed with eleven wells pumping into a central storage.

Some farmers in Terry County with small wells pump water from several wells into one central well. From this collecting well, sufficient size pump and engine are installed to properly distribute all water into a sprinkler system.

If several wells are tied together, pumping into main sprinkler line, a careful check should be made to see that pressures are equalized and each well is pumping it's required amount of water.

A central storage tank or collecting well simplifies the problem.

Report from County Agent

Existing system that has been in operation two out of the last five years, report SCS officials.

Civil Defense Planning
International temperatures are just about as unpredictable as the weather these days. The Cold War thaws out a bit, then freezes over. Despite the test ban treaty, the arms race continues. No one really expects a nuclear war, but it's still a dreadful possibility.

One of the greatest deterrents to sneak enemy attack is our ability to survive. If an enemy ever did strike, you the American farmer would be counted on to supply the food and fiber needed to keep the country going.

Farmers and other rural people would have a very good chance of surviving an attack if they are prepared. The major threat would be from fallout and fallout protection can be provided. Everyone needs shelter because no one knows how many or what targets an enemy might strike, or where the winds might carry fallout. It could settle anywhere—even in the most remote areas of the country.

Living too far from town to use a community shelter isn't a reason to give up. Survival insurance is a good do-it-yourself project. Although you may never need more shelter than is provided by your existing buildings, you may prefer to give your family added fallout insurance.

The local clubs were represented by Mike Hale in the Senior Tractor Operator's contest and the rifle team at College Station in June for the Roundup competition. Mike won the opportunity to go to Roundup by placing first at the District Contest in Lubbock. The rifle team composed of Rodger Jeffcoat, Lavoy Thompson, Larry Baker, and Clark Bing placed 2nd in District.

Near the end of 1963 evaluation meetings were held with leaders and officers of each 4-H Club. As a result of these meetings, plans have been made for 1964 programs in the clubs.

Ten meetings were held with USDA Civil Defense Board during 1963. Keeping records, foods for fallout shelter, individual family

Chevrolet's new low-cost quality delivery truck!

This introduces you to Chevy-Van—our new economy delivery truck.

It has a low price tag, over 40 sq. ft. of completely usable flat floor 7 1/2 ft. long, the engine up front, and a lot of quality features which make it a better buy. The body and frame-floor are welded together. The truck is strong, rigid, stable. Doors are double-wall construction.

Chevy-Van has unusual resistance to rust and corrosion. Especially vulnerable areas such as front stepwells are galvanized. Sealers are used at all critical joints inside and out. Certain sections are treated with high-zinc-content primers; others with an aluminum-wax preservative.

The windshield is a big flat practical one-piece unit. The big 90-hp 4-cylinder standard engine is more powerful than some 6s, yet is remarkably economical. If you need more power, Chevy-Van offers a 120-hp six at extra cost. Side doors and rear windows also cost extra.

Last but not least, it's a Chevrolet. Which means that it is built to work for you a long time at minimum cost.

PRIDE AND JOY!

Proud Father...you bet...this is my child...she's sweet, trusting, lovely and brings great joy to my life. I work harder in order to better my income so that I can provide for her. She thrills me, and already I am making plans for her future. Right now we are all dressed up and getting ready to go to church. I love her, and I want the best for her. I want her to know early about God, and that he means a lot to me, and I want God to mean a lot to her, too!

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Smoke gets in your eyes' but Morton smokers do not change their habits would advise anyone to continue smoking cigarettes", said General Luther Terry of the U.S. Public Health Service told a news conference Saturday. The "advice" followed reports of a ten man committee on smoking and health. The committee listed heavy cigarette smoking as a principal cause of cancer of the lungs and the larynx. The committee then asked for remedial action. What the action would be was not specified.

The effects of the report have ranged from persons slacking off to quitting completely to changing from cigarettes to pipes or cigars. Some merchants across the country have announced they will no longer sell cigarettes.

He said the government report on smoking did shake him up a bit. "But I feel that I'm in as good health as ever. I didn't feel any better when I quit. I may change to a pipe or cigar," he concluded. FRED PAYNE said the report just confirmed what he already knew. "If I had the will power I would quit in a minute." He said he smokes a pack and a half a day and would try to quit, just like he's been trying to do since he started 20 years ago.

didn't imagine he would quit now. He stated the government report was nothing new to him. "I will probably smoke my pipe more and slow down on cigarettes, but it would be hard to quit."

KEITH KENNEDY has been smoking 22 years. He smokes tobacco in all forms. "Except dip." He

Mrs. Cook is another of Morton's young matrons who combines homemaking with a business career. Presently she is secretary to W. M. Butler Jr., in office of Western Abstract Company.

She has worked variously in insurance, advertising and was employed for a few months in a newspaper office, of the latter she said, "I didn't receive anything but experience in that job."

Mrs. Cook, the former Peggy Fowler, is second from the top, of the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Fowler of Maple. Her older sister, Mrs. Don Morgan, lives in Irving. A brother next in age to Peggy is Doyle R. Fowler, associated here with Hawkins Olds. The youngest member of the family is Billy Fowler of the home.

Peggy was born at Chicota in Lamar County. "Right on the Red River," she said. The family moved to Maple when she was about 11. She is a graduate of Three Way High School.

Peggy and Buddy went "steady" for five or six years prior to their marriage on May 31, 1959, at which time he still had a year in the Navy.

For the first year of her married life she lived in Washington where Buddy was stationed. Of this year she said, "It was the first time I'd ever been away from my family and there were times when it was pretty frightening, especially when Buddy was away."

After Buddy's discharge from service they located in Dallas, back to Cochran County, to Dallas again, returning to Morton in January 1963.

They are members of the Methodist Church at Enochs.

Peggy has an unusual hobby, which also provides recreation; she thoroughly enjoys motorcycling with her husband. They have their own motorcycle. Another sport in which both indulge is water skiing.

The only other member of the family is a tiny Chihuahua dog with the fierce sounding name of Tiger. Mr. and Mrs. Cook live at 804 East Buchanan Avenue. He is a drilling contractor.

Participating in the distribution of the needed articles were the class teachers at the school.
