Cramped quarters

HESSIE B. SPOTTS, Cochran County librarian, files books at the local library. The already overcrowded library will soon have more volumes available when a recently approved Bookmobile Service begins. Note the books piled on the floor under the pencil sharpener. Books on shelves in the upper right corner are shelved two deep in the crowded facilities.

Library facilities in Cochran County will be supplemented by a bookmobile of the Texas Library, possibly in March.

County commissioners, meeting in special session Monday morning, approved the county's participation in the demonstration plan of the bookmobile.

A motion by Commissioner Haral Ralls, was unanimously approved. The motion:

"We, the commissioner's court, approve of the state initiating the projected bookmobile program for the improvement of library services for the people of Cochran County.

And while this court can neither legally nor morally bind a future court, we hope the program will be a success, and we will plan to assist with its beginning January 1, 1967, provided it appears at that time that it is a success, and that the people of the county want it. Two additional counties, Bailey and Parmer, recently approved the demonstration plan for the bookmobile.

The demonstration plan, as explained by Charles A. Gholz, Field Consultant, Texas Library, enables a group of counties to have the services for a period of more than two years. In this case, two years and eight months.

The bookmobile will make regular scheduled stops at points throughout the multi-county area serviced, also dropping books at existing regular libraries.

Residents of the counties serviced by the bookmobile would pay nothing for the services during the demonstration period. Funds for the operation are secured from state taxes.

The bookmobile, driver, librarian and clerk would be required to reside in a central location of the area visited by the bookmobile. The state pays their salaries.

Storage space for the 8,000 - 10,000 volumes, janitorial service, utilities, and telephone service would be furnished by the counties participating in the plan.

Bailey County has already made these services available through a Friends of the Library Club, assuming the bookmobile is based at Muleshoe.

At the end of the two year, eight month demonstration program, the participating counties decide whether they wish to continue the service.

After the demonstration program, participating counties will pay $14,000 annually, prorated among the participating counties, based on population of each county.

The bookmobile service is not designed to replace existing library conditions, but to supplement them. Gholz, addressing a group at the Activities Building before the demonstration plan was approved by the commissioners, told of a demonstration plan serving counties in East Texas.

Gholz reported only two libraries in the several county area before the bookmobile service was initiated. Three years later, the bookmobile was still in use, plus nine permanent libraries in the area.

"The more people are exposed to books and the more books are available will make persons more conscious of libraries", Gholz said.

"The bookmobile is not a cureall answer. It is an aid in improving the library system of Texas and making the facilities of a library available to more people, especially in rural areas.

Tentative date for beginning the bookmobile service for the area is March 24, according to Gholz. The Cochran County Library, in the Activities Building, is presently overcrowded.

The Cochran County Library Association was formed last year to advise and assist the county librarian, Mrs. HESSIE B. SPOTTS. Members of the association are representatives of each of the five Federated Clubs of Morton. The group has recently started a study and survey to determine how additional space might be secured for the county library.

Books are stacked two deep in some shelves of the two room library. Books are also stacked on the floor because of lack of shelving.

The county budget allocates $600 annually for the library, plus the librarian's salary.

Utility improvements discussed by council

Members of the Morton City Council began a long range plan for the improvement of city utilities at their regular meeting Monday night.

City Engineer Ralph Douglas presented an estimate of the cost and improvements for the city owned utility companies, water, gas and sewer.

Members of the council discussed the immediate needs of the city and what should be done.

An improved water department was listed the most immediate need. Douglas recommended securing two ground storage tanks and an overhead storage tank, with two wells, pumps and boosters, as well as necessary lines for the system.

Residents of Morton faced a brief period last summer when the water supply became low. The present water system was almost inadequate. Additional storage tanks and wells would give ample storage for the city's needs, according to Douglas.

The city presently is classed as "non-protected" by the State Insurance Commission. One of the reasons for the classification was lack of an overhead water storage system.

The council discussed the water problem and possible means of financing the improvements. No decision was reached concerning improvements to be included or method of financing.

Two Levelland businessmen met with the council and asked for a city franchise to operate a cable television system.

W. W. Copeland and "Coot" Arnold reported the proposed installation would give subscribers to the service seven or eight television channels and FM radio reception.

Entrants reach 150 for annual livestock show

Four-H and Future Farmers of America members are expected to show almost 150 animals at the Cochran County Fat Livestock Show Friday and Saturday.

Gene Cade, General Superintendent of the show, reported 164 entries in the swine division, 22 sheep and 22 beef calves.

Officials and committees of the Cochran County Livestock Improvement Association met Monday night for final plans of the show.

Discussed by officials was a request by a Causey, N.M., resident to enter lambs in the show. The association voted not to allow the New Mexico entry this year, but plan to invite vocational agriculture teachers and county agents of the New Mexico county to participate in the show next year.

Lack of finances was listed as reason for not allowing the entry from New Mexico.

Sid Saverance, secretary of the organization, reported $781.80 had been collected for the show this year. Cost of the show last year was $1,470.84, according to Saverance.

First, second and third prizes, Grand Champion and Reserve Grand Champion, Showmanship and Herdsman awards will be presented in three categories, swine, lambs and calves.

Entrants in the county show are limited to members of the FFA, FHA and 4-H Clubs of Morton, Whiteface, Three-Way, Bula and Cochran County.

Modern masthead adds new look to Morton Tribune

The Tribune is blossoming forth with a "new look" in this issue, as a new, modern "flag" takes over as identification of the paper.

The newly-designed heading, drawn by an artist affiliated with the Texas Press Association, features the two main agricultural products of the Morton area — cotton and grain — in a background for the modern type-face.

Gene Snyder, publisher of the Tribune, in commenting on the new flag, said, "We feel this new heading will give a more modernistic and cleaner look to the Tribune's front page, and will help the overall appearance of the paper. We have been planning a new flag for some time to replace the old-fashioned, hard-to-read heading, which has already been relegated to the 'hell box'."

"This is another in a never-ending series of projects designed to give Morton one of the best newspapers in West Texas," Snyder concluded.

Other recent changes include addition of offset printing equipment,

A challenge

Astronauts, blast-off, time capsule, moon shot — these words are all part of our space age vocabulary. Our changing times require many different things, most of all the ability to grow with the challenge presented by our awesome scientific development.

Never before in the history of America has our school system been so important. Never has such emphasis been placed on the development of projects which were unheard of ten years ago.

We as Texans, have always been proud of our public schools. Today, the public school system is faced with its greatest and most important challenge. For our schools must produce the scientists—the engineers—the physicists—the astronauts who will blast off to chart new courses toward an unbelievable future.

Our Texas public schools can meet the challenge, if they get the interest and support they require and deserve. You can help by visiting a public school during the 14th Annual Texas Public Schools Week, March 2-6. Learn what your school is teaching and how. Find out what their needs are and what goals they are trying to reach.

You'll find it is an education for you and a vitally important contribution to your community and to our children's future.

Rain needed, bankers declare at Ft. Worth

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Monroe, attended the seventh annual district meeting of West Texas bankers in Ft. Worth this weekend.

Monro's is executive vice president of the First State Bank of Morton.

The bankers, representing 283 banks, elected Richard Crawley, president of First National Bank, Lamesa, as district chairman. The next meeting will be held in Ft. Worth.

Registration for the meeting passed the 2,350 mark, setting a new record in attendance.

Nearly unanimously, bankers told of prosperity in their areas, but nearly as unanimously, they said more rain was needed.

Charles S. Signor, vice president of Lubbock National Bank, said moisture was needed badly in the area. Signor estimated some 2-000,000 irrigated acres on the South Plains will be planted to cotton this year. The water table has held up exceptionally well, he said, for an area that uses so much.

Bankers and their wives were entertained at a dinner and dance Friday night by Skitch Henderson and an orchestra.

The official session opened Saturday morning at Hotel Texas.

Outdoors in Texas

A pair of binoculars is invaluable to the outdoorsman. Yet few sportsmen know what to look for in binoculars. This whether the binoculars are used in hunting or boating or maybe just to watch a football game.

With telescopic sights coming more into vogue, you see fewer hunters lugging binoculars out the woods. But have you noticed that a great majority of the blue-ribbon hunters usually have a pair handy?

There is a good reason, of course. The top notch hunter is a meticulous individual. He spends more time looking and less time traveling.

Get on a knoll or hillside or even up a tree — with a pair of binoculars — and just spend your time looking. You'll be surprised how much more you can see.

A high quality pair of binoculars has the ability to almost penetrate brush. The lenses capture and intensify the light, making it easy to see under feeble light conditions.

Today's binoculars come in many different sizes and price ranges. There has been an increase in output from Japan. Most of Japan's binoculars are economical and acceptable. But like anything else you get just about what you pay for.

The big idea is to know what to look for before you purchase binoculars. Most people simply wander into a sporting goods store, put a pair to the eyes, adjust the focus, look around for a moment, and then say, "I'll take them."

But later you might find that you can't look through the glasses for any length of time without your eyes protesting. Although everything may appear all right, the glasses may be out of alignment and put a strain on your eyes.

A quick check for alignment is simple. Focus the glasses on some distant object, such as the top of a building, and slowly push the binoculars away from your eyes. As the glasses get toward arm's length, if you see two distinct images, the glasses are not aligned properly. With good alignment, both images will merge into one even when the binoculars are at arm's length.

A pair of binoculars has many advantages over the scope-sight of a rifle for the job it is intended to do.

For one, it is tiring to hold a rifle up to your shoulder for any length of time. Binoculars are much lighter.

For another, binoculars have a wider field of view, thus permitting you to study a larger area at one glance.

For instance, a good six-power binocular will have a field of view at least 450 feet wide at 1,000 yards. A seven power job won't be feet.

Compare this to a six-power scope which has a view of roughly 200 feet at the same distance.

Contrary to popular belief, a number such as 6X30 and 7X35 does not in any way indicate the field of view of that particular glass. Instead, the first number indicates the power of the binoculars while the second is the diameter of the object, or forward lens. The large the number, the larger the objective lens.

A larger objective lens will permit the entrance of more light and consequently you'll be able to see better in weak light conditions. A 7X50 pair of binoculars, for example, will permit much more light to reach your eye than will a 6X30 glass.

In a few instances, the field of view may be indicated on the binoculars.

Binoculars are focused to the user's eyesight in two ways. With the center focusing unit you can adjust both eye pieces at once. Individual focus is achieved by adjusting the focusing knob on each eyepiece.

There are several things which determine the price of any particular pair of binoculars.

Power of magnification and size of the objective lenses combine to make one. The stronger the power and the larger the objective lenses, of course, the higher the price.

Important to consider, however, is that the stronger the power and the larger the objective lenses, the more the instrument will weigh. A pair of 6X30 binoculars will be

Tightening of standards for grades of wheat to become effective May 1

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will tighten official United States standards for grades of wheat, effective May 1. It was iterated for Yaakum farmers today.

In his announcement, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said the new standards would improve the competitive position of U.S. wheat in world markets; help combat restrictive trade policies in some areas; enable the Commodity Credit Corporation to better guarantee the quality of grain owned by the public; provide substantial taxpayer savings in the export subsidy program; and also strengthen the price of wheat for the farmer who grows a quality product.

"Total defects"
In general, the new standards — based on smaller ranges of tolerance for grades — will mean less dirt, foreign matter and dockage in American wheat. Quality factors of weight, soundness and cleanliness can be more readily and more precisely measured today than in the past.

Maximum limits are set for "total defects" — damaged kernels, foreign material and shrunken and broken kernels. Total defects in grade No. 1 have been set at 3 percent, in grade No. 2 at 5 percent. Limits are also set in the other numerical grades.

Limits for shrunken and broken kernels are cut from 5 to 3 percent for grade No. 1 and 12 percent for grade No. 2 and 20 percent for grade No. 3.

Moisture minimum
Minimum moisture content for wheat graded "tough" is reduced from 14 or 14.5 percent (depending on the class) to 13.5 percent for all classes. The change also eliminates moisture as a factor in determining sample grade.

"Dockage" is recorded in half percent with other fractions reduced to the nearest whole or half. Dockage is material other than wheat which may be readily removed by cleaning. It is not a grade determining factor but is recorded on inspection certificates.

These changes, explains Tom Aaron, grain marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, are intended to better reflect the quality of the wheat in the price received by the producer. During a transitional period after May 1, grain inspectors will, on request, show the grade of wheat under both standards.

James S. Hogg, first native-born Governor of Texas, was inaugurated in a simple ceremony lasting only 35 minutes.

Tribune adds litho equipment

The Morton Tribune Commercial printing plant is now the best equipped in West Texas. Snyder, publisher and owner of the Tribune and print shop, announced after installation of additional lithographic arts equipment.

Three major pieces of equipment have been added to the shop and job printing by the offset method.

The offset equipment will supplement the letterpress equipment also used by the Tribune printing department.

A large view camera, capable of handling negatives up to 11 inches, a plate maker and offset press have been installed and are now in operation.

The plant can offer a complete line of printing and type of printing for any job required", Snyder said. The veteran newspaperman and printer explained the major differences and advantages of both types of printing now available. "The surface is printed directly from type, using the letterpress method", he explained. "The type is set in lead and placed in a form which goes into the press.

"The offset method requires a plate, which prints onto a roller, which prints on the surface, giving the process the name 'offset'.

"Letterpress printing, enables the printer to set the type in the form and print the surface directly from the type.

To prepare a plate for offset printing, the printer makes a dummy of the job to be printed. The dummy is laid out exactly as it will appear when printed and photographed, using a large view camera.

"The negative is developed and a plate made from the negative. Snyder explained the plate maker transposes the negative, making it a picture again. Whites are white, blacks are black, not the opposite as in a photographic negative.

The plate is then placed on the press. Rollers pick up the ink and print it on the paper.

When asked to list advantages of one type printing over the other, Snyder, pointed out the ease of duplicating printing orders with the offset method.

"A customer may need a number of forms printed. He has a few of the forms left and needs the new ones exactly like his present stock. The printer 'shoots' a picture of the form, makes a plate, and prints the order.

"Another example, a printing order requires pictures. The picture is pasted on the dummy, a negative shot, and a plate made, and the job printed. Pictures, when used for letterpress printing must be engraved on zinc, a fairly expensive process. The offset method eliminates the added expense of making metal engravings and speeds up the time required to get the order out.

"What would be the advantages of the letterpress method, if the offset system is so versatile?" Snyder was asked.

"Printing jobs that do not require art work must be 'laid out', or designed by the printer and are handled best by the letterpress method. With no copy to photograph, the printer must create the job. He can do this best with the letterpress equipment. The offset requires a dummy for the camera to photograph. The dummy must be printed. This can be done best by setting the type in hot lead and using the letterpress.

The printing department of the Tribune is under the supervision of Arvin Stafford, with nine years experience as a graphic arts craftsman. "Stafford is familiar with letterpress and offset printing methods", Snyder said.

The darkroom facilities of the Tribune photographic department were recently enlarged to handle the large view camera and its related processing requirements. Stafford will operate the offset press, including necessary specialized photography.

"An additional printer will be added to the staff in the near future to give even faster service on commercial printing orders."

"The standard letterpresses and additional offset equipment makes the Tribune Commercial Printing Department the finest from Lubbock to Clovis or Amarillo to Odessa", Snyder concluded.

Simple Phonies fame spreads across Plains

Three Morton school teachers are attracting considerable attention over the South Plains by their performances after school hours.

Elvis Fleming, Harold Drennan and Guy McLain, known outside the class room as the Simple Phonies are booked for many appearances away from Morton.

Long a favorite of meetings in the area, the trio is now booked for engagements at Plainview, Denver City, Smyer, Lamesa, Shallowater and Wolfthorpe.

The group appears as a comedy team and singing trio.

Fleming plays a guitar, McLain a banjo and Drennan plays a one stringed instrument made from a wash tub and broomstick.

Material for comedy skits and "Simple Phony" arrangements of songs are prepared by the men. The Executive Secretary of Lions of Texas saw the Simple Phonies perform at a Lions function at Three-Way.

Tom Kirkham, the Executive

Secretary, remarked the talent displayed by the local trio was worthy of representing Texas at the International Lions Convention in Ottawa, Canada. The state secretary said he would check into the possibility of having the Simple Phonies appear as representatives of Texas at the International meeting.

As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

chase from Levelland and hoped to include Morton in the service.

Two methods of providing the additional channels are available, Copeland said. One method requires an antenna on a high tower, the other uses microwave equipment.

An engineer will conduct a survey in the Levelland area and determine which method will best suit the area.

Councilman Earl Crum suggested the men obtain the survey and more information as to cost and type of construction and method to be used and then present the proposal to the council for consideration.

In the event a franchise is granted the company, a city tax of two percent of the gross income would be paid.

C. E. Luper met with the council and asked for an easement on 5th and Taylor Streets. Luper stated the easement would be used only for parking and no building or structure erected. Members of the council instructed City Attorney Fred Stockdale to prepare necessary papers, granting the easement, reserving the right of way for utilities.

The easement will be used by Luper for parking space and a driveway near a new motel planned in the area.

Morton will host the monthly meeting of the Permian Basin Water Association, May 19. The meeting, an educational program for water department superintendents, engineers and service workers, is rotated among cities of the association.

Morton has not been host city for the meeting in the past four or five years.

City Secretary Elra Oden was authorized to proceed with plans for the meeting. Water and sewer service workers receiving two hours credit toward obtaining licenses for each of the monthly meetings attended.

H. Y. Christian and L. W. King met with the council and asked that three blocks of city streets be opened. The men asked that Monroe Street be extended from NE 4th to NE 8th and that a block of NE 5th be opened.

The proposed streets would give access to property owned by the men. Members of the council stated the matter would be discussed with Mark Kennedy, only other landowner of property abutting the proposed streets. To open a street, sufficient footage for an easement and right of way must be given by the property owners.

Douglas informed the council a representative of the paving contractor would report progress on the paving at the next regular meeting and have additional units

Gospel meeting at Church of Christ begins next week

Charles A. Gibson, Rockdale, will be visiting preacher for a week long gospel meeting at the Church of Christ, according to Lee Sergeant, local preacher.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. each night, Monday through Sunday, March 2 through March 8.

"Persons requiring transportation to the gospel meeting are asked to call 296-5396 or 266-2451 and free transportation will be provided," Sergeant said.

Gibson, minister of the Downtown Church of Christ in Rockdale the past three years has been in the ministry 20 years.

A native of Houston, he is a graduate of Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson, Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Slack, Archer City; their sons, J. D. Slack Jr., his wife and their son, Jack, Wichita Falls and Gowdy Slack, Dell City were guests here Sunday in the home of the senior Mrs. Slack's sister and mother, Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter and Mrs. J. A. ic be considered for addition and deletion to the project.

Stockdale reported all property owners on NE 8th Street, except two, had given right of way easements for the proposed paving of that street.

Cost of paving 8th Street will be borne by the city and county in a joint paving project. Owners of property abutting the street will not be required to pay for the improvements.

The two property owners who have not given right of way easements are Jack Baker and R. C. Roddy.

The street in question was not actually a street until November, 1961. Stockdale appeared before the County Commissioners Court and explained the situation.

County Attorney George Boring was instructed to prepare an order opening the road and the city would secure the needed right of way.

Common usage of the avenue linking Highway 116 and FM 1780 caused it to be considered a street.

Merlin Roberts, owner of land abutting the entire east side of the street, was the first to give a right of way easement.

Vehicle inspections are lagging in Morton area

Vehicle inspections are lagging in Morton area with less than thirty percent of the required vehicles in Region 5 displaying inspection stickers, according to Alan Johnson, Motor Inspection supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The deadline for obtaining inspection stickers drawing near, Johnson said, "If this continues, vehicle owners will have to wait in order to get their vehicles inspected by the April 15 deadline of the Morton area. The vehicles inspected by the three new auto agencies, Allsup - Reynolds, Hawkins Oldsmobile or Ford Sales.

not yet been inspected, a figure similar to that issued by Captain Johnson.

Mechanics at McCoy Ford reported inspections, at that station, were a little ahead of this time last year. Allsup - Reynolds and Hawkins report the inspection proceeding "about usual" for this time of year.

The three dealers reported the most busy time would be encountered the last two weeks before the April 15 deadline.

"Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas, that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 without a valid 1964 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law," Captain Johnson said.

Chamber directors discuss peddlers

Directors of the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce discussed methods of more rigid control of itinerant peddlers and merchants in Morton and the area Thursday.

City Secretary Elra Oden and Councilman R. C. Strickland met with the directors and explained an ordinance governing peddlers by the city.

The provision, adopted by the city July 9, 1962, defines and regulates itinerant merchant vendors and persons selling or taking orders for goods, wares, merchandise, services, photographs, newspapers, magazines or subscriptions to newspapers or magazines.

The ordinance, created for protection of the city and citizens, provides for the licensing, posting of bonds by peddlers, and penalties for violations of the law.

An itinerant peddler, as defined by the ordinance, is a person, firm, company, partnership, corporation or association engaged in any of the acts mentioned who does not reside in the city or has leased a building or lot for less than six months.

The ordinance does not apply to persons who live in the city nor to vendors of farm or dairy products raised in Cochran County. The ordinance does not apply to sales made to dealers by commercial travellers or sales agents in the usual course of their business nor to sales made under authority of law.

Persons wishing to secure a city license to act as vendor or itinerant merchant must make application to the city secretary. License fee is $25 for each company, plus an additional two dollar monthly fee for each agent or salesman representing the company. To be eligible for a license, the vendor must post a bond of $100 bond. The bond guarantees the purchaser against defects of workmanship that may be discovered in the merchandise within 30 days of purchase. The application for license must also state whether a deposit or partial payment is required from the purchaser before delivery of goods.

Salesmen violating the law are subject to fines ranging from $10 to $200 for each day or portion of day that the ordinance was violated. Each day the law is violated can be considered a separate offense.

The ordinance, approved in Morton is similar to those on records of neighboring cities.

Texas grain crop production down from five years

"Texas' 1963 grain production, hampered somewhat by the drought, fell short of the five-year average on most kinds with the notable exception of rice," Agriculture Commissioner White said this week.

At mid-summer of 1963, grain stored in Texas registered warehouses totaled some 452,150,159 bushels of barley, corn, milo, oats and wheat. Rice storage figures were not available. But with normal disappearance, not too much of a storage increase is expected from the total of 327,456,000 bushels produced. Rice, classified separately, yielded some 18,394,000 cwt. which tops considerably the five year average of 12,135,000 cwt.

Ample storage

Ample storage capacity was available to handle the 1963 crop, after the usual harvest overload. Total capacity of warehouses registered with Commissioner White's office is 691,369,682 bushels and about one-third of this space was ready to receive the 1963 grains at the season's start.

Despite much discussion of surplus grains, Texas warehouses have an average of only about a year's supply of most commodities on hand. This is regarded as adequate for emergencies but not excessive by food distribution officials.

Commissioner John White also pointed out that Texas grain warehouse laws, offering about the best protection in the nation, have prevented losses by grain growers. "No Texas grain farmer has lost even one bushel's worth of grain through theft or mismanagement in nearly 10 years because of our strict bonding and licensing provisions," White said. "The Estes scandals centered primarily on financial manipulations and not grain shortages, and no farmer lost his grain."

Production figures

Production figures and grain storage amounts were as follows (first figure is 1963 production, second figure is amount of storage at mid-summer): Barley 3,780,000 bushels, 785,000 bushels; Corn 24,064,000 bu., 1,061,133 bu.; Milo 245,310,000 bu., 380,232,412 bu.; Oats 13,674,000 bu., 270,649 bu.; Wheat 40,618,000 bu., 67,779,640 bu. "Texas remains the leader in almost all forms of grain production and in laws protecting our stored crops," White added.

Trained elephants recognize 20 to 25 different work commands.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce discussed issuing letters of approval or acceptance to those salesmen who met certain qualifications. A prerequisite for the Chamber approval would be a city license.

The same requirements would be required for salesmen wishing to operate outside the city, with the exception of granting a city license.

Many members of the chamber do not live in Morton and the directors felt something should be done to protect them from unscrupulous salesmen.

Records at city hall show four licenses have been issued since the peddler's ordinance went into effect, July 9, 1962. One license was granted an aluminum siding company, one license granted a magazine subscription company, a license granted a fruit vendor (for fruit grown outside the county) and a license granted a woman to solicit advertising for a publication.

No records are available as to the number of complaints received by the Morton Police Department or Cochran County Sheriff's Department.

All residents of Morton are reminded to ask door to door salesmen to show their license from the city. Those who do not have such a license should be reported to the police department.

Dean Weatherly, Chamber of Commerce Secretary, was appointed to investigate methods the chambers of commerce of surrounding cities are doing to grant approval to door to door salesmen.

Weatherly will contact the surrounding chambers, obtaining information required by them in granting chamber approval to salesmen. The Morton Area Chamber of Commerce will then prepare requirements similar to the other cities.

Members of the Morton organization will then be issued placards, stating only solicitors approved by the Chamber of Commerce will be considered.

The need for additional members was discussed by directors. Letters will be sent to farmers of the area, telling of the recent name change and purpose, to include more of the Morton area in the civic organization. Farmers will be asked to participate in the local Chamber of Commerce more.

Other plans for increasing the membership are for each member to obtain additional members.

C. E. Dole and T. E. Lynch, chairmen of the agriculture committee, were instructed to investigate the possibilities of presenting an "Outstanding Farmer" award to an area farm family. The presentation would be similar to the Morton Outstanding Citizen award.

Directors discussed a recent trip by Santa to Morton. Children of the area were treated to rides in Santa's sleigh in December, courtesy of the Chamber of Commerce. Gene Snyder, president, reported the showman had contacted him, informing the Cham-

HIS TROUBLES WON'T GET HIM DOWN

Forgetting his incapacitation, he is happily determined to plan ahead. His spirit is not easily crushed. Life is always full of hope and excitement. The Lord and this young man's Christian friends have taught him to have such an outlook on life.

"But the fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith." Galatians 5:22.

We invite you to attend the church of your choice regularly to worship, to be uplifted, encouraged, and blessed.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Indians and Bobcats evenly matched teams

Morton Indians and the Bobcat basketball teams had an unusual experience of each other five times during the past season, and show the two teams are evenly matched as you find.

In the first of a best two out of three playoff series, held February 15 at Dimmitt, the Bobcats once again came from behind to nose out the Indians, this time by a 62-61 tally. Last Thursday night, Morton entertained the Dimmitt team, winning rather handily, 63-54.

This set the stage for the final game of the series Saturday night in the Whiteface gym. Dimmitt thoroughly trounced the Indians, 67-33, to win the right to represent the district in play-off competition. They will now carry the flags of District 3-AA into the regional basketball tournament this weekend in Lubbock by virtue of their Tuesday night win over Denver City, 64-63, in the bi-district clash.

THE SUSPENDED BASKETBALL seems to have a pair of players from both Morton and Dimmitt spellbound in the second contest of the three-game playoff between the two schools. The action came in the Thursday night battle in Morton which the local club won, 63-54. Morton boys are Rhodney Williams and Ernest Chesshir, while Dimmitt players identifiable are Steve Hutton and Jacky Nichols. TRIBUNE Photo as, neighbors trusted neighbors beyond all reason. Hank and Slim lived just across a pasture from each other. Both had been bachelors but eventually Hank married a cute young thing, a bit on the flighty side. After a few months of married life Hank pulled in at Slim's place with team and wagon. "Slim," began Hank, "I got to go in town for supplies today. Now this is a long trip for my wife and she would just get tired and so that nothing would happen to her while I am gone, I locked her in the house. While I am gone I wonder if maybe tomorrow or next day you would ride over and see about her. I wouldn't want nothing to happen to her. Now I put the key to the house under the bottom step of the front porch behind a little stone".

Passing thoughts and shifting sands

"Sure Hank," answered Slim. "Don't worry about your wife." Hank drove four miles down the road when he looked back and saw Slim riding his horse in a dead run trying to catch up with him. Hank reined in and Slim pulled his sweating mount to a standstill beside the wagon. Yelled out Slim, "Where did you say you put that key?" Two Morton neighbors went duck hunting. One carried a thermos bottle of coffee the other a thermos bottle of whiskey. As they set in a duck blind waiting for ducks to fly over, the hunter with the coffee kept himself warm by drinking it. The hunter with the whiskey drank long and steady from his jug. Finally one old duck flew over. The hunter drinking coffee raised his gun and fired. He missed. The hunter drinking whiskey raised his gun and fired and the duck fell.

Said the coffee drinker to his friend, "That sure was a good shot". Answered the whiskey drinker, "Yea, so it was. Generally though, in a flock that size, I get two or three ducks".

Morton CPA will audit books for City of Slaton

John P. Haggard, Certified Public Accountant, was authorized to conduct the annual city audit of Slaton by city commission meeting Monday night. John H. King, II, publisher of the Slaton Slatonite, a newspaper, reported Haggard performed the audit of the year while associated with a book accounting firm. Commissioners of the city felt Haggard more qualified, because of experience with the city's new system of auditing the city, which has proved successful, according to the newsman. The Morton CPA will begin the audit of the Slatonite about April 1, as that is the beginning of our fiscal year, reported to the Tribune.

Town hall democracy still works

Hunger, hardship, danger—the price of self rule came high! No wonder our early settlers prized the right to have a say in their town meetings. Today, rural electric cooperatives give millions a chance to take part in this pure democracy which has contributed so much to the strength of America.

The name has changed, but the rural electric annual meeting has the same rule-by-the-people freedom that characterized the colonial town meeting. Once a year, the member-owners of these local cooperatives get together to find out how their business is doing, and to take an active part in running it.

Free exchange of views, and frank discussion of policy give any interested member a chance to have his say. To become a director, with policy-making authority, a candidate must win the confidence and the votes of a majority of his fellow members. Plans, programs, and progress reports are subject to searching review.

The sanctity of the ballot and the basic freedoms of assembly, speech, and private ownership are American ideals. They find full expression in a business activity in America's rural electric systems.

The Tribune's favorite recipe for this week was submitted by Miss Jennie Allen. It is good, inexpensive, filling and easily prepared.

Hamburger-Onion Pie

Recipe of single pie crust - in pie pan.

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon flavor extender
- 2 eggs
- 2 medium onions
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon pie crust mixture
- 1 cup small curd cottage cheese

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Mix beef and onions and saute both until meat has lost color. Add salt, pepper, flavor extender and pie crust. Spread in dough-lined pan. Beat eggs slightly and blend with cottage cheese, pour over the meat. Sprinkle with paprika; bake 30 minutes, cut in wedges, serves six to eight.

She is young, gay, pretty, single and a good cook . . . the line forms to the right boys!

Miss Jennie, with the light brown hair, was born in Iowa and educated variously in California, Missouri, New Mexico and Colorado.

She started first grade in Los Angeles, attended the elementary school in Missouri, graduated from high school in Roswell and is a June 1963 graduate of Colorado State University, Ft. Collins, Colo.

Miss Allen came to Morton in the fall of 1963 as Cochran County Home Demonstration Agent . . . her first job since graduation. She likes Morton and Cochran County and says, "After the first week I felt right at home, every one has been so cordial that I feel I am in the midst of good friends."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Allen of Roswell, who also have a son, Larry, a chemist in the research department at Los Alamos, N.M.

In addition to cooking Jennie likes to sew and makes a good many of her own clothes. She said, "If I had the time I'd cook up all the recipes I have on file."

She has bowled some but not since moving to Morton. For a quiet hobby she does Mosaic Craft, this again, when time permits. She enjoys reading.

Miss Martin's religious affiliation is with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon).

Alliance for progress discussed at L'Allegro

Mrs. James McClure hosted the regular meeting Thursday night of L'Allegro Study Club. "Alliance for Progress" was discussed by Mrs. J. C. Reynolds and Mrs. Edie Irwin.

Mrs. Reynolds explained functions of the Alliance which was granted a charter August 17, 1961. "There are 19 free republics among the Latin - Americas," she said. "The Alliance is concerned in the main with the under-privileged classes of Latin - America; the health, housing, education, fair wage laws and agricultural improvement for citizens of these countries."

"The Cuban revolt was not reason for formation of the Alliance but it did point out the necessity that something needed to be done," Mrs. Reynolds told the group.

Mrs. Irwin gave a report on what has been accomplished by the Alliance saying, "Probably the biggest advance has been made in housing, also new schools have been built and a good credit plan established for farmers."

"Agriculture is very important in all the Latin - American countries, because of the population increase. The credit plan for farmers is financed 80 per cent by the individual county and 20 per cent by the United States."

Mrs. Irwin told the group "Marxism has had a stronghold in the University of Mexico, but student democracy is working through the Alliance to defeat Marxism. The University is the center of culture for Mexico and needs to be a stronghold for democracy."

She concluded by comparing the Alliance with a baseball game, "The Alliance has made some errors, but getting some hits and some runs will compensate for the errors. The Alliance is politically controversial here in the United States, originated by the democrats it has drawn some criticism from the republican party."

Mrs. Carl Eugene Belk was accepted as a new member of L'Allegro.

The following officers were elected for the new year: Mrs. E. O. Willingham, president; Mrs. W. B. McSpadden and Mrs. Melvin McCoy, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. Gene Snyder, secretary; Mrs. Bob Travis, corresponding secretary; Mrs. T. K. Williamson, treasurer; Mrs. Van Greene, parliamentarian; Mrs. Harold Drennan, historian, and Mrs. John Haggard, reporter.

The club voted to support the school in its program for retarded children. Members attending: Mrs. H. B. Barker, Mrs. Truman Doss, Mrs. Drennan, Mrs. Irwin, Mrs. Derwood McClintock, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. Jack Wallace, Mrs. Willingham and Mrs. Haggard.

Report from County Agent Cochran County Farm & Home

By HOMER THOMPSON

Agriculture is big business on the Plains. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service strives to boost this business by constantly seeking to find better and faster methods of relaying to those people concerned, the latest in research findings. The information is designed to help farmers, ranchers, homemakers and others make more money, live better and be aware of what is coming next in this fast-moving world.

On the Plains, the county Extension agents in each county provide the "link" between the research field and the people who can benefit from this knowledge. Backing the agents in our area are Extension specialists stationed at Lubbock who cover the Plains assisting the agents in finding answers to the questions of people in South Plains counties.

At the South Plains Research and Extension Center are a large number of scientists, who — on a moment's notice — can be called on by Extension personnel to supply additional information of value to farmers, homemakers, and the urban dweller. We have on the Plains a "team" of dedicated authorities who are interested only in obtaining and providing more and better answers to the problems confronting not only our farmers but our housewives and also the townsmen who have lawn, fruit tree or other problems.

If the research scientists and Extension specialists on the Plains can't supply the answers, they have quick access to those who can. These other authorities include the Research - Extension team at Texas A&M University and in other states; one of the many other experimental stations around the state; USDA scientists and technicians in Washington, D. C. and other locations; authorities in private industry on the Plains, in Texas, and over the nation; Texas Tech and other colleges and universities actively engaged in agriculture and homemaking research. If the Extension-Research team located in our area can't find the answers to problems confronting farmer, rancher, homemaker, or town dweller, the answer hasn't been found.

Charles Fisher, Superintendent of the South Plains Research and Extension Center, north of Lubbock on the Plainview Highway, says this team approach works. He says, "together we determine the problem, find ways to attack it, then solve the problem and finally get the answers rapidly and accurately to those concerned."

W. H. (Bud) Jones, District Agent for the 20 South Plains counties, points out use of the team approach also assures more accuracy in the information relayed to farmers, homemakers and others.

"When our Extension agents and specialists work closely with researchers attacking the problem and finding the answers, they have a better understanding of how, why, and by what means the researchers obtained the answers. This knowledge makes the Extension agents and the specialists more able to relay the information rapidly and accurately," Jones added.

In order to further this close liaison between the researcher and the Extension workers dedicated to getting information to those wanting it, Jones and Fisher report that the "team" is moving closer together. The South Plains Research and Extension Center is named for this reason.

Some Extension specialists are already located at the Center and in the near future, it is expected all District and Area Specialists and District Agents will headquarter at the Center. This will afford both Research and Extension the opportunity to be "on top" of what is happening at all times. Fisher emphasized, Jones stressed this arrangement should also serve to get information from the researchers to those who need it more quickly than ever before.

All in all, research and Extension authorities on the Plains are doing their best to make sure their work will benefit each Plains resident — whether he or she be farmer, homemaker, or townsmen.

The next time you hear or read the statement, "For more information see your county agent," you'll know that because of the "team" of which he is a member, he can supply this information quickly and accurately, if it is available.

Betty Lou Ledbetter, student at Tech, spent the weekend here with her parents, Judge and Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter and family.

Water corporation at Maple reaches 60 member mark

Ralph Douglas, engineer for the Maple Water Supply Corporation reports approximately 60 memberships have been sold in the organization.

Douglas is preparing a preliminary estimate, based on the 60 meters that will be serviced by the proposed water system. The cost of the project, pipe lines, well, pump and storage tank, to serve the Maple area will be presented the FHA office in Muleshoe and then submitted to the state FHA office.

Members of the new water company met in January and formed the corporation.

Upon acceptance by the state and national FHA offices, a loan will be granted the corporation. The loan will cover all costs of the utility company and will be repaid from revenue.

Minimum monthly charges for the water service are set at $6.00 by the FHA.

The system, comparable to the one in operation at Bledsoe, is sometimes referred to as a "Poor Boy Water System", as it is the least expensive system that can be used. Usually, the water systems are constructed with ground level storage tanks, rather than an overhead tank.

The community water system is also referred to as a co-op water company.

Jim Walker, Morton attorney, is legal advisor for the Maple Water Supply Corporation.

Bobcats take district title with 67-53 win

 wasn't Morton's night! The Indians were plagued with an extreme case of jitters and nervousness in the first period of the final contest with Dimmitt, as six minutes went by before they could pump in their first field goal against the Bobcats. They finally did connect on two fielders, one by Ernest Chesshir and another by Terry Davis, before the period ended with the count reading 18-11, Dimmitt. The Bobcats had led by as much as ten points in the first eight minutes of play. Four free throws by Jimmy Joyce was Morton's best scoring effort in the initial period.

The Indians were plagued with an extreme case of jitters and nervousness in the first period of the final contest with Dimmitt, as six minutes went by before they could pump in their first field goal against the Bobcats. They finally did connect on two fielders, one by Ernest Chesshir and another by Terry Davis, before the period ended with the count reading 18-11, Dimmitt. The Bobcats had led by as much as ten points in the first eight minutes of play. Four free throws by Jimmy Joyce was Morton's best scoring effort in the initial period.

seven counters, as Charlie Ledbetter added six.
 The two teams battled on fairly even terms in the third quarter but Dimmitt gained one point on the locals, as they were ahead 50-45, going into the fourth period. Ledbetter's eight-point output in that quarter was Morton's best.
 The Indians rallied early in the final period, and drew to within one point of the Bobcats, but then the roof fell in. Morton suddenly turned cold again, and the Dimmitt boys regained their poise and coasted in for the victory. Morton managed only eight points in the entire fourth quarter.

Steve Hutton did most of the damage on the scoreboard, as he led the Bobcats with 18 points, but it was Clint Summers who came through once again in the clutch for Dimmitt. The little red-headed guard tallied 16 points, but more important, his floor play was exceptional. The same boy almost single-handedly kept Morton from taking a victory in the first play-off game at Dimmitt, Jackie Nichols scored 14 for the Bobcats, and Lyndol Frazier added eleven.
 On the Morton side of the ledger, Ledbetter took game scoring honors with 19 points, seven field goals and five gift tosses. Rhodney Williams added eleven, Chesshir ten and Joyce nine. The Indians made only 17 field goals of 69 attempts, and cashed in on 19 of 29 chances at the charity line.

Although the Indians were behind, 15-13, at the end of the initial period, it was apparent they weren't to be denied this night. They pleased the packed hometown crowd with a 19-point second quarter and were in command, 32-26, at halftime. Morton increased the advantage to 49-41, at the close of the third period, and in the final quarter, were in front by as much as eleven points several times.
 Charles Ledbetter counted 21 points to lead the Indians, and Rhodney Williams and Ernest Chesshir tallied 14 apiece. Jackie Nichols was Dimmitt's best point getter with 17, followed by Lyndol Frazier with ten.
 Plan to attend open house at a Morton school Tuesday.
