spring. Irrigated acreage comprising some 80 percent of the total acreage for cotton in the county is in fair condition despite some damage incurred from sand and wind. The late plantings may affect the average cotton yield per acre this year. In 1963 the average yield per acre was 534 pounds. An average of 548 pounds was prevalent in 1962, with 457 in 1961 and a lower 330 pounds in 1960. That would make an increase of 218 pounds per acre average between the 1960 crop and the output last year.

set down scoreless in their half of the fourth.

Waters came through for the Tigers again in the top of the fifth by sending Freeman home on a line drive double to keep center-field. Thomas then tallied on Black's walk to keep the Tigers ahead 10-7.

The Indians exploded for seven runs in the fifth inning to take an unsurpassable lead of 14-10. Culpepper scored on an error. Carter slapped a base hit to send Soliz and Hobson across to score. Monroe tallied on Gomez base hit and Carter came in on a passed ball. McCoy rapped a single to score Gomez and Keuhler came in on a passed ball to finish the inning with the Indians leading 14-10.

A Tiger rally in the sixth fell short as the losers could only manage two runs. Freeman was forced in when Smart was hit by a pitched ball and Bedwell tallied when a bases loaded walk was issued to Willis. But the Indians bore down to retire the side and win the ball game 14-12.

can Foundation. He will return to Iceland to manage a supermarket upon finishing his studies.

Torti Torti majors in social anthropology, psychology and philosophy at Macalester College in Minnesota and plans to return to return to Nigeria as a college teacher upon his graduation.

Erik Rasmussen, 22, of Denmark attends Berea College in Kentucky as a special student. Besides being engaged in studying history and political science, he is working on numerous articles for his newspaper in Denmark where he plans to work upon completion of his education.

The American Co-ordinator of the tour, Bruce Christiansen, has recently graduated from Macalester College with a degree in mathematics. He plans to work on a master's degree in this field.

Despite the fact that their expenses on the trip are paid it is by no means a luxury vacation tour. The group lodges with local families on the trip as well as camping out in national parks and other public facilities.

Itineraries for the trip leaves certain times for the group to take side trips off the beaten path and explore aspects of the country which are not so prominent, yet which are very much a part of the United States.

Funds to finance the "ambassadors" program are obtained by numerous speeches made by Harry Morgan, program director, all over the United States. Morgan has become widely known for his activities in the field of international relations and his efforts in organizing the "Ambassadors for Friendship" tours.

Students are selected on the basis of their ability to participate and get along with their fellow companions on the tour and their talent for meeting people. Financial need is also a consideration and no one that could afford to travel on his own is selected for the trip.

The tours have been a great success and more groups are added to make the trips each summer. Morgan's ideas on helping international relations which started out on a small scale have grown into a larger and more effective organization - "Ambassadors for Friendship."

Funeral services were held Saturday in Fort Worth for Sherwood Wallace Clark, 43, cousin of Mrs. Hazel Hancock and other relatives in Morton area.

If you've got a head on the biggest profit possible from this year's crop be sure you're loaded for bear. The only way you can be sure you'll get the maximum yield is to be sure your young plants have all the nitrogen they need. If you missed getting a pre-plant of anhydrous ammonia into the land then let us furnish you with Nitromite, Shamrock's anhydrous ammonia, for a quick side dress application. The cost will be just a fraction of the profit from the extra yield. Call or come in soon.

Morton grad now living with family in Japan

Mrs. Randal R. Bruner, the former Billie Crockett, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holt, joined her husband in Japan the latter part of May.

Billie, daughter of Mrs. Perry Crockett of Levelland and the late Perry Crockett, writes:

"We live about three miles from base and Butch (Randal) rides to and from on a bike. Over here you drive on wrong side of road and if you have an American car it is pretty hard to drive because you are not only on the wrong side of the car but wrong side of street.

"I really do like it over here. We have a nice place, but had to buy new furniture, however it is much cheaper, a new living room suite cost 35 dollars. Real nice curtain material is 50 cents a yard. I plan to make my curtains.

"The bathroom is all tile, even the floor. The tub is also tile and very deep. The hot water heater runs on gasoline and you have to turn it off after you are through with it or it will blow up!

"The windows are all the sliding type, and they are all short. Partitions are all of thin paneling, but very pretty.

"And when you go in someones house you pull off your shoes. It is hard for me to remember but I guess I'll learn.

"Everyone has been exceedingly nice and helpful. Butch is called "Tex" and I'm introduced as "Mrs. Tex."

"Yesterday I bought groceries. Meat is all frozen, we don't get fresh eggs and bread, all these items come from the states. Food is about the same price as there at home.

"Beautiful country, everything so fresh and green, I know I am going to enjoy our tour of duty over here.

"I flew Continental fan jet from Houston to Los Angeles then boarded another jet for the flight to Japan.

"While at the airport in Hawaii a lei of fresh flowers was given me to wear around my neck. The flowers had a delightful fragrance and I really enjoyed wearing the lei.

"Love to you both and regards to my friends there in Morton."

The Tribune is grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Holt for sharing their granddaughter's letters with its readers. Billie attended Morton schools and has many friends here, who will be glad to hear her descriptive letters published in the Morton Tribune.

Homemaking girls plan play school for late June

Summer Homemaking girls met Monday in the junior high school to make plans for a play school. The school will be held June 25, 26, 29, and 30 from 9 to 11 a.m. in the Morton First Grade Elementary Building. All pre-school children 3 years old and older are invited to attend.

The play school will give the children an opportunity to be with other children their own age and will give the high school girls an opportunity to observe little children in a number of different situations. Some of the activities will be: stories, music, coloring, finger painting, quiet games and outside games. Light refreshments will be served to the children each morning at 10. A registration fee of 50 cents will be charged to cover refreshments and supplies for all four days.

Parents should register children on Wednesday morning, June 24 between the hours of 9 and 12. The registration will be held in room 6 of the Morton Junior High School building.

Girls attending the meeting Monday were Patricia Browne, Mary Burchett, Linda House, Ginger Scoggins, Jan Scoggins, and Nancy Webb. Mrs. A. E. Sanders is teaching the summer phase of the Homemaking program.

Final plans for the play school will be made by the summer class on June 22 at 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Winder and daughters, Ann and Sue, left last Friday for a visit with her sister in Corpus Christi. They will return by Dallas for a visit to Six Flags over Texas.

HIS FAVORITE...

Ah! Just smell that... This is his favorite... prepared just the way he likes it. He's in for a real treat. Everyone has certain foods that they prefer over others and this is his.

Many people have favorite scriptures... these words can excite and satisfy the soul as certain foods satisfy the taste palates.

The soul needs nourishment too. The church offers the best opportunities to satisfy your spiritual needs.

ATTEND
CHURCH
SUNDAY

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Gracious living is theme for W. B. McSpadden home here

Home of Dr and Mrs. W. B. McSpadden

FEATURING white wrought iron trim on the house, the landscaping which is not completed is to be modified oriental. Area between front walk and curb is filled with white chipped rock in which low growing cypress has been planted to add a touch of green.

in Morton speak for a developed art of the area of gracious living. This describes a notable example of these homes—a home to be as its owners' contributions to social activities, group gatherings and family living.

antiqued brick home of Dr. W. B. McSpadden on Garfield Avenue welcomes with a charming exterior of white wrought iron trim and wrought iron lamps.

dition to grass shrubs, trees and plants front yard landscaping includes chipped rock as a part of the whole design.

ere back yard, partially terraced for al fresco entertaining, led with entrance to double as at east of house through wrought iron gate.

McSpadden likes guns and fishing. He relaxes by working his guns and shells. For purpose a small separate room was built adjacent to the garage.

Library, hobby room, study, and flower arranging equipment is incorporated in a portion of the home between house proper and garage. Both enjoy reading and listening to music.

In connection with her hobby of flower arranging Mrs. McSpadden has all sorts of props including various containers, accessories of all types for both artificial and fresh flowers.

Mrs. McSpadden is a decorator of the first order and says the doctor leaves most of the home decorating, selection of furnishings and arranging up to her. Trusting completely in her good judgement.

The McSpadden home was designed and planned by Mrs. McSpadden; an architect was not employed but the contractor building the house did draw her plans to scale.

Built on an "L" shape the home has two bedrooms in the guest wing on East; center of house features a formal living room at front with large den facing the back yard.

Guest wing is serviced by hallway that connects with the entry.

Master bedroom on west side of the house is off the kitchen and is also serviced by a hall.

Kitchen appointments include electric range, oven, dishwasher and custom styled cabinets. Provision was made for the storage of odd shaped and bulky trays, dishes and other seldom used articles.

A table height serving bar connects den and kitchen.

Den furnishings are of early American with a custom made rack for the doctor's guns. A wood burning fireplace is featured in this room, which is carpeted in gold.

A separate dining room shares a forward position with the living room which is entered from a terrazzo tiled entry.

Ample storage has been provided throughout the exquisitely planned home.

Stereophonic music is piped to every room in the house. A special intercom system makes it possible for the telephone or front door bell to be answered from the bath in master bedroom, almost an absolute necessity in the home of a doctor.

Mrs. McSpadden, member of Cochran County Garden Club and L'Allegro Study Club, "loves" entertaining and sharing her home with others. Since completion of the home it has been open on several occasions for showers, placement shows (garden club) club officer installation dinners et cetera.

Decor, perfect traffic pattern and easy accessibility make the McSpadden home ideal for all three purposes.

"In planning," Mrs. McSpadden said, "I had in mind, delicate flattering colors and appointments for entertaining, but I kept in mind my husband so at least half of the house is on the masculine side. Pretty and feminine for front and more utilitarian for remainder."

Color waves a magic wand in decorating the formal living and dining rooms and the guest wing. Probably the most exacting piece of work in the entire house was arriving at exactly the perfect blend of pale pink walls and ceilings with beautifully harmonious raspberry, thick tufted wall to wall carpeting. Window drapes in the living and dining rooms and one guest bedroom are the exact shade of the walls. A quilted matching spread is used on the king sized bed in one guest bedroom which is furnished in white and gold French provincial.

The bathroom in the guest wing carries out this same motif with molded cabinets and built in dressing table.

Mahogany furniture is used in the second guest bedroom with blue iridescent drapes and matching quilted spread picking up the raspberry red of the carpet.

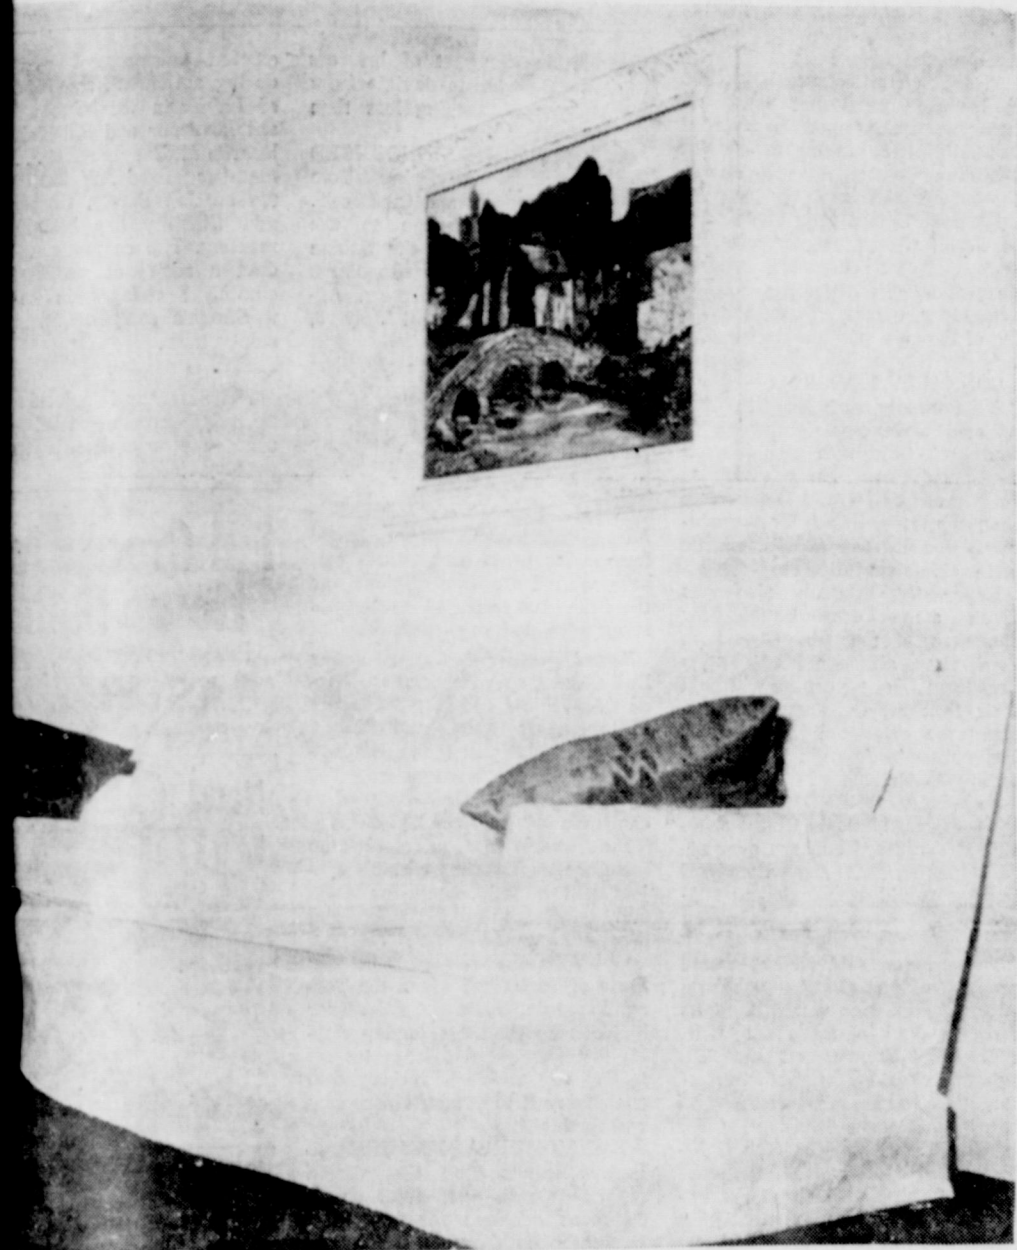

Eventually the dining room will be furnished in fruitwood of French provincial design; presently Mrs. McSpadden is using a harvest table from the den in the dining room.

A long, low white brocade couch, high backed side chairs upholstered in sea blue velvet, round glass topped over painted design coffee table, all in white and gold French provincial wood constitute furnishings in living room. White and gold filigreed light fixtures are used.

The entry features a white and gold credenza, topped by a complementary fan shaped arrangement of pink roses in a tall, antique gold container.

In discussing furnishings Mrs. McSpadden said, "I am in no hurry for the remaining pieces of furniture for the living and dining rooms, I can be patient, waiting until I find just exactly what I want. Living with furniture is usually a life time job that can be a pleasure or a bore. The secret to achieving long range amicability with furniture is thoughtful selection at the time of purchase. Impulse buying and furniture just don't mix. Look for certain characteristics that we like and that will grow on us as the years go by."

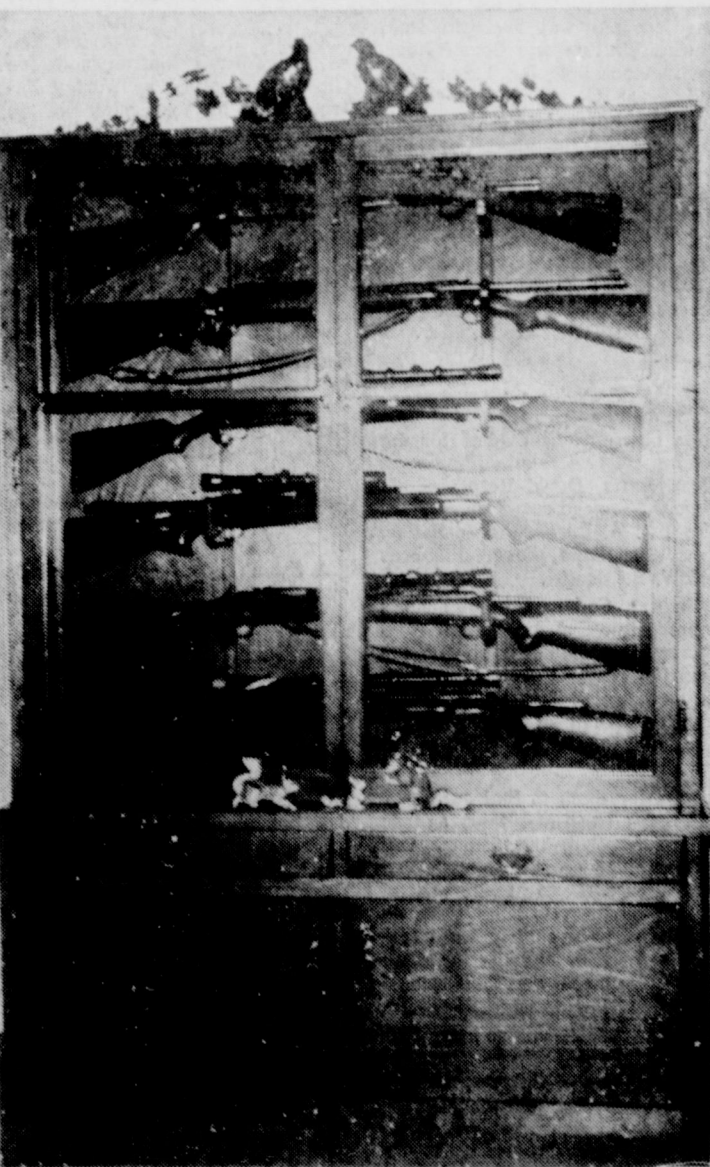

Good design, like beauty, is in the eyes of the beholder. What tractions in the formal living room. Pillows on the sofa match the raspberry carpeting and blends harmoniously with the pale pink walls and floor length draperies. TRIBUNE Photo

Gun collection

CUSTOM BUILT GUN RACK is one of the main attractions in the den of the McSpadden home. The collection of guns is used by the doctor and are not simply collector's items. Dr. McSpadden also has a special work room in his garage for gun and shell work. The gun case lends a definite masculine feeling to the den. TRIBUNE Photo design might suit one family in a home would not be practical at all for another.

The major functions of a house must be considered in any design. Regardless of the size of the house there are certain basic factors to be considered in its design. These may be summed up as space, style location, materials, comfort, storage, needs of the family and personal preferences. More factors may be added to the list.

The charm and personality of its owners and their way of living is well reflected in the home of Dr. and Mrs. McSpadden.

Comeback trail

American railroads have hit the comeback trail. They have done this in the face of enormous handicaps—namely feather bedding, unrealistic rate regulation, and resistance to needed mergers. The result should be a steadily improving future for the railroads, and for all the shippers and travelers who depend upon them.

That is the view of the president of the Association of American Railroads. But, with this expression of optimism, he coupled a warning—that to continue their postwar progress, U. S. railroads "must be literally turned upside down" to cope with mammoth government development programs for road, aid and water facilities now costing $15.6 billion a year.

It should be universally known that, despite the handicaps, railroad management has demonstrated the highest sort of economic courage and imagination. Since World War II it has spent $18 billion in capital investment. And, as a result, the whole face of the railroads has been changed with dieselized motive power, new freight cars, mechanized track maintenance, push-button freight yards, centralized traffic control, microwave communications, instantaneous data processing and modernized office procedures. And vastly improved services to customers have followed, including such new services as a piggyback, containerized shipments, and reduced rates and increased use of volume pricing.

This, let it be said again, is what the railroads have achieved in the face of unfair treatment all along the line—by the federal government, by state tax policies, by labor unions. Think what would happen if the railroads were given fair and equal treatment!

U.S. beef for Europe

A presidential mission recently reported to President Johnson that there is a potential market for U. S. beef in western Europe. And the wants of that market will be met—if a campaign being conducted by the Foreign Agricultural Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the American Meat Institute attains the success which is anticipated.

Secretary of Agriculture Freeman has designated the Institute—the national organization of the packers—to carry on both long-range and short-term promotions to stimulate the commercial sale of beef and other meat products in western Europe and the United Kingdom. The project will be financed by the Institute and market development funds which are available to help develop new outlets for U. S. agricultural products. It will be concerned with the development of beef trade through normal commercial channels. No government sales or subsidies are planned or expected.

Beef trade between this country and Europe has been virtually nonexistent in recent years. The new campaign is designed to change that. The time, as Secretary Freeman says, is ripe. In his words, "Beef particularly is in short supply in Europe, prices have been rising, and prosperous consumers want more beef. We have the supplies to sell them . . ."

All concerned will gain from this—the producers, who have been hard-pressed because of oversupply; the processors and distributors; and the European consumers who want more beef. It's the kind of cooperative activity that has universal good results.

Amos 'n Andy Are Out

Civil rights factions are indignant about the plans of a Chicago television station to re-run the popular Amos 'n Andy shows, all 77 of them, for the entertainment of its listening audience.

Negro leaders object to Amos 'n Andy because it puts the Negro in a bad light. They say that Amos is pictured as sort of a clod, funny in a degrading sort of way. Kingfish is pictured as conniver, not at all in keeping with the Negro image they would like to have projected.

The owner of the station says he's going to run the Amos 'n Andy shows anyway. He says that the program was highly successful as entertainment from the time it first appeared on television, and of course an entire older generation remembers Amos 'n Andy from radio days when it had the highest listening audience of all time.

John Weigel, president of the television station says, "When you try to expurgate American folklore, I think it's a bad situation. Amos 'n Andy is a fantastically top program in predominantly Negro areas like Atlanta and Birmingham. Some of these Negro leaders are gun happy. They want to shoot anything that comes along. Trying to keep the program off the air is comparable to the book burning in Nazi Germany. If people can't laugh at themselves, it's gotten to be a sad situation."

If every group that is laughed at on television starts a movement to ban the programs, we will soon have a blank screen. This group would include husbands (Life of Riley), peace officers (Andy Griffith Show), kids (Leave It to Beaver), women (The Lucy Show), actors (Jack Benny), television writers (Dick Van Dyke Show), and many other groups.

There is enough serious stuff on television now. Why not a show that allows people to laugh? Even if the characters are Negroes.

Ochiltree County Herald

Life's highway is littered with melancholy vehicles that carried travelers beyond their destinations. Leaving little depots of happiness and tranquility they sped onto a maze of bewildering roads with never a time or place for returning.

Up to now, the long drawn-out battle in Congress over the civil rights bill has been largely shadow-boxing. It was entirely that in the House, where in several days of debate several amendments were offered without hope or expectation that they would be accepted. It has been only a little less so during the 74 days of filibustering in the Senate. The strategy there was for proponents of the bill to hold the line against amendments until the filibuster had blown itself out.

Now, having voted to cut off debate and go ahead with voting on amendments, the Senate has got down to the licklog on what it is going to put into or take out of the bill. Eventual passage of a civil rights measure at this session is almost certain, and has been from the start. So far a main concern of the senators has been how to extract the utmost political gain from being for or against it. Now the senators are down to the responsible job — or at least what should be the responsible job — of fashioning a law that will accomplish the aim of insuring certain rights to minorities but at the same time will be a law the country can live with.

Fort Worth Star-Telegram

This is a time for rank-and-file Republicans, as well as their leaders, to make themselves heard. Perhaps, like Governors Scranton and Romney, according to reports, they would like to know more clearly where Senator Goldwater stands on major issues. Yet surely by now he has said and written enough for them to find out.

Perhaps they feel that, as has been suggested, the Senator will be compelled or persuaded to run on a more moderate platform than he has led them to believe. To do this, however, would undercut the purpose of his campaign for those who have given him his success so far.
The answer is not so much for Senator Goldwater to alter his beliefs, but for the Republican Party to decide whether he represents its beliefs. In narrow terms, the answer could affect the many Republicans seeking state office who will have to decide whether to associate themselves with the national standard bearer. In broader terms the answer could change the direction of the Party with a result that the voting in November would determine.

License warning

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reminds fishermen to please get their fishing license before making their summer vacation fishing trip. The fishing license, for residents and non-residents alike, costs only $2.15. If caught without one, a fisherman can expect to pay fines ten times or more the cost of the license.

A fishing license is required of everyone who fishes in the state with only these three exceptions: persons less than 17 or over 65 years old; persons fishing on property on which they reside or own; and persons fishing in the county of their residence and not using a winding device (reel).

To clarify the age limits, if you have reached your 17th birthday but not your 65th birthday, you are in the age bracket in which the license is required. Licenses are available at many fishing tackle and bait dealers, filling stations, grocery stores and at Parks and Wildlife Department Offices.

Please get one now if you intend to fish. Then you and the Game Warden can both smile when he says: "May I see your license, please?"

Highlights & Sidelights

Two party state gets nearer

AUSTIN, Tex. — A study of the recent party primaries and runoff elections reveals that the number of Republican candidates on the upcoming General Election ballot, in the grass-roots area, will strengthen the ever-growing trend toward a complete two-party state.

For example, 18 Democratic nominees for sheriff will face Republican opponents in November. Also, the Republican party is engaged in one county judge race (in Lubbock County); seven races for county attorney; two for county clerk; 12 for county tax assessor; two for county superintendent of schools; and 78 for county commissioner.

GOP also has candidates for most top state posts and for more than half of the 150 House of Representative posts. In addition George Bush will carry the Republican banner in the U. S. Senate race against incumbent Democrat Ralph W. Yarborough.

WATER POLLUTION — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr's opinion committee on the oil-field-waste disposal question may postpone its decision meeting indefinitely now that Superior Oil Company has filed suit against the Texas Water Pollution Control Board, asking for a declaratory judgment against the agency.

A decision by former Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that the board has jurisdiction over disposal of oilfield wastes under the Water Pollution Control Act passed by the 1961 Legislature.

Railroad Commission asked Carr to issue a new opinion after a group of oil companies raised strong objections to the board's regulatory actions. Superior's filing of the suit may change the picture entirely on any new opinion.

CONNALLY HONORED — Gov. John Connally returned from the national Governors Conference in Cleveland, Ohio, with an important new appointment. His selection as first chairman of the Democratic Governors Caucus was a unanimous one by the 50 Democratic state chief executives.

Reportedly, Connally also was given some consideration for chairman of the 1965 Governors Conference, although he is in his first term. The governors will hold their first major caucus just before the National Democratic Convention in Atlantic City, N. J., during August.

NATIONAL GUARD CONCERNED — Texas National Guard Association expressed concern over reports that U. S. Department of Defense would stop logistical support to the so-called "reinforcing reserve."

These units, said NGAT, would provide a mobilization base on which the country would build its force in event of large-scale war.

Texas' 49th Armored and 36th Infantry divisions are both part of this "reinforcing reserve," as is the 90th Reserve Division.

MANUFACTURING PLANTS — Texas had a total of 10,325 manufacturing plants which added $6,400,000,000 of value by processing raw materials into finished goods in 1962, according to the "Annual Survey of Manufacturers," recently released by the Bureau of Census.

Figures represent an addition of $589,000,000 capital expenditure for new plants during a single year. Some 500,000 plant workers earned a total of $2,700,000,000 for the year, while 250,000 production workers earned $1,600,000,000.

Food processing was the largest employer with 80,239 employees. Biggest investment was made by the chemical industry, with $167,000,000 in new capital expenditures. The petroleum refining industry spent $155,000,000 for plant construction and improvement.

RAILWAY AUTHORITY — U. S. Representative Henry B. Gonzales has asked support from Governor Connally, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and House Speaker Byron Tunnell on his recently introduced bill which aims at creating a multi-state railway authority for Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

Gonzales told them, "This is truly a states' rights program. States involved would jointly investigate and determine their own needs in the area of passenger rail transportation. He further stated that "In my judgment, passenger rail transportation has not been adequately developed and is not presently competitive with other modes of transportation — particularly in the Southwest."

FIRE INSURANCE — After July 1, it will be illegal for an insurance company to charge less than 6 percent interest per year on delayed premium payments for fire insurance, a new State Board of Insurance ruling decrees.

Several years ago, the board issued this same rule, but withdrew it when an objection was made by a company which charged no interest at all for deferred payments. An attorney general has held on two previous occasions that the board has no authority to set minimum interest rates on delayed payments, but Attorney General Carr has advised the board to take a new tack. However, litigation is entirely possible on the part of insurers who would prefer to deviate from the ruling by charging less than the new minimum.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Governor Connally named Tom Pogue of Mineola and Charles T. Wichersham of Orange to the board of directors of the Sabine River Authority. He reappointed Gus Orsborn Jr. of Emory. Appointments extend until July 6, 1962.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr. has chosen Norman V. Suarez of Austin as legal counselor for the Texas Department of Public Safety. He succeeds the late Bill Kavanaugh of Round Rock.

TRIAL PUBLICITY EXPLORED — representatives of Texas' four major press associations met here with State Bar officials for the first of a series of discussions about news coverage of trials.

Texas Press Association, Texas Daily Newspaper Association, Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association, and United Press International Managing Editors Association participated.

Talbot Rain of Dallas served as chairman of the panel.

Future conferences on the subject will be conducted for radio and television broadcasters and law enforcement officials.

COURT CASE ARGUED — The State of Texas has asked the Texas Supreme Court to reconsider its decision that the Sunday closing law does not prevent customers buying an article of merchandise on Sunday if they sign emergency certificates.

EMPLOYMENT PICTURE — Texas Employment Commission reports that in April total unemployment declined for the third straight month some 39,300 jobholders increased the employment total to 3,990,700.

Farm employment rose 17,800 to reach 300,700 by mid-April as seasonal workers were hired to plant a variety of row crops. This brought the total of seasonal workers to 105,800, or 3,500 more than at this time in 1963.

SHORT SNORTS — The State Board of Education voted to extend to one year the State's six-month program to combat school dropouts . . . Senior 4-H Club to do landscape work on building

Members of the Senior 4-H Club of Cochran County are in progress on their newest project — landscaping the County Activities Building.

Club members talked to the Commissioner's Court about the project and received permission from the group to go ahead. Precinct One Commissioner Leonard Coleman offered the use of county equipment to haul away sand and dirt collected around the building and to fertilize the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Lem Chesher met with the Senior Club to plan the project. Cost of the undertaking was set at $65.70. The Junior 4-H Club voted to donate $20 toward the cost of the plants. Other costs will be handled by the senior group.

Baker's Feed and Seed donated grass seed to the group which were sown by the Soil Conservation Service. This past week the members of the club planted shrubs and rose bushes under the direction of Jennie Allen and Lem Chesher.

Additional work is planned on a flower and shrub bed, grass planting in front of the building and a red bud tree which is to be put on the west side of the structure.

TDE in your insecticide formulation means sure cotton bollworm control

Control the hard-to-kill cotton bollworm with TDE. It works effectively where other insecticides do not. For instance, where cotton bollworm has developed resistance to DDT and other insecticides, you can get sure control with TDE in your insecticide formulation. Hundreds of tests throughout the cotton belt proved time and again TDE really works.

TDE is low in toxicity to warm-blooded animals and is long-lasting. It eliminates frequent respraying. There are many cotton formulations containing TDE. Ask your supplier about the TDE formulation most suitable for your crop.

And remember—whatever other insecticides you use, make sure they're combined with TDE—it sure kills cotton bollworms.

Clubwomen return from meeting

Mrs. Roy Hill, Mrs. Harold Arant and Mrs. Sammie E. Williams returned Wednesday from Atlantic City, where they attended the 73rd annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. All three are members of Town and Country Study Club.

They joined a contingent of women from Texas Federated Clubs in Austin for the trip by special chartered bus.

Among speakers heard during convention sessions were Margaret Hickey, chairman of the Citizens Advisory Council on the Status of Women; Eva B. Adams, director, Bureau of Mint, U. S. Treasury Department; Dr. Ellen Winston, U. S. Commissioner of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare; Dr. Nancy Roman, chief of astronomy, National Aeronautics and Space Administration and Patricia Carbine, assistant managing editor of Look Magazine.

These five nationally known leaders came up with specific answers to "What is the women's role in bringing peace through understanding?"

Miss Hickey — "No modern nation is greater than the leadership of its women. Their basic striving for something attainable in international relations is the world's best hope for peace."

Eva Adams — "Women have more feeling for other human beings. They understand more deeply, they react more personally and they feel more intensely. Arouse their need to act and the greatest force of all - desire for peace - will be loosened and will not be ignored."

Dr. Winston — "The contribution of women can best be stressed in one word - compassion - it comes from true, real, deep understanding. It may be extended to those who have less."

Dr. Roman — "A number of challenges to areas in which women can participate to enhance the chances for both peace and understanding are: To become an educated layman in the modern scientific and technical world."

Miss Carbine — "Each of us everywhere in her daily life is a witness to violence, to hate, to mental illness. We are willing to get involved to help others. We should hesitate to speak and express feelings as leaders in our movement."

In addition to attending the convention, which was the purpose in making the trip, the trio also attended the New World's Fair and made a seeing tour of West Point.

Stockdale teaches swimming classes

John Stockdale announced Saturday that swimming classes will begin Monday morning, June 22, at the local pool. The swimming school will be in progress from June 22 to August 3, and one hour classes for beginners will begin at 11 a.m. A fee of $15 will pay for the swimming lessons as well as the use of the pool. Those interested should contact W. G. Freeland at the local pool as soon as possible. Classes will be limited in number.

Stockdale will teach the beginner classes, but said Saturday he would teach advanced swimming and elementary diving in the morning or afternoon if enough interest was shown.
Those needing more information should contact Freeland at the local pool.

Everybody benefits

when food is fresher... more plentiful

—thanks to America's Rural Electrics

BAILEY COUNTY ELECTRIC CO-OP ASSN.

Rural power is a wellspring of America's food abundance.
Thanks to his consumer-owned rural electric system, America's farmer does his work faster and more efficiently.
Electricity helps him feed and water more cattle and hogs, hatch and care for more chickens, milk more cows. It lights his barns, cools milk and cream, and keeps food fresh and safe. The end result is fresher, healthier food on your table. And it takes less of your family budget than ever before.
Consumer-owned rural electric systems—in most cases cooperatives—help guarantee that America's farmers will be able to meet all of this nation's growing demands for food. These rural electrics were built with the help of Rural Electrification Administration loans—and they are owned and directed by the people they serve.
As farmers use more and more electricity to produce more and better food, REA loans continue to help the rural electrics keep pace with the growing demand—and everybody benefits!

HEY, KIDS!

HERE'S THE CHANCE OF A LIFETIME

...you can

WIN A BICYCLE OR TRANSISTOR RADIO

IN A FEW HOURS' SPARE TIME

By Selling Only 25 New Subscriptions to the Morton Tribune

OFFICIAL RULES

1. To win a bike you must sell 25 new subscriptions to the Morton Tribune for $3.50 each. If you sell a new two-year subscription for $7.00, that counts as two subscriptions. A new three-year subscription counts as three subscriptions. But they must be new subscriptions. However, a two-year renewal from a present subscriber at $7.00 will count as one subscription.
2. You must collect cash or checks. You should turn in all money and receipts each Saturday morning at the Tribune office. This may be done by mail. As receipts are received, you will be given credit for them.
3. Anyone not selling 25 subscriptions by August 1 will be given $1.00 in cash for each subscription sold. All winners of bicycles and radios will have their pictures published in the Morton Tribune.

HURRY! Campaign Begins Friday, June 12 and continues Through August 1.

It's easy! All you do is contact your friends, relatives and neighbors and ask them to subscribe to the Tribune. If they already subscribe, you can get credit by getting them to renew for two years from the day their subscription expires.

They'll want to help you earn one of these bicycles — particularly since they all want to read the Tribune regularly anyway. It's a lot easier than selling magazines because everyone wants to keep up with the hometown news.

Come to the Tribune office Friday morning to see these fine bicycles and radios and to get receipt books and information!
