Athletic Boosters buy new system of communications

Morton Athletic Boosters voted to buy a new communications system for the MHS coaches to use at football games this year, at their regular meeting Monday night at the high school.

The local mentors reported the present telephone system needed to be placed, and the club members passed unanimously on the project.

President Kenneth Thompson presided at the meeting and urged those present to push the sales of memberships. He said that memberships were lagging behind last year, and that push was needed for additional club members.

Thompson also appointed a committee to sell memberships, booster club hats, and noise-makers at the football game against Olton here Friday night. A table will be set up near the concession stand for this purpose.

Head coach J. P. Jones gave a progress report on the 1964 Indian ball club, and also gave a run-down on the Morton scrimmage against Canyon last Tuesday. Jones said that the boys were in good physical and mental condition, and that they seemed ready to play. He also introduced the newest members of the Morton coaching staff, Robert Taylor, to the group.

Next meeting of the booster club will be next Monday night in the high school building, at which time the film of the Morton-Olton game will be shown. All members are urged to be present, and guests are welcome.

St. Phillip's at Pep to dedicate building Sunday

Parishioners of St. Phillip's Catholic Church in Pep will dedicate their newly constructed educational center building this Sunday, September 6. The educational center, located south of the church, is an ultra-modern building that will be used for all parish activities and religious instruction.

Prefabricated steel painted tan is visible on most parts of the building. The front building wall is decorated with a beautiful dark rock siding, the rock containing deposits of volcanic lava taken from the legendary Mt. Capulin, N.M. A ten foot aluminum cross located on top of a tower will be located near the front of the building.

Perhaps the most exciting and modern aspect of the building is its flexibility. The walls are so constructed that if there is need for expansion in the future, the walls can be unfastened from their foundation and simply moved to another concrete foundation where they will again be bolted to the floor.

The building contains 6,700 square feet and is completely equipped with air conditioning and heating system. The main hall is a large room 60 by 62 feet, paneled in mahogany and given special beauty by indirect lighting. Two double doors lead into the main hall and a ten foot entrance from the hall to the kitchen leaves plenty of room for steam table and coffee service.

The kitchen, a 26 by 26 room, contains four ovens and cabinets surrounding the room. The cabinet tops and walls are white formica. In the center of the room there is a table for fixing salads which is well equipped with stainless steel sink. Each piece of the white ceiling can be taken off and washed.

Three large classrooms will be able to accommodate most of the children in the parish. One room can be made into a single large room or two rooms with the aid of a divider which can be pushed back or brought together to form a partition. A third classroom, 18 by 18, is adjacent to the divided room. All classrooms are paneled in mahogany.

A large, spacious foyer leaves room for additional classroom space if there happens to be an overflow of students. Restrooms are on the left as one enters the foyer and there is a drinking fountain on the right. A coat and hat rack flank both sides of the hall.

The building is amply supplied with storage rooms of all types and utility rooms for housing the Lennox air conditioning and heating system. Large closets will be used to store chairs and tables, desks and other equipment.

Father Stanley Crocchiola, who has resided in Pep for more than a year, said the new building also will be used for the annual St. Phillip's Thanksgiving Festival.

Board of Trustees include Clarence Albus, A. H. Jungman, Bill Gerik and Wilfred Rohnfeld.

Bill Owen of Littlefield is the contractor, architect, and builder of the new center.

17-year-olds are fined after driving spree here Friday

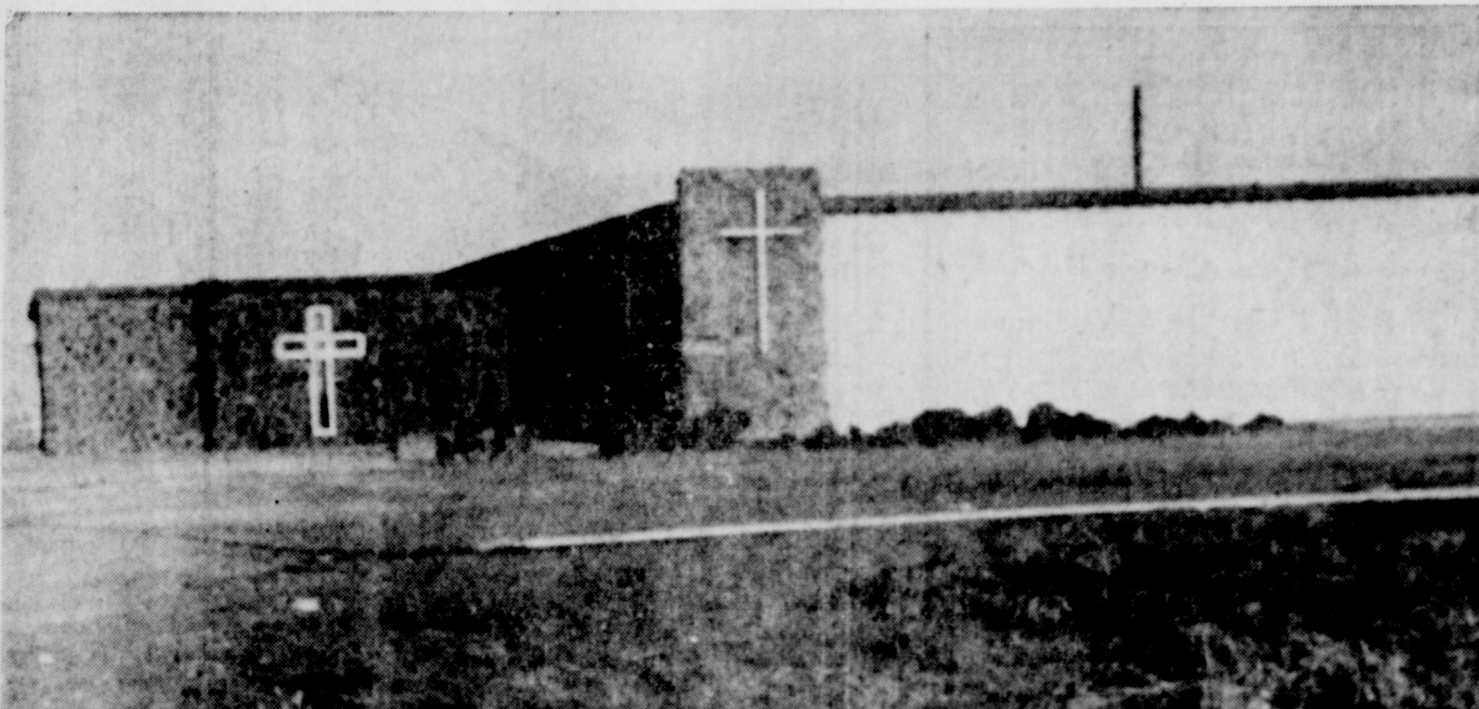

Two 17-year-old Morton youths were fined Friday and later released upon payment of the fines after pleading guilty to charges of destruction of public property and drinking in county and justice of peace courts.

The youths were put under custody Friday by local law enforcement officials, after an early chase in which the boys successfully eluded officers. Each was fined $250 plus costs in county court for destruction of public property, and paid fines of $45 for reckless driving and $25 for drunkenness in justice of peace court.

According to city officials, the two were first sighted about 2:30 Friday morning, when their reckless driving through Morton was noted. Patrolman Burtis Cloud chased the boys as far as County Line Grocery before returning to Morton and calling Deputy Sheriff Chester Miller for aid.

Miller took up the search, and located the youths 5 1/2 miles east of Morton, where he tried to stop them. Miller said the boys crashed their car into his vehicle, damaging the left back fender, then ran into several stop signs and mail boxes along the road. However, they escaped in the night, and Miller returned to Morton.

A few hours later, apparently, the driver of the car took his companion home, then, abandoning his vehicle because of some mechanical defect, near County Line Gin, walked to his home where he had access to another car. He voluntarily turned himself over to law enforcement officials after his companion had been picked up at his home about 5 a.m.

Church to dedicate educational center

DEDICATION of the newly constructed education center of St. Phillip's Catholic Church at Pep has been scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 6, according to Fr. Stanley Crocchiola. The modern structure will be used for parish activities and religious instruction classes, as well as for the annual Thanksgiving Festival held by the church. TRIBUNE Photo

D. McCoy returns from eastern trek

Danny McCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McCoy, recently returned from a United States tour with his uncle from Corpus Christi, Texas. They left Saturday, July 18 and returned August 1. The following are excerpts from a journal kept by 13 year old Danny while on the trip.

"We left from Corpus Christi on Saturday the 18th about 5 a.m. We were going to Alabama first to see relatives. From Corpus to Alabama we went through Louisiana. This state had a lot of green forests as well as pretty green grass. We saw and went through the state capitol at Baton Rouge. By the time we got through Baton Rouge we weren't far from the Mississippi River which divides Mississippi from Louisiana."

After leaving Louisiana Danny, his aunt and his uncle, entered Mississippi and Alabama. They spent the night in Alabama then enjoyed the sights for a short time.

"The next morning we got up and looked around the University of Alabama. We saw their football stadium and took a few pictures." "The next stop for the trio was in Nocaluna Falls, Alabama, where they visited relatives. Sunday, July 19; and Monday, July 20 was spent visiting, playing cards, eating watermelon and just being lazy. Danny visited the tomb of his grandparents two and three generations past while in Alabama. But their stay in Alabama ended Monday, July 20.

"We awoke, got dressed, and ate breakfast about 5:30 a.m. After eating, we loaded our car and started for Washington, D.C." They drove all the way to Madison, North Carolina from Alabama on Tuesday, the 21, then went into Virginia.

"Wednesday 22. We started the next morning for my uncle's house. He lived in Arlington, Virginia. On the way we stopped and looked at a natural bridge which is still used today. It was originally an underground tunnel by a river billions of years ago.

After we finished, we went on toward Charlotte to see Thomas Jefferson's home. We took a tour through this house and found out when and how Thomas Jefferson made it."

After a pleasant visit with his uncle, Danny arrived in Washington, D.C. on Friday, July 24.

"Friday, July 24. The things we saw this day were Lincoln Memorial, reflecting pool, capital building, pentagon, Jefferson Memorial, White House, Mt. Vernon, Hayes point, Washington Monument, Potomac River and the Library of Congress."

The visit to Washington also included Arlington National Cemetery. Then they left Washington and pushed north to discover Pennsylvania where a visit was made to the Gettysburg battlefield and Eisenhower's farm plus a few other sights.

"We drove through the cemetery where we saw the place Lincoln delivered the address." "Next the group traveled to the large metropolitan areas of New Jersey and New York.

"We parked at Port Authority Bus Station, which is the largest bus terminal in the world. There are 3,600 buses in and out of the station each day."

Of course each visitor in New York should not miss the World's Fair. And Danny, knowing this, took off to the fair soon after arriving in the world's largest city. But other sights merited his attention also.

"We took a tour around Manhat-ton's grave, an old church, and Chase Manhattan Bank. We then went to a baseball game and watched the Mets and Dodgers play. The Dodgers won 9-0."

On the way back home the group toured Ohio, West Virginia, Illinois, Indiana and many other states.

Danny was glad to have made the tour but glad also to be back home when he arrived in Morton August 1.

GREAT DAY COMING FOR CHEVROLET SEPTEMBER 24

Allsup-Reynolds Chevrolet Co.

Partial closing noted here for Labor Day Monday

Scheduled to be closed next Monday, Sept. 7, in observance of the Labor Day holiday, are the court house, post office, and government offices located in the County Activities Building.

Murray Crone, postmaster, said that while the post office will officially be closed, and no home or business mail delivery made, mail will be dispatched and incoming mail placed in boxes. He said at least one staff member would be on duty until early afternoon, but that stamp windows would be closed throughout the day.

Local firms, stores and offices will generally be open Monday, it was learned.

Raiders schedule practice sessions

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's Red Raiders stage two widely diversified practice sessions to wind up their first week of football training Saturday.

In the morning they'll perform for writers and photographers making the official Southwest Conference press tour. Later in the day they are scheduled for their most strenuous workout since practice started four days earlier.

Coach J. T. King, basing his hopes on more experienced depth than in previous years, is expecting a stronger team than the one that posted a 5-5 season mark in 1963.

It will have to be stronger, because the Raiders' schedule is sturdier, including four bowl teams. Two of these — Mississippi State (Liberty Bowl winner) and University of Texas (Cotton Bowl champion) — lead off the Raiders' home slate, Sept. 19 and 26, respectively.

Gene Little, crop duster, has returned to Morton after several days visit at his home in Ruidoso. Terry Hans is visiting in Gonzales before returning to school.

Report from County Agent

By Homer Thompson
County Agriculture Agent

Boll worms
This cotton insect can creep up on you fast. Some farmers have sprayed for control several times this year in Cochran County. The point to remember about boll worms is that effective control must begin when the worm is not over three days old. After this period chemical control is of little use.

First, determine if the insects are numerous enough to justify a control program — 10 to 15 boll worms to a hundred cotton plants is considered to be numerous. Less than that number may not justify a chemical control job. The disadvantages of chemical control are a factor — as killing beneficial insects and permitting a build-up of the boll worm. If a build up of young bollworms are present, then the use of methal parathion added to any other recommended chemical for control given in the guide will be more effective, advises County Agent Homer E. Thompson. The cotton insect control guide is available at your County Extension Office.

Cotton trailers
Cotton trailers, properly designed and in good condition, can make several extra dollars per bale for Cochran County cotton farmers.

County Agricultural Agent Homer E. Thompson offers the following suggestions as a guide for getting trailers ready for harvest season:

Stripper trailers should be large enough to hold a minimum of two bales. A bale of stripped cotton will require approximately 450 cubic feet of trailer space for proper handling. There should be no loose nails, scrap metal, rocks or other trash in the trailer which may be picked up by the gin suction.

Progress reports heard at County PBC meeting

Reports of sub-committees highlighted the Monday meeting of the Cochran County Program Building committee held in the Golden Arrow room of the Wig Wam Restaurant.

The session convened at 7:30 p. m. for dinner, followed by discussion.

Ralph Bart, chairman, presided at the meeting, and called for reports from each sub-committee to bring the group up-to-date on activities.

Don Workman, of the family life committee, announced that his group had been working on recreation facilities in the county and on improved housing. Efforts have been made to improve county property — park and County Activity Building — by landscaping and general clean-up. Plans are being made, he said, to also clean up and landscape the rodeo grounds and other areas at the park. The PBC commended the sub-committee for their work on the activity building, and their cooperation with townspeople, 4-H Club members and SCS.

J. L. Schooler, livestock sub-committee chairman, reported on plans for chemical control of broome snake weed and shin oak which has been planned the past two years. The areas for control have been selected and staked off, he said. Dry weather and insect damage on shin oak have prevented the application of chemicals during this period. Doug Robison, Range Specialist, with the Spur Experiment Station is supervising this work in cooperation with ranchers and local officials. Schooler also reported on the status of drouth preventing the seeding of grasses on range land, and reaffirmed the practices to be carried out in 1965, if favorable conditions occur. He also reported on the brucellosis work needed to be done before March 1, 1965 for Cochran County to be recertified. Thirty-five herds will need to be re-tested for the county to be recertified.

Johnny Johnson, gave a report on the activities of the Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee.

Roy Hickman, member of the Soil and Water Conservation Committee, reported that the Texas Water Commission is conducting a hearing this Thursday at the County Activities Building here at 9:00 a.m. The purpose of the hearing is to determine whether or not to expand the boundaries to include new areas of the county in the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District. The work to get this district boundary line delineated began many months ago by the land owners in Cochran County.

Ronald Coleman, chairman of Crops sub-committee gave a report on the plans of work and demonstration practices which were initiated in 1963. Many of the plans, as cotton seedling disease control, chemical weed control and fertilizer demonstrations were not carried out due to drouth, hail and labor shortage in 1964 but will be continued in 1965, he said. Cotton root knot nematode control demonstrations were carried out on two farms — Earl Polvado and Noel Crow, and results look very good to date. Fumazone applied to ditch water irrigation looks extra good the second year after the chemical was applied in 1963 on the Polvado farm. The chemical was applied mechanically on about a 100 acre plot, and it too, looks good. The Experiment Station personnel have assisted in this work and make checks on the nematode counts in the soil on these areas periodically. On Noel Crow's farm two chemicals have been applied on cotton land with sprinkler irrigation. The chemicals were applied in the irrigation pipe system. These were penphene at the rate of 1½ gallons per acre and Nelite, 2 pounds per acre, and both look promising.

Bill Wood, president of the Cochran County Farm Bureau and Frontier Labor Association gave a report on the bracero labor situation. "Many farmers," he said, "are crying for help to move irrigation pipe now. The situation is most critical." He mentioned that all bracero labor will be discontinued December 31, 1964, if the law is not repealed. Mr. Wood suggested that each farmer should write his personal feelings in a letter to his national officials in Washington concerning the Bracero labor problem.

The revised amendment to the county written program was discussed at the meeting by the Chairman Ralph Bart and the two Extension Agents, Jennie Allen and Homer Thompson.

The Program Building Committee set up regular meeting dates quarterly the next meeting to be October 19. Present at the session in addition to Chairman Bart were: J. L. Schooler, livestock sub-committee man; Don Workman, family life sub-committee chairman; Johnny Johnson, Chamber of Commerce; E. C. Hale, farmer and 4-H club leader; Gene Cade, farmer and 4-H organization leader; Roy Hickman, member Water and Soil Conservation committee; Ronald Coleman, crops sub-committee chairman; Bill Wood, Farm Bureau president and Labor Association president; Marvin Elliott, chairman Technical Action Panel; Ruth McGee, and Cullen Dasby, TAP; Homer Thompson, county agricultural agent and Jennie Allen, county home demonstration agent.

Job results in better understanding for staffer

By JEFF TOWNSEND
For a long time after moving to Morton I considered our city a changeless little farming hamlet with a very misleading title. Morton was supposed to be "Texas' Last Frontier," but somehow the glamorous aspect of frontier life was absent.

Nevertheless, I liked Morton and took for granted all that I received from the community like a child takes happiness for granted.

Finally, after graduating from Morton High School in 1963 and completing a year of college, I gained a new insight into the worth of our community through working at the Morton Tribune. For three months I've been in summer school. I've learned a little about how a newspaper operates and lot about how our citizens work individually and work together to make Morton the center of the community's activities.

Mortonia is a busy little farming hamlet that is continually changing. Located in the center of a wealthy agricultural district, it understands modern, progressive farming. But, located in this area, its citizens may sometimes find it difficult to understand other ways of life in other parts of the country.

The stranger might think Morton a little parochial or in some cases even provincial. It may be true, but because I am a part of the community, I find it difficult to view such problems objectively. In my opinion, the community's virtues and advantages overshadow its disadvantages and vices.

Called meeting of KiWaKi CFC

A called meeting by Patsy Collins, president of KiWaKi Camp Fire Girls was held Thursday afternoon in the home of the secretary, Karen Rozell.

Purpose of the meeting was to discuss and make plans for an overnight camp-out which is a requisite of eighth grade Camp Fire Girls.

Mrs. W. G. Freeland, experienced in CFC leadership, met with the group and offered the farm of her sister, Mrs. Woodrow Cunningham, for the camp-out.

In the discussion it was pointed out that most of the girls had camped in mountains and forests but had never camped on a farm.

-BEARINGS-

One thing the stranger could not deny is that here exists a friendly, independent, American farming community that is never satisfied with its accomplishments.

I want to salute the Morton community for the education it has given me and express my thanks to so many Morton citizens who have helped me during the last seven years.

This summer, working on the Tribune I have received a better understanding of Morton and her citizens.

Gene Snyder has been a wonderful person to work with. I've enjoyed working on feature stories with Ann England, Arvin Stafford and Jimmy Collins are great people to know and Darlene Williams and Jane Luper have been fun to work with. Meeting James Anderson from Tech was a valuable experience also.

It's been wonderful to work with people I know and I've enjoyed meeting new people in Morton. Blodson, Whiteface, Bala and Pop. Morton is a fine community and I am proud to call it my home town.

Former Morton couple wed in August rites

Double ring wedding rites were read by the Rev. D. M. Newton, Baptist minister of Amarillo, the afternoon of August 21 for Mary Ann Smith and Kirby B. Lackey. The pastor's home provided the setting for the wedding.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Hughes Smith and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lackey.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Cooper, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom, attended the couple.

The bride wore a dusty pink shift with white accessories. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white gardenias.

The couple and her small daughter, Shannon, will be at home in Pampa.

The bride is a graduate of Whiteface High School and Texas Technological College. Her husband graduated from Morton High School and McMurry College. He is claims investigator for State Farm Insurance Company. Both are former teachers in the Morton school system.

James McClure elected head of Band Boosters

James McClure succeeded Gene Cade as president of Band Boosters at a meeting Tuesday night in the school cafeteria.

Officers elected to serve with McClure are Mrs. Joe Seagler, vice president; Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter, treasurer; Mrs. W. G. Freeland, secretary and Mrs. Raby Kellogg, reporter.

Committee chairmen appointed: Melvin McCoy, Murray Crone and Doyle K. Brook, finance; Harold Drennan, collection booth; Ray Griffith, band calendar; Simon Marina, sales promotion; Mrs. Lloyd Miller, food; Woodie Combs, beverage; John Haggard, snow cone machine; Tom Rowden, hot drinks and Maurice Lewallen chairman of concession help.

Approximately 150 parents and students attended the meeting and heard John Stockdale, band director, outline requirements for band members for the school year.

No holiday

Supt. Ray Lanier reminded students of the Morton schools, and their parents, that next Monday, which is Labor Day, will be a full day of school.

The school administrator explained that Labor Day was not included as a holiday this year, due to the fact that school will have been in session only one week prior. Ordinarily, the local schools do not open until after Labor Day, but this year the day fell almost a week later than usual, and it was necessary to open school Aug. 31 in order to include the required number of school days in the 1964-65 term.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Danford and son, Hap Rogers of Carlsbad, will visit here this weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Rogers and help Hap get moved into a dormitory at South Plains Junior College. Hap stayed here with his grandparents this summer while attending SPJC. Mrs. Danforth is a teacher in the Carlsbad system. Both she and her husband are former Morton teachers. Danforth is associated with a school insurance program in Carlsbad.

Water district hearing to be held here today

Land owners in Cochran and Hockley counties are urged to attend a hearing today (Thursday) conducted by the Texas Water Commission to discuss possible alteration of boundaries of the High Plains Underground Water District No. 1.

According to W. M. Butler, secretary for the Cochran county board, the hearing is scheduled for 9 a.m. in the County Activities Building. A representative from the water district is expected to be present.

The District, it is understood, plans to present data requesting some of the dry land areas in Lamb, Bailey and Deaf Smith Counties be dropped from the District. Data for some areas in Deaf Smith, Bailey and Cochran counties will be presented for consideration to be included in the delineation of the district. Persons wishing to testify will be heard.

If the Water Commission accepts the recommendations for alterations of boundaries, the dry land will be taken from the District and dropped from the tax rolls, as far as the District is concerned, stated Tom McFarland, general manager, Lubbock.

Should the land requested to be included be accepted, then owners of this land would have to petition the Water District for an election and vote before they would become a part of the District, McFarland explained.

Boundaries of the Water District No. 1 have remained unchanged since the District was first established in the early 1930's.

Gas pressure causes explosion, damage to meters

Two gas meters a half mile east and a half mile north of Morton exploded Sunday night resulting in a $2,500 loss of property and a good deal of excitement.

The two gas meters were large devices used to measure the gas that the Great Plains Natural Gas Company sells to the City of Morton. They are the property of Great Plains Natural Gas Company Inc. and have been in service since December 1960.

According to Great Plains manager Van Greene the explosion took place when some of the automatic equipment failed to work. First the regulator at Pettit failed to close properly. Then, the Morton regulators that were receiving gas from the Pettit station, failed to seal properly. When 463 pounds of line pressure hit the meter it exploded.

The two gas meters were completely destroyed. Greene said the two meters should be back in operation by Sept. 15.

He was trained in submarine equipment, operations and submarine shipboard routine.

After approximately seven months aboard a submarine and demonstrating his abilities, he will be designated a qualified submariner.

KiWaKi girls have overnight camp-out

A group of KiWaKi Camp Fire Girls met Friday afternoon at the home of Karen Rozell for transportation to the Woodrow Cunningham farm for an overnight camp-out. Transportation was furnished by Mrs. W. G. Freeland, Mrs. Daniel Rozell, Mrs. Elzie Browne and Billy Bob Freeland.

Upon arrival at the camp ground, which was in an area shaded by trees (providing a feeling of make believe forest), first duty of the group was to gather firewood.

Instruction in safe methods of fire building was given by Mrs. Freeland and Cunningham.

Preparation of a "Meal in Foil" was explained by Janella Nebhut and Carol Freeland, 4-H club members. After the fire was built hamburger steaks, potatoes, carrots and onions were foil bound and put to cook. Apples garnished with brown sugar and marshmallows were baked in a Dutch oven buried in the coals.

Traditional Camp Fire songs were sung around the camp fire by the group as they awaited supper.

Beverly Browne was accredited champion "Fire Tender" as she stayed awake all night. Sue Srygley was a close second.

A good fire was ready for a breakfast of bacon, eggs and toast, supplemented by jelly and orange juice.

During the night the girls had the added protection of two of the farm dogs.

After breakfast Cunningham took the girls on a tour of the "Milk Factory" where much to the surprise of the cow they assisted their host in milking.

In addition to the camp fire the girls built a "lean-to" in a secluded area for bathroom purposes. They also built shelves in the trees to hold supplies.

Baths were taken by means of showers from buckets of water heated on the camp fire. Tooth brushes were made from tree twigs.

Following a lunch of potatoes, ham, pork and beans the girls were surprised with a trip to Young's Rock Shop near Bledsoe, where they were given a guided tour of the shop and demonstration of polishing and cutting the various stones, also how jewelry is made from the stones.

Members of KiWaKi participating in the camp-out were: Patsy Collins, Karen Rozell, Beverly Browne, Janella Nebhut, Karen Holloman, Sharon Irwin, Carol Freeland, Melba Townsend, Sue Srygley and Karen Fred. Jeannie McMinn joined the group Saturday morning.

Special guests for supper were Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Cunningham, and children, Daniel Rozell and Johnny. Group counselors staying the night with the Camp Fire Girls were Mrs. Rozell and Mrs. Freeland. Counselors and CFGS expressed appreciation to the host couple for helping provide another page of memories for the Camp Fire Girls scrapbook.

Football

Donnie Dewbre, a senior at 221 lbs., the only 200-pounder on the squad, and either Irwin Cooper, 184, a senior or Larry Smith, a 168-lb. sophomore.

The guard slots will be filled by a couple of light-weights, Ronald Smart, 154, senior, and Mike Irwin, a junior at 147. Jerry Elliott, a 188-lb. junior will be at the pivot post.

Charles Ledbetter will be at quarterback for the Indians, a senior weighing 154. Halfbacks will be Kenny Palmer, a 168-lb. junior, and Jimmy Joyce, another junior, weighing 145. Bobby Dobson, a 185-pounder, and a senior, will be at fullback.

Sherrill Griffith, who tips the scales at 198, will undoubtedly move into a starting position as the season progresses. It was doubtful whether or not he would be able to play this year, but he received the doctor's OK this week, and rejoined the squad for workouts immediately.

Morton's strongest offensive weapon this year will probably be their running game, although the Indians should have a better than average passing attack. They should be able to throw the ball enough to keep the defense honest. Ball control will undoubtedly be a strong factor in the Morton offense.

The Indian squad appears to be in good shape physically, and their mental outlook and attitude seems to be better than in the past several years. They have been hustling real good in their workouts and act as if they are ready to play ball. In the scrimmage with Canyon last week, the Morton boys hit harder and pursued better than in the past several seasons, and that has been one of their weaknesses in previous years.

Olton, under the tutelage of Walter "JoJo" Bryan, walloped the socks off Frenship in a scrimmage game last week. They scored almost at will and their defense kept the Tigers from posing much of a threat. Thirteen lettermen and seven starters return to the Mustangs from the 1963 team which posted a 7-3 record.

An entirely experience backfield returns for the Mustangs, but a sophomore speed merchant has pushed one of the returnees out of a starting slot. Joe Priest, a junior, runs the team from quarterback, while Richard Hall, a senior, and Dale DeBerry, a sophomore, man the halfback positions, and Joe Costello, a senior, runs out of fullback.

Starting Friday in Olton's forward wall will be Darrell Glover, 165, senior, and Charles Church, 155, junior, at ends; Don Mitchell 195, junior, and Don Sophor, 180, senior, at tackles; Dennis Givens, 190, senior, and Leon Kendall, 185, senior, at guards; and Dwight Clark, 160, senior, at center. Kendall is reported to be one of the finest linemen on the South Plains this year, and is already being boomed for all-state honors.

A victory over the Mustangs would mean two things to the Morton team. First, they would avenge the 26-8 loss handed them by Olton last fall, and second, it would serve notice to the rest of the teams on their schedule that they are to be reckoned with this year. Also, a win in the game Friday night might give the Indians the confidence they need to come through with a really fine season.

Reserved seat tickets for the season are on sale at the superintendent's office at the school, and for the first time this year, season tickets are also available.

The turf on Indian field is in excellent shape after having been reseeded this summer, and additional lighting installed recently will make an immense improvement at the stadium.

A capacity crowd is expected for the season's opener, as enthusiasm in both towns is growing each day. It is suggested that those who do not have reserved seats plan to be at the stadium early.

plained the delay as being caused by equipment necessary for the installation not having arrived. He wrote that the cable has been laid and General Telephone Company of the Southwest is ready with their part of the agreement.

Weatherly also announced the arrival of the new $10,000 street sweeper, which was recently purchased by the city.

Johnny Johnson, manager of the chamber, introduced Judy Autry, the new secretary of the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Jennie Allen, Cochran County Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Carl England, representing Mrs. Earl Polvado, and John Haggard were guests.

Nothing spectacular, nothing phenomenal, but a good steady substantial progress is noted in Morton with a release of figures this week by the City Hall showing the number of permits for new business buildings, houses, remodeling and additions in the past 19 months.

While no large increase in population has occurred in Morton within the last year or so the town both business wise and in residential property has shown a marked improvement.

Permits for building or additions issued by the city since January 1, 1963 total $1,323,289. Probably the largest amount ever issued in a like period.

Largest single item on the list was $60,000 permit issued for Luper Courts. This permit was issued for remodeling a portion of the old structure and addition of new wings. Due to a conflict in securing right of way construction of the courts has been delayed. Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Luper applied for the original permit but in interim have changed plans and now hopes to build a completely new and modern hostelry, which will cost considerably more than would the original plan for remodeling.

Foundation for the new home of Fralin's Pharmacy was begun August 27. The apothecary shop several years in the planning will be located in the 200 block on South Main Street, across from the present location. No estimated time for completion of this building has been given.

Exclusive of new school buildings in amount of $311,419; remodeling of existing buildings, $42,190, and repairs to football field, $5,500, next largest permits were to Roberts Memorial Nursing Home, Lubbock Production Credit, Fralin's Pharmacy, Humble Station, Cochran Electric, Jack Perry Seed Co., Enos Welding, Farm Bureau, Baptist Mission, Singleton Funeral Home, General Telephone Company of the Southwest and Farmer's Service and Supply.

Remodeling has been done and additions made by Denez Beauty Shop, Markham Business Building, Methodist Parsonage, Doss Thriftway and McCoy Ford Sales.

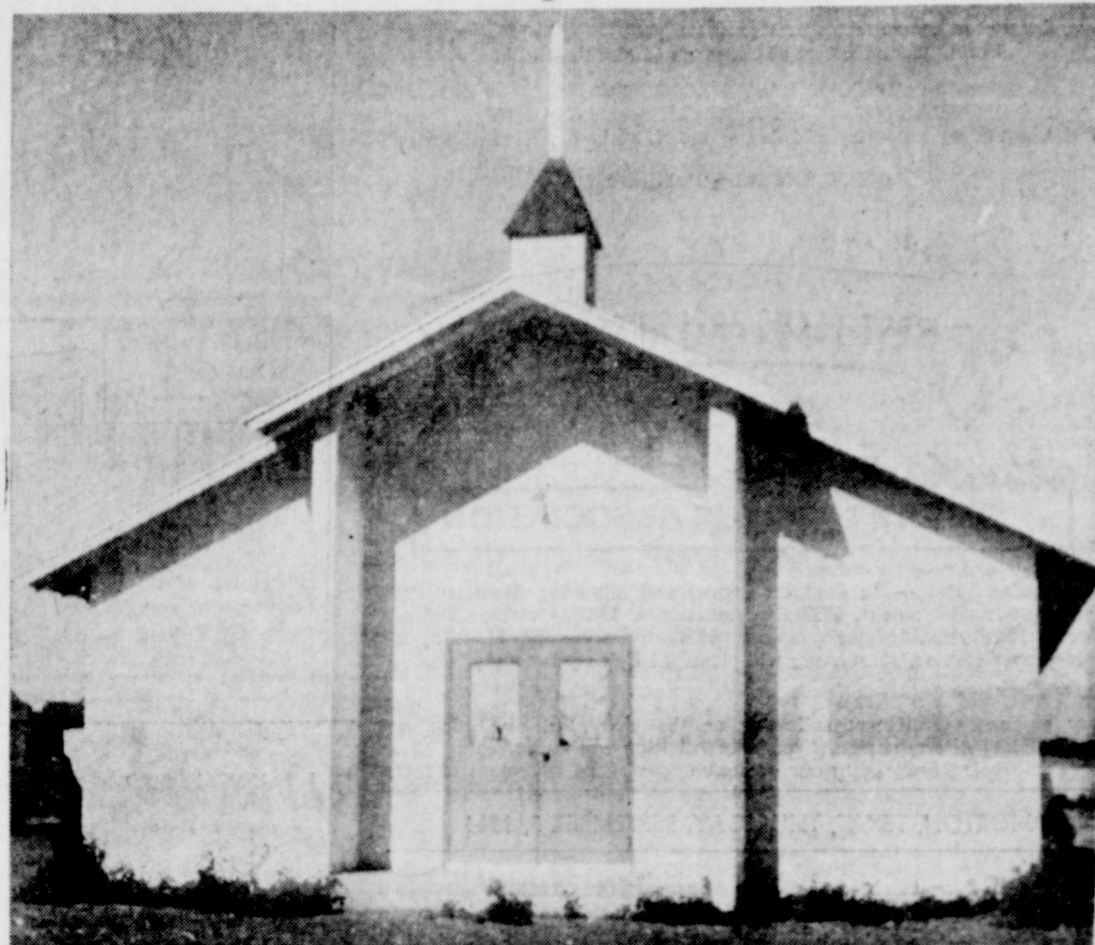

There have been 73 new houses built in Morton in this period ranging from $35,000 downward.

Permits for remodeling existing houses and making additions were issued to 44 owners.

None of the above figures apply to business buildings or residences built outside the city limits of Morton. Considerable construction has been done in the way of business structures immediately outside the city limits, one in point is the new home of Loran-Tatham east of town and just outside the city limits of Morton. Constructed in early 1964.

Most of the residential property is of brick construction and in nearly every instance has been built as a home.

Business buildings likewise are of solid long lasting construction indicating the owner's faith in the solidarity of Morton and its trade area.

Mrs. Rozell in appeal for Blue Bird leaders

Mrs. Daniel N. Rozell, president of Camp Fire Leaders Association has issued an urgent appeal for leaders of fourth grade Blue Birds.

In making the appeal Mrs. Rozell said, "To mothers of fourth grade Blue Birds, your Blue Bird daughter will be eligible to 'Fly-up' to Camp Fire Girls this year at the annual Camp Fire Ceremonial, usually in December.

"Unless at least two mothers of little girls in this group will step forward and volunteer to lead, this group will be forced to disband for lack of leadership.

"We, the Camp Fire Leader Association, believe the Camp Fire Girls organization has a well rounded program for girls. We strive to guide them toward better womanhood, which is the basic fundamental of Camp Fire, join them in fun and fellowship and enjoyment of God's beautiful world.

Camp Fire leader receives no pay as far as money is concerned, the work is time and energy consuming, but what better place can a mother use her time and energy than in helping guide her daughter and her friend's daughter toward 'Better Womanhood'.

"Please help us to secure leaders for this group as they are so anxious to stay organized and are at this time so full of enthusiasm." A meeting of Camp Fire Leader Association will be held Monday at 4 p.m. September 7 in the home of Mrs. Rozell, 608 West Garfield Avenue. Mothers of fourth grade girls are sincerely asked to meet with the leaders and help with this very worth while program of training for the younger girls.

News from HD agent

By JENNIE ALLEN, CHDA
Blanching Necessary

A few homemakers recently told me that they are freezing vegetables without blanching. This is not a good idea. Blanching is an important step in freezing practically every vegetable. If the vegetables are not heated before freezing, the enzymes which have helped the vegetables to grow and mature will continue to be active. The vegetables may develop off-flavors, discolor, or toughen so that they are soon unappetizing. I have books on freezing with correct blanching times for each vegetable. Come by and get a copy.

Perk up vegetables
Don't serve your family the same cooked green vegetables day after day. Serve an occasional not-so-familiar green. And try these seasonings to transform your family's regular favorites into something special.

With snap beans or summer squash, cook a tablespoon or two of minced onion, green pepper, or parsley. Cook a few mint leaves with peas. Put a small pinch of herb or spice in the water when you cook lima beans. A little vinegar and sugar heated together make a good dressing for snap beans or cabbage, with or without a few tablespoons of cream.

Point up the flavor of any green vegetable with meat drippings, butter, or salad oil with lemon juice, horseradish, or garlic. Or add bits of crisply fried bacon, especially to spinach or other greens.

Cotton takes over
Cotton is very important to our way of life here on the South Plains. Thousands of years before Christ, in different parts of the world, various kinds of thread were brought to perfection for weaving cloth, sewing it together and decorating it; linen in Egypt, wool in Mesopotamia, silk in China, cotton in India. These first three passed early into European civilization, but the fine cotton of India did not really become known in the Western hemisphere until the 15th century.

In Europe during the middle ages cotton was an almost legendary fiber from the hidden East, grown, it was believed, on a tree that bore tiny lambs at the ends of its branches. The few exquisite cotton fabrics which found their way from India were prized. Cotton greeted Columbus when he arrived in the New World. Natives coming out to meet him carried balls of cotton thread as offerings.

Spanish explorers found cotton fabric in what is now the Southwestern part of the United States.

As a result of England's control of the Indian trade after her defeat of the Spanish Armada in 1588, printed fabrics from India, known chintzes, became the rage in England and France. Weavers tried to imitate the imported fabrics by weaving cotton with linen. Even for this limited use, the world supply of cotton was never sufficient until, in 1794, the invention of the cotton gin by Eli Whitney made possible ever-increasing exports from the United States.

Baked dirt
If you're going to pot a plant or two, it's all right to use some of the soil in your back yard. But, according to horticulturists you shouldn't use it "as is." It needs to be purified to make it as disease free as possible.

Put the soil in a shallow pan and bake it in your oven at 180 degrees to 240 degrees for 45 to 60 minutes. This will pasteurize it. Now, mix the soil with one-third sand — also pasteurized in your oven — and pasteurized peat moss. You'll be able to grow almost any house plant in this mixture.

Does history repeat itself?

Both President Lincoln and Kennedy were concerned with the issue of Civil Rights. Lincoln was elected in 1860; Kennedy in 1960. Both were slain on a Friday and in the presence of their wives. Both were shot from behind and in the head. Their successors, both named Johnson, were southern Democrats, and both were in the Senate. Andrew Johnson was born in 1808 and Lyndon Johnson in 1908. John Wilkes Booth was born in 1839; Lee Harvey Oswald was born in 1939. Both Booth and Oswald were murdered before trial could be arranged.

Booth and Oswald were southerners favoring unpopular ideas. Both Presidents' wives lost children through death while in the White House. Lincoln's secretary, Kennedy by name, advised him not to go to the theater. Kennedy's secretary, whose name was Lincoln, advised him not to go to Dallas. John Wilkes Booth shot Lincoln in a theater and ran to a warehouse. Oswald shot Kennedy from a warehouse and ran to a theater. The names Lincoln and Kennedy each contain seven letters. The names Andrew Johnson and Lyndon Johnson, each contain thirteen letters. The names John Wilkes Booth and Lee Harvey Oswald, each contain fifteen letters. Does history repeat itself? Andrew Johnson was not re-elected. Lyndon Johnson?????

Don't blame the automobile!

The Public Health Service reports that for the first four months of 1964 the automobile accident death rate was 13 per cent higher than for the same period in 1963.

The marvel is that the death rate isn't higher than that when you see the total lack of courtesy and respect for others shown by drivers on public highways. Too many of them think (or don't think) as they sit behind the wheel of a car with a 200 to 350 horsepower engine that they own the road. They pay no attention to speed laws, they ignore the simplest driving rules, and they seem to think that it will always be the other fellow who will be hurt, instead of themselves, when they cause accidents.

You read in the newspapers of one-car accidents. The polite phrase is used, "the car went out of control." That really means the driver couldn't handle his racing machine at the speed he was driving when a curve, a tree or a power pole failed to get out of his way.

The better the highway the greater the danger, because most drivers are totally incompetent to handle their cars at the speeds they can go in violation of speed limits.

Until respect for others improves, automobile killings will continue to mount.

Railroads — and public — suffer

"Justice delayed is justice denied."

That old true, aphorism is commonly applied to cases at law where litigants and defendants may have to wait for years before decisions in their cases are reached. In some instances they may be incarcerated in jail during all this time despite the principle that every man is presumed innocent until he is found guilty.

But it may also be applied to other matters and problems and with full accuracy.

Take, for example, the proposed bill embodying long-needed changes in government policy as it affects the railroads. The purpose is to relieve them of some degree of regulation and thus make it possible for them to more effectively compete for business and to offer the users of transportation service more attractive terms.

This step has been advocated by a lengthy list of top-level study groups which have pointed out that existing regulations are in large part based on concepts and conditions that no longer have validity. They have been made obsolete by the growth of competing carriers which generally, are favored by law even as the railroads are penalized. The nation is thus deprived of improvements and economies in service that the railroads could otherwise offer. And the railroads are deprived of revenues and shipments they sorely need if they are to make their maximum contribution to the American economy in all of its many ramifications.

Yet this legislation, which has been given near-unanimous approval by the press of the nation as well as by most authorities in the field, has got nowhere. The interminable delays continue—and the national loss continues to grow. Yes—justice delayed is justice denied.

IT NEVER FAILS

VIEWS . . . of other editors

In the spring of 1964 most Americans sat back and rubbed their hands. Russia and China were openly feuding and we could smile and say, "Have at it, boys!" Somewhere along the line, however, we have been switched for Russia and now the bystander is in the big middle.

The first inkling as to our involvement came with the torpedo boat attack off Vietnam. Reports carried to the public the massing of Red Chinese troops in North Vietnam. Next to be aired was the Chinese activity in South Africa. The unrest in the Congo is Red Chinese inspired and we are taking up the defensive there.

Sparks are kindling small fires in Korea and we read of our men being ambushed. Even the unrest in North Korea is Peking inspired. Then come reports from Laos of communist activity which again gets its support from China. Reports have it that Castro is tottering but again we hear of Red Chinese militant counsel.

And finally there is Formosa. Here for years our aid has preserved the Nationalist government and now we are learning of the vital need to keep this island and Quemoy and Matsu. These two islands (which perhaps helped elect President John F. Kennedy) today are proving Richard Nixon right in his statements as to their value.

From the skirmishes and pocket wars, America has awakened to see that our enemy is no longer the Russian Bear, but the Chinese Dragon. After years of watching the Russian, of learning to fear and hate this menace, it is hard to focus on another part of the world overnight. Can we turn our back on the fat man from Russia and concentrate our ground troops, paratroops, jungle fighters, mobile tank units, and naval air and sea power on this new menace?

Red China is working on the unstable nations, not only in the Orient, but in all of Asia, Africa and South America. They have moved with the stealth of a snake and now through surprise have turned the world into a series of brush fires. The squabble between Russia and China had to do with the handling of the rest of the world. China claimed Russia was soft. Thus we can see what lies ahead for us, with China having taken over the reins of the Communist party. They must be stopped now or World War III will be in the making.

It won't be long now until the school bells — figuratively, if not always literally — ring again. And millions of youngsters, some eagerly, some with lagging feet, will resume their educations after summers which we hope were filled with events and adventures that will be long remembered.

In recent years, there has been a vast literature on the subject of American education. It has been compared, favorably and unfavorably, with that of other nations, notably England and Russia. Each of these differing systems, it seems, has its own particular goals and principles, and each has its advantages and disadvantages. But, here at home, there is a strong and growing feeling that American education in all its levels too often leaves out an essential. That essential is the inculcation of a real knowledge of what free and representative government stands for and requires of its citizens and, with that, a realization of what this means in every facet of life — business, the professions, the arts and crafts.

Our young people are growing up in a world torn with bitterly opposed ideologies. In this, the battle for men's minds is all important. Its outcomes will determine what the world of tomorrow is to be. Let those young people be armed with all the facts available.

All indications point to the probability that Mr. Hoffa, the long-time teamster boss, is on his way out. Needless to say, this will be one of the most important developments in our nation's history.

Unions were established back down the line, because many of the working people were being exploited, and they served a good purpose. As time marched on, the unions grew and became so powerful that many Americans began wondering if the "worm didn't turn too far." When the unions became infiltrated with csars and began adopting gangster tactics, it became evident to the rank and file that many of the organizations were being misused to the point of endangering our economy and our nation.

Today, labor unions are so strong and so mighty that they probably possess more power than any other segment of our political economy. If they clean house, such as the case of Mr. Hoffa, and shift to American standards of respectability, they will likely continue to play in this mighty role. Without some sort of house cleaning, it has been more and more evident that they would follow a downward path. Already, the "public image" of labor unions has suffered extensive loss along this line.

When labor and manager roll up their sleeves and go to work on a basis of general national achievement, we will have taken a big step in the direction of keeping America out front. This same spirit, after all, made our country great — and we hope it will continue along the same lines, once some of the undesirable have been weeded out.

One of the most important changes in the high school curriculum this fall will be the introduction of the Distributive Education program here in which junior and senior students enrolled take on-the-job training in local stores in the afternoons instead of attending classes.

They will be paid by the hour, too, by the merchants.

Considerable has been written in The Dispatch in the last few months about the program, but such a procedure is still an "eye opener" to parents not accustomed to any radical departure from how they were taught the "three R's" way back when — when they were in high school.

Actually, the program is not new. It was set up a good number of years ago in Texas and has been working well since in those schools where the merchants and administration cooperate closely together in the supervision of the course.

It's simply a vocational course in retailing and the service business that goes beyond the classroom into practical, every-day experience on the job.

Proper credits are given toward high school graduation, and credits are such that the student can go to college as well if he or she desires.

To kick off Distributive Education here, a minimum of 20 students must sign up for the course and some 20 local businesses also must sign up for the program.

Dale Schmidt, who taught junior high math here last year, will be the distributive education instructor. He is now at work with business men and explaining the program to them. He already has 12 students signed up for the first year, but more are needed if the program is to be initiated.

It's a program which will prepare students for useful jobs in retailing and service businesses and can help keep Post students in Post after graduation, or help them to earn their way up through college.

Behind it, if D.E. is successful, can come an industrial education program to train students in various industrial occupations. Part of the new emphasis in education these days is to give the student more training to step out into the world and earn his way. For those who terminate their education here in high school, Distributive Education can be of immense value. It's worth an all-out try down town and we think the schools will have no difficulty in securing merchant cooperation in the undertaking.

Post Dispatch

Back in 1935 when dust storms were rolling across the plains and it was really dry, William Allen White, the almost-legendary editor of the Kansas' famed Emporia Gazette, published a prayer for rain which has become a classic. William Allen White was obviously a man who was on easy speaking terms with his God, and when he asked for rain, he did so in the most glowing and graphic language which his versatile pen could command. We pass his prayer on here for the benefit of some of you who might like to include Bill White's impassioned plea in your own prayers one of these days.

O Lord, in Thy mercy grant us rain and by that we don't mean a shower. We want to go out and watch the lightning rip across the southwestern sky in hot blue forks as the fat clouds roll in on us. We want to hurry home to close the house with the first fat drops the size of marbles, on a suddenly rising wind, chasing us and plunking on the car hood. We want to scramble all over the house just as the first sheets descend, frantically slamming down the windows.

O Lord of Hosts, we want to look out of the windows and watch the regiments of close-packed raindrops march diagonally down. We want to hear the gurgle of the gutters under the eaves, and then the sputter of the down spout.

God of Israel, Isaac and Jacob, let it come down so hard that the streets and sidewalks seem covered for a while, then begin to taper off, and then turn right round and get a lot worse, swishing, pounding, splattering, pouting, drenching, the thunder coming — Crakity — BAM — and the lightning flashing so fast and furious so that all the women will get scared and climb on top of the beds and scream at you not to get too close to that window.

And then, O jealous God, repeat the whole act about three times, and in the middle of the second time we will climb the attic stairs and put the wash pan under that tiny leak in the roof which usually you can't even notice in an ordinary rain, and after a couple of hours kind of taper it down, O Lord, to a good steady rain — not a drizzle, but a businesslike one that keeps up until just about dawn and then spits a few drops occasionally during the morning from a gray sky.

Kansas is indeed the Promised Land, O Lord, and if it gets a break it will flow with milk and money. But we can't live much longer on promises. So in Thine own way and in Thine own time, make up Thy mind O Lord and we will bow before Thy judgement, and praise Thine everlasting name.

Highlights and Sidelights

LBJ's visit creates interest

AUSTIN, Tex. — Initial post-convention plans and strategy mapped by President Johnson for the November general election campaign will bear a "made in Texas" label. "Made in Austin, Texas" would be more specific, for much of it will originate here.

The President, his nomination as the Democratic party's standard bearer secured, hurried home to his ranch to rest and do some thinking.

His visit attracted greater interest than any since his first as president, during the Christmas-New Year season.

With Vice Presidential Nominee Hubert Humphrey as his guest at the ranch, private talks inevitably turned to the battles ahead.

Gillespie County Democrats welcomed the President back to his home county with a Hill Country-style birthday celebration and barbecue two days after his 56th birthday.

OPERATION MOTORCIDE — Col. Homer Garrison Jr., Head of the State Department of Public Safety, announced that "Operation Motorcide", the grim tabulation of Labor Day weekend traffic deaths as they occur, will go into effect Saturday (Sept. 5) at 12:01 a.m.

Garrison said his department estimates 36 persons will be killed on streets and highways during the 72 hours from the beginning of "Operation Motorcide" to 11:59 p. m. Monday.

But he said the prediction won't come true if ALL drivers make certain both themselves and their vehicles are in excellent condition, and if they use "caution, courtesy and good sense" at all times while at the wheel.

EDUCATION REPORT — Gov. John Connally's Committee on Education Beyond the High School has completed its report and recommendations for excellence in Texas colleges and universities.

The 64-page report, recommending doubling of higher education expenditures within the decade and placing of all institutions under a strong coordinating board, has been delivered to the governor.

REDISTRICTING HEARINGS — Congressional redistricting hearings conducted by a Texas Legislative Council committee will wind up here next month.

Meetings already have been held in Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Lubbock and Tyler.

Committee chairman, Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, said the group has "many suggestions" for redistricting.

Its big job now is to mold them together and come up with a reasonable plan or set of plans for legislative consideration, thus carving the state into 23 congressional districts as nearly as possible equal in population.

CONSTRUCTION PEAK HIT — Texas construction reached a 35-month peak during July.

It was the greatest building month of the year and second highest month in nearly 18 years of records compiled by The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

A whopping $140,600,000 of building was authorized in July. It represented a 21 per cent increase over June.

Bureaus also reports that retail sales in the state during July rose two per cent over June. Normally there is a small decline between the two months.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Department of Commerce reported that the average income of Texas rose last year from $1,973 to $2,068.

BUS FARE HEARING — Hearings on a request from 31 bus lines to raise their intra-state passenger fares by 10 per cent were set for September 19 by the State Railroad Commission. Motor bus express and C.O.D. charter coach services also seek an increase.

The lines, including major carriers, maintain they have had sharp increases in their operations since 1961, when fares were raised five per cent.

YOUTH COUNCILS ASKS — The Texas Youth Council — administrator of Gatesville and Gainesville schools for delinquent youths and of juvenile parole programs — told examiners from Governor Connally's and the Legislative Budget Board's offices it needs to raise its biennial budget by $6,200,000 to $18,300,000 for fiscal 1966-67.

Council's director, Dr. James A. Turman, warned that the youth-reform systems would be set back to the difficult days of 1957 unless the State Legislature approves a sound, long-range program of care and construction.

In addition to $3,400,000 for construction at Gatesville, Gainesville and Crockett schools for juvenile offenders, the Council proposes establishment of a $1,388,367 home for dependent, neglected and orphan children, (but did not suggest a location). This because the State orphan homes at Waco and Corsicana are crowded to capacity and expansion at those sites was not deemed practical.

OIL FIGHT — Independent oilmen from the East Texas Field took on major companies at a Railroad Commission hearing at which a proposal was made by Atlantic Refining Co. to give additional allowable to wells in that giant old field. The wells now have allowances on a per-well basis only, and Atlantic wants to add production based on acreage.

'I Get The Spotlight'

Small operators, conceding that it would increase their allowances, too, fear that if the Atlantic plan were adopted, it would open the door to a court review of the field rules, which could easily result in wiping out the allowances of wells drilled on tiny townlot tracts.

But the hearing also brought out a major inequity, and court action could come on that. A well capable of making only 19 barrels is exempt from shutdown days under a state law, so it can produce 30 days a month. But a well making 20 barrels a day is limited to about eight days' production a month. So the poorer wells get to produce more oil than the better wells.

DRAFT DODGE — Noting that an estimated 6,000 to 8,000 18-year-old men have not conformed with the draft registration law, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Director of Selective Service, issued a reminder that 18-year-olds who wait more than five days after their 18th birthday to register with their local board are subject to penalty.

Maximum penalty for failure to comply with the draft law, Schwartz said, is five years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both.

WATER NEWS — Latest word on construction of the $64,000,000 Amistad Dam on the Rio Grande and the Devil's River is that bids will be opened by U. S. and Mexican authorities working jointly on the project on November 6.

Both countries have been busy re-routing roads and railroad lines in the vicinity of the proposed dam to make way for construction.

Texas Water Commission will hold a hearing on the Colorado River Municipal Water Authority's application to build a dam at Robert Lee on the Colorado River on October 19 at 10 a.m.

Commission gave the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority permission to build a low-water dam near the mouth of the Guadalupe River in Calhoun County. The dam will have a rubber top, so it can be deflated when river flows are high — if that day ever comes again.

Continuing its "clean-up" of unused water rights in Texas, the Water Commission this week cancelled or reduced water rights in Kimble, Mills and Coleman Counties which dates back as far as 1904.

NEWSPAPER MUST WAIT — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has ruled that the State Treasurer can put cost of publishing names of persons having money coming to them through insurance policies or annuities "on the cuff" and pay the newspapers later, as money accrues to a special state trust fund.

Advertising costs under the insurance escheat provision cannot be paid from the treasurer's own

DROP-OUTS CRITICAL — Estimating the cost to the nation of nearly a million school dropouts each year by the dollar, U. S. Perry Brown, chairman of the Texas Employment Commission, said it adds up to millions of dollars each year.

Then he warned, "If effective action is not taken, I submit we will pay ten-fold in re-training as well as unemployment insurance, welfare costs, and other forms of dependency. Yet the greatest loss both economically and socially will be in wasted man resources."

An Added Touch of Beauty

Robert Louis Stevenson said:

"The world is so full of a number of things,
I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings."

God's world is filled with loveliness, but we need to add our own touch of beauty, so that we might be builders of a better world with Him. Each of us was given talents which would enable us to contribute to the world and mankind something great and lasting and beneficial. May each of us use these talents to the Glory of God. Add a touch of beauty to your life, this week by attending church.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Engagement of Judy Willingham announced

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Willingham announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Judy, to Bill Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Hanson of San Saba.

Friends of the couple are invited to attend the wedding which will be held Saturday, September 5 at 4 p.m. in the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Herman Bedwell and her mother, Mrs. W. E. Childs made a business trip to Lubbock last Thursday.

This week's favorite recipe was submitted by Mrs. C. B. Jones at the request of several of her friends who had enjoyed the delicacy at a church function. The torte is easily made and may be kept for a long period of time by freezing.

Lemon Torte

1/4 cup Crisco
2 tablespoons water
1 egg
1 cup flaked coconut
1 cup yellow cake mix
1 pkg. lemon pie filling mix
Blend the Crisco, water, egg bits. Cut into squares. This recipe serves 12 generously or cut in smaller squares will serve 15 or 16. For a thicker filling use two packages of the lemon mix. Mrs. C. B. Jones and family moved to Cochran County in 1945. They build a brick home on East Lincoln Avenue and moved to Morton seven years ago, at which time Jones retired from farming.

BUTTE KNIT

Butte brings you the international look in knits—a superb three-piece fine wool double knit ensemble so beautifully tailored, so tastefully elegant, it has no fashion limit! Jacket and sleeveless overblouse margined in matching satin. Black, Ruby Red, Sapphire, Fawn. Sizes 8 to 20.

and coconut with the cake mix. Pat dough into greased 13 x 9 pan. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at 350 degrees until gold (crust is soft when done).

Prepare lemon pie filling mix and pour over the cooled crust—chill. Spread whipped cream over filling. Top with Marsachino cherry

She is one of eight children of the late W. J. and Mrs. Anderson. Mrs. Anderson, 81, now makes her home in Big Spring.

The Anderson family lived in Bell County where Mrs. Jones was born. They moved to Lynn County in 1917. Mrs. Jones graduated from Slaton High School.

She met her future husband while the family lived there. They were married in Slaton.

Of her five brothers and two sisters, only one lives in the immediate vicinity, Mrs. Jessie Waldrop, who recently moved to Morton from Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones are the parents of four children: Charles, Mrs. Loyce Igo (June) of Houston; Mrs. Jim Shepherd (Janelle) now enroute with her family to Maracaibo, Venezuela; and W. A. Jones of Hobbs. All the Jones children are married and there are 14 grandchildren.

Mrs. Jones is an active member of the First Baptist Church. She works with the Intermediate Department as secretary and teacher. She is a member of WMU.

Until recently Mrs. Jones was a member of Town and Country Study Club. She belongs to the Cochran County Garden Club.

She has a beautiful yard and enjoys working at gardening and flower growing. She is a skillful flower arranger. Other hobbies are sewing, crocheting and other needle work. She also likes to read.

While they do not take tours per se Mr. and Mrs. Jones visit frequently with their children who live away from Morton and while on these visits they sight-see and visit points of interest enroute.

Now that June and family will be in Venezuela for five years Mr. and Mrs. Jones hope to visit with them some time during that period.

They go pretty often to Alabama and Florida to see relatives of Jones.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jones help their son Charles in Morton Drug.

Mrs. Effie Askew, former resident, now living in Eric, Okla., visited in Morton Sunday and attended services at the First Methodist Church. She was a luncheon guest of Mrs. E. Greer.

George files final report on Demos

BY JESSE GEORGE

(Editor's note: Cochran County's Democratic State Representative-nominatee Jesse George was in Atlantic City attending the Democratic National Convention. From the convention, George supplied first-hand reports of activities to the Morton Tribune. Following is the West Texan's final report.)

Atlantic City, Convention Hall—Lady Bird Johnson, wife of the president, and daughters Lynda Bird and Luci Baines, arrived Wednesday by helicopter, landing on the board walk.

Several hundreds of persons stood in a downpour of rain for nearly an hour to get a glimpse of the members of the first family. However, as the helicopter arrived, sun broke through the clouds and the Johnson family was greeted by the applauding crowd.

Incidentally, following the reception for the Johnson family, the rains commenced again.

The Johnsons were introduced by Gov. Hughes of New Jersey. Each gave a short talk and each was received highly and warmly.

The Democrats nominated the predicted Johnson-Humphrey ticket by acclamation Wednesday night. The nomination of Johnson without a dissenting vote was almost as inevitable as sunrise.

Johnson had kept the convention in suspense as to the vice presidential choice, although speculation for Humphrey was undoubtedly high.

Buttons and banners appeared on the convention floor approximately 30 minutes before the decision was announced by the president.

Demonstrations lauding the two choices were gigantic, loud, colorful and very impressive. From the observations and response, the conventioners are well pleased with the 1964 Democratic ticket.

The third and final session, held Thursday night, was by far the most impressive and certainly stirred the emotions and aroused dynamic enthusiasm among the Democratic conventioners.

Perhaps the keynote of Thursday night was a showing of the film, "The First 1,000 Days," as a tribute to the late President Kennedy. The memorial was highlighted by the presentation of Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy.

Greatest applause of the entire convention was exhibited with a 15-minute standing ovation for the later president's brother.

Memorial tributes also were paid the late Eleanor Roosevelt and the late house speaker Sam Rayburn.

Acceptance speeches by Sen. Humphrey and President Johnson were received overwhelmingly and Democrats were given great encouragement for a victory in November.

The keynote social affair of the convention was a reception given for Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy to approximately 5,400 conventioners. It was given by Under Secretary of State and Mrs. Averill Harriman. Mrs. Kennedy is even prettier than in her photographs.

Another reception was the president's birthday party held in the ball room of convention hall.

The party was highlighted by the lighting of an 18-foot tall, six-foot diameter birthday cake. The cake contained real candles.

Finale of the party was an outside fireworks display on Kennedy Plaza. It was a display (costing, reports said, $20,000) to top all Fourth of July displays.

Another Texas delegation caucus was held and one of the unexpected events came when Gov. Connally asked for a standing ovation for Sen. Ralph Yarborough in recognition of his work with the Texas delegation.

A Johnson rally for the Young Citizens for Johnson Volunteers was headed by actor Paul Newman. Unexpected guests were Sen. Humphrey and Mrs. Joan Kennedy, wife of Sen. Edward Kennedy. Other guests included Peter, Paul and Mary, Vic Damone and Mahalia Jackson.

Sen. Humphrey stated that this administration is dedicated to the young people of America. This mark was received highly by the young people present.

With the convention over the gates are ready to go back to their respective states and to the LBJ and HHHI to the White House in November.
