MORTON'S NEW water storage tower makes an interesting pattern against the sky as workers busied themselves this week erecting the head tank at West Grant. The 250,000 gallon tank will be painted a gleaming aluminum by the crew, employed by William LaBew Co. of Dallas, from whom the tank was purchased.

Eddie Swinney, minister at East Side Church of Christ, announced his resignation at morning services Sunday.

Mr. Swinney said he would be moving to Fluavanna, Texas, to serve as minister of the Church of Christ there. His resignation will be effective the first of November.

The minister has served the local church nearly two years, coming to Morton in January of 1963 from Big Spring.

Ascending a gold stairway on stage of the auditorium nine contestants were presented; first appearing in street dresses.

New high school building pride of community

Proof of the progress of Morton and the area, and its residents' faith in the future, is the imposing new structure for the Morton Senior High School.

Occupied this fall for the first time by the 270 high school students, the $402,000 brick building houses within its walls a complex of class and departmental rooms dedicated to the education and improvement of Morton's young citizens. And it is building of which this area can justly be proud.

There still remains some work to be done before the new high school is fully completed, but this week students and faculty are able to utilize nearly all sections of the sprawling, U-shaped building.

Some furniture and equipment is yet to arrive, but substitutes have been put into use for the present time — and shipments are expected momentarily.

Untold hours of planning by school administration, board members, and architects, went into the new senior high school. Countless other hours were spent in visiting other newly constructed school plants, in an effort to do the very best for Morton High students that funds would allow.

The result can quickly be seen by a tour of the building, and residents will soon have that opportunity during an Open House on a Sunday afternoon. Definite date has not as yet been set, but it is expected to be scheduled for early in October.

The one-story building, facing north, presents an attractive appearance with its modern front and eye-catching facade. The interior features terrazzo tile shoulder-high walls for the halls in a shade of soft green, and floors of a light brown vinyl tile. Acoustical ceilings are used throughout, and especially noticeable is the excellent fluorescent lighting for all areas. Central heating has been installed, and duct work is such that it can be used in combination with refrigerated cooling at some future date.

Placed along the halls are numerous built-in trophy or display cases, with sliding glass doors. Numerous, too, are the water fountains — however, these are yet to arrive for installation and currently students are realizing just how thirsty a person can become between, say, the time they arrive in the morning and noon.

Entering into the boyer through the wide, front doors, one's attention is immediately drawn to the large circular and colorful Indian head — the Morton High School symbol — which has been laid in the center of the floor. New students — and visitors — are promptly but courteously told that the symbol must not be walked upon.

To the right are located the administrative offices, including those of the principal and the school counselor. Here also are found the teachers' work room, a small testing room for the counselor, and the reception room. Connecting doors provide easy access between the principal's office and that of the counselor.

A new public address system has been installed, with the central station in the principal's office. It is complete with AM-FM radio, so that programs of national interest can be heard in all rooms simultaneously, with hi-fi so that special records can be utilized, and also with an intercom system making it possible to talk with any

★ CROP

Council hires two employees, boosts city judge salary

Two new employees were hired by Morton City Council and City Judge Cecil Barker was granted a raise as the two main items of business in a four-hour city commission meeting Monday.

Rex Crawford and Natividad Ortiz were added to the city payroll, the former to work mainly as cemetery caretaker and the latter to join the water and gas departments. The commission considered some dozen applicants.

It was brought out at the meeting that the work load on the city judge had almost doubled since last year, and that the judge duties were consuming more and more of his time. On a motion by Kenneth Thompson, seconded by W. L. Foust, the council raised his salary from $100.00 to $150.00 per month.

A change of policy in the handling of the city's insurance was also made during the meeting. After considerable discussion, the commission members agreed to prorate the city's insurance among the four agencies in Morton, with Morton Insurance handling the claims and paper work. Fifty percent of the commission on the insurance is to go to them (Morton Insurance) for their extra service, with the remaining 50 percent to be divided equally among the other agencies. Action was on a motion by Foust and a second by Neal Rose.

The city fathers also decided to accept bids on improvements to the city water, gas, and sewer systems, as provided by the recent passage of the $280,000 bond issue by the voters of Morton. Blueprints for the proposed improvements were presented by City Engineer Ralph Douglas and explained to the council. Bids will be opened in the city hall on Monday, October 12, at 2:30 p.m.

Republican Senate candidate Bush visits in Morton

"We are about to hear one of the shortest orations in history," a perspiring but smiling George Bush, told an enthusiastic crowd of about 150 here during a whistle stop last Wednesday afternoon.

Bush, Republican candidate for the United States Senate, and his entourage of about 30 supporters, was greeted on the paved parking area of the First State Bank by local Republicans.

He mingled with the crowd prior to a short but to the point five minute talk in which he said: "We are now fighting for principle. We need to restore dignity and respect to the United States Senate."

"We need to live within our means, curtail certain foreign aid, separate Federal and state government. Texans can handle their own problems."

"Morality in our government has reached a new low, we are all sick and tired of Bobby Baker and Billy Sol Estes."

"We must get rid of leftwing Yarborough. I intend to keep this campaign out of the gutter."

The Bush wagon, a chartered bus, carrying Bush, a Hill Billy band and supporters, was escorted in to Morton by local law enforcement officers. The GOP candidate was introduced by Eddie Swinney.

FHA emergency loans approved for county

Word was received this week that Cochran County has been designated as eligible to receive emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration, due to the continued drought.

The information was relayed by George Mahon, U. S. Congressman, in a telegram received Tuesdays.

Marvin Elliott, county FHA supervisor, pointed out the loans would be available for the 1964 crop year, and would be only for annual operating expense for established farmers. The funds will not be available, he said, for expansion of operations, and only farmers who are unable to obtain loans from any other source are eligible.

Cochran is the only county in this district to be so designated for the emergency loans, Elliott stated.

Loans may be made for the purchase of feed, seed, fertilizer, replacement equipment, livestock and for other items needed to maintain normal operations, Elliott reported. Loans may not be made to refinance debts or compensate applicants for their losses.

Loans are scheduled for repayment when income from the crop or livestock financed is normally received. Interest rate is 3 per cent.

Members of the county FHA committee who review all applications include C. C. Harvey, Vernon Bakely, and H. B. Barker.

Class officers at MHS are elected

Organization of classes at Morton High School has been completed, according to Principal Bill Matthews, with officers being selected and sponsors named.

Seniors selected Mrs. Ruth Sheard and Guy McClain as sponsors and named Charles Ledbetter as class president. Other officers include Carol Williams, vice president; Betsy Crowder, treasurer; Jane Luper, reporter; and Donna McMasters and Ernest Chesser, Study Council representatives.

Club members and leaders in each community are now planning membership drives and special events to celebrate the anniversary. Tentative plans include ice cream socials in Morton and Whiteface. A goal of 10 percent increase in 4-H members and 20 percent increase in 4-H leaders has been set by the 4-H leaders Council consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Keith, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hale, Mrs. Penn Cagle and Herman Bedwell.

W. J. (Bill) Wood in good condition

W. J. (Bill) Wood is in good condition at Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, following major surgery last Friday, according to reports. The Rev. H. F. Dunn visited with him Monday. Mrs. Wood is at her husband's bedside. If he continues to do well it is expected he will be transferred later this week by ambulance from Lubbock to the local hospital. Wood, who has suffered with gallbladder trouble for some time, became acutely ill while he and his wife were vacationing and observing their 25th wedding anniversary in Ruidoso during the Labor Day week.

Sponsoring the freshman class will be John Stockdale. Elected president was Ronald Hale, with Bill Smart as vice president; Ginger McCasland, treasurer; Danny McCasland, reporter; and LaNada Romans and Danny Wiseley, Student Council representatives.

Serving as sponsor for the sophomore class will be Coach John Paul Jones. Officers include Lem Chesser, president; Linda Ross, vice president; Cheryl McDaniel, secretary; Charlotte Smart, treasurer; Don Vanlandingham and Connie Stowe, Student Council representatives.

Boll weevil meetings set for Monday

Farmers of the area are urged to attend one of two important meetings on boll weevil control set for next Monday, September 21.

Homer Thompson, county agent, announced today that one session would be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the high school auditorium, while the other would be conducted at 8 p.m. Monday night in the County Activities Building here in Morton.

Don Rummel, area extension entomologist, will be present at the meetings to discuss the $2 million diauxane cotton boll weevil control program scheduled to begin immediately on the High Plains.

The speaker will explain how the problem is to be attacked, who is going to do it and the part that cotton producers can play in this united cooperative control effort, Thompson stated.

E. O. Willingham, chairman of the county boll weevil control committee representing the Plains Cotton Growers has named Ronald Coleman, chairman of the CPBC crops committee, and Bobby Neal of Whiteface to serve as members of this committee.

Willard Cox, member of the Plains Cotton Growers Committee, will be present at the sessions to discuss the proposed financing of the boll weevil control program by South Plains cotton farmers.

"Interest of local farmers in this program will help determine the success of the eradication of the boll weevil from the High Plains area," County Agent Thompson declared today. "United we can do all the job."

Thompson urged that cotton producers attend one of the two meetings, to become informed on the program.

FHA projects explained on tour Friday

Workings of the Farmers Home Administration in Cochran County were explained to a group of eight civic and area leaders last Friday on a tour conducted by Marvin Elliott, county FHA supervisor.

The group visited the farm of W. O. Fluit, Jr., three miles west of Lehman, and the facilities of the Bledsoe Water Supply District in Bledsoe.

Fluit obtained a loan from the Farmers Home Administration two years ago when no other funds were available to him. He is farming 418 acres this year, but has only 26 acres cotton allotment. However, because of the FHA loan, Fluit has been able to embark on a vigorous cattle program, with more livestock being added to his herd periodically.

On a 23 acre cotton allotment in 1963, Fluit averaged 655 lbs. per acre, and although he is going to fall a bit short of his goal of two bales per acre this year, his cotton is going to produce well.

In explaining Fluit's operation, Elliott commented, "This is the type loan we like to make. We want to help a man help himself. This man had increased his net worth some $3,000.00 in the first year he was operating this farm under our loan." Fluit is a comparatively new farmer, coming to Cochran County from Post in 1963. Further improvements on the Fluit farm are in the planning stage, including the drilling of more wells to supplement the two small ones now in operation. An underground water system is also in the planning.

Elliott went on to say that Fluit had made every loan payment on time, and was completely current with the FHA.

The Bledsoe water system was the first to be installed in West Texas, and has served as a pilot for similar installations in this part of the country.

Elliott, Ottis Parr, Bledsoe school superintendent and Loyd Brown, Bledsoe merchant, ran down the history of the Bledsoe system for the members of the tour.

In January of 1962, a meeting of concerned Bledsoe residents was held to try to devise a system of obtaining a water supply. Elliott was present at this meeting and explained the Farmers Home Administration loan to them. The Bledsoe people were enthused about the possibility of the program, and immediately selected a steering committee to look into the matter.

In February of that year, an engineer and an attorney were hired, and a man was brought to Bledsoe to try to find a water supply. By this time, residents of the community had pledged 51 shares in the non-profit corporation which had to be set up, at $50.00 per share.

On July 26, 1962, FHA closed a loan for $52,500 to the Bledsoe Water Supply Corporation, and the work was begun. However, the program hit a snag when the drillers failed to find water, and in the process drilled three dry holes. The drilling contractor's contract was voided when he failed to find water in the necessary length of time, and a new contractor was hired.

The project began to progress again when a well was drilled 6½ miles north of Bledsoe that produced in excess of 700 gallons of water per minute. Meanwhile, another loan had to be obtained from the FHA for the 6½ miles of underground pipe to bring the water to Bledsoe. The complete loan granted by FHA now totalled $82,000.

On July 10, 1963, the system was finally completed, and Bledsoe had its own water system. Six more meters have been added to the original 51, and additional meters will be added as the need arises.

The Bledsoe water corporation does all its own work voluntarily, and hires no help. They read their own meters, and collect their own money.

In speaking of the water system, Parr said, "If we didn't have this water, there wouldn't be any Bledsoe right now. There just wasn't enough water to sustain us. This type of thing (the FHA loan to

Indians upset Mules, 6-0, in Friday night grid contest

It was Kenney Palmer night in Muleshoe Friday night. But not for Muleshoe, it wasn't.

The Morton Indian defensive halfback picked off a Muleshoe forward pass on the Indian three yard line and 97 yards later tallied the only score of the Indian-Mule football game, as the Morton boys upset the 3-A Muleshoe club, 6-0.

The victory for the Indians was the first of the season, and the defeat for Muleshoe was their first loss. Both clubs are now 1-1 in the young season. Indians dropped their opener to Olton, 21-6, while Muleshoe blanked Dimmitt, 31-0, in their curtain-raiser.

Credit for the Indian victory must go to the defense. The Mules threatened to score only twice. The first time, early in the contest, Muleshoe had a first down on the Morton 12 yard stripe after recovering a bobbled punt by Morton.

On the fourth down try from the six yard line, they fumbled, and Sherrill Griffith came up with the ball for Morton.

Then, in the third period, Mules gained a first down on the Indian eleven yard line after a pass interception on the 24. On fourth down, again on the six yard line, quarterback John Thompson lofted a pass into the left flat. Palmer intercepted for the Indians on the three, and therein lies the story.

On Palmer's TD dash, only three Mules threatened him. He disposed of two of them himself with stiff-arms, and Charles Ledbetter came up from far down the field to take the other man out.

The Indians put together two long drives, but failed to cash in on either. Late in the first period, Morton took over on their own 23 yard strip after receiving a Mule punt.

They marched down the field, putting together six first downs, and came up with a first down on the Muleshoe six yard stripe. Griffith and Bobby Dobson did most of the ball-toting for the Indians in the first part of the drive. Dobson was injured late in the first period, and then it was Griffith and Palmer luggering the leather. From the six, Palmer went to the five. Then Ledbetter went to the air, and Muleshoe's Thompson was given credit for an interception in the endzone, despite the fact he juggled the ball all the way out into the track.

After the Indians scored with 7:20 remaining in the third period, they held the Mules, and took over another Muleshoe punt on their own 19 yard stripe. Once again, the Morton boys charged up the field, with Palmer, Griffith, and Billy Laws carrying. Indians racked up six first downs again, finally getting a first down on the Muleshoe one yard line. Griffith was held for no gain, and Laws lost a yard on a hand-off fumble. On third down, Ledbetter went to the air, and Muleshoe's Thompson was given credit for an interception in the endzone, despite the fact he juggled the ball all the way out into the track.

Other than the two threats by each club, neither team could mount much of an offensive drive.

Morton's defense contained the Mules' highly-touted Dan Smith, 200-lb, fullback exceptionally well. He broke loose for 14 yards on the second play of the game, and on the final play of the contest, he gained 25 yards on a draw play. Other than those two times, the gang-tackling Indians kept him completely in check.

To point out a stand-out player on the Indian squad would be an injustice. All of the local boys played well. There was as much difference in the ball club's overall performance against Muleshoe as compared against Olton as day and night, even though the Indians didn't look bad in their first outing.

Probably the biggest thing to come out of the Muleshoe victory is that the Indians now have confidence in themselves and they know they are capable of playing some mighty fine ball.

Another important thing gained by Friday night's win is that the Indians should now realize that they don't have to take a back seat to anyone this 1964 season.

Pass defense

knocked the pass down and it was incomplete. Indians upset the 3-A Muleshoe club, 6-0.

Recap of activities for year given by FHA here amounted to $344,745 for the 1963 crop year.

FHA borrowers with cotton allotments averaged 511 pounds of cotton lint per acre, compared to a county average of 499 pounds, the supervisor said, pointing out that farmers with FHA loans are closely supervised and have the benefit of experienced and technical advise on their operations.

Elliott also reported the appointment of C. C. Harvey of Star Route 2 as new FHA Cochran County committeeman by L. J. Cappleman, Temple, state FHA director. Harvey succeeds Hadley Kern, whose three year term expired. Other members of the committee include Vernon Blackley and H. B. Barker.

The local office had a 96 per cent collection of borrowers' paying their maturities for the 1963 crop year, Elliott reported, which is the highest in this 7-county area. Average for the area, he said, was 83.7 per cent. Collections here amounted to $49,350.

Of the 24 initial loans, 11 were made to "new" farmers of whom nine were under 35 years of age, the supervisor explained. Real estate loans were for land improvement, he said.

Toastmasters' given challenge at banquet

"The test of our future civilization will be determined by the kind of men turned out," was the essence of a talk given by Floyd Strumbo as key speaker for Charter Night of Morton Toastmasters Club.

John Haggard, president of the Toastmasters, presided for the dinner meeting held Thursday night in Banquet Room of the County Activities Building.

Greetings to members and a welcome to visitors was given by Mayor Dean Weatherly.

Strumbo, associated with Children's Home in Lubbock, said, "We are spokesmen for freedom and liberty. Surrounded as we are by communism it is our duty and obligation to improve ourselves in a effort to combat the evils confronting us."

"This is the time to be concerned, time to prepare for a great future. We each need to take inherent talents and make the most of them."

"We have many problems. Statistics show an increase in crime, especially among the youth of our nation. We have racial disturbances and other conflicts; we must set goals and chart a course to obtain the highest standard of quality for our families, homes and the communities in which we live."

"By self-improvement and concerted effort men are more able to express themselves. Results of these improvements cannot be hidden," he stated.

Strumbo was introduced by Johnny Johnson, who served as master of ceremonies for the affair. Prior to Strumbo's talk members introduced their guests; visiting dignitaries were introduced and each asked to give his observations of Morton.

The group also discussed the brucellosis testing program for Cochran County. About 35 herds need to be re-tested in order to be re-certified before June 1 of next year.

Funds have been allocated to the county for testing purposes, with the testing to be done by a veterinarian contracted with by the local group.

Dr. D. D. Hubbard, Lubbock area livestock specialist for the extension service, met with the group Wednesday, together with Homer Thompson, county agent, and also was on hand Wednesday night for a meeting with boys in the Sears hog program, and their parents, others who had participated, and hog producers in the county. Dr. Hubbard talked with those present on hog management, care and feeding.

City, district governor of Toastmasters, John Haggard accepted the charter on behalf of the club.

Other Toastmaster dignitaries attending were: Lee Weaver and Sam Hershey, Lt. Governor and Senior Lt. Governor of District #11, both of Midland; Ted Monroe, area 2 Governor from Lubbock.

The dinner was catered. Table decorations were by Mrs. Le Seager with the assistance of her husband.

M. D. Collins' have guests from Oklahoma

Guests last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Collins and remaining over Sunday for the birthday of her father, E. L. Christian, were Mrs. W. B. Payne Jr., Mike and Mark of Oklahoma City. Mrs. Payne is a niece of Mrs. Collins and the boys are grandsons.

Christian makes his home in Roberts Memorial Nursing Home, where a party was held for him Sunday afternoon. He was observing his eighty-eighth birthday. Other relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Collins of Levelland.

The large, well-lighted band hall includes several practice rooms, as well as an office for the instructor, and space for storage of music and instruments. It, as well as the choir room, has been made sound-proof as possible. The gym is designated for girls' physical education, basketball and volleyball, and connecting with it is a metal shop could be taught.

The vocational class room, tool room and a large enclosed shop area, to which entrance for vehicles is gained by a large garage-type door, provides pleasant and roomy surroundings for students.

Crossing over to the west wing which extends north and south one visits the science and home economics departments. The chemistry and physics laboratories, on the far west side, also have all new equipment, including a fully equipped dark room for photographic use.

Across the hall, the homemaking area includes a foods lab, where are found five work areas including built-in cupboards and sinks, ranges and refrigerators. Formica top counters are of a cheery melon hue. An accordian door opens into the dining room, with built-in hutch, where students may study and practice the proper etiquette of serving and entertaining. The clothing lab, with its sewing machines, includes a dressing area which may be closed off from the remainder of the room by accordian doors.

North of the chemistry and physics rooms is the biology room, with built-in cupboards, and across the hall is the pleasant, spacious library, featuring a large U-shaped central station or desk. Reading

A text book storage room, more than twice the size of the room in the former high school, occupies a spot across the hall from the library.

Letters have been mailed by the chamber to all Morton business houses and to as many employees as possible. "Attendance at this forum is essential for the continued progress of Morton," Johnny Johnson, chamber manager said this week. "Our program of work for the next year and for future years will come out of these sessions."

It was also brought out by the chamber that the forum is for all people of Morton, not just Chamber of Commerce members. Purpose of the sessions is to ascertain the wishes of the whole citizenry in matters of general comwith grass next spring.

Morton's new senior high school is certainly one in which the entire community can take justifiable pride.

Plans are to seed the school grounds yet this fall with rye for a winter cover crop, then to seed munity improvement economically and physically.

The forum will be conducted along the line of a Town Hall meeting, with everyone present having the chance to voice their opinion as to what would improve the Morton area most.

Chamber president Gene Snyder said this week, "These two days, Monday and Tuesday, could be the most important of the year for the people of Morton. We feel that this forum offers Morton residents an opportunity to present to the chamber what they think needs to be done to improve this area. We don't say that the chamber can do something about every problem, but every one will be considered by the program of work committee for 1965."

The C of C's program of work committee for next year consists of Tommy Lynch, C. E. Dolle, Don Workman, John Haggard, Tommy Hawkins, and C. E. Luper.

Mr. Duncan will personally conduct each session of the forums, although each will have a local chairman.

The first session will begin Monday afternoon at 4:15, and will be the professional group, with Ray Lanier serving as chairman and Gene Benham as attendance chairman.

At 7:00 p.m., Monday, the high school seniors will meet, with Charles Ledbetter as chairman, and Sandra DeBush as attendance chairman. This session will be followed by the agriculture group, meeting at 8:00 Monday. C. E. Dolle is chairman of this group, and Gene Benham is attendance chairman.

Tuesday morning at 9:00, housewives and club women will gather, with Mrs. Earl Polvado serving as chairman, and Mrs. Bobby Travis, attendance chairman. Retailers and wholesalers are scheduled for 10:00 a.m., on Tuesday, with Tip Windom as chairman and Jerry Daniel, attendance chairman.

Tuesday evening at 7:00 p.m., the services and trades people are to meet. Tom Rowden is serving as chairman of this group, with Bill Carter attendance chairman. The final session is scheduled for 8:00 p.m., Tuesday, and is for the employees. Dexter Nebbut will serve as chairman of this group, with Steve Bracken as attendance chairman.

Tuesday morning at 9:00, housewives and club women will gather, with Mrs. Earl Polvado serving as chairman, and Mrs. Bobby Travis, attendance chairman. Retailers and wholesalers are scheduled for 10:00 a.m., on Tuesday, with Tip Windom as chairman and Jerry Daniel, attendance chairman.

Jerry Joyce and Ernest Chesnir will again get the call at 8:00 a.m., on Tuesday, with Larry Smith and Eddie Holloway handling the offensive tackle slots. Mike Irwin and Ronald Smart will be at the guard positions, with Jerry Elliott at center.

The victory over Muleshoe put added spark into the Indian camp this week. Although they have had good spirit all year, enthusiasm is exceptionally high this week.

Workouts have been brisk and according to all indications, the Indians are working hard to try to salt away another victory.

It was pointed out by the chamber that attendance at the specified session is not as important as attendance at one of them. "If you can't make the session for which you are scheduled, come to another one," Snyder said. "We need as good a representation of Morton area residents and businessmen at these meetings as possible."

Morton is our town, and this is one of the best ways in which we can all work together to improve it," Snyder concluded.

Week-end rainfall received by county

Welcome rain over the weekend brought from .8 of an inch to 1½ inches of moisture to parched lands over the county, a check has revealed. Majority of the area received about an inch of rainfall Saturday and Sunday.

Beneficial to the entire area, thought too late to be of help for the current crop season, the rain will aid small grain seed and with winter cover crops.

While grain sorghum has been written off as a cash crop, due to the prolonged drought, the moisture received will aid in growth of stubble as a cover crop to aid in prevention of soil erosion.

The weekend rain also is making it possible for most farmers now to stop irrigation, except in the few instances where it might be needed for grasses and small grain crops being established.

Word has been received here that Mrs. Curtis Miller, the former Ramona Kelly, has suffered a series of severe heart attacks within the last few days. She is hospitalized in Fort Worth and under oxygen. She is a sister of Ruel and Sam Kelly. Mrs. Miller is a former resident of this area.

MORTON, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1964

Can it happen here?

Many times during the past year or so we have read articles of muggings and other more serious crimes occurring in large cities and have been thankful that we live in a small town such as Morton.

We read with shock about the attacks upon riders of the subway in New York by hoodlums while other passengers stood by, witnessing the beatings, but preferring to do nothing about them. We thought, what is mankind coming to?

The brutal criminal attack and murder of a woman in a Chicago residential section came to our attention some time later. The woman screams and pleads for help, although heard by not several, but many residents of that section also went unheeded. We thought again, what is mankind coming to?

Then just last week, we heard of another case, although not as brutal or as ugly as the others, nevertheless just as serious in our estimation. A little seven or eight year old girl was struck by an automobile, and as the driver of the car which hit her held her stunned body in his arms he asked a curious bystander to take her to the hospital. He refused. As it turned out, the youngster was not hurt seriously, but at the time her injuries were not known.

Did this tragic incident happen in New York or Chicago, or some other large city? No — it was at the corner of Fillmore and Main in Morton, Texas.

Again we ponder . . . what is mankind coming to?

Bail out the UN? Who us?

Administration officials told UN Secretary U Thant during his recent Washington visit that Russia must pay up its $55.7 million arrears to the UN — or else. Or else the US will press Article 19 of the UN Charter under which a member owing two years or more of its mandatory payments loses its vote in the Assembly. Russia is now eligible for this treatment because of its refusal to pay its share of UN "peacekeeping" activities in Africa and the Near East.

But Mr. Thant, whose Washington visit followed one to Moscow, has told his White House hosts that the bully boys in the Kremlin [to whom he mentioned the matter] said they would pull out of the UN if they lost their Assembly vote.

Two other points of equal significance, we think are these:

There are some other dead beats in the UN also, its total deficit now standing at more than $122 million — an amount that could throw this global clambake into its final spin.

And Administration spokesmen in Washington have presented to Secretary Thant the prediction (not to be considered a threat) that if the USSR fails to pay up — and keeps its Assembly vote nevertheless — US financial support of the UN is going to take a nose dive.

We can only assume that this realistic outlook for UN solvency — if not its very survival — is based on a shrewd, if unofficial appraisal of the patience of the American voter and taxpayer. And when the time comes that Washington judges the voter has about had it — that's the time for something to give . . . or, in this case, to quit giving.

Crisis on our highways

Law enforcement officials, editors and any of the public concerned with the appalling toll of traffic accidents feel a common futility about how to cope with the problem.

There are many causes, and various remedies have been advanced by experts.

But a Dallas citizen, in a letter to a newspaper in that city, speaks more truth in blunt language than all of the learned dissertations on the subject we have seen.

Speaking of drivers' tests, the Dallas man wrote:

"Wrecks are not caused by people who do not know how to drive. Most of them are caused by the idiot who doesn't care. Grounding the habitual lawbreaker is more important than drivers' tests."

Drivers' tests are essential, and serve a good purpose, but they alone do not guarantee traffic safety.

The intent of the driver behind the wheel, toward law enforcement and toward the rights of others, unquestionably is the greatest factor bearing on traffic safety.

Texas' toll of accidents and deaths is increasing and unless the trend is reversed, and it seems unlikely, this will wind up a grisly year indeed.

This problem deserves the most careful attention of the 59th Texas Legislature which will convene next January. Every cause and every measure relating to improving traffic safety should be considered.

If the laws need to be stricter on revocation of licenses of incorrigible drivers, it should be done.

Let us hope that the legislature does not become so burdened and preoccupied with the problems of congressional redistricting, legislative redistricting, teachers' salaries and higher education that the crisis on our streets and highways is slighted.

VIEWS . . . of other editors

Once upon a time a good many years ago, the industrial revolution brought in its wake the invention of a wheel possessed by mystical qualities.

When anyone grasped the wheel, it would bring out from the individual many of the bad traits of human nature and tend to submerge the better traits.

Some persons became snarling and vicious, venting evil in voice and mien; others became selfish and greedy; still others became egotistical, vain, or obnoxious.

It would cause to feel a false sense of power and superiority; it would cause him to display arrogance and disregard for others; it might even cause him to inflict injury on those about him without provocation.

Only a few persons could withstand the mystical hypnosis of this strange wheel, and they were the possessors of great will power and a natural propensity for goodness.

But for the most — a frightening percentage, it seemed — the mystic wheel prompted ill will and disdain for all others.

What was this Mystic? Well, if you haven't already guessed, give it serious thought the next time you slip into the front seat of your car.

Lewellen News-Sun

What's so surprising about honesty? Is an honest man such a rare bird that the discovery of one is a major news item?

A case in point was a story in an area newspaper a few days ago about a service station attendant who found $400 worth of diamond rings which a customer had dropped in the driveway, and returned them, refusing a reward. When the owner's husband called to claim the property a short time later,

The husband . . . a minister, of all people . . . was quoted as saying "It is not often one stumbles onto a boy with such honesty quite a few times in the course of a day. It isn't often that one puts it to such a test, but the fact that honesty is untested doesn't prove that it doesn't exist. Of course, it doesn't prove that it does either . . . but why not give your fellowman the benefit of the doubt, at least?"

The attitude expressed here is that the average person is dishonest . . . or would be, if given a safe opportunity. We just don't believe it.

The boy who returned the diamond rings didn't believe it, either. Obviously he saw nothing unusual about returning lost property, and didn't feel that he should be rewarded for doing it.

We'll bet that the kid was right . . . and average . . . and the Rev. Mr. Blane was wrong and ought to review his ideas about his fellowman. Any comment?

Canadian Record

Why don't people vote? A presidential commission on registration and voting participation has been created to see if a reason can be found.

The answer is simple: apathy. Perhaps it should be called down-right mental laziness.

Little would be accomplished if all those who take no interest in government visited the polls election day. They wouldn't know what they were voting for, anyway. In that case perhaps it is better they stay away.

Why aren't we interested in politics, in voting, in government? We are just too blamed lazy to give any attention to problems facing community, state, nation and the world.

We alibi that our one vote wouldn't make any difference. Less than a hundred lazy Republicans who thought that cost Elmer L. Andersen the office of governor of Minnesota.

The millions who don't vote could determine the result of presidential elections every four years.

Countless men and women over the world have sacrificed their lives in an effort to win independence, to establish freedom and democracy for themselves and their children.

If we are unwilling to exert the slight effort to keep that freedom, chances are it won't long endure.

Sleepy Eye Herald-Dispatch (Minn.)

When we sit back and do not express our viewpoint or raise objection to ideas that we do not believe in, we are hastening the time when we will not have the privilege of expressing our views.

If we fall into the habit of taking the path of least resistance or if we fail to say no when we feel no is the right answer — even if it is not the popular one — then we are saying that the ideals that our forefathers died for were not important.

Express yourself! Whatever the results, whether they go for the moment more in the direction of extremism than away from it, we will know in our hearts that our own attitudes and actions contributed to the results.

A nation gets the kind of government it deserves! Let us deserve government "by the people" Giddings Star Rally round the flag boys, 'cause this old world has become rotten to the core. Yes, who gives a tinker's damn today about what an individual has done, what free enterprise has done, what trust in God has done? All we hear, read, and are told is what government has done.

The bill on Medicare is now in the House, after having been passed by the Senate. It is a socialized method of paying the health bill for every person over 65 who receives social security benefits. It does not matter whether or not these persons can spend the day clipping coupons; we will take care of them no matter what their need. Perhaps this will make up for the lack of love and understanding most give their parents.

Our great and mighty federal government has given us a tax cut and is talking about another. In the meantime social security will take $174 from you and the sum from your employer if you earn $4,800 this year. In 1966, instead of 3% per cent of your salary the going rate will be 4% per cent of up to $5,600. In 1968 it will be 4%, and this is without Medicare. So the government giveth and taketh away and we do not seem to know the difference.

By passage of such bills, we are placing another weapon in the hands of government that can be used against us. Here we are placing millions of people under the yoke of government control when it comes to medical payments.

Government now controls the amount of money older people receive in retirement. Millions are working directly for the government, and so to safeguard their pay check they will accept anything the government offers.

The Federal Government now deals in billions of dollars in government contracts. How can a businessman speak out against some form of government intervention without fear of government reprisal? We have given government so much power that we dare not confront it for fear of jeopardizing our livelihood.

If you think we are crying wolf, where are Billie Sol Estes and Bobby Baker? They are free and using illegal funds to feather their nests even more luxuriantly. How can we preach the virtues of truth and honesty to our youngsters when you can see the rewards of dishonesty in almost any government dealing? We are shocked to see youngsters parading with banners advocating legalizing of marijuana. Why not? Everything else is legal!

Like the parent who has always been too busy to watch Junior, we are now becoming aware that we are not using our best materials when it comes to political candidates. But after Junior has knocked us down, taken our wallet and the keys to the car, do we have the intestinal fortitude to get up and smack him back?

Beeville Bee-Dioctroyne (Minn.)

When we sit back and do not express our viewpoint or raise objection to ideas that we do not believe in, we are hastening the time when we will not have the privilege of expressing our views.

If we fall into the habit of taking the path of least resistance or if we fail to say no when we feel no is the right answer — even if it is not the popular one — then we are saying that the ideals that our forefathers died for were not important.

Issues have not been as clear-cut in many years on the national scene and in many states. On the one hand we have the advocates of a government which tries to be all things to all people; whether its administrators are motivated by a sincere desire to serve their fellowmen or by purely considerations we must judge for ourselves. On the other side are candidates who propose a return to individual initiative and the assumption of major responsibilities by local units of government.

Many argue that federal government, its spending programs and its policies have become so firmly entrenched in our economy and our way of life that any change would plunge us into serious economic depression, comparable to the early '30s. On the other side is the question of steadily encroaching government power and our dependence on government, and whether to reverse the headlong trend in that direction now, while there may still be time, or follow the trend to an inevitable conclusion.

We believe that Americans must vote for the candidates they sincerely believe best for America and its future — forgetting personal considerations, forgetting party lines, forgetting geographical labels, no matter how appealing they may be.

Proposed revisions will be submitted to attorneys in a statewide referendum next year. Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert addressed a luncheon meeting of the group.

PAROLE SUPERVISION HELPS

Fewer boys are being sent back to the State Training School due to better parole supervision, Youth Council Director James Turnam reports.

Rate of return has dropped to 26 per cent, lowest in history, Turnam told the Council. He calculated the dollar saving for the last year at $217,000.

BUSES ARGUE FOR BOOST

National Bus Traffic Association, representing some 31 Texas bus lines told a State Railroad Commission examiner that operating costs justify a 10 per cent rate increase for most types of in-state travel.

Rates requested would apply to passenger, charter and express service.

POLLUTION BOARD — State attorneys claim district court has no jurisdiction over the Texas Water Pollution Control Board in an oil company's suit challenging the agency's authority to regulate disposal of oil field brines and waste.

Superior Oil Company sued the board in 53rd district court here, claiming the Railroad Commission is the proper agency to regulate oil field brines and waste disposal. District Judge Herman Jones agreed to consider the suit questioning board jurisdiction.

The state moved for dismissal, claiming such an action could be brought only with legislative permission.

TRAFFIC FATALITIES — A steadily-increasing highway death rate is bringing demands for corrective action.

The death rate is up 14 per cent from last year. Total number of fatal accidents is up 13 per cent.

There have been 1,860 fatalities

Spending requests increase

AUSTIN, Tex. — Hunter McLean, chairman of the State Board of Insurance, will head the Johnson-Humphrey campaign in Texas. Gov. John Connally announced at a news conference.

At the same time, Connally said he himself may have "no precise role" in the presidential campaign, although there is a possibility he will make some out-of-state speeches for the ticket.

Selection of McLean ended some speculation over whether a Democrat of the moderate-conservative group which backs Connally or the liberal faction would run the Texas Johnson-Humphrey show.

McLean is a close friend of the governor and one of his first major political appointees. He is also a longtime supporter of the president.

Connally acknowledged he contacted McLean about the campaign director's job after talking the matter over with Johnson.

The choice was completely satisfactory to the President and to me," Connally told reporters. "The President was delighted."

McLean, former Fort Worth insurance executive, is taking a leave of absence from the board of insurance and will open a campaign office here, Connally said.

Goldwater — for — president headquarters under direction of Tad Smith of El Paso, working with State Republican Chairman Peter O'Donnell of Dallas, already is operating full blast a few blocks from the state capitol.

SPENDING REQUESTS UP

State financial outlook is rosier than ever, but state agency spending plans are breaking all records too.

Gov. Connally gave reporters a briefing on fiscal matters in a photo-slide illustrated press conference.

State agencies, he reported, are asking a whopping $689,472,181 increase in spending for the 1966-67 fiscal period. He emphasized, however, they are likely to get it.

Parks people said the first days of the dove season proved a definite success as hunters "generally" obeyed the law, and most hunters apparently got their limits since birds were plentiful.

Employment — The advent of cotton-picking time in Texas offset the decline in the number of workers employed in vegetable, fruit and nut activities from mid-June, and the Texas Employment Commission reported that farm employment ran 346,300 workers more than the present level.

State agencies, however, have proposed spending of more than $813,000,000 from the general fund, $3,800,000 from oil funds too.

Connally said he wanted to make "abundantly clear" that review of the requests did not represent his approval.

"The money is going to be a little harder going out than it was coming in. My own recommendations (to the Legislature) will probably differ to a marked degree (from these figures)."

This is the way the requests break down:

C. A. Bairds to take tour of east coast

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Baird will join their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cornwell, at Will Rogers World Airport, Oklahoma City, September 18 for a flight by American Airlines to Washington, D.C.

The flight, a specially chartered one by Oklahoma City Petroleum Club, is an eight day tour, which will include a three night stop-over in Washington, D.C.

Primarily the flight originated in order for a group of Oklahoma University fans to see the football game on September 19 between OU and Maryland. First game of the season for the Sooners will be played on the University of Maryland's home field, about 30 minutes from downtown Washington, D.C.

Sunday afternoon a tour of Arlington National Cemetery will be made. The Oklahoma delegation, which includes Morton's Chet and Bee, will place a wreath on the grave of President Kennedy.

The tour will continue to quaint old Georgetown, across the C and O Canal and Francis Scott Key Bridge by way of George Washington Memorial Parkway to Alexandria, Va. Here the group will view Hallowell School, old Presbyterian Meeting House, Ramsey Tavern, Carlyle House, Gadsby's Tavern, home of Lord Fairfax, Light Horse Harry Lee and stop at Christ Church. On to Mt. Vernon, the fully restored home and plantation of George Washington.

Return will afford views of National Airport, Pentagon Building, Jefferson Memorial and Tidal Basin.

On Monday the entourage goes by motorbus to New York City, a four hour non-stop trip on the new Turnpike. This is considered one of the most scenic routes in the area.

Four nights will be spent in New York City. In addition to the World's Fair other attractions slated for the visitors is a bus tour of the city, a visit to the Empire State Building, Chinatown, United Nations Headquarters. A boat ride to the Statue of Liberty, returning by ferry to the Battery.

There will be a dinner at Latin Quarter and a good bit of free time for members of the tour to do what they like. Several plan to see the current stage productions.

The return trip is a non-stop flight on September 25 from New York City's John F. Kennedy Airport to Oklahoma City. Departing N.Y. at 10 a.m. the group will lunch aloft, arriving at their destination at 4 p.m.

Roger Southall of Lubbock was a guest Sunday in the home of Mrs. J. C. England.

Mrs. Sid Savernance returned

Sunday from a visit in Abilene with her mother, Mrs. Harold Boozer, who has been ill. Mrs. Boozer is improving, according to her daughter.

This week's favorite recipe was submitted by Mrs. W. E. Childs. Several who have been lucky enough to enjoy this chicken dish declare it "one of the best."

Chicken Sopa

1 hen, cooked until meat is tender
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 1/2 cups chicken broth
1 four ounce can green chili peppers
1 two ounce can pimento
1 large onion grated
1 dozen tortillas, cut in bite sizes
1 pound grated cheddar cheese salt to taste

Mix soups and broth in bowl, add pimento and peppers that have been finely cut; add onion. Alternate layers in casserole of the tortillas, flaked chicken, soup mix and cheese, save some of the cheese for topping. Bake slowly in 300 degree oven for 40 minutes. Cheese will be tough if the oven is too hot. This recipe will serve 15 or 20.

Mrs. W. E. Childs a 33 year resident of Morton is an excellent cook and housekeeper and enjoys nothing more than helping prepare a tasty dish for a family get-together, church supper or missionary meeting.

One of seven children of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Wedgeworth, she was born in Panola County. It was in schools of Panola County where she received her education. The former Emmie Wedgeworth, she married her childhood sweetheart, W. E. Childs, in Gary, Tex. as in 1919.

They lived awhile in Eldorado, Ark., where their son, Melvin, was born. Melvin and family live in Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Childs lost a baby girl in infancy. They have a second daughter, Nelda Joy (Mrs. Herman Bedwell), who was born after the family moved to Cochran County. Mr. and Mrs. Childs are grandparents of five.

Mrs. Childs takes an active part in the First Missionary Baptist Church, is a Sunday School teacher and member of Womens Missionary Association.

Until the last few years she was also active in clubs and civic work in the community.

Childs, now enjoying improved health, was in poor health for sometime prior to his recent retirement from the business world.

Since his retirement and the improvement of his health generally the two of them enjoy working together in and about their home, where they have a well kept and beautiful yard.

They make frequent trips to Truth or Consequences, N.M., and other points of interest. They also enjoy trips to visit friends and relatives.

Yard work provides most of her recreation and for hobbies she likes to sew, embroidery and do other fine needle work.

Since 1952 Mrs. Childs has been selling real estate, a vocation very much enjoyed.

Practically pioneering Cochran County, moving here in 1931, she has seen many changes, growth and progress in the area. Mrs. Childs, like most area residents, appreciates the warmth and friendliness of the people on the South Plains.

Her three brothers all live in Cathage, but she is lucky in that two of her sisters, Mrs. W. L. Miller and Mrs. T. D. Marshall live in Morton. The sisters have a close personal relationship. Their other sister, Mrs. H. D. Bellamy, lives and teaches school in Houston.

Free tickets to South Plains Fair distributed here

South Plains Fair representatives visited Morton schools last week delivering free tickets to the fair, to be held in Lubbock Sept. 20 through Oct. 3.

The free school tickets are good at the Fair on Monday, September 28, a school day. Lubbock school days will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 29-30.

Four special representatives of the Fair were working throughout the South Plains area visiting more than 300 schools.

They stressed the educational exhibits available this year, which include the X-15 space plane, a mercury capsule, a junior parachute jump, and hundreds of agricultural and livestock exhibits.

Main entertainment feature, Ice Capades of 1965, will feature half price admission every performance to all students under 13 years of age.

A new kiddieland, a wide variety of rides exclusively for young children and their parents, has been arranged near the annually popular Children's barnyard. This area, strictly for youngsters, will not admit adults "unless accompanied by a child."

Fred Payne, Cochran County chairman for Barry Goldwater, and Lloyd Miller, GOP county chairman, attended a Republican convention earlier this week in Austin.

SOMEBODY CARES

It is so important that someone cares about how this child grows up. Someone cares that she is clothed and fed and loved. Someone cares that she goes to school and grows in mind as well as body. Someone cares about her childhood wonder and curiosity and wants to see them satisfied. Someone cares enough to teach her to love other people and will help her in her relations with them. Someone cares about her spirit and desires for her the highest ideals and standards, and will help her to know God. Are you this someone?

Let it be said of her as it was said of Him, "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man." Luke 2:52.

TAKE SOMEONE TO CHURCH
THIS WEEK

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Former resident weds in Tahoka ceremony

R. W. New and Miss Sherry Anne Nevill exchanged wedding vows September 3 in the First Baptist Church, Tahoka. The Rev. T. James Efird, pastor, officiated for double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everton Nevill, Tahoka. His parents are Mrs. W. A. Ledbetter, Tahoka and the late Elmer L. New. The New family formerly lived here and R. W. attended Morton schools for five years.

Vows were made before an altar dominated by a heart-shaped entranceway, covered in white satin edged with pleated net. Two arches of candelabra flanked the nuptial scene, each bearing a miniature replica of the entranceway. Pews were marked by lighted candles.

Jimmy Biggs is honoree at party

Jimmy Biggs was named honoree for a stork party Friday morning in the home of Mrs. Garnett Bryan. Jimmy, month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Biggs, was accompanied to the party by his mother.

A large stork on the fireplace hearth set the mood for the party. The motif was repeated by a smaller stork in an arrangement of yellow and white mums on the serving table. A large blue bow centered the overdrapery on front of the linen cloth.

A baby rattle tied in a yellow chrysanthemum shoulder corsage was worn by Mrs. Biggs, courtesy of the hostesses.

About 25 called during the receiving hours. Hostesses for the event in addition to Mrs. Bryan were: Mrs. Cullen Dansby, Mrs. Keith Kromer, Mrs. Francis Shiflett, Mrs. W. B. McSpadden and Mrs. Jerry Winder. Mrs. Grady Burson of Amarillo, mother of Mrs. Bryan also attended.

Long satin lined lace sleeves tapered to petal points. The fitted waist and skirt front were accented by lace appliques enhanced by sequins and pearls. An Obi bow at back was trimmed with lace and highlighted with sequin and pearl trim above the chapel length train. Her elbow-length veil of illusion cascaded from a crown of pearls and sequins. She carried an arrangement of white flowers with ribbon streamers.

The bride's attendants wore sleeveless dark aqua satin dresses styled with scoop neckline and bell-shaped floor length skirts. Each carried a white heart decorated with aqua carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony in Fellowship Hall of the church.

For a wedding trip the bride changed to an orange striped whipped cream shift with tan jumper and matching accessories.

The bride is a summer graduate of Tahoka High School. The bridegroom attended Tahoka High School and is employed in Lubbock where they will make their home at 1810 45th Street, Apartment 3.
