Prepare numbers for variety show and record album

Morton High School Choir members were busy this week rehearsing for Indian Capers — 1965, a fund-raising musical variety show which they hope will earn enough money to finance a choir trip to the Buccaneer Music Festival in Corpus Christi this spring.

A tentative program for the show includes 34 fast paced numbers mixed with humor and an occasional solemn but not ponderous moment. Six different scenes will provide an elaborate background for production numbers which will be done on a grand scale this year, according to choir director Guy McLain. A cotton field has been transplanted to the stage for one scene, elaborate lighting and special effects highlight another, a Mexican decor provides background for still another scene, and an automobile will actually be brought onto the stage for another scene. Still other scenes will make use of other special effects.

"Indian Capers is annually the most elaborate and enjoyed production of the school year," McLain said. "This year's audience will have the added treat of having a permanent record of the performance recorded on a long-playing album in high fidelity. This year's production promises to be one of the most exciting and entertaining ever," he said.

Sales from the record will be the only supplement to funds from admissions to finance the Corpus Christi choir trip. McLain said a record made last year by the choir sold well, but included too many "heavy" pieces of music. This year's record, a selection of songs from the program itself, will be

Jury awards $850 to farm laborer

... civil cases were scheduled to be heard by a jury of the 121st District Court at the Cochran County Court House in Morton last week. Of the nine cases, damages were awarded in one, four were passed, one was tried but not completed, and two were settled in formal trial.

... damages amounting to $850 were awarded to Walton G. Miller, the plaintiff in a suit against E. D. Richardson, a farmer from Morton. Miller claimed that he was injured under an oral contract with a house, utilities, transportation, a milk cow, pigs,

... $255 per month, and 10 acres or cotton for his own use.

... He told the jury that he also had arranged to leave for Talequa, Okla., to attend a relative's graduation from college at the time he made the contract.

... He said he was fired after he returned from attending that graduation, and that Richardson had not complied with other portions of the oral agreement. Miller asked in his petition for a total of $3,030 and attorney's fees, interest and cost, but was awarded only $850.

ACT tests are administered here

Fourteen students at Morton High School wrote the 1965 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test last week, according to high school counselor Charles Bowen.

... The test was administered at the school by Bowen. The three-hour examination of educational development is the first step in the eleventh annual competition for four-year Merit Scholarships provided by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and by sponsoring corporations, foundations, colleges, associations, union trusts, and individuals.

... The number of scholarships awarded in any year depends upon the extent of sponsor participation. In 1964, 1,632 Merit Scholarships were awarded; 1,146 were provided by 227 sponsors and 506 by the Merit Corporation. There are 4,880 Merit Scholars attending 485 colleges during the current academic year.

Calf-ropers from three states enter contest at Morton

Calves bellered and ropers sailed through the air Sunday afternoon, March 14, as mounted ropers from Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma competed for cash prizes at a calf-roping contest at the Cochran County Rodeo grounds near Morton.

... The contest was sponsored by the Morton Roping Club, and was the first such program held here. Top money was won by Olen Young of Albuquerque, N.M., a well known roper. ## "Miss Girlstown" is named at open house Singing, hand-clapping, speeches, coffee and punch accented the annual open house at Girlstown Sunday, March 14. A large number of persons toured the grounds of the home for girls south of Whiteface, most of them visiting girls who are relatives or friends.

... Festivities commenced at 2 p.m. and ended about 4:30 p.m. The time was filled with a number of activities including the presentation of a flag, the crowning of "Miss Girlstown", and entertainment provided by gospel singers. Members of Veterans of Foreign Wars District Seven presented a flag to the girls early in the afternoon. Tours of the grounds and buildings interspersed with reunions with long missed friends and relatives were followed by a gathering in Girlstown's newest building for the naming of "Miss Girlstown." Miss Linda Neal, a four... teen-year veteran of Girlstown, was granted the coveted tiara and title. She was selected from among five finalists.

... A group of gospel singers from Odessa provided entertainment while the crowd awaited the naming of "Miss Girlstown." Comments were made by H. B. Clemens, chairman of the Girlstown board of trustees, and a plaque was presented to D. L. Adcock, a board member from Lamesa, for his work toward helping Girlstown. The plaque was presented by Mickey Dawson, one of the fifty-four young ladies making a home at Girlstown.

... A Morton group served punch to the Girlstown visitors. They were members of the L'Allegro Study Club, including Mrs. Dan Swicegood, Mrs. Van Green, Mrs. Harold Drennan, Mrs. E. O. Willingham and Mrs. W. B. McSpadden.

Oath of office taken by school board member

An oath of office was signed Monday evening by O. L. Tilger who was appointed in February to serve the remainder of Steve Bracken's term — two years and one month — on the Morton Independent School District School Board.

Tilger was asked to occupy Bracken's place after the board of education accepted Bracken's resignation at the February meeting of the board. Bracken told the board in his letter of resignation that he left the post because he had moved out of the Morton district and was no longer eligible to remain a member of the board.

Action taken by the board at Monday's meeting included the appointment of a new election judge and a new assistant election judge for the April 3 School Board of Trustees election. The judge and alternate named previously are now both ineligible. Dean Weatherly, who was appointed election judge at last month's meeting, indicated that he is not allowed to judge the election because as mayor of Morton, he is an elected public official, and the election code prevents his serving as judge. Fred Payne, who was named alternate judge at the last meeting has since then become a candidate in the election.

Hume Russell is the newly named election judge, and Courtney Sanders is the new assistant judge.

Teachers' contracts for the coming year were renewed by the board. When the board asked Superintendent Ray Lanier for his opinion of the teachers in the Morton system, the superintendent said, "Overall, I would say we ... have the best outfit we've had since I've been here."

Another matter considered by the board was the possibility of using the school gymnasium during the summer for recreational purposes. Lanier told the board he had received requests that the building be used for recreation during the summer. After considerable discussion, the board decided to take no action until more information is available. Proper supervision of activities in the building seemed to be the major stumbling block.

Two representatives of Santa Fe Trailways appeared before the board with a request for a school hauling contract. Board members were told the cost would be approximately the same as what the school system is now paying the company that hauls to the school, Lang Transit Company. Santa Fe Trailways was awarded the school system's business.

Suggestions concerning curriculum revision and other matters were heard from Morton High School Principal Bill Matthews. Four suggestions were made by the principal, and all were accepted by the board.

Matthews suggested that driver's education be converted to a summer program only. He told the board that two teachers are now necessary for every driver's education class because one instructor is needed in the car with the students who are behind the wheel or observing, and another teacher is with the larger portion of the class which is doing academic work. Under the summer-only system, Matthews told the board, the drain on teaching time would not be as great.

Another change in curriculum adopted at the principal's suggestion was that only three instead of four years of English be required for graduation. Matthew questioned the assumption that all students benefit enough from the fourth year to make it a requirement. "As we add more classes for terminal students, we have to give some leeway on the other end," he said.

Another major change accepted at the suggestion of the high school principal was to reinstate "D" grades as passing grades. For about four years the Morton School System has considered both "D" and "F" grades as failing grades. "We need a grade that carries the meaning of inferior but passing," Matthews told the

Highway Patrol figures for county cite few wrecks

Three rural traffic accidents in Cochran County took place in February according to Sergeant A. E. Roberts, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person injured and property damage estimated at $1,500.

Motorists bring autos for annual inspection

... extension of the state motor safety inspection deadline will be made, according to Captain Alan Johnson of the Vehicle Inspection Service, Department of Public Safety, supervisor for this area.

... 2,000,000 of the 5,250,000 registered vehicles in Texas have been inspected. This leaves more than 3,000,000 vehicles to be inspected in about five weeks," Johnson said.

... Persons operating a vehicle registered in Texas that is required to be inspected on public roads April 15 without a valid 1965 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law, the official stated.

... Department of Public Safety noted that "The purpose of motor vehicle inspection program is to discover any maladjustment which might become a link in the chain of events leading to an accident, and by removing the cause to prevent the accident."

Circumstantial evidence not so bad as depicted

Like spinach, puns, and women drivers, circumstantial evidence has a worse reputation than it deserves. Many people reading that a defendant was "convicted on circumstantial evidence," jump to the conclusion that the case against him was flimsy.

Yet, all of us rely constantly on circumstantial evidence in our everyday routine.

Suppose you see steam billowing out of your morning cup of coffee. You don't seek direct evidence of its heat by dipping your finger in it. Instead you rely on circumstantial evidence — fact plus logic — to decide that the coffee is very hot.

Crusoe conclusion
Nor would many readers doubt Robinson Crusoe's conclusion, from the circumstantial evidence of a strange footprint in the sand, that another human being had come to his island.

Of course, circumstantial evidence can be weak. One court gave this example: a country doctor, upon seeing a saddle under his patient's bed, deduced that the patient had eaten a horse.

Jail evidence
But circumstantial evidence, when strong is what sends most criminals to jail. How many burglars have been caught by tell-tale fingerprints, how many hit-run

Granddaughter of Morton couple honored

Queta Baker, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. McLendon, was recently honored as one of the students chosen to discuss world problems in an interview on Television.

She is 17, a senior at Western High School in Las Vegas, Nevada, and is a member of the SUN Youth Forum.

The group will go to Reno for state competition in the near future.

Queta is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baker, Las Vegas, a niece of Mrs. Ralph Gardner, and Mrs. Troy Broziel of Leveland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Irwin and children, Peggy Roy, and Jackie, from Corpus Christi, were recent visitors in the Mike Enos home. The Irwins surprised Mrs. Enos by being here when she returned from a trip to Oklahoma Friday. The two ladies are sisters. The Irwin family left for Corpus Christi Saturday evening.

Cotton and grain deadline is Friday

Applications to participate in the government's 1965 Domestic Cotton Allotment Program and the 1965 Feed Grain Program must be signed by March 26. Mrs. Ruth McGee, County Agricultural Stabilization official emphasized this week.

Only seven farms had been entered in the cotton program as of Monday, March 15, but 276 farms have been entered in the feed grain program which accounts for 35,778 acres.

Farmers wishing to participate are required to sign applications by the March 26 deadline. Exceptions include farmers with allotments of 15 acres or fewer, Mrs. McGee said. Those who sign the cotton agreements and withdraw after the March 26 deadline "will not be eligible to place any cotton from the farm in the government loan," Mrs. McGee stated.

She further explained that payments must be divided as the crop is divided, and one-half the payment may be received in advance.

"There is cross-compliance on a farm between the Domestic Cotton Program and the Feed Grain Program. For example, a farm that participated in the Domestic Cotton Program may not exceed the Feed Grain Base on that farm," Mrs. McGee stated.

Domestic cotton allotments will be re-computed to include the re-apportioned acreage received, and a new notice mailed this week, Mrs. McGee said.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Snyder and Beth returned Sunday night from a short trip to Mesa, Arizona. The Snyders brought their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Snyder of Mesa, home with them for a short visit. The elder Mr. Snyder underwent surgery in Yoakum County Memorial Hospital in Denver City Thursday morning. While in Arizona, the Snyder men attended a spring training baseball game between the Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox.

Seniors at Morton High School were guests Tuesday evening March 15 at a banquet in their honor sponsored by the Women's Society for Christian Service at the First Methodist Church of Morton.

Seniors and some faculty members heard Carl Anderson, minister to youth at the First Methodist Church at Lubbock, who was principal speaker at the banquet. Anderson told the youths his comments could sound like a commencement address.

The banquet is an annual occasion sponsored by the Women's Society for Christian Service with the cooperation of the Wesleyan Service Guild and other ladies of the First Methodist Church of Morton.

The seniors ate in a dimly lit room decorated in green with St. Patrick's Day flavor.

Morton Postmaster Murry L. Crone announced this week that he has been instructed by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski to extend all cooperation possible to students, educators, bankers and other volunteers in promoting and servicing the Treasury's School Savings program in Morton.

An adequate supply of Savings Stamps and books and promotional material, he said, will be on hand to meet the needs of the students and the community in carrying out the Stamp Consignment plan.

Morton businessmen will be among hundreds expected to converge on Midland, Plainview, and Fort Worth March 24 and 25 to take a close look at the problems and opportunities of West Texas' economy at a meeting sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Morton Area Chamber of Commerce manager Johnny Johnson said he expects to attend the March 25 meeting in Plainview, one of a series. He told reporters that other Morton businessmen may accompany him but have not made any definite commitment yet.

Experts in agriculture, economic development, and business-government relations will appear as speakers and panelists for "Infocade '65" which involves one-day meetings with a team of authorities traveling from one to the next discussion. Prince, immediate past president of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange, in the field of agriculture; G. A. Mabry, regional manager of public relations for Humble Oil and Refining Company of Houston, and Jim Gaines of San Antonio, president of Southland Industries, both in economic development; and Dr. Joe Nelson of Weatherford, a physician who is chairman of the National Affairs Committee of the West Texas Chamber, and Tom Sealy of Midland, an attorney who is chairman of the Texas Research League and chairman of the State Affairs Committee for the WTCC, both in business-government relations.

Beeman Fisher of Fort Worth, president of the West Texas Chamber and president of Texas Electric Service Company, will be keynote speaker in each city.

John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, former Attorney General of Texas and longtime civic and business leader in West Texas, is general chairman of Infocade '65 for the West Texas Chamber.

Each day's program will be identical, beginning at 9:30 a.m. and adjourning at 2:30 p.m. and including a luncheon. Moderator for the sessions will be E. H. Danner of San Angelo, president of General Telephone Company of the Southwest. Following each of the three principal speakers questions will be submitted to panelists and discussions will ensue.

The West Texas Chamber said it is setting up Infocade '65 in an attempt to inform businessmen and women about all phases of the area's economic life. It feels that each segment of the business picture needs to know more about the other segments' problems in order to build mutual support and seek possible solutions to all of the problems. Infocade '65 is also designed to encourage greater participation by West Texans in public affairs.

The meetings will be in Midland's Theatre Centre Auditorium, in the Plainview High School Auditorium, and in Fort Worth's Hotel Texas.

Report from Cochran County Agent

By HOMER E. THOMPSON
Programs and management
The way in which a producer in Cochran County participates or does not participate in the 1965 Cotton, Feed Grains or Wheat programs will have a big effect on net income this year. It is vital that all growers fully understand the elections available to them under these programs in order that they can manage their resources for maximum net income.

Based on regulations set out in the 1965 cotton program, producers have two options: (1) plant and harvest their effective allotment or (2) plant and harvest their domestic allotment, which is 65% of their effective allotment. Growers can select one of these routes. The most profitable route will normally be determined by the amount of land, labor, capital and irrigation water available. Combining the existing skip-row provisions with the above basic regulations, some producers may find the "effective allotment route" the most profitable, where others may find the "domestic allotment route" most profitable.

In addition, most of our growers have a feed grain base. Where this exists, our producers may want to consider various levels of participation in this program.

For example, let's consider a farm with a 100 acre cotton allotment and a 200 acre feed grain base. Under the provisions of both programs, our growers can use this 200 acres of land many different ways. Skip-row cotton may be considered over solid 40 inch rowplanting. In other cases, the minimum feed grain acreage diversion may be most profitable over maximum permissible acreage diversion. In any event, growers may want to take inventory of their resources, determine how these can be employed which will give the greatest return, and carry out a plan for maximum profit.

Additional information can be obtained on factors to consider when analyzing these programs from the county agent's office. Net farm income for 1965 can very well be determined by how our growers utilize their resources under the existing legislative regulations.

County HD Agent's report . . .

By JENNIE ALLEN

A splash of color can cheer up the cook as well as brighten the meal. And one of the best brightener-uppers around is the lively red of fresh tomatoes.

Use them lavishly this time of year and use them with beef.

The two foods are old friends. Their flavors complement each other in many a favorite recipe.

For a starter, pour 2½ cups of tomatoes over a pot roast the last hour of cooking. It makes first-class gravy, especially if a clove of garlic and a little thyme are cooked with the meat. Or put extra flavor and moistness in ground beef patties by adding ¼ cup of tomatoes to 1 pound of ground beef. Use ½ cup of uncooked, quick-cooking oats as a binder and season to taste. This combination offers a deliciously "different" flavor and helps you to stretch a pound of meat to serve 6.

Brighten Aluminum pots

Make that discolored aluminum pot look like new. Boil some water and cream of tartar in the pot. Use one teaspoon to 2 tablespoons cream of tartar per quart of water, depending on how dark the pot is.

Cleanup

Turn a soft drink carton into a portable cleaning kit. Cover the carton with adhesive plastic. The plastic does more than just decorate; it strengthens the carton and protects it from moisture. Stock the kit with basic cleaning materials. It's easy to carry from room to room.

Too soft jelly?

If your homemade jelly is too soft, it may be the result of one of the following:

- Too much juice in the mixture,
- Too little sugar,
- Not enough acid, or
- Too big a batch.

The potter's wheel was the first machine devised to mass-produce cheap goods.

Notes from your local SCS office

By ALTON TAYLOR
Soil Conservationist

The correct way to break the soil must be considered now, and in so doing, later problems will be avoided.

Some of the problems of soil conservation concerned with breaking the soil involve too deep or too shallow breaking.

Breaking too deeply brings too many clay particles to the surface and while it retards wind erosion problems, others arise which also are detrimental.

A heavy clay surface retards water intake and leaves the soil susceptible to extreme water run off and washing away at a heavy rainfall.

The heavy clay surface also makes a very poor seed bed for establishing a crop. It will dry out rapidly after planting or will bake hard following a shower causing a break which is too shallow in deep sand only stirs the sand and does not give the mixture of sand and clay particles which is desired.

This leaves the soil susceptible to wind erosion as a number one problem.

Whether the individual farmer breaks deep or shallow the individual needs of the lands should be regarded.

If the individual need of the land is not being met with the methods now in use, perhaps some other implement would do the job better, and in most cases, at lower cost.

To determine the deep breaking need and depth of break in each field, and in many cases, several locations within a field, the soil should be checked with a shovel to see what the need is in each location.

After determining what is needed, the break should be made according to that need, even if smaller areas are broken to stay within the depth needed.

Scores of beaming fathers accompanied blue-skirted daughters to the annual Dad and Daughter Banquet for Bluebirds and Campfire Girls Tuesday evening, March 16, at the Morton School Cafeteria.

Blue-clad young ladies from eight different exotically named groups dined by candlelight with the men of their lives. Following the dinner each girl stood up with her father and boldly or timidly pronounced her own name and introduced her daddy to the rest of the diners.

Farm allotments for county divided

Released cotton allotment acres totaling 6,312.1 acres were distributed among Cochran County farms Friday, March 12, when the Cochran County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee met.

Adjustments were made on 17 small farms. The adjustment amounted to 71 acres according to Mrs. Ruth M. Gee, ASCA director. Other farms will receive .0863 percent of their 1965 Effective Allotment. Notices will be mailed to farm operators this week, she said.

son and does not receive a Form W-2 when he receives his last payment of wages, he should request the employer to furnish one.

Employees of companies now defunct may be facing income tax problems

A special tax problem may face the taxpayer whose former employer has gone out of business. In some cases, such employers fail to give employees a Form W-2 showing the wages paid and the tax withheld.

If this is your situation, John J. Sloan, administrative officer of the Lubbock office of internal revenue, suggests the following:

First, try to get a Form W-2 from the employer. If you do not succeed, prepare your income tax return from the best information available and file it before the deadline. Attach a note explaining why the Form W-2 is not included with the return.

When a taxpayer leaves his job during the year, the law requires that the employer furnish a Form W-2 at the time of the last payment of wages. If a person leaves a job permanently for any rea-

Gen Tel reveals plans for expansion program

The construction program for General Telephone of the Southwest during the next three years calls for gross expenditures of $71,808,000 with more than $23,000,000 scheduled in 1965, according to E. H. Danner, president.

Highlights of plans include replacing 24 central offices because growth and obsolescence; providing Direct Distance Dialing service to customers in 35 exchanges; and making improvements and refinements to DDD service in the North Central division headquarters town of Sherman which will permit seven exchanges near Sherman to have DDD service. Twenty-seven new exchange buildings, one microwave building and three warehouse buildings also are scheduled for construction, and 17 additions will be made to existing buildings to provide for equipment expansion.

Other highlights

Other highlights designed to keep pace with the communications requirements of customers are the establishment of two new exchanges, second central offices at Hobbs, New Mexico, and Broken Arrow, Oklahoma, and eight microwave locations which will provide 350 message channels.

An important event which already has occurred in 1965 was the installation on January 12 of our 400,000th telephone. The vent took place in Garland, Texas, General's fastest growing exchange.

"Our expenditures during the next few years will not only provide new services, but upgrade present services," Danner pointed out.

"For example, a rural plan which will permit upgrading rural customers' service to four party, will be initiated in 1965. A part of this program is to provide service — without special construction charges to customers — for all rural applicants residing within our exchange boundaries along public right of ways.

"Other expenditures will permit the continued trend toward one and two party service for all urban residential customers. And all customers will note service improvements through our new Service Center concept and programs to pressurize cable, thus reducing service interruptions.

"While gross expenditures are an accepted measurement of progress and economic well-being, we also have included in our plans programs to develop our own employees to their fullest potential, get the right person in the right job and to seek out, too, the young graduates who wish to make this exciting communications industry their career," Danner said in summarizing what the future may bring.

"Along the same lines, we are improving our techniques in communication with our employees so that we all may better understand today's industry and the vital link each and every employee plays in serving our customers. We also sincerely feel that our advertising program is an important supplement to the personal contacts employees have with customers in providing information which we feel makes life more pleasant and more efficient.

New sections

"For those customers whose communications needs go far beyond the efficient use of long distance calls and teletypewriter services, we have whole new sections developing within our company which are staffed with highly skilled and carefully trained technicians who can apply, modify and coordinate the most complicated of our facilities, equipment and devices to suit customer needs.

"More and more business customers require data transmission and private line teletype and long distance networks to carry on their day to day business operations," Danner said, "and we are in a position to provide customers with these needs."

In 1964 construction expenditures were over $18,500,000 and permitted providing Direct Distance Dialing to an additional 9,600 telephones; a new microwave installation; a gain of 20,600 telephones; changing out nine central offices and providing customers in 11 General Telephone exchanges with Extended Area Service.

Ground also was broken for a 90,000 square foot addition to the present 59,000 square foot general office building in San Angelo.

Shore spot light

"And again, construction must share a spotlight with other events of major significance during 1964, such as the merger into our parent company — General Telephone — electronics Corporation — of Western Utilities Corporation and its three affiliates, including the Southwestern States Telephone Company. Prior to consummation of the mergers, a suit was filed by the Department of the Justice claiming the proposed mergers would violate the anti-trust laws," Danner stated. "Late GT&E and the Department of Justice entered into an agreement under which GT&E was permitted to proceed with the mergers as planned. Under the terms of the agreement the telephone utility assets of each of the three Western Utilities affiliates have been conveyed to three new wholly-owned subsidiaries of GT&E which will operate as separate corporate entities until final disposition of the Justice Department suit. The Southwestern States Telephone Company with headquarters in Brownwood is one of these three new wholly owned subsidiaries.

Contract signed

The official signing of a three year contract which will cost the company approximately $1 million annually in increased wages and benefits was signed in August, 1964, by officials of General Telephone Company of the Southwest and Communications Workers of America which represents some 2,700 employees. Agreement on the contract was reached on June 11 after almost one year of negotiations. The contract can be reopened again on June 1, 1965 for negotiations of basic wage rates.

Soil temperature is to be measured as aid to farmers

New services to help area farmers cut weather-induced losses and conduct more effective operations began functioning in Morton and five other High Plains towns this week.

Beginning Monday, March 15, daily reports on soil temperatures at both eight and four inch levels were recorded and released as an aid to farmers in their choice of a planting date for various crops. Both the high and the low temperature are recorded.

In Morton, the thermograph, or soil thermometer, is located on the grounds of radio station KRAN. All thermographs were placed "under bare, cultivated land," a spokesman said, "to assure that these soil temperatures are accurate and not affected by varied ground conditions."

Other towns taking soil temperature readings are Hereford, Silverton, Lubbock and Locketville.

Morton soil temperatures are reported to Gordon Houston, conservation technician for the Soil Conservation Service, who makes a daily report to Lubbock which will include soil temperature highs and lows as well as the highs and lows of air temperature which are part of his regular weather report.

Conservation officials said an average soil temperature of 60 degrees over a 10 day period is necessary to plant cotton. By knowing these temperatures, farmers can determine the earliest time it is practical to begin planting.

Information gathered now can be used in future years as historical data on soil temperatures from which a formula for predicting soil temperatures can be extracted, according to Oliver Newton, agricultural advisory meteorologist at the South Plains Research and Extension center. Newton said this can be done by the evaluation of other weather factors and their relationship to soil temperatures, and will enable farmers to plan for planting ahead of time.

Safe is robbed at Threeway school

Burglars at Three Way School escaped with at least $300 in cash Monday night after they battered a large safe open and ransacked it and a desk.

Bailey County sheriff's officers said at least $500 worth of damage was done by the thieves who demolished a seven foot by five foot safe. Cochran County Sheriff Hazel Hancock who helped with the investigation, said one of the burglary tools a 12 inch nail bar was found at the scene.

"They sure made a mess of that safe," he said. "I have seen a lot of cracked safes, but this one was one of the worst broken I have ever seen," the sheriff said.

The combination dial and handle had been knocked off, several hinges had been smashed, and part of the lining had been removed from the door. A large section of the door had been chiseled away to permit the safe-crackers to open the door.

Officers said only cash seems to have been taken, and checks and papers were strewn about the room. Besides the money taken from the safe, some money was taken from a desk in the room.

Entry was gained through the front door on the east side of the building by forcing the lock, apparently with the nail bar found inside, officers said.

The exact amount of cash stolen was difficult to compile because the money was kept in a number of separate funds inside the safe, and cash was mixed with checks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Rogers visited last week in Tatum, New Mexico with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Tip Barnes.

SMOKE SIGNALS

By MIKE EGGER

Juniors of Morton High School took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test last Friday. Quarterfinalists will be announced next September and semifinal test will be the scholastic aptitude test of the College Entrance Examination Board.

The juniors certainly did a fine job on their play Friday night. They would probably do it over again if they could, but it was a lot of work and they were glad it was over (as evidenced by the tremendous cheer that went up on stage after the last curtain was pulled).

The Seniors of MHS were treated to the annual senior banquet at the First Methodist Church Tuesday night. Speaker for the occasion was Rev. Carl Anderson, minister to youth of the First Methodist Church in Lubbock.

The junior class sponsored an annual Senior Faculty Basketball game will be held in the local gymnasium next Monday night, March 22. The juniors will have a cake and pie auction during halftime. As the proceeds go to the junior class of MHS which will use the funds to help sponsor the annual banquet the juniors give honoring the seniors, the senior class of MHS wishes a large turnout for the event.

The incoming officers of the student council of MHS will attend the state student council convention in Midland Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, March 25, 26 and 27. The 1965-66 officers, Mike Irwin, president; John St. Clair, vice-president; LaNeida Romans, secretary-treasurer; and Patsy Collins, reporter will be accompanied by Mrs. Gage Knox, sponsor, or John Stockdale, sponsor.

Morton High School is presently in full swing in its annual Twirp Week sponsored by the student council.

Student council members and the incoming officers will enjoy ice skating in Lubbock Friday night. They will be accompanied by John Stockdale and Bill Matthews.

One item omitted from last week's column: A large number of MHS honor students attended the annual Honor's Banquet at South Plains College in Levelland March 4. All who had made the Honor Roll and their dates were eligible to attend.

lighter with nearly being popular pieces or old favorites, McLain said. This year's album will go on sale immediately after the performance of Indian Capers, but advance orders are available now from members of the Choral Booster Club and members of the choir. Indian Capers, the album, will be recorded by the Century Recording Company of Los Angeles, Calif., a company McLain describes as the "third ranking record company in the United States."

The final scene of Indian Capers will be the coronation of one of three candidates as choir sweetheart. Candidates for the honor are Lynette Phillips, Donna McMaster and Carol Williams.

Indian Capers will be presented at the Cochran County Activity Building the evening of April 1. Between now and then, flashily costumed choir members will tote guitars, bangos, and other instruments to rehearsals, perfecting their style and timing for the performance.

board. He said to use "D" as a failing grade forces the teacher to make some students who would not benefit from retaking a course retake it anyway or give them "C" grades they do not really deserve.

The final measure taken by the board was to accept Mathews's suggestion that report cards be issued every nine weeks instead of every six weeks as has been done in the past. Mathews said the longer period between reports may reduce time that teachers now must spend on correcting tests and doing clerical work and allow them more time with the children. "This is an experiment," he said, "and Scores are used by counselors in high schools to help students make decisions about college attendance and field of study. Many students who do not expect to win a scholarship take the test in order to learn more about their individual strengths and weaknesses in the areas measured by the test. Bowen said.

More than 14,000 Semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, will be named early next fall. Names of Semifinalists are published in a booklet which is distributed to all colleges and to other sources of financial aid for undergraduates. Further, their names and test scores are sent to the two colleges that they list as their preferred choices at the time that they take the NMSQT. The order of preference is not shown.

Approximately 38,000 additional students, selected on a national basis, receive Letters of Commendation for their high performance on the qualifying test. Their names and test scores are also sent to their first- and second-choice colleges.

Each Semifinalist will be asked to take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance and meet certain other requirements will become Finalists in the competition. Winners of Merit Scholarships will be selected from the Finalist group on the basis of school records and recommendations, test scores, extracurricular activities, leadership ability, and accomplishments outside the classroom. Each Finalist is awarded a Certificate of Merit attesting to his outstanding performance.

All Finalists are considered eligible for Merit Scholarships financed by NMSC and sponsors. The National Merit Scholarships provided by NMSC are awarded on a basis of state representation and without special individual criteria of any kind. Many sponsored Merit Scholarships include additional criteria such as the Finalist's relationship to an employee of the sponsoring organization, his residence in a certain area, his college preference, or his career intention.

The scholarship stipends are based on financial need. The minimum award is $100 and the maximum is $1500 per year. The average stipend awarded to freshmen Merit Scholars in 1964 was $757 annually, or about $3000 for the four years of college. Supplementary grants are usually made to the colleges that the scholars attend. Each scholarship constitutes a form of educational insurance, since the stipend may be increased at any time if the student's financial situation changes during the four-year term of the scholarship.

GOOD BUSINESS

By Edgar A. Guest

If I possessed a shop or store,
I'd drive the grouches off my floor;
I'd never let some gloomy guy
Offend the folks who came to buy;
I'd never keep a boy or clerk
With mental toothache at his work,
Nor let a man who draws my pay
Drive customers of mine away.

I'd treat the man who takes my time
And spend a nickel or a dime
With courtesy and make him feel
That I was pleased to close the deal,
Because tomorrow, who can tell?
He may want stuff I have to sell
And in that case then glad he'll be
To spend his dollars all with me.

The reason people pass one door
To patronize another store,
Is not because the busier place
Has better silks or gloves or lace,
Or cheaper prices, but it lies
In pleasant words and smiling eyes;
The only difference, I believe,
Is in the treatment folks receive.

4-H Favorite Foods Show scheduled for March 26 at Activities Building

Cochran County Home Demonstration agent Miss Jennie Allen announced this week that a 4-H Favorite Food Show will be presented Friday, March 26 at 7 p.m. in the Cochran County Activity Building in Morton.

Miss Allen said approximately 50 4-H girls are enrolled in foods classes in the county, and many of them will participate in the Favorite Food Show. Judges for the show include Mrs. Jean Martin, Bailey County home demonstration agent and Mrs. Keith Bray, assistant educational director of Bailey County Electric Cooperative. Ribbons will be awarded.

The two senior girls and one junior girl placing highest will represent the county at the District Favorite Food Show April 2 at Texas Technological College. The senior girls will be eligible for state competition if they win at the district show.

Each girl participating in the show at Morton will prepare her favorite food and display it on a card table with correct table setting and centerpiece arrangement. She will also display her recipe and a day's menu featuring her favorite food. The contestants are expected to know the nutritional value of their favorite food and other foods in the Daily Food for Fitness Guide published by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Miss Allen said food may be entered in any of four groups — milk, meat, fruit and vegetable, and bread and cereal.

The show will be open to the public, Miss Allen said.

Inflation is here!

The one-hundred-cent dollar of fiscal 1939 — when the gross public debt and guaranteed obligations of the USA stood at $49.89 billion — is now worth 44.8 cents, according to Virginia's Rep. Richard H. Poff, while the nation's obligations now total more than $312.5 billion.

In a revealing tabulation of the nation's fiscal posture from 1930 through 1964, the Old Dominion Congressman presents, year by year, a statistical sermon on the wages of Federal extravagance.

In all these 35 years, budget surpluses have occurred just seven times — deficits 28 times. In only one year out of four, in all this time, has the Government of the United States taken in more than it has spent! At the end of 1964, the red ink figure for the period stood at $287.29 billion, annual interest on the public debt at $10.666 billion.

Inflation is not something to fear. It is here. It is something to fight — now.

Perils of medicare

Edward W. O'Brien, of the Portland Oregonian's Washington Bureau, writes: "An unpublished study by top government actuaries shows that the administration's medicare proposal would cost $3.8 billion a year by 1975 and that the proposed special health care fund would be just about broke by then.

"In this study, Social Security Administration experts found that the cost of operating medicare would exceed by 1972 the income to the fund from the new payroll taxes provided. . . ."

These findings square with warnings given by nongovernmental authorities of the financial perils that medicare contains. And there is more than theory to back them up. Some foreign countries have imposed various medical benefit plans on top of pension and retirement programs and have invariably found that the actual costs far exceeded the optimistic estimates. In France, which took that step, reports indicate that the welfare system is perilously close to bankruptcy.

To make a bad matter worse, medicare is far more limited in its benefits than most people realize. Surveys show, for instance, that great numbers of people think it would pay doctors' and dentists' bills. It would not. Basically, it offers only a restricted program of hospital and nursing home care.

Other plans, which would provide much broader and more liberal medical services to the needy and which would avoid medicare's built-in dangers and weaknesses, are proposed. It is the duty of Congress to give every consideration to these alternatives and to see medicare for what it actually is.

Boss of the marketplace

"Let's Keep Politics Out Of The Pantry."

That is the title of an article by Charles G. Mortimer, Chairman of General Foods Corporation which appeared in a recent issue of Look magazine. And it is of very direct and personal interest to every consumer in the country.

The politics in question, of course, concern proposals to give government czar-like powers over such matters as the packaging and labeling of products. The argument is that, as of now, the consumer is the victim of all manner of deceptions and dubious practices. Mr. Mortimer sees no substance in that view. As he points out, laws now on the books provide effective safeguards over the purity of food products and the information printed on the labels. Beyond that, in his words, "Any manufacturer who tries to trick the housewife into buying his product by packaging or labeling it deceptively will soon go out of business. She may buy it once, but she'll never buy it again. And since marketing a food product involves heavy costs, no processor can remain solvent on one-time sales. He depends on repeat volume."

The point is that the housewife is her own best policeman, and no one knows that better than the people who produce, package and sell foods, as well as many other products. The proposed laws would deprive her of freedom of choice. They would add to costs. They would produce a drab uniformity. They would lessen competition. And they would substitute a bureaucrat's judgment for hers.

The housewife is boss of the marketplace now. That is the way it should be.

Needed: "Employability"
Unemployment in this country hovers persistently around the four million mark. At the same time, industries everywhere are clamoring — often unsuccessfully, for large numbers of workers to handle new jobs created by modern technology.

This apparent anomaly is easily explained. As President Carey of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States puts it, our schools are failing to build "employability" into high school graduates who seek jobs rather than go on to college. The result is that there is a labor shortage despite the unemployment rolls — a shortage of skilled labor.

To meet this challenge, he proposes a cooperative approach by educators and the business community. Business Advisory Committees would survey local manpower and skill requirements to help educators make their vocational and technical training programs meaningful. The caliber of instruction in vocational training courses would be improved by making practical experience the top priority in teacher certification. And the dignity of useful occupations would be elevated to overcome parental disapproval which forces some youngsters into college instead of into some form of advanced vocational or technical training for which they are better suited.

Mr. Carey is certainly on the right track. Technology is producing extremely profound changes in the kind and scope of needed skills. Education needs to change with it.

Alice News

Death lurks
Little Mary pushed the stool up to the wash basin and standing upon it opened the medicine cabinet above. From the colorful array of bottles she took the one with the bright little "candies". Mary's mother found her in a coma a few minutes later.

This is a little playlet which is enacted in Beville homes several times a year. With all the precautions we take to rear a child, one sometimes fatal mistake is to leave poisons within reach. There is a need for some poisons in the home, but we must realize their potency and keep them under lock and key. For the average healthy three-year-old, a medicine chest four or five feet off the floor is just a challenge.

But what of the laundry supplies, kitchen cleaners, and other household cleansers which are left on the floor under the sink? Corrosive substances common in the home are toilet bowl cleaners, rust removers, drain cleaners, styptic pencils (commonly used to stop blood flow from facial cuts of a razor), laundry soda, ammonia, and household bleach. All of these must be kept out of the reach of small children.

Drugs and household chemicals must be labeled. Those which contain poison or poisonous substances should never be stored on open shelves or in unlocked cabinets. Another precaution which would be unnecessary to relay but which counts for many poisonings in the home is never to give or take medicine in the dark.

If a victim has been poisoned a doctor should be summoned immediately, and in most cases it is urgent to treat the person. However, it is hazardous to try to cause the victim to vomit if he is in a coma, is having convulsions, has swallowed a petroleum product, or a corrosive poison as mentioned above.

In cases other than those mentioned, give a child from one to five years of age, one or two cups of milk or water and then place a blunt end of a spoon or your fingers at the back of the patient's throat or give him an emetic (two tablespoons of salt in a glass of warm water). An older patient should be given up to one quart of water or milk. Once the patient starts to vomit, he should be placed face down with the head lower than the hips to keep the vomitus out of the lungs.

Your medicine cabinet is potentially lethal and it is up to you to remove all causes of death. Published reports of deaths from drugs that children have taken include heart medicine, sleeping pills, and aspirin and other such drugs. Any prescribed medicine given by a physician should not be left where a child can reach it.

The Government approach
We were amused a while back to read in a Missouri Newspaper a tongue-in-cheek account of the way the federal government approaches a solution to problems.

This was an editorial which may appear ridiculous on the surface, but it may be more true than we like to admit.

The writer said that when snow blanketed the city, there were hundreds of young boys going from home to home seeking to remove snow from sidewalks. These youngsters are the last vestige of free enterprise in the United States and steps should be taken to remove this blot from the American scene.

Ranging from little fellows of six and seven to teen-agers, apparently they do not know that they are victims of exploitation.

During the recent snow, it was easily seen there was an overabundance of youths willing to shovel. A benevolent federal government should take steps to see that there is sufficient snow for all boys to shovel.

In case there was a general heavy snowfall throughout the entire nation, the federal government could provide for the storage of surplus snow at strategic points.

During years when snowfall is at a minimum, this vast surplus of snow could be shipped to various areas of the country where snow was not available, so it could be shoveled by young boys.

A system of penalties would be devised which would require the youths shoveling snow in excess of their allotment to forfeit part of the pay they received for their work because it is not fair to permit boys who are ambitious to shovel snow and be paid for it while other youths remain home and watch television and are not paid for it.

It is strange that in this field, the bureaucrats have not yet taken steps to set up a Snow Corps. But give them time. Somebody probably will think of it.

Ochiltree Co. Herald

Much lead was mined in England in the first century A.D. by the Roman conquerors.

H.J.R. 6, the constitutional amendment which states that "Equality under the law shall not be denied or abridged because of sex" has failed to receive the necessary 100 votes for final passage in the House of Representatives. This measure, which upon passage would have been submitted to the people for a vote was opposed by the State Bar of Texas on the grounds that "equal treatment of the sexes under the law should be achieved by legislation directed specifically to the solution of each of the problems involved, and not by a constitutional amendment that would invalidate many existing statutes without providing new statutes to replace them."

Urging passage of the H.J.R. 6 was the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs who stressed that "special rights" are inconsistent with equal legal rights and that it is under the guise of so-called "rights" or "benefits" that women have been treated unequally and denied opportunities which are available to men."

The measure was defeated on Third Reading by a vote of 91 to 25.

With the battle over "equal legal rights" temporarily subsided, the Texas Business and Professional Women's Clubs and the State Bar of Texas have joined forces to seek repeal of Texas's double-standard divorce law. Witnesses representing both "forces" termed as discriminatory the present Texas statute which permits a husband to divorce his wife if she engages in a single act of adultery, whereas the wife has to prove a "continuing" situation. The B&P Women State Bar support was also given to a bill which would "equalize" exemptions from jury service. The measure would permit either spouse to be excused when a husband and wife are both summoned on the same jury panel.

Regarding money matters, the Senate has produced its version of the state budget and calls for $3.65 billion, including $617 million from the general revenue fund. The House version calls for $604.7 million for the biennium. Senate debate on the bill is to come next week. If the measure is rejected by the House, it will go to a conference committee for six weeks to compromise existing differences. Key differences in the House and Senate versions of the bill are centered in the areas of Hospitals and Special Schools, Education, and Welfare.

Highlights and Sidelights —

Pesticide bill is hitting snags

AUSTIN, Tex. — A bill to regulate commercial applicators of pesticides is having a hard time in a House committee. This is an indication that it probably will be changed considerably before it is reported for floor action.

It's author, Rep. Grainger McIlhany of Wheeler, tried unsuccessfully to get it referred to a different subcommittee from the one headed by Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville. House agriculture committee, however, did vote to instruct Rapp to report the bill to the full committee.

Rapp said the bill is one of the most important issues to come up before the Legislature this session, on par with redistricting, taxes and other statewide issues. "This bill doesn't affect only commercial aerial applicators," Rapp said. "It affects a lot of people."

Required by the bill would be licensing of owners and operators of equipment used to apply pesticides. Licensing would require passing an examination to demonstrate familiarity with application of pesticides and payment of an annual fee. Operator's fee would be $10; owner registration, $25; and $25 for each piece of equipment.

Operators would have to show minimum financial responsibility of $15,000, by insurance, bond or deposit, for each piece of equipment.

Proponents of the bill say farmers need protection because modern pesticide equipment can, if misused, damage large land areas, including adjacent property.

Rapp contends the bill needs to be studied carefully because the transient nature of some of the persons who work on pesticide equipment would require that the operator spend a lot of money on additional license fees and bonds.

HEALTH LEGISLATION — Sweeping new concepts for treatment of tuberculosis, mental illness and mental retardation are about to be written into Texas law.

Bills overhauling the entire state organization for dealing with these vast problems soon may be sent to Gov. John Connally for signature.

House passed 142-0 an amended version of legislation already approved by the Senate to set the tuberculosis eradication program in motion.

A separate bill to establish a new Texas Department of Mental Health and Retardation cleared the House 139-1 and was sent to the Senate.

The tuberculosis control measure by Sen. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock and Rep. Menton J. Murray of Harlingen would shift all the tuberculosis hospitals and programs from the Board for Hospitals and Special Schools to the Texas Department of Health.

A bill by Rep. W. H. Miller of Houston also would take from the Board all mental hospitals and special schools for the retarded, moving them to the new department.

Both emphasize community-centered attacks on the problems at hand.

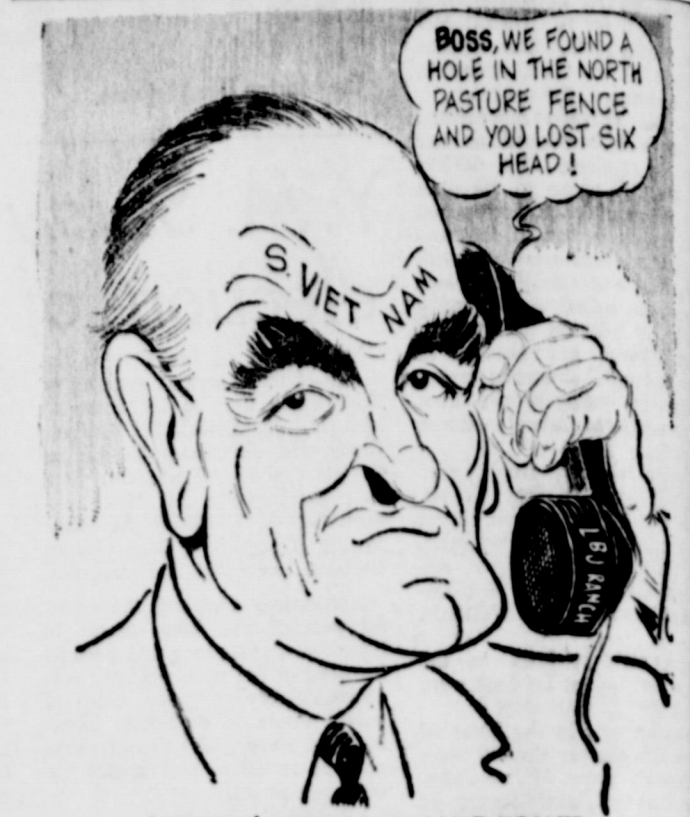

Experts maintain that case-finding, long term follow-up care and contract care of patients close to home can virtually eliminate tuberculosis. Proposed $22,300,000, six-year program will begin in the San Antonio-Central-South Central Texas area and counties along the border from El Paso to Brownsville.

Community care centers to treat mental patients close to the cities they live in rather than big hospitals far away are heavily relied on for major progress in the mental health field.

HORSES BOOKED — Odds are long against the horse race betting advocates this session, but they will provide one of the Legislature's most colorful shows.

On March 29 the House State Affairs Committee will hear a bill to legalize parimutuel betting on supervised tracks. Bill is backed by the Texas Racing Association. It was introduced by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville.

Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine has introduced a constitutional amendment which would outlaw parimutuel (in a pool) betting and all other forms of gambling in the state.

BUDGET CONFEREES TAKE OVER — Whether Texans will face substantial new taxation to finance expanding state services rests largely with 10 top lawmakers.

Budget writing was checked to a joint conference committee of senators and representatives after the Senate, without discussion, passed a $3,650,000,000 appropriations measure. It called for $617,000,000 in general revenue spending.

Senate version is $13,000,000 above the House-passed bill in general funds ear-marked for the 1966-67 biennium. Both houses left money "on the table."

Senate bill is $14,000,000 below anticipated income; House bill is $25,000,000 below. But there are plenty of claims for the leftover.

Amount of the school teacher pay raise approved after the general budget finally is adopted is the real key to the magnitude of a tax bill. But recommendations of the conferees — likely to be approved by both houses — will determine just how much of the foreseeable revenue is left to apply toward better salaries for teachers and other new spending demands.

SABINE BILL PASSED — Legislation aimed at paving the way for making the Sabine River navigable from Longview to the Gulf has reached the governor's desk.

Bill sets up Sabine River Navigation District in Gregg, Harrison, Panola and Rusk counties. A $15,000,000 revenue bond-financed project extending to Toledo Bend Dam is contemplated. Under the plan, locks would be constructed to lift barges into the Gulf of Mexico.

BEER-LIQUOR CLASH — One of the hottest floor fights of the session was waged over a bill which found beer and liquor interests on opposite sides and "wets" and "dries" somewhat confused.

Liquor store operators bitterly opposed a measure by Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham, which they contended permitted wholesale beer distributors to sell ale and malt liquor directly to consumers.

Mutscher said the two beverages should be treated as beer under state statutes, since they are made by breweries, not distillers.

After prolonged debate in the House, Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah unsuccessfully tried to tack on an amendment to raise the beer tax $1 a barrel.

Mutscher's bill finally passed 90-44 and went to the Senate for another round.

PICKUPS MAY SPEED UP — House has approved and sent to the Senate a bill permitting pickup trucks to travel 70 miles an hour on Texas highways instead of the present 55 mph limit.

Another bill by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin specifies that pickups may be driven with a regular operator's license. Some law enforcement agencies (not the Texas Highway Patrol) contend drivers of pickups must have a commercial license. They say law is not clear on the point. Bill cleared committee and is on House calendar.

PROPERTY TITLES UNCLEAR — Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo believes that no Texan can be sure he has a clear title to any of his personal property because present law permits the state to get a preferred lien without notice through the hands of a person arrested on his taxes.

Harding said the state can do this regardless of how many times the property has changed hands. He has introduced a bill which would provide for handling of personal property liens in the same manner that liens on real property now are handled, including filing of notice with the county clerk. No lien would be effective on personal property before the filing of such notice.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION — Rep. Milton Schiller of Cameron has introduced a bill calling for a statewide plan to take maximum advantage of federal funds for vocational and technical education.

Bill would make the State Board for Vocational Education, established in 1949, the coordinating agency for setting up standards and requirements for school districts which want to set up a vocational technical school or a national and technical school district with state and federal participation.

TEXAS CRIME RISING — Murder or crime is increasing at an alarming rate, warns the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Last year 260,860 major offenses were committed in the state. This represents an increase of 13.8 per cent over 1963, says Director Homer Garrison Jr.

All seven categories — murder, rape, robbery, burglary, aggravated assault, theft and auto theft — recorded big jumps. Crime rate (offenses per 100,000 population) rose from 2,393 to 2,723.

SHORT SNORTS — House passed a bill to double boat registration fees; authorize zoning of areas for boating, swimming and fishing; and require lighting devices on boats with fees going to State Highway Department to finance boat ramps and rest room facilities.

constitutional amendment to set the pay of the House speaker at lieutenant governor from $4,800 to $12,500 a year received overwhelming House approval after the amendment was added to a $200,000 expense allowance of Representatives from $12 to $20 a day for 140 days. . . . Rep. George C. Eden, opponent of the constitutional amendment for equal rights because of sex, has introduced bills to remove discriminations because of sex in existing laws.

Salaried county officials in counties with populations between 15,000 and 20,000 property valuations of at least $80,000,000 may get raises up to $2,600 a year under a bill by Rep. ## New credit service to aid low-income families in rural areas now available

A new credit service to help low-income families in rural areas raise their incomes is now available in Texas, according to State Director L. J. Cappelman of the Farmers Home Administration.

Cappelman said today the new service opens up Farmers Home Administration credit aid for the financing management aid to help them make a success of their farming enterprises or new businesses.

Farmers Home Administration, a U. S. Department of Agriculture agency, will administer the new loan service under recently delegated authority from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Liberalized loan terms and conditions for participating low-income families allow for an interest rate of 4 1/2 percent.

To be eligible for the new rural credit program, an applicant must live in a rural area, have an income that does not cover basic family necessities, be unable to obtain credit from other sources, including the regular loan program of the Farmers Home Administration, and show a reasonable promise of succeeding in the enterprise to be financed by the loan.

A cooperative, to be eligible, must be primarily composed of and serve low-income rural families and be unable to obtain credit from other sources.

About 3.5 million families in rural areas across the country, including 500,000 farm families, are unable to obtain credit to develop income-increasing enterprises. The new credit program is budgeted at $35,000,000 for the current fiscal year.

In addition to the new credit service, the Farmers Home Administration serves all rural counties in Texas with loans to finance farm operations, buy and enlarge farms, construct rural housing and develop community water systems, recreation areas and grazing land. It also provides a program of emergency loans, watershed loans and rural renewal loans.

HOUSEMOVING

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

©Coleman Adv. Ser., P. O. Box 20067, Dallas 20, Texas

This house was moved to make way for a new super freeway. A city in progress creates many changes. The owners, no doubt, hated to change their location, and dreaded pulling up life-long roots. St. Paul would help in situations like these when he said, "For I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content." Phillipians 4:11. The Lord will help us in new situations and new surroundings. He has promised to be with us in all things.

After getting settled, it is good to find a church home with people of like faith. No new neighborhood seems lonely if you can be with people who have the love of God in their hearts.

"Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together," (Hebrews 10:25a) is a wise saying. We invite you to attend the church in your community this week.
