

Insurance rates drop with better fire protection

The city of Morton has been in the "protected class" and will enjoy a reduction in insurance rates as soon as administrative details are worked out, according to a letter from George C. Wiley, Chief Engineer with the State Board of Insurance in Austin. The letter was received by Mayor Dean Weatherly and read to the city council at Monday night's meeting in city hall. The letter read, in part, "The recent waterworks and distribution system (in Morton) are certainly a credit to your city and your water supply, ground (water) storage facilities, service pumps and elevated storage tanks are adequate to meet our requirements at this time." Morton voters approved a bond issue for these additional and improved facilities and many months of work have gone into the achievements noted in the letter.

The letter mentioned several items which, if corrected, will provide even lower insurance rates here. The letter stated, "You are now charged for over 40% combustible roofs in the residential sections. If you believe that the actual percentage is less than this please follow the instructions on the enclosed blanks in making an actual block by block count." By meeting time last Monday night, this had already been done door-to-door, one house at a time, and it had been determined that there were only 18 1/2% combustible roofs in Morton. The forms had already been prepared and were ready to mail at that time.

The letter stated that fire hydrants should be painted a "distinctive" color and this project has been in progress several days already and is nearing completion.

The letter said a city "the size of Morton should have at least 2,000 feet of serviceable 2 1/2 inch double jacketed hose on hand at all times. The hose was ordered at the time of the re-inspection and is now on the fire truck ready to attach and use.

The city is planning to send two firemen and the fire marshal to the Annual Firemen's Training School at College Station and has ordered fire fighting manuals as prescribed for firemen. The letter said all fire hydrants should be flushed, oiled and greased every 90 days. Written orders are to be issued to this effect and a copy of the letter sent to the state officials.

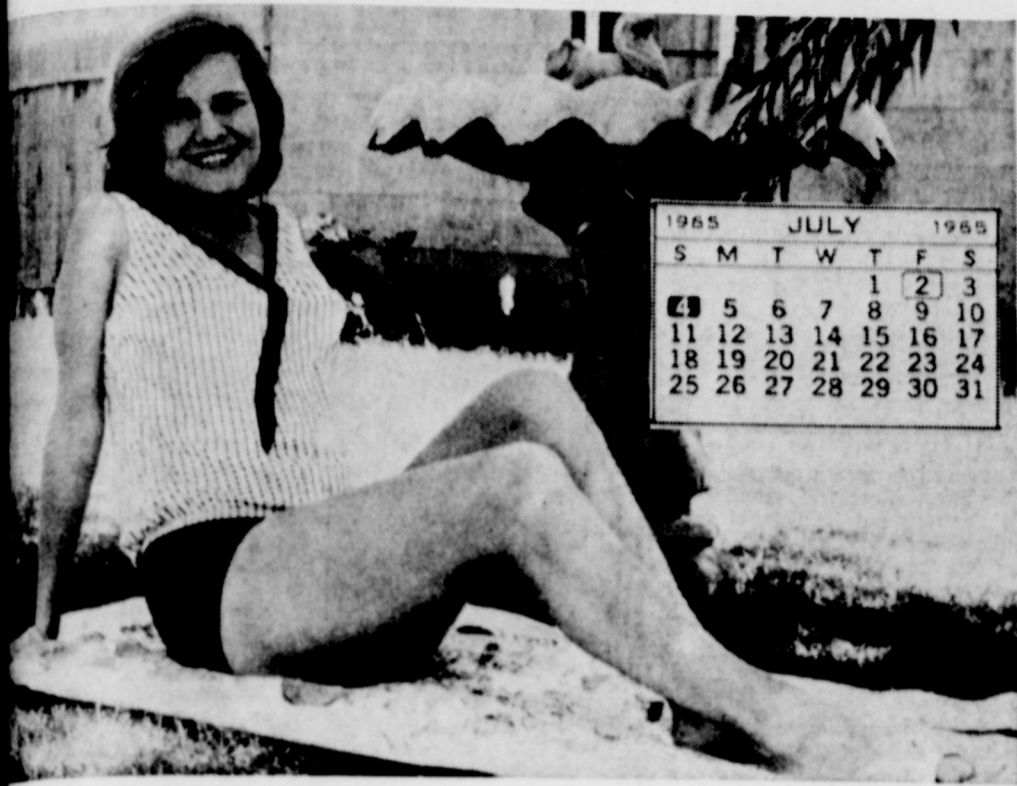

The letter also pointed out that the old Ford pumper "is of doubtful reliability due to its age and would not pass the required capacity and pressure tests. We recommend that this truck be replaced as soon as possible . . . this would eliminate a two-cent penalty now in order." It was decided, since this truck is a reserve or "extra" to supplement the main truck, and since a new truck would cost several thousand dollars, the city would suffer this two-cent penalty for now rather than buy a new truck.

The State Board of Insurance letter also stated that fire hydrants in the mercantile district are 24% deficient in number" and "there should be a fire hydrant at every street intersection in this area, thereby avoiding the two-cent penalty" on this. It was decided to check cost of doing this and to try to place new hydrants as the city could if the cost was not too great.

The letter stated that the fire hydrants in Morton were found to be in good condition and well maintained during the recent re-inspection. The fire department was found to be meeting, training and drilling properly and responding to calls efficiently.

festation in more than a year and a half with 46 confirmed cases reported", Thompson warned. Thompson said authorities were convinced the new cases were a result of fertile flies from Mexico invading this country. Most cases so far have been within 100 miles of the Mexican border but this week cases have been reported as deep into the interior of Texas as Sterling, Glasscock, Culberson and Wilson counties and next week could see the flies boring into Cochran county cow flesh, Thompson pointed out that one undetected case in this county could infect a whole herd and neighboring herds and within a short time we could have 10,000 cases resulting from one original one that went undetected and was allowed to produce fertile male and female flies. Water use is at all-time high in Morton

Morton city council heard the May report on water pumped in the city at the council meeting Monday night in city hall. According to the report, 877,850 gallons were pumped per average day with one day going to 1,794,000 gallons, as far as is known this is an all time high for one day's water usage in Morton. It was stated at the meeting that if Morton had not installed its extra water storage facilities, May could have almost exhausted supplies and placed water in the critical category in the city at that time.

Morton street improvements rank with best

Finishing touches . . .

STATE CREWS FINISH UP on Morton streets putting the traffic strips in showing cars the proper patterns to follow in negotiating their way through downtown Morton. This picture was taken on the east side of the courthouse looking toward the Tribune office, to the left background. All through traffic in Morton can go all the way through town now on four way lanes going each way. Yellow lines in the center show drivers where one four way ends and the other four way going the other way begins. White lines indicate lanes within the yellow zone patterns.

State crews were in Morton this week adding the final finishing touches to a long list of major and minor street improvements by painting in the yellow lines, which motorizing Mortonites are not supposed to cross and the white lines indicating individual auto lanes or "channels" within the single direction zones on either side of the yellow dividers.

Motorists can now travel all the way through Morton, east and west or north and south or any combination of these and be on streets that provide four lanes for traffic in each direction all the way through town. In other words, all through streets now have eight lanes, total, four in each direction.

South of the traffic light on the square, the city tore out curbs and other obstructions and the state set the street back eight feet wider. Highway 116 running east and west through town was completely torn out including some of the sub-grade and all new construction and surfacing installed with a wider distance between gutters on each side. All new materials were used for the new base and surface, according to Elzie Brown, Texas State Maintenance Foreman in Cochran county who was in charge of the project here.

The materials used as well as the increased width of streets were designed to provide for larger cars, heavier trucks, faster speeds and other changes in auto traffic on today's city streets.

Besides the improvements within the city limits, highway 116 was resurfaced and covered with a high quality rock surface all the way west to the state line. The fine, wide highway starting at the

City buys new police car from low bidder

Morton city council voted to buy new police car from Hawkins Mobile Company of Morton Monday night. Two bids were received and Hawkins was low bidder at 14 cents under Chevrolet. Morton Ford dealer declined the bid and it was stated that the company was to change the first of the month. The city advertised that it would accept the lowest bid, considerable discussion followed acceptance of the Oldsmobile as to which of the two was the "best" with a price of only 14 cents. Allsup Oldsmobile bid $1,161.36 and Hawkins bid $1,161.22, both were with the old police car trade-in. The old car was a 1964 Chevrolet. After the bids had been opened, and checked with the specifications set forth in the bid, and after some discussion, Councilman Tom Rowden moved the bid be accepted. Elma Weatherly seconded the motion and the bid was accepted. Mayor Weatherly declined to vote

One free beer for Morton sheriff via pant leg

Ever have someone pour your pockets full of cold beer on a hot Sunday afternoon? Well, that is just one of the pleasures of being a sheriff in a dry, west Texas county, Sheriff Hazel Hancock found out last Sunday — "smelled pretty awful as it dried out". A station wagon made a peculiar turn at the red light on Morton's square late last Sunday afternoon — not an illegal turn but "suspicious". The men in the police car decided to investigate. They stopped the car near the Roman Catholic Church of St. Ann's and checked. Manual G. Rodriguez and Faustino Cordova Hernandez, occupants of the car, were taken to jail and later fined $25 and turned loose. Confiscated were several tall, quart bottles of Lone Star beer. A little three year old boy, son of Hernandez, was in the back seat of the car enjoying the ride with his father and uncle. At the sheriff's office, an opened but still full can of beer was deposited upside down in the sheriff's pants pocket by the boy who was thereafter taken immediately home to his mother, wife of Hernandez and sister of the wife of the other man, Rodriguez. All other government activity waited until the little boy was home — "safe" with his mother. Accommodations were provided over the weekend in the county jail for 17 men charged with being drunk in Morton. Three were Anglos and 14 were Spanish. Morton's colored population was unrepresented and set a good example for the other Mortonites to follow.

Draft quota will go up

Local Board 4 of Selective Service has a quota of 16 men to be drafted in July with 25 to be given pre-induction physical examinations, according to Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director. Most of those to be drafted in Morton will be 22 years old and men who do not have children and are not married. The quota for July for the state of Texas will be 908, the highest in four years, Schwartz said. The quota for June, by comparison, is 895. The national quota for July is 17,100 men, all for the Army. It is expected that a major portion of the quota for this area will be filled by volunteers ages 19 through 25. Most of those taken will be 22 years old. About 4,820 men will be given mental and physical examinations in Texas during July for the draft.

Jesse T. George, Morton Chamber of Commerce manager, met Wednesday noon this week with the Board of Directors of the Levelland Chamber of Commerce to explain the proposed widening of Highway 116 through Morton from Lubbock to Highway 70 just north of Roswell. George told the Levelland people that the proposed development should attract tourist traffic thru this area and would connect Reese Air Force Base near Lubbock to the base in Roswell, as a facility for use in national defense for saving time in traveling between these large installations. He also pointed out that the proposed highway extension and widening would result in more commercial traffic in this area and aid the growth and prosperity of the entire area affected.

Lunch room fees voted up at Morton schools

Lunch room fees at Morton schools were increased five cents per meal by the Board of Education to 35 cents for grade school students and 40 cents for junior and senior high, according to Mr. Ray Lanier, Superintendent of the Morton Schools. The Board of Education meets the third Monday of each month at eight o'clock in the school building in the office of the Supt. of Schools. Meetings are open to the public.

Mrs. W. M. Plemons, widow of the mayor of Smiley, who died just recently told George her husband had always favored the development of a through-highway in this area, east to west, and that she would aid in any way she could in carrying out the project. It is hoped to widen 116 to four lanes to the state line through Morton as soon as possible and to induce New Mexico to extend a new highway straight thru to the proposed intersection with 70 later. George is in the process of setting up a meeting for the people of Reese, Whiteface, Levelland, Roswell, Levelland and Morton to attend jointly to consider the new highway. This will be one in a series he hopes to talk to in getting the people organized along the route.

July 2-5 celebration planned at Muleshoe

MULESHOE—Mules, those fast disappearing, much maligned beasts of burden, will literally have their day in this west Texas town July 2, 3, 4, and 5.

Muleshoe will play long overdue homage to the mule, to all mules, for the unsung role they played in the pioneering and building of America in a four-day celebration.

The program begins July 2 with a trail ride to the old Muleshoe Ranch headquarters where a historical plaque will be dedicated. Participating in the trail ride will be the famous Rolling Plains Mule Train, plus other riders mounted on both mules and horses. On July 3, a fly-in breakfast, followed by an air show will start the day. Area pioneers will meet and enjoy a style show of pioneer fashions at 10. At noon, the highlight of the day takes place in the square at the north end of main street. This is the unveiling of a life size monument to the American mule.

Sculptured of fiberglass, the statue is modeled after "Old Pete", one of a span of mules still working in Muleshoe. Attorney General Waggoner Carr will deliver the dedicatory address. An unusual parade, featuring mules, antique vehicles, and floats will make its way down Main Street. Carrying out the historical theme of the celebration, a buffalo and beef barbecue will be served at 7 p. m., followed by a historical pageant and brief fireworks display in the football stadium.

On Sunday, July 5, activities begin with sunrise church services at the campsite of the mule train, and in the afternoon an antique car parade and contest, and performance of a junior rodeo. The day concludes with an American Heritage musical program at 7:30 in the First Baptist Church.

July 5, the final day, is marked by a huge talent contest and entertainment in the football stadium where a picnic supper will be held.

Invasion

Thompson said anyone who wanted them could obtain bottles from him or from Frank Bennett for use in sending in suspected flies to the laboratory in Mission, Texas. The bottles bear franked postage and cost nothing to mail. If the lab finds the contents of the bottle to be screwworms, immediate action will be taken in the area on a big scale to stop further infestation.

When a screwworm is found, cattle are sprayed free and all the cattle belonging to all the neighbors are sprayed, too.

The female fly breeds only once, ordinarily, in her life time. Thousands of infertile male flies that have been treated with cobalt to render them sterile are released in hopes these will breed before the fertile, normal males reach the females. Special emergency quantities of these infertile males are being released now over an 8,000 square mile area west of San Antonio. 150 million of these a week is the goal for release in this area.

A new sterile fly distribution center is being established near Yuma, Arizona from which screwworm outbreaks in Arizona and California will be treated.

A relatively mild winter and a wet, favorable spring have contributed to the screwworm buildup, officials believe. Officials say they are satisfied with the surveillance and reporting being done by Texas farmers and ranchers and the number of samples being sent in but want no let-up, especially, Thompson wants increased surveillance in the Cochran area for "our own good — we don't want that problem here if we can help it", he said.

state line makes a dramatic change for the motorist as he leaves New Mexico and sees his first Texas highway. The contrast is startling. Brown says, "We like to give all the other states a run for their money, to do things just a little better in Texas."

Brown says his crew maintains 2,400 acres of highway in Cochran county, one of the smaller counties of the 17 county Lubbock District.

Angle parking was abandoned in part of downtown Morton as the request of the Highway Department and parallel parking substituted to provide more driving room in the streets. With angle parking, a person is half way out of his parking position before he can see what is coming, Brown explained. The change in parking procedure is a big safety factor in a number of ways and makes the street wider at no extra expense providing needed driving room for our modern traffic.

Brown pointed out that Texas builds only as it can pay for it. "When you see these new streets and street improvements, be glad to know that it is already paid for by the time it is finished — we have the money before we start a project, so don't be afraid your taxes will sky-rocket."

Not too many years ago, Texas ranked near "worst" in the nation in highways but today, it is near the top among the states in the quality of its highways and is in the competition very definitely for first place honor.

New year begins for Cochran Garden Club

The Cochran County Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Willie Taylor June 21, 1965. Mrs. Charles Jones, President, was in charge of this, the first meeting of the new club year.

Projects Chairman, Mrs. Don Workman, read the list of projects and committees for the year. The Club voted as a project to hold a bake sale for fund raising.

Mrs. Roy Hill, Flower Show Chairman, read the schedule and theme for the Artistic Division of the Annual Flower Show to be held on October 8th.

The Litterbug Chairman, Mrs. Joe Gipson, reported on the cleanup campaign being conducted in Morton and Whiteface.

The Club voted to frame and hang the award certificate, which was won for Civic Beautification of the hospital grounds, in the Chamber of Commerce office for six months and then permanently in the lobby of the hospital.

Mrs. W. B. McSpadden gave the following Delegates Report from the State Garden Club Convention which was recently attended by five Cochran County Garden Club members:

"In the Desert's Endless Space Nature Reigns Supreme" was the theme for the 37th annual Spring Meeting held in El Paso on May 18, 19, 20 of 1965. The report was written in verse form and contained a minimum of 1500 words.

The program for the evening was titled, "Preserving the Jewels of Nature." Mrs. Wayne Porter presented "Choice of Materials" for arranging. She stated the three types of materials and their uses as follows: Spike material — the long slender tapering materials such as gladiolus, larkspur, stock, etc., which are used to form the skeleton of the arrangement. They also give height, width and airiness and background. The spray material — used for filler areas in mass arrangements and to give volume and third dimension, are materials such as seed pods, small fruit or berries, small chrysanthemums, asters, and some leaves of interest and is material with the flowers growing on the end of the stem such as roses, zinnias, carnations, lilies and iris.

Mrs. J. L. Schooler presented rules and suggestions on "The conditioning of materials." She said, "This is very important, because who wants to create an artistic design and then minutes later it's wilted." Some of the rules listed were: 1. Water flower beds the night before cutting. 2. Cut early in the morning or late in the afternoon. 3. Cut with a sharp blade on a slant. 4. Strip the bottom 1/3 of the foliage. 5. Garry water in a bucket to the garden and immediately plunge the stems in water. 6. Condition, or soak, in deep water at least 3 hours or overnight. 7. Place blossoms up to their necks in water. 8. Place foliage under water. 9. Cut flower at their prime (bud stage to partly open).

Members attending were Messdames C. B. Jones, Hessie B. Spotts, Truett McCouston, Joe Gipson, Jug Hill, R. L. DeBusk, Wayne Porter, J. L. Schooler, Charles Jones, Clyde Brownlow, Murray Crone, Roy Hill, Don Workman, Bill Hovey, Willie Taylor, Bobby Travis and W. B. McSpadden. Mrs. Earl Brownlow was a guest for the meeting. The next meeting will be August 16th in the home of Mrs. Clyde Brownlow.

Changes in faculty of schools are announced

Ray Lanier, Morton Superintendent of Schools, stated this week that the following teachers have resigned and will not be teaching in Morton next year: Mrs. Bulah Cross, Mr. Dave Corley, Mrs. Elvia Fleming, Mr. J. J. Jenkins, Mr. Wilbur Morgan, and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith. Mrs. J. C. Shelton retired and will not be teaching next year.

New teachers who have been employed thus far for next school term in Morton schools include: W. D. Harrison, auto mechanics teacher; Mrs. Linda Houston, first grade; Mrs. Mary Jane Houghton, special education.

There will be two less teachers next year than last year. Due to drop in average daily attendance, Morton lost one teacher. The second teacher was dropped as an effort toward economy and was accomplished by moving the driving part of driver education to summer school. Formerly, one teacher was required in class and one full-time in the car teaching students to drive. The driving portion of the course was set up for summer and class room work during the winter thus enabling the schools to use only one teacher rather than two.

Still to be employed is a physics-chemistry teacher, Lanier said.

construction work with no help except verbal. Dad can tell him how but can't use his hands except to talk with. The car, with the boy in it, must weigh not more than 250 pounds. First inspection of cars to enter the race will be July 1 so Andy is working just as hard and fast as he can.

The Club is the Three Way Lions Club but often meets in Maple. George is the State Representative from this district to the legislature in Austin.

Wednesday, George spoke to the summer school civics class in Morton high school on "How a bill becomes a law". George told members of the class some of the things "you don't see printed in the text book" on just how bills are introduced and finally become laws.

On July 8, George will speak to the Optimist club in Brownfield and on July 6 to the Hockley County Farm Bureau in Levelland. On July 3 and 4 he will be in Muleshoe for the unveiling of the new statue to the mule there.

NEW FRONTIERS

We are preparing a completely new way of life for our children. Every day we hear talk of rockets and missiles. This is truly the space age. However, history has taught us that man's need for God is ever present, and new frontiers have never changed this.

TAKE YOUR FAMILY TO CHURCH

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The prospective bridegroom is a 1961 graduate of Lincoln High School, Brooklyn, New York and is a senior engineering major at New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, New Mexico.

Mr. Jim Fowler, District Manager of the General Telephone Company with headquarters in Brownfield, attended Morton City council meeting Monday night to discuss the proposed elimination of toll charges between Morton and Pettit and Bula.

Fowler said the recent telephone outage during the rain storm here was caused by water entering the cable. Fowler said electrolysis had set in on the lead covering and a section of the sheathing had been removed. The company blows special dry air thru the cable to prevent water or moisture from being a problem in the cable, ordinarily, but this time, the sheathing was off and the air could not be circulated. When instruments showed the system was ground out by water, they could not trace the point of contact nor would dry air eliminate it.

The telephone system failure during the emergency also caused the sirens and other emergency equipment to fail in Morton.

Fowler said the failure here would not ordinarily have occurred and should not happen again in the future.

It was decided not to poll the people of Morton on the proposed tollfree service until definite figures could be obtained on the cost per subscriber. Rate increases would probably run several cents a month for Morton telephone users if the proposal is accepted by all concerned.

City seeks approved water supply

The city of Morton will seek to obtain an "Approved Water Supply" certified by the State Health Department, according to discussion at last Monday night's city council meeting.

Morton has failed to qualify for an "Approved" water supply in the past because of a variety of deficiencies which have, it is believed, all to be corrected now except for leakage in the city's underground water storage tank. The State Health Department says if the underground tank should become empty or seriously depleted, as during severe drought, then, if heavy rains fell, the leaks could allow outside water to enter the tank and contaminate the water in it.

Leaks in the tank are caused by cracks in the cement and estimates have run as high as $5,000 for repairs which would not be guaranteed if they were done. Council members voted to investigate possibilities of getting a guaranteed job done, if possible for a price of about half the amount of the work discussed previously.

Mayor Dean Weatherly stated that Morton should definitely have an approved water supply and that it was "silly" that Morton did not have it now. Weatherly said many towns had to get their water from lakes and other sources and would never be able to qualify but that Morton with its "excellent" deep well water sources certainly should be able to find a way to have an approved system.

TABY bowlers honored at banquet Friday night

"Take the life you have in your hands, and do what you think God would have you do with it," was the challenge hurled at those attending the 1965 TABY banquet Friday night by Lyndon Lee, state director for the Texas Association of Bowling Youth.

Lee, former All-American cage star from Oklahoma was the main speaker at the banquet which honored two individual state champion bowlers from Morton, Donnie Dewbre, BPAA scholarship winner; Pam Reynolds, Class B girls singles winner; and the Bantam team, consisting of David Ramby, Tony Dickey, Dub Hill, Ronnie Studdard, and Haskell Lamar, also state champs.

Jesse T. George, manager of Morton Area Chamber of Commerce and State Representative, served as master of ceremonies for the event, which attracted some 130 persons. Rev. Fred Thomas gave the invocation. Following the meal, Don Lamar, manager of Frontier Lanes, welcomed the group, and said he had enjoyed working with the TABY group, and watching them improve. "It is a real honor for Frontier Lanes to be represented in the tournaments this year by a fine group of youngsters such as these," Lamar concluded.

Wilma Morrison, coach of the Morton TABYS, praised the parents of the participants in the program. "You've really been wonderful," Mrs. Morrison said to the parents. "We always had plenty of transportation and volunteer help." Mrs. Morrison also went on to praise the youngsters in the bowling program. She said that they had all learned to take defeat, and that those who were winners were very humble about it.

Awards were presented to recipients by Al Springer. Although medals had not arrived in time for presentation, numerous trophies were handed out. A surprise presentation by Jug Hill on behalf of the parents of the bantams was made to Mrs. Morrison. Terry Harris, representing the TABY bowlers, presented Mrs. Morrison with another gift.

In his short but impressive talk, Mr. Lee pointed out that the Morton bantams, who set a state record as well as winning the state crown, were competing against 2300 boys. Miss Reynolds was in a field of 850 girls in her division, and Dewbre defeated 63 bowlers in his division of the state tournaments.

Lee pointed out three things that an athlete must have in order for them to win awards. An athlete must have 1) a competitive spirit; 2) he must learn to be a good sport; 3) he must do the best that he can with what he has to work with. He elaborated on each point, often times using personal experiences for examples.

Lee then broke down the word "awards", using each letter to represent more attributes that a person must have to win awards. Among those he mentioned were ambition; attendance at whatever they were doing; hard work, in school as in their other projects; the right kind of attitude; being able to handle reverses; determination, and finally, success.

Mr. Lee concluded by saying that he hoped that the traits the Morton TABY bowlers had would carry over into other sports and into life in general.

The program closed with the benediction by Rev. Charles Gates.

MORTON, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1965

Independence Day

Independence Day is Sunday. And many a person will wistfully and nostalgically wonder, "Whatever became of the old-time Fourth of July?"

There are various answers. The urbanization of the country is one. Mobility which, whatever its attractions, makes for family rootlessness is another. The enormous distractions of the present age are still another. And so is a preoccupation with material things which tends to obscure simpler and often more profound virtues.

At any rate, the Fourth our fathers knew was a special and unique observance. It was a happy combination of fun and reverence for the men and principles that make up our rich history. The flag flew everywhere. The speakers' stands in the town squares blazed with bunting, and the bands tirelessly played patriotic airs. Fireworks exploded endlessly, ranging from the ubiquitous firecracker to stunning set pieces celebrating great events of the past. It was a wonderful day for young and old.

Not the least of its attractions were the fiery addresses, made by well-known public figures of the time. Some of these, needless to say, were of a low oratorical level. But all of them had one thing in common. They paid tribute to freedom, and how it was won, and what was needed to maintain and defend it. The theme was patriotism—dedicated, unabashed. And every listener went away with a little better knowledge of our inheritance as a people and a little more determination to keep the spirit of the founders alive.

The old-time celebrations will be few and far between this year. But, whatever we do, wherever we go on that day, let us take a moment to think what freedom and independence, in the fullest sense of those words, mean—and let us determine that our heritage shall never be lost.

Do-it-yourself Job

For a preview of what lies ahead for the 19 states with Right to Work laws, should our Congressmen fail to support Taft-Hartley's Section 14(b), there is the night of June 10 at Garrett, Ind.

Here, in this state that had but recently repealed its Right to Work law—the pious assertion of union bosses that this was the way to peace and tranquility, two to three hundred goons of both sexes besieged a struck electrical equipment plant and held prisoner 70 workers, mostly women, through a night of terror.

Practically all of the plant windows were smashed, according to the Chicago Tribune report, the captive workers being cut and bruised by flying glass and stones. Thirteen workers' cars were damaged, one destroyed by a gasoline bomb. An estimated 30 to 40 fires were set by railroad flares and gasoline bombs—in an abandoned church nearby, on the factory loading dock and variously around the plant.

The Garrett fire department responded to four calls to put out fires at the plant, and once to a false alarm that sent the fire-fighters to another part of town while a fire was set at the plant. This and other blazes were extinguished by police, on-lookers and even pickets. The violence, which began at six p.m., continued unchecked until three a.m. when Mayor C. E. Miller ordered the plant closed "for the safety and welfare of the community."

We are reminded by Executive Vice President Reed Larson of the National Right to Work Committee that these results of repeal in Indiana fail to support the testimony of Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz before a House Labor Subcommittee only two months ago. He called for repeal of 14(b)—which is that part of the Taft-Hartley Act that reaffirms the right of States to ban compulsory union membership—as "a very real contribution to industrial peace." It's repeal would remove, he said, "one of the most serious sources of bitter labor-management suspicion and conflict."

Mr. Larson feels that since Secretary Wirtz is so obviously wrong, he ought to say so, and urge Congressmen to preserve 14(b)—and to defend those 19 states where workers do not have to pay job-ent in union dues against the wave of violence that repeal would touch off.

However, this is a job we think the voters can handle better for themselves—if they get at it QUICK!

Letter to the editor . .

Dear Editor,

On behalf of the Texas Society for Crippled Children and Adults, we extend to you and your staff many thanks for making known the needs and hopes of crippled children and adults in Texas during the 1965 Easter Seal Campaign.

By telling their story so effectively through your news and feature columns, you have helped to assure success of the 1965 fund appeal, as well as the continuing operation of broad rehabilitation services provided for the physically handicapped through Easter Seal funds.

By reflecting understanding and support of the disabled, you and your paper have also helped immeasurably in creating a greater public acceptance of the handicapped.

We and those we serve are grateful to you.

COW POKES

"Smile Jake, the audience thinks you're part of the clown act!"

VIEWS . . of other editors

Forgive us our shortcomings

The average reader may not realize it, but newspaper people sometimes do some serious self-examination and soul-searching.

For instance, we sometimes wonder: Is this story important enough to publish? Is this editorial sound enough in its reasoning to deserve reading? Is this whole newspaper good enough to be circulated to the public? Or should we wait until we can do a better job of it before we publish anything?

Sometimes, it seems that the readers think every bit of the paper should be perfect before it is printed. Of course, it would be nice if it could be that way. But, how many others are perfect in everything they do? Does the farmer, for instance, get a perfect stand in every corn field? Does he always apply exactly the right amount of fertilizer at the right time? Does he refuse to harvest the crop unless it is perfect in every respect?

We in the profession of journalism know that our papers are never as good as we would like for them to be. Some of us, at least, carry a burden on our consciences because they are not better. Most of us continually hunt for ways to make them better.

But please don't expect them to be perfect. Try to understand that newspapers, like every other product of human beings, are not and can not be perfect. In fact, because what we do is published for the public to see, our imperfections are sometimes better known than any others.

So, we hope you will deal gently with us as you judge the result of our efforts.

McLean County (Ky.) News

Growth in the Southwest
The population growth in Texas from 1965 to 1975 is projected to be on an average for the growth in the United States. After being in both Houston and Dallas within the past month, however, these figures seem to be unreasonably low. Both cities are constantly changing and the building boom is something phenomenal.

Buildings are reaching higher into the heavens and housing is spreading out over the countryside. Both cities give one a feeling of growth and vitality. One is also aware of the quantities of money being spent in these cities. A million-dollar building in either city would not turn a head, for the natives of both cities are used to huge skyscrapers costing many times that amount.

The next ten years promise a business boom for the Southwest. In Texas there is a need for almost every line of production. Our major cities are already experiencing this growth; now it is spreading out into the rural areas. This growth is not limited to groups of retired people, as in the Harlingen area, but is taking place in actual manufacturing of new products.

Beeville will come to the front in this period also. As soon as our airport is finished, there will be business men on our streets looking over building sites. These men fly in private company planes and time is essential in their deals. The development of a junior college in our area will also prove an inducement to industry. In other areas such colleges have been used to teach certain trades such as machinists' work or sewing techniques, which are required by certain industries.

We have housing available, a large but untrained working force, and all the necessary ingredients as far as natural resources are concerned. Thus, it is up to us to provide all the extra inducements we can. One thing in our favor as to future growth is that a man coming into our area and building a large industrial plant would be the big man in the community. In Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, San Antonio, or Corpus Christi, he would be just another resident.

With the vast growth in cities all around us, the rural areas are becoming more desirable. Beeville and Bee County can continue to grow if we keep pace with other rural areas.

Understanding Viet Nam

We have the suspicion that a great many Americans do not quite understand the situation in Viet Nam where American soldiers are being committed in ever-increasing numbers.

The pacifists and liberal intellectuals who are demonstrating demanding that the United States vacate Viet Nam or "negotiate" are only adding to the confusion.

We heard a small town newspaperman from Tennessee speak at the National Editorial Association meeting in Dallas last week and he gave us the picture of the fighting in Viet Nam as we had not caught it before.

It came as a surprise to us to learn that the Americans and their friends in South Viet Nam actually control less territory now than they did a year ago.

We had wondered why the United States couldn't just mass an attack and mop up the country, which is only from 50 to 150 miles wide, with a seacoast all along the east side of it.

The reason we can't is because this is dense jungle, so dense that a man with a machete can make about 75 yards a day of hard travel.

Communications are non-existent for the most part and there is but one railroad and a few highways, all of which are cut off most of the time.

South Viet Nam is a collection of villages, and a collection of provinces about the size of Texas counties. Each province runs its own government. There may be an anti-communist leader in one province and a communist leader in the province next to it. The soldiers of South Viet Nam and of North Viet Nam look alike and are alike.

The people of South Viet Nam don't recognize a "government" like we do because it changes all the time. They feel secure with their own province leader, and as a result the war in South Viet Nam is fought mostly on a local level.

There is no "front" or line of battle in Viet Nam. Instead, there are pockets of communist resistance, the Viet Cong, all over the country. There can be fighting in one province and residents of another province five miles away won't know a thing about it.

The helicopter is the only vehicle that can transport men and materials in the way that Americans are used to transporting them.

The war in Viet Nam is frustrating war, one unlike any that we have been in before. And it is taking more of our men all the time. There are about 80,000 American soldiers in Viet Nam now. President Johnson and Secretary McNamara say "We will do what is necessary to achieve our objective."

Our objective is to stay there, to defeat the Viet Cong and turn a free country over to South Viet Nam. Before that objective is reached, there will be a lot of bloody fighting to be done. But it must be done because the alternative is to pull out and turn the country over to the Communists. That is what the fighting is all about.

Organization, planning pays off

Post, like dozens of other Texas towns and cities, has given considerable thought to its leadership level over the past few years to the development of an industrial foundation to promote industry.

Andrews is the latest West Texas city to jump onto the industrial foundation bandwagon. It took the final steps last week to form such a non-profit corporation. It has developed over the last few months from efforts of the Andrews Chamber of Commerce industrial contacts team.

The prime objective of this industrial foundation, just as it is the objective of all others, is to "create payrolls" by offering material assistance and services to existing or prospective industrial firms.

The foundation will work closely with the Chamber of Commerce and its industrial committee at Andrews, but is a part of neither. It's a group of private citizens, "A separation of the two groups," it was pointed out in the Andrews County News, "provides a system of checks and balances."

The foundation there has the responsibility of approving or disapproving loan applications while the Chamber's contacts team has the responsibility of selling the community.

The Andrews County News containing the story hit our desk Saturday morning from the same mail which produced our copy of the June Texas Ideas Newsletter from the Texas Industrial Commission.

The newsletter listed 31 new firms which have located in Texas in the preceding month. Not all of them went to Dallas or Houston either, although the two big cities got 14 of them. Neighboring Snyder landed the Niver Western Wear, Inc., plant and Hereford bagged Tide Products, Inc., to name a couple in this area.

But what caught our eye in the newsletter were two other items. One reported that a new booklet, Scope and Activities of Industrial Foundations in Texas, in the Economic Opportunity Series No. 6, has been published by the Texas Industrial Commission and is a study by Carl W. Hale, industrial economist with the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, which analyzes the action programs of Texas industrial development corporations and can be used as a guide in designing and projected community industrial financing programs.

The other item was a mention of the TIC's community development program which will be initiated in September. One of the TIC staff will journey to the industrial development agencies of Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana next month to get ideas in working up the new community development program.

The Dispatch editorially mentions all of this, not because our Chamber of Commerce isn't working on industrial development, but because of the need to generate community-wide spirit and enthusiasm for such a program.

The Chamber is at work, and stays at work on industrial and community development. Now that White River water is in Post mains and a future water supply is assured for the first time in the city's history, it's time to swing our whole community behind the industrial development.

We must first encourage the industry we have and then seek ad-

Highlights and Sidelights —

Challenge redistricting plans

AUSTIN, Tex. — Two of the three redistricting plans passed by the last Legislature soon will come under courtroom attacks.

In a legislative redistricting case in Houston, motions will be filed asking that the new plan for dividing Texas into 150 districts for the House of Representatives be declared unconstitutional.

State Republican Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. has announced that the Harris County plaintiffs in the Congressional redistricting case, headed by George Bush, will drop out of active roles in the case because that county was treated fairly in the redistricting plan.

But the Republicans plan to bring in new plaintiffs from Dallas, Bexar, Tarrant, Midland, Ector, Jefferson, Orange and Brazoria Counties to try to convince the three-judge federal court in Houston that the new law violates several appointment principles.

On legislative redistricting, state Reps. Jake Johnson of San Antonio and Robert C. Eckhardt of Houston who joined in the suit which led to present reapportionment procedures being declared unconstitutional, will ask the court to say that the new plan violates the U. S. Constitution, too.

Main attack is expected to be purely on the question of whether county-wide districts with more than one legislator serve to discriminate against minority racial and political groups.

No attack is expected on the plan passed to divide the Texas Senate into 31 new districts.

AUTO RATES TO GO UP — A State Insurance Board public hearing confirmed the earlier warning that auto insurance rates will go up an average of some 13.4 per cent on August 1.

Actually, new rates for property damage, liability and collision lines carried by most motorists will be increased more than 20 per cent in most areas.

A rising toll from traffic accidents is blamed for the hike.

Insured drivers paid $404,000,000 in premiums last year against $198,000,000 settled by companies on claims. Another $16,000,000 in pay-outs is pending. Board decides premiums should go up when more than 63 cents of the premium dollar goes to pay claims and adjustment costs.

BUILDING, SALES DOWN — Texas building and retail sales dropped off in May, according to UT's Bureau of Business Research.

Sales fell off about one per cent from the April level, in contrast to a normal seasonal gain of about three per cent. The January-May total is four per cent above the same period for 1964 but has not kept pace with the nationwide increase. Trade is expected to improve with repeal of federal excise taxes.

Building authorizations decreased 13 per cent last month to the second-lowest level in the last 12 months.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court affirmed Court of Civil Appeals finding that the two-year-old law which placed bonded liquor exporters along the Mexico border under state regulation is unconstitutional.

In two separate opinions — from Harris and Matagorda counties — court held that holders of hurricane insurance policies which specifically excluded water damage coverage could not collect for flood water damages to their homes from the Sept. 11, 1961, Hurricane Carla.

AG SPEAKES — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has held that San Marcos Consolidated Independent School District cannot use Martindale District tax assessments for 1965, though the districts have consolidated. All property throughout the district must be assessed at an equal and uniform rate, Carr concluded.

In other opinions, the attorney ruled:

Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner may not approve a credit union as a depository for other credit unions;

Dallas County Junior College may contract with the county tax assessor-collector to assess and collect its ad valorem taxes; and

In time of national emergency, the governor has authority to disditional industry to supplement it. All towns and cities are payroll hunting. Through the Texas Industrial Commission, many tools and aids are being provided.

Our next logical step appears to be getting down to the organization of an industrial development corporation for Post. It will require some months of effort. But there is no better time to start than now.

A positive attitude toward this community's future is essential if Post is to go forward. The best way to develop it at the grassroots level is to get everybody working together in the broad and hazardous field of industrial development.

It is not an easy road, but organization and planning pays off handsomely in this field for the winners. How about it?

rect implementation of the merger resources management plan to order state agencies to assume their responsibilities and to create a "state executive reserve."

APPOINTMENTS — Gov. John Connally has named Dist. Atty. Edwin F. Berliner of El Paso to the new 171st District Court, which goes into operation on September 1. He appointed W. Barton Boling, El Paso lawyer, to succeed Berliner as district attorney.

Connally appointed Garrett Morris, Fort Worth attorney and insurance executive, to Texas Public Safety Commission to succeed J. Jacobsen, Austin attorney who recently joined President Johnson's staff. Morris is a native of Nocona.

Commission establishes plans and policies for Department of Public Safety, state law enforcement agency.

UT LANDS LEASED — University of Texas leased 47,014 acres of land for $10,106,000 at the 50th public auction of oil and gas leases.

Active bids were drawn on 150 of 167 tracts offered. All leases were made for five-year terms and a one-sixth royalty on mineral production. Highest and second highest bids — $260,000 and $225,000 — were on 320 acre tracts in Ward County.

Receipts from auction will swell the Permanent University Fund to over $42,000, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said.

JULY 4 WARNING — Homer Garrison, Department of Public Safety Director, estimates that thirty-one persons will die in Texas traffic accidents during the three-day July 4 holiday.

DPS plans maximum enforcement with additional personnel from other uniformed services to augment the regular Highway Patrol.

"Operation Motorcade," a DPS-directed coordinated effort among state agencies to reduce traffic accidents, will focus public attention on added dangers of holiday travel.

GOVERNOR'S VETOES — Just before the veto deadline Governor Connally vetoed the bill which would have allowed banks, savings and loans associations and others to charge up to 17 1/2 per cent interest on certain types of loans.

"No evidence was presented to the Legislature to justify these specific rates, either on the basis of reasonableness or need," the Governor said in his veto message. He said he also was concerned about a provision of the bill which would have let lenders require borrowers to purchase or provide insurance as security for a loan. The provision, he noted, would not be limited in any way "the number types of insurance coverage which (could have been) required."

Connally vetoed a total of bills passed by the 59th Legislature. Among them were:

Insecticide bill which would have affected both commercial insecticide applicators and farmers and ranchers;

Bill which would have authorized the expansion of the Upper Colorado River Authority to include Coleman, Concho, Irion, Mculloch, Menard, Runnels and Sterling Counties; and Bills creating Northeast Texas State College at Texarkana and Permian State College at Odessa.

SHORT SNORTS — A pulp and paper mill (Owens-Illinois Inc.) received a permit from Texas Water Pollution Control Board to discharge a maximum of 48,000 gallons of treated industrial waste daily into the Sabine River five miles north of Orange. . . Governor Connally recruiting membership for two new education groups — the member Coordinating Board, as Colleges and Universities Committee on Public School Education.

Six more Neighborhood Youth Corps job projects have been approved in Paducah, Mercedes, Port Isabel, Heberville and Galid. . . 1966 license plates for an estimated 6,000,000 vehicles already are in production at Huntsville state prison shop.

33 different types of plates, new "prestige" tags. . . Secretary of State Crawford Martin granted a charter to Texas Oil Producers Marketing Association, a non-profit corporation to purchase and resell crude oil, believed to be first of its kind in industry.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has cancelled a seismograph permit issued to Geo-physical Services and Pan American Physical after two of their explosive detonators washed up on a Mustang Island beach. . . Attorney General Carr has announced recovery of $3,800 judgment from a Dallas man who allegedly drilled and operated a slant oil well in Galveston County. . . Trinity Valley State and Loan Association, Cleveland, has filed application for change and Savings and Loan Department set a hearing for August 21.

State Teachers Colleges Board Regents is accepting application for presidency of Sul Ross State College, Alpine, following death of Dr. Bryan Wildenthal.

Midge emergence said to be on the increase

The following report on Sorghum midge was made by Don Rummel, Area Entomologist, Texas Agriculture Extension Service, according to Homer Thompson, Cochran County Extension Agent.

Midge emergence from overwintering plots has increased over the previous week.

Three midges emerged from overwintering plots established in November 1963. No great emergence of these second year disjunctive larvae has occurred yet so they will probably not greatly influence the midge population.

Host plants continue good growth and development. Some grain sorghum began blooming on the South Plains on June 16, which is about one week earlier than in 1964.

Nine midges emerged from head samples of Johnson grass collected June 17 near Petersburg. This emergence was about two weeks earlier than in 1964. The number of emerging midge was also considerable higher than at this time in 1964.

This earliness could indicate a damaging midge year for sorghum producers. However, the past, midge infestations did not build up sufficiently to require chemical control until after first week in August.

Comparative tables cannot be included in this report since a majority of the midge traps were again damaged by blowing winds.

Readings obtained from the undamaged traps indicates an increase in midge movement compared to this same period 1964.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Weather and family have just returned from a vacation of visiting. They were in Wichita and Salina, Kansas, and in Childress and Amarillo, Texas.

Cochran is ideal egg producing area

If nothing goes wrong you can make money in the egg business in Cochran county. You don't make anything the first few years, while you pay off your investment and you never make much on one hen, but if you have enough "volume", that is, enough hens, you can make some money.

"Hens are hysterical females and the slightest thing can upset her", according to Fred Payne who operates an egg "factory" in the north-east edge of the city next to Click's Packing Company. According to Payne, the toot of an auto horn, being out of water for just a few moments, anything can worry a hen and provoke hysterics resulting in production drop. "Sometimes, if the attendant goes in the building with a different color shirt on than he customarily wears, the hens become so upset that the man must leave, change his shirt to one the hens are used to and return before he can work in and around the cages," according to Payne.

Payne has about 2,000 laying hens at present but has a capacity of 12,000. One man, T. C. Talley, supervises the entire operation and handles all work, retail sales, feeding, watering and all. It would require six men to run at capacity, according to Payne, and the threatening labor shortage due to the end of the bracero program caused him to curtail his operation. Good, reliable men are hard to find, Payne said.

Payne bought the caged-hen egg plant about four years ago from E. O. Willingham who had operated it about three years prior to that so the plant has about a seven year history of successful operation behind it now.

Payne says it costs about $2 to buy the little chick and raise it to a full-grown laying hen in her prime. A hen will lay between 270 and 300 eggs in a year and most hens last about one year in production, tho some last as long as 15 months.

During her production period, it costs about a cent and a half a day to maintain the hen including feed, oyster shell, lime, medicines and water in addition to labor and management. Eggs average about forty-cents a dozen, going up and down with the market. It costs about $3 per hen for equipment such as cage water connection and accessories. Land and buildings would cost according to location and what the owner might decide to spend.

Temperatures must be maintained constant in the laying room. Heat and refrigeration are both needed as the seasons vary. Air must be kept in circulation for health and comfort of the hens. Lights to lengthen the day increase production.

Hens no longer in peak production must be disposed of as quickly as possible in an egg factory such as Payne operates. As many as possible of the best hens are sold at $1 each locally. Others are the scheduled closing date for the receiving of bids, until at least thirty (30) days have elapsed.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: B. R. MARTINEZ, and if dead, the unknown heirs and legal representatives of B. R. Martinez, Deceased.

GREETINGS: You are commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 12th day of July, A.D., 1965, at or before 10 o'clock A.M., before the Honorable 99th District Court of Lubbock County, at the Court House in Lubbock, Texas.

Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 19 day of March, 1965. The file number of said suit being No. 47497.

The names of the parties in said suit are: MUNICIPAL INVESTMENT CORPORATION as Plaintiff, B. R. MARTINEZ, a single man as Defendant.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to wit: This is a suit for foreclosure of a paving lien on the following described property: Lots Five (5) and Six (6), Block Two Hundred Thirty-One (231), Original Town of Morton, Cochran County, Texas; in the principal sum of $265.80 plus interest at the rate of seven (7%) per cent from July 2, 1964; for costs of suit and reasonable attorney's fees.

sold for 35 and 50 cents each to trucks that come by the door and take them to packaging processors in large population centers.

Payne also operates Fred Payne bookkeeping service in Morton and spends full-time at this business. As an accountant, he has his cost and other figures down to a level of reliability few cage egg operations ever actually achieve.

Payne has found his best bet is to buy his feed with all the supplement, vitamins, minerals and all the rest mixed in by experts. Oyster shell is provided free-choice in addition. The mixing in of local grains reduces overall cost and still the supplement guarantees the hen gets everything she needs to keep her healthy and in top production.

The hen is caged in a wire bar cubicle with water running thru the cage in a trough and feed in front of her as well as oyster shell and grit at all times. The floor of the cage is made of wire bars, so as soon as an egg is laid, it rolls down thru the front onto a tray and out to the floor of the cage by gravity where it stands in line with all the other eggs the other chickens have laid, ready to be picked up and carried to the electric sorting and grading machine which washes the egg, also, at the same time it sorts and grades.

Customers can buy eggs right over the counter that are only minutes old. Eggs that are a day old are sold at a cheaper price. Customers must call at the plant for eggs, there is no delivery.

Cochran county is an ideal area in which to raise the various grains and other ingredients of top-quality egg producing foods. The climate here is about as ideal for egg production as exists, dry, not too cold but not too hot and we have a definite winter but it is comparatively mild making the climate a definite attraction to anyone in the cage-egg business. Chickens for eating could be produced here under similar ideal conditions, also, as could ducks, turkeys and other fowl. Warmer climates produce more disease, colder climates less production per food dollar spent.

Egg production is a highly competitive business and competition makes profits low per unit. Eggs can be produced anywhere and shipped at low cost to the consumer. Over half of the eggs sold in the Southwest come to the consumer through the cold storage marketing channels that funnel out of Chicago and the typical egg sold is six months old in the average large city grocery store. Eggs produced locally, however, make possible a much fresher product on the table at home. Those who appreciate freshness in eggs can be glad they live in a town such as Morton where most eggs they eat are far "younger" than the national average.

Use of chicken stretches dollar

(COLLEGE STATION) Fryers are a summer-time favorite with many families, since they're good served hot or cold. Homemakers can stretch their food dollars by serving chicken, says Mrs. Gwen Clayt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist. She advised readers to watch the food ads in the Morton Tribune to get the best buys.

Egg prices also are reasonable. Deviled eggs go well with most other foods at home or on picnics. Grade A are the largest size eggs but grade does not indicate quality of freshness.

Good beef values are available if homemakers shop carefully. Best beef choices this week are arm and blade pot roasts and steaks, ground beef, rump roast and round steak.

Supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables are increasing, with many of these coming from near-by growing areas. Best values this week are centered around squash, eggplant, bell peppers, hot peppers, sweet corn, cucumbers, green onions, radishes, carrots, celery, green beans, cantaloupes, watermelons, banana and pineapples.

Bing cherries are being featured at some stores—but their season is expected to be short. Honeydew melons are available at moderate price levels in most stores.

Dairy month observances are still underway and shoppers may want to take advantage of dairy foods being featured. Milk and dairy products play a vital role in the health and well-being of many people. A cool, tall glass of milk makes a good between-meal summertime snack for those who need this nutrition.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woolam and Mrs. Nina Moore visited in Causey, New Mexico Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Woolam.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Woolam attended the funeral of her brother-in-law in Wichita, Kansas last week. They left Tuesday and returned home Thursday.

Ten minute break . . .

TODAY'S EGGS TODAY are featured here. T. C. Talley, general superintendent at Fred Payne's egg factory in north-east Morton poses in front of the office where eggs are offered for sale by the dozen, half-dozen or by the thousand dozen. Capacity of the plant can run as high as 12,000 eggs a day when in full operation here in Morton.

Unclaimed deposits in firm listed

A notice on the bulletin board at the Cochran county courthouse states the following persons have "unclaimed" deposits at the Cochran Power and Light Company which may be claimed and if not claimed, will be forfeited:

- L. W. Barrett $3.03; R. C. Dickerman $9.35; Roman Escelante $1.31; Manie Huggins $5.03; Moberie Warehouse $10.83; Morton Gin $5.85; Donald T. O'Brien $2.63; Amos Taylor $10.05; M. A. Townsend $5.05; Whiteface school $7.43; E. O. Willingham $10.25.

Most of those listed as having money due them if they will call for it are Morton residents.

In addition to the unclaimed deposits, a number of persons and firms are listed as having checks waiting for them on vouchers submitted and evidently forgotten about. These include Joe Baca, Fred Barrett, E. P. Barrington, Vesta Mae Smith, Manuel Borro, T. F. Fooper, T. L. Dickerson, D. J. Drewy, Harman Farley, Bruce Parrack, G. L. Pierce.

Unless the persons to whom these funds are owed call for them within a few weeks, they will lose their claim to the money, according to the notice.

Mrs. Jessie Waldrop, Mrs. C. A. Moore, and Mrs. Tena Kaykendall all attended a hair styling clinic at the Coco-Inn in Lubbock, Sunday.

Sisters enter District 4-H Horse Show

Two sisters, Reva Lynn and Nina Lois French, represented Cochran county at the District 4-H horse show last Saturday in Levelland according to Homer Thompson, County Extension Agent.

Debra Whitehead was supposed to have been Cochran's third contestant but her horse was killed and she was unable to compete. Thompson said he thought Cochran would have been among the winners if the county had had a full team.

There were 93 entries in the competition which included Pole Bending, Halter Classes, Reining, Barrel Race and Western Pleasure. Fifteen entrants were chosen as winners to go to the state show in Dallas in August.

Reva rode her horse Okie Bozo and was only one and a half seconds behind first place winner. Nina Lois rode Zanto Hank. Competition was fierce and included riders from all over the South Plains where some of the best horsemen and women in the world originate.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lytle are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lytle of San Diego, California, Mrs. Mialia Brunson of Texas City, and Miss Judy Lytle of Lafayette, California.
