Salvation Army Fund drive begins Tuesday

A noon luncheon at the Wig Wam Tuesday will kick off the Salvation Army Fund drive this year in Cochran County.

All workers and interested persons are urged to attend. Gilbert L. Muddell, Jr., area supervisor for the Salvation Army, will address the group, and Campaign Chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Travis will be present as will be County Wide Committee Chairman Gene Snyder.

One third of the funds raised will go to help local persons and to aid transits. Last year most of the funds stayed in Cochran County to help local residents.

The rest of the funds go to the state services. These include the home for unwed mothers, a missing persons bureau, emergency disaster relief, and a summer camp for boys. Last year six boys from Cochran County attended this camp.

Less than nine cents of every dollar the Salvation Army raises goes for administration purposes. Over 90 cents of every dollar goes into welfare.

The County Wide Committee administers the local program and makes the state services available. Those on the committee are, Gene Snyder, chairman; James Dewbre, treasurer; Van Greene, vice chairman; and committee members Glen Thompson, Hazel Hancock, Dean Weatherly, Gene Huggins, Joe Seagler, Bob Travis, Mrs. L. Cage season opens Tuesday for Indians against Bledsoe Sound of smacking shoulder won't even have had a chance to echo through Morton before the "thump, thump" of baseball bats will be heard in the Morton gymnasium, as the 1965-66 cage season opens Tuesday night at Bledsoe.

Cage mentor Ted Whillock faces a rebuilding job this year, after losing the nucleus of one of the finest teams in Morton's history last season. Only two lettermen return from that squad, Jimmy Joyce and Freddy Thomas. Gone are two-year all district men Charles Ledbetter and Ernest Cheshir, both of whom are battling for starting berths on college fives in the territory. Ledbetter is at South Plains College in Levelland and Cheshir at Lubbock Christian College in the Hub City.

Two returning lettermen, Larry Embry and Danny McCoy, moved from the city, and that leaves just Joyce and Thomas. Coach Whillock is expecting between 15-20 candidates to try out for starting positions come the end of the football season.

The Morton squad will compete in three tournaments this year, the maximum allowed under the Texas Interscholastic League. The Indians are scheduled to participate in meets at Abernathy, Denver City and Lubbock. The latter

Council gives statement on problem of gin-dust

The City Council met in regular session Monday night and prepared a statement concerning dust from the cotton gins and discussed EAS telephone service between Morton and Bula.

Jim Fowler, a representative of General Telephone from Brownfield, was present at the meeting. He read two letters to the council. One was from Charles M. Means or the South Plains Telephone Cooperative, explaining that he didn't think Extended Area Service (EAS) between Pettit and Morton was feasible.

The second letter was from D. B. Lancaster, of the Five Area Telephone Cooperative, Inc. He stated that a few things would have to be done before EAS service between Bula and Morton could be accomplished. He said that a new plant would have to be built and that the REA would have to be approached in order to obtain funds for it. He also said that a survey of Bula users would probably have to be made in order to determine if they would be willing to pay for the extra service. Lancaster said in his letter that he would bring the matter before his Board of Directors.

Tom Rowden then made a motion "that further study be given EAS service between Morton and Bula and that Fowler (of General Telephone) work up a rate schedule for area residents, and that the Pettit matter be dropped for the time being." Walter Taylor seconded the motion and the motion carried.

Two bids were opened for gas for the city, one from Texaco and one from Phillips 66. Phillips 66 was the low bidder and received the contract.

A statement was given to the press and radio concerning dust and lint from the cotton gins. Approximately two weeks ago the council went around and inspected

Fire marshal Rusty Reeder said that persons who wished to report a fire at night should use the two "fire numbers" listed in the front of the phone book, if they cannot get through to the sheriff's office. Reeder said that these phones belong to firemen and that possibly much time at night could be saved by using them. The numbers are 266-5126 and 266-3501.

George, State Representative.

The Rev. Hubert Foust, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Graham, Texas presented the program on driftwood which was devotional in nature. Rev. Graham said that he literally stumbled into his driftwood hobby when on a fishing trip with his wife and other relatives. The many shapes and forms of the pieces of wood which had inspired him, also inspired the audience. In preparing and conditioning the driftwood he said that some was washed, some left natural, some bleached, some varnished and one which had been hand rubbed to a high gloss. He said that the hand rubbed piece would be good to place on a coffee table and when nerves get the best of a person; just rub the wood faster. He said "A hobby is something that one goes crazy over to keep from going nuts!" He also said "to me driftwood is a tremendous joy and a blessing."

The Mobile X-Ray Unit of the Lubbock-Hale County Tuberculosis Association will be at Whiteface High School Tuesday, Nov. 16, from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

It is being sponsored by the Whiteface Study Club. Superintendent of Whiteface Schools, James Cunningham, said that all students will have to be x-rayed and that he would like to encourage all persons in the immediate area to take advantage of the x-ray unit.

Contributions of 50 cents per x-ray will be appreciated, but no one will be refused service for lack of funds. During its first year of operation, the Mobile X-ray Unit made 45,535 x-rays and of these, 1,372 showed abnormal chest conditions.

In addition to cases of tuberculosis discovered by the unit, cases of emphysema have been located. Pulmonary emphysema now ranks second only to disease in the number of men it disables.

Every patient whose film shows an abnormal condition is mailed by letter and his doctor receives a detailed reading of the film. Persons whose films do not show an abnormality are also mailed with all notification being within two weeks of the x-ray is taken.

All x-ray films taken by the unit are filed in the Lubbock County Tuberculosis Office in Lubbock and are available at times to physicians for refer-

Indians run past Frenship, 26-14, for first district gridiron victory

Morton's gridiron boys won their second ball game of the year, and their first district tilt of the season Friday night by running past the Frenship Tigers, 26-14, on foreign soil.

The Indians completely dominated the game, rolling up 22 first downs to Frenship's 11, and gaining a total of 365 yards while holding the Tigers to 164. Morton's ground defense was even more impressive, as the Frenship lads managed only 59 yards rushing, compared with 300 for the Indians.

Kenny Palmer, Indian halfback, started the scoring parade with a 35 yard jaunt on an off-tackle play in the first period. Fullback Jimmy Waters tallied in the second quarter from two yards out, and John St. Clair added six points on a quarterback delay from the Frenship 20 yard stripe. Jimmy Joyce added the final Indian tally in the final canto as he gathered in a 21 yard pass from St. Clair.

Frenship scored twice in the last two minutes of play. Their first TD came as Mandy Garcia intercepted a pass off the hands of Morton's Ricky Monroe and dashed 50 yards to score. With only 42 seconds remaining, the Tigers tallied again with Dale Cook getting the score from the one yard line. This touchdown was set up by a pass interference penalty against Morton in the endzone which gave the Tigers a first down on the Indian one yard line.

The Tigers received the opening kickoff, and moved the ball to midfield after earning one first down before the Morton defense stiffened. Tiger Van Grady punted dead on the Morton 10. Wingback Jimmy Joyce broke loose for a 12 yard gainer on the first play, but offsetting penalties killed the play. Kenny Palmer carried three times for a first down at the 26, and a personal foul penalty against Frenship moved the ball to the 41. Joyce hit for seven, then Timmy Petree made a first down on the Frenship 48.

Palmer carried to the 40, then Petree to the 35. Palmer then broke through tackle, cut to the outside, and rambled 35 yards for the first Morton tally. A pitchout for the two-point conversion was fumbled, and Morton kicked off with 4:51 remaining in the initial period.

Frenship completed a pair of passes after taking the kickoff, but once again Morton's defense got tough at the mid-field stripe and forced the Tigers to punt.

From their own 28, the Indians began their second touchdown march. With Palmer, Jimmy Waters and St. Clair carrying, Morton moved past the 50 yard line as the first quarter came to an end. St. Clair finally carried for four yards and a first down at the Frenship four yard stripe. Waters hit for two, and then for two again to cross the doublestripe with 8:26 left in the half. Longest single gainer in the drive was a 15-yard burst by Joyce to the 17. A pass attempt for the conversion fell incomplete.

The teams exchanged punts following the kickoff, with neither team able to make enough yardage for a first down. Frenship took Palmer's punt on their own ten yard line, but fine defensive play by the Indians left them with a fourth and 15 situation at the five yard stripe.

Morton began to move again from the Tiger 43. Joyce carried for eight, St. Clair five, then Palmer for six to the 24. Waters got three, and Palmer was held for no gain. Waters made a first down on the 20. St. Clair then took things into his own hands and ran a quarterback delay which caught Frenship napping, and he eluded one tackler on his way to the promised land. St. Clair also ran the extra points conversion to make the score 20-0 with 1:06 remaining in the half.

The Indians attempted an on-sides kick, but Frenship recovered the ball on the Morton 45. The Tigers moved to the Morton 15 before a pass was incomplete on the final play of the half.

The third period was a peculiar one for the Indians. They controlled the ball for the entire period, except for four downs, but yet didn't score. Morton had a drive going, and advanced as far as the Frenship 31, but a pair of penalties set them back to the 49 and forced them to punt. After Frenship punted back, the Indians rolled to the six yard stripe, but came up a little shy of a first down and the Tigers took over as the final period began.

Frenship marched on offense the best that they had all evening, as Morton Coach J. P. Jones began inserting reserves into the lineup. The Tigers moved from their own six to the Morton 31 before Palmer intercepted a pass to thwart the drive. From the 25, St. Clair carried for two, and Donnie Ray Harvey for three. St. Clair then lofted a long pass to Joyce which fell incomplete. However pass interference was called against the Tiger defenders, and Morton had new life and a first down on the Frenship 30. Waters moved the ball to the 21, then St. Clair found Joyce in the open across the middle and fired a 21 yard touchdown strike to the Indian wingback.

With 3:47 remaining in the contest, Morton kicked off. As Frenship took over a pass, Randy Curry to Carmon Turnbow was good for 15 yards, but another Frenship aerial fell into the waiting hands of Morton's St. Clair at the Indian 35. With Indian reserves seeing action, quarterback Rick Monroe fired a pass on third down which Frenship's Mandy Garcia gathered in at the mid-field stripe, and the Tiger halfback sped along the sidelines to score unmolested. Turnbow kicked the extra point, and the score read 26-7 with 1:56 left.

A fumble by Harvey on the first play from scrimmage after the kickoff gave the Tigers possession on the Morton 35. From the 26, Mandy Cozales lofted a pass into the endzone which Morton's Randall Tanner intercepted. Pass interference was called against the Indians in the endzone giving Frenship a first down on the Morton one yard stripe. Dale Cook carried into the endzone on the second play and Turnbow again added the point-after.

A pair of interceptions, one by each team, highlighted the last 42 seconds of play, with Tanner's steal coming on the final play of the game.

Palmer and Mike Irwin were outstanding on defense for the Indians, along with St. Clair, Waters, and Palmer.

Morton closes season against Slaton here

Morton's gridiron Indians close out their 1965 football season Friday night by hosting the Slaton Tigers on the local field. Kickoff time for the district clash is 7:30.

After tasting victory for only the second time this year last Friday night at Frenship, the Indians can bring their season mark to 3-7 with a win over the Tigers. Slaton carries a 3-6 mark into the contest, but are winless in district competition.

According to comparative scores, the Morton team should win the contest, but comparative scores can sometimes be deceptive. Denver City beat Slaton 74-0, and Morton, 44-6. Frenship defeated the Slaton eleven, 20-8, while the Indians topped Frenship 26-14. Post topped the Tigers by a 21-18 margin, and slipped by Morton 7-6.

Slaton has 16 seniors on their grid squad, and their starting lineup is anchored by nine seniors. Their leading scorer is 181-lb. senior halfback Henry Johnson who alternates between that position and fullback. Larry Pickens, 153-lb. quarterback is one of two seniors on the starting eleven. Billy Gass, at 167 lbs. plays any position in the backfield. He was quarterback for the Tigers last year, but will probably operate out of halfback this week. The Slaton backfield will be rounded out by either Larry Bownds or Steve Harlan.

Doug Williams, 178, will probably be at center for the Tigers, with Danny Scott, 178, and Henderson, 161, at guards. Tackles will be Billy Martin, 199, and Green, 201, while Bryon Johnson, 171, and Bobby Magallanes, 169, will man the wings for Slaton.

Nine seniors will be putting on the Indians' Black and Gold for the last time Friday night. They are backs Kenny Palmer, Armando Saenz, Timmy Petree, and Jimmy Joyce, along with linemen Jerry Elliott, Mike Irwin, Eddie Lyons, Kenny Coats, and Eddie Hol-laway.

Morton mentor John P. Jones will undoubtedly go with the same lineup that has started the last few games, with Jerry Elliott, center; Mike Irwin and Eddie Lyons, guards; Kenny Coats and Larry Smith, tackles; and Eddie Hol-laway and Lamel Abbe at ends. In the backfield will be John St. Clair at quarterback; Kenny Palmer and Jimmy Joyce, halfbacks, and Jimmy Waters, fullback.

Mrs. Fred Stockdale visited over the week-end with Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Hatton of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Whiteface played sporadic ball and lost to Amhurst Friday night 38-0.

Antelope coach Dale Read said, "We were not constant in our playing. We started off good, but then got behind." Read said that Amhurst had two fullbacks that were both good and fast. These were Leon Hardwick and Bobby Hedges.

On penetrations the Antelopes didn't do so badly. They penetrated twice to Amhurst's three penetrations. Read said that two of his play-

THE LIGHT

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path."

The bible, God's word, has often been compared to a light, for it penetrates the darkness and reveals God to man. It is the light that leads man down life's pathway. For those who study it, it reveals not only the past, but also the future.

"The entrance of thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding..."

Attend church and hear God's leaders expound on His word.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

what progress was being made by the winners to help curb the dirt problem.

Mayor Dean Weatherly read the statement: "We want to thank everyone concerned for their cooperation and attitude this past year while an effort was made to improve the dust and lint problem in the city during cotton harvest season. We want to especially thank the winners and the people living in the immediate area for their good attitude towards the problem."

We felt that an effort of cooperation would be much more effective than ordinances or ultimatums. We are certain that a definite effort has been made on the part of the winners this past year to improve conditions, and we feel that these efforts will continue and improve on the problem in the years to come."

The bills were paid and the minutes read and approved. Other items discussed included proposed irrigation well gas deposits and the cleaning up of vacant lots. The meeting began in the City Hall at 7:00 p.m. and adjourned about 11:30 p.m. Those present were Mayor Dean Weatherly, City Secretary Elra Oden, Councilmen E. C. Seaney, Walter Taylor, Tom Rowden.

Slaughter headquarters buildings still intact

By BUCK SCHEIB

The original headquarters buildings for one of the oldest, most colorful, and largest ranches in Texas are still standing and look pretty much as they did when they were first built around 1908.

The adobe buildings are located about two miles southwest of Morton on the C. C. Slaughter farm. There are five structures in all, built around a quadrangle, and they were headquarters for the Whiteface Ranch, better known locally as the Slaughter Ranch or "S" Ranch. The ranch reportedly contained about 196,689 acres.

The headquarters consisted of two long bunk houses, a summer house, a milk house, and a buggy shed, all opening onto a quadrangle.

The two bunk houses face each other, one on the north, the other on the south side of the quadrangle. They are approximately 76 feet long and contain six rooms each. Each has a long covered porch that runs the entire length of the building and faces the quadrangle. The building on the north has six doors opening on to the porch, and the south building has four doors that do the same. It is not too hard to imagine the old cowboys of the Slaughter era sitting on the porches after a hard day's work and swapping jokes across the quadrangle. The bunk house on the north was probably the first permanent headquarters building constructed.

Actually, the first building on the site was a half-dugout, that was constructed about 1898, according to Elvis Fleming, author of "Texas' Last Frontier." Fleming, who has become a noted authority on Cochran County history said, "It is pretty hard to determine which structure was built first, because the Slaughters didn't believe in keeping records."

Fleming continued, "But I have talked to a few old cowboys and from what I can surmise, a half-dug out and a water well were first built on the site of the permanent headquarters." Fleming added, "Later a second building was constructed east of the dug-out and enlarged as needed." This would be the long bunk house building on the north of the quadrangle.

The buggy shed, which closes off the west end of the quadrangle, was probably the second permanent structure built, according to Fleming. It is a rectangular building, about 45 feet long. The insides have not been plastered with stucco and big chunks of prairie grass many be seen in the adobe bricks.

It has two sets of big sliding doors, one set at each end of the west side of the building. Lloyd Miller, who lives in a new brick home on the place, and who manages the C. C. Slaughter farms, said that he believes that one end of the structure was used as a smoke house because the inside "is all smoked up."

The summer house on the east of the quad and the long bunk house on the south were built over a period of years and finished about 1915. The summer house is constructed more like a pavilion, having a gradually pointed roof being supported by four pillars over a concrete slab. It has no walls, Miller said that this was probably the coolest spot on the ranch on the long summer nights.

The long bunk house on the south also served as the ranch managers headquarters it is believed. In 1948 Miller moved his family into this house and lived there until 1964. It has a fireplace that probably added on to the building in about 1941. Embedded over the mantel is the "Lazy-S" brand of the Slaughter family.

On the north side of the quadrangle, west of the bunkhouse, is a small structure believed to be the milk house. Miller said, "back then cool water from the well was used to keep the milk from spoiling. The water was run from the well by a pipe to a barrel in the milk house, and then run back to the well or to the stock pens. The milk was kept near the barrel and kept cool by the cold well water."

All of the five structures are of adobe and all except the inside of the buggy shed are stucco. When compared with today's homes, the buildings are a little different. The walls are quite a bit thicker, lacking only two inches of being two feet thick in places. The walls are not "planed even" by today's standards and the window sills are a little uneven. Also, the rafters of the ceiling have been left uncovered.

On August 18, 1962, the Cochran County Historical Survey Committee, headed by Mrs. H. B. Barker, placed a Historical Medallion on the buildings because of the importance of the Slaughter ranch to the history and the development of this area. According to Elvis Fleming, and other persons interested in the history of Cochran County, the buildings would make an excellent historical monument. But, because of their location away from the main arteries of travel, it is doubtful that anything will be done to preserve them for historical purposes. The two bunkhouses and the summer house are in good condition now. All the buildings have had their original roofs replaced with shingles roof many years ago, and Lloyd Miller has been trying to keep the roofs in good repair by continually working on them. Miller uses part of the bunk house on the north for his office, and the rest of the buildings for storage.

Christopher Columbus Slaughter was the oldest of eleven children of "Parson" George Webb Slaughter. George Slaughter moved to Sabine County in 1830 from Louisiana. He was ordained into the ministry of the Baptist Church after being converted from the Methodist Church. According to Fleming's book, "Texas' Last Frontier" George Slaughter and his wife were the first couple to be married under the laws of the Republic of Texas, and C. C. Slaughter was the first child born of a Republic of Texas marriage. C. C. Slaughter was born in Sabine County February 9, 1837.

By the age of 17, C. C. Slaughter was a working cattleman helping the many trail herds going to New Orleans to cross the Trinity River and later taking trail herds up the Chisolm Trail to Kansas.

Slaughter served in the Confederate Army, Company "A" of the Young County Texas State Troops under Captain W. R. Peveler. He reportedly attained the rank of colonel in the Confederate Army, but according to Elvis Fleming his army record does not indicate that as his rank. In this area he is still referred to as "Colonel" C. C. Slaughter.

When are your "teach-ins"

In Viet Nam there is a 24-year old Marine Lieutenant named Ward S. Johnson. He's in charge of a platoon of Leathernecks. Lt. Johnson is only two years out of the University of Illinois where he earned a degree in business administration. His wife waits in Moline, Illinois, for her man to come home. He wrote her an earthy letter a few days back and suggested she share it with the editor of the MOLINE DAILY DISPATCH.

A great deal of Lt. Johnson's letter concerned the draft-dodgers here at home and the "demonstrators" who protest US policy in Viet Nam. Since it is doubtful that a reader of these lines fall into either of those groups will pass over that part of the letter to the Lieutenant's remarks directed to the rest of us to our indifference.

"Don't you know," writes Lt. Johnson, "that one thousand of our youth have died in Viet Nam and that thousands have been wounded?"

Will it always take a 'sinking of the Marine' or a 'Sunday morning attack on Pearl Harbor' to make you pull your heads out of the clouds? Doesn't that group of babbling nitwits that denounce our stand in Viet Nam arouse your anger?

"How in the hell can you permit the voices of a few thousand to be heard above your millions? Doesn't the threat of Communism make you angry? When are YOUR demonstrations and teach-ins being held? Are you too lazy to pick up a pen and write to your newspaper editor? Are you too embarrassed to take part in drives to get clothing and soap for our Vietnamese friends?"

"Are you too busy to write to your friends and relatives overseas? Are you too self-conscious to hang a flag in front of your home? Have you ever stopped to think that your complacency may render our nation impotent?"

"Those of us in Viet Nam conduct a fight alone in this war and hope to succeed. The war will be won, but the victory will be shallow and insignificant without your wholehearted support. That is all that we ask."

Well? The man's going to be waiting for an answer.

An encouraging note

Ordinarily, we believe that all legitimate bills should be paid as promptly as possible. But, we've found an exception in the case of the rent subsidy bill which the 89th Congress added to our substantial outstanding account. Because it was passed by Congress, we have to admit that the bill is legitimate even if there may have been some high-pressure salesmanship involved in making it so. But we're pleased that some of the more considerate of our "purchasing agents" in Congress managed to hold up payment of it by deleting the funds to pay for it from Appropriations Bill.

If we had to choose one bill from among all the many money-wasting boogdoggies that were pushed through the 89th Congress that qualified as the worst, that rent subsidy scheme certainly would make it into the final elimination round. It is just about as well suited as any law can be as a combination vote-getter and profit-maker for any office holder who has learned the first lesson in the art of political patronage.

We're under no illusion that this is the end of the rent subsidy bill - most likely we'll still have to pay for it, and in more ways than just money. All that has happened really, is that forty or so of those Congressmen who rubber-stamped the order went home from the office without signing the check. The bill itself was passed by a narrow margin of 208-202. The appropriation funds for it was blocked by only 185 votes; it happened that less than that number, only 162 of the 208 who passed the bill itself, were on hand to see that the money would be provided to pay for it.

Even that is a good sign. It means that there are at least 185 men and women in the Congress who haven't forgotten that there is such a thing as the "power of the purse," and that it is sometimes possible to exercise that power to delay, if not entirely, the promiscuous dispensation of our tax dollars.

The anguished cries from some of the machine political bosses in large cities about the country suggest that even the delaying of funds serves a worthy purpose. For it will be possible between now and the convening of Congress in January to identify the ward-boss politicians who have been financially pinched by the delayed distribution of the anticipated checks. Few domesticated animals have a more mournful wail than a wounded political boss who has jammed his fingers reaching for the key to the money-box, particularly if he is already out of breath from promising how the money would be distributed.

Good Ol' Joe
Remember Joe, the typical college freshman?

You know - your old roommate, the playboy of Goldbricker High School, the one that told you the same old story of his conquests in the back seat for three nights straight.

Yeh, old Joe is the one who downed a keg of beer to put all the Amarillo drunks to shame.

But you really can't blame Joe. After all, he did attend his first day of classes, and he did manage to struggle through the introduction to his English text. After the first week of his college career, however, he decided that he knew more than his instructors ever hoped to know. Besides, English 101 just can't compare to a good game of bridge and a Playboy.

Yes, you remember old Joe. He's the one who called you a square for being a bookworm roommate.

Well, as time crept along, so did Joe. The day of doom finally arrived. You guess it. His parents had, perhaps by fate, received Joe's report cards in the mail.

Boy, did the excuses roll! "Granted, telling my English teacher what she could do with her teaching wasn't the smartest thing to do, but it certainly didn't constitute an 'F'," Joe complained.

"And the noise in that dorm I live in would make the noon hour rush at Grand Central Station sound like a Sunday church gathering," Joe argued.

Perhaps the noise old Joe was referring to was the noise he heard when a fellow freshman walked into his room and yelled, "Hey! Let's go to Amarillo and get a beer."

And what was Joe's excuse for not handing in his homework? "Oh, if it wasn't my (bookworm) roommate hiding my assignment book the night before class, it was the dorm supervisor telling me to get the scrap paper off the floor," Joe groaned.

Joe concluded with, "What's the gripe anyway? Two 'D's and three 'F's" isn't bad for my first semester in college."

His excuse the second semester: "I can't study here. It's just too noisy. I would have complained but the dorm supervisor was usually the instigator of all the trouble."

Old Joe was back in town the other day. He was visiting some of his bookworm buddies. They're enrolled and ready to begin their third semester in college.

But Joe has been asked to transfer to the Army. He thinks he might get to attend Saigon Tech. The Prairie (West Texas State University)

Guard Your Castle . . .
"Four Youngsters Dead In Blaze." "Fire Kills Two White Mom Shops." Headlines such as these have shocked the nation in recent months.

Unfortunately, such tragedies continue to occur. Why? Because many parents are so easily deceived by the faulty notion that "it can't happen here." The terrible truth is that it can. Picking up an item at the local market, returning a book only a few minutes, the busy parent can rationalize. And the children will be able to get along without me.

Actually, the young child who is left unattended for "just a few minutes" is in great danger. A major cause of fire, in fact, is the child who has been left alone, often for just a few, fatal minutes.

The fall issue of the Junior Fire Marshal magazine, distributed to millions of school children all over the United States and Canada says, "A home is never safe as a castle unless there's a guard on duty."

"A mother preparing lunch discovered she need something from the store. It was only a few blocks away. While she was gone, her six-year old daughter decided to feed the baby. She reached across the stove to heat the baby's bottle. Her clothing caught fire. She was fatally burned. That home was no castle - the guard was gone!"

"With winter weather coming on and heating and electrical appliances in great use, the unattended child problem becomes most acute," says Fire Chief Bob O'Rourke. As a member of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, he warns parents of the importance of guarding their children at all times.
"Guard your castle and its young occupants. Never leave your child unattended. Avoid the tragedy of returning home "after just a few minutes" only to find that fire has destroyed those you love.

American Is Rich
After a visit to the United States, an Indian expressed the opinion that many people in Asia are mistaken in believing that Americans are rich because they are fortunate. They are rich, he said, "because they love to work."

Work has been panegyrized by Americans, too. But, with all due respect to the Indian visitor, it's probably going a little far to say that Americans as a whole "love to work."

Many - but not all - professional sportsmen and followers of other careers actually love their work. But most people have other motivations for working.

For one thing, work is part of the American tradition. It might be traced to the so-called Puritan ethic and thence all the way to the Genesis edict: "In the sweat of thy face thou shalt eat bread."

This is not to say that the typical American doesn't realize and appreciate the character-building properties of honest labor. And not just in the negative sense of acknowledging that "an idle mind is the devil's workshop," but in a positive sense also. For work provides a feeling of accomplishment and personal worthiness which is a psychological necessity.

Aside from being an American tradition, work is a corollary of the practical bent of the American mind. Human beings have certain needs and wants. To the American, the logical means of fulfilling them is by working for them.

But a point we wish the foreign visitor had not overlooked is the vital role the American political and economic systems play in enabling Americans to be rich, relative to other people. Because of these systems, Americans receive what at least approaches a fair share of the fruit of their labors. Without them hard work might not be to the inhabitant of many a backward nation, logical means of striving to satisfy life's wants and needs. Incentive would be lacking, and the United States would be just another poor country.

End Justifies Means:
"One concept which is wholly inconsistent with democratic progress is the totalitarian idea that the end justifies the means," declared J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, in the November edition of the FBI law enforcement bulletin.

Mr. Hoover heads probably the most highly regarded bureau in our government, and in his own right he is a world authority on crime as well as a distinguished American of unquestioned patriotism. So his further words on the subject of civil disobedience carry extreme weight, especially during this crucial era of adjustment. The November bulletin continues:

"In a free society sustained by respect for procedural as well as substantive rights, the 'end,' however noble, can never excuse unlawful 'means.'"

"A current move in this country advocating means has been labeled civil disobedience. This doctrine is based on the startling theory that if one does not agree with a law and believes it to be morally unjust, he may disregard it to achieve a particular objective.

"No matter what the goal, the fact remains that a peaceful, health, orderly society cannot exist, now or ever, if each individual may determine which laws he is going to obey, and which he is not.

"To my mind, there are two frightening aspects to civil disobedience. One, sowing contempt for law and order and promoting pride in lawbreaking among the nation's youth can only result in an acceleration of our serious crime problem.

"Secondly, where is the line to be drawn against the snowball effect of civil disobedience? Willfully disobeying misdemeanor statutes today and committing felonies tomorrow is a logical regression from a government of law to an anarchic society.

"There is no question but that the right of dissent and the right of petition for redress of grievances are absolutely essential to the security of a free people. But the very life of liberty requires that these rights be asserted in lawful manner. Civil disobedience and the unwillingness of many to resolve their differences by establishing legal means will surely lead to the destruction of the institutions which protect their freedoms.

"It is folly to hold that a utopia of individual rights will rise from the destruction of respect for law."
Liberty Vanguard

We do appreciate our youth
Youth Appreciation Week is Nov. 8-14 and one of the best ways to observe it in Post and every other community throughout the land is to pause long enough to remind ourselves just how much we really do appreciate our young people.

During the nine months that school is in session, the youngsters make life more enjoyable for us work-weary adults with football, basketball, school plays, etc. Then there are the bands and the pep squads that add color to the athletic contests. Incidentally, the Post Junior High Band made its first public appearance of the school year just before the start of the football game Friday night and if ever a group of youngsters was appreciated by a hometown crowd, it was that band.

In summer, when school is out, the youngsters give us somewhere to go by participating in the Youth Baseball Program, and we appreciate them for that.

We also appreciate our youngsters for the safe and sane way in which they observed Halloween this year, and we appreciate the young ladies and gentlemen of the four churches who staged the CROP drive Sunday evening.

In fact, there is so much to appreciate our young people for that this newspaper can't bring itself to agree with those who contend that the younger generation is going to the dogs.

Highlights and Sidelights-

Both sides want on ballot

AUSTIN, Tex. - Both ultra-liberals and ultra-conservatives have indicated they want a place on the 1966 general election ballot.

Texas liberal spokesmen hint they may run a candidate for governor and perhaps one for the U.S. Senate if Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr is the Democratic senatorial nominee.

Conservative party already has adopted a resolution of intent to nominate state candidates next year.

CANDIDATES ANNOUNCE - Two new candidates have announced for statewide office.

They are State Sen. Galloway Calhoun of Tyler for attorney general; and State Rep. Paul B. HARING OF Goliad for railroad commissioner.

Haring will take on Commissioner Byron Tunnell of Tyler. Tunnell was appointed by Gov. John Connally last January to fill the unexpired term of Ernest O. Thompson, who resigned because of ill health.

Secretary of State Crawford Martin of Hillsboro and State Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio announced earlier for attorney general.

NEW WEAPON - A significant new weapon has been acquired by the State of Texas against a federal lawsuit to abolish the poll tax as a voting requirement in this state, reports Attorney General Carr.

U. S. Senate Judiciary Committee has made available to Carr testimony of federal Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach purportedly acknowledging the Texas poll tax is not used for racial discrimination.

REPRIEVE!

Carr maintains that, in view of testimony, Congress could not have had Texas in mind when it authorized suits against the levy as a voting requirement under the new voting rights act.

Case is set for trial December 1 in Austin.

REAPPORTIONMENT - Equitable reapportionment of the Texas Legislature will bring no major switch toward liberalism, according to University of Texas Institute of Public Affairs study.

Both theory of constant urban-rural conflict among lawmakers and assumption of big city liberalism are mainly myth, study concludes.

Votes on 45 selected roll-calls were carefully analyzed. Reapportionment, the study maintained, will bring few if any major policy changes in the State Legislature. A number of experts and would-be experts strongly disagree.

APPOINTMENTS - Terrell Blodgett of Austin, director of the Texas Economic Opportunity Office, will join the administrative staff of Governor Connally on December 1.

Blodgett will be replaced by State Sen. Walter Richter of Gonzales.

Connally also announced these appointments:
William P. Hobby Jr. and C. T. Parker, both of Houston, to University of Houston Board of Regents. Reappointed to same board were James T. Duke of Johnson City, Col. William B. Bates of Houston and James A. Ekins Jr. of Houston.

E. C. Pannell of Fort Worth, A. M. Willis of Longview and Raymond L. Tollett of Big Spring to the Board of Regents of North Texas State University.

Robert W. Kneebone of Houston, reappointed to Texas Youth Council.

W. G. McCampbell Jr. of Goliad to the San Antonio River Authority.

BOLLWORM - Planting and plow-up dates were established in Pecos, Ward and Reeves Counties due to "Serious increase" in pink bollworm infestation, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Voluntary program in that area calls for February 15 as plow-up date for destruction of all cotton stalks, gin trash and overwintering places. Texas Department of Agriculture will supervise a mandatory control program the following year.

No cotton will be planted before April 10, 1966, under agreement of cotton farmers.

POVERTY PROGRAMS - Eleven more Neighborhood Youth Corps projects have been approved by Governor Connally.

New programs will be conducted in Dallas, Eastland, Mathis, Mercedes, Olton, Orange, Paducah, Robstown, Slaton, Sweetwater, the Uvalde area (Comanche, Uvalde, Kinney and Real Counties).

Washington officials have mitted a revised project, sponsored by the Texas Farmers Union, to Governor Connally for his approval. Connally vetoed an earlier proposal.

SUPREME COURT - Separate School District lawsuit to collect $10,322 in taxes from H. B. Zachry Co. of San Antonio when the Supreme Court okayed an earlier decision.

Court ruled the contract equipment sought to be taxed only temporarily situated in school district. It's taxable on San Antonio, Court said.

ENLARGEMENT - Texas Right's Commission voted to enlarge the storage capacity of Lavon from 100,000 to 280,000 feet.

Lake Lavon serves Dallas, Farmersville, Fate, Forney, land, McKinney, Mesquite, Pecos, Princeton, Richardson, Rockwall, Royse City, Sachse, and Wylie.

SALES, BUILDING - Both building and retail sales in Dallas took a drop during September according to University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Sales were off 2.2 per cent, adjustment for seasonal variation. September dropoff follows a decline of 15.4 per cent in August. Building permits were down 12 per cent from August and 15 per cent below September, 1964.

Big drop is in non-residential building, down 53 per cent in August. September index was in three per cent of monthly average for 1965, excluding August peak.

AMENDMENTS - Texas voters split down the middle in the November 2 elections. They approved half of the 10 amendments sent, disapproved the other 5.

Amendment No. 4, proposing four-year terms for state officials, was vetoed by almost 9000 votes. It received more opposition than any of the other amendments.

Area residents attend Farmers Union convention

Six area resident served as delegates to and attended the 62nd Annual Convention of the Texas Farmers Union, held in Abilene, Nov. 4-6.
 Those attending the convention were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Brooks, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Coffman.
 Roy Brooks, who acted as president of the delegation said, "I believe anyone who is interested in agriculture should go to one of these conventions and see what the Farmers Union is doing."
 Brooks explained that anyone can join the Farmers Union, but that only farmers can hold office or carry out business in it. He said that 99 families belong to the local chapter and that the Farmers Union here received its charter in May.
 Brooks said that one of the purposes of the Farmers Union is "to get a higher level of income for the farm family unit." He said that at the convention the farmers met with congressmen and voiced their opinions on how this was to be done.
 At the convention commodity resolutions were passed on cotton, feed grains, wheat and livestock.
 Brooks made one proposal on cotton from the floor and it was adopted. The resolution read:
 "We are opposed to the United States Department of Agriculture requiring the micronaire be applicable on any part of the 1965 cotton crop put in CCC loan, because a large part of the 1965 crop has been harvested and the cotton harvested after November 1, 1965, will be seriously affected by this regulation.
 If the micronaire is to be required on cotton placed in CCC loan, let it become applicable to the entire crop year, starting from 1966 cotton crop."
 This date of November 1st is definitely discriminatory

'36 Study Club hosted by Mrs. D. E. Benham

The 1936 Study Club met Wednesday, November 3 in the home of Mrs. D. E. Benham.

The president, Mrs. Kenneth Thompson, presided. The Club Collect was led by Mrs. Glenn Thompson.

Mrs. Gage Knox reported on the meeting of the Youth Conference Committee.

Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter attended the meeting of the group working on the county library improvement project. She gave a list of the needs of the library. The club members voted to participate in a bake sale, the proceeds to go to the library project.

Mrs. Bob Ramp and Mrs. Cyrus Fields are new members.

Mrs. Glenn Thompson presented Mrs. H. B. King who gave the program, "Life Portrayed in Poetry" in a study of the life and poetry of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Longfellow is probably the best loved of American poets the world over. Many of his lines are as familiar to us as rhymes from Mother Goose.

There are two reasons for the popularity and significance of Longfellow's poetry. He had the gift of easy rhyme and he wrote on obvious themes which have a common appeal for many people. He was the first of American poets to use native themes: the American Indian ("Song of Hiawatha") and American history and tradition ("Courtship of Miles Standish" and "Evangeline").

Longfellow's education was unlimited. He first entered school at 2 years of age and was graduated from college at 19. He spent years studying in Europe and several years as a professor at Harvard.

Mrs. King read from several of Longfellow's poems and gave the story of "Evangeline."

His last years were filled with many honors but none of these destroyed the modesty and loving kindness of Longfellow. All people, the ignorant and the wise, the humble and the famous, were drawn to him by the essential goodness of the man.

Members present were Mesdames L. F. Hargrove, H. B. King, D. E. Benham, Doyle Brook, J. D. Hawthorne, Hume Russell, C. H. Silvers, Joe Nicewarner, Glenn Thompson, M. C. Ledbetter, Kenneth Thompson, Gage Knox, Neal Rose and one guest, Mrs. Doran.

The next meeting will be November 17 at the home of Mrs. C. H. Silvers.

L'Allegros meet at Snyder home

The L'Allegro Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Gene Snyder November 4. The meeting was opened by the members reading the Club Collect.

Mrs. Van Greene presented the program entitled "Poet of Our Land — Walt Whitman — His Works and His Influence Toward Democracy." She told the group Mr. Whitman tried many forms of work in his youth, but his tendency to dream and to loaf caused him to neglect the more earthly duties and marked him as an unusual person.

He had a real desire to become a part of democracy. This desire found fulfillment in the writing of his most famous works, "Leaves of Grass." This book is held as the "Bible of Democracy."

Whitman's poetic power can be seen in "Drum Troups" and "Specimen Days", published in 1865. In "Democrat Vistas", published in 1871, he made use of prose with equal success. Walt Whitman wrote "The proof of a poet is that his country absorbs him as efficiently as he has absorbed it."

As a result of Mrs. Greene's program, each L'Allegro had a better understanding of this great man, and realized how much influence he had in shaping the democracy we have today.

Mrs. Elwood Harris opened the business by giving a report on International Affairs. Mrs. W. B. McSpadden, president, presided over the meeting. Chairman of the finance committee, Mrs. H. B. Barker, reported that a new area directory would be published after the first of the year.

Mrs. Jack Wallace asked that each member bring Christmas cards and old jewelry to the next meeting which will be sent to Big Spring Mental Hospital. This is one of the clubs projects.

It was reported that the City Council had erected school zone signs at the East Side Elementary School at the request of the L'Allegro's.

Each member was urged to attend the next meeting of the Friends of the Library to be held November 29.

Mrs. Greene reported on the progress of the Area Youth Conference. The club voted to give $50 now to be used for the early expenses that would occur for the conference. Next meeting was announced for November 9 at 8 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce office. This meeting is for all and youth members.

Mrs. Snyder served refreshments to Mesdames Barker, Harold, Dorian, Greene, John Haggard, E. Oden, Eddie Erwin, McSpadden, Mullinax, J. C. Reynolds, W. G. Oden and E. O. Willingham.

Elma L. Slaughter club meets Thursday

Mrs. Leonard Coleman served as hostess when Elma L. Slaughter Study Club met November 4 at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Willie Taylor, president, presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Elra Oden was appointed to fill the office of first vice-president succeeding Mrs. Herman Bedwell. Mr. James K. Walker presented the program of legal procedure. He told the group that procedure law is the how and substance law is the why. The most common law is the felony, which is a capital offense.

He explained the rights a person has if charged with a crime. Under the new law a person would have to file a complaint. When arrested, the person is taken before a judge immediately and told that he could council. Under the old law they didn't tell the person that he could have council. A person is then given an examination trying to see if there is sufficient evidence to hold him. He is then asked how he pleads, bond is set and a grand jury is chosen for trial. He said that if a person wants a re-trial that it would take approximately five years to go from county to supreme court.

Mrs. Robert Greener and Mrs. Abby White were guests of club.

Members present were Mrs. zie Brown, Mrs. H. Gardner, E. Gardner, Mrs. John L. McSpadden, Mrs. Lovell Jackson, Mrs. E. Spotts, Mrs. Iva Williams, Mrs. Oden, Mrs. W. M. Butler, Mrs. C. E. Dolle.

CRIED ALICE'S QUEEN.

The King, the Queen and the executioner were present. Alice and the prisoners, too, of course, but these were all. No jury, no public, no publicity.

No newspaper reporters.

In Alice's Wonderland even applause was "immediately suppressed by the officers of the court."

Not so in America.

In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right of a public trial, says Article the Sixth of the Bill of Rights of the Constitution of the United States.

So people may know, newspapers must report these trials.

This is not freedom of the press. This is responsibility of the press.

Newspapers have no extraordinary rights.

People do.

Men have the right to a public trial and the right to know what happens in courtrooms. These are rights written into the Constitution and affirmed by the Supreme Court in 1829 when Mr. Justice Bagley wrote: "It is one of the essential qualities of a court of justice that its proceedings should be public."

If people are to know the truth the newspaper must report the news.
