★ Hiway meet

A meeting of the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce highway development committee has been called for 10 a.m. Monday, Sept. 12. Discussion will center around a meeting of the group with the New Mexico Highway Commission in Santa Fe on Thursday, Sept. 15. All interested persons, whether members of the committee or not, are asked to attend. The committee is attempting to extend state highway 116 east to connect with the Clovis-Roswell highway. The meeting will be held in the Chamber office.

Texas secretary of state speaks

Bus given to Girlstown during formal presentation by Morton Jaycees

"It is true that we cannot isolate ourselves. No man lives by bread alone and no man is an island. These are the teachings of Christ and they are true".
These statements were made last Friday by Texas' Secretary of State, John L. Hill, during the formal presentation of a school bus to Girlstown, U.S.A. The white with blue trim school bus, gift of the Morton Junior Chamber of Commerce, was presented at Girlstown, 8 miles south of Whiteface.
Secretary Hill began his address by saying it was a privilege to learn what all the Jaycees in Texas are doing. "Once again the Morton Jaycees, in this instance, the Morton Jaycees, have demonstrated their care for others and fill a need in our society."
He admonished the girls present that they were going out into a world that is active. The world is exciting and exciting things are happening that they could be a part of.
"Freedom is not unrestricted or free. No one is every going to give you freedom, except the freedom to do what you want; to become educated, to pursue your dreams," he said.
The Secretary closed by telling the girls to take an interest in government, regardless of party affiliation, because we live in a political country. He strongly urged they get all the education possible, for this is the age of education.
Quenton Rhodes, Mayor of Whiteface, made the welcoming address, saying that "in our community we point with pride to Girlstown, U.S.A. We feel that the adults and girls of Girlstown help contribute to the success of our community."
The state vice president of Texas Jaycees, Jesse T. George, introduced Secretary Hill.
Following Hill's speech, Cleve Bland, president of Morton Jaycees, presented him with a certificate of appreciation and the first See BUS, Page 2

Reeder to head Chamber; other officers are named

L. "Rusty" Reeder was elected Tuesday to head the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce in 1967. He will be installed as president during the annual Chamber banquet on Oct. 25.
Other officers named to serve with Reeder included: H. A. Tuck, president; Royce Hanna, secretary; and Carl Ray, treasurer.
Outgoing directors are Hanna, president; Reeder, vice president and treasurer; and George Langrove, secretary.
Incoming directors are Hanna, James Walker, Orville Tillman and James McClure. Directors standing on the board are Reeder, Ray, Tommy Hawkins, Tommy Smith, and J. C. Reynolds. Outgoing directors are Ray Wells, Langrove, Seagler, Butch Wright and Cleve Bland.
A tape-recorded application for the post of Chamber manager was read during the meeting and acting manager Glenda Yancey was asked to have the applicant appointed before the board.
Seagler reported that two industries have been contacted that are interested in locating in this area and further work is being done toward locating them here if possible.
All directors were urged to attend Friday's hearing by the Texas Water Development Board in Lubbock and to express their opposition to the plan. Roy Gentry, who also serves as a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, said he had received a letter and a telegram from that group urging a large attendance at the meeting.
Approval was given for the Chamber office to mimeograph a weekly news letter for the Morton Lions Club.
Directors also approved partial payment of expenses for State Representative Jesse T. George to fly here so that he might accompany a local committee to a meeting of the New Mexico State Highway Commission in Santa Fe on Sept. 15. Part of Mrs. Yancey's expenses to the meeting will be paid also.

C-C revises plans to attend N. M. road hearing

The Highway Committee of the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce met in a called session Tuesday morning, according to Glenda Yancey, Chamber manager.
Plans were made to appear before the New Mexico Highway Commission in Santa Fe, Sept. 15, rather than appearing before the same group in Roswell.
The Morton Highway Committee will seek to enlist more support before the hearing through contacts with various area leaders.
Attending the meeting were Dean Weatherly, Tip Windom, Van Green, and Glenda Yancey.
Names of those to attend the New Mexico hearing have not been decided.

Morton is short four teachers

Morton schools are still four teachers short as the first week of classes end. Superintendent Ray Lanier said that the prospects of filling two of the positions looked pretty dim.
Needed are industrial arts, special education, 2nd grade, and 4th grade, with the first two being difficult to fill. "We do have the elementary positions filled temporarily through," Lanier said. These teachers, Mrs. Paul Davis and Mrs. W. G. Freeland, will return to their regular assignments as soon as new elementary teachers can be hired.
"We won't be the only school starting classes with substitute teachers," Lanier said. "But I hope we can fill two of the positions soon after school starts."
When asked why the shortage, Lanier said, "There are a myriad of reasons: Industry is getting many of the would-be teachers because they can pay more; many of the men are in the armed forces; the federal reading program; and because other states are getting them with lures of more money."
"There was a magazine article recently that talked about states with teacher shortages and Texas wasn't even mentioned. I don't know why. We're hurting," he said.

FOR THESE TWO young ladies, football season means time to paint the goal post gold in preparation for Morton's first home game, Sept. 16. Undaunted by tall ladders, big mosquitoes, and hair curlers they actually seemed to enjoy their work. Slinging the paint is Beverly Dolle, 13, a seventh grader, while Kay King, 17, a senior, gives her a steadying hand. Kay is president of the pep squad, whose project it is to paint the post. TRIBPIX

George Tuck named Tribune news editor

George Tuck, formerly staff photographer for the Abilene Reporter-News, has joined the Tribune as news editor.
A native of Dumas, he graduated from Dumas High School and attended Simmons University. While at HSU he was editor of the school yearbook; was business manager of student publications; and was student publications photographer for five years.
He also was a member of the Cowboy Band, University band, and the Abilene Philharmonic. In the Cowboy Band, Tuck held the offices of reporter and secretary-treasurer. A member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national professional mens' music fraternity, he served as secretary, treasurer, and vice president.

Receive cushions . . .

MR. AND MRS. MARSHALL COOPER, honored for their work at Girlstown, receive cushions from Jaycee president Cleve Bland. The cushions are used to help finance the Girlstown school bus, gift of Morton Jaycees. Cushions are being sold by Morton Jaycees for $1.50 each. TRIBPIX

Last TWDB hearing set Lubbock Sept. 9

The last of a series of public hearings by the Texas Water Development Board will take place in Lubbock at 9:30 Friday, Sept. 9, in the Lubbock City Auditorium on the Texas Tech campus.
This hearing will bring to a close the series of public hearings on the Texas Water Plan that began in Lubbock in mid-June and continued through the summer in all sections of Texas.
Even though the Sept. 9 hearing will follow the same basic format of the other hearings, it will not have a review by the staff members of the Texas Water Plan in order to allow more time for testimony.
Joe G. Moore, Jr., Executive Director of the Texas Water Development Board will open the hearing with some general remarks, then the Board will begin receiving testimony.
Persons desiring to testify should present written statements of their testimony to the Board so they may be made a part of the official record. "This, however, will not preclude hearing anyone who desires to speak from notes or extemporaneously," Moore said.
The hearing will cover the High Plains, the Trans-Pecos, and West Texas.

Labor Day wreck at Taylor, SW 1st hospitalized one

A two-car collision at Taylor and SW 1st marred an otherwise safe Labor Day in Morton. Involved in the wreck were Mr. and Mrs. Danny Wayne Petree, Rick Coffman, and Danny Barker.
Coffman was hospitalized overnight at Morton Memorial Hospital with cuts and bruises while the others were treated and released.
The Petree's 1963 Chevrolet was traveling south on SW 1st while Coffman's 1964 Volkswagen, with passenger Baker, were going west on Taylor.
Deputy Sheriff Chester Miller, who investigated the wreck, said that charges probably would not be filed.
Damage to Petree's Chevrolet was estimated to be $300 while Coffman's Volkswagen received $400 damage.

Name starters for Morton-Olton tilt

Morton head football coach, Fred Weaver, announced last Friday his probable starters for the Morton-Olton football game.
Named were LaMell Abbe, tight end; Dick Vanlandingham, tight tackle; Larry Shaw, tight guard; Ray King center; Billy Smart, split guard; Larry Smith, split tackle; Bob Hawkins, split end; John St. Clair, quarterback; Jimmy Waters, fullback; Randall Tanner, halfback, and Donnie Harvey, tailback.
Weaver said that most of these boys will also double on defense.
He noted that Olton's best asset was their size. "They're strong and they've looked good in scrimmage," he said, "but, they've got a new quarterback."
The B team will play a freshman schedule and will be coached by Weaver and Ted Whillock.

Girl on Morton motorcycle hurt

A passenger on a motorcycle driven by Freddie Ray Turney of Morton was hospitalized in Lubbock following an accident in Mackenzie State Park Sunday afternoon.
Hospitalized in Methodist Hospital with cuts and bruises on her face, arms and legs was Dorothy Heister, 17, of Albuquerque, N.M.
The accident occurred about 3:45 p.m. when Turney's motorcycle went out of control and overturned.

WE CAN AFFORD HOSPITAL IMPROVEMENT

The County budget now allocates only 2.92% for its support and repair of the county hospital, less than it spends for utilities, travel and fuel, or supplies and postage.

During the past four years, Morton Memorial Hospital has had 81,710 patients, 16,300 of them charity. 5,495 patients have spent 13,050 days in the hospital, for an average capacity of 71%. Annual salaries total $72,000 for the average 23 employees, and it cost $384 a day to keep the facility operating. From 1959 to 1962, it cost the county $121,000 for hospital operation. From 1951 to 1962, it cost the county $318,641. From 1962 to 1966, it cost the county only $59,000 for the hospital. For the past four years, the average cost per year for charity work performed has been $23,000.

WHAT WILL IT COST YOU?

When you pay your taxes this fall, Cochran County will be debt-free. For the past 12 years, you have paid for bonds that built the county activity building, the county park and livestock show barns. It took 40 years to retire bonds that built the courthouse. The biggest home in Morton is carried at no more than $3,000 valuation for county tax purposes. Based on 20-year bonds, the tax for hospital improvement would cost that homeowner only SIX CENTS per $100 of valuation, or $1.60 per year. One of the larger businesses in Morton is valued at $7,000. Its tax for hospital improvement would be only $4.20 per year. The best labor of land in the country is valued at no more than $4,250, including buildings. The proposed $195,000 hospital improvement bonds would cost that landowner only $2.55 annually on that labor of land.

WHY IS IT NEEDED?

In a recent meeting of the Texas Hospital Association, it was pointed out that hospitals in Texas not approved for Medicare probably would not be eligible to participate in Blue Cross, since Blue Cross is handling Medicare in Texas. If this happens, commercial insurance also might turn down claims. Our hospital has temporary Medicare approval only until July, 1967. The American Hospital Association states that a hospital with 65% average capacity cannot take care of a drastic emergency. During the past four years, our hospital has averaged 71% capacity. The AHA also says that a hospital needs 4½ beds for every thousand people served. Our hospital serves approximately 10,000 people, yet has only 18 beds.

CONSIDER THESE FACTS!

It is difficult for two doctors to provide adequate medical service for this large area. Added facilities would enable two more doctors to locate here. Since the charity load should not increase, the hospital would be more self-supporting. In order to keep pace with the needs, we need better hospital facilities. If our two doctors should leave, we would be forced to use hospitals in other towns, generally with much higher rates than are charged here. For example, it is 26 miles to Levelland, 56 miles to Lubbock, 33 miles to Muleshoe, 40 miles to Littlefield, 60 miles to Brownfield, and 65 miles to Clovis.

Through the telescope by truck

Football is in the air today as the Morton Indians prepare to open their season at Olton Friday. The coaches and the players have been working hard and are ready for their initial test. This year's team is going to be young and light, but don't count them out yet. Their spirit and enthusiasm could make them a polished, rugged club before the season closes.

A classic comment heard just before the dedication of a bus at Girlstown USA last week, by a man who probably wishes to remain nameless: "I wonder if there's a men's room at Girlstown?"

The dedication speech by Texas Secretary John Hill was excellent, as was the rest of the program, but the light turnout of Morton and Whiteface residents was most disappointing to the Morton Jaycees who planned the occasion. However, you can make up for it by purchasing a stadium cushion from them for only $1.50.

With at least a temporary halt to the monsoon season (I am writing this Wednesday morning and hope it's still true Thursday) the farmers are trying to get into the fields to cut grain sorghum. The hot weather is great for the cotton and everyone is wishing a continuation for another 60 to 90 days.

The rains brought hail to some farmers, completely wiping out several fields west of Morton. It also brought a vicious horde of mosquitoes, which have been chewing on everything that looks remotely edible. The city is keeping its spray truck busy, but residents need to help by cutting weeds and spraying small water holes. We certainly don't want to have any cases of encephalitis here.

Cochran County Commissioners have asked that we explain a point on the county road tax. The group issued a statement in March 1965 which said: "That the special ad valorem tax levy (30c) be phased out over a two-year period in the following manner: 1. That no more than 15c of the 30c be levied on the 1965 tax roll. 2. That no more than 15c be levied on the 1966 tax roll. 3. That the Commissioners' Court will call an election on their own motion to be held concurrently with the 1966 General Election to abolish the special ad valorem 30c tax levy."

The Court now explains, "Since that time, valuations have declined and it has been determined that we can no longer levy the 15c road and bridge special tax. In addition, there has been some public demand for additional hospital, courthouse and airport facilities. Due to the above, the Commissioners' Court is unable to follow through with its announced decision to phase out the 30c Special Ad Valorem Tax (Farm to Market and Lateral Road Tax Levy)."

It should also be explained that the ballots voters will mark in the bond elections on Sept. 20 do not have the proposed bond amounts listed on them. The ballots were prepared by the county bond advisor, who felt it was not necessary to list the amounts. However, the road tax is for 15c, the hospital proposal for $195,000, the courthouse and jail proposal for $300,000 and the airport proposal for $30,000.

For a look at some real interesting crop experiments, plus a speech by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, be at the Halfway Experiment Station Thursday afternoon, Sept. 8. Freeman's speech will be about 6 p.m., followed by a free barbecue.

Friday, Sept. 9, of course, will be the time for the second hearing by the Texas Water Development Board in Lubbock. Time is 9:30 a.m. in Municipal Auditorium. If you are interested in the future of your farm, your ranch, home or business, you should be there.

School's in session once more. How slowly students enter the door. They must be ill, you think. But watch as the closing bell sounds. And see how quickly they rebound.

Debt is repaid after 44 years of waiting

WHITHARRAL (Special) — Mail is the high point of the day for Fred Newsom, father of Weldon Newsom of Morton. Recently he received a surprise in his mail box, however. An envelope contained a cashier's check for $6,400 that was loaned to a friend 44 years ago.

Newsom loaned Alfred Blasdel while he was working in an office at Ranger in 1922. The money was used by Blasdel to go to California to find work. He promised to repay the loan as soon as possible, and gave Newsom a note for the loan and burned it after 43 years.

Newsom said he couldn't explain why the man had decided to pay after all these years. An envelope letter stated that the debt was now 70 years old, retired, and living from a small pension.

Looking after his mother who is in a rest home at Mason. Perhaps this excerpt from the best explains why he finally paid the loan: "I shall kneel by bed tonight and ask my Lord to forgive me and that you can, in the smallest way, forgive me and pray for me."

Some of Newsom's friends who have heard about the debt and asked him if he would like to collect debts for them. Newsom smiled and drew a line through the note.

ed. "I'm kinda slow, but if you don't mind waiting a few years, I guess I could."

One friend used a calculator to find the sum of debt at 10 per cent interest compounded for the 44 years — a whopping $6,400. Newsom smiled and said, "Well, its the principle" of the thing that counts.

Bro. and Mrs. Bill Hobson and sons, Rodney and Bob, visited with his father, Mr. R. T. Hobson in Luka, Miss.

Well, the first week of school is just about over and I think everyone is going to live, maybe! Classes got underway bright and early Tuesday morning at 8:45. Everyone looked real lively and eager to work that first day, but as the week has passed, I've noticed a few people late for classes and others with real gloomy looks on their faces. Cheer up, the worst is yet to come.

We won our scrimmage with Coronado High School last Friday afternoon. We're really proud of our boys and we hope they do as well against Olton High School as they did against CHS. They need all the support they can get, so everyone plan to attend their first season game Friday night at Olton.

A Pep Rally has been planned for Thursday afternoon at 3:00 around the courthouse square. The MHS Band is going to play and everyone is supposed to be there so that they can help the cheerleaders yell the boys to a victory. There will be another pep rally Friday afternoon at 3:00 in the high school gym. We want everyone to come, young and old, and get your lungs back in shape.

I walked into my Government class last Tuesday and I felt like I was back in the eighth grade. . . . That was because of a huge man with glasses who was standing in front of the room trying to look like a teacher I had in the eighth grade. He even talked like Mr. Fleming. If anyone finds out who this impostor is would they please tell me, I'm worried!

Mrs. Sheard has come up with a new seating arrangement in her English classes this year. She has all of the desks circled around the room in one big circle. She says it is so that everyone can see each other better, but it is really so that she can catch us cheating. What are we going to do with teachers nowadays?? They don't give us any kind of chances anymore!

The Pep Squad has made new outfits this year and they're sure keen. They have black skirts with gold pleats in the front and back, gold blazers and to top it all off . . . black gloves! I hope our boys watch the game instead of the girls. Impossible?????

They farmed in the Morton community until 1949 and then moved to the Seminole community, living there until 1953 at which time they moved to Lovington, N.M. Mr. Weaver was custodian for the Lovington school until he retired three years ago.

Eight of their ten children were present for the observance. They include: David and Hillary of Lovington; Mrs. Ophelia Fort, Baileyboro; Wayne of Ft. Bliss, El Paso; Robert of Hobbs, N.M.; Billy of Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Mrs. Ruth Reid, Andrews. Not present were Travis of Lubbock; and Mrs. Margie Hunt of New Iberia, La.

Booster club eat cake, ice cream and forms committees

Plans were made, committees were formed and gallons of ice cream and pounds of cake were eaten during the Morton Athletic Boosters ice cream and cake party held in the cafeteria last Friday night.

Rev. Fred Thomas, president of the group, ran the party like a Wednesday night church business meeting, naming people to committees and proposing various projects. But the people loved it.

Named as chairman of the program committee was Bill Hobson while M. C. Ledbetter was named chairman of the budget committee. Budget committee members include Robert DeBusk, Calvin Franks and Spot King.

The question of the basketball scoreboard met with unqualified success as the Boosters voted to get the better of the two proposed scoreboards, valued at $750. It will arrive about two weeks from date of order.

It was decided that pictures of the football players will be placed in various store windows for the will follow the same basic format as about what to do with the photos after football season ends. Statements were made by coach Fred Weaver and Rev. Thomas about possible conflicts with the Interscholastic League over giving the photos to the 28 players after the season was over. The group decided that the pictures would be thrown away after the season.

Rev. Thomas announced that membership in the Boosters is 92 compared to last year's 89. The goal is 150.

A drive is now on to sell advertising in the football programs. The ads will be $7.50 each, the same as last year's. A list of 110 prospective advertisers was compiled by the advertising chairman, Dean Weatherly. Forty-eight advertised before.

Entertainment for the program was a film entitled "Southwest Conference Football Highlights, 1964."

The next meeting was set for Sept. 12 in the cafeteria.

Bro. and Mrs. W. S. (Bill) Hobson and sons recently returned from a trip through Mississippi. While there Bro. Hobson held a revival in Beulah, Miss. Mrs. Hobson visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Bardin, of Jackson, Miss.

MORTON TRIBUNE, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1966

Support progress on Sept. 20

In less than two weeks, Cochran County voters will trek to the polls to vote on four important issues.

One proposition, listed on a ballot by itself, is concerned with the reinstatement of a 15c special road tax. Listed on another ballot are propositions to issue bonds for hospital improvement, for courthouse and jail improvement and for airport improvement.

After serious study of the issues involved, the Tribune endorses all four questions.

Taken in order, the County Commissioners feel that the 15c special road and bridge tax is needed to help finance the county operations, particularly in road construction and maintenance. If the commission had not felt the need for such funds, it certainly would not have asked the voters to approve such a proposal. Approval of this special tax will free other county funds for use in bond retirement.

The hospital improvement vote was petitioned by a number of citizens in the county. The amount listed in their petition was for $195,000, which would pay the cost of adding to the county hospital and bringing it up to Medicare standards. Since this is the only hospital in the county, it behooves us to make it more efficient and better able to serve its function within the county. The alternative is to lose dedicated and qualified physicians and to make long, expensive trips to other communities to pay for the use of their medical facilities. If we lose our present hospital, it would be a severe blow to possible business and industrial expansion. Indeed, it would be an almost fatal blow.

Next on the ballot is a proposal to improve the courthouse and jail facilities. This amount is set at $300,000 by the court.

None would deny that our county courthouse is becoming outmoded and in need of major repair. It needs a complete renovation and overhaul, the same type as we give our homes, our businesses and our machinery. This would enable our county employees to work in better surroundings and preserve a large investment that we now have in the courthouse and jail. And no one who has seen our county jail facilities can deny how bad they are. It has deteriorated to a point where it is little more than a detention area for drunks. Felony prisoners have to be taken to other counties and lodged in their jails at our expense. Some prisoners have managed to escape with little more than their bare hands.

Finally, airport improvement is scheduled for $30,000. Although there are more non-flyers than flyers in the county, this proposal needs our support. Surveys have shown the value of a good airport to industrial expansion. Some of us have seen this in other areas. Flying is becoming more popular and our present facilities should be upgraded to care for the increased demands.

Cochran County now has a relatively new industry in National Sulphur, but their company officials are unable to land their company plane here. How many other potential industries might we lose because their survey teams can't even land a medium-size airplane here? Aviation is here to stay and we need to stay abreast of its needs.

Again, we remind you that the proposed bond amounts are not listed on the ballots, so keep them in mind when you vote Sept. 20.

We realize a lot of money is at stake in these four propositions. But a county must spend if it is to keep up with the times and keep its facilities improved to meet the public demand. As of next April, Cochran County will be completely free of debt. Final payment on the last bond outstanding will be made at that time by the county. There couldn't be a better time to vote for progress. We recommend that you take a personal inspection of the hospital, courthouse, jail and airport facilities; that you study the alternatives to this plan for progress and then be an informed voter on Sept. 20.

Final chance to speak for water

With the Texas Water Development Board holding a second meeting in Lubbock at 9:30 a. m. Friday, Sept. 9, we feel it is necessary once more to express our displeasure with the plan advanced by the board for the distribution of surplus water in the state.

Basically, the plan calls for surplus water in East Texas to be diverted south and west through an elaborate series of aqueducts and channels. The purpose is to provide water for the heavily-populated areas of the Gulf Coast, irrigation water for south Texas and new farming areas in the South-Central areas.

With this, we have no quarrel. However, we do feel that the Board and its plan were negligent, almost criminally so, in writing off more than one-third of the state without any supplemental water.

VIEW . . . of other editors

No mo' mohole?

Within less than ten years after its first published announcement, in March 1957, as an idea in the minds of a group of geophysicists seeking more knowledge of the earth's origin and structure, Project Mohole has been dealt a knock-out blow.

This came last week by the Senate's ditto of the House's earlier refusal to vote any additional funds for Mohole. Its anticipated cost of $127 million, they decided, was too much to sink in a "hole" that had started out on an original too-low cost estimate of $15 million.

Mohole got its name from Andrija Mohorovicic, a Yugoslav seismologist who, in 1909, discovered an existing boundary between the earth's crust and mantle. The scientists called this Mohorovicic Discontinuity and shortened the burdensome syllables to Moho.

When, through the planning of the National Academy of Sciences and the National Science Foundation, it was decided to set in motion operations to drill a ten-inch diameter hole through the bed of the sea for a depth of several miles to probe into the earth's deepest hidden secrets, the proposed venture was named Project Mohole.

Prime contractor for the huge engineering development of the required deep-sea (core) drilling equipment was a Houston firm, Brown & Root, Inc. They conducted preliminary experiments in the Uvalde area late in 1964.

Experimental oceanic drilling for Mohole began in 1961 on the west coast of California and Mexico. The big penetration was scheduled for 1968 to start off Maui, one of the volcanic islands in the Hawaiian chain, the U. S. government willing and the money holding out.

It has not been established that the government is not willing and the money failed to hold out. This, after some $30 million to $85 million (depending on which senator is bragging or complaining; had been spent on Mohole.

Lack of central control and direction as well as a shortage of finances are blamed for failure of Mohole Project to reach eventual completion.

The Johnson Administration seems to favor a stepped-up oceanographic program. Vice President Hubert Humphrey heads the newly established National Council on Marine Resources and Engineering Development which has been given the go signal.

The New York Sunday Times of July 17, 1966, carried a detailed article by William D. Smith on oceanography and its tremendous profit potential. Quoted estimates of the value of the sea's treasures and the expenditures involved in developing them make the Mohole figures look like small change.

In the same week, John Peterson in the National Observer built up additional convincing arguments in his story titled "Next: A Wet NASA?"

Astronomic expenditures are financing the outer space programs. It appears that limitless sums will be channeled into the programs of inner space as the ocean areas are called.

Way down below both these in disputably essential developments, the hopes and dreams of Project Mohole lie stranded.

The Man in the Moon must be feeling pretty smug these nights. Right now he's high man on Uncle Sam's expense account.

And Neptune, who is running a close second, is probably keeping a watery, speculative eye on the second chances, if any, of Project Mohole's digging in again on the national scientific curiosity.

Hondo Anvil Herald

More and better Spanish needed
We agree with Speaker Ben Barnes, of the Texas House of Representatives, that every Texan — whether his ethnic background is Anglo or Spanish — to Waco and San Angelo and then northeast to Wichita Falls, is completely left out of the water plan.

Cost is cited as the reason. But it is our contention that we will pay whatever cost is reasonable to get water for our towns, our cities, our industries and our crops. Without water we will have none of these. Without water this area will once again become an uninhabitable wasteland. Our cities will cease to grow and ultimately will decline. Our extensive irrigated farming operations — which provide more than one-half of the state's total agricultural income — will shrink and one day be nothing more than a memory. "Get your water from out-of-state sources," the board told us. What a ridiculous statement! Water is one of the major keys to open up new cropland and industrial expansion. Other states are going to be less than enthusiastic about letting their water be diverted to Texas.

Why should the water board arbitrarily decide that future crop production should take place on some 800,000 - plus acres of South Texas land that has never been farmed, much less irrigated? The land in that area is rough, hilly and generally unsuited to farming. If this were not so, it would have been put under the plow 100 years ago. The West Texas and High Plains area is broad, flat, rich in soil and ideally suited to the intensive farming operations that will be necessary to feed an ever-increasing world population.

Finally, why doesn't the Water Development Board allocate a major portion of its fund to research on a low-cost method of desalinating the abundant waters along the Gulf Coast? Then the cities of the Gulf Coast could have their fresh water for cities and industries and we could have the East Texas surplus for our crops. The Water Development Board says we can't afford the cost of water brought from East Texas. But they admit their cost figures are nothing more than guesses and that they have devoted little time or study to this. They were too quick to write off this area. Our answer is that we will have to pay the cost if we are going to survive in this region.

We strongly urge that every citizen of Cochran County attend Friday's hearing in Lubbock, for a small attendance will be taken by the board as acceptance of its plan. We also urge that every citizen make written or oral statements against the Texas Water Development Plan in its present form. We are truly fighting to preserve our region's life-blood. Without water we cannot survive.

But when it comes to compulsion — by a law insisting that Spanish be taught every Texas school child — that's something else again. Already there is too much compulsion in this country; there are too many laws interfering with personal choice. We need fewer of them, not more.

Speaking here Sunday to a meeting of Roman Catholics at Fair Park Auditorium, Speaker Barnes had a good audience for urging that more and better Spanish be taught in Texas — and, to boot, more and better English, especially for the benefit of the State's large and growing Latin population. But he fell into the trap which many ambitious politicians have fallen into and still are falling into these days, the philosophy that "all we need to build a paradise is pass another law."

This newspaper has been plugging for more and better courses in Spanish in the public schools of Texas since before young Mr. Barnes started to school. We still plug for it.

Furthermore, we have been plugging for more and better English instruction in the public school system — for children of both Spanish and Anglo backgrounds — and we still are. But when it comes to saying to people: "You've gotta do this," or "You've gotta do that," in a purely personal matter, we're not so quick to speak out as Mr. Barnes was here on Sunday.

We think it would be fine if Spanish were taught in every grade school and every junior high school in Texas — and to every student in them. But we think the move should come as the result of decisions of local trustees and local administrators, not from the Legislature. Further, when the student reaches high school level, study of Spanish should be a matter of personal choice, not of dictation by Mr. Barnes, or anybody else.

For Mr. Barnes' information, even if he had his proposed law going into effect with the opening of every school in Texas this year, he couldn't have compulsory Spanish in every grade. Also, much of the "Spanish" his law would bring would be of highly questionable value. The teaching business in Texas is closely controlled. Even though there are thousands of bright young men and women — college graduates — in Texas who know Spanish, who have been brought up from infancy speaking Spanish, and who can teach Spanish — they are barred from the classroom because they don't have the professional requirements which the profession of educators have made of Texas law in order to control who shall and who shall not teach in Texas. Mr. Barnes can find a lot of teachers who learned their Spanish in Waukegan Teachers College, never did master conversational Spanish and have forgotten most of it since, but he can't find a sufficient number who really can speak and write the language in its entirety.

We are happy to join Speaker Barnes, or, better stated, having him join us, in thumping the tub for more and better Spanish — and English — being taught in Texas. But we can't share his optimistic view that passing a law will make everything ducky.

Another ransom deal?
The United States, probably futilely, again has asked the Communist Cuban regime not to prevent the departure from Cuba of 700 to 800 American citizens still there.

This most recent request apparently was prompted by an assertion of Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa that American families seeking to leave would have to await the departure of all the Cubans "who have a right to leave" by the refugee airlift which the United States is passing a law will make everything ducky.

Highlights and Sidelights —

Budget board fires director

AUSTIN, Tex. — It seems that a power struggle between House and Senate leaders on the Legislative Budget Board cost Director Vernon McGee his $20,000 a year job.

Board is made up of five state senators and five house members. In the past they have fashioned the State budget . . . mainly behind closed doors.

House Speaker Ben Barnes maintains that the budget should be written "on the floor" by the lawmakers and that all committee hearings on it should be open to legislators and the public.

Barnes wants the House to have a larger role in writing the multi-billion-dollar state general appropriations bill. He also wants to put a brake on conference committee powers.

He feels that a new budget chief, without close ties in the senate, will aid his drive for a joint legislative rules amendment to restrict conference committees to adjusting differences between bills, rather than writing new legislation in secret session.

McGee has helped process the State's $3,600,000,000 biennial budget during the past 17 years.

Speaker Barnes, while praising McGee's ability, said the budget director had become too powerful and was too close to veteran state senators who have long dominated budget writing.

LT Gov. Preston Smith favored re-employing McGee. But the board voted 6-3 against rehiring. One senator joined representatives in the vote for discharge and another voted "present."

SHORT WEEK — Uniformed Texas highway patrolmen are going on a five-day week as the Department of Public Safety moves to recruit and keep qualified officers and provide better law enforcement.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the DPS, says there are 125 vacancies in the patrol services. Next deadline for applications is October 17.

TREASURY SURPLUS — Biggest fiscal year-end surplus in the general fund in Texas history was recorded August 31 by State Treasurer Jesse James. Total ran $138,000,000.

James reported the surplus as $160,000 higher than the previous year. Current biennium ends August 31, 1967.

ATTORNEY GENERAL — A road district can be formed which encompasses territory lying in more than one county. So held Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr in an official opinion. But the entire area of each county making up such district must be included and counties involved must be contiguous to each other. "Road districts," says Carr, "may acquire right of way for use by the State Highway Department to improve and extend the state Highway System."

In other opinions, Carr held that:

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department may buy Calhoun County land under a law authorizing purchase of property "near Rockport" for a salt water experiment pond.

"Self-insuring" counties carrying their own liability risks rather than purchasing workmen's compensation insurance are not deprived of common law defenses. Also, liability is not affected.

Service citation fees to sheriffs or constables in small claims court cases ($2) still are in effect.

APPOINTMENTS — James Berger of Austin now is acting director of parole supervision. He succeeds Ray Williams who resigned to do graduate studies at the University of Texas.

Joe Entzinger of Bay City, Tom Jordan of Abilene, Mrs. Howard Hurd of Brownfield, Tom McCrumm Jr. of Austin and Garrett Morris of Fort Worth were named as credentials sub-committee for the State Democratic convention. They will hear delegation disputes from Angelina, Denton and Midland counties and protests concerning the Harris and Armstrong County conventions.

MILLIONS ASKED — State Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation is seeking $53,600,000 for new buildings and for expansion of existing facilities during the next biennium.

Money would go to facilities at Abilene, Austin, Denton, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Lubbock, Lufkin, Mexia, Richmond, Big Spring, Kerrville, Rusk, San Antonio, Terrell, Wichita Falls and in the Rio Grande Valley (site to be selected).

Board for MH/MR was informed that mental hospitals at Rusk, San Antonio and Wichita Falls fell below standards of the Joint Commission on Accreditation and cannot participate in Medicare benefits until they correct shortcomings.

REVENUE — Staff attorneys for the Texas Legislative Council say a proposal by big-city mayors that municipalities get a share of state tax revenue is unconstitutional.

But municipal officials still are convinced that where there's a

Department has mentioned the right of American citizens to return to their own country, and this position, too obvious for any but Communist contradiction, should be interpreted as perhaps foreshadowing an attempt to initiate discussions on the Americans' departure with economic assistance to Cuba a condition of their release.

Such a ransoming may become necessary, but if ransom is exacted it should go into the reckoning with which Cuba's Communists ultimately will be confronted.

Fort Worth Star-Telegram

Dislike becoming involved?
Any time a group of religious leaders, and sometimes politicians, or other groups discussing the world situation in general get around their cups of coffee, the discussing very often turns to the increased crime rate in the United States, and it is an alarming figure. According to some reports the crime rate is increasing up to five times as fast as the population.

Why?
A recent TV special featured the crime in the United States, not only the outgoing types, but those who have social standing and are respected people in the community, and often hold responsible positions in the city where they live.

The conclusion of this feature left the audience with the remark that the increased crime is due to the apathy of the public, or the fact that people just don't want to become involved.

Often a petty crime is seen and never reported, for if it were the person making the complaint would have to sign a statement, perhaps appear in court and tend to other court proceedings, and he can't be away from his job that long or doesn't want others to think he is hard to get along with.

The following statement regarding not getting involved can be applied to anybody, any time, and any place. Although witnessing the breaking of a street light and saying nothing may not be as bad as the act indicated by the writer of the poem, both are the same principal.

It states:
"In Germany, the Nazis first came for the Communists and I didn't speak up because I was not a Communist.

Then they came for the Jews, and I did not speak up because I was not a Jew.

Then they came for the Trade Unionists and I didn't speak up because I wasn't a Trade Unionist.

Then they came for the Catholics and I was Protestant so I didn't speak up.

Then they came for ME . . . by that time there was no one to speak up for anyone."

The statement was signed by Pastor Martin Niemoller at the Council of the Evangelical Church in Germany, October 18, 1945.

Speaking of crime, of course, brings up juvenile delinquency. It is a fact that Mormon youth and Oriental youth do not appear in juvenile courts.

The remainder of the country may take a lesson from the way they train youth and help cut down the crime rate.

It appears worth looking into, doesn't it? They seem to have something the rest of us don't as far as training youth are concerned.

Crosbyton Review

Controls no answer
Texas and the nation have been shocked by the senseless killing of 15 persons and the wounding of 33 others at the University of Texas Monday, and already there are cries demanding that Congress pass laws doing away with the ownership of guns in this country because if it were not possible to secure guns then nothing like this mass massacre on the UT campus would ever happen.

True, it was a gun, or guns that did most of the killing. But the crazed assassin used a knife to first kill his wife and mother before setting out on his bloody adventure on top of the university tower. Why not outlaw all knives?

Laws prohibiting the ownership of guns, or laws requiring the registration of them, would serve to get the honest and law abiding people on the rolls. It would not deter the man who is determined to use a gun. Laws prohibiting the sale and use of narcotics are no deterrent to the addict.

The experts and the psychologists and the analysts will be a long time trying to explain what happened in the mind of Charles J. Whitman, an apparently normal and well adjusted young man, to make him run berserk as he did in Austin on this fateful Monday.

Whitman gave no evidence that he was cracking up. He was a good student, a former Eagle Scout, worked with a Scout troop in Austin, held down a part time job, apparently was a good citizen.

But something happened. Whether there are enough psychiatrists or health facilities to screen everybody in the nation and weed out the potential psychopaths is highly doubtful.

Nobody has a good answer to the problem of senseless killing. Passing laws controlling the acquisition and use of guns is not the right answer, in our opinion. The answer must go a lot deeper than that.

Off the shelf

Our choices from the Cochran County Library were quite varied this week. One is only for adults and only those with strong stomachs at that. The other is an adult book that will be enjoyed equally by teenage readers.

"Daughter," oh my Daughter by Mildred Messure Jeffrey is a story on the discovery of a young male blackboard jungle and the book lives up to its advanced rating that it's not for the squeamish.

Mrs. Jeffrey writes a novel of the heartbreak experienced by young married teacher in a New York school for girls. Margaret Wand is warned by the other teachers not to get involved but she can't resist trying to help Natavidia Perez. A pretty Puerto Rican girl, she was intelligent but also rebellious and savage at times.

Competing with Mrs. Wand is Natavidia are Jose, leader of the vicious Pharaoh gang, and Natavidia's mother.

Those who are unfamiliar with the fifth, brutality and outlook of the slums will have a hard time relating the characters to real people, but the novel is based on facts. Readers tackle this book at their own risk.

Much more enjoyable was "The Seat of My Pants" by Doris C. Smith. The author isn't a professional writer, but his autobiography is a real dandy.

Because of his size, and a military Smith finds himself in the U. S. Army during the latter days of World War I. Because of some previous military school training, he quickly becomes an acting sergeant, then a permanent sergeant, and eventually gets himself assigned (unofficially) to pilot training.

He wins his wings and a Second Lieutenant's commission before he is 18, but ends up as an instructor rather than in France when the war ends.

Out of uniform, he continues to fly in anything and everything that has wings and a propeller. Through chance, he joins the military group of men that formed the Marine Service, flying through the most miserable weather in the North-east.

Forced landings are common place, as are the unscheduled stops just to visit with a pretty former daughter or to join a party. Smith is in on the pioneering efforts that led to transcontinental beacons and instrument aids for four- and five-engine navigation.

He later is selected as a pilot for the Byrd expedition to South Pole, and writes with candor about the leader of the polar group.

All in all, this is one of the most humorous books we've read in a long while, and also is highly informative about the pioneering pilots of the World War I era.

The OX-5's and the primitive craft that were used in the early mail flights.

About 30% of Texas, or some 50 million acres, is under lease for oil and gas exploration.

Law restricts spray methods

Cochran County farmers this month demanded and got a county-wide protection plan which brings new and tighter restrictions on the dealers and applicators of herbicides in this area.

The herbicide control law (HB 402) was adopted by order of the Cochran County Commissioners Court immediately following an Aug. 1 hearing to determine whether or not valuable crops were being damaged by herbicides in this county.

Action was prompted by complaints of cotton crop damage which dozens of area producers claimed was due to the use and misuse of the poisons.

Following is the third in a series of articles released by County Agent Homer E. Thompson spelling out various sections of the law now in effect. This week's article pertains to Section IV of the Herbicide Regulations.

SECTION IV. GENERAL REQUIREMENTS OF THESE REGULATIONS.

D. Specification of Equipment.

1. Equipment must be equipped with a screen of fine enough mesh to remove all foreign material from the spray solution, provided, however, in lieu of a screen in the equipment all spray may be screened through such a screen before being put into the equipment.
2. Hose and hose connections shall be made of such material and so constructed as to eliminate all possible leakage.
3. A positive cut off valve shall be installed between the tank and the outlets and each outlet shall have a positive cut off valve.

E. Requirements for Spray Operations: All spraying of hormone-type herbicides must conform to these requirements regardless of whether or not a permit is required.

1. Wind Gauge: An accurate wind gauge shall be at the place of spraying during such spraying.
2. Maximum Velocity: No person shall spray herbicides when the wind velocity exceeds ten (10) miles per hour.
3. Maximum pressure for aircraft equipment: It is unlawful for a person to spray hormone-type herbicides with aircraft equipment at an outlet pressure which exceeds 30 pounds per square inch. As an alternative to the herein listed maximum pressure, the equipment may be so regulated to give not less than a 200 micron size droplet.
4. Maximum pressure for ground equipment: It is unlawful for a person to spray hormone-type herbicides with ground equipment at an outlet pressure which exceeds 40 pounds per square inch. As an alternative to the herein listed maximum pressure, a canopy can be installed over the boom so as to keep spray materials from drifting.
5. Type and Concentration of Herbicides: Spraying with non-volatile and low volatile herbicides shall be done only under requirements of the following chart. This chart is based upon the use of a one pound concentration of hormone-type herbicide applied per acre. In the event a higher concentration is sprayed, the proximity to susceptible crops shall increase in such proportions as one pound concentration bears to the

Going away to

At this time of the year, all over our nation, boys and girls are leaving home to attend the school of their choice. Many, for the first time in their lives, will be away from home and their home church. They should be encouraged to, immediately, seek a church nearby where they may continue to worship the Lord, and have the companionship of friends with similar outlooks on life and God.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
