Connie Stowe named Queen of Heart in contest Monday

Connie Stowe, a pretty Morton High School senior, was named the Cochran County Queen of Heart Monday night in the County Activity Building Auditorium before approximately 500 persons. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Stowe. Connie was crowned by Sherry Peters, 1966 Queen of Heart.

The contest, sponsored by the Cochran County Heart Assn., attracted 10 entrants from Morton, Whiteface and Bledsoe.

Named first runner-up was Linda Lumpkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lumpkins, while Belva Gainer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gainer was picked second runner-up. Both girls are from Whiteface.

Entertainment was provided by the Bonnevilles, the Marijuana Brass, the Brownlow Family, Girlstown Quintet, Morton High School Stage Band, and the Volkswagen Gang (Simplephonics). Don Vandlandingham was the emcee for the evening.

Dr. Martin Dalton, Lubbock, presented a brief talk in behalf of the Heart Fund. Dr. Dalton said that more than 600,000 people died of heart attacks last year and that $16 million was allocated for research last year by the Heart Fund.

Dr. Dalton listed six steps to the prevention or control of heart disease: don't smoke, see a doctor for treatment of heart diseases, watch your weight, watch your diet, exercise, and support the Heart Fund.

The three finalists in the contest, Connie Stowe, Linda Lumpkins, and Belva Gainer, were asked questions by Vandlandingham to aid the judges in making their decision.

Linda was asked what qualities she would look for in a husband. She said, "I would look for understanding, sympathy, love, and faith."

Belva was asked how she felt about miniskirts. She replied, "I don't particularly like them for American girls". She said that American girls had to have certain standards and that wearing mini-skirts didn't allow them to have those standards.

Connie's question was, "Do you like boys' long hair styles, and why?" She said that as long as the hair was neat, clean cut and didn't come down to the shoulders and over the ears it was okay.

Gas-condensate discovery told

A gas-condensate discovery has been completed by W. A. Moncrief of Fort Worth, at No. 1 F. O. Masten, central Cochran County exploration, 10 1/2 miles southeast of Bledsoe.

A calculated, absolute open flow potential of 6,500,000 cubic feet of gas per day has been produced by perforation from 10,967-683 feet, which had been treated with 500 gallons of mud acid.

The well yielded 158 barrels of 61.2-gravity condensate plus 1,721,000 cubic feet of gas on a 24-hour production test. Gas-liquid hydrocarbon ratio was 10,828-1.

The operation drilled to total depth 10,090 feet and set 5 1/2-inch casing at 10,089 feet for the completion. It plugged back to 10,088 feet.

Location is 3,500 feet from west lines of League 135, Armstrong County School Land Survey. The test is one mile northwest of the Loveland (San Andres) field, and is seven miles north-northwest of Cochran (Devonian) pool.

City adopts electrical code, discusses park

Adoption of a new City Electrical Code highlighted a regular meeting of the Morton City Council on Monday night.

The new code becomes effective immediately. It provides for licensing of journeymen and master electricians, after testing to assure competence.

With adoption of the code, four members were appointed to the City Electrical Board. E. L. Reeder and Fred Morrison will serve two-year terms, expiring Dec. 31, 1968; while Ed Pruett and Joe Carrouthers will serve one-year terms, expiring Dec. 31, 1967.

D. M. Lewallen will serve as secretary to the board and will assure that the code is enforced in Morton.

Windom Oil Company submitted the only bid for ethyl gasoline for use in city vehicles. The bid was 16.6 cents per gallon delivered. Windom Oil had the contract previously.

Open house slated for Schools Week

Morton School Superintendent Ray Lanier said all systems are "go" for the annual Morton Public School's Open House, to be held Tuesday, March 7, from 7-9 p. m. in all school facilities.

Highlight of the open house will be science fair exhibits in the junior and senior high buildings. Also, class work will be on display in all class rooms and teachers will be available for questions concerning student work.

Lanier said that about 1,500 were expected to attend the event. He issued a special invitation for all parents to attend the open house as well as visit classrooms during the week.

The open house is held in conjunction with Texas Public Schools Week, which runs March 6-10.

Ray Lanier, superintendent of the school system, told the NHS members and the audience that man was not born to be a neutral factor, that man was born with something to do in life.

Using the parable of the talents, Lanier urged NHS members to make the most of their talents in building their future.

Job Corps training benefit to local girl

The Job Corps has made a definite contribution to the life of one Morton girl through increased training. Lupe Orozco, an 18-year-old high school dropout, has just recently returned from Clinton, Iowa, Job Corp Center. The first person to enter the Job Corps from Morton, Lupe was trained as a nurse aide. She applied for the government-financed program for dropouts in May, 1966 and entered the program Aug. 16. Lupe entered the program to "make a better future for myself and to learn how to get along with other people," she said. There were about 700 corpswomen at the camp entered in the three programs offered there: business and clerical, cosmetology, and health occupation. Under the nurse aide, child care, lab technician, and dental assistant training. Lupe chose nurse aide training because, "I want to help people." Nurse aide training consists of accomplishments at three levels or plateaus. For Plateau I training, the nurse aides must learn to take temperature, pulse, respiration and a total of 21 other things. Plateau I training consists of blood pressure and bed baths, while the III level is on-the-job training. Between levels I and II, Lupe worked in a nursing home, and then in a hospital between II and III. She said her classes ran from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. Corpswomen in the Center ranged in age from 16-21 and came from 36 different states. Of the girls at the Center, Lupe said those from California were the most like Texans. "The other girls, especially those from New York were hard to get to know," she said. "The nicest thing was that I got paid while I was learning," she said. When she finished the camp she was getting paid $13.72 every other week, which went for personal items. On her arrival at the camp, she was given a $140 clothing allowance. In addition, the government put $25 into her savings account each month for use by her when she got out. They also sent $50 a month to her parents. After completing her training at the Clinton Job Corps Training Center, Lupe was eligible to take LVN training course in Los Angeles, Calif. However, Lupe elected to return home and help her parents. She still hopes to attend the LVN training course in the near future. Of her training at the Job Corps Center, Lupe said, "I received good training, better than I would have received anywhere else."

County Agent's report . . .

By HOMER E. THOMPSON

To help prevent disease, plant a crop on the same soil no more often than is absolutely necessary. It is important to rotate crops. A disease of only slight importance to a crop the first year may carry over in the soil and become more serious with each passing year. Finally, the crop will no longer be profitable to grow.

Most of the common soil-borne diseases pass through unfavorable periods on crop refuse in the soil. Such diseases include damping-off, root rot, wilts and root knot plus many foliage diseases such as early blight. After disease organisms enter a new field, a small infection can grow and become serious. Corn smut is an example of a fungus which is carried by wind-blown spores. It survives in the soil for several seasons.

A plant disease already established in a field may often be avoided by planting a different crop which is not susceptible to the disease.

Farmers should learn to recognize plant diseases of this area, points out the county agent, then follow recommended control practices or plant crops which are resistant to the disease or diseases. Some disease organism may live in the soil for years, even in the absence of a susceptible crop, while others can be controlled if the land is planted for a few seasons only to non-susceptible crops. Information is available from the county agent's office on plant diseases which are most common in the county along with suggestions for control.

GOOD LIGHTING

Good lighting around the farmstead can provide farm families year round benefits. These include keeping wild animals and prowlers away, preventing falls and accidents, saving time in farmstead night work and making activities in the building area easier.

The new mercury-vapor yard light is one of the best lights available. Where located near the middle of the building area, it provides enough light to adequately cover the entire area. The 250-400 watt size lamps are rapidly gaining in popularity over the 175-watt size. The fixtures have a built-in photoelectric control to automatically turn the light on at dusk and off in the morning. The mercury bulb has a rate life of 16,000 hours. This would be about four years of operation under automatic control. Many electric power suppliers have a rental plan by which these lamps can be installed and permanently maintained for a small monthly charge.

WEED CONTROL

It is time to give consideration to a pasture weed control program. Dock, thistle, wild onions and other weeds will soon begin showing up in permanent pastures and in winter grazing crops.

These can be controlled with 2,4-D. For dock and thistle, use one pound per acre. For other hard to kill weeds, more than one treatment may be needed or an increased amount of the chemical used.

Do not spray pastures where vetch, clover, winter peas or other legumes are growing. The 2,4-D will kill these plants, too.

White clover can tolerate an application of 2,4-D up to three-quarters of a pound per acre if the plants have a good healthy root system. Other legumes are very susceptible to the chemical. Spraying should be done when temperatures are in the 70 to 80 degree range.

A summer spraying program should be planned now. Pastures which are near cotton or other susceptible crops should be sprayed before these crops come up and start growth.

The county agent reminds that one of the best weed control programs is heavy fertilization. Fertilizer helps build a good sod and this holds back weeds. For further information on weed control, interested persons are invited to come by the agent's office for a copy of L-476, "Weed Control in Cultivated Pastures and Meadows" and B-1029, "Suggestions for Weed Control with Chemicals".

PHOSPHORUS NEEDED

Beef cattle producers need to give special attention to supplying phosphorus for their herds. This mineral, says U. D. Thompson, Extension animal husbandman at Texas A&M University, is highly deficient in dry pasture forage, a condition which is now widespread in Texas.

Practical methods of supplying phosphorus to range cattle include soluble phosphorus in drinking water and phosphorus supplements in mineral feeders.

Where the water supply of cattle can be controlled, adding phosphorus to the water may be the most satisfactory method. Monosodium phosphate may be added to water troughs by hand. Automatic dispensers which add the desired amounts of mineral solution to a given amount of water are also available, the specialists says.

If the mineral is added by hand, recommendations generally call for one-fourth ounce monosodium per eight gallons of water or one-fourth ounce per head daily. A stock solution of two-and-one-half pounds of this phosphate per gallon of water or 100 pounds to 40 gallons of water is recommended when an automatic dispenser is used. This machine automatically proportions the mineral to the water.

Sheltered mineral feeders offer protection from wind and rain and thereby lessen waste. The weather-vane type is satisfactory if kept level and treated with a rust preventive. Placing the feeding trough 12-18 inches above the ground will permit calves free access to the mineral. The feeding box should be divided - salt in one compartment and additional minerals in the other. A mixture of one part salt

Hickman nominated for Board alternate

Representatives of 14 Texas Cotton Producers Organizations in Dallas on February 14 nominated 26 men which the Secretary of State will select five members and five alternates to the Cotton Board being organized under the dollar-a-bale Cotton Research and Promotion Act. Roy Hickman of Morton was named as alternate for Place

There were two nominees each for board members and two each for alternates from Places Two and Four, and the 14 organizations were unanimous in the nomination of leaders from those areas.

No complete agreement could be reached among the organizations on Places Three and Five, so three names each were placed in nomination for members and alternates from Place Three, and four names for each position from Place Five.

PCG took no prominent part in the nominations from North Central and East Texas, but nominated its own candidates for the fifth Place.

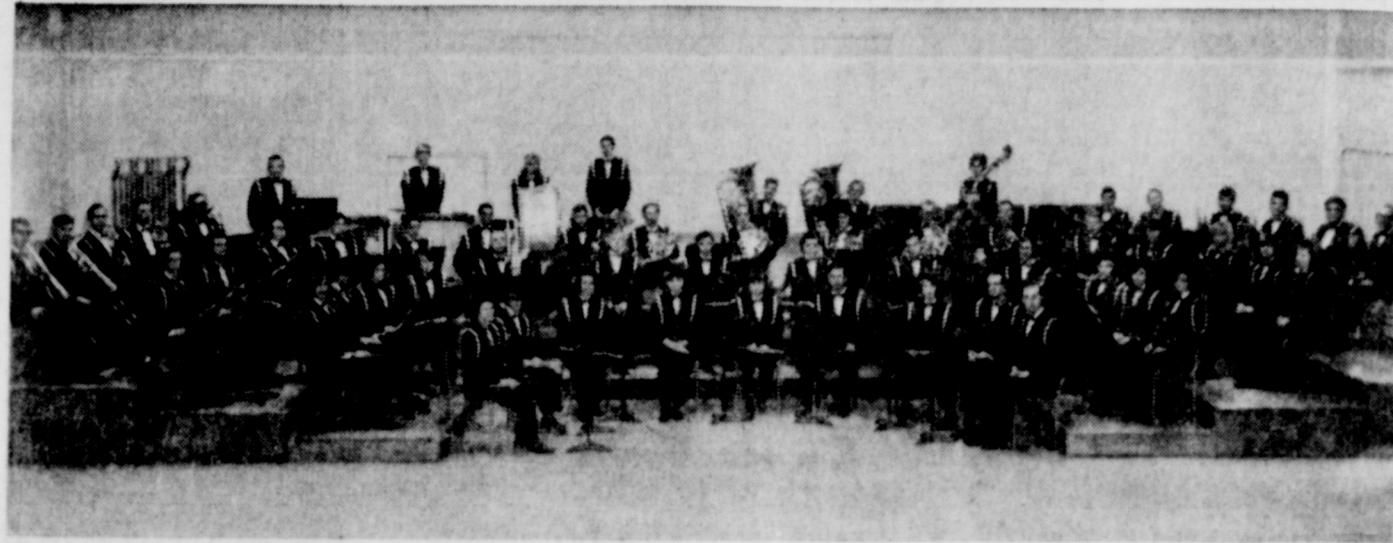

Aubrey Lockett, of Vernon and Lockettville, and Guy Nickels of Muleshoe were PCG's nominees for board members along with Donnell Echols, Lamesa and Roy Hickman, Morton, for alternates. The High Plains normally produces 40 per cent or more of the cotton grown in Texas and the PCG Executive Committee felt the area therefore should nominate two of the five board members that will come from the state.

The Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Association, with headquarters at Stamford, went along with PCG on its nominations for board members from Place Five. With this exception, the other 13 organizations agreed on a staff of four nominees from the staff of Prairie View A&M College, Prairie View, Texas.

Smith said, "We felt the obligation of PCG was to nominate people who could adequately and effectively represent this area on the Board, and we have met this obligation."

The Cotton Board, with 20 members in all, is the group which will designate the cotton handler responsible for collecting the $1 per bale and work out procedures for refund. It will then contract with a beltwide producer organization, yet to be formed, to carry out cotton research and promotion projects.

All of the cotton producing states have now held producer caucuses such as the Texas caucus in

Medicare coverage begins at age 65

Medicare protection for hospital bills and doctors' bills can start with the month you reach age 65. To get this immediate coverage for doctor bills, however, you must enroll during one of the three months before the month you reach 65.

Your first enrollment period ends three months after your 65th birthday. If you do not enroll before the end of the third month after the month you reach 65, you won't be able to sign up until October 1967. Your coverage would not start until January 1968.

If you sign up in your first enrollment period your monthly premiums will be $3. Should you wait until October 1967, your premiums will be at least 10 percent higher.

By not visiting your social security office promptly you can lose over a year of this valuable protection against the cost of doctor bills. You are eligible for Medicare if you continue working after 65.

To make sure you understand how social security affects you, get in touch with your social security district office at 3428 Avenue H, Lubbock. The telephone number is POS 8541, Ext. 384.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Morton on March 13 in the Court-house Basement at 9:30 a.m.

Jesse T. opposes racing, drinking

State Representative Jesse T. George, Cochran County's Austin legislator, stated today that he will oppose measures before the 60th Session which would provide for the regulation, licensing and taxation of horse racing and pari-mutuel wagering in Texas. He stated that he also will vote against any proposals authorizing the sale of liquor by the drink in the state.

George reflected that "In 1962 the voters of Texas expressed by referendum vote their opposition to pari-mutuel wagering in Texas. The five-county district which I represent cast 2,543 votes in favor of the measure, while 6,904 people opposed it. The citizens of Cochran County expressed a sentiment parallel to those of my other counties, for here 293 votes were cast for the measure, while 713 votes were in opposition." He continued, "Though I realize that both pari-mutuel gambling and liquor by the drink would provide substantial tax revenues to the State, I believe that a representative of the people owes it to his district to reflect their majority views. My mail has run extremely heavy in opposition to both of these proposals, and I will reflect that attitude during this Session, as I did during the 59th Session two years ago."

Terraza florite is supposed to be the roughest type in the world, but you'll find growers in the lobby of the Morton High gymnasium. These were out there by Rev. Fred Thomas last Thursday night after he on a roll at 7:30 a.m. that the Marlen Roadkings were in Ft. Sumner, N.M. Brother Ford is president of the Morton Athletic Boosters, who were sponsoring the Roadkings' appearance. Their first date was cancelled when they were stranded in Oklahoma by snow. Thomas finally announced that the visitors were unable to appear and offered spectators their money back. He also offered a contest between the Outsiders team and the Morton High coaching staff. Enough stayed so the contest lasted for the night, but the Roadkings won't be invited back to Morton in the near future.

I came to spectate, but stayed to coach the coaches to victory in a hard-fought 99-88 decision. I must attribute the success to my superior coaching ability. I called periodic time-outs and then let varsity coach Ted Whillock explain the strategy he and his teammates would utilize. Superior conditioning also wasn't a factor as the coaches could suit up only five players and had to play the entire game without any relief. Seriously, it was a good game to watch, as neither team was able to get more than five points ahead during the entire contest. Friday morning I announced my retirement from the basketball coaching field, undefeated and on. Or, as Coach Whillock points out, "It's not how you play the game that counts to a coach, it's how you win!"

This reminds me of the telegram that some Denver City fans sent to their head football coach, Don Orr, when he was coaching the North Al-star high school football team in Houston last summer. "We're with you, coach," they wired. "Win or die."

This weekend the big Cochran County Junior Livestock Show will unroll at the County livestock barn east of Morton. The entry list is a huge one and the judges will have their hands full trying to sift animals down to a manageable group for the auction. We hope you will be on hand for the show and the sale to support these fine youngsters. They, and their leaders, have invested a lot of time and effort in their animals and deserve to get your backing as they aim for the prizes.

Have you bought your tickets for the annual Morton High School athletic banquet. The affair is slated for Friday, March 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Tickets are $2.50, available from members of the Boosters Club. Guest speaker will be Tom Wilson, Texas Tech coach and former quarterback of the Red Raiders.

Don't forget that March 11 is the last day to purchase vehicle registration tags. And the vehicle safety inspection deadline is getting closer, too. NOW would be a good time to get these little chores out of the way.

Poverty is expensive. The Great Society promised to turn out 10,000 graduates annually from the Job Corps. They never came close. From all 112 training centers there were 7,341 placed in jobs, 834 returned to school and 1,991 entered the Armed Forces. Total: 9,786. Total Cost: $22,592,258. Price per individual: $2,302. At this rate, when they reach their goal of 40,000, the annual price could be $2,140,000,000. It seems that it might be a lot better, quicker, much more effective to just hand out $52,302 to each candidate and thus lift him out of poverty immediately. Where does the Job Corps line form?

Bledsoe's Antelopes didn't survive the regional basketball tournament last weekend at Canyon. As bi-district champs they were knocked off Saturday morning by Darronzett, 85-58. In the consolation finals, they lost to McAdoo.

Lint program to be discussed

Cooperative gins, together with Plains Cotton Cooperative and the Growers Seed Assn., will jointly sponsor a voluntary quality lint program on a pilot basis for the 1967 crop.

The outlook for 1967 points to a shortage of 1-1/2" cotton with adequate strength and micronaire. "We feel the cooperatives have developed a program that may capture some additional income as a result of these quality shortages," said D. L. Lauer, Jr., manager of the Morton Cooperative Gin.

"We are asking each of our producers to be present at a meeting to be held in the Community Activity building auditorium on Sunday, March 6, at 7:30 p.m.," he said.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the cooperative quality lint program in order to determine the members' interest in a project of this type.

Figures show that the cotton in greatest demand possesses these characteristics: staple length of 1-1/8 to 1-1/4 inch; fineness of 30,000 to 35,000 pounds per square inch, or higher; micronaire of 4.5 to 5.5, and uniformity from base to bale. Cotton meeting these specifications is bringing 50¢ per bale or more above the loan — right now.

95-97, Booker T. Washington of Plainview jumped Darronzett in the tourney final and advanced to the state playoff. First downey of Bledsoe was named to the all-tourney team.

Bula's girls failed to get past bi-district Monday night as they fell to Cotton Center, 99-92. Joyce Sawyer had 16 points for Bula, which is the District 3-6 champion.

We thoroughly enjoyed attending the annual true and gold banquet for our scout pack 994 last week at the school cafeteria. It was a fine affair, complete with songs, skits, a good meal and a fine talk by Rev. Kenneth Wyatt. He kept both Cubs and adults laughing with his rapid-fire humor, although he confessed prior to the talk, "I'm not sure what makes a 10-year-old laugh." I suggested pie in the face, but Kenneth thought it wouldn't be too funny if it happened to him. And I had a perfect excuse: I was wearing my older son's new sport jacket!

That older son is just my size in regard to jackets. But he jumped from a 7 to an 8 in dress shoes and failed to buy even one pair of 7 1/2's.

It seems to happen every year, but there aren't any candidates yet for the two City Council posts that are to be vacated. Saturday is the deadline for filing. At the last Council meeting, outgoing members Walter Taylor and Elmo Seaney were told they couldn't quit until they found their own replacements. If they really want off the Council as badly as they say, that should produce some results. And besides, the council posts now pay a little more... or will when the new council is sworn in.

Poverty's not very cheap. In fact, it's cost is steep. Perhaps an improved plan might eliminate the middle man.

Two new courses offered at South Plains College

Two new courses have been added to the curriculum of South Plains College. The courses include Lamp Making and a Short Course in Bridge. Both classes will begin March 9 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Roberta McCabe will instruct the Lamp Making course while Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Collier will instruct the Bridge class.

The lamps are made from plastics in a variety of sizes, shapes, and designs. Supplies for the first lesson will be available, and other supplies may be purchased from the instructor as the course progresses.

Mrs. McCabe studied "Plastics" at the Lubbock Art and Garden Center and has made lamps for leading building contractors and a furniture store in Lubbock as well as for individuals.

The class will be limited to twelve persons. It will meet each

Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and has a registration cost of $10.

Mrs. McCabe pointed out that the cost of a lamp depends on its size and materials required. However, the maximum should not be over $25 to $28.

The Bridge classes will be conducted on both Wednesday and Thursday nights. Mrs. Collier will teach on Wednesday nights and her husband on Thursday.

She has been teaching bridge over a period of ten years. She teaches at Texas Tech, City of Lubbock (Community Centers) and classes at Country Clubs in the area. Mrs. Collier was the director for the Llano Estacado Unit 197, American Contract Bridge League, director for the Brownfield Country Club. She has been the bridge teacher for the Y.W.C.A. and has had private classes in Lubbock. She is instructing at the Plainview Y.W.C.A. at the present time. She holds a Life Master in the American Contract Bridge League, which is the highest level one can attain. She obtained the Life Master by winning in both local and national tournaments.

Mr. Collier has played in bridge tournaments over a period of 35 years and has substituted for his wife in many of her classes. He has also had classes of his own and taught last spring at Texas Tech. He taught two classes at the Plainview Y.M.C.A. and also taught his wife. He holds a National Master in the A.C.B.L., which was obtained by winning in local competition.

Classes will include 30-45 minutes of lecture with the remainder of the time spent in supervised play. Classes will run from 7:30 to 10 p.m. for seven weeks.

CAP agreements to close March 3

The U.S. Department of Agriculture today announced 74,033 agreements have been requested by farmers offering 5,968,549 acres for the Cropland Adjustment Program (CAP). Signup for the CAP began December 1, and will continue through March 3. Today's report is cumulative through January 12.

Another report will be issued before the close of the signup, and the final one will be in mid-March.

In 1966, about 36,000 agreements were signed in 46 States to participate in the CAP. About 2 million acres were included in those agreements. In Cochran Co., 49 signed up for more than $400,000 in CAP payments.

Today's report also shows 11,975 requests offering 1,314,851 acres for CAP supplemental agreements under the public access provisions of the program. These would offer the land for free public use for hunting, fishing, trapping and hiking.

General objectives of the CAP are to divert cropland from production of commodities (mostly cotton and feed grain acreage) and into other beneficial uses. The uses include recreation, wildlife habitat, erosion control, open space and natural beauty.

In addition to the cropland objectives, the program also emphasizes assistance to those farmers who because of age, or other employment, desire to reduce their farming operations. Also, it aims to help those farmers who want to shift from crops to other endeavors.

Farmers apply at the county AS-CS offices for CAP agreements indicating the amount of land they are willing to divert, and the period of time, from 5 to 10 years, for which they want a contract. Accepted agreements then can get paid at a rate determined by the crop diverted and the productivity of the land diverted. Participants need to agree to divert all of at least one of their bases or allotments, but can then contract to divert other bases, allotments, tame hay land, and nonallotment base acre. Wheat and rice acreage as such are not eligible for inclusion in the program.

Club to have slides shown

Their names are Richard Zalka and Samira Makarem. The girl will be in her native costume. Richard Zalka will present slides on the Holy Land and will bring along souvenirs for the Clubs to see.

The program will be on the "Holy Land and Lebanon," and will be presented by both the boy and the girl.

Anyone wishing to attend this meeting please contact Mrs. J. A. Woolley, 266-9241, before noon Friday. Everyone welcome.

Donald Ferguson is new Scout Exec.

Donald W. Ferguson is the new District Scout Executive just assigned to serve the George White District including the counties of Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, and Lamb. Announcement of the appointment was made by DeWitt Thompson, Scout Executive of the South Plains Council.

Ferguson graduated in January from Texas Tech with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education. He is a native of Shawnee, Okla., and his most recent home was Dallas. He has already reported for duty on the Council staff and will leave immediately for the National Training School for Scout Executives at the Schiff Scout Reservation in New Jersey. The six week training course there will end on March 30.

Following his training, he and his wife Caren will move into the district and make their home at Levelland. He is 22 years old. He is a member of the Baptist Church and has had five years in the Scouting program. His duties will be to serve the institutions and Scouting leaders of this four-county district in all phases of Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Exploring. He will work closely with the District Committee and its six operating committees headed by George Price of Levelland. His responsibility includes service to the 47 units with 1,087 boys now actively registered in George White District.

Production guidelines being mailed to farmers

Production guidelines regarding specifically to the conditions in Cochran County and conservation and grain sorghum are being mailed to every local farming unit.

This is the first time such guidelines have ever been prepared on a county basis, according to County Agent Homer E. Thompson.

He believes that farmers who take time to study the recommendations will find helpful tips producing optimum yields and saving production costs.

A combined total of 900 guidelines are being mailed to local farmers. Printing costs are being covered by the commissioners.

The conditions and problems of the area.

The county agent then localized the information so that it would be correct for his county. Information from local farmers and the results of county demonstrations were used as a basis for local revisions.

A few extra sets of the guidelines are available at the County Agent's office for individuals who did not receive a set or for those who would like a copy.

★ Workshop

A two-day clothing workshop on construction tips for children's clothing will be held March 7 and 10 in the County Activity Building from 9:30-11:30 a.m., according to Jennie Allen, county demonstration agent. Miss Allen said the class is open to everybody and is free. Enrollment will be limited to 10. However, a night class will be offered if there is enough demand. No single garment will be made in the class, but samples that show the different techniques used in making children's clothing will be made. To register or to receive more information, call Jennie Allen, 266-2841.

Opinion is given in Sun Oil case

In an opinion handed down February 20, the Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo affirmed the judgment of Judge M. C. Ledbetter in Hockley County in the case of Sun Oil Company v. Earnest Whitaker, et al. The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 was an intervenor in this case.

The Court of Civil Appeals held that Sun Oil Company failed to show its right to the free use of underground fresh water for water flooding purposes. Sun Oil Company contended that it had the right to use fresh water for water flooding purposes by virtue of the "free wood and water" clause in its oil and gas lease. The Court rejected this contention pointing out that the intention of the parties should control and that the parties did not intend to allow the oil company to use water for this purpose when this particular lease was executed in 1946. The Court said in part,

"Principles of equitable justice must dictate that a grantor would not reasonably intend in the absence of specific language to the contrary, to grant a use which could, and under this record would, have the effect of substantially destroying the very estate the grantor reserved."

Junior Garden Club meets

The Merry Goals Junior Garden Club met Tuesday, Feb. 21 in the home of Mrs. Clyde Brownlow. Mrs. Brownlow brought a very interesting program on "Birds".

Members present were: Kathy McGehee, Wyn Crone, Elizabeth Deabours, Schelle Key, Chrysti Sanders, Susan Schooler, Melody Crone, Earlene Evans, Mrs. Brownlow and Mrs. J. L. Schooler.

Mrs. Brownlow and Mrs. Schooler are from the sponsoring club, Cochran County Garden Club.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. H. B. Spotts, on March 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wood and family of Tulsa, Okla., were here over the weekend and visited with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wood, the O. B. Huckabees and Mrs. Florence Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Willis went to Brownfield and spent Sunday with their son and family Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Willis.

LeFleur Club meets with Mrs. Jack Baker

The Le Fleur Garden Club met on Feb. 23 in the home of Mrs. Jack Baker, with the president, Mrs. Roy Hill presiding over the business meeting. During discussion of the club project of landscaping the Cochran County Historical Museum grounds, each member was asked to contact persons who might wish to buy a tree for the "Living Memorial Fence". Approximately thirty trees will be needed. They will be either Mountbatten Juniper or Blue Haven Junipers about 4 feet in height, at a cost of $7.50 which includes planting. Persons wishing to buy a memorial tree may contact Mrs. Roy Hill, Mrs. L. Z. Scoggins, Mrs. Jack Baker, Mrs. W. A. Woods or any member of the Garden Club. It is hoped that the trees may be secured and planted within the next week.

The club members voted to contribute $5.00 to the Heart Fund. The program on "Designing A Flower Border" was given by Mrs. W. A. Woods, who stated that proper preparation of the soil was very essential. It should be worked deeply, peat moss or humus added and a handful of balanced fertilizer added for each square foot. A "flower bed" was defined as an area which stands by itself as a display; while a "border" is viewed from the front only, with shrubbery, fence or house as a background.

The use of curved lines in shaping a bed or border is more pleasing than straight lines and sharp corners. Borders should be limited to five feet in depth for ease in working and for good proportion.

Members present were: Mrs. Roy Hill, Mrs. W. A. Woods, Mrs. Herman Bedwell, Mrs. Eugene Bedwell, Mrs. Don Samford, Mrs. Olin Darland and the hostess.

The next meeting will be on March 9, in the home of Mr. Owen Egger.

Once nematodes get at your cotton, yields go down and so do profits. But with FUMAZONE® 86 soil fumigant applied at only 1 to 2 gallons overall an acre, you can take care of root-knot, sting, meadow and other nematodes—those microscopic, worm-like soil pests that attack plant roots, suck away profits.

FUMAZONE 86 soil fumigant increases yields up to 1/2 bale an acre. Many High Plains farmers just like yourself tell us that's exactly what happened to their yields after their soils were treated with FUMAZONE 86. It can be applied right from the drum. No mixing, no diluting, no nozzles clogged with foreign material. You can use the chisel method, the plowsole method or inject FUMAZONE 86 into your irrigation water. Could you ask for greater flexibility? Sure you could. So here it is. Apply FUMAZONE 86 before planting, at planting or after planting. It's the only type of soil fumigant that can be used on living plants. Ask your Dow farm chemicals supplier about it.

E. O. Willingham named to cotton study group

At a directors meeting February 23, Plains Cotton Growers' President J. D. Smith of Littlefield appointed a four-man committee to look into the rising flood of textile imports to the U.S. and consider its effects on markets for U. S. cotton in general and cotton grown on the Texas High Plains in particular.
He placed PCG Vice President Don Anderson of Crosbyton, Board Chairman Roy Forkner of Lubbock, E. O. Willingham, Morton, and J. W. Borders of Whitharral on the committee.
The action came as a result of a letter received by Smith from Sadler Love, Secretary - Treasurer of the American Textile Manufacturers Institute headquartered in Charlotte, North Carolina.
Love's letter pointed out that U. S. imports of textiles made of cotton and man-made fibers have reached the "staggering equivalent of more than 1,400,000 bales of cotton," and represent cotton that is not grown by American farmers and yarn, cloth and garments that are not made by American employees.
He requested that PCG adopt a resolution which would stress the interest of the cotton producer in sensible limitations on textile imports call upon the federal government to impose and enforce such limitations. He also asked that copies of the resolution, if adopted, be sent to congressmen, senators, the Secretary of Agriculture and the governor.
The 1966 textile imports amount to a 37.4 per cent increase over 1965.
Perhaps of even greater significance is the fact that 182,000 bales, or 57 per cent of this one-year increase, is in the form of yarn, and came almost entirely from countries that produced the cotton from which the yarn was made.
This of course means a reduction of that same amount in the consumption of American cotton by domestic mills.
Some observers feel that this is the great remaining difficulty in cotton's domestic market, and that it threatens to cancel out the cotton gains being made under the current cotton program and those that are expected under the new Cotton Research and Promotion Act.
The National Cotton Council, at its annual meeting recently in San Francisco decided to "support appropriate action to provide reasonable protections against excessive imports of textile products, including apparel."
As the PCG Board discussed the matter, Vice President Don Anderson of Crosbyton expressed concern that a strong effort to restrict or shut off imports from some foreign countries might have an adverse effect on High Plains cotton, much of which goes into export markets.
He said he felt the subject was deserving of additional study before official action was taken, and suggested the possibility that textile import quotas for the various countries might in some way be correlated with the amount of U.S. cotton they bought.
Forkner commented that he believed the bulk of textile imports was coming to the U.S. from countries which were not exporters of raw cotton. But he agreed with Anderson that no action should be taken without first looking at all the pertinent facts.
The motion which led to the appointment of the committee reads: "That the PCG president appoint a committee to work with ATMI toward the development of specific proposals for action by the appropriate agencies of the federal government which will accomplish the textile import limitations as sought by ATMI without in any way jeopardizing export markets for U. S. Cotton, and that the committee present to the PCG Board or Executive Committee for approval any proposal or proposals agreed upon."
There was unanimous approval of the motion.

Guilty of Self-Embezzlement?

It's a serious charge. But lots of us are guilty . . . although very few people cheat themselves intentionally. Yet that's just what we're doing when we fail to shop our home stores before we buy.

Often enough the deals are better at home, dollar for dollar. Always they're better when you consider that Trade Builds Communities . . . and that Trade is the sole source of prosperity for an area and for those who live within it. Even great natural resources benefit only a few people if that wealth gets away from the community's regular trade channels.

When we buy from those who buy from us . . . either our labor or our products . . . when we trade with the neighbors who help us to support our local social facilities . . . when we spend our money where Trade creates opportunities for us and our children . . . then we're getting full value for the money we work to earn.

Precious SIGHT

No price is too high to pay to protect the eyesight of ourselves and our children. Good eyesight is an absolute necessity in the earning of our livelihood, in the school work of our children, and in the enjoyment of all of life.

But there is another type of sight which in these times is often neglected — spiritual sight. We and our children need to be established and grounded in the love of God and His commandments, and to rely on Him. We need to meet His requirement of loving our neighbors as ourselves, thus making a better home life, community life and a better world. Psalms 34:8 reads, "O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in Him." Attend the church of your choice this Sunday.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
