Help! Daylight Savings Time strikes here

Daylight Savings Time, that diabolical brainchild of someone who would probably rather remain anonymous, goes into effect at 2 a.m. Sunday, April 30. Other than creating all sorts of consternation and confusion, it should create few problems.

During Daylight Savings Time all timepieces are moved forward one hour in the spring and then moved back one hour in the fall. The desired effect is to give most people an extra hour of daylight at the end of the day.

However, problems will be faced and maybe even solved when the time changes Sunday. Store owners will have to decide whether to stay open by the clock or by the sun to best accommodate farmers.

A brief survey by the Tribune revealed that the majority of businesses in Morton will go by the clock with the same store hours as are now in effect. A few of the stores are still undecided as to how to handle the situation.

Schools have had their problems deciding what to do. Morton, Bula, Whiteface, and Bledsoe schools will go by the clock with the same times they are now using.

Three Way school will go by the sun, which means that school will run from 9:20-4:40 DST.

For specific information about opening and closing times, call the business in question. And, good luck.

Morton annual is dedicated to Harold Drennan

Words are inadequate to express our love and devotion to him, not only from the standpoint of his principal-pupil relationship, but also from the standpoint of his dynamic personality, and for his love of Christian living which he exemplifies every moment of the day.

This statement was part of what the Morton High School annual staff had to say to Harold Drennan, to whom the book was dedicated Monday. Drennan is elementary principal of Morton schools.

The dedication also cited Drennan because "His deep interest and sincerity have been incentives to encourage us to loftier heights of accomplishments. God bless you Mr. Drennan, for your untiring patience and guidance. We feel and know that the world is a better place in which to live with people like you to help smooth the rough walks of life."

An important meeting of mothers of all Morton Little League and minor league baseball players will be held at 5:30 p.m. Friday, April 28. The meeting will be held at the Little League Park. LL president Rusty Reeder called the meeting to discuss changes in operation of the Little League that are of particular concern to the mothers and their sons.

Time's a-wasting . . .

OUR PRETTY MAY CALENDAR GIRL, Janie DeLeon, has some misgivings about Daylight Savings Time, especially when it comes to changing the time on her clocks and watches. Effective April 30, all time will be moved up one hour. Janie, a 16-year-old Morton High School junior and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gil DeLeon, says she doesn't like the time change because it's confusing, and possibly because of the work in changing the clocks. (Staff Photo)

Stop signs and sewers are faced by local councilmen

The Morton City Council, with three new members still feeling out their jobs, covered a varied agenda ranging from stop signs to sewers Monday night in the City Hall.

Consuming the most time were an electrical bid and installation of sewer line.

Only one electrical bid was turned in for the wiring of the new city warehouse. Walter Sandefer of Morton turned in a bid of $375 for 30 openings and a circuit breaker. Sandefer said that other openings not shown on the blueprint would be installed at $10 each. He also said that one-half of the price would be required as down payment and the other half due upon completion.

A lengthy discussion centered around the price of the bid, the asking of a down payment, and a time limit for completion. Maurice Lewallen, city building inspector, was called to the meeting to clarify various points of the bid.

However a motion was made by George Hargrove to award the bid to Sandefer and to give him one-half down. Hargrove also stipulated in his motion that the entrance meter base must be installed by May 1.

After a long period of time in which Mayor Jack Russell asked several times for a second, Donnie Simpson seconded Hargrove's motion. The motion passed.

Wayne Gilliam again asked the city for sewer service. His order See SIGNS, Page 2

Head Lions are elected here

New officers for the Morton Lions Club were elected during a regular meeting last Wednesday noon. Harold Drennan was named president to replace Dean Weatherly. He and the other officers will take office July 1 for 11-month terms.

Others elected included: George Hargrove, first vice president; James Dewbre, second vice president; Tommy Hawkins, third vice president; Lloyd Miller, secretary; Sandy Ashill, Lion tamer; Bill Foust, tail twister; Budd Fountain, song leader; Daryl Bennett and Billy Weems, directors; and Jim Middleton, crippled children's chairman.

Signs

ginal request was made in early March. Gilliam lives in the city limits at the west end of Morton.

The problem with making the connection is one of right-of-way. Gilliam does not want the city to put an alley through his property because, if one was placed so as to correspond with existing alleys, Gilliam would have approximately seven feet of property on the other side of the alley. Gilliam has suggested that the sewer line be run around the boundary of the block. The city's main objection to this plan is the high cost it would involve. It would also mean tearing up the streets to install the line.

The council took no action but told City Secretary Elra Oden to work out the sewer line the best way possible, and without the need of a city council vote.

A stop sign for West Taylor and State Highway 214 was approved on a motion by Herman Bedwell and seconded by Wiley Hodge. There is no stop sign at the intersection at the present time and state law requires one.

The motion called for a rubber stop sign mounted in the pavement. This will allow traffic to enter the Mobil station and will not interfere with trucks unloading at Cox Auto Supply.

Lee Belcher, employee in the street department, was given a $25 raise to $335 monthly. Belcher has recently completed his 90-day probationary period with the city. Motion and second for the raise was made by Bedwell and Earl Stowe.

Elra Oden passed out copies of the proposed budget for the fiscal year March 1967-March 1968. He asked the councilmen to study the proposal over the week and then vote on it at the next meeting. He also urged the councilmen to go over city records if they had any questions concerning the present or proposed budget. The budget for 1966-67 was approved in June of last year. It was pointed out that the city did not have a budget until about five years ago.

The parking problem on the East side of the courthouse square was discussed but no action was taken. The council adopted a wait and see attitude concerning it.

A fee of $5 per permit for setting headstones in the Morton Cemetery was adopted by the council in other business. The permits are now required by the Cemetery Association in hopes of keeping certain parts of its restricted. All stone setters will be held responsible for all monuments placed in the Morton Cemetery. Illegally placed monuments will subject the stone setter to legal action.

Mayor Jack Russell asked Oden why the city was dragging its feet in the demolition of abandoned buildings. Oden replied that two buildings are in the process of being razed by the city.

Oden reported that Rusty Reeder, manager of Cochran Power and Light, asked if the city wanted any more street lights. The company furnishes the street lights and the city pays $2 per light per month for the use of them.

It was decided that 8-12 lights would be needed for the new Strickland Park, but that the exact number was not known. An order will be placed at a later date.

ings that he wanted to move his assembly operations out of Lubbock primarily to assure a more stable work force. He estimated that production would begin with 15-20 assembly workers, mostly women, and that he expected the operation would require as many as 50 workers within a year and 100 within two years.

"Morton has been crying for industry and this might be the chance it is seeking," Greene said. "We still need more pledges this week to take care of the financing that would be needed and we want to emphasize that this venture is as speculative as any other stock investment."

One factor that has been pointed out is that research and development has been done on the products and that Cash has orders for 285 radios now that have not been delivered.

Persons who are interested in buying stock in the company, or in learning more about the proposition, are asked to contact Van Greene or Leon Kessler.

Soil Stewardship breakfast held

Six area ministers attended the annual Soil Stewardship breakfast Tuesday at the Wig Wam. The breakfast, hosted by the First State Bank, featured a film from the Soil Conservation Service.

The film emphasized that God intended that the land and its resources be used wisely by man. Man is endowed with the ability to conserve or abuse the land; he must decide which.

Soil Stewardship Week is set across the country from April 30 through May 7. During this time ministers are urged to extol the virtues of soil conservation and its keeping with Biblical teachings.

Following the breakfast was a short tour of local farms showing such modern conservation practices as parallel terraces, irrigation, pasture seeding, and planting techniques.

Attending the breakfast were Aaron Mitchell, Whiteface Methodist Church; Fred Thomas and Phillip Vogel, First Baptist Church; Kenneth Wyatt, First Methodist Church; J. A. Woolley, Church of Christ; Bill Hobson, First Missionary Baptist Church, all of Morton; Budd Fountain and Sandy Ashill, Soil Conservation Service; and George Tuck, Morton Tribune.

Glenda Smith was home over the weekend visiting with her parents. Glenda is a student at South Plains College.

Chevrolet's steering stops you smoother

We re-designed the steering linkage and what do you suppose happened? The car stops smoother. The front wheels are less likely to "toe out" during braking and cause the tires to scrub. And on curves, the car grips like glue. Of course the improved steering linkage makes the car easier to turn. About 10% easier. Import water association scheduled for development

Final plans leading toward the organization of a water association for the High Plains of Texas and adjacent areas will be the subject of discussion at a meeting of regional leaders in agriculture, business and education to be held May 3rd at 9:30 a.m. at the Lubbock Club in Lubbock.

Formation of a water association is generally considered to be the first step necessary to the importation of water to the area. The organizational meeting to establish the association is slated to be held May 26th with time and place still to be selected. At that time it is hoped that several hundred interested persons will put the proposed association into operation.

Presiding at the planning session in Lubbock will be K. B. Watson of Amarillo, who is chairman of the water committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the West Texas Advisory Board to the Texas Water Development Board, and was selected as temporary chairman of the organization committee for the proposed water association at a meeting held in Lubbock in March.

Highlighting the May 3rd session will be reports of committee chairmen who have been drafting a proposed structure for the association. George McCleskey of Lubbock will give the report of the organization and legal committee, with J. D. Smith of Littlefield outlining plans for the May 26th. A. C. Verner, Lubbock banker, headed the committee to consider nominations for officers in the permanent organization and will present the recommendations to that group. Public information and publicity plans will be suggested by R. C. Godwin of Hereford. Russell Bean of Lubbock will present the recommendations of the finance committee.

The planning group for the proposed water association will also consider adoption of a permanent name for the organization. Western Water Development Association (WWDA) and Water Association To Expand Resources (WATER) are among the names under consideration.

"Importation of water, with face water and ground water being together to solve our problems and broaden our economic base, calls for an entirely new approach. The first step in this program is establishment of a water association which encompasses interests of every group in the region. The biggest water problem that has ever been held in a High Plains should be the organization of a water association. May 26th. There has never been a more important meeting for the future of this area before and we will never be another of the portance again." Watson said.

Visiting in the Bill Smith over the weekend were Mr. Mrs. Elbert Haggard and daughter, Shelley, of Carlsbad, N.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin spent the weekend in the home of their parents Mr. and Mrs. Calyton.

cheerleaders except for the juniors; maybe cheerleaders are bad luck?

The freshmen's colors were purple and yellow, and they dressed accordingly. The sophomore color was orange, and the team and cheerleaders showed up in orange T-shirts. The juniors and seniors used the regular basketball jerseys. One thing the tournament accomplished was making enemies of the different classes for a couple of days.

The Homemaking II girls gave a tea last Thursday where they served different kinds of sweet breads to members of the faculty and other guests they had invited. The occasion? The girls learned how to make sweet breads and had to feed them to somebody.

Annuals were passed out to Morton students Monday, April 24. The books, with black and gold covers, were dedicated this year to Harold Drennan, Elementary principal. The dedication presentation was made at a special assembly Monday morning out on the high school patio.

The juniors are putting the final touches on the banquet they're giving for the seniors with the theme this year to be . . . well, that's a secret. The banquet will take place Saturday night, April 29. The sophomores will serve, and all the seniors have to do is come. Everyone is really looking forward to this activity — even the sophomores.

Speaking of sophomores, they will be out of classes Thursday and Friday in order to take the annual achievement tests to find out how smart (or how dumb) they are.

Well, did everyone have a good week end? I hope so, because mine was a little disgusting. First of all, the sophomores lost the class tournament, which was a pretty hard blow right between the eyes.

Then Friday, I took my science project to the South Plains Regional Science Fair in Lubbock, and it took me an hour to find out where I was supposed to set it up. No one seemed to know anything about it. Then Saturday, I went back to Lubbock to find out what my rating was and to bring my project home.

Well, the only way I could find out my rating was to go to the awards ceremony, and I couldn't find that either. So finally, I just loaded up my project and came home. The whole science fair seemed to be just one hectic mess. But now that's over, so maybe I can look forward to a more successful weekend this week. I sure hope the juniors and seniors aren't too hard on the sophomores at the banquet!

Seniors in high school can earn college hours

High school students who have completed their junior year can assess a maximum of 14 hours toward a college degree before they finish their senior studies.

Dr. Roy C. McClung, Wayland College president, said the college this summer will initiate the special study program for students who will be classified as high school seniors this fall.

To be eligible for enrollment, Dr. McClung pointed out, a student must be in the top 25 percent of his junior class and must have approval of parents and his high school principal.

College courses The high school students will take the same courses as college students enrolled in the summer session and may complete a maximum of seven hours in each of the two terms in the summer session. Credits will be awarded the student upon his completion of his high school senior studies.

The plan has the approval of the Texas Association of Colleges, the Wayland president pointed out. Under the plan which has proved successful in other colleges it would be possible for a student to get off a year's college work before he became of draft age.

The Wayland College summer session will extend from June 5 to Aug. 25, with the first term extending from June 5 to July 17 and the second term starting July 17.

L'Allegro Study Club reviews past programs, sets installation

The L'Allegro Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Jack Russell on April 20 with Mrs. Harold Drennan presiding. Mrs. J. C. Reynolds offered the opening prayer.

Mrs. Russell announced the program, "The Art of Living and Learning", a round table discussion - review of the years study and gave the quotation "Art comes to you proposing frankly to give nothing but the highest quality to your moments as they pass." She introduced Mrs. Van Greene and Mrs. M. A. Silvers, who were program leaders.

Members discussed the various high-points of eleven program studies given during the year to see what they, as individual members, had gained in knowledge and education from the year. The program on Public Speaking brought forth these remembered tips: 1. Don't get up and apologize, 2. Know your Subject, 3. Have brief notes, 4. Practice, and 5. Have an eager desire to speak on the subject.

The program on the Art of Sensible Cooking was remembered by the study on nutrition and the importance of proper cooking to preserve the vitamins in foods. The Art of Freedom which was presented by H. A. Tuck gave insights into our freedoms as guaranteed by the Constitution and those that we are free to exercise, such as voting and other everyday freedoms in our community that are up-to-us.

The program on Learning for Pleasure or Hobbies aroused the appreciation the home - sew - dress, and how to care for clothing properly; to appreciate the fulfillment in furniture refinishing as a creation "all your own"; and finally the appreciation of flower arrangements made by our - for our home.

The program entitled "The Art of Life" Temperance, Self-Control, Diligence, Strength of Will and Contentment which was given by Mrs. H. B. Barker, remained foremost in members minds by the realization that "It's not so bad to be forty".

The program given at Gristown was "The Art of Forming Good Habits". Remembered most from this meeting were the following home-formulas for practical hair care, given by Inez Swicegood: Mayonnaise is good for the hair - as a conditioner; To get hair spray out after washing hair, use one-ounce of Mentholin, two table-spoons of soda and two ounces of water. Apply to hair and after five minutes, rinse.

Mrs. James McClure's presentation of Choice and Care of Clothing was remembered by these tips: They do not have to be expensive - just clean and neat. Keep a neat closet. Keep clothes free from spots. Press before hanging in the closet and they will be ready for the next wearing.

On this same program Manners Everyday gave these tips: simply have a pleasing smile and perform small courtesies each day, and that manners is making other people comfortable.

Jesse T. George presented the next program, under review, on Texas' Unsung Heroes in which he said that after the winning of the Texas Independence, soldiers went back to their homes; brought new acres into cultivation; erected schools and churches throughout the land. These he said were the unsung heroes who served Texas and served her well.

The next program up for discussion was Education - The Art of Learning which was given by Mrs. B. R. McGehee. The quotation "The whole art of teaching is only the art of awakening the natural curiosity of young minds for the purpose of satisfying it afterwards." Club members remembered these important musts in education for the young: 1. The need for play, 2. Let them have some quiet time, 3. Their need to ask questions, and 4. Their need to be challenged at school and at home for better learning.

Living Religion and our duties to ourselves and our families was the next topic discussed. Members thought, from this program, that of first importance was to attend church as a family, expose our children to church and to God and to, most of all, have religion in the home.

Last on the discussion review was the program on School Drop Outs - "The Challenge of Learning" and the fact that our schools are geared for the "normal" student and that anyone falling below or above was out of place, or the facilities were not adequate to bring forth the best in them.

During the business session it was announced that the last meeting of the year would be on Tuesday, May 9, in the home of Mrs. W. B. McSpadden with Mrs. M. C. Ledbetter to conduct the installation of officers for the next club year.

Members purchased "sparkling" Flag pins, in support of the Caprock District Project - The High Plains Training Center for retarded children at Plainview.

Several members reported taking clothing to the school to replenish the supply needed. Mrs. E. O. Willingham gave a Report on the Council of International Clubs explaining that the purpose of this Department in Federation was the understanding of all Federated Women's Clubs all over the world.

The Club elected Mrs. Jack Wallace to the post of First Vice-President for the coming club year. In a report from the chairman of the project at Roberts Memorial Nursing Home, it was noted that Mrs. Bud Thomas gives of her time each Sunday to bring the teaching of God's word to residents at the home.

Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, Mrs. Van Greene, Mrs. Jack Russell, Mrs. R. L. DeBusk, Mrs. Al Mullinax and Mrs. E. O. Willingham volunteered to help with the Mobile TB unit which is to be Doss Thriftway on Wednesday, May 17, 1967.

The resignations of Mrs. B. R. McGehee and Mrs. W. B. Merritt were accepted with regret.

Members present for this meeting were: Mesdames H. B. Barker, R. L. DeBusk, Harold Drennan, Van Greene, James McClure, Al Mullinax, J. C. Reynolds, Tom Rowden, Jack Russell, M. A. Silvers, Inez Swicegood, Bud Thomas, Bobby Travis, and E. O. Willingham.

Y-M Study Club meets in home of Mrs. Hardy Rhyne

The Y-M Study Club met at 8 p.m. April 20 in the home of Mrs. Hardy Rhyne with Mrs. Weldon Wynn serving as hostess.

Mrs. Kenneth McMasters called the meeting to order. Mrs. Wynn presented gifts to Mrs. Garnett Bryan and Mrs. David Stowe and expressed the clubs regrets at seeing the families leave.

Mrs. Francis Shifflett then introduced Mrs. Pete Pierce who presented the program. She presented a book review on "The Tall Woman" by Wilma Dykeman. It was the story of a pioneer woman, her family and her fight to get a school.

The announcement was made that the next meeting is to be held May 4 in Levelland in the home of Mrs. Richard Biggs.

Resignations were read and accepted with regret from Mrs. Biggs and Mrs. Lowell Webb.

Two guests, Mrs. Frances Youngblood and Mrs. Owen Egger were present. Members present were: Mesdames Max Clark, Leonard Groves, George Hargrove, Robbie Key, Ray Lanier, Dexter Nebhut, Fred Weaver, Jerry Winder and Bill Weems.

Three Way School has safe driving program

Safe driving must be made a personal habit of every motorist in the slaughter on America's highways is to be curbed. Ben Bullard, Assistant Safety Director, Texas Farm-Bureau, declared today as he spoke prior to conducting driving tests at Three Way School.

Excessive speed is the greatest single cause of automobile accidents, Bullard said. In the demonstration which followed, he tested the conditions under which even 20, 30 or 40 miles per hour can be excessive.

Bullard added, "when drivers know the true facts and base their driving on those facts, highway deaths will drop sharply."

A film on traffic safety was shown to the students, teachers and parents and teachers took part in driving tests which were conducted in a specially equipped car. The test driver was signalled to stop by an electrically controlled detonator. As the shell was fired, the street was marked with yellow paint. A second bullet was fired as brakes were applied and a third after the car came to a complete stop. Distances between the spots were carefully measured to determine in feet and inches how far the car traveled before the driver applied the brakes, or the reaction distance, and how far it traveled after the brakes were applied, or the braking distance.

Bullard emphasized the fact that a driver who observes the speed laws carefully is not a safe driver if he neglects many other items such as proper signaling for turns, approaching an intersection in the proper lane for a turn, the proper way to turn around, and many other things which are essential for safe driving.

Today's safety demonstration which was brought to Three Way High School under the sponsorship of the Bailey County Farm Bureau is part of a long range program of traffic safety conducted since 1957 by the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department.

Taking part in the special traffic safety program were Tommy Black and Julia Burkett, students, each driving the specially equipped car at 20 mph; Eddie Armstrong, faculty member, driving 30 mph; and Ben Bullard driving 40 mph.

Also assisting with the program were Mary Herrera, Sharon Locke, Monte Toombs, Billy Dewbre, Wendell Williams, and Jackie Dupler. These students measured and recorded stopping distances and handed out materials.

Adolph Wittner, area representative of the Farm Bureau, was present.

Through the telescope by Luck

After an intensive week of hard work, investigation and checking, things are looking bright for a new industry in Morton. We don't know much about electronics companies and doubt that anyone in Morton could provide the industrial base and regular payroll to assist the community. We do know that creditors and banks in Lubbock have nothing but good things to say about Bob Cash and his ability. The men in Morton who first heard about the company and began to look into it have done a thorough job in a short time. And their sole aim has been to help Morton grow. They have spent a lot of time, hard work and some money to check out the company and have pointed out again and again that any such investment is a speculative venture and that it should be considered as would any other investment possibility. But it is an opportunity that should be pursued NOW!

If you are interested in learning more about the proposal, you should attend a meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday, April 27, in the PCA building. This meeting will likely be devoted to establishing an industrial corporation that would invest in an electronics company.

Little League baseball practice got started this week. First games are slated May 8 and there will be a major change this year. The league officers and managers, meeting Wednesday, voted a local rule that all players will see at least two innings of action in each game. We realize this will cost some victories and likely will result in higher scores; but Little League is where youngsters learn baseball... and they learn best under actual game conditions. This rule is used in many other towns and seems to be well accepted. It admittedly is an experiment here, but we hope it proves successful.

And the mothers of Little League aren't being ignored either. A meeting of all players' mothers has been called for 5:30 p.m. Friday, April 28, at the Little League Park to discuss some proposed changes for the Little League.

Three more nights of action remain in the Morton Invitational Volleyball Tournament. Games start about 6:20 p.m. each night with both men's and women's games being played. Finals are set for Saturday night. The Morton Boosters are sponsoring the tourney that is being held in the Morton High School gym.

Morton students got their school annuals this week and have, by now, gotten all the customary autographs to personalize the books. This is just another sign that school is almost finished for this year. Only four more weeks until graduation.

Cochran County residents will join the rest of Texas in moving clocks and watches ahead this weekend for the advent of Daylight Savings Time. Most everyone around here favored remaining on Standard Time, but that didn't carry much weight. Three Way School is the only one we know about that will not go "with the clock". And nearly all of the businesses will keep their current store hours and conform to DST. About the only consolation I can see for losing that hour of sleep Sunday will be getting an extra hour in bed next fall when we

Town and Country Club has final meeting of year

Town and Country Study Club enjoyed a library film titled "Your Library and You" when they met in the home of Mrs. Connie Gray, last Wednesday. Mrs. Don Samford assisted by Miss Jennie Allen as projectionist presented the film and game some additional information about good books and how to obtain them from the local library.

Mrs. Joe Seagler presided over the business meeting and received reports from the recent District Convention. The Town and Country Study Club won first in Recreation, Pollution, Inter-American Affairs, Trade and Aid; and second in Crime prevention, Outstanding program, and Fine Arts. Theirs was the High point Club of Caprock District.

Mrs. Elia Mae Curry, manager of Sears Catalog Sales office in Levelland presented the club with a certificate of merit for participating in the community improvement program which is sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs in cooperation with the Sears-Robuck Foundation. Mrs. Curry commended the group for working to make their community a better place.

In a motion by Mrs. Alvie Harris, the members voted to pay for a sign to be placed in front of the Cochran County Historical Museum. Resignations of Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Blackley were regretfully accepted.

A number of members purchased the beautiful flag pins that are emblems of their financial backing of the High Plains Training

News editor George Tuck got a little nonplussed this week. We were talking about 1970, when more than half of the world's population will be 25 years old or less... and it suddenly dawned on him that he would be in the minority along with the rest of us "old folks".

Friday will be an interesting day as Cassius Whatshisname says he will report to the Army induction center in Houston, but won't step forward when called. He is a superb athlete, one of the great boxers of all time, but he is certainly no better than the boy next door, or your own son, when called to service for this country. We feel that he should be jailed, fined heavily and his title vacated if he refuses to serve.

Members are reminded of the annual meeting of the Farmers Cooperative Association of Enochs It will be held Saturday, April 29, at Bula School. The barbecue will be served at 6:30 p.m. and the meeting starts at 8 p.m.

Tourism became a billion-dollar industry in Texas last year as more than 19,000,000 folks spent $1,080,000,000. If all these tourists were laid end to end, that sure would add up to a lot of square miles of sunburn!

An electronics industry in the future we see. To towns with missions. Come reality from visions.

Farmer Co-op to hold annual meet

The annual stockholders meeting of the Farmers Cooperative Assn. of Enochs will be held Saturday, April 29, in the Bula School Gym, announced Ramon A. Hall, secretary of the co-op.

A barbecue will be served starting at 6:30 p.m. followed by a business meeting at 8 p.m.

An election for two of the co-op's five directors will be held. A financial report and reports from regional cooperatives will also be given during the meeting.

Refund checks will be distributed at the close of the meeting. All cooperative members are urged to attend this annual meeting.

MORTON, TEXAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 27, 1967

Editorials — In defense of Little League

Little League baseball has been highly praised and soundly condemned. "The trouble with Little League is the players' parents," is the most common comment.

Well, Morton Little League shouldn't have much trouble this year. The parents don't seem to care. There are barely enough coaches for the major league teams . . . and the minor league program is still in doubt for lack of coaches and managers.

There are many, many places where parents, and especially fathers, could serve. There are field repairs to be made, some maintenance work that is needed, assistant coaches to help, announcers, scorekeepers and umpires.

Perhaps it is true that the trouble with Little League is the parents . . . who manage to come to the games and heap abuse on the managers and the umpires. These are the same people who aren't willing to work on the field, or help with the other volunteer chores. These are the parents who scream if their sons don't get on a team, if their sons don't get to play. These are the parents who are ready to fight over an umpire's decision or a coach's strategy.

Little League baseball isn't perfect, and we would be the first to admit it. But it is a mighty fine project. It teaches boys about sportsmanship and teamwork and the rewards of hard work. It provides an outlet for the almost endless energy that radiates from a small boy.

And those who criticize the emphasis that is placed upon winning haven't observed many small boys. Put a couple of youngsters together and they are going to try to find out who can throw a baseball the longest distance, who can make the most baskets, who can kick a football best, who can ride a bicycle the fastest, or ever who can get the dirtiest in the shortest period of time.

To boys, both eating and competing come naturally. Little League tries to channel this competitive spirit within the boundaries of sportsmanship and honesty.

One of the most pathetic cries on earth is the wail of the father who looks back and wistfully says, "I wish I had spent more time with my son when he was young."

Little League is for the boy, but it needs the help of the parents.

Study report outlines ways for small towns to survive

Morton is faced with loss of farm income, loss of population and loss of business. But there are other towns in West Texas that have faced these problems and licked them.

An 82-page booklet, "The Small Community in West Texas", was released this weekend by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. This book is the result of six meetings that were held last fall to talk about problems of small towns.

Morton has problems . . . but no more than any other town its size in West Texas. Morton is seeking industries, but so are many other locations.

There are problems discussed in this book that Morton hasn't even considered yet. But other towns have solved them, have landed good industries and have begun to rebound from their blues and their doldrums.

The keys for success are listed in this book, not magic wands nor magic formulas . . . but proven ingredients for success in any field. Leadership, money, cooperation, planning are just four items that must be present.

All of these things combine for action, not apathy. One plain-spoken West Texas banker put it this way, "It makes some people mad, but the slogan is 'Lead, follow, or get out of the way.'"

Other towns have licked their most serious problems. Morton can solve its problems. One approach is through the WTCC study . . . and the steps that are recommended to regain economic progress. The necessary information is available . . . now it is up to Morton to take advantage of it.

More pay for part time work of state legislators?

Members of the Texas Legislature have plenty of problems on their hands, most of them having to do with the need for more money and the lack of funds on hand.

But certain members of the Legislature have no qualms about taking care of themselves.

They want to give themselves a hefty pay boost, with a bill providing a sizeable raise already having passed the House.

Legislators now get $4,800 a year as a salary, and since the legislature meets every two years for 90 to 120 days, this is a pretty good piece of change for a part time job.

Before this annual salary provision went into law, members of the legislature received their pay on a per diem basis, with a cut in pay when the session exceeded 90 days, a measure designed to keep lawmakers working while they were in session.

The annual salary provision of the law was approved by Texas voters several years ago and at the time it was promoted as a means to get better legislators in the Legislature.

Whether it has succeeded or not is a question open to debate. For one thing, most of the senators that were there under the old pay system are still there under the new, indicating that the quality level hasn't changed much.

We would sure agree that our own quality of representation in this district improved when Fritz Thompson was elected to replace Charles Ballman, and we believe Oufie Abraham is an excellent Representative but would probably serve just as well for $4,800 a year as the proposed $8,400 a year.

As it now stands, we Texas voters will have a chance this fall to vote on a pay boost for legislators, from $4,800 to $7,200 a year.

If this fails, there is already in the works an amendment to be submitted in the fall of 1968 which would boost the annual salary to $8,400.

The House has already passed a proposal to pay the House speaker and the lieutenant governor $18,000 a year each.

A new argument given for shopping at home

One of the most unusual new laws to emerge from the current session of the Texas Legislature is the optional one per cent sales tax permitted cities, if residents of the city vote it upon themselves.

Cities are plagued with far worse tax problems than smaller municipalities for many reasons, including expensive extension of services brought about by skyrocketing population growth. The tax load has become almost unbearable for the big city property owners.

Through the efforts of El Paso Mayor Judson Williams, and the Texas League of Municipalities (which he now heads) the optional sales tax succeeded in getting through the Legislature despite Governor Connally's initial objections.

All of which raises two interesting questions to ponder here as El Paso's mayor will surely press for a vote on an El Paso city sales tax to obtain tax relief as quickly as possible.

The first question is will El Paso residents vote a new tax upon themselves? You can look for a well-organized campaign in support of the sales tax when election time rolls around, with property owners generally supporting the move. But even with the property owners approving, the sales tax may not be as popular with the general public as it may seem and opposition will surely arise.

The second question will only need an answer if the sales tax is voted. Will area shoppers who drive into El Paso to shop from Van Horn and dozens of smaller communities become aroused enough by an El Paso tax to either cut down or cut out such buying trips in protest to paying for El Paso's municipal development?

This is going to be one per cent more added cost which even the discount houses can't write off. Of course, it wouldn't make much difference, as far as the added tax is concerned, if Van Horn should also approve a city sales tax. We might be quite surprised, but we seriously doubt that a sales tax would be approved for the City of Van Horn.

Some will argue that one per cent additional is not enough to cut the El Paso trade flow from its trade area. And this will be true. But since the one per cent is a tax, just for El Paso alone, it may be received with a great deal more resentment than one would suppose.

Anyway, with smaller towns not looking ahead to any city sales taxes just yet, an El Paso city sales tax could well jar a little retail volume off El Paso's area volume.

For a time, at least, it would be a new argument to shop at home. — Van Horn Advocate.

Handling Rep. Powell is puzzler for associates

When Representative Adam Clayton Powell was barred from his House seat early in March, these columns warned that "one can visualize the possibility of a farcical situation in which Harlem re-elects and the House excludes in a series of increasingly bitter and absurd contretemps." Well, Harlem has done the expected; it has re-elected Representative Powell overwhelmingly. Now the question arises, what will the House do?

We believe that for the House to automatically bar the controversial Negro congressman once again would only complicate an already highly complex case and only deepen an already dangerous

Highlights and Sidelights —

Favor tax bill proposal

AUSTIN, Tex. — Legislature showed signs of quick response to the request by Gov. John Connally to postpone writing a tax bill until next year and to adopt a state governmental budget for only half the fiscal biennium.

Both House and Senate budget-writing committees will scrap their biennial appropriations measures and have one-year bills ready for action this week.

In an unusual night speech to a joint session of the House and Senate, Connally pledged to call a special session next year to pass a 1969 appropriations bill and consider necessary new taxes. Over-all purpose was to break legislative logjams on major legislation.

State financial picture appears to be this: Under the one-year budget plan, about $137,000,000 in additional spending can be done in the year starting next September 1 out of the general revenue fund. Because in past years the estimates of Comptroller Robert S. Calvert have been conservative, there generally is a surplus left at the end of each year. Connally thinks a surplus of $50-60,000,000 might be in sight a year from now. Thus the size of the tax bill to be passed could be that much less than it would have to be if it were passed now.

This $50,000,000 or so would not actually be "saving", since Connally expects the Legislature to spend the same amount on two-year budgets as on one two-year budget. However, the Governor figures that if business growth continues to gain, revenues from present taxes will bring in more than had been expected, and thus make it possible to get by with a smaller tax increase.

LI. Gov. Preston Smith, after initial doubts on wisdom of the procedure, urged the Senate Finance Committee to go along. Smith cautioned the legislators not to take the new financial procedure as an invitation to spend more freely and to clear up any legal questions at an early date.

Lieutenant governor, who contends that no new taxes are necessary, viewed Connally's proposal as "at least partial recognition that our financial salvation does not necessarily and exclusively lie in passing a big tax bill at this time."

CENTERS — Bill by Rep. Billy H. Williamson of Tyler to make more cities in Texas eligible for grants-in-aid for community mental health centers has passed both House and Senate.

State now may make such grants-in-aid to a center serving less than 75,000 population, if the state commissioner of mental health and mental retardation declares it eligible.

MEASURES — House of Representatives passed two measures of the education package sponsored by Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton.

One would allow persons college-educated persons who did not take all the required education courses in college to qualify as teachers.

Other would allow persons already knowledgeable in American and Texas history and government to take advance-standing exams, and if they make an A or B, receive that grade without having to take the course.

It also would exempt some out-bitterness on the part of many American Negroes. Although Representative Powell has never purged himself of the misdeeds which led to his earlier barring, although there is widespread feeling, within Congress and without, that these misdeeds call for drastic punishment, we recommend against any automatic exclusion.

We feel, rather, that the Harlem congressman should be seated, should then be bidden to appear before the bar of the House to answer for his misdeeds, and be censured therefor. If he refuses to cooperate in this manner, then the question of a further exclusion could be gone into, fairly, dispassionately and judicially.

The barring of an elected representative of the people is a grave and perilous step. In the first place it denies a part of the electorate the services of that person who, they believe, can serve them best. Secondly, in and of itself, the process of barring an elected official holds the deepest danger for a democracy, since, abused, it could destroy the democratic process. There is the still unsettled question as to whether Congress has the constitutional right to take such a step. Above all there is the need to make it clear that black voters and their chosen representatives have the same treatment given others.

None of this means that Representative Powell has acted other than in a thoroughly disgraceful manner. He has forfeited most of his usefulness as a public servant. He has done the Negro cause great harm. He must be required to purge himself of past misdeeds and any others which may come to light (it is reported that the Justice Department may begin a tax suit against him shortly).

But it does mean the House must find the wisest and most constructive way to handle the Powell case, and, at this moment, automatic exclusion does not seem to be that way. — Christian Science Monitor.

"IS THERE A DENTIST IN THE HOUSE?"

of-state graduate students from having to go back and take undergraduate history and government courses.

CROSSINGS — A measure acceptable to both the Texas Motor Transportation Association and the Texas Joint Railway Labor Board now is awaiting action before the House.

Bill provides that trucks carrying explosives or inflammables stop when crossing railroad tracks within city limits but only slow down to 20 miles per hour or less when crossing tracks outside of cities.

BILL — An occupational safety bill, subject of bitter controversy and deadlocks in past legislative sessions, was passed by the House 143-0. A compromise version was hammered out after usual friction over terms developed. Senate passage is likely.

Bill calls for Division of Occupational Safety in State Department of Health, with three-member board to formulate standards. A safety engineer would inventory all industrial accidents and advise the board on needed rules.

CODE REVISION — Major revisions in code of criminal procedure to meet criticism of law enforcement officers is being speeded to House floor by Criminal Jurisdiction Committee.

Major changes deal with warnings of rights of accused by judges; arrests of suspicious persons without warrants; notice of pre-trial hearings; sentencing procedures; and requirement that witnesses to crime identify themselves at request of a police officer. Committee voted down effort to allow greater freedom in use of oral confessions in trials.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. Crawford G. Martin held he could not approve bonds supported by Trinity River Authority tax of 15 cents on $100 valuation as proposed in Senate bill amendment because notice of intent to introduce measure was not published locally as required by constitution.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

A sheriff is authorized to release a prisoner "laying out" his average tourist spent 89 days and remained in Texas 10 days, report shows. Average length of complete vacation trip, 4.47 miles, 1,117 of which driven in Texas.

PARK AID — A $504,880 job of improvement and rehabilitation at Tyler State Park soon will be undertaken, according to W. M. Odum, chairman of the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

State Supreme Court action ruling Tyler and Smith County on re-hearing on sale of park ownership cleared the way for work, Odum said.

Legislature appropriated $950,000 and federal Bureau of Recreation agreed to contribute $1,050,000. Project includes picnic campsites, trailer sites, picnic areas, restrooms, fishing docks, trails and other facilities.

SCENIC PARK — Bill by A. C. Atwood of Edinburg to create a scenic park in the citrus fruit produced in Texas has passed both House and Legislature.

House passed a bill restricting minimum unemployment compensation from $37 to $45 a week and increasing weekly wage to qualify for benefit from $69 to $85.

Total number of registered voters for 1967 is 2,982,862, according to figures compiled by Secretary of State John Hill.

U. S. Officer of Education approved 18 Texas projects for the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, which allows federal fund grants to assist in setting up of supplementary educational centers and services.

Governor Connally has special election for May 25 of the unexpired term of the Rep. Jim Hairgrove of Denton and Fort Bend Counties.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Redford and daughter Stephanie spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Miller.

Donna and Shirley McMasters were in Levelland Tuesday night visiting relatives.

Firemen busy at two fires Friday

Morton volunteer firemen were faced with a lot of running around and not too much work Friday afternoon when they worked two fires.

The first call came at 12:30 p.m. for a fire at the Dean Weatherly home at 706 SW 1st. The fire, which was contained in a closet, did little damage. It was caused when a pillow apparently fell from a shelf in the closet and landed at the base of a hot water heater.

Damage was limited to a small hole in the floor, the pillow, a chair, and smoke in the house.

The second fire sent firemen racing down W. Jefferson to the supposed location of the fire 206 W. Jefferson. However, firemen didn't find anything at the location and they started to return to the fire station but were then sent to an alley several blocks away. The fire was there, about W. Jefferson and 5th, and consisted of a scorched patch of grass.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cheek spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carwright.

Mr. Leslie Fine and infant son Kevin returned to Midland Sunday, after being with her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Luper.

Jerry Elliott, a student at South Plains College visited in the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Dub Elliott. Also visiting was Jerry's brother Winston Warj of Odessa.

Mr. Wendell Dunlap awarded special awards this year to Mack Ashmore, Tommy Moore, Dale Burris and Doug Barry. Members of the Faculty present were; Supt. James Cunningham and his wife, Mrs. Vern Beebe, Mrs. Opal Drake and Bradford Harris. The School Trustee member, President Wade Taylor and his wife. Other Honorary Members there was Vern Beebe, and James Cunningham.

The FFA Officers are: President, Tommy Moore; Vice-President, Randy Brownlow; Secretary Wayne Legan; Treasurer Rick Swinney; Reporter, Dale Burris; Sentinel, Gary Freeman (Doug Barry filled in for Gary, who has been sick); Chaplain, Dean Sanders, and Advisor, Wendell Dunlap. Tommy Moore also won 2nd place in Public Speaking at Lubbock April 17.

The Golf Team came out fourth in the Regional Golf Meet Saturday at Meadowbrook Golf Course. The boys making the team were Artis Summerlin with a score of 88; Rick Swinney with a score of 97; Randy Wheeler with a score of 111; Royce May with a score of 116; and Alternate Wesley Sanders in a practice game came up with a score of 101. These boys are coached by James Cunningham. Whiteface had a total score of 412 and winners Jayton had 371. Artis tied for 3rd best score.

In the B. A. AA Regional Track Meet Saturday at Lubbock, Ike Flores came out with second in the 880 yard run with his time 2:05.0 and the first place went to Kerry Jones of Groom, his time was 2:00.0. Ike will go to the State Meet in Austin May 4, 5, and 6. Coach Dale Read will go with Ike. In the 120 yard high hurdles, Mike Gainer came in sixth with a 16.5 time. Congratulations to both of these boys for doing so well.

Mrs. Dale Pond had an accident over the weekend with a butcher knife and had to have six stitches taken in her left hand.

Tawanka campfire has regular meet

The Tawanka Campfire girls met Friday afternoon at the school. Business was discussed about a skating party and the ceremonial Refreshments were served to Carolyn Gray, Cassandra Reeder, Judy Steed, and Debra Williams. Mrs. E. L. Reeder was present at the meeting.

Steps to fill out for camp were distributed. All girls should give them to their leaders or Mrs. Rozell. The camp this year will be at Cloudcroft, N.M. from July 17-21. The fee is eighteen dollars for Campfire girls.

The group discussed their rank and worked on the steps to pass the Wood Maker's rank. We said, the Wood Maker's desire and got steps signed. Mrs. Reeder gave us parts for the ceremonial. She urged us to hand in our requirements to get beads for our ceremonial jackets.

CHOOSING SIDES

"Choose you this day whom ye will serve: but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." Joshua 24:15.

Children choose sides for a game; we choose someone to serve in this world. But rather than have it be a choosing by chance, ours shall be a definite, thought out, choice. We can choose God "this day" by attending Church on Sunday. As our Lord said in Matthew 4:10, "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve." Let us worship and serve Him through His appointed agency, the Church.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
