Construction activities to begin this week in Morton

Construction activities will get underway in Morton this week as construction crews begin assembling tools, plans, and material for an all-out assault on the Cochran County Courthouse and the Cochran Memorial Hospital.

General superintendent for H. R. Bundock Co., general contractor for both projects, is Ross W. Jackson. He said that some foundation digging will probably begin this week.

A contractor's shed has been placed at both the courthouse and the hospital in preparation of some 300 days of building activity.

Jackson said that both projects will be worked on simultaneously to facilitate effective usage of work crews. He noted that some days workmen will be used extensively while on other days they would be used sparsely.

The $300,000 construction activities to the courthouse include extensive remodeling in addition to expansion of the building. Included in the construction will be addition of completely new jail facilities, exterior face-lifting, and interior re-designing.

The finished product will feature an alumninum and brick front with interior stairways instead of the present outside stairs. One-story additions will be placed on the north and south ends of the present building.

The architectural firm of Stiles, Roberts & Messersmith say that for all practical purposes the building will be new both inside and out.

The hospital will have some remodeling though not as much as the courthouse. A wing containing several new patient rooms will be added. Remodeling will include work on the laboratory, new kitchen equipment and housing, and new boiler facilities. Two bathrooms will be added in the section containing the older rooms.

Jackson said that local workmen will be used as much as possible. However, he said that several out-of-town workers would be needed

Three Mortonites injured

A two-car collision one-half mile south of Meadow Monday afternoon sent five people to Brownfield General Hospital with lacerations, abrasions, and chest injuries. Drive of one vehicle, a 1955 Chevrolet, was William A. Corder, 70, of Morton, while driver of the other vehicle, a 1967 Ford, was Roy Cannedy of 4106-63rd, Lubbock.

Corder had recently resigned his position of custodian of the County Activity Building because of ill health. Miss Criswell is a former employee of the Morton Tribune.

A marathon session of the Morton School

Board Monday night saw the closing of Eastside School, the resignation of two teachers, approval of a budget and the continuation of the present tax rate.

The closing of Eastside Elementary School came as a result of a visit to the Morton district by an investigation team from the Health, Education & Welfare Dept. The team said that for all practical purposes Eastside was a segregated school even though the Morton district operates on a freedom of choice attendance basis.

Lanier said that several interested families from the Eastside area attended a meeting with the team and requested that the school be kept open. The families said the school was convenient to their homes and that their children could come home for lunch at noon. Also, that if Eastside was closed their children would have to walk or be transported about a mile to the elementary school plant on SW 4th and Grant

In the "it's a small world" department: Neal Rose and Tommy Hawkins were talking golf Tuesday and somehow got to talking about Neal and Dorothy Rose going to Houston. They spent about a week on the Gulf Coast, visiting their daughter and seeing the sights. Neal was enthusing about the Astrodome, where he watched two games as the Astros split with the Dodgers. "Hey, I saw one of those games," Tommy exclaimed. They got to comparing notes, found they had been to the same game and sat in the same section. But they didn't see each other.

Neal said what surprised him was when Dorothy rushed him back from a drive along the coast so they could attend another game in the big dome. t ttt

Instead of sea-level, it was a mile and a half high for the sporting adventure last week of Llovd Hiner and John St. Clair. They spent four days playing golf at Cloudcroft, N.M. Lloyd said his game was pretty good after he stopped trying to hit as hard as John. "We played one round with a fellow from Hobbs," Lloyd related. "He hit a ball into the woods, searched for a while and came out . . . He couldn't find his ball, but had four others that had been lost by previous players." As dense as some of that forest is, it's a wonder he with an increased minimum fee of Page 4 $1.75 for inspections.

The new items were added to the inspection law by the last legislature and the Department of Public Safety has instructed all vehicle inspection stations in regard to the type of inspection to be made on each item.

The amendment becomes effective August 28, thus accounting for the early inspection date. Inspections for the 1968 sticker will continue until April 15, the usual deadline.

Under the new law, front seat belts are required on every motor vehicle in whih seat belt anchorages are a part of the manufacturer's original equipment. For most American-made vehicles, the anchorages are standard beginning with 1962 models. The vehicles may be rejected during the inspection if: (1) the seat belts are not installed, (2) the belts are unsafe or unserviceable from wear or damage, (3) the attachment fittings are damaged or loose, or (4) the buckles are loose or inoperative.

Steering will be checked on all vehicles, including those with power steering. Ve hicles are to be rejected if: (1) the steering wheel has more than two inches of lash measured on the outside periphery of the rim (lash is defined as the condition in which the steering control can be turned through some part of a revolution without front wheel motion), (2) if it is impossible to turn the wheel from full right to full left without jamming, or (3) if the fluid in the power steering is below the recommended level Vehicles with power steering are to be checked with power on. Wheels and rims are to be inspected without being removed from the vehicle. The vehicle will be reject if: (1) the wheel has defective or bent rim flanges, or loose or missing bolts, nuts or lugs, or (2) rims have defects and cracks to the extent that they might impair the safe mounting and proper rentention of tires. There are approximately 5500 vehicle inspection stations in Texas, and each dis-

Fido has it good

The doghouse may not be such a bad place to be these days.

According to the Wall Street Journal, dog houses are getting fancier and fancier all the time. At the same time, dog owners are puzzled because Fido doesn't seem to take to these fancy houses. He had much rather be inside with the rest of the family.

Eugene Wallace, a senior vice president of the Republic National Bank in Dallas had an air conditioned house built for his boxer. But the dog never even used it, according to his owner.

A young lawyer in Forest Lake, Minn., built a plush home with a Thermopane picture window and a 500-watt radiant heater for his big poodle, Mark. But Mark didn't like the house, refused to go in it, and began his own demolition project by chewing up the wooden roof.

Why are dogs such ungrateful beasts? Maybe they have worries that humans don't know about.

A spokesman for Hess's Department Store in Allentown, Pa., says that the stored once stock a $119 solid cherry, Persian lamb-lined, split-level doghouse with mink mattress, but now it stocks only a bare-bones, one-story model for $49.95.

The recent legislature, by a slim margin, passed the city sales tax in an attempt to give cities some type of relief financially. The Texas Municipal League, a non-profit organization supported by city tax dollars, pushed for passage of the bill and is now organizing efforts to adopt the tax in as many areas as possible.

The Robstown merchants attending the chamber meeting were not objecting to taxation as such, but to this particular type of taxation.

As one put it: "I know the money for addition city services has to come from somewhere and when the time comes, I will pay my share."

He added, however, that a sales tax on his competitive product must be paid by someone. "And I don't think customers from outside Robstown is going to pay it. It is just enough to turn a sale another way," he said.

The unfortunate aspect of the city sales tax in Robstown is the relatively small amount of money it can be expected to bring in compared to the dangers involved.

Rough estimates are that $40,000 to $50,000 would be brought in to the city treasury by the tax, a relatively small amount when the total needs are viewed. There are probably two major reasons for all the sudden activity over the sales tax: (1) The law is written to make calling of the election before the end of August mandatory if the city wishes to begin collections by Jan 1, 1968. (2) Corpus Christi, the pace-setter in the area because of its size, has decided the city sales tax is necessary and thus would be easier to sell if Robstown and other cities in the area went along.

But, as was pointed out time after time at the local merchants' meeting, it would be nothing short of disaster for the Robstown business community if Robs-

AUSTIN, Tex. - Major changes in state drivers' license law go into effect on August 28.

At the same time, inspection of additional auto equipment will be required, and minimum fee for vehicle inspections will be raised to $1.75. Inspections for the 1968 sticker will continue until April 15, the usual deadline.

Under the new law, front seat belts will be required on all cars which have belt anchorages as part of original equipment. Steering mechanism, wheels and rims also will be added to inspection items. Other changes effective next week in-feiting or forging a license. Department of Public Safety will in the future receive from Department of Public a stormy year ahead began to come into focus here last week. House Speaker Ben Barnes and Lt. Gov.

Barnes said Smith told him he plans to run for governor and encouraged him to seek the lieutenant governor's office.

Both declined to make any formal announcement of their plans until after Gov. John Connally's return from Africa about September 4.

8.7 U.S. communist predicts

Phillip Abbot Luce, former leader of the Communist Party in the United States. has written a book called "Road to Revolution." In it, he says:

"When massive violence comes, the U. S. will become a bedlam of confusion and chaos . . . All transportation will grind to a complete standstill. Property will be damage and expensive buildings will be reduced to ashes. Essential pipelines will be severed and blown up and all manner of sabotage will occur. Violence and terror will spread like a firestorm . . .

"The new concept of revolution defies 7.1 military science and tactics. The new concept is lightning campaigns conducted in 26.4 highly sensitive urban communities and 2.2 spreading to the farm areas . . .

"It sustains a state of confusion and destruction of property. It dislocates organs of harmony and reduces central power to the level of a helpless, sprawling octopus

"During the hours of the day sporatic rioting and massive sniping take place. Night brings all-out warfare, organized fighting

5.7 'The guerrilla concept for the United 12.9 States is racist: black men against white 16.5 men. Terror is the major weapon.

'In our large cities this terror would take the form of indiscriminate murders and mass sabotage .

With Detroit, Newark, Watts, Harlem, 13.6 Houston and others so fresh in minds, it 78.7 is well to take note of what a leading American Communist predicts about the 5.0 fall of our country. 2.7

City sales tax ires

Taxes, whether they be Federal, state or local, unfortunately are never popular. But some types of taxes are more objectionable to certain individuals than others. Such is the case with the proposed Municipal Sales Tax being considered by several cities in the area, including the largest of them all, Corpus Christi.

The mention of the possibility of enacting a sales tax in Robstown brought merchants to their feet in loud protest. The meeting at the Robstown Chamber of Commerce Monday afternoon was called by town should adopt the sales tax and it be rejected in Corpus Christi. And this is a likely possibility if the elections are called on the same as has been suggested.

Jewelry store owner Sam Axelrad, one of the early instigators along with the Chamber of Commerce of a master plan for Robstown, pointed to the small anticipated revenue of the sales tax.

He said the time to rake up additional revenue for the city will truly be here after some of the major needs of the city are known following the development of the plan.

That will be the time to look for the large amount of additional revenue required to provide necessary municipal expansion.

A majority of the businessmen at the meeting responded favorably to the idea of using the utility systems, owned and operated by the citizens of Robstown, to raise additional revue.

Utilities, they point out, are paid by everyone and increased utility rates would be a fair way to raise a large amount of additional revenue. There appears to me to be merit in this suggestion and it should certainly be given closer study.

The sales tax could be used to "tide things over" or to come up with a small balancing revenue, but as a cource of a large amount of additional money it is questionable.

Why the rush for a sales tax at this particular moment? Why not let big daddy by the seaside adopt the tax and let Robstown wait a while and see what develops. The dangers to both the merchants and more importantly the citizens of Robstown are too great to risk, in my opinion, at this time.

Hi again! My student of the week for this week is Mike McDermett, 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDermett of Morton.

Mike attends Texas Technological College in Lubbock, where he will be a sophomore when school starts. He is majoring in agricultural Economics.

During his first semester at Tech, Mike carried 18 hours. He took such courses as botany, math, English, and agronomy.

The second semester, he carried 13 hours with courses such as: economics, English, physical education, animal husbandry, and horticulture Mike said that the latter was his favorite course. In this class, he worked with plants and even got to do some landscaping. At Tech, Mike is a member of the Ag Economics club, which has regular meetings with speakers, etc. He is also a member of the Rodeo Association, which puts on the annual Tech Rodeo

When asked about his hobbies, Mike said he really enjoys working with horses and other livestock. He is not sure what he plans to do after graduation, but is thinking about changing his major to Agricultural Education and becoming an Ag teacher. Jimmy Collins and Marshall Grimes, both MHS exes, are planning to leave for Canada sometime at the end of this week. The two Tech boys will be visiting Ottawa and Montreal, while attending the Circle K International convention next week. The Circle K is the college branch of the Kiwanis club.

The boys will fly up there, stay for about a week, then fly back. During their stay they plan to visit Expo '67. Marshall is the district lieutenant governor, and Jim1 pkg. of crackers
