

Weaver leads county; Paxton and Kendrick in runoff election race

Ted Weaver, a Muleshoe Democrat, earned the lion's share of Cochran County votes in the special election to fill the unexpired term of 75th Legislator Jesse George. However, across the five-county district in which the election was held, Eddie Paxton, a Levelland Republican, topped the polls closely followed by Brownfield Democrat John J. Kendrick.

Wage an all-out campaign in the runoff. I want to thank all the many friends and supporters who contributed their time and efforts to my campaign. They did a wonderful job."

John J. Kendrick, Brownfield banker, said he was "most pleased and gratified with the response shown him during the campaign particularly in Cochran County. I feel most fortunate in the number of votes received considering Morton's proximity to the homes of the other two candidates."

He expressed appreciation to the loyal support of his friends in the county and said he was looking forward to becoming better acquainted in meeting with the people of Morton during the runoff election.

"I commend my two opponents in the way they conducted the race and in their competition for the voters attention. I predict that in the runoff the race will be a little more along party lines, particularly in counties outside those of the home candidates," he said.

Ted Weaver told the Tribune, "This campaigning was very enjoyable to me. Naturally I regret losing but definitely do not regret having made the effort. The public speeches and meeting the thousands of people have been experiences that I will never forget.

"I was surprised in the results, and more than a little disappointed in the turnout. A runoff election between two fine men will occur soon. I urge every qual-

Roundball season to begin here Friday

Varsity sports moved inside at Morton High School this week as football ended and basketball began. Head coach Ted Whillock began working with a large squad in preparation for 23 varsity tilts, plus three tournaments.

The Tribe will be trying to improve on its record of 19-13 and 5-5 in district play.

The Indians finished third in the district, behind Post and Stanton. Whillock will be looking for a lot of bench strength from last year's B team, which turned in a sparkling 22-2 record. A few sophomores also are expected to make strong bids for starting positions on the team.

Practice has been intensive this week as Whillock prepares for Friday openers. The varsity will travel to Friona for an 8 p.m. game against the Chieftains. The B team and the freshmen will go to Lubbock for games against Lubbock Christian High School.

Only one starter, play-maker guard Freddie Thomas, was lost by graduation and lettermen are plentiful. In order to test as many players as possible, Whillock plans to split his varsity squad for the first night.

First home appearance will be Tuesday, Nov. 21, when the B team and varsity will host the Bledsoe Antelopes. First game starts at 6:15 p.m. The Antelopes are expected to be plenty tough as they have been playing for about three weeks. Last

Pickup crash injures two, one critically

A late Wednesday night one-vehicle accident north of Morton injured two Levelland men, one of them critically. The accident, which occurred last Wednesday three and one-half miles north of Morton SH 214, demolished a 1960 Ford pickup belonging to the Levelland Country Club.

Injured critically when the pickup swerved across the road, hit a culvert and overturned was the driver, Estanislado "Pee Wee" Hernandez, 29, of Club View Dr. He received a broken collar bone and ribs and possible head injuries. A passenger in the vehicle driven by Hernandez, Jesse Perez, 33, of 807-B, Levelland, received a cut hand and forehead.

Both of the injured were taken to Cochran Memorial Hospital by Singleton Ambulance and later transferred to Lubbock's Methodist Hospital. Perez was released from the hospital the following day.

Perez, an employee of Levelland Country Club, had been in Morton to discuss golf course green care with an employee of the Morton Country Club. Hernandez is an employee of South Plains College.

The wreck, which occurred at 11:50 p.m. was discovered by Kenneth Coats, whose home is near the accident. He saw Perez, who was covered with blood and walking down the highway, and called the ambulance and local law enforcement officers. Hernandez was found lying in a maize field after being thrown from the vehicle upon impact.

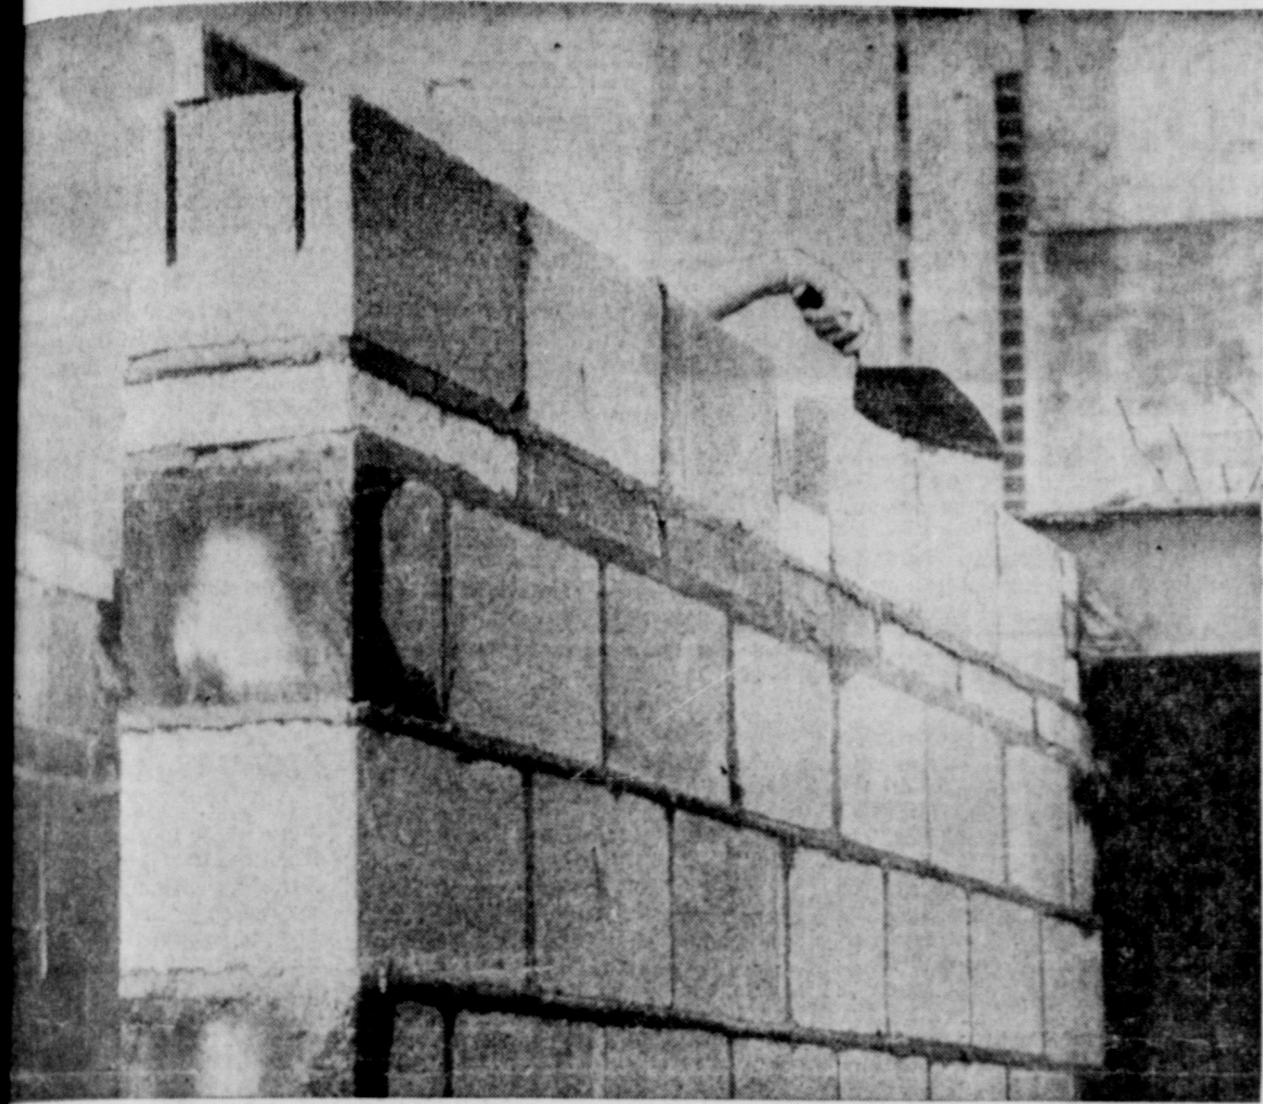

The wreck was investigated by Texas Highway Patrolman T. A. Rowland. Assisting in the investigation were Morton City Patrolman Charlie Ellis and Cochran County Sheriff Hazel Hancock.

Question of out-of-county medical treatment for indigents is asked

Question of who pays for hospital care of indigent patients at out-of-county medical facilities consumed most of the time of the Cochran County Commissioners Court Monday.

The board of directors of the Cochran Memorial Hospital District met with the board and asked who was to pay the out-of-county expenses of an indigent patient admitted to the state hospital at Galveston.

The meeting adjourned that afternoon with the question of legal responsibility of the hospital district still unanswered.

County attorney James K. Walker said that the indigent patient was to be sent to the state hospital and the bills there would be paid by the hospital district. The district had the sole responsibility of financing who was indigent. If the opinion was true, then the county would not authorize expenditure of the hospital district's funds and vice versa.

At the time of the meeting, it was believed that only the county judge could authorize the sending of an indigent to the Galveston hospital. This would come on the recommendation of a medical doctor that the patient needed hospitalization. If it is true that the county judge is the only person in the county who can gain admission to the state hospital for an indigent, then the county is liable for the expenses.

If the person is hospitalized within the hospital district, the district is liable for the expenses of the indigent.

One problem involved is that the hospital district has no funds budgeted for the care of indigent patients at out-of-county medical facilities. The district board members and the members of the court agreed that when the board was first setting up their budget, the court said they would pay the expenses of out-of-county charity cases.

Glenn Thompson, president of the board, said, "The county has the money set aside for care of these out-of-county expenses and if we have to pay for the expenses then we're (the hospital district) going to be in trouble."

Joe Nicewarner, county auditor, said he could not authorize payment or transfer

Morton man owes his life to X-ray from TB Mobile Unit

"I consider myself pretty lucky," he said. "If I hadn't had that X-ray I'd never know that anything was wrong and it would have killed me."

R. T. Tarver of 107 W. Buchanan, says he does consider himself lucky. And good reason, too.

It was in the spring when the Mobile X-ray Unit of the West Texas Tuberculosis Assn., was in Morton. Mr. Tarver decided to have an X-ray. He missed the X-ray on his first try because the line was too long, so he made it later in the day.

Two weeks later he received a letter from the TB Assn. telling him that something showed up on the X-ray and that he should have another one made.

Mr. Tarver went to a specialist in Lubbock and had 12 X-rays made. The doctors were unable to pinpoint exactly what was wrong at first.

Finally they inserted a tube into his arm and ran it over his shoulder and down over his heart. Then a liquid was pumped around his heart and the reaction was watched on a special machine by three doctors.

The trouble was pinpointed as a tumor between his lung and his heart. The doctors recommended immediate surgery.

On June 19, Mr. Tarver had the tumor removed. "It was about the size of a large orange," he said. "The doctors told me that it would have killed me if it had grown any larger or had burst."

Recalling his immediate reaction to the Mobile Unit X-ray, Mr. Tarver said, "I thought it was just another charity . . . another way to make money. But, when they told me about the tumor, I changed my mind."

A Morton resident for 42 years, he said, "I would recommend that everyone get an X-ray twice a year. It's well worth the money and people are lucky to have the Mobile X-ray Unit come to this community."

"I thank the Mobile Unit, the Man Above and the doctor for saving my life," he said.

The work of the Mobile X-ray Unit is supported by donations given at the time the X-ray is made and through the sale of Christmas Seals. The Christmas Seals have already been mailed out to literally thousands of residents in the 23-county area served by the West Texas Tuberculosis Assn., as well as across the nation.

The TB Assn. deals not only with tuberculosis, but also with other chest and respiratory diseases, such as the tumor in Mr. Tarver's case, and with emphysema, a disease that is receiving nation-wide attention.

Deryl Bennett, Cochran County Chairman of the TB Assn., urges all Cochran County residents to purchase Christmas Seals.

C of C manager goes to industrial meeting

Morton Area Chamber of commerce manager Leon Kessler attended the 14th annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce Industrial Development Conference in Big Spring last week.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the announcement of the Blue Ribbon City Awards program for cities of 12,000 population and under. This award is to be used to publicly acknowledge the results of work by cities in the Small Town Economic Progress program (STEP).

Six categories have been established which set forth minimum standards for various sized cities. When a city attains the goals outlined in the category it will be awarded a certificate of achievement. Upon completion of the goals in all six categories a certificate, an outdoor road sign and public ceremonies will acknowledge the accomplishment, according to the STEP Chairman John Ben Shepperd of Odessa.

The six categories are: Tourism, Beautification, Education, Parks and Recreation, Industrial Development and Local Government. There is no contest between cities, but rather achievement goals which every city can attain.

The chairman stated that any town which indicates a desire to participate in STEP may enter the Blue Ribbon City Award program by meeting minimum requirements. Following entry, a team of STEP speakers will attend a meeting of community leaders to outline the necessary work for the community to qualify for one or more of the category awards.

Subjects discussed at the industrial conference included technical training institutes and their role in industrial development, the role of higher education in creating a better climate for industry, state and regional planning for industrial growth, natural resources of West Texas and their proper development.

Outstanding authorities on the subjects who presented the talks were Dr. Grover E. Murray, president of Texas Tech; Dr. Stanley Arbingast, Bureau of Business Research, Austin; Dr. Frank Konecny, dean of James Connally Technical Institute, Waco; and James Ray, director of the planning division, Governor's office, Austin.

STEP speakers and team members attended an indoctrination session for their work in the STEP and Blue Ribbon City Awards programs.

of funds from the county to the hospital district. In effect, the hospital cannot send bills for county indigent patients to the commissioners court and receive payment.

The commissioners and the hospital board agreed to send the patient in question to Galveston and ask for an opinion from the state attorney general's office. Whoever the attorney general says is liable for the expenses of the patient will pay for the patient's expenses.

In other county business the architectural firm of Stiles, Roberts & Messersmith, architects of the courthouse and hospital improvements, met with the court and suggested various changes in the plans. Evan Roberts said the state health department suggested changes in the hospital that will add an additional $824 to the contract.

The changes include addition of exit lights throughout the building and different lighting in the nursery, $235; addition of two lavatories, $365; and addition of wire meshed glass windows and doors in the nursery, $24.

Roberts told the court that changes in the electrical and telephone systems for the courthouse would save the county about $1,200.

The changes for the courthouse and the hospital were approved by the court on a motion and second by Harral Rawls and Leonard Coleman.

The court also agreed to purchase a larger bulletin board for $62 over the amount budgeted for a smaller bulletin board. The new unit will be placed in the courthouse near the entrance.

On a motion and second by U. F. Wells and Coleman, the court voted to pay the month's bills.

An old workshop barn from precinct 3 was sold to H. I. Chapman for $100 on a motion by Rawls, seconded by Coleman.

Police chief warns of drinking crackdown

Morton Chief of Police Burtis Cloud issued a warning today following Friday night's rash of teenage drinking. Cloud said that local police will crack down on future teenage liquor violations.

A total of five teens were arrested Friday night in three separate incidents.

Two boys, one 17 and one 18, were charged with minor possession and minor consumption when they were arrested with more than $50 worth of beer, whiskey and mixed drinks. The younger youth was also charged with Texas Liquor Law violation of illegal transportation of alcoholic beverages.

Two youths, both 16, were arrested in a second incident and charged with minor possession and minor consumption when they were found with some whiskey.

A third incident resulted in a 17 year old boy being charged with minor possession and consumption of alcohol.

Cloud said the problem of teenage drinking is getting worse all the time. His main concern is with drunk driving. "Someone is going to get hurt in a wreck and hurt bad because of drinking," he said.

Cloud said parents can help the situation by telling their children of the chances they take by driving while under the influence of alcohol. "A drunk driver is the most dangerous thing on the road," he said.

The law states that minors are not allowed to possess or consume beer or other alcoholic beverages. To be in a vehicle with a bottle of beer constitutes possession and to be in a vehicle with an opened bottle of beer or other alcoholic beverages constitutes consumption.

The fine for minor possession and consumption is a fine of $10 to $200 on each charge. Liquor law violations carry a much stiffer penalty of $100 to $1,000 and/or 30 days to two years imprisonment.

Chief of Police Burtis Cloud attended the meeting and told the council that the transfer of the police department from the courthouse to the city hall is being held up by the arrival of the police radio and FCC license. Cloud also told the council that the transfer can be made without exceeding the police department salary budget.

Cloud discussed with the council his department's needs as far as closet space and the possibility of an outside entrance to the new police department office in the old city council room.

A closet that will fill space requirements for the department was found in the fire department office. The question of installing an outside entrance will be answered after the police have been in their new office for about a month.

Scholarship winner . . .

LEM KUEHLER, right, of Morton was named winner of the Dallas-Fort Worth Tech Society's $150 scholarship at Texas Tech's 40th annual Aggie Club Roast. Kuehler, a senior in the School of Agriculture's Dairy Industry Department, was presented his award by Department Chairman J. J. Willingham, (Tech Photo)

Through the telescope by Luck

This week, we started this column by saying that we thought our youngest had just about everything happen that was possible. Once again we were wrong. As we wrote last week, he had just come back from the mumps. They had been rechecked in rapid order by a broken-cut tooth and a broken toe. Tommy came to do things halfway. Tommy had tonsillitis to his mumps, got quite sick and has spent the past seven days in hospital. One of the doctors shook his head and said "Tommy, you're going to be a physical wreck before you're 20 years old." The other doctor said something about building a cage around him.

Without mentioning any names, one of the doctors at Cochran Memorial Hospital went as far as to the doorway to the room, explaining, "I haven't had the mumps yet." She and the rest of the staff there are extra-nice and especially to the younger patients.

Tommy enjoyed the final football game of the year last Friday at Post. The Antelope closed out a terrible, 1-9 season with a 6-14 loss to the Indians after having won the district title in 1966. Morton improved on its 2-8 record last year and marked this year. And if you can win four games, it's nice to win them over district opponents. That third place was fitting for the hard-fighting

On the way home from Post, we joined the Morton High band for a post-game party in Lubbock. There was the usual mix of talking, laughing and giggling. We overturned glass of iced tea. But we were delighted with the good manner and behavior of the bandsmen. They had a good time, but are well-disciplined. A credit to leader John Stockdale, his school and their parents. Several of the employees, and the restaurant manager all commented on how well-behaved they were, and asked that the band stop again.

Wayne McDermott, our high school contact pundit, decided to improve his eyes and wear contact lenses. One of his first outings with them was with the team to Post. Of course, one of the lenses popped up behind his eyelid and lodged there. Another contact-wearer finally came to his rescue and retrieved the tiny little lens.

And Billy Baker, a senior halfback got his first bad athletic injury in his last football game. Billy got a couple of cracked ribs during a late hit and is taped up for a few weeks. Billy was sitting on the sidelines at basketball practice this week and complaining bitterly. Not about the pain, but about having to miss practice.

The varsity cage crew is working hard in preparation for its first game Friday night at Friona. Only the A team will be going against the Chiefs, while the B team and freshmen will travel to games with Lubbock Christian High School. First home game is set for Tuesday, Nov. 21, with the varsity and B squads hosting Bledsoe.

Some of Morton's most ardent sports enthusiasts are planning to pass up the first basketball games in favor of watching the bi-district football game between Olton and Denver City. Olton downed Morton 0-41 in the first game of the season and Denver City defeated the Indians 2-42 later in the season. However, Denver City is favored to win by a couple of touchdowns. If they get by Olton, the Mustangs will meet the winner of Phillips-Iowa Park game the following weekend.

Thanksgiving Day will be observed by almost all the stores, businesses and offices in Morton next Thursday. Thanksgiving and Christmas are about the only two holidays that are generally observed locally. Others are on an individual basis, including such national observances as Independence Day, Memorial Day and Labor Day.

We are more thankful all the time that Texas is a Right-to-Work state, which prohibits compulsory unionism. For the last three years, the United Auto Workers has been collecting funds to finance the recent strike. But the till is empty and union members have been assessed $20 a month to support the strike. The UAW apparently has been using dues for other purposes. Its financial reports show that top union officials have donated over $4,300,000 to some organizations, which really don't seem to be connected with collective bargaining. Examples: Afro-Asian Institute of Histadrut, $20,000; AFL-CIO Voter Registration Fund, $57,490; American Civil Liberties Union, $1,750; Americans for Democratic Action, $12,000; Brown for Governor Committee, $15,000; Committee on Political Education, $43,725; 2nd Cong. Dis. Democratic Organization, $6,500; Foreign Student Service Council, $1,000; and National Conference on Social Welfare, $1,000.

Well, Texas Tech blew everything against TCU last week. They had a chance to get in the Cotton Bowl, got tripped up by A&M and then lost the last glimmer of hope against the Frogs. We tried to get a few points from Neal Rose for this Saturday, when Tech hosts Baylor. He said he would be going to the game, but didn't think the Bears were worthy of any edge in the contest.

Football's over, so we change And basketball's the game! We'd not choose between them, But now 'tis warmer in the gym!

Well, here I am again with more little bits of knowledge from the files of your teen columnist. ... our Indians sure whipped it out in conference games this year didn't they? Their final standings are 4-6 or 4-2 in district standings, which pushed them up to the third-place slot. ... put the stomp on the Post Antelopes on Friday night for the first time in history of Morton High School by a score of 14-0! The Antelopes captured district title last year, but ended up with a standing of 1-9. Taking over, the Indians got 273 yards rushing 28 by air to Post's 86 ground yards 18 passing. ... Denver City Mustangs captured the district title last week as they ended up with a 6-0 conference mark. Slaton came second with 3-1 district standing. Our Indians took third in the district competition with a 4-2 mark. Coming in fourth was Stanton with 3-3 in district play. ... was Midland Carver with a district standing of 2-4. Sixth place went to Post with a 1-5 district mark, and last place to Freshman Tigers with 0-6 district rating my students of the week, I'd like to recognize the senior football players who led their final game Friday night: Billy Baker, LaMell Abbe, Dick Vanlandingham, Ray King, Donnie Harvey, ... and Randy Wood (unable to play because of injuries). A great big shout of applause and pat on the head to these boys! I might also throw in the senior cheerleaders and the two senior girls who performed for their last football game: Janie DeLeon, Donna Hofman, Margaret Ledbetter, and Dana Webb. This really is a great bunch of kids whom I miss bunches next year!

How our Indians can center their attention on basketball and win district! Right? The first games will be played tomorrow. The varsity will go to Friona, while the team battles Lubbock Christian High school. Both promise to be good games. We want to see some people out for the game. Of course, I don't guess we expect you to go to both games, but I would be nice.

The Pop Squad stopped in Slaton after Friday night's game to eat with the boys. The band went on to Lubbock to play. The kids don't usually get to stop and eat, so this was a real treat. ... members enjoyed another assembly Friday morning entitled "In the Pilot's Seat".

The students were shown slides on pilot- and talked to by representatives from Lubbock on piloting as a career. ... the MHS band started its concert season Monday as they put up their hats and plumes and got out their concert music and horns. The band is trying extra hard for a Sweepstakes this year, and after making a "I" last week at marching contest they have a good chance. Here's hoping they go all the way to the top!

1936 Study Club has meet in home of Mrs. Paul Davis

The 1936 Study Club met Wednesday Nov. 1 in the home of Mrs. Paul Davis. During the business meeting, with Mrs.

Well, I guess that's about it. You'll be hearing from me again next week unless something disastrous happens, like my pen runs out of ink or something.

BEAT FRIONA AND LCHS!

Dutch Gibson presiding, the club accepted the sponsorship of a new 2nd grade Blue Bird group under the direction of Mrs. Royce Fred. Reports of the Halloween Carnival bazaar and school record book sales were heard; and the club voted to cooperate with the Salvation Army Drive. Those who would assist are to volunteer to Mrs. Neal Rose, club chairman.

Mrs. John Crowder presented the program on "The Minds that decide our Fate" an interesting discussion of the many intellectuals who have left our colleges and universities to enter government service. This "brotherhood of Scholars" who do not agree among themselves, has become a new kind of national resource. Following in the tradition of the framers of our constitution, LaFayette of Wisconsin, and the Brain Trust, of F.D. Roosevelt's day, they have replaced political bosses with professors. One third of the present cabinet is composed of these men and Mayor Lindsey of New York added seventeen such intellectuals to his staff. Many have discovered that ideas, however good, need political implementation before they can become useful or operative, and these men have become politicians, or executives and have not returned to teaching.

The most widely known of these groups is Project Raud started in 1946 with 600 good minds in Santa Monica, Calif. According to Russia, Raud turns out advice that rules America. It was this group that put forth the idea of Earth Satellites used for weather forecasting and reconnaissance, a "Science Fictions" idea at the time. They also predicted within two weeks the exact time Russia would launch the first Sputnik. It was a group that recommended the abandonment of foreign S.A.C. bases as "sitting ducks" and caused them to be made domestic bases.

In discussing of such "Action Intellectuals" Mrs. Crowder spoke of the fact there were very few precedents by which to judge their actions and there was peril in the fact that such great power and influence were wielded by non-elected people however people, however great their knowledge or wisdom. She quoted the Greek Historian, Thucydides, who said, "It is unfortunate when the wise control, because they expect too much of the ordinary man," and in more modern vernacular she said there are those who ask if they are so smart why are things so bad?

Those present were: Mesdames Paul Davis, M. C. Ledbetter, H. B. King, Joe Nicewarner, Gage Knox, Cyrus Fields, Harold Reynolds, J. D. Hawthorne, L. F. Hargrove, John Crowder, Neal Rose, Joe Gibson, Glenn Thompson, D. E. Benham.

William G. Heflin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Heflin just returned from Viet Nam. He is a 2nd class hospital corpsman stationed now in Key West Florida at the Naval Hospital. He returned on Oct. 17 and Mrs. Heflin flew out to Calif., to meet him.

Fifty women attend Holiday Ideas meet

Over 50 women attended the recent Holiday Ideas for the Holidays Program sponsored by the County Extension Service.

Mrs. Maurice Lewallen began the program by demonstrating how to make a simple holiday arrangement. She also showed arrangements for Thanksgiving and Christmas which had been made ahead of time. She suggested using a bulking green so that the arrangement would not be too expensive. "Cut styrofoam with a sharp knife," she said, "and then sharpen the knife on a candle when it gets dull."

Candles of every shape, color and size were displayed by Mrs. Roy Hill. She gave instructions on making different types of candles. She also showed how candles could be used in home arrangements. She suggested using "wax snow" to brighten up an old candle. "Instead of melting wax in a double boiler that will have to be cleaned," she said, "use a coffee can for the wax and put it in another pan with water. Afterwards just throw the coffee can away - no cleanup." She also said that crayolas made the best colors for candles but some people used lipstick.

Mrs. Bobby Travis gave a demonstration on making tissue paper pouf balls. She was assisted by Mrs. W. M. McSpadden in preparing the materials. Mrs. Travis provided tissue paper for each one present to follow her directions for making a pouf. She showed how to make roses, chrysanthemums, leaves, and how to arrange them. The basic instructions she gave were to "cut tissue into four" squares and round corners of one side of square. Roll the rounded edge on a pencil, crimp and attach to a pipe cleaner. Shape the pouf with thumbs to make it puff out, separate thickness and fluff." She also demonstrated making ribbon roses.

Last on the program was Mrs. Charles Borland who gave a holiday food demonstration. She showed how to make a quick and easy percolator punch and how to dip chocolates. Spade the area to 12" depth but dig the individual holes deeper and use sand and peat moss for proper drainage. Set the rose so that the graft is slightly above ground. Water well and do not fertilize at first. Mulch with coarse straw or cottonseed hulls. Follow a regular schedule of spraying for insects and disease. After the first season, fertilize. In pruning, dead-wood may be removed anytime, but severe pruning should be done in early spring. Bare root rose plants may be planted now and canned roses can be set any time. However, here most people prefer the spring.

Mrs. Eugene Bedwell discussed propogation by cuttings, explaining the methods for both summer rooting of cuttings and fall. The use of "Rootone" in preventing fungus disease and to stimulate root formation was recommended. Fifty women attend Holiday Ideas meet

Over 50 women attended the recent Ideas for the Holidays Program sponsored by the County Extension Service.

Mrs. Maurice Lewallen began the program by demonstrating how to make a simple holiday arrangement. She also showed arrangements for Thanksgiving and Christmas which had been made ahead of time. She suggested using a bulking green so that the arrangement would not be too expensive. "Cut styrofoam with a sharp knife," she said, "and then sharpen the knife on a candle when it gets dull."

Candles of every shape, color and size were displayed by Mrs. Roy Hill. She gave instructions on making different types of candles. She also showed how candles could be used in home arrangements. She suggested using "wax snow" to brighten up an old candle. "Instead of melting wax in a double boiler that will have to be cleaned," she said, "use a coffee can for the wax and put it in another pan with water. Afterwards just throw the coffee can away - no cleanup." She also said that crayolas made the best colors for candles but some people used lipstick.

Mrs. Bobby Travis gave a demonstration on making tissue paper pouf balls. She was assisted by Mrs. W. M. McSpadden in preparing the materials. Mrs. Travis provided tissue paper for each one present to follow her directions for making a pouf. She showed how to make roses, chrysanthemums, leaves, and how to arrange them. The basic instructions she gave were to "cut tissue into four" squares and round corners of one side of square. Roll the rounded edge on a pencil, crimp and attach to a pipe cleaner. Shape the pouf with thumbs to make it puff out, separate thicknesses and fluff." She also demonstrated making ribbon roses.

Last on the program was Mrs. Charles Borland who gave a holiday food demonstration. She showed how to make a quick and easy percolator punch and how to dip chocolates. She displayed different ways to wrap food gifts. "Wrap a food gift with something that can be used afterwards," she suggested, "such as a loaf of homemade bread wrapped on a bread board." She also prepared the refreshments which were a Jewish Date Ring Cake traditionally prepared for the Festival of Lights, a party cheese ball, and lemon balls.

Mrs. Marvin Elliott and Mrs. Bobby Travis won the doorprizes - a cookbook and a wrapped food gift.

Mrs. Wayne Porter, Mrs. Troy Tyson, Mrs. Claude Drennan and Mrs. Hessie B. Spottes exhibited some of the holiday decorations that they had made.

Dena Smith, a student at South Plains College visited in the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith over the weekend.

Mary St. Clair, daughter of Mrs. James St. Clair was home over the weekend. Mary is a junior student at Texas Tech.

Visiting in the Jack Cartwright home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cheek and Darrell of Levelland.

Dutch Gipson presiding, the club accepted the sponsorship of a new 2nd grade Blue Bird group under the direction of Mrs. Royce Fred. Reports of the Halloween Carnival bazaar and school record book sales were heard, and the club voted to cooperate with the Salvation Army Drive. Those who would assist are to volunteer to Mrs. Neal Rose, club chairman.

Mrs. John Crowder presented the program on "The Minds that decide our Fate" an interesting discussion of the many intellectuals who have left our colleges and universities to enter government service. This "brotherhood of Scholars" who do not agree among themselves, has become a new kind of national resource. Following in the tradition of the framers of our constitution, LaFollette of Wisconsin, and the Brain Trust, of F.D. Roosevelt's day, they have replaced political bosses with professors. One third of the present cabinet is composed of these men and Mayor Lindsey of New York added seventeen such intellectuals to his staff. Many have discovered that ideas, however good, need political implementation before they can become useful or operative, and these men have become politicians, or executives and have not returned to teaching.

The most widely known of these groups is Project Raud started in 1946 with 600 good minds in Santa Monica, Calif. According to Russia, Raud turns out advice that rules America. It was this group that put forth the idea of Earth Satellites used for weather forecasting and reconnaissance, a "Science Fictions" idea at the time. They also predicted within two weeks the exact time Russia would launch the first Sputnik. It was a group that recommended the abandonment of foreign S.A.C. bases as "Sitting ducks" and caused them to be made domestic bases.

In discussing of such "Action Intellectuals" Mrs. Crowder spoke of the fact there were very few precedents by which to judge their actions and there was peril in the fact that such great power and influence were wielded by non-elected people however people, however great their knowledge or wisdom. She quoted the Greek Historian, Thucydides, who said, "It is unfortunate when the wise control, because they expect too much of the ordinary man," and in more modern vernacular she said there are those who ask if they are so smart why are things so bad?

Those present were: Mesdames Paul Davis, M. C. Ledbetter, H. B. King, Joe Nicewarner, Gage Knox, Cyrus Fields, Harold Reynolds, J. D. Hawthorne, L. F. Hargrove, John Crowder, Neal Rose, Joe Gipson, Glenn Thompson, D. E. Benham.

William G. Hefflin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hefflin just returned from Viet Nam. He is a 2nd class hospital corpsman stationed now in Key West Florida at the Naval Hospital. He returned on Oct. 17 and Mrs. Hefflin flew out to Calif., to meet him.

Well, here I am again with more little bits of knowledge from the files of your teen columnist.

Our Indians sure whipped it out in conference games this year didn't they? Their final standings are 4-6 or 4-2 for district standings, which pushed them up in the third-place slot.

They put the stomp on the Post Antelopes Friday night for the first time in history of Morton High School by a score of 14-0! The Antelopes captured district title last year, but ended up with a standing of 1-9. Taking over, the Indians got 273 yards rushing by air to Post's 86 ground yards passing.

The Denver City Mustangs captured the district title last week as they ended up with a 6-0 conference mark. Slaton came second with 5-1 district standing. Our Indians took third in the district competition with a 4-2 mark. Coming in fourth Stanton with 3-3 in district play.

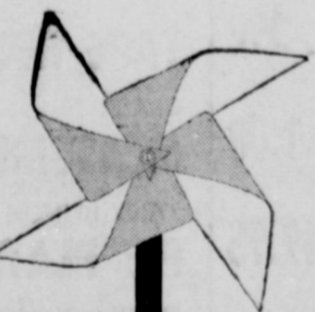

Midland Carver with a district standing of 2-4. Sixth place went to Post with a 1-5 district mark, and last place to Friendship Tigers with 0-6 district rating.

My students of the week, I'd like to congratulate the senior football players who played their final game Friday night: Billy Baker, LaMell Abbe, Dick Vanlandingham, Ray King, Donnie Harvey, Kelly, and Randy Wood (unable to play because of injuries). A great big shout of applause and pat on the head to these boys! I might also throw in the senior cheerleaders and the two senior girls who performed for their last football game: Janie DeLeon, Donna Hofman, Karen Ledbetter, and Dana Webb. This is a great bunch of kids whom you'll miss bunches next year!

Our Indians can center their attention on basketball and win district! Right? First games will be played tomorrow night. The varsity will go to Friona, while the Beam battles Lubbock Christian High School. Both promise to be good games. We want to see some people out for the game. Of course, I don't guess we expect you to go to both games, but we would be nice.

The Pep Squad stopped in Slaton after Friday night's game to eat with the boys. The band went on to Lubbock to play. The kids don't usually get to stop and so this was a real treat.

Students enjoyed another assembly Friday morning entitled "In the Pilot's Seat". Students were shown slides on pilot training and talked to by representatives from the MHS band started its concert season Monday as they put up their hats and plumes and got out their concert music and horns.

Fifty Hitlers

Hitler and Mussolini were pikers. How those two unimaginative gentlemen ever rose to power is beyond understanding.

Hitler used to reward German women with money, and sometimes medals, for having children — fodder for his war machine. And Mussolini copied the system. It was a practice which horrified civilized nations watching the menace of Fascism grow in Europe.

As we said, Hitler and Mussolini were unimaginative pikers. Only a few days ago the Ford Foundation sponsored a conference of "experts" in business, economics, labor, civil rights and government. No less than fifty authorities were brought together for three days in Warrenton, Virginia. Not even Hitler or Mussolini would believe that the conferees recommended: That the United States government undertake a program to give every child in the United States a cash allowance of $10, $15 or $25 a month.

Dr. Eveline Burns, who was chairman of the conference, and is a professor of "social work" at Columbia University, put it this way: "The advantages of a children's allowance are that it could move a large number of children out of poverty; it would assist them as 'right' and it would carry no stigma."

"Even Bobby Kennedy's children would get an allowance," said Dr. Burns.

How much would it cost? Well, a spokesman for the conference said that a $25 a month allowance for every child in the country would cost $18 to $20 billion a year.

It is not reported how long it took the Ford Foundation to locate fifty "experts" who could out-Hitler the architect of the Third Reich in 3 short days. But if tax-exempt foundations can be used for sponsorship of such pie-in-the-sky plans as this one, then mark it down that this country has a Hitler or Mussolini in its future, and not very far down the road. Indeed, it may have a whole committee of them.

The day that Junior and Missie wait in the doorway for the postman to deliver the monthly spending money is the day that Big Brother imposes a totalitarianism that will make Hitler and Mussolini look benevolent.

An appropriate day

"Great oaks from little acorns grow," 'tis said. And the same is true of those giant TV broadcasting towers. Back in 1962, Congress authorized Federal assistance for construction — and for construction purposes only — of non-commercial TV stations. In the intervening five years more than $32 million has been invested in towers, transmitters and other facilities. A lot of electronic acorns were planted.

In all, 92 new noncommercial TV stations have been built with Federal money since 1962. It's said they have a potential viewing audience of 155 million. Since there are only 200 million of us in the country, it's clear that they've been built in strategic places.

On November 7, President Johnson signed the Public Broadcasting Act of 1967 in the East Room of the White House with 300 TV enthusiasts viewing the performance. The Act will:

- 1) Authorize the expenditure of $38 million more for additional towers and transmitters;
- 2) Authorize $500,000 for a study how to use the facilities, the study to be conducted by the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare;
- 3) Authorize $9 million in fiscal 1968 for TV stations, program production groups and educational TV networks to stimulate programs of desired quality.

Congress will be asked to appropriate the $9 million. But he "public corporation" which is established by the Act is authorized to receive "contributions" to its budget. And when the President finished his eulogy to the Act he didn't have time to take a sip of water before the head of the Carnegie Corporation announced it was pledging $1 million to support the new corporation. Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers made a pledge. The Communications Workers of America make a pledge.

So even if Congress fails to ante up the $9 million, corporations, unions, individuals, businessmen with government contracts and organizations sympathetic to Great Society concepts can finance the program of desired "quality." Reluctant contributors can be blackmailed into giving, through threats of unfriendly exposure in the programs.

Election day, November 7, was the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik take-over in Russia. It was an appropriate day for the White House ceremony celebrating the signing of the Public Broadcasting Act. — U. S. Press Assn.

Connally decision unsettling

A few weeks ago, when it was known that Gov. John B. Connally was wavering on the question of running again, the Star-Telegram said editorially that "Governor-Connally is needed by Texas." It still thinks so, and for a variety of reasons. Nonetheless, Mr. Connally now has made what he calls an "agonized decision" — and it is a decision not to try for a fourth term.

Unquestionably the decision was a surprise to many Texans, for it is rare for political officeholders to quit while they are clearly ahead. Undoubtedly, too, it was a disappointment to many, from the White House on down.

To start at the top, President Johnson could not help but want his home state to be dependably secure for the 1968 presidential nominating and election campaigns, and that best could be assured by having a close friend and ally in the Texas governor's chair and in control of the party machinery in the state. Many other political plans at the state and local level have hinged on the governor's decision, and a good many of these may have to be reappraised in the light of this startling new happening.

The reaction of most voters probably was one of surprise, but among many of them were also will be concern over the political uncertainty created by the decision and the possibility of drastic change in the course of state government. Certainly liberal and conservative forces will reassess their chances, as will prospective candidates from these two factions. The Republicans, too, may see opening to them more than a casual chance to elect a governor and may try to put the strongest possible candidate in the running.

In short, the Connally announcement produces a new deal and a new ferment in Texas politics.

All that went into the governor's decision not to run, of course, not known. So it is necessary to take at face value his statement that he is not convinced he could give to the office what it demands, and that his conscience would permit him to do no less. That is a high-minded explanation, and one that is to be respected, even though it fails to tie up all the personal and political threads.

Mr. Connally has been governor in an age of great transition and of accompanying great problems. He has led the state in notable progress toward solving some of them — the problem of educational excellence, for instance, in an era of exploding knowledge and technology. He also has made a good beginning on others, such as water supply adequacy, air and water pollution, improved highway safety, constitutional revision, better state financial control, that like education will be with us for many years.

What is to be hoped is that Texans will elect a governor next year who will strive for sound solution of these problems with the same devotion and energy that has characterized Mr. Connally's service.

Fort Worth Star-Telegram

How many people?

On or about November 20, the United States will have attained a population of 200,000,000. The nation's rapid increase — reaching its second hundred million in the last 52 years — has brought to the fore the question: What is a desirable population figure for a nation the geographical size of the United States?

That question, of course, is not quickly answerable. Much depends on how well a nation can provide for its needs and its amenities: its food supply, housing, schools, vacations and relaxations.

The United States added some 55,000,000 persons since 1947. This fast growth was due in part to the "baby boom" following World War II. A postwar peak, a higher birth rate than that of any industrialized nation of Europe, was reached. This now has leveled off. With ever greater attention being given to family planning, the prospects are for a moderate growth rate in the years ahead.

A fast-growing population is to some degree a business stimulant. School construction is pushed, industries catering to the needs of children and the whims of teen-agers flourish, college enrollment burgeons. But if the rate of growth is too steep, schools burst at the seams, youths cannot find jobs on leaving school, and the family breadwinner may despair at providing for his overpopulated household.

Fortunately the United States is producing wealth faster than it is acquiring people. The population grew 1.15 percent last year while the output of goods and services rose by 5.8 percent. This might suggest that the population boom could continue indefinitely. But there are geographical limits, as visitor to the "unspoiled West" discover when they find Yellowstone National Park overcrowded with 50,000 campers a day in the tourist season.

Population in the United States will reach 300,000,000 by about the year 2000, according to present estimates. Families, in surveying their own private growth estimates, should consider how their decisions affect the collective well-being of the nation as a whole.

Federal funds have strings

People often vote against local programs calling for the outlay of additional funds and the resulting higher taxes.

But these same people send applications to Washington for millions of dollars to do the jobs for which they refuse to take local responsibility.

For some reason, people have come to feel that there is an endless amount of money which can be siphoned out of Washington without anyone ever having to pay the bill. No greater mistake was ever made.

Let's look at some realities. If you want to get a bargain in results from your tax dollars—levy and spend them at the local level.

There are a number of factors which tip the scales in favor of local planning, local taxes, and local consummation of the project.

First, the people get more for their money when it does not have to go to the state or national capitol and then "trickle back down" to the local level. The trouble is that not all of it gets back, federal or state administrators and supervisors.

If federal funds are used, then the federal government will claim the right to set up specific regulations regarding the project. In this, the federal government has been upheld by the courts. Therefore, if local leaders desire to plan and carry out a project based upon the needs and desires of their own community, they should do it on their own and not depend upon a bossy Uncle Sugar for financing.

Voters seem to keep a much closer check on local officials and local taxes than they do on state and federal officials and taxes. It seems that at the federal level the voter and taxpayer has a very difficult time connecting his income tax payments with the immense number of federal activities, including the war in Vietnam, city rebuilding, kindergarten classes, farm programs, federal school programs, the Job Corps, the Teacher Corps, federal welfare payments and all the rest.

What we need to realize is that all these programs are paid for with money which comes directly out of our pockets. For a majority, the tax is withheld by the employer from the regular paycheck, and many people never realize how much they are paying because they never see the money.

These federal taxes are high and probably will go higher, yet too many are unconcerned. If local officials sought to raise taxes even a fraction of what Washington does, they would probably be voted out at the next election.

We know that we are not getting as good a bargain in returns for our federal taxes as we do for the local taxes—yet we allow Washington to keep raising the ante and digging even deeper into our pockets.

We have even allowed, through the abdication of local responsibility, the federal government to take over many functions originally intended for the state and local governments.

What we are saying is that we ought to be more progressive on the local government level, thus cutting the need for federal programs; and we should be more sensitive to the levying and spending of the federal tax dollar, because it is not

Connally's decision was unexpected by observers

AUSTIN, Tex. — Gov. John Connally did what very few people in your capitol city expected him to do when he announced that he would not be a candidate for reelection in 1968.

About the only person who really felt that he would not run, and said so, was Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, an already-announced candidate for Governor.

Connally's declaration brought forth many reactions. Republicans felt it would add impetus to their 1968 campaign plans . . . which seem to include former attorney general Will Wilson in the governor's race.

Liberals listened for word from Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Houston lawyer Don Yarborough and other potential gubernatorial candidates.

Conservatives began a sudden guessing game, with former attorney general Waggoner Carr apparently high on their potential list. But not all have given up on Connally. They point out that the filing deadline is not until February 15.

Anyway, 1968 promises to be one of those years when cowboys and Indians both may bite the dust. Things are pointing in that direction.

SCHOOL FUND — State permanent school fund gained $4,100,000 as a result of the last oil, gas and sulphur lease sale of 1967.

Bidding averaged $45.27 an acre on 54,950 acres of oil and gas lands. Sulphur leases averaged $547.25 an acre on 3,005 acres.

Nueces County Gulf of Mexico oil-gas lease totalling 1,440 acres brought the top bid of $129,787 from Cities Service Oil Company. Top sulphur lease bid was $1,056,323 by W. C. Tillett for 555 acres in Culberson County near Van Horn.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler reported that the permanent school fund now totals $642,338,369.

WAR ON POVERTY — Nearly $210,000,000 in federal anti-poverty funds have poured into Texas the past two years.

Annual report by the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity shows $98,900,000 authorized for spending on war on poverty projects during the fiscal year which ended August 31.

Money found its way into the largest and smallest counties and the richest and poorest. More than a third of the 1967 allocation — $34,500,000 — went to five Texas counties — Harris, Bexar, Dallas, El Paso and Webb.

Nearly $45,000,000 of the statewide 1967 total was for Community Action Programs including Operation Head Start for pre-school children, health programs, neighborhood centers, concentrated employment programs to recruit, train and place hard-core unemployed, legal aid and adult services.

Neighborhood Youth Corps activities, reaching some 18,463 students, were allocated $20,118,710 for the year. Job Corps training at Gary Center in San Marcos, the McKinney women's unit, and the New Waverly rural center for men received another $17,340,026.

Help to migrants and seasonal farm workers totalled more than $6,300,000; college work study allocations, $3,900,000; co-op loans to farm families, $1,700,000; the work experience program, $2,000,000-plus; nearly as good a bargain in most cases, as locally levied and spent revenues.

Marijuana soft line

Food and Drug Commissioner James L. Goddard took a "soft" line on marijuana in a speech in Minneapolis last week and thereby evoked an immediate flurry of calls from lawmakers and private citizens for his resignation.

The doctor brought down the roof by equating marijuana and alcohol, saying he doubted that the former was more dangerous than the latter. And he and his aides have been busy trying to explain things since.

What the doctor seems to have been trying to do, judging from the explanations, was stress the evils of alcohol—11,000 deaths and from four million to five million persons incapacitated in the nation last year.

But in so doing he also brought to public attention just how little is known about the long-term effects of marijuana.

It is high time, in a society which knows all about the love life of the bumble bee and the temperature of the surface of Venus, for the facts to be found out about the effects of marijuana. And we are glad to note that the personnel and dollars of the National Institute of Mental Health are at long last being mobilized to this end.

The people, users or not, have a right to know. There is no question that the use of marijuana is increasing. And there is no question that increasing numbers of users, particularly youngsters, think the dangers of smoking the weed have been greatly overstated.

We have no such charitable view, an early memory being of a bright high school senior who walked blissfully onto a highway at night and was killed instantly by an oncoming auto. The evidence assembled by police was that the youth was "extremely high" on marijuana. But all know of like tragedies involving alcohol.

We hope it doesn't take the National Institute of Mental Health long to come up with a full verdict on marijuana.

INSURANCE PROBE — State Insurance Board reports a statewide investigation has disclosed credit insurance irregularities in 24 Texas banks.

Ten more investigation reports are standing. Board announced investigations public hearing on credit insurance rate coverages. Board Chairman Wm. McLean said that investigation of insurance practices may be extended into other lending fields.

Texans paid nearly $50,000,000 in premiums last year for credit life and health and accident insurance — one which provides for settlement of an event a borrower dies or is disabled.

Texas Bankers Association spokesman reminded that there are 1,150 banks in the state, many of which rely on insurance companies for advice on insurance matters. He pledged prompt correction any violations.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court has held that paving assessments based on official city-prepared estimates of costs before improvements are Decision reversed lower courts which held assessments against a Houston man's property.

High court agreed with lower court that an employee of an El Paso commissioner who worked 18 months out pay was entitled to $4,000 in damages and $2,500 in attorney's fees.

Third Court of Civil Appeals back district court in Burnet County in decision that a suit to block an election incorporation of the town of Granite was improperly brought by private citizens.

GUARD AID GRANTED — Costly Hurricane Beulah disaster was paid by Governor Connally.

Governor granted his entire department appropriation of $200,000, plus $850,000 of his office's appropriations, for payment disaster claims.

Adjutant General's Department for the Guard payroll for the disaster at $160,000, rations at $23,400, supplies and expenses at $11,000, as balance for miscellaneous expenses.

DRAFT QUOTA SET — Texas boards will call 3,485 men for physical and mental and physical examinations December, says State Selective Service Director Col. Morris S. Schwartz.

Boards will send 4,650 for this election in November.

December induction quota for boards is 924 men, compared with 1,000 for November, 977 for October, 1,131 for September, 1,421 for August and 1,571 for July.

Inductions are scheduled for the December 1-15. December's state quota a portion of the national quota of all for the Army.

WATER COSTS EYED — State cost of transporting water to various parts of Texas was reviewed by the Texas Water Development Board.

Staff aides told the Board that the gured it would take three-tenths of a cent per kilowatt hour to pay for power bring water needed into West and Texas. Board members indicated they feared that the estimate was too high.

Aides calculated it would cost $2,000,000 to deliver three million acre-feet of water a year to Cooper Reservoir in Texas to irrigate 1,500,000 acres.

SHORT SNORTS — Atty. Gen. Crum Martin has announced the creation of a new Anti-Trust and Consumer Protection Division, to direct enforcement of the state's anti-trust laws and consumer protection code.

Consumer Credit Commissioner Miskell enjoined five Houston-based improvement corporations and five individuals from making cash loans at interest in violation of new credit and regulatory loan act.

Texaco and the State of Texas formally conveyed to the U. S. National Park Service their mineral rights in land within the proposed Guadalupe Mountains State Park, thus removing the barrier to actual creation of the park.

Railroad Commission granted disposal of East Texas Salt Water Disposal Company for an increase in capped salt water allowable for East Texas field.

Mailing deadlines set for Christmas parcels

Postmaster Murray L. Crone today issued a reminder list of mailing dates for Christmas gifts and parcels.

The Morton postal official said that these are final deadlines suggested by the Post Office Department to make sure that all mail is delivered on time.

"If the public mails on or before these suggested deadlines," Crone explained, "There will not be a last minute jam up in the mail system caused by a massive influx of mail which will be more than the already overburdened postal system can handle."

"We are asking that the public cooperate by shopping early, mailing early and using ZIP Codes to encourage the most efficient Christmas postal operation ever."

The Postmaster noted that special attention will again be placed on the delivery of mail to servicemen in Vietnam and the surrounding area, and encouraged the use of APO and FPO numbers on all overseas military mail.

The deadlines for mail to all members of the Armed Forces abroad are:
Gifts weighing more than five pounds sent by surface postage rate, November 11; Gifts five pounds or less, plus letters and greeting cards sent at surface rates (these go by air on space available bases), December 1; Air mail gifts and greetings, December 11.

Deadlines for domestic military and civilian mail are: Domestic Surface Mail, Gifts to distance states, December 4; Greeting cards to distant states, December 10; Gifts and greeting cards to nearby states and areas, December 13.

Domestic Air Mail: Gifts and greeting cards, December 19.

Deadlines for overseas civilian mail are:

Morton ends season with 14-0 win over Post

The Morton (Tex.) Tribune, Thursday, Nov. 16, 1967

A game more one-sided than the score indicates, Morton downed the Post Antelopes on the road Friday night. The Antelopes were called twice in the first period and that stand up for a 14-0 victory. Morton won third place in District 4-AA with a 4-2 mark. Their season record is 4-6. Post, last year's district champion, could only salvage one victory with a 1-9 mark, with 1-5 in district play. The Antelopes stood alone at the top with a 10-0 record. Slaton was second with 8-2 and 5-1. Then came Morton; Stan-ley with 4-4 and 3-3; Midland Carver, 3-4 and 2-4; and Frenship, 0-19 and 0-6.

Smart, who has blossomed as a quarterback this season, opened the game with a pass to the Post nine, where Ronnie received and returned only nine yards to the Post 18 as Alex Soliz made a 14-yard run.

The Antelopes opened with a "shot" formation, with the quarterback de-termining the play. Quarterback Ray Altman passed to his brother, Dennis, a senior back on the first play. It gained five yards. Soliz broke up the next pass at-tempt. Petty carried 13 yards on the next play. The Ray-to-Dennis combination gain-ed 10 yards, but the next pass was wide. James carried for two. Ray Altman pun-ted 47 yards, with no return.

Quarterback Donnie Harvey broke on the first play, as he hit over right tackle, back up the middle and outran the Antelopes for 77 yards to score with 9:43 in the first period. It was the long-est scoring play of the year for the Tri-be. He booted the extra point and it was good.

The kickoff was returned 12 yards to the Post 27. Petty lost two as he slipped and two passes were incomplete. Altman punted 47 yards to the Mor-ton 28.

Harvey slipped and gained nothing. On the next play, Harvey gained three but was tackled. Randy Hudman recovered for the Antelopes on the Morton 31.

This series was the only time the An-telopes got inside the Morton 40-yardline, but lost one yard trying the middle line, then gained three around left tackle. Jay Bird tried right end, but tackle Vanlandingham got him from behind for a one-yard loss. The fourth down pass was incomplete as safety Dee Merritt intercepted the intended receiver.

The Antelopes took over on its own 30 and be-gan a 70-yard scoring drive that took 11 minutes. Harvey carried for three. Harvey dropped for a four-yard loss on the next play. Wayne Thompson went back to the line and then tucked the ball away and ran for 10 yards. With fourth and one from their own 39, Morton made the gamble and Joyce got the first down on a three-yard burst. Harvey carried for three and Joyce for four and five and Harvey for 12, to the Antelope 22.

Thompson threw a swing pass to Har-vey on the left flat. Donnie cut back and ran up the middle for a 22-yard scor-ing play. Smart kicked the extra point and Morton had finished the night's scor-ing, 14-0. There was 2:35 left in the first period.

Harvey returned the kick 13 yards to the Post 28. Two runs got six yards and it was Ray-to-Dennis for five. Another run only one yard and Altman passed to Petty for seven yards as the first period ended. Pollard picked up the first down, but Dennis was good for another five, but the next two passes were no good and Altman punted 32 yards with Soliz returning it three, to the Morton 18.

Harvey carried for two, Harvey got seven yards. Joyce four. Harvey slipped and lost two yards. Two passes were incomplete and Rus-sell punted 23 yards.

Harvey moved for one first down on runs of seven and three. But two more runs got only three yards and a pass was no good. Ray punted into the end zone.

Harvey hit for seven and one, Morton was penalized five, and Joyce hit for nine and five. Thompson passed to Harvey for five, then passed incomplete. Harvey gained five and Billy Baker added three. Rowden punted 32 yards. Jay Bird caught the ball on the Post 18, gave ground and finally was dropped on the Post 12 by Charles Joyce.

Three passes were incomplete and Ray booted the punt 36 yards. Harvey took the kick on the Post 48, went to his right behind a wall on blockers and zipped for 23 yards to the Post 25.

With less than three minutes left in the half, both teams began to get anxious for a score. Thompson passed to Harvey for three yards. Harvey was dropped for a three-yard loss on a run and Thompson passed incomplete.

Smart was going to try a 41-yard field goal, but the snap was bad and Post re-covered on its own 41. Ray hit one of three passes for three yards. Robinson carried for two and Morton got possession on the Post 46.

Harvey swept left end for five yards. Thompson's pass was intercepted by Pete Morales.

From their own 22, Post tried to move again. Altman passed twice, both of them incomplete. End Randy Kelly "blind-sided" Altman on the second aerial and the dandy young quarterback left the field for a breather.

Jay Bird came in and kept on a sneak for five yards. A fourth-and-five pass was no good and Morton took over on the Post 27.

Two passes were no good. Smart tried a 46-yard field goal that was short. Post returned the kick 22 yards as the first half ended.

Baker returned the short second half kickoff five yards to the Morton 30. Three runs got seven yards. Rowden punted 35 yards with a 13-yard return.

Post ran for one first down, passed incomplete, ran for no gain, passed for yards, but got only one.

Morton took over on its own 43. Joyce blasted for six, Harvey got seven, fumbled and Baker recovered. Baker carried for three and Post was penalized 15.

Harvey hit for four. Joyce got only two yards on two carries and Harvey was held to no gain on the Post 20.

But the Antelopes found themselves going backwards. Smart blasted through from his linebacker spot on a blitz to drop Ray Altman for a ten-yard loss. Pollard carried for eight, back out to the 18. Altman went back again and found himself dragged down for a nine-yard loss by ends Tommy Waters and Randy Kelly. Altman punted 26 yards, with Soliz re-turning five to the Post 30.

Joyce carried for seven. Harvey added eight. Joyce got three and two and Harvey two more. With fourth and three from the eight, Thompson lacked about six inches making the first down.

Pollard carried twice and gained six. Altman passed to Bird for seven. George Torres gained one and Altman passed incomplete. Jerry Crenshaw ended up with the ball on a reverse, but center Ray King ended up on top of Crenshaw for a nine-yard loss, back to the ten.

Then came the most controversial play of the game. Altman went back into the end zone to punt. He fumbled the snap, chased the ball down, ran around and then tried to punt. The kick apparently was partially blocked as it sailed straight up, came down and was covered by Morton a yard inside the goal line for an ap-parent TD.

Officials ruled, however, that the kick had gotten away and flagged Morton for roughing the kicker. That cost 15 yards, Quarterback keeper . . .

WAYNE THOMPSON kept the defense honest with occasional keeper plays against Post. This one worked for 10 despite the efforts of Ronnie Petty (33) and Norman Tanner (72). Morton downed the Antelopes 14-0 to take third place in District 4-AA. (Staff Photo) still not enough for a first down. Altman punted again, this time for 36 yards.

Thompson fumbled the catch and Gary Young recovered for the Antelopes on the Morton 35. The fourth period began after this play.

But Altman's pass was grabbed off by linebacker Smart, who made a short return to the Morton 33.

Joyce got five yards, Harvey was held for no gain and Joyce gained two. Rowden punted 37 yards.

Torres ran for four and 11, and then Post was penalized five. Two passes were incomplete and Altman was dropped for a two-yard loss by Soliz and Merritt. Altman punted 45 yards to the Morton 24.

A first-down pass was no good. Harvey carried for two and Thompson got one. Post was penalized 15. Thompson kept for eight, Joyce got three and six. Thompson lost two, Joyce got two and then three, but short of the first down.

From their own 37, Post tried to move again. Four runs got 19 yards, then the Antelopes were flagged for five steps. Two passes were wide and Morton took over on its own 49.

The second offensive unit gained six yards on four runs. Post gained nine on two runs, passed incomplete, was penalized five and then passed incomplete again. Morton ran for two first downs as the game ended.

In the dressing room, coach Fred Weaver praised his seven seniors — Donnie Harvey, Billy Baker, Roy King, Billy Smart, Dick Van, LaMell Abbe and Randy Kelly — for their leadership and play during the year. Then he began talking quietly to the underclassmen about their accomplishments during the year and about the team during 1968.

Although disappointed that they failed to win more, the players were pleased with their three straight victories at year's end and a third place finish in the district. And they had twice as many victories to recall as they did in 1966.

A Look at the Cross on THANKSGIVING

"Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted."

"But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed."

"All we like sheep have gone astray: we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all." Isaiah 53:4-6

Our prayer this Thanksgiving Season is that everyone will attend the house of God, giving thanks unto him for his great gift, which is eternal life through his son.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
