Tribe plots Cowboy massacre

The age-old battle between the Cowboys and Indians will be fought once more this Friday night when the Morton Indians travel south to face a strong contingent of Plains Cowboys.

Game time for this year's season opener is slated for 8 p.m.

The 1971 edition of the Pokes will be out to avenge last year's 20-0 defeat at the hands of the Tribe, but to accomplish the victory the Cowboys will have to do something they have failed to do in two years, and that is to score against the stout Indian defense.

All reports indicate that the Plains footballers this year will be mighty tough. The Cowboys are returning sixteen starters from 1970's 6-4 team.

Head coach Jim Warren says, "the number of returning starters we have is an obvious plus factor, and we feel we have good overall quickness, a good defensive unit, and a good quarterback."

The Poke attack will be led by quarterback Joey Lowe. The Morton scouts give him a fine rating as a passer.

Center Richey Brantley and guard David Barnett are both three-year letterman, and they will anchor the offensive line. Barnett was on the Class A All-South Plains team last year as a junior.

Heading up the Plains defense will be another three-year letterman, linebacker Shelly Simpson. Simpson garnered All-District honors last season. Simpson does double duty and is one of Lowe's favorite targets at his end position.

The probable starting line-up for Coach Doug Reed's Indians will have Dubbie Bryan at center, Tony Bramblett and David Palmer at guards, William Grant and Lesley Carter manning the tackles, Ted Thomas at tight end, Bryant Lewis at split end, Larry Thompson and Elton Patton at halfbacks, Kevin Kuehler at fullback, and Keith Embry at the man-under slot.

The rushing game of the Indians was quite impressive in the Seagraves scrimmage held here last Friday as the Tribe racked up a 5 1/2 yard average on 45 attempts for a total of 248 yards.

On defense Reed's Raiders probably will Know the drug threat

(Last In A Series)

Today's Subject: Summary of This Series

Those of you who have followed my series on drug abuse have been with me now for the past 13 weeks, and it is my sincere hope that the information I have shared with you has been helpful in learning about drugs and stimulating to the mind in making your personal determination to LEARN MORE. I can assure you that the more you know about drugs, the more benefit you will be to your children on the subject and the more you can do for our community to fight the drug curse.

Parents have long told their children not to use drugs, except under a doctor's prescription, but now you can authoritatively say WHY drugs should not be abused and the many harms that can come to those who do abuse drugs.

Most of our discussions have been on the prevention through knowledge approach to the drug problem, but here I want to state things to watch for that might indicate a person is already using some type of drugs. Ten frequent signs of drug abuse are:

1. Moral ill health. Normal value changes and unusual ideas taking their place.
2. Mental ill health. Emotional extremes with a marked loss of interest in usual goals. Unusually bad grades in school, signs of change in personality.
3. Physical ill health. Loss of weight, changes in skin color, loss of body tone, unnatural careless stance and posture. 4. Development of a fear complex. Usually convinced that someone is "after them." Suspicious about everyone around them, even family members.

5. Marked appetite extremes. No appetite at all and when this changes and they do eat, the amounts of food intake are huge, particularly in the line of sweets and liquids.

6. Extremes in disposition. Either highly stimulated and overly talkative or very sleepy.

7. Extremes in emotions. Frequent spells of crying or hysterical laughter. Very frequently showing feelings against any authority.

8. Needle marks, skin boils, sores. Scars from use of needles many times become very infected.

9. Body and breath odor very unpleasant, watery. Pupils very small, eyes often wide. If you suspect a child is taking some form of drugs, it is probably best, for the first step, to consult your family doctor. He is very well qualified to confirm your judgment.

Here are some of the street terms you want to listen for now that you know they are definitely connected with drug use. These listed below are common to the drug scene:

MAINLINE: Using drugs by means of intravenous injection.

WINNING THEIR ALL . . .

THE QUARTET ABOVE symbolically hold the future of the Morton High School football fate in their hands as they ready the Tribe for the opening game of the season against the Plains Cowboys Friday night. From left they are head coach Doug Reed, and assistants Hubert Jones, Tommy Thomson and Lester Dupler. All four have expressed optimism that the Indians will improve the dismal 2-8 record of last year.

Indians pluck Eagle feathers; potential raises tribal spirits

A savage band of Morton Indians added eagle feathers to its war bonnet in Friday's scrimmage with the Seagraves Eagles. The feat was accomplished by what Coach Doug Reed termed "a fantastic effort."

During the scrimmage the high-octane Indian offense scored five times, while the stingy Tribe defense only allowed the state-ranked Eagles to cross its goal line twice.

The scoring parade started with Elton Patton going 30 yards around right end. The score came through excellent blocking in the line and dazzling speed on the part of Patton.

The next touchdown was scored by Kevin Kuehler on a 3-yard quick opener up the middle, and this was followed by a 12-yard ramble from Allen Joyce, a senior transfer from Three Way.

The fourth TD of the day was on a picture play by cornerback Jimmy Harvey. Harvey stepped in front of an Eagle receiver, grabbed the ball and sped 40 yards to cross the double stripe.

The final score for the Indians came on a 50-yard bomb from Keith Embry to Bryant Lewis. Lewis made a brilliant move on his defender and was 15 yards behind him when Embry rifled the ball to the Indian split end.

Coach Doug Reed stated that he was pleased with the enthusiasm, desire, and determination shown by the entire team during the scrimmage. The Indian team proved during the afternoon that they would never quit even when the bigger and more experienced Eagles had them with their backs to the wall.

Reed feels that the success and the never-say-die attitude possessed by this year's team can be attributed to the fine leadership of the five seniors on the squad — Keith Embry, Elton Patton, Kevin Kuehler, Bryant Lewis, and Allen Joyce.

The Morton coaching staff this year is headed by Doug Reed who is in his first year at the helm of the Indian attack. Reed handles the interior linemen on QUARTERBACK KEITH Embry will be entering his third year at the helm of the Tribe goes on the warpath against the Plains Cowboys Friday night to kick off the 1971 gridiron season. Embry's experience and ability being depended upon heavily to lead the Tribe back on the winning path and improve on last year's 2-8 record.

Ambulance course here has large enrollment

A total of 57 persons were enrolled in the special three-day ambulance course that got underway at the County Activities Building Tuesday night.

The course, co-sponsored by the Texas Department of Health and the Frontier Ambulance Board of Cochran County, provides the proper emergency care and transportation of the sick and injured and is being held in connection with the new ambulance service recently established in the county.

Ambulance drivers for the local service are being trained in the course, which is open to all adult persons who are interested. The subjects in the course are being conducted by instructors from the county, assisted by area physicians.

Subjects covered Tuesday night included Ambulance Problems and Procedures, Vital Signs and Examination of the Patient, "Pulse of Life" and a practice session for students in which they performed the procedures covered in the

THE MHS FOOTBALL SQUAD paused long enough from its strenuous practice sessions last week to have its portrait made. Approximately 45 candidates are on hand in a squad which boast some strong points and bemoans some weak areas. A combination of veterans and good young material has head coach Daug Reed somewhat optimistic as he prepares for his initiation as head coach at the opening game against the Plains Cowboys Friday night.

Know your school

BY DOROTHY ROSE
Curriculum Coordinator

The Morton Schools have completed the first week of instruction with a total enrollment of 1059 students.

The first five days of in-service training were completed on August 27. During these five days all members of the faculty were in attendance discussing and working on such things as board policies, administrative policies, student handbooks, duties of administrators and teachers, record keeping, discipline and public relations.

Special programs were given by Mrs. Mildred Ward, who discussed the basic reading skills which are to be taught or reinforced at each level and Mrs. Dorothy Rose, who discussed the special reading skills needed to understand different subjects such as science, social studies, mathematics and literature. Mrs. Lenave Freeland explained the testing programs used throughout the schools, and Harold Drennan presented a tape by Dr. Frymier on "Individualized Instruction."

Mr. Middleton announced the plans for teaching drug education. The Morton program will incorporate drug information, self development and crime prevention into the curriculum through such subjects as elementary health, science and social studies and secondary physical education, social studies, health, English, American history, science and government. It is recognized that to be an effective drug program, it must be one which is meaningful to each child.

Mrs. Juanita Shaw reported on a four weeks workshop held in Lubbock for teachers of migrant children.

The Texas Study of Public School Instructional Resources was explained by Mrs. Rose who is chairman of the local study group. The study is a from-the-classroom-up survey of the "things" teachers use to teach. The survey is a statewide project coordinated by the Texas Education Agency. The 17-month survey was authorized by the State Board of Education.

The Study Groups will look at everything from telecommunications to textbooks. Basically, there is one objective — to know where the state is going in the future with books, films and computers, with all the technology and accompanying materials being developed for the classroom. The group will also determine the best way to get there.

Mrs. Ward, Phyllis and Doug Reed and Mr. Chandler completed the work for their Masters degrees this summer. Other teachers attending college during the summer

BY GORDON HOUGHTON — SCS

Plant residues, such as grain sorghum stubble, left on the land can be of great value if they are properly managed. Stubble left undisturbed not only protects the soil from wind erosion but it also provides protection and food for wildlife such as quail, dove and prairie chicken.

A good cover of residue left on the surface of the land helps to conserve moisture by shading the soil and reducing evaporation. It also increases water infiltration and improves soil tilth.

Residue that has been shredded or mowed should be "lucked in" by some kind of tillage to prevent it from blowing away. Large sweeps, tandem disk or chisels are used often and do a good job.

Where large amounts of residue are produced, partial incorporation of the residue into the soil is advisable. Incorporation should be done at least three weeks or longer prior to planting. Fertilizer should be added to help break down residue into plant food.

More information and assistance in applying this type of soil conservation practice is available at the Soil Conservation Service office.

Letter To The Editor

I would like to address this letter to the parents and other people who care about our children in Morton.

In passing Strickland Lake, almost every day I see children playing there unsupervised. Some of the children wade in the lake, as far as waist deep with no help whatsoever near them.

Drowning is a relatively simple word and in the summer, with so many people meeting death this way, the word practically becomes a household term.

I am one of the unfortunate persons to have lost someone by drowning this year and my son and unborn child lost their Daddy.

When I see those children near or in that water with no one to help them or instruct them, I dare say that I mentally feel their parents just don't care or are unaware they are playing there.

Eventually winter will be arriving and the lake will ice over. If these children play near the lake in the summer, they will be tempted to skate on it in the winter. The ice will not support their weight and should one fall through the ice he or she may never be found.

If you are one of these parents and have given your children permission to play near the lake without someone who can swim or someone to keep them out of the water, I beg you with all the loneliness I feel daily, to be more careful with these children's lives. They need guidance and help no matter how responsible they may be.

I also feel the City of Morton should enforce tougher rules for the lake. Thank you and God guide you to be a more

Doing the punting for the Indians will be Patton and Thomas. Kick-offs and extra points will be handled by Jerry Silhan, Barry Key, and Bryant Lewis.

Coach Reed emphasizes that this year's Plains team is the strongest one they have had in a long time and should be in contention for the District 5-A title.

All Morton fans should make plans to travel to Plains as this should be a fine ballgame from the opening kick-off until the final whistle. Your support is needed to carry the Indians to their first victory of the 1971 season. And with that tough victory under their war bonnets, who knows how many more successful scalping raids will be made during the season?

BY BILL SAYERS

Well, here it is again! We mean Fall. If you are of a mind that Fall doesn't start for a good many days yet, let us set you straight — Fall, with all its great colors, begins the very day that ol' pig-skin is plunked in the bottom and sails through the air to some shakily hopeful lad who has a ridiculous desire to carry it back further than where it was kicked from.

That is to say, Fall begins with feet-balls. Which also is to say — long, quiet, somnolent, lazy, colorful days — rent once a week by the frantic, fanatic, frenzied and altogether unrealistic phenomenon of high school or college football.

It's hard to figure the mixture, but there you are. We take a very firm stand that this, the crazy season, is the best of all possible worlds for us. Of course, you can disregard that opinion as we are as close as it is possible to come to being a complete football nut.

We'll meet you in the spring when we come down out of the tree.

We thought we were off the subject, but it comes to mind that the Indians have a pretty rough row to hoe when they travel down to Plains to meet the Cowboys for the first game of the season Friday night. The "Pokes figure to be pretty tough, and it will be a real good indication of their worth to see how the rejuvenated Tribe comes out of this one.

People have a tendency to take Plains for granted — best not this year. They are loaded with experience, and loaded for bear or redskins — so watch it. If the Indians do a good job on them, we feel that this outfit can go a long way. We are behind them — how about you?

"The Lord helps those who help themselves," is a saying from the good book. Some folks should take a close look at the spelling of that word LORD. It isn't spelled UNCLE."

Hoo-boy! we are going to know when to keep our mouth shut (and our typewriter quiet) from now on. We made the boo-boo of mentioning the "honor" of having your home decorated with toilet tissue — and how we would rather they would bake us a cake if it should ever happen to us — You guessed it — we got both. Talk about a tree, shrub and flower mess, it's unbelievable.

However, as there is good in all things, so was there in this case: The cake left upon our front porch proved delicious. And then, of course, the fact that members of my family scared the decorators away behind several rolls of their wares (in various hues of blue, green, turquoise and yellow) we now have an ample supply to see us through the winter.

Thank you, Every little square helps.

In total contrast to the good, clean fun described above, we are reluctant to comment upon another in a series of incidents that have occurred over the past couple of years and these involve people of considerably more age, and it should be assumed, more maturity. Unfortunately this is not the case.

To make a long story short, we received another of those anonymous phone calls directing us to a mythical and false news event. Having studied the telephone voices of these "nameless" people, we have a very good idea who it was, however, we are not really interested in exact identification because we know that he is one of a small group of disgruntled citizens who are widely known for their cantankerous and blustery attitude.

It is interesting to note that these people never seem to have a name. If they do they don't respect it enough to say it over the telephone.

We would like to make one thing clear — then we will discount these ridiculous types for all time — We can be taken advantage of in the form of news leads — simply because we have editorial integrity. If it is news in Morton or Cochran county, it belongs in the Tribune. Therefore, we must take chances on news tips. This is strictly in the interests of reporting all of the news. So, we are vulnerable, because we can't sit and analyze each lead, we must check it as it comes in. Enough said. We will refuse all calls from now on who refuse to identify themselves. If you are afraid to identify yourself, then we are afraid to print what you have to say.

We'll bet that you boys were really something in high school — and we'll bet you never got over it — or past it.

"I have seen the welfare system corrupt thousands, making beggars of once proud and industrious people. I have seen otherwise proud citizens shun the responsibility of caring for aged parents and shift the burden to public aid. I've seen precinct captains help people get on the welfare rolls and then threaten to get them off if they don't 'vote right.' The welfare system is not the 'American Way' — it must be drastically revised or abolished altogether."

Man, how about that announcement out of the blue that Texas Tech would broadcast the Tulane and Texas games by closed circuit television? That sure took us off the hook — because we were

Oddly enough, many of them come from affluent homes. While this goes on, nearly 58,000 Cubans, men, women and children have fled Castro's Communism in small boats, hoping to make it to Florida and Some 43,000 died trying. Wonder if we couldn't work out some kind of deal with Castro whereby we could trade him a batch of Cubans who don't like it here for a batch of Cubans who would love it here!"

Watching an aging and beloved Joe Louis on the stage of a recent television show, we were struck with the difference types and many others that are fouling up the scene today. Joe Louis was my hero from my earliest memories. He was then, and is now, one of the finest gentlemen produced in the United States.

There is nothing phony about Joe Louis, he is just himself. I don't profess to know what is in the minds of our younger generation of blacks, but can't they see that Joe's way is the way to go?

Joe has always inspired the voluntary love and respect of white people over a great many years. What a contrast from a Cassius Clay who feels that this country, which made him a millionaire, is beneath his consideration.

Officials see possible end to hog cholera within near future

Hog producers and animal health officials in Texas and the rest of the United States are apparently winning the last battle in a 140-year-old war against one of the most costly and sometimes most fatal of all animal diseases — hog cholera.

For many years, hog producers had learned to live with the disease and to tolerate it as best they could. In recent years the disease has been robbing U.S. producers of about $50 million per year, and it was cutting a million dollar notch in the profits of Texas hog raisers. This meant that it was costing producers about 50 cents per market hog to live with hog cholera.

When the USDA began its eradication program in 1962, the goal of a cholera free U.S. by the end of 1972 might have seemed like an impossible objective to many people. However, as the number of cases continues to drop off, many officials agree that Texas and the rest of the country could well be free of hog cholera by the target date.

A few months ago the picture did not look so promising. In fact at the beginning of the year, a new appraisal of all states revealed that Texas had more hog cholera than any other state, and USDA officials said the state was lagging about two years behind the rest of the nation in its eradication program. In 1970 Texas had 87 cases reported. A case represents one infected herd. The year before that, over 200 cases were confirmed. When the less-than-successful efforts to control the disease became evident, neighboring states began to place embargos on Texas hogs, posing an especially serious problem for the purebred hog breeder.

The USDA and the animal health commission imposed quarantines late in March to combat the disease and stabilize its rising rates. With the cooperation of producers, county agricultural agents, and enforcement officers, the quarantines were highly effective and they achieved some sensational results.

It was pointed out that from July 1, 1970 to May 1, 1971 there were 110 outbreaks in Texas. Since May 1 of this year, only two outbreaks have been reported and from May 14 to August 1 there was one outbreak of hog cholera in the state.

Provisions of the state quarantine have been lifted except for the one stating that when breeder or feeder hogs change hands, they must not be moved from the premises of the purchaser for at least 30 days.

Texas is presently classified in Phase III of the eradication program that is divided into four steps. They are: Phase I, preparation; Phase II, reduction of incidence; Phase III, elimination of outbreaks; and Phase IV, protection against reinfection. The state has been in this category since August, 1965. Texas entered the first phase of the program in October of 1965 and moved into the second phase about two years later.

To obtain a "hog cholera free" status, a state must have no confirmed outbreaks for at least one year and no live virus hog cholera vaccines in use for at least one year. It was explained that a state maintains its "free" status as long as it experiences only primary outbreaks or those which are confined to one farm with no spread to other places after the disease has been located.
