Fired-up Tribe cages 'Cats

A potent Morton rushing attack which had been dormant for a couple of weeks came to life Friday night to carry the Indians to an upset 30-8 win over the Dimmitt Bobcats. An opportunistic defense also made valuable contributions in helping the Tribe break a four game losing streak.

The big play in the game came with about 8 minutes left to play. The Bobcats who had been down at one point 16-0 had come back in the second half to cut the Indian lead in half and were marching in for what looked like the tying touchdown. Facing a fourth down and 6 inches from the Morton 20 yard line the 'Cats gave the ball to their big fullback Nati Anes. He was met by the entire left side of the Tribe's defense and stopped for no gain.

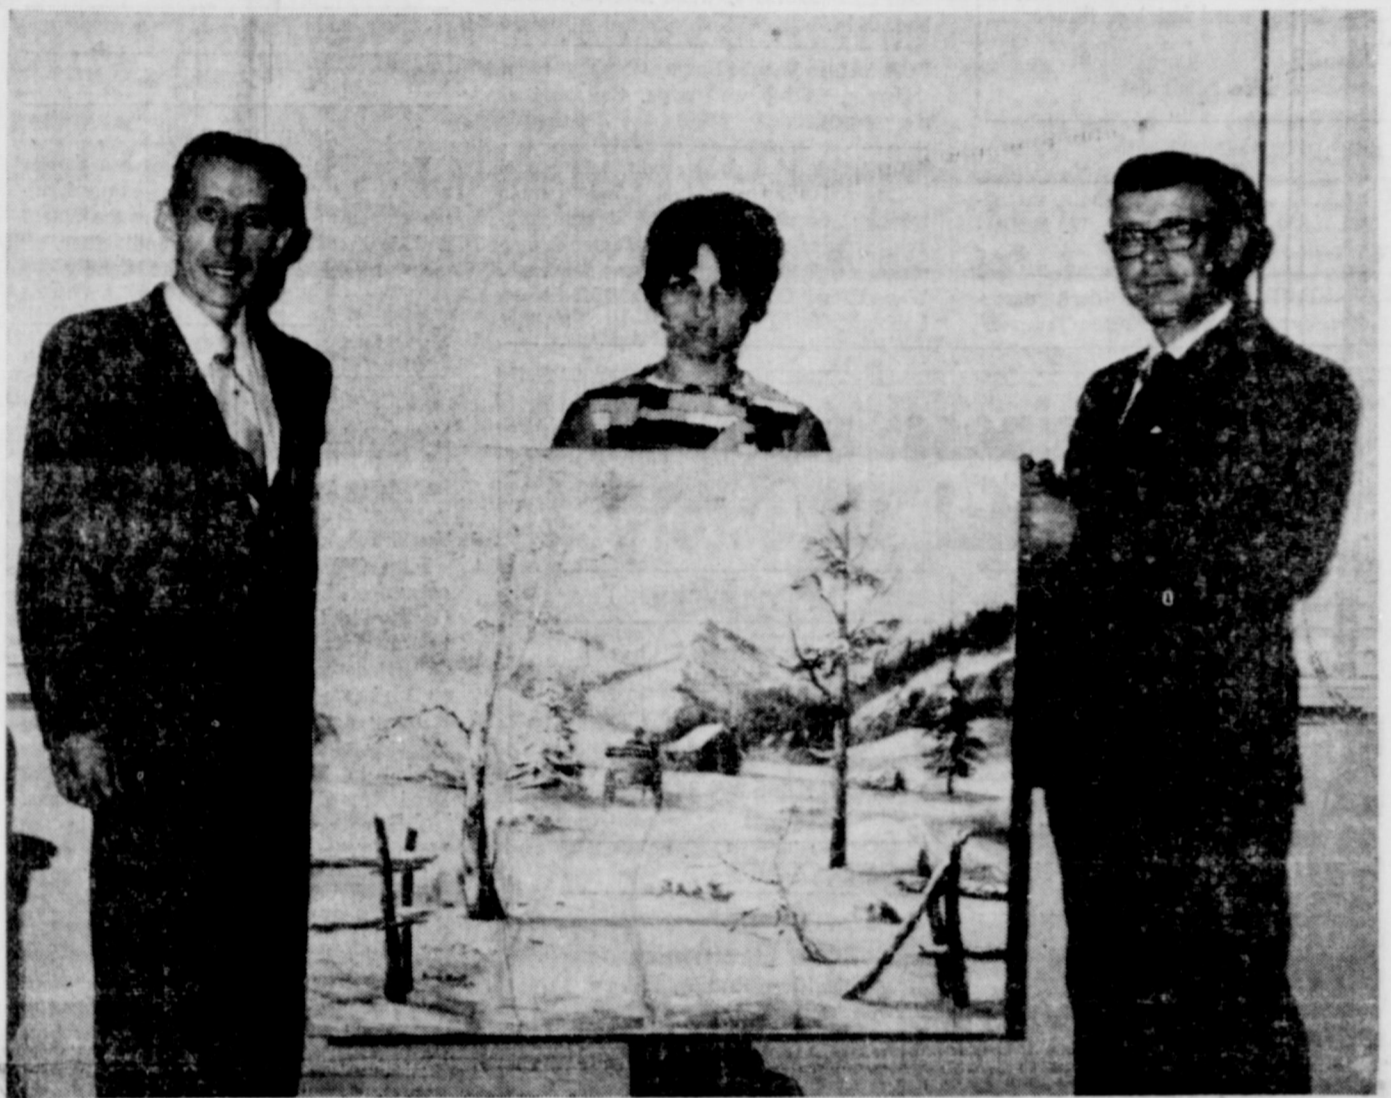

On the next play Kevin Kuehler broke for a 50-yard gain only to see a penalty wipe out 22 of those yards. This put the ball on the Morton 48 and from this point Elton Patton took the ball, broke through the line and outdistanced the Dimmitt secondary to the goal-line.

On the extra point attempt the snap was mishandled and Keith Embry picked up the ball and heaved a pass to Jimmy Harvey to tack on two more points for the Indians. This gave Morton a 24-8 lead which was too much for Dimmitt to overcome.

The Tribe gave the fans an indication of what was to come from the outset of the game. Allen Joyce took the kick-off at the goal-line and returned it to the 41. It only took the Indians 8 plays to cover the 59 yards and get the ball in the Dimmitt end-zone. Kuehler carried the ball on 5 of the 8 plays and went in from the 1-yard line for the score. Bryant Lewis kicked the extra point.

Shortly before halftime the Indian defense stopped another Dimmitt drive on the Morton 20. The handoff went to Patton who followed great blocking to get past the line of scrimmage and into the Bobcat secondary. Patton then stiff-armed one defender and used a tremendous downfield block by Ted Thomas to put six

MEMORIAL PAINTING . . .

A COLORFUL OIL PAINTING, measuring 30x40" and entitled "Dedicated Doctor" was unveiled at Cochran Memorial Hospital last week. The painting, by Rev. Mearl Moore, was commissioned by Dr. N. L. Dubberly and Dr. Eva Lee Snead in memory of Dr. William Dean, a colleague at Cochran Memorial Hospital and much-loved local physician who recently died of apparent cancer. The painting, to be mounted in a rustic frame, will bear a bronze plaque inscribed "In Memory of our Esteemed Colleague," to be signed by the two dedicating doctors. On accepting the painting from Rev. Moore, both doctors agreed that the painting fulfilled their wish to honor Dr. Dean with a memorial symbolic of the hardships and dedication of the early American country doctor, which so well epitomizes his own life of service.

SMOPOLITAN FAMILY . . .

At the present time there are more than 2,500 active members in Water, Inc., and a 2,000-member goal has been set by officials. Officials at the membership drive launching expressed confidence that the goal can be reached.

Indians to try for two straight

Coach Doug Reed and his troops found the winning combination against Dimmitt last week and they will attempt to continue moving down victory lane against the Lockney Longhorns this Friday night. The game will be played at Lockney and will start at 7:30 p.m.

The Indians will have their hands full as they try to corral the 'Horns. Coach Jerry Cannon's squad has the best overall speed in the backfield that the Tribe has faced all year. The line will be the largest to square off against Morton so far. Lockney also is a very experienced team which gained its only district win of 1970 at the Indians' expense.

The man who makes the Longhorns offense tick is senior quarterback Tony Ford. Ford is an excellent field leader, a good runner, and he is capable of throwing the ball 50 yards. Indian fans will remember that Ford passed for about 200 yards in last year's game.

The other three members of the backfield are also seniors and they surround Ford with a combination of power and speed. Cleo McGee and Charles Mathis are the halfbacks. McGee possesses the speed to turn the corner, but he is also the key man on short yardage situations. Mathis is probably the fastest of all the backs and is also an excellent pass receiver.

The offensive line has 5 seniors and is led by 6'4", 225 lb. tackle Mike Dietrich. The guards are small in comparison to the rest of the line but they are very quick and they get outside to lead interference on the sweeps very well.

The defensive front six averages 202 lbs for Lockney, and once again the Indian rushing offense will be severely tested. Dietrich leads the front line and he receives help against the rush from junior linebacker Paul Moore.

Comments on Conservation

BY WAYNE WILCOX

Conservation districts are in a position to make vast contributions to environmental improvement. Clyde W. Graham of Temple, told a state meeting of conservation leaders in McAllen today.

Graham, state conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, outlined ways scientific information from his agency and available through local conservation districts can help cities and others make wise, longrange land use plans.

Speaking to the 31st annual statewide meeting of soil and water conservation district directors, Graham said SCS soil surveys, for example, plainly show which soils in a region will flood. He lamented the fact, however, that such information does not stop developers from building homes in the floodplain.

He also told about housing developments which are being built in some rural-ruban fringe areas with septic tanks on soils that are obviously unfit for septic filter fields.

"I encourage you to get more involved in helping urban planners make wise use of soils information and other technical data available in your local conservation districts," Graham urged. "Think what it would mean to cities in Texas if all future urban developments were based on scientific facts about available land and water resources."

He said all conservation work promoted by the landowner-operated conservation districts have environmental values. He pointed out how conservation measures reduce sediment, the state's biggest pollutant. Sediment fills streams, lakes and harbors; it kills fish and ruins their spawning grounds. He told how some measures are aimed at improving wildlife habitat while others reduce run-off and pollution from livestock feedlots.

"While good progress has been made in the past, we simply must find ways to solve more of our state's erosion, water pollution and air pollution problems. Unfortunately, many of these problems can be traced to erosion and unsound land use."

Directors from most of the state's 190 locally operated soil and water conservation districts attended the three-day session. Theme of the conference was "The Role of Conservation Districts in Environmental Improvement."

Conservation districts are local divisions of state government. They coordinate assistance from the Soil Conservation Service and other local, state and federal agencies in carrying out a program aimed at conserving and developing land, water and wildlife resources.

Light Texas draft to summon only 588 for remainder of '71

A draft call of 588 men for the remainder of 1971 was announced today for the State of Texas by Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, the State Director.

Local couple attends Palestinian orphan benefit in Houston

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Marina of Morton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Isaac of Muleshoe visited Houston Thursday, October 14, to attend a singing party held by "Feiruz" and her group at the Jesse Jones Stadium.

"Feiruz," the most popular singer in Lebanon for the past fifteen years, is touring the United States on a fund raising mission for the orphans of Palestinian refugees.

An estimated 4,000 attended the affair. Danny Thomas, stage and TV actor, wired Feiruz a welcome and a bouquet of red roses, at the Houston stadium.

A group of approximately 115 performers were in her company. Dressed in Lebanese costumes, they sang and danced traditional songs of that country. Mr. and Mrs. Marina visited with many friends of Arab descent while there, some whom they had not seen for over 25 years. Among them were Saber Amawi, the Jordanese Consul at Houston and Doctor Musallam of Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Marina had such a good time they almost decided to go with the company to Atlanta, Georgia for their next engagement, but returned home instead.

They are planning a vacation in Lebanon in May of next year.

Swindlers Sell Fabrics Marked "All Wool"

SALT LAKE CITY—A smoothly operating band of door-to-door salesmen who sell cheap substitute fabrics as "all-wool" are cheating the nation's housewives out of hundreds of thousands of dollars each year, the American Wool Council has warned here.

The swiftly spreading racket which foils local authorities in most communities, has reached as far West as Southern California and as far East as Hartford, Conn., according to the Better Business Bureau in New York.

Business Bureau in New York. In most cases, victims are persons who can ill afford to be swindled. Fast-talking and fast-moving members of the organization hit with greatest frequency in rural America. Here, in smaller towns with few stores, these slickly polished guys can reach the heart of the nation's budget-conscious, home-sewing hard-

Telling a story of personal hard luck, the itinerant salesman offers what are described as luxury wool fabrics at sacrifice prices. Victims of the racket identify the thetic-looking labels identifying the fabrics as "all-wool" play a big part in clinching most sales.

Only after the salesman has sped away in his high powered car do both the salesman's story and fabric prove to be synthetic.

"These operations, which constitute a nationwide swindle of gigantic proportions, are cleverly devised to escape effective prosecution and are geographically planned to victimize widely scattered segments of the population," says W. H. Steiwer, the American Wool Council's president.

"For every one of the hundreds of local incidents reported each year," he adds, "thousands of sales unquestionably go unreported."

How to Be a Sucker in 3 Easy Lessons

LESSON ONE — Things to Avoid

1. Don't read stories like this clipping from the newspaper. To do so may undermine your confidence in hit-and-run salesmen to such an extent that you will never be able to achieve Grade A Suckership.
2. Keep away from your local, taxpaying, community-supporting stores. To shop them carefully may interfere with your free acceptance of the salesman's pitch about offering values that the stores can't beat.

LESSON TWO — Have Faith

1. Swallow whatever line the nice man hands you, because he and his company (which you probably never heard of) guarantees what he says.
2. Don't display your rudeness by asking him to further jeopardize his immortal soul by inquiring where he could be found by tomorrow if you had to try to collect on his guarantee.

LESSON THREE — Forget

1. Forget that you may want the people you do business with to help out with local money-raising projects. And where will the peddler be then?
2. Forget that about one-third of the money you spend with local business establishments finds its way into community upkeep and progress, while the peddler puts this part down in his sock.

Dimmitt . . .

more points on the score board. Lewis' kick was wide and the Tribe went in at mid-point of the game with a 13-0 lead.

The Indians kicked off to begin the second half; the 'Cats fumbled and Patton recovered on the Dimmitt 13-yard line. The Bobcat defense stiffened and the Tribe had to settle for a 35-yard field goal by Lewis.

Dimmitt then took the ball and marched down field 74 yards to score their only TD of the night. Matthews went the last 6 yards and Frierson put the ball in for 2 extra points to make the score 16-8.

This set the stage for the big fourth down play by the Indian defense which took the momentum away from the Bobcats and allowed the Tribe to regain the upper hand.

The final touchdown came on a 5-yard run by Mark Fluitt. The kick was no good and this made the score 30-8 when the gun sounded ending the game.

The Indian offense picked up 400 yards rushing for the night. Patton led the attack with 153 yards and he had plenty of help from Kuehler who ended up with 116 yards. The entire offensive line did an outstanding job in opening gaping holes in a tough Dimmitt defense.

The defense also did an excellent job as they held the Bobcats to their second lowest point total of the year.

Lockney started off the season by winning the first three games. In the first district game the Longhorns ran into the Littlefield Wildcats and were defeated 28-0. The 'Horns then trampled Abernathy 14-0 and last week they found Floydada to be too tough and fell 35-14, so Lockney stands 4-2 for the season and 1-2 in district play.

The Indians have a 2-4 seasonal record and also stand 1-3 in district action. The Tribe by virtue of its win last week has already won more district games than it did last year, and to put another win on the board this week the Indians will have to be as mentally sharp and tough physically as they were against Dimmitt.

residents will have to seek the best protection they can find in their own homes.

Detailed suggestions for improving the protection offered at home will be included in the official publication, "In Time of Emergency," a citizen's handbook on nuclear attack and natural disasters. This handbook is the major item included in the packet to be distributed to all citizens of Cochran County. Judge Thompson was joined by both county and city officials in urging all citizens to be watching for this handbook and to read and save it when it arrives.

The goal of the distribution effort in Cochran County is to provide a copy of the Emergency Action Plan to each family in the county. Anyone who does not receive a copy of the plan through the school distribution may obtain one by contacting the County Judge's Office or the County Agents Office.

Officers of District XVII, TSTA, are Dr. Delwin Webb, Abernathy, President; Mrs. Mary Raphael, Lubbock, President-Elect; Mr. Floyd Galloway, Abernathy, Secretary; and Mr. Max Newman, Levelland, Treasurer.

Environmental Improvement is district conservationist theme

The role of conservation districts in environmental improvement is the theme of the 31st annual statewide meeting of conservation district directors being held in McAllen October 19-21.

Floyd Rowland, Morton, and George Martin, Whiteface, directors on the board of the Cochran Soil and Water Conservation District, are in attendance at the meeting. The annual meeting is sponsored by the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board.

"Our district is involved in a wide range of activities which benefit the environment," Rowland said. "Conservation measures reduce sediment, the state's biggest pollutant. Sediment fills lakes, streams, bays and estuaries; it kills fish and ruins their spawning grounds. Treatment of land subject to wind erosion cuts blowing dust, the state's worst air pollutant. We also try to tailor our work to enhance wildlife habitat, outdoor beauty and recreation."

Speakers during the conference include David Brune, general manager of the Trinity River Authority; State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake; State Senator Murray Watson of Mart; Clyde W. Graham, state conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service; and Albert

Roach of Paris, chairman of the State Soil and Water Conservation Board.

The Texas Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, one of the state's oldest conservation organizations, will also meet and elect officers during the state meeting. Doyle Hutcherson of Weatherford is now president of TASWCD.

Conservation districts are local subdivisions of state government. They utilize and coordinate assistance from the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and other local, state and federal sources. Their goal is to conserve and develop land, water, forests, wildlife and related resources for maximum benefit of all citizens.

The meeting at McAllen was to feature a "Night in Mexico" event staged by the host group, the Southmost Soil and Water Conservation District. Ladies attending the meeting also were to be treated to a luncheon and a tour of homes in Reynosa, Mexico.

Outstanding Indians In Dimmitt Game

EVERYONE!

A highly pleased coach Doug Reed informed the Tribune that it was impossible for him to pick out two individual Indian football players that were outstanding over the others in the Dimmitt game. "They were all outstanding and our victory was a whole team effort, with every man on the squad contributing his part. I am proud of each and every one of them — especially proud of the 150% effort given by them all. When we know we can play like that, then we know the Indians will give a good account of themselves from here on out."

ALL SAYERS

Exactly one year ago, in another column we were publishing at the time, a column on a speech made by a Virginia University president which was widely quoted throughout the States. We have received so much comment upon it from readers of other paper, and from many other that we decided that the message therein was of such merit that it best pass it on to the readers of this column.

Publication again is also a partial present to our Mother in Seattle, who is rapidly approaching her birthday. (For give me, Mom, should happen to still be sensitive to the feminine age bit). She clipped some time last year, but it was lost in the down through the branches and of the family tree.

Column itself was plucked from the "Human" column of the Lubbock Aviator-Journal, but the speech itself, and comments were not.

Main purpose of the president's at a commencement exercise, the so-called generation gap and how to close it.

Eric A. Walker put it this way: "The graduating class will look into the bleachers to your left or right and see people they already know — parents and grandparents. And people they are indeed."

Long ago an educator from North Carolina University by the name of Bergen got together some facts about these generations — your parents and grandparents. I'd like to share some of the facts with you.

These are the people who within just decades have increased life expectancy by approximately 50 per cent — while cutting the working day by half. They have more than doubled per capita income.

These are the people who have given us a healthier world than they found. Because of this you no longer have epidemics of flu, typhus, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles or mumps. And the dreaded polio is no longer a medical factor, while TB is almost unheard of.

"Let me remind you that these remarkable people lived through history's greatest depression. Many of these people know what it is to be poor, what it is to be hungry and cold. And because of this, they determined that it would not happen to you, that you would have food to eat, milk to drink, vitamins to nourish you, a warm home, better schools and greater opportunities to succeed.

"Because they gave you the best, you are the tallest, healthiest, brightest, and probably the best looking generation to inhabit the land.

"Because they were materialistic, you will work fewer hours, learn more, have more leisure time, travel to more distant places, and have more of a chance to follow your life's ambition.

"These are also the people who fought man's grisliest war. They are the people who defeated the tyranny of Hitler, and who when it was all over, had the compassion to spend billions of dollars to help their former enemies rebuild their homelands. And these are the people who had the sense to begin the United Nations.

"It was representatives of these two generations who, through the highest court of the land, fought racial discrimination at every turn to begin a new era in civil rights.

"They built thousands of high schools, trained and hired tens of thousands of better teachers, and at the same time made higher education a real possibility for millions of youngsters — where once it was only the dream of a wealthy few.

And they made a start — although a late one — in healing the scars of the earth and in fighting pollution and the destruction of our natural environment. They set into motion new laws giving conservation new meaning, and setting aside land for you and your children to enjoy for generations to come.

"They also hold the dubious record for paying taxes — although you will probably exceed them in this.

"While they have done all these things, they have had some failures. They have not yet found an alternative for war, nor for racial hatred. Perhaps you, the members of this graduating class, will perfect cus on suggestions to members and officers concerning club procedures. She stated that the "three c's" should be followed: Christian Courtesy, Consideration, and Common Sense in any meeting and that the 3 c's are really "Kindness" to fellow members.

Caprock District officers present program for club

To conclude, Mrs. Johnson held a brief question and answer session concerning items of interest to club members.

Mrs. Polvado ended the program by reading "A Recipe for Happiness."

To conclude, Mrs. Johnson held a brief question and answer session concerning items of interest to club members.

Mrs. Polvado ended the program by reading "A Recipe for Happiness."

Mrs. Bill Foust presided over the business meeting. Three new members, Mrs. George Love, Mrs. Dale Meixner and Mrs. Robert Watkins, were welcomed into the club.

The next meeting will be October 28 in the home of Mrs. Lester Dupler, 408 SE 3rd.

THE FARMER'S WIFE

Copping out

GOT A NEIGHBOR a section or so over that just may have the right idea about everything.

He says that he just quit reading a newspaper or listening to the news on the television or radio and it was amazing how much better he felt.

SAYS IT HAD gotten to where he got plumb sick, worried and depressed everytime he read or heard about "them fellers" so he just gave up the habit.

Well, he does have a point, and when I asked him what if everybody stuck their head in the sand like an ostrich, what did he think would happen, he said he doubted if it would make much difference.

I STARTED to differ with him and he reminded me that "them fellers" were pretty much doing as they pleased right now, in spite of all the people that were keeping up with them.

I started listing off the number of news items that came to mind, such as the Sharpstown mess, about some of "them fellers" that didn't get by scot free after the whistle had been blown on them.

HE CHANGED TACTICS and said he didn't have much confidence in the news media, either, they were all so liberal they were pink.

I said that was a pretty general statement, there were all different kinds, and besides, couldn't he just get the facts and draw his own conclusions.

HE SAID he dang sure could, but it was his own conclusions that gave him headaches and ulcers.

I decided to do a little tactic switching myself and asked what he thought about hippies.

THERE WAS A violent explosion while he ranted and raved about long hair, long beards, unwashed bodies and other irrelevant things.

Finally, we got down to the basic idea that what he held against the real hippies the most was the fact that they were refusing to accept any responsibility or shoulder their part of any load.

I TOLD HIM they themselves called it

"copping out" and he said that was a pretty good term for it.

I asked him what did he think he was doing by refusing to try to keep up with any news.

HE FIRED BACK it wasn't copping out he was doing, it was merely withdrawing from something he couldn't do anything about.

I reminded him he could still vote.

He said well, that was true, but he didn't have any real facts to make a judgement on, all he had was what "them fellers" wanted him to have, which was worse than nothing.

I SAID that was partly true, but he had a mind of his own, couldn't he sort of sift through all the folderal and make a decision.

He said he'd been trying to do that all his life and look at the mess things were in anyhow.

I ASKED WAS there somewhere else he would like to live.

He said blankety blank no.

So I tried to console him with the fact that maybe his votes had been doing a lot more good than he had thought.

BUT HE REFUSED to be comforted and as far as I know, he's still doing his own form of copping out.

Like I said before, he may be right, but I don't think so.

WHEN MY RIGHT to do my own thinking with what facts I can try to sift out of the muck is gone, I'll join him. But not until then.
