

Morton youth wins honor 'Outstanding Democrat'

Wayne McDermott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDermott of Morton, was selected as one of 31 outstanding Democrats of Texas.

McDermott, now residing in Dallas and attending a Mortuary Science School, attended the Youth Advisory Board Convention of the State Democratic Executive Committee in Austin October 16-17. At the convention, four of the 31 outstanding Democrats were chosen to serve on the State Democratic Executive Committee. McDermott was selected as an alternate to the four.

At the Convention, J. Wayne was asked to read an article he recently wrote concerning young voters. He read it there in Austin and it was decided that there would be made and mailed out as press releases. After reading it in Austin, McDermott was asked to read it again Wednesday, October 20, at the State Democratic Executive Committee meeting in Dallas.

At the Dallas meeting he was introduced by the new state Democratic chairman, Roy Orr, and gave the following address:

Most of you probably know, on October 1, 1971, it became law that all 18 and 20 year olds, who have registered to vote, will be eligible to vote in all elections. This includes Federa, State, City, and Precinct Elections. Many of today's youth do not really understand what this means. What it really means is, that the youth of this country either make or break our government. Because of this new law, approximately 10 million persons will be added to the

Reinstatement ordered for teacher dismissed by Bula school board

The Bula school board has been ordered to reinstate a fired teacher on its pay roll temporarily.

In the order to put Sammy D. Sawyer back on the school pay roll was given by District Judge Hilbert O. Woodward Tuesday after the Bula school board and school superintendent were ordered to appear for the hearing in Lubbock.

The twenty-four-year-old teacher and bus driver was fired Oct. 4 because of his style. But although the court ordered the board to pay the teacher's salary temporarily, the court left the decision of whether the teacher could return to the classroom to board members.

James Sinclair, superintendent of Bula schools, said last-Thursday that the school board pay Sawyer's salary temporarily as long as the board didn't allow Sawyer to return to his job as math and chemistry teacher in Bula High School.

Sgt. Sinclair said the "temporary" reinstatement will probably be about 20 days or until Sawyer has time to appeal his case to the Texas Commission of Education in Austin. Sinclair said he expects Dr. Edgar would hear the case within 30 days.

In the court case in Lubbock, Judge Woodward ruled that the board members had due process to Sawyer in terminating his contract for his refusal to cut his hair in compliance with a dress code adopted by the board for faculty and students.

It is evident that Sawyer was not given written notice of the school board meeting at which his contract was terminated, nor any written notice of the commission.

list of qualified voters. Eleven million voters could swing an election in any direction.

Are we, as newly qualified voters, ready for this tremendous responsibility? Can we distinguish between the Democratic Party and the Republican Party? Can we distinguish between one candidate's platform and another candidate's platform? What will taxes do or not do for us? How would redistricting affect me?

Crippled Mustangs invade Indian camp

A game but injury-riddled band of Olton Mustangs travel to Morton this Friday to take on the Indians in what is a must tilt for the Mustangs.

Olton has a 2-1-1 district record and could conceivably take all the marbles should they win the rest of their games and Floydada should falter.

Coach Ray Kinnison's squad has been hard hit by the injury bug this year and has seen his team reduced until now only 14 players are healthy enough to suit up for the game.

Kinnison does have his big gun ready for action though and as long as this young man is on the field the Mustangs have a chance to beat any one they play. Steve Stockdale, a 6-1, 180 lb. senior quarterback, is the one person Olton absolutely must have to make their offense work. Stockdale who has started ever since his sophomore year at the man-under slot is the best passer in the district.

Promotion to class A 'traumatic experience' for Whiteface coaches

Whiteface High School coaches and athletes last week underwent a traumatic experience when the UIL temporarily reclassified the school's athletic teams into Class A instead of Class B, thus placing them into a higher, and consequently, much tougher league.

The Antelopes are now back into Class B and Head Coach Roy Blair is relieved. The UIL tentative 1972 football list showed that Whiteface went up to Class A from Class B and put them in the same district as Ropes, Shallowater and Anton, also up from Class B plus Class A regulars, Seagraves, O'Donnell, and Plains.

The Girls Town girls were the reason for the mix-up. There are fifty-one girls attending Whiteface High School from Girls Town and all of these were counted ACCIDENT SCENE . . .

THE TWO VEHICLES involved in a collision that hospitalized one person and caused another to receive treatment, are shown as they were situated shortly after the crash at Southeast Eighth and Grant Ave. Wednesday morning. The 1970 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Mrs. Jim Middleton, foreground, was struck broadside by the 1970 Ford Torino in the background, causing the truck to roll at least one time and cause injuries to the driver. Mrs. Anita Polando, driver of the automobile, was treated and released at Cochran Memorial Hospital and Mrs. Middleton was admitted for treatment. There were no reported injuries to any of the five children who were passengers in the Polando car.

One hospitalized by traffic crash

Mrs. Dora Middleton, of Morton, was reported to be in good condition in Cochran Memorial Hospital at noon Wednesday and recovering from injuries received in a two car crash earlier in the day. The accident, which occurred at approximately 9:05 a.m. at the intersection of Southeast Eighth Street and East Grant Avenue, involved the 1970 Chevrolet pickup driven by Mrs. Middleton and a 1970 Ford Torino driven by Mrs. Anita Polando, also of Morton.

According to the report of DPS Patrolman John Salter, investigating officer, Mrs. Middleton was proceeding east on Grant and the Polando vehicle was proceeding south on Eighth when the collision took place. The report indicates that the Torino entered the intersection and struck the pickup broadside, causing it to turn over one or more times and come to rest in an upright position in the ditch on the south side of Grant Avenue.

The Polando car did not overturn but received heavy damage to the front and engine compartment and also came to rest near the other vehicle on the south side of Grant Avenue, the report stated.

Salter stated that there were five children in the car with Mrs. Polando, the names and ages of whom were not available at press time but were thought to range in age from less than a year to eight or nine years. A sheriff's car reportedly transported Mrs. Polando and the children to Cochran Memorial Hospital for examination. Mrs. Polando was treated and released and there were no reported injuries among the children.

The Sheriff's office reported that Mrs. Middleton was taken to the hospital in a private automobile by W. L. Foust where she was admitted for treatment. Her husband, Morton Junior High School Principal Jim Middleton, stated to the Tribune that she did not appear to be seriously injured but was suffering from a large number of bruises and abrasions.

There was no estimate of damages to the two vehicles available, but they were known to be extensive in both cases.

Texan finds New Mexico living hazardous to health

BY ELVIS E. FLEMING

I was born and raised near the Texas-New Mexico state line. I thought I knew quite a bit about New Mexico.

But there are some things a Texan does not learn about Texas until he moves to New Mexico.

My impressions of New Mexico were formed from my visits to Clovis, Portales, Hobbs, Carsbad, Roswell, and points to between. Seemed pretty much like the South Plains of Texas to me.

To the rest of New Mexico, the southeastern corner of the state is "Little Texas." People of Santa Fe and Albuquerque view "Little Texas" with ill-concealed contempt. The residents of the southeast have little in common with the rest of New Mexico. A large portion of them are recent arrivals from Texas who bring with them the outlook, the prejudices, and the religion of Texas.

The Baptists, not the Catholics, predominate in "Little Texas." In most of the cities, the "Spanish" are a minority who live "on the other side of the tracks." This is becoming less true as time progresses.

Why do the "natives" of New Mexico have contempt for "Little Texas?" Historically, New Mexicans have always hated Texans. This stems from several historical events.

In 1841, the Republic of Texas sent an expedition to Santa Fe to try to establish Texas authority over New Mexico. Texas had always claimed all of the land east of the Rio Grande. This incident has been depicted by New Mexico historians as a diabolical plot by the greedy Texans to enslave the New Mexicans. It caused a long-lasting suspicion between the Mexicans and the "gringos."

When Texas was admitted to the Union in 1845, its claim to all the land east of the Rio Grande was not contested by the U.S. government. Following the acquisition of New Mexico in the Mexican Cession following the Mexican War, 1846-48, there developed controversy over Texas' claim to New Mexico. Many hard feelings were aroused before the matter was settled in the Compromise of 1850. That agreement provided that Texas would be reduced to its present boundaries. Texas received $10 million in exchange for its lost claims. New Mexico Territory was organized.

Lockney Longhorns hang on for 21-14 victory over Tribe

The Lockney Longhorns converted a second half on-side kick into a touchdown, and then fought off the scrappy Morton Indians to take a 21-14 district game in Lockney Friday night. The contest closed the short-lived series between the two schools as they will be in different districts next year.

The Longhorns recovered the kick on the Morton 48 and eight plays later fullback Pat Bennett scored from 15 yards out. Tony Ford passed to Cleo McGee for two extra-points which gave Lockney an insurmountable 21-7 lead.

The game began as if Morton would take up where they left off in the Dimmitt game. The Indians kicked-off to Lockney and held the Longhorns to only 1 yard in three tries and forced them to punt.

The Tribe took the ball on the Lockney 45. On the first play Kevin Kuehler ripped up the middle and was finally hauled in at the 20. The Indians moved on down until they faced a 3rd down and goal situation from the 4. Elton Patton attempted to sweep left end but was thrown for an 8 yard loss to the 12. Bryant Lewis' field goal attempt was no good.

TREATS GALORE IN STORE . . .

MRS. GERALD RAMSEY extends two items symbolic of the treats in store for young and old alike when the witching hour of Halloween arrives in Morton Sunday night. In one hand she holds candy treats for the youngsters and in the other the old alarm clock which symbolizes the end of Daylight Saving Time which will arrive at 2 a.m. Sunday morning as a big treat to everyone. The trick part of that is to wake up at 2 a.m. to turn the clock back at the designated time. Oh, well, she will probably do like most everyone else and turn it back an hour before she goes to bed so as not to have the extra long night of sleep interrupted.

THE FARMER'S WIFE

There's a reason

By LIBBY MUDGE

DO YOU EVER wonder how the decision is reached and by whom to run some of those idiotic advertisements you see on television and in magazines?

Well, I have too, and recently it was my privilege, or something, to be present at an informal meeting between two men trying to reach such a decision.

ONE MAN was an advertising executive in charge of Chevron and the other was a Chevron executive in charge of advertising.

I asked if their jobs didn't sort of overlap there and I was told they did, really, but each was necessary.

I asked why and was informed that the advertising man was supposed to look out for his advertising firm's interests and the Chevron man was supposed to look out for Chevron's interests.

I WONDERED WHY one man couldn't look out for both firms interest at the same time, thereby eliminating the necessity for one or the other's job, but decided it would be better if that went unasked.

Anyway, they had just returned from an all-day flying trip to Salt Lake City and were very discouraged because they thought they had wasted the whole trip and thereby the whole day.

I ASKED HADN'T they had a good time and they said oh well, yes, they had, they enjoyed the trip and one another's company.

I inquired hadn't they had a good lunch, and they allowed as how they had. The trouble was, the man they had gone to see about appearing on an ad couldn't back up his story with facts.

I asked when had a little thing like this ever stopped advertising people from going ahead with their advertising campaign anyway.

TWO PAIR OF EYES were immediately fixed upon me and two voices asked at once where had I been lately, hadn't I ever heard of Ralph Nader.

I told them I surely had heard of Ralph Nader, who hadn't, and I was all for truth in everything, and I could immediately see that it would certainly foul up the advertising business if it started having to tell the whole truth and nothing but, just all of a sudden.

They said I was a pretty smart girl, a little slow, but smart and continued crying in their beer.

IT SEEMS THAT the man in Salt Lake City had this '64 pickup that coughed and died and refused to run anymore.

Young voter registration conferences slated at TTU

Regional Voter Registration Conferences for young voters will be held at Tech University in Lubbock on Friday, November 6.

Interested young people from the north-quarter of Texas will be brought together to learn what the voter registration drive provides, how to organize a voter registration drive, and the details of the parties' convention systems.

Conference will include seminars on voter registration, with explanation and discussion of the new registration and techniques of organizing voter registration drives; Party Convention System including explanation of how to participate in one's party convention — with emphasis on the precinct level and an emphasis on the state and national level.

Conference will also include speakerships for Blacks, Chicanos, Women, High School, and College Students.

Voter Registration Conference is important in the sense that it includes the support of both Democrats and Republicans. But we do hold very strong beliefs. We believe that the present leadership of the state and of the country can be drastically improved. We believe that the war must be ended; we believe that racism still pervades our society and that government must take active steps to combat it, and it can be made better, and that the present administrations of both the United States and Texas use tax and fiscal policies to make life easier for the rich and harder for the poor.

We believe that there is corruption and dishonesty in state and federal government, and that men in the highest positions of trust in both places many times have their own interests ahead of those of the people they supposedly represent.

What we are going to do is to register as many people as possible in the state of Texas so that they, acting in their own best interests, will vote to change the things that are wrong.

For further information contact Hank Fletcher or Pat Moody at (306) 742-2250, Center, Texas Tech University, Lubbock.

plaint against him," Woodward said.
The federal judge ordered board members to comply with the Texas Education Code and give Sawyer the required written notice on or before Oct. 28.
But, he pointed out, "A hearing by the board on the issue at this time would be unfair to board members and the plaintiff. There's bound to be some bitterness as a result of this suit."
"Therefore the plaintiff is ordered to present his case to the Texas Commissioner of Education within 15 days after presentation of required written notice. We'll see where we stand then after this court reviews notice from the commissioner."
Woodward ordered Sawyer to make that appeal direct to the state commissioner instead of to the county authorities as outlined by law.
Sawyer filed the suit Oct. 8 naming board members Ivan Clawson, president; J. E. Layton; Robert T. Newton; Raymond Austin Jr. and Bennie Claunch; and James Sinclair, school superintendent, as defendants.
Sawyer told the court Wednesday he entered his third contract to teach mathematics and chemistry at Bula High School Aug. 17 but was told by Sinclair Oct. 1 that he must cut his hair or be fired by the school board. He said he then was informed Oct. 4 that he was to meet with board members that night to discuss its failure to comply with the board's dress code.
He said he refused to cut his hair and the board terminated his contract by a majority vote. He has not taught at Bula High School since that meeting.

and Lockney took over on their 20.
The Longhorns used a 51 yard run by Cleo McGee to get to the Tribe 13-yard line, and two plays later McGee broke over left tackle and into the end-zone from five yards away. Dart Carthel added the PAT to make the score 7-0.
Following the kick-off the Indians were not able to muster enough yardage for the first down and were forced to punt.
Lockney took the punt at their 25-yard line and began a 13 play drive which was capped by a two yard burst up the middle by Bennett. Carthel's kick was wide and the 'Horns were in front by 13-0.
Late in the 2nd quarter Lockney had the ball on their 20-yard line when a pass attempt by Ford was picked off by Allen Joyce at the Longhorn 45 and returned to the 37. On the first play Larry Thompson skirted right end to the 16-yard line. Allan Joyce then moved the ball down to the 10-yard line to set the stage for a 10 yard scamper by Thompson over point and the half ended 13-7.
In the last half the Indians made three serious scoring attempts, but they were only able to capitalize on the final drive. The first two threats were stopped on the Lockney 4 and 16-yard lines.
The Tribe's final drive of the night started on their own 31-yard line. Riding the broad shoulders of Kevin Kuehler, who gained two-thirds of the 69 yards in the drive, the Indians marched down the field. Kuehler covered the last 12 yards and when Lewis kicked the point the final shewed Lockney 21 and Morton's 14.
The Indian rushing attack picked up 260 yards and was led by Kuehler who gained 116 yards on 14 carries. Larry Thompson gave able assistance with 70 yards.
Keith Embry was on target with 1 pass out of 4 for 20 yards.
The Longhorns gained 275 yards on the ground and were helped along by 68 yards through the air lanes.
Kuehler and Tony Bramblett were stand-outs for the Tribe defense.
Lockney now stands 5-2 for the year and 2-2 in district play while Morton slipped to a 2-5 record for the season and 1-3 for district.

Mustangs...

He has an extremely strong arm and throws the ball very hard. He is a great proponent of the pump fake to get a defensive man out of position. He is not only a great passer but he also is a fine runner especially when he senses that the goal-line is near.
To complete the all-around aspect, Stockdale is the team's punter and place-kicker. He averages about 40-yards per kick and is an outstanding field goal kicker.
Olton's top running back Marlos May was injured in last week's game so the Mustangs' may be forced to make some changes in their offensive set-up. Last year's outstanding runner Keith Workman who scored 120 points and rushed for over 1300 yards was switched to tight end, but due to the injuries in the back-field one could speculate that Workman could find his way back to being a runner this week.
If not, Workman will be at end and he is probably Stockdale's favorite receiver.
The offensive line is built around 185 lb senior guard Luis Jimenez. He receives valuable help from 195 lb sophomore tackle Jimmy McCurry and 170 lb senior tackle Curt Gregory.
Defensively the Mustangs are led by these same three individuals with Jimenez at middle-linebacker and McCurry and Gregory at ends.

New Mexico...

During the Civil War, the Confederate troops that defeated Union troops in the New Mexico battles of Valverde and Glorieta Pass were really Texans. They were seeking, among other objectives to avenge the Mexican treatment of the Santa Fe prisoners and the loss of New Mexico in the boundary settlements. The Texans won the battles, but were themselves defeated by the inhospitable geography of New Mexico.
When New Mexico was applying for statehood, for the umpteenth time, in 1910-11, their constitutional convention protested to Congress that the north-south Texas-New Mexico boundary was west of the 103rd meridian where it was supposed to be. By erroneous surveys, the north-west corner of the Texas had been placed about two and a quarter miles too far west. The southeastern corner of New Mexico was placed about three and three-quarter miles to far west.
Congress made New Mexico accept the erroneous boundary as a condition for statehood. The fact that some of the stockholders of the XIT Ranch were members of Congress at the time had much to do with the decision. Thus Texas ended up with about 600,000 acres of land which was originally intended for New Mexico. One looks in vain to find an account of this incident in Texas history textbooks, circles in New Mexico. There is a stigma
Many proud Texans find that in certain attached to being a Texan. Sometimes it behooves a Texan in New Mexico to be silent regarding his origins.
You just don't learn some of these things until you move to New Mexico!

McDermett...

Voting in an election whether it be city or nation-wide, is a very serious matter. It must not be taken lightly. It is our responsibility to learn everything we can about each election in which we take part. Due to the lack of concern, millions of today's qualified voters do not vote.
Voting is not only a privilege, but a duty; a duty to one's self, and a duty to one's country. How can we criticize our government if we do not take part in helping to form that government in the last two to three years, there has been much controversy concerning the 18 year old vote. Finally, because of the 26th Amendment, the 18, 19, and 20 year olds can vote.
In Cochran County approximately 30 persons in this age group have registered to vote. If this is any indication of the apathy in the rest of this nation, then, young people, we're in trouble! The privilege of voting has been given to us by such men as George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, and Daniel Webster.

This country was founded upon the principle that everyone has a voice in the government. And no one can deny that ours is a great country. Are we willing to lose all this, just because of our lack of concern? We have all heard the expression: "Today's youth are tomorrow's leaders." Stop and think. Are we ready to take the reigns of this nation?
If we are so apathetic about voting now, how can we expect to become capable leaders tomorrow? To be capable leaders we must first be concerned citizens. And, as concerned citizens, we should learn everything we can about the issues and problems facing our nation today. Only then will we have the knowledge and capacity to accept the role of leadership.
Eighteen, Nineteen, and Twenty year olds are now faced with the tremendous responsibility of helping to choose our leaders. We must not let apathy keep us from taking advantage of our new-found privilege, and duty of voting.
We will be tomorrow's leaders. We must prepare for it today!

McDermett, who graduated from Morton High School, has been an active member in political organizations for several years. He served as a Page for the House of Representatives in Austin for 5 months during his freshman year in high school. He also served on the Morton High School Student Council.

Whiteface...

In this year's realignment figures. When University Interscholastic League counts the enrollment of a school, they assume that the population is a 50-50 proportion of girls to boys. In Whiteface, the extra fifty-one girls threw this balance off.

The solution was to count one-half of the girls for the realignment enrollment.
When asked what he thought of being put in Class A with Seagraves, he said that Whiteface would not be able to compete with these teams in boys sports such as football and track but would be able to hold their own in girls' sports because of the increased girl population.

The district Whiteface is now in is made up of ten teams including Whiteface. Whiteface is going to have to play nine district games and Coach Blair feels that it will be tough for any team to go through the district season undefeated.

Student musical talent evaluations offered at WTSU conference

High school students contemplating a musical future have the opportunity to receive professional evaluations and advice at the 4th Music Career Conference Nov. 13 at West Texas State University.

The conference is free to students enrolled in the 9 to 12 grades and are considering a career in music. Dr. George Umberson, head of the WTSU music department, said today.

Deadline for application is October 29. "The conference is not a contest," Umberson said, "but a means of noting the strengths and weaknesses of a student in an effort to help him prepare for study at the college level in the field of music."

The on-day conference includes administration of advisory examinations to help determine a student's aptitude and background, and individual performances before a faculty member who is a specialist in voice, piano, organ, string, woodwind, brass or percussion instruments.

Each participant will be involved in group counseling in which opportunities in music and the requirements for the various areas of the field will be discussed, Umberson said.

A complimentary luncheon will be served all participants, he said.

Applications and further information about the conference may be directed to the WTSU music department.

Cooperative Care' is theme as coops observe their month

basic way of doing business in the free enterprise system by both rural and urban people is receiving special attention during October.

October is National Cooperative Month, according to Johnny R. Feagan, Extension agent in farm organization, and this is the greatest asset of cooperatives, people who own and use their business to provide leadership, management and services from the outside, are in the spotlight.

"The cooperative," explains Feagan, "is a business owned and operated by the people who use its services. It is established to meet specific needs and to perform functions that are not being met by the individual, community, or nation."

Over 183,000 Texas farmers and ranchers conduct a relatively large business through their participation in a private, business institution. These people, the economist adds, have progressed in acting together in order to satisfy economic needs.

According to preliminary U. S. Department of Agricultural statistics, Texas farmers and ranchers operate about 735 agricultural cooperatives. These include processing, marketing and supply associations that grossed more than $1 billion in sales and netted $771 million in profit. "Cooperatives in Texas are getting larger in size which reflects the trend in other nations and the ever growing need for producers," points out Feagan. "An example of how producer organizations adjust to meet these needs is the dairy industry." Associated Milk Producers, Inc., (AMPI) began in 1964 by merging nine Texas dairy farmer organizations into a single bargaining organization. AMPI has achieved tremendous growth since that time, and is presently operating in 22 states (from Texas to the Canadian border and Colorado to Pennsylvania). It has more than 43,000 dairy farmer members who marketed more than 1.4 billion pounds of milk with a farm value of $857 million during the past year.

In the beginning, the main emphasis of bargaining activities was on raising the level of milk prices to the member milk producers, points out the economist. This was achieved largely through controlling the supply of milk moving into several markets and directing any surplus milk into manufactured dairy products.

"The cooperative bargaining success in the dairy industry indicates that bargaining could also be used for certain major agricultural commodities to raise the level of producer prices," concludes Feagan.

Mrs. Jean Carruth of Amarillo spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Coats.

Mr. and Mrs. Ott Barton are pleasantly engaged in caring for their grandsons, Mark and Tod Allsup, children of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Allsup of Clovis. Lonnie and Barbara are in Spain with a Crusade for Christ, sponsored by Southern Churches, doing lay witnessing.

Jackson-Sinclair pledge vows in double ring rites

Miss Treva Jackson became the bride of Lee Sinclair in a double ring ceremony Friday at 8 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church. The Rev. Rex Mauldin, pastor, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dean Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Y. L. Sinclair.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white peau de soie featuring an empire waistline, rounded neck and tiered sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a bow. She carried a cascade of white miniature carnations.

Mrs. Johnny Stephens, of Waco sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Mrs. J. Mark Thomas of Brownfield was brides matron. They wore formal gowns of orchid miramist with empire waists, high necklines and victorian sleeves and carried nosegays of white and orchid miniature carnations with white and orchid streamers.

Larry Hatter served as best man and Sid Byrum was groomsman. Bobby Dobson and Gene Stroud seated guests.

John Jackson, brother of the bride, and Philip Sinclair, brother of the groom, were candlelighters.

A reception honored the couple, in Fellowship Hall of the Church.

Following a wedding trip to New Mexico, the couple will make their home at SW 3rd Street in Morton.

Mrs. Sinclair is a student at Morton High School and Sinclair is employed with Owen Brothers Custom Feeding.

Floydada-Littlefield shootout looks likely in District 3-AA

Like a pair of Old West gunslingers heading into town from opposite directions, the District 3-AA shootout between Littlefield and Floydada looms larger with every passing week.

But to set up that Nov. 5 confrontation, both must watch out for ambushes this week. Littlefield is especially wary.

The two teams marched through to victories last week, with Floydada continuing unbeaten in district. The Whirlwinds are now 4-0 in district (6-1 for the year) and Littlefield hangs just a step behind at 3-1.

Floydada took care of its closest challenger last week, as it bruised to a 28-13 win over Olton. Olton had come into the contest with a 2-0-1 record and now shares third with Abernathy at 2-1-1.

Abernathy is the team Littlefield must hurdle this week, and the head man at Littlefield knows it.

"They'll be the biggest team we'll play. Big line . . . big running backs. And Bobby Rogers is a big, strong runner. They get the ball to him a lot, and he just wears you down."

"This has to be a bi ball game for us; we can't look ahead, because we know that Abernathy is capable of beating anybody."

Littlefield came up with a top defensive effort in stopping Dimmitt 34-5 Friday night, while Lockney turned back Morton 21-14 and Abernathy stopped Friona 16-8.

Lockney, fighting to the 2-2 level in district, Lockney outgained the Indians 343-275 in total yardage and built a 21-7 lead going into the fourth period.

The Lonhorns' Charlie Mathis led his team with 108 yards rushing and Morton's Kevin Kuefer cried 15 times for 107. Lockney fullback Pat Bennett scored twice.

Rogers, the man Blakely fears so much, scored both Abernathy touchdowns in running his seasonal total to 70 points.

Floydada limited Olton passer Steve Stockdale to only 97 yards (10 of 17) and came from a 13-0 deficit in keeping alive its streak of district victories. The Whirlwinds haven't lost a league game since 1968.

Olton lost three starters with injuries, fullback Marlos May, guard Gale Long with a knee and end Randy McCoy.

Floydada passed the scoring around, as every member of the starting backfield — quarterback Rick Watts, halfbacks Van Mitchell and Walter Harris and fullback Jim Kunkel crossed the goal once.

Ralph Funk gained the biggest chunks of yardage, but Littlefield's backfield ace last week was fullback Dennis Hartley. Funk's credentials were 20 carries for 224 yards and three touchdowns. The scores measured 66, 73 and 24 yards from scrimmage.

"But Hartley had as good a night as any," claimed Blakely. "He returned one punt (85 yards) and intercepted a pass, and caught one pass for a touchdown (50 yards), and he also gained 70 yards on only six carries. He was an exceptional blocker all night and he also plays in the secondary," said Blakely.

"We had a real great defensive effort, though; we really did."

Should Littlefield and Floydada get by their games this week, the big shootout for the championship and a playoff spot will be on the line in Littlefield Nov. 5.
