Schools set staggered starts

School bell time is fast approaching for area students, with some scheduled to begin their school year Monday and others slated for one more week of reprieve. Whiteface and Three Way schools begin classes August 21 and Morton and Bledsoe schools will open their classroom doors on August 28. The former two schools have conducted teachers in-service training over the current week and the latter two will begin their in-service training Monday,

Morton schools are expected to enroll an estimated 25-30 less students than attended last year, according to Morton Independent School District Superintendent Bob Travis. He gave as a reason for the expected reduction the normal loss of population in the school district and added restrictions on transfers from other school

Average daily enrollment during the 1971-72 school year was 1,090 with an average daily attendance of 1,029. The low attendance figure has been attributed to the unusually high incidence of Flu last year, which at one time forced the closing of the schools for one week.

The school term, which was set by law at a recent session of the Legislature, will include 180 teaching days spread over a nine month term. The school year for the students will begin August 28, 1972 and end May 23, 1973. The in-service training periods for Morton teachers are August 21-25, 1972 and May 24-25, 1973.

Unlike the past several years, Labor Day, which falls on September 4, is both a faculty and student holiday in the Morton schools. Other holidays and holiday periods include:

October 27, student holiday and teachers' in-service training in Lubbock.

November 22-26, Thanksgiving holidays. December 22, 1972-January 1, 1973, Christmas holidays. March 8-13, Spring holidays.

Morton Chamber planning major community projects

Groundwork planning for several major projects over the next year took place at two Morton Area Chamber of Commerce meetings held here during the past

Plans were intitiated at Friday's regular monthly meeting of the chamber board of directors for a Fall Merchandise Festival, September 23, a Christmas parade during the first week in December and a Christmas sales promotion involving the giving away of a pickup truck during the holiday season.

During a Monday meeting of the chamber's Country Fair Committee, the recently ended 1972 fair was thoroughly critiqued for do's and don't in future fairs and planning was initiated for the 1973 cele-

Mike Doss, manager, of Doss Thriftway Supermarket and Bill Sayers, Morton Tribune publisher, were appointed by the chamber board as co-chairmen in charge of planning the 1973 Country Fair. They are also co-chairmen for the Fall Merchandise Festival.

James St. Clair, Ben Frankllin Variety Store, is chairman of the Christmas parade committee and Hi Duncan will chair the Christmas "Shop At Home" sales promotion.

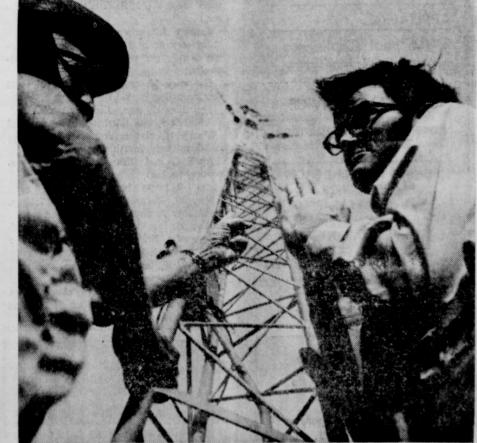

Saturday, September 23, is the tentative date set for the merchandise fair and the tentative location is the county activities building. Exact dates for the other events have not been set.

All persons interested in taking part in these events or who would like to help plan them are urged to contact one of the above named chairmen or call or visit the chamber office. Miss Gail O'Neal, county home demonstration agent, has accepted the chairmanship of the women's division of the 1973 Country Fair and all who are interested in participating in that division are invited to contact her office.

the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, warns horseowners to keep their animals off of sorghum-sudan pastures due to a disease called "sorghum cystitis." Freshly cut sorghum-sudan hay will also bring on the condition, Armstrong points out that all horses may be affected but that the condition appears to be more serious in younger animals. A number of cases have been reported recently by Dr. William Romane who heads up the larrge animal clinic at Texas A&M University's College of Veterinary Medicine.

"The first signs usually are incoordination of the rear legs," Armstrong explains. "In about half the horses observed this was followed by involuntary discharge of urine. Thus, mares may show hair loss on the inner part of the hind legs due to urine scalding. Geldings may have a loss of hair in the belly. In either case, the urine drip may be continous and may become intense if the horse moves suddenly. The condition may also cause mares to Sorghum cystitis occurs most frequently during times of medium to high rainfall, usually from June to November, points out the veterinarian. It occurs mainly when horses feed on fast fresh growth of sorghum-sudan hybrids, sorghum grazer and Johnsongrass. Uncured or impropely cured hay from these grasses also causes the illness. However, horses eating well-cured hay from these three forages have not been affected.

SAFETY COURSE OFFERED—Texans who complete a new defensive driving course after September 1 can become eligible for a 10 per cent reduction in their annual auto insurance policies.

Texas Safety Association has accepted responsibility for coordinating the National Safety Council course.

The course will cost about $10 or less per person, and the resulting credit is good for three years.

Individual savings over the three-year period are estimated at about $45 - or $43 million statewide. Duplications are not allowed for the new course in addition to the driver training course.

In families with two or more cars, the principal drivers of each car will have to take the course to qualify for credit on all vehicles. After the three-year period, the course must be repeated by drivers to continue qualification for the 10 per cent

PARTIES CERTIFIED.-Two new political parties, La Raza Unida and the Social Workers Party, have been certified for places on the November 7 general election ballot in Texas.

Secretary of State Bob Bullock said it was his duty to certify the parties since they filed more than the required number of 22,365 signatures necessary for bal-

The American Party and the New Party, which did not file enough signatures, seek to get on the ballot anyway by federal court action.

La Raza Unida is waging an aggressive campaign for governor, with Ramsey Muniz of San Antonio as its candidate. Both parties also have candidates for U. S. senator, lieutenant governor and most other major statewide offices.

SPECIAL SESSION COOLING?-Governor Preston Smith may be cooling a little on the idea of a September special session on insurance reform, but he insists the idea is still alive. "I'm pretty flexible," said Smith, "If somebody can bring me in some facts that would show me there would be no purpose served in calling a session, I would not even pretend to be in a mood to waste $33,000 a day (estimated session cost) of the taxpayers' money

On the other hand, Smith said, if he could be shown that legislation to reduce insurance rates could be passed, he would not hesitate to summon lawmakers back

Main business of the session, he indicated, would be a proposal for competitive insurance rates, which he said are in effect in 49 states. He seemed to be backing off his proposal to abolish the present insurance regulatory board.

"I don't know that we will attempt to abolish the board," he said. "If we come to the conclusion it would be helpful, we will. If we don't, we won't. We'll know something (about whether to call a special session) in a couple of weeks."

TO BUILD OR NOT TO BUILDThe Highway Department, frustrated repeatedly in its plans to errect a new $20 million state headquarters near the capitol, has asked the attorney general to clarify whether it can legally proceed with construction.

After the department was ready to advertise for bids, the Legislature called for a re-evaluation of the site, which was made. Finding: the site was the best available. After that, the Legislature appropriated $1.5 million to the Parks and Wildlife Department to buy the building site (a barren city block which served as a parking lot) and make a senic park out of it. Governor Smith then vetoed the appropriation. That left the Highway Department confused as to what to do next. It can't desert the site without being paid

National survey shows Cochran citizens lead relatively safe lives

Compared with people in most sections of the country, residents of Cochran County lead relatively safe lives, it appears. According to government figures, they are less likely to be involved in an accident - fatal or otherwise -in any given

The general accident record in the local area is viewed alongside that of other communities across the country. It is based upon data compiled by the U.S. Public Health Service in connection with its annual vital statistics surveys and upon National Safety Council reports.

The findings are of special importance at this time because of the vacation season, when the toll on the highways and at the beaches is usually very high.

The figures show that the number of accidental deaths in the United States in the past year was 114,000, just about as many as the year before, and that some 10,800,000 other people suffered disabling injuries, many of them of a permanent nature.

In Cochran County, the average number of fatal accidents, as listed in the last three annual reports released by the government, was 3 per year, with automobiles responsible for 2 of them.

Taken into account were all kinds of accidents in which local people were involved, wherever they occured. Not included, however, were local accidents affecting non-residents.

In general, for every fatal accident, there are nearly 100 others that do not result in death but call for medical attention and restricted activity.

Related to Cochran County's population, the toll in the area was at the rate of 58 fatalities per 100,000 people.

This compares favorably with the rate reported for the West South Central State. as a whole, 68 per 100,000.

It was better, also, than the State of Texas rate of 61 per 100,000.

The National Safety Council places the cost of accidents at an average of $24 billion a year over the last few years. This takes into account loss of wages, medical expenses, property damage and the Cochran County's share of this cost, on a proportional basis, comes to $633,000, assuming that the average cost per accident applies locally.

Families in Cochran county said to be heavily insured

It has unemployment insurance, health insurance, accident insurance and life in-

And, on the long-range side, it has such other bulwarks as social security and private pension savings.

With respect to its life insurance protection, it is more heavily covered at the present time than it has ever been.

One explanation or this lies in the fact that the economic position of most local families has improved, enabling them to broaden their form of protection and to put more money into their bank accounts and investments.

The result is that the capital amount of life insurance in force in Cochran County

The facts and figures on the distribution of insurance, nationally and by states, are presented in the latest Life Insurance Fact book and in other reports.

They show that the lives of Americans are insured for a tremendous sum of money, more than $1.5 trillion. And this does not include the substantial amount issued to veterans through the Federal

Texas State's share of this total listed at $78,793,000,000, a big increase over the $30,743,000,000 reported ten years ago.

Just how much does this boil down to at the family level? The findings are that the average family in the state carries an amount of insurance that is equal to 25.9 months of its net earnings, after taxes.

Applied to Cochran County and to the average level of income prevailing in its area, ownership of life insurance comes to approximately $27,00 per family locally.

This is considerably more than in many sections of the country and is close to twice the amount held ten years ago. The average in the United States is given as $21,800 per family and, in the State of Texas, $22,200

Although ordinary life insurance continues to be the choice of most families, there has been a rapid rise in group in surance, which is usually job-connected.

R'S NOTE-It is the Tribune's to publish over the weeks prior neral election in November a layerpretation of each of the foursed amendments to the Texas on being submitted to the voters election. week's Morton Tribune, there shed a page of public notices. If ke most people you glanced at the idn't know what it was and went page contained fourteen proposed nts to the Texas Constitution we will vote on in the November 7th

ribune, as are all official county newspapers in Texas, is required by law to publish the proposed amendments four times prior to the election. Supposedly this informs the citizens as to what they will be voting for or against. But, again, if you're like most of us, you don't understand all that legal wording and the "wherefores" and "whereases".

Several of the proposed amendments are very important to all of us. A few will not effect us in West Texas.

It is vitally important that each and every voter in Texas become well informed on the proposed amendments and what

With the help of one of our state representatives, I have obtained information on each of the proposed amendments, in layman's language. In the coming weeks in this column, I hope to take the proposed amendments and try to explain each one and give the pros and cons.

It is my hope that each of you will study the proposed amendments and decide for yourself whether Texas needs each one. Let's not go to the polls on November 7th and just mark "for" or "against" on the proposed amendments without knowing what each one means and what effects it can have on us!

One of the proposed admendments we will vote on is the one increasing the annual salary of members of the Texas Legislature from $4,800 to $8,400 annually.

Opponents of the amendment feel that a substantial pay increase for members of the legislature would further increase the costs of state government at a time when state finances are already overburdened in meeting the expanding needs of a growing population,

Another argument against the amendment is that under the constitution the Legislature is required to meet in regular session not to exceed 140 days every two years. Thus the job of a Legislator is not a full-time job and the official holding a seat in the House of Representatives or the Senate should not receive a full-time

Opponents also feel that because of high campaign costs, a potential Legislative candidate without substantial financial resources would still be discouraged from running for office even if the proposed salary increase to $8,400 should be adopt-

Backers of the amendment feel that the Legislator can no longer be considered a part-time official. Increasing complexity in the problems of State Government and greater expenditure of time as a member of various committees meeting between sessions leaves the Legislator little time to devote to his private business or profession. The $4,800 annual salary now provided in the constitution is scarcely adequate to meet present-day costs of living.

Also, many qualified persons do not become candidates for Legislative seats because they are unable to or unwilling to make the financial sacrifice involved in service at the present constitutional salary. Raising the salary of members of the House of Representatives and the Senate to make a more realistic level would provide a greater incentive for pub-

Backers of the Amendment also feel that under the present salary provided, a Legislator is forced to engage in outside employment, a business, or a profession in order to have sufficient income to support himself and his family. Such employment could create a conflict of interest ewhich would impare his independence of action as a lawmaker.

There are arguments for and against this proposed amendment to the Texas Constitution. We, as voters, must decide for ourselves whether the Legislators need and should have a pay increase.

Would it give more people a chance to

Would it possibly stop some of the under-the-table actions of the past?

Do our Legislators spend enough time on State business to merit a full-time sal-

These are questions each of us must answer before November 7th, when we vote either to give our legislators a salary increase or to leave it at the present $4,800

Research center field day features 'shuttle service'

Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock will host its 63rd Annual Field Day and Open House September 12 beginning at 1 p.m.

Detailed discussions will be presented at eight different locations in the field according to Dr. Jack Gipson, research scientist and Mr. Oliver Newton, agricultural meteorologist, co-chairmen of the field day.

Topics to be featured at the field stops include: drip irrigation, oilseed crops, cotton diseases, cotton varieties, narrowrow cotton, soil fertility, vegetable crops and sorghum breeding and insect control.

A shuttle service will depart from headquarters every 15 minutes, and visitors may disembark at the discussion site of their choice and then catch a subsequent shuttle when they are ready to move on. This is a new innovation and was added at the request of farmers who participated in the planning sessions of this year's event, according to Gipson and

Other topics to be featured which are of vital interest to the agricultural industry on the High Plains are weed control and weather, Special "classes" will be conducted at the headquarters area on these subjects. Displays and exhibits will also be featured for public viewing. These will include plant diseases, soil testing, plant physiology, and a large machinery ex-

Everyone with an interest in agriculture in West Texas is encouraged to attend the field day and open house. According to the field chairmen, it promises to be an afternoon well spent,

GSPA proposes new basis for future farm programs

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association is proposing a new plan for future farm programs.

Elbert Harp, GSPA Executive Director, said, "We are introducing this new plan as a means of obtaining a parity of income for our grain sorghum farmers. We feel it is applicable to all commodities and will easily be understood by farmers, Congress, and the American people."

Under the GSPA proposal, the Secretary of Agriculture will ask the land grant college of each state, in the cooperation with the commodity and farm organizations, to conduct an intensive study of the cost of production of each price supported commodity produced within the state. BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN Attorney General of Texas

Good money management considers the past, present, and future. Look at the past to see where your money goes as well as where it comes from. Keep an extra close check on spending for a month or more to determine your spending patterns.

Then figure how much money is coming in. Your spendable income basically is your pay check. If you have cash income from other sources, such as dividends, interest, or rent, be sure to include it.

Look at the present to check family needs and wants for which you can spend current income. First, list the things you need-your fixed expenses. This includes food, shelter (house payments, repairs, furniture, appliances, utilities), clothing (new, repairs) taxes transportation (bus fare, auto payments and repairs, gas, oil), insurance, health (doctor and dentist, drugs, eye glasses), and savings (including emergencies).

Second, list the things you want-flexible expenses. These include education (books, tuition, newspapers, magazines), recreation (sports, movies, records, pets, vacations), gifts, personal grooming, contributions and dues, etc.

Third, add up these items to see if they fit the family's total expected income. If you're like most people starting a budget, you've probably overspent. You'll have to alter your plan. Remember your important needs-food, a place to live, and

Letter To Our Friends & Customers:

I spent last Friday and Saturday at John Deere Tent City in Waterloo, Iowa, the testing and proving ground for the new "Generation II" tractors and equipment. I sincerely wish every farm equipment user in this area could have spent these two most informative days with me.

Before arriving in Waterloo all I knew about the "Generation II" series of tractors was that there would be many and drastic changes from our current line of tractors John Deere has built since 1960. The "New Generation" of tractors has served the farmers of the world well for the last decade. This is proved by the fact they have made John Deere the number one farm equipment manufacturer in the world.

Looking back on this proven product, it is any wonder I went to Waterloo with "tongue in cheek" at what I would see. Frankly, I was a little concerned that we might find some radical and far out changes that would not be beneficial or practical for this area.

If you too have some misgivings along this line, relax and come to our showing August 19 and let us show you a tractor that is truly a great improvement over our existing tractors. These are changes, some of them quite drastic, but they are also proven.

We also had the opportunity to operate these new "Generation II" tractors in the field with the very latest tractors of five competitive manufacturers. If you could have the same opportunity I feel you would be as elated as I am with our new generation of John Deere tractors.

So come see us and our new "Generation II" line of tractors Saturday, August 19. There is much more that we want to show and tell you.

> Sincerely yours, Ray Griffith
