Hundreds of people attended the open house and barbeque at the home.

Muleshoe sets Clayton 'appreciation dinner'

The people of Muleshoe are calling all people of this Legislative District to "Speak-up" for Bill Clayton, candidate for Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives.

A Committee has been formed and plans are underway for a $10.00 a plate fund-raising Appreciation Dinner for Bill Clayton on Thursday, August 2, at the Mary DeShazo school gymnasium in Muleshoe, beginning at 8:00 p.m. Bill Clayton has served the people of his area in Austin since 1962, having been re-elected five times. A true West Texas, Bill Clayton came to the Springlake-Earth community in Lamb County when he was three years old. He graduated from the Texas House of Representatives.

Frontier bombed from tourney

Slaton used a 10-run sixth inning explosion to propel the Comets to a 15-5 trouncing of Frontier of Morton in the Babe Ruth 13-Year-Old Tournament game in Lubbock Sunday at Babe Ruth Park. Slaton was undefeated in the week-long double elimination tourney until being upended 5-3 by once-beaten Morton Saturday and forcing the Sunday playoff game.

Barry Copeland started on the mound for Slaton, but gave way to winning pitcher Lonnie Ardrey in the fourth frame. Morton pushed across four runs in that inning to take a 5-3 lead.

Tino Sabala, the starting hurler for Morton, was chased in the Slaton sixth and was replaced on the hill by Ricky Hodge. The damage was done by then and Sabala absorbed the loss. Sabala was named the most valuable player for the tournament.

The Comets used three hits, four walks, an error, a hit batsman and two misfired fielder's choices by Morton to shove 10 runs across the plate in the top of the sixth and balloon to an almost insurmountable 15-5 lead.

Until the walls crashed in on Morton in that inning, the game was a close clash with the lead changing hands often. Slaton went out in front 1-0 in the first only to see Morton knot it in the third frame.

Crone, Gillispie win in dress review

Approximately thirty 4H members participated in the 1973 Cochran County 4H Dress Revue Tuesday at the County Activity Building.

Winners and the division they represented are: Wynn Crone, Senior and Alternate, Joan Whitehead. The Junior winner was Susan Gillespie and her alternate is second place winner Sharon Crone. Third place in the junior division was won by Jay Lynn Ware.

The winners in each of the two divisions will compete in the district dress revue to be held in Lubbock July 26. Placing in the beginners division were Vonda Taylor, first; Angie Perez, second and Kayla Gardner, third.

Judging was held at 2 p.m. with Mrs. See REVIEW Page 3

Highlights and sidelights from the State Capital

By — Bill Boykin
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, TEX.—The State Insurance Board, as predicted, last week said it will order auto insurance reductions averaging 4.3 per cent for private cars and totaling at least $25 million.

Even further savings may be allowed under new competitive rating effective September 1, which allows companies to deviate above and below standard rates set by the Board.

However, insurance industry spokesmen warned, other new laws going into effect may drive rates up substantially next year.

Rates cited by the Board do not include, for example, effect of new optional additional coverage for medical expenses and wage losses (up to $2500 for driver and passenger). Actually, the coverage is added automatically unless the car owner rejects it in writing.

Industry officials estimated the $2500 additional "personal injury protection" will cost from $8 to $23 a year, which would exceed the cost of savings on other coverage in the same territories.

Changes in the "guest statute" — which will allow passengers other than members of the driver's family to sue in event of accidental injury — will add at least another five per cent to premiums, according to a top industry source.

The new comparative negligence statute will increase property damage liability costs at least 10 per cent, estimates the Texas Automobile Insurance Office, which represents companies writing 98 per cent of Texas auto coverage.

The guest statute and comparative negligence law changes will not be reflected in premiums ordered into effect August 27, since there is no experience to base calculations on.

Rates vary substantially among 40 rating territories. An average statewide cut of 1.2 per cent was ordered last year.

GAS RATE HIKE SOUGHT—Lone Star Gas Company is applying for an increase in rates it can charge Texas cities to 51.86 cents per 1,000 cubic feet from the present level of 41.40 cents.

However cities served by the Company are seeking State Railroad Commission review of the Lone Star system's market value.

A rate increase by the Company got Commission approval three years ago following a value survey of its system.

Meanwhile, the Commission has postponed until July 23 a hearing on Coastal State Gas Corporation's Lo-Vaca distribution on subsidiary for a rate hike.

COURTS SPEAK—Texas Supreme Court will review a case involving refusal by the mayor of Flower Mound New Town to call an election to disannex about a mile of territory.

In other recent decisions, the High Court:

—Agreed to review a dispute over whether a Van Zandt County farmer "voluntarily exposed" himself to a bite by a wild boar. The farmer sued a neighbor for $154,179 when the boar bit him.

—Reversed a $57,500 award against a Dallas woman accused of making harmful remarks about a competitor in the field of removing body hair by electrolysis.

—Sent back a 1966 medical malpractice suit to an intermediate court in Houston.

—Set for review a controversy over value of land taken near the new Dallas-Fort Worth regional airport.

AG OPINIONS—Plucking of pigeons' tail feathers to make their flight erratic and then tossing them up to be shot in marksmanship contests might support convictions for torturing, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

The United States launched the most powerful rocket ever fired, the Titan 3C, on June 18, 1965.

Spring, George Jambers of Whittier and Ray M. Keck Jr. of Laredo to the New River Authority.

District Judge James R. Meyers of Austin was appointed by the Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge John F. Omon Jr. to the new State Election Commission.

NEW GUARD PROGRAM OFFERED
A new enlistment option in the Texas National Guard has been offered to prior service personnel for a 90-day period.

Under the plan, non-veterans can enlist in the guard for six years with the option of serving three in an active drill status and the final three in the Individual Ready Reserve (IRR) Control Group. No more drills would be required in the last three years, although summer training must be ordered. Texas is one of 16 states offering the option.

TAX EXPERTS TO BE CALLED
The search for a solution to state revenue problems, the Legislative Property Tax Committee may be assisted by expert witnesses to discuss taxing of intangible property like accounts, stocks and bonds.

A House education committee panel is exploring the intangible tax law in determining wealth of school districts but has encountered little enthusiasm in taxing all such wealth.

POLLUTION PLAN AHEAD—Texas Air Control Board held a series of conferences in five metropolitan areas to air information on the federal government's plan to impose transportation controls.

The Board was told by its executive secretary proposed anti-pollution controls are unreasonable and would cost Texans $300 million for auto emissions controls that affect only one per cent of the pollution problem. The Board holds on a staff motion to test in court its power to control auto pollution in the state.

Meanwhile, the federal Environmental Protection Agency scheduled July 17-18 public hearings in Texas to get reactions. Controls would go into effect August 12 involving gas supply, parking, car pool, anti-pollution devices and special lanes for buses.

The addition of a giant public barbecue should enhance this year's rodeo and fair and hopefully will entice a larger number of people to attend than have in the past. The chamber of commerce is sponsoring the barbecue and will be responsible for all arrangements and preparation of the food.

It is planned for 6 p.m., August 2, immediately after the rodeo parade and will be located in the city park near the city hall if the weather is good. If the weather is bad, it will be moved to the county show barns.

Each person from outside the county who rides or participates in the parade will receive two free tickets to the barbecue and will have free admission to the premier performance of the rodeo. All local persons and non-participants in the parade will be charged $1.50 for the barbecue. BY BILL SAYERS

Well, we're back—and we won't say we are too happy about the whole thing. Eight days in the high Rockies of Colorado is just the right amount of therapy for the jaded soul who feels a desperate need to get away from it all. Would you believe sleeping under the stars at the 10,000 foot level in a sleeping bag with the temperature at the 29 degree mark in July? Boy, that's living!

We'll let you off the hook on a long was heard to remark).

A complete schedule of times and dates for the fair and rodeo will be published, if available, in the Tribune next week.

Rodeo queen contest tickets may be obtained by any rodeo association member and from the individual contestants. Tickets for the barbecue may be purchased from any chamber board member, rodeo association members and from the chamber office.

Any additional information needed may be obtained by contacting the Chamber office at 266-5200 or by contacting Bill Sayers at the Morton Tribune 266-5576 or at home 266-8870.

dissertation on our vacation trip (considering that you are a captive and paid audience) but reserve the right to publish a picture now and again of the incredible beauty available to those traveling the Rocky Mountain and/or Colorado route this year. It's like re-discovering the West.

Before we leave it entirely, though, we must comment on the fantastic number of "hippie" types that infest the entire vacation scene. They are everywhere. The signs on restaurants, rest room doors, etc. stating "no admittance without shirt and shoes" were reminiscent of the signs I noticed in 1942 on citizens lawns in Fayetteville, North Carolina, near Fort Bragg, that proclaimed loud and clear, "Soldiers and dogs keep off."

We will not dwell on this—except to say that these modern bums do not have to be there, nor do they have to foul up the landscape the way they do. On the other hand, those soldiers—to a man—didn't want to be where they were, but were directly instrumental in assuring that those laws would be safe and permanent. There are a great many veterans throughout the United States whose scars include that little souvenir of the hospitable wheels.

As you all may have guessed, the Last Frontier Rodeo and Country Fair will be busing out all over come August 2, 3, and 4. This should be the biggest celebration in Morton in its history. All it needs is full participation by all members of the community. The planning has been made, the events are set, each category or project has its leader—now all we need is for every citizen to say to himself, "what can I do", then go out and do it. Shoot, you don't have to be an expert in anything—just contact the Chamber of Commerce at 266-5200, and they will give you a job commensurate with your abilities.

The big barbecue, sponsored by the Morton Chamber of Commerce, is a really fine addition this year. All members of outside riding clubs, or other organizations, will receive two free tickets to the barbecue and free tickets for the initial performance of the rodeo. Indications are that many more riding organizations will participate this year than in the past. Expansion of the rodeo parade to include several new and unusual groups should make it one of the most interesting and colorful in recent history.

So, let's all get into the "country and frontier" spirit of the thing and join together to make this a big success. If you don't have a beard—get one, you'll like NOT doing business with the sheriff!

Perhaps we should explain that last remark somewhat: A jail is being planned for the courthouse square where those not wearing a beard or other "western wear" will be detained until they bail their way out by purchasing a "tenderfoot pass" for a nominal sum, which will go to help pay fair expenses. These passes will be on sale prior to the opening of the fair so that everyone will have the opportunity to buy his freedom in advance if the Mr. or Ms. cannot grow a beard or otherwise outfit themselves in true western style.

QUESTION: Why do they keep calling their puny efforts at farm legislation the "Administration's Farm Bill" when the whole thing has been cooked up by a bunch of do-nothing Senators and Congressmen who are 100 percent against the administration—and if they pass the mess they have concocted, it faces an almost certain veto?

ANSWER: It isn't the administration's farm bill. It is however, one more example of the impotence of a Congress that has sat on its hands for four years while debating endlessly resolutions against the war in Vietnam (while passing none) and who seem intent on sitting on Watergate for four more years while the country goes begging for any semblance of a government in action.

Summer tax-saving tips given farmers reasonable and for work actually done, cautions the economist. "A farmer can also deduct business-related expenses from business-vacation trips as long as business is the primary purpose of the trip," continues Hayenga. Only the expenses of the farmer, not the entire family, are deductible. The round trip mileage between the farmer's home and the business site as well as the farmer's food and lodging costs during the business portion of the trip are deductible. "Be sure to keep good records of such a trip," advises the specialist. "You must provide proof if questions arise. Receipts are required for all expenses over $25 and on all lodging. Also, only the single occupancy room rate is deductible. Keep all receipts with your permanent tax records."

Consumer Alert

The phrase, "Sign your name on the dotted line," can sound quite inviting after you've waited for credit approval on a loan or time purchase.

That may be the flattering sign that you're a "good credit risk". But it is not wise to rush into any contract.

If you read any installment contract carefully, you should find a statement in bold type, cautioning: "Notice to Buyer—Do not sign this agreement before you read it, or if it contains blank spaces." The statement also puts you on notice that you are entitled to a copy of the agreement.

In order to meet state and federal requirements on credit agreements, the contract must tell you the difference between cash price and credit price, less down payment and/or trade-in, list any additional charges, such as credit insurance premiums, and spell out the total number of payments to be made by you, as well as the amount of each monthly or weekly payment due.

If you already have insurance which would cover your note amount or the secured property if anything happened to you, or, if you have an insurance agent with whom you would prefer to deal, let the creditor know. He cannot require you to buy the policy he may offer.

Be certain the agreement contains the name, as well as the address, of the lender or creditor; to correct date on which you made the note, and the date for final payment. And, if the creditor is taking a lien or other security on your property, make sure that that detail is included in the contract.

If you are negotiating a home improvement, ask to see the "certificate of satisfaction" which the seller must furnish you. But heed the warning that you should not sign the certificate of satisfaction until the work has been completed, and until you know that you are satisfied with it. That may seem like a lot of detail. But it is not complicated.

Just remember to read carefully every section leading to a space for your signature. And be certain you understand it to your own satisfaction.

Most merchants or lending institution officials will be more than happy to answer any questions. In fact, some are exceedingly scrupulous about not allowing you to sign until they believe there is no room for misunderstanding.

Take advantage of the occasion to review the obligation you're accepting. Now that it is all there in black and white, do you honestly believe that the amount and the frequency of payments will not work too much of a hardship on the family budget?

Sometimes, my Consumer Protection Division investigators have looked into complaints of overcharge, only to discover that the interest and payment plans were legal, but hasty consumers had not noticed what a strain the obligation would be until they started paying it out.

If you do have any complaints or questions concerning credit contract rights, do not hesitate to contact a local consumer protection enforcement agency, or the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division in Austin, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, El Paso or Lubbock.

Food, cars ranked high in 1972 local spending

Residents of Cochran County were in the marketplace in greater force in the past year, according to a report on local retail store activity, just released.

With most local families enjoying bigger incomes than in the previous year, they were in a position to spend more and they did so.

They were far less cautious in that respect than they had been in 1971, when they kept their spending under tight control and put a record amount of money into savings.

The facts and figures, with a breakdown of their outlays for automobiles, food, clothing, furniture and other goods and services, are from a new consumer markets survey conducted by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It gives comparable data for every section of the country.

In Cochran County, it is shown, stores selling food and automotive equipment captured a large part of the consumer dollar. Between the two of them, they attracted 44 percent of all local retail business.

Their combined share, elsewhere in the United States was 41 percent and, in the State of Texas, 43 percent.

The amount spent for food alone, in local supermarkets, bakeries, butcher shops, delicatessens and the like, totaled $1,737,000, compared with the prior year's $1,656,000.

These expenditures refer only to food that was bought for home consumption. They do not include the amount that was spent in restaurants, lunch rooms and other dining and drinking places.

The report shows that automobile dealers and those selling motorcycles, boats, trailers and related equipment also had a good year, accounting for a total of $2,341,000 as against the previous year's $2,071,000.

Drug store sales amounted to $284,000 in the year. Their former total was $270,000.

Those specializing in clothing, shoes, hats and other articles of apparel grossed $248,000. The year before it was $236,000.

Sales of furniture and other home furnishings came to $259,000 as against the previous total of $228,000.

Much of the increase in gross sales is attributed to the higher cost of goods and services.

The judge ruled that all costs of the suit were to be paid by plaintiffs and stated the plaintiffs were aware of the risk involved in the use of the chemical weed control spray and "assumed that risk voluntarily with full knowledge of the possible consequences."

VA files not effected by records fire

Any damage to service records in the July 12 fire at the Military Records Center in St. Louis, will have no impact on the 13-million Veterans and dependents currently receiving Veterans Administration benefits.

This assurance was given today by Donald E. Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

VA records for those now receiving benefits are maintained mostly at the agency's 57 regional offices throughout the nation, and also at VA's 169 hospitals and two insurance centers.

VA does operate its own record processing center in the St. Louis area, but this is located about 10 miles from the fire-damaged military records unit. This VA center serves as a repository for records of older veterans and beneficiaries no longer receiving VA payments or benefits.

The VA, Johnson said, also maintains other backup files containing essential, though not complete, military service information, which would prove helpful in processing any new applications for benefits from veterans whose military records might have been destroyed in the fire.

FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

From the Christians who assemble at Taylor and S. 2nd Sts.—Greetings:

There is a sign in front of the meeting house of these people.

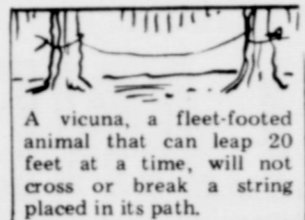

It reads, CHURCH OF CHRIST. In our day of man religious demonstrations it is common among people to think that one of the "Christian Denominations" is represented by that sign. It is necessary, therefore, to make it very clear that the sign is NOT a NAME of either the building or the people who meet there, and is therefore, NOT representing a "denomination" of what is called Protestant Denominationalism, and is no part of that.

Most all scholars of the language used originally by the writers of the New Testament definitely affirm that the word in the original writings where our English word "church" is found referred to a "called-out people," or an "assembly of called-out people". I know of no Protestant Denominational scholar who would question that, Christ "calls" through the gospel—2 Thessalonians 2:13, 14. The term "Church of Christ" is, therefore, simply a descriptive term, and the sign on their property refers solely to those "called-out of Christ" who meet together at that place. Those of that number who are sincerely dedicated to the Lord Jesus Christ and Jesus Christ comes FIRST in their lives—are truly the disciples of Christ.

The true disciples of Christ DO wear a NAME. That name means "belonging to Christ" It is the name CHRISTIAN—read Acts 11:26 Remember—the word church refers to the "called-out". These remarks are published solely in the interest of TRUTH concerning the people who assemble at appointed times at the place designated by the sign.

Each Sunday at 10:00 Bible Study Classes for all—at 10:45 the General Assembly—at 6:00 P.M. and on Wed. at 8:00 P.M. are times when all are welcome and cordially invited to be present.

Congressman Bob Poage of Waco, Texas, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and quarterback for the team of farm leaders trying to pass farm legislation in the House, called time out Thursday, July 12 to revamp a game plan already gone awry.

The House on Tuesday began debate on floor amendments to a committee-sponsored omnibus farm bill covering the three major High Plains crops, cotton, feed grains and wheat, plus wool and dairy products and the food stamp program.

The Committee bill calls for a target price on cotton at 38 cents per pound with government payments to producers equal to the difference between the target and the average market price for cotton. The target for other crops was based on $1.38 per bushel for corn (about $2.35 per cwt for grain sorghum) and $2.05 per bushel for wheat. There is also a so-called "escalator clause", which eventually became the primary cause of Poage's withdrawal strategy, calling for these targets to be adjusted after 1974 to reflect changes in the cost of production and or production efficiency.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., who was in Washington for the House debate, says the "escalator clause" is a misnomer. He points out that target prices for the three crops under the clause could be lowered as well as raised, depending on the direction taken by the general economy and production technology during the life of the bill. "But this fact seems to have been completely ignored by the Administration," he said.

As soon as the bill was brought to the floor it was bombarded by amendments and was in trouble almost immediately. House members first stacked on a $20,000 per person limit on program benefits and outlawed sale or lease of cotton allotments. Then a provision for continued use of federal funds to supplement producer investments in cotton incorporated's research and promotion program was killed.

Johnson, noting that these actions hit hardest at cotton producers, said "Right from the start it began to look like 'kill cotton week' in Washington."

The clincher came when an amendment to knock out the "escalator" clause was defeated. With that clause intact Republican Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan bluntly advised that President Nixon would "undoubtedly" veto the entire measure. The accuracy of Ford's statement was further confirmed by other Administration officials, and Poage was convinced that any play called to further advance the farm program bill would be rubbed out by officials.

So, stating that he was interested only in passing a bill that would become law, not in just "doing something for the record," Poage called time.

Immediate strategy, while subject to change, was that over the week-end prominent members of the Agriculture Committee would confer with Administration officials in search of a means to break the escalator clause stalemate. Poage then hopes to bring the bill back to the floor July 16 or 17.

Actions already taken on the bill, including the House membership's endorsement of the escalator clause, unless superseded by new actions, will stand as recorded. And at the end of the week observers in Washington were doubtful that the House could be induced to reverse its vote on any major point.

The only other possible solution mentioned as the week ended was an amendment to reduce the term of the bill from four years to two years. Cost increases under the escalator, or adjustment, clause, according to Administration projections, would occur mainly during the final two years of the bill. Thus it is reasoned that if the law were scheduled to expire after two years the President might be more inclined to sign it.

It is noteworthy that the Administration amassed all its forces behind the first effort to defeat the target price adjustment feature, and failed by 66 votes.

"So, fortunately I think," Johnson stated, "the Administration isn't necessarily in a position to dictate the terms of the compromise sought by those of us on the other side of the question."

Failure to resolve this issue to the satisfaction of both the Administration and the House could lead to all manner of possibilities, Johnson commented. "The House could pass a bill that the President would veto, in which case we might go back to the Act of 1958 until such time as Congress saw fit to change or repeal it. Or, the same situation could exist if the House simply failed to act at all. And it has been mentioned that the House might go for a one year extension of the present program if no new program seems possible.

"So the possibilities are almost without limit, with one being no less likely than another at this point," he concluded.

Banking change could aid rural communities

A recent lending change in the Federal Reserve System could be a boon to the rural economy of Texas. The change could make an estimated additional $1 billion in loanable funds available to Texas residents from the state's rural banks.

Called "Seasonal Borrowing Privilege," the change is designed to help rural banks expand loan fund sources where the local economy has a seasonal loan need, such as with grain sorghum, cotton, wheat or rice production, points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Rural banks experience wide fluctuations in loan demand from area farmers, and when such loans reach a seasonal high, other legitimate community loan needs must often be denied," notes the Texas A&M University specialist.

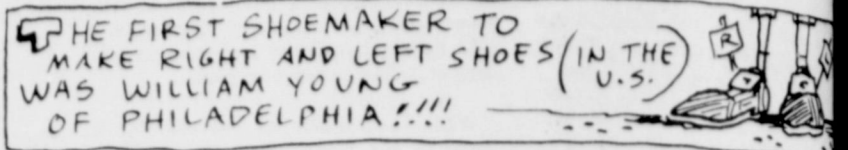

Hayenga contends that the additional loanable funds could be used for consumer credit purposes as well as local and area economic development.

The "Seasonal Borrowing Privilege" could affect an estimated 334 rural banks in Texas, more than one-fourth of all the banks in the state. To be eligible to use the borrowing privilege, banks must be members of the Federal Reserve System.

In addition to rural areas, the change may also increase loanable funds to banks serving communities with other types of seasonal needs for funds, such as resort areas.

Additional information can be obtained from the Federal Reserve Bank or from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C., adds Hayenga.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

See, my Servant shall prosper; he shall be highly exalted. Yet many shall be amazed when they see him — yes, even far-off foreign nations and their kings; they shall stand dumbfounded, speechless in his presence. For they shall see and understand what they had not been told before. They shall see my Servant beaten and bloodied, so disfigured one would scarcely know it was a person standing there. So shall he cleanse many nations.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Poison ivy will get you if you don't watch out. What most people don't realize is that its poison is potent the year round—even after the plant is dead. Furthermore its poison can be transferred from one person to another by clothing or shoes—even by animals that brush up against you that you pet after they have run through a bed of ivy. It's not uncommon for campers who pick up firewood to be poisoned—or even from the smoke of burning poison ivy buds. In this instance the buds emit droplets of poison ivy oil that are carried away in the smoke and settle on clothing, then seep through to the skin. You can lessen the damage of ivy poisoning by a thorough washing of hands and arms as quickly as possible after contact—and by a good scrubbing of all wearing apparel at the very first opportunity. There are numerous "relief" medicines on the market. But the best "cure" we have found is to rub the skin gently (don't ever scratch) or dab it lightly with cotton soaked in a mixture of 12 aspirin tablets and some camphor gum dissolved in a pint of rubbing alcohol. Apply it often. Some say that after a bad case of poison-ivy-itch you're immune to the infection for a year or two. But, it could be that you're just a darn sight more careful and give the itchy vine a wide berth for a long time thereafter.
