Several other students are continuing their education and serving their country at the time by having joined a branch of the United States Armed Forces.

CITY EMPLOYEES RECEIVE AWARDS. Several city employees of the city of Morton were presented service awards and other special guests received appreciation awards at a banquet held in the Tic Toc Restaurant Thursday. In the order of their longevity, those receiving service awards included: E.C. Oden, city manager, 20 years; Maurice Lewallen, utilities supervisor, 20 years; Bill Mapes, street department supervisor, 15 years; J.T. Atkins, custodian, 15 years; Rex Crawford, utilities, 10 years;

Augustine Sabala, animal control, 10 years; Benny Aragon, utilities, 5 years; Mary Lee Carter, office, 5 years and Alice Tarlton, office, 5 years. Receiving plaques of appreciation for their valuable services on the city council were Mrs. Bess Tilger and H.A. Lamb, Jr. Presenting the awards was Morton Mayor Marshall Leitzel, third from left in rear row. W.J. "Hi" Duncan was the principal speaker for the banquet.

Farmers facing 'decision' time

The time of decision has arrived for cotton and feed grain producers in the Cochran county area. That decision, which has caused great consternation and hardship to local farmers, is whether to re-plant destroyed crops to cotton again or to go to an alternate crop with a shorter growing season.

The extremely dry winter and spring, coupled with the high winds recently experienced, has prevented planting due to lack of moisture over much of the area and the winds have destroyed a large portion of the crop that has already emerged.

ASCS executive director John Hall told the Tribune in a Wednesday morning interview that he estimated that several thousands acres of cotton and grain had already been destroyed, but that only 1,472 acres had been filed on as failed acres to date. He estimated that approximately 50 farmers had filed with his office for prevented planting and 25-30 had filed for failed acres.

Last Saturday's extremely high winds and dry atmosphere has created havoc with the cotton and to a slightly lesser degree to the grain sorghum crops he stated. Principal damage was from static electricity and cutting action of the blowing sand on the new and delicate plants. There were a large number of acres that were just covered up by the blowing sand, Hall said.

"The wind damaged crops will have to be appraised by federal appraisers who are now enroute to the area, Hall said. That portion of the crop that is destroyed will be paid for at the rate of 12.7 cents per pound for cotton and 44 cents per bushel for grain sorghums," he added.

June 5 is the first date for eligibility for filing for prevented planting of cotton and June 20 for filing on grain sorghum, Hall said.

He and Cochran County Agent Phil Sullins, agreed that

RALPH WARE Conservation board appoints ware director

Ralph Ware of Star Route 1, Morton, was recently appointed Director of Zone 5 of Cochran Soil and Water Conservation District. Ware was appointed by the members of the Board of Directors following the resignation of Eddie Hale, who had been on the Board since 1973. Ware will serve for a five year term ending in October, 1978. Ware has been farming since 1955 with two years out to college at North Texas State University at Denton, where he studied Industrial Arts. He served for two years in the Army, having seen duty in Germany. Ware is a new director farms approximately 1500 acres in the District of which approximately 200 acres is irrigated. He grows grain sorghum and also runs a cattle operation. He runs registered purebred Charolais. Ware is originally from Missouri and is married to the former Imogene Betts of Morton and they have two children, Jay Lynn, 12 and Lee, 10. Both are students in the Morton schools, where both

County teenagers wealth impressive

Financially, Cochran County's teenagers have come into their own. They have wealth such as their parents never dreamed of at their age. As a result, they have blossomed into a consumer group to be reckoned with. With the unprecedented amount of money at their command, estimated at more than $808,000 a year, they are being courted as never before by manufacturers and retail merchants through frequent changes of fashions and styles. For the most part, it is found, what they have they spend—fast. The money doesn't get a chance to bore holes in their pockets. It goes for the whole gamut of personal items and leisure activities that are important to them—beauty aids, jewelry, pop records, radios, cars, clothes, snacks, entertainment and the like. In addition to what the young people in the local area spend on themselves, they exert a strong influence on family purchases.

The findings are based upon surveys and studies made by the Youth Research Institute and others. The figures show that the 29 million teenagers in the United States are currently spending at the rate of $24.7 billion a year, which averages out to about $850 each. In Cochran County, where the number of boys and girls in the 13 to 19 age group is now 950, according to the Census

REV. JOE YATES

Rev. Yates wears his 91 years lightly

The Rev. Joseph Yates, 91-

year-old pastor of the Graham Methodist Church, southwest of Post, was on hand Sunday for the 50th anniversary celebration of the Morton First United Methodist Church.

Rev. Yates, who has been at the Graham community church the last five years, first took out a license to preach in 1907. He retired for 15 years and operated a TV and Radio repair business until he was called back to preach in 1959.

"I'm 91 years old now, but I intend to keep preaching as

4-H leadership lab slated in Levelland

Nearly 150 young leaders from 4-H clubs in 20 South Plains counties will participate in a district leadership lab June 18-20.

Site of the three-day summer workshop is South Plains Junior College, Levelland, according to Ed Garnett, area 4-H and Youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A team of 12 older teens will conduct sessions throughout the lab. They'll arrive on campus Sunday afternoon to map plans and develop discussion topics.

The youth, supervised by 4-adult leaders, will perform a variety of activities ranging from group learning and discussion sessions to game tournaments and special

Reading class

A Summer Library for all children that were in the 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades this past year may check out books on Wednesdays from 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. in the Second Grade Building. Anyone reading ten books will receive a certificate.

The summer program is sponsored by the Town and Country Study Club.

IT'S WHEAT HARVEST TIME—The local wheat harvest has shown the results of a dry winter and spring in the very light yield this year. The above scene was some three miles southeast of Morton last week as Earnest

Ruthardt was combining the sparse crop on a Slaughter farm. He estimated that the yield would run 10-12 bushels to the acre and expressed relief that he had planted only a small part of his acreage to wheat.

Seniors meeting

The Senior Citizens will meet today, Thursday, June 13, at 2:30 p.m. in the County Activity Building for an afternoon of games and fellowship. All persons 60 years of age and over are invited to attend.

The Post, on the other hand, in the view of Nixon supporters and even some members of the media, has followed news policies far from impartial or fair to the President. For over a year now, they say, rumors, reports, informed sources stories and other types of damaging reporting, have badly hurt the President. Post people see his campaign as great journalism—thorough, productive, investigative reporting. Much of it was. But much of it, in the President's view, was slanted, or malicious reporting. In the American tradition, of course, opinion is reserved for the editorial pages. Campaigns of investigative reporting are, however, seen by some as today's power weapon, which can intimidate even the highest elected officials in the land, and which are not always limited to news reporting. In essence, then, the present power struggle is, in large part, between Larry Israel and his minions and the President and his—and they disagree whether the Post has been unethical, on the low or high road in American journalism. The Post claims it has been on the high road, has won honors for its revelations.

But there are widespread doubts. The suspicion is that the public is rapidly sensing the bitter power-struggle between the Post, other liberal newspapers and the three liberal networks, and the Administration, and knows the fight is not one-sided, with true-blue newsmen crusading for the truth only.

'We will mine-only if...'

On March 5, 1974, in a message to Congress about surface mining of coal—more commonly known as strip mining—the American Mining Congress stated flatly, "We will mine—only if the land can be reclaimed." This is a clear statement of environmental responsibility as we have seen. Yet, in the rush to clamp restraints on the mining industry, some members of Congress—and everyone else, for that matter—seem to have ignored the pledge. Why? Well, for one thing, too many critics and much of the media seem to have made the mining industry the whipping boy for everything that is wrong with our environment. Now, we'll admit that mining is dirty work—but it's not a dirty business. In fact it is the one industry most basic to our standard of living and most vital to our security. There is almost nothing that is not affected by mining. Coal, in particular, is again coming to the forefront as a key fuel after being upstaged by oil and gas for so long. America has hundreds of years of known coal reserves waiting to be used...most of it of the cleaner low-sulfur variety. Ironically, some elements of Congress seem bent on making it harder to get at this low-sulfur coal at the very time energy needs call for every ton of coal we can possibly get out of the ground. It just makes no sense, either in terms of energy or the environment.

We've been trying to figure out—Why this vendetta? And all we can think of is that some very vocal elements remember old pictures of scarred landscapes and they hold an unreasoning grudge against miners.

Yet, it makes about as much sense to blame today's miners for yesterday's land misuse as it does to blame today's candlemakers for the Chicago fire.

Isn't it time to put aside prejudices and misconceptions and allow our miners once again to "dig in" without needless restraints?

If you agree maybe your Congressman or Senator ought to know about it.

—J. Allen Overton Jr.

American Mining Congress

Traffic deaths — good and bad news

The good news is that 1,000 fewer persons died in traffic accidents in 1973 than 1972, according to the National Safety Council, probably due to reduced speed limits and shortage of gasoline in December.

The bad news is that there were still 55,600 traffic fatalities last year, compared with the 56,600 in 1973, a 2 per cent reduction. — CNS long as they want me and as long as my health stays good," he said.

One testimony to the fact that his health is extraordinarily good for a man his age is that he recently took his driver's test and passed it.

As a hobby, Rev. Yates began making cactus walking canes, but not for his own use. He gets around well enough that he doesn't need a cane. "For years," he said, "I made the canes and gave them to crippled kinfolks and friends, but when people began to call for them I decided to start trying to make a little money out of my hobby."

He starts production of a cane by finding the right kind of cactus, then peeling it and putting it in a form for about six weeks, which cures the cactus and keeps it from warping. The form, which Rev. Yates made himself, hollows out the cactus, and he inserts a hickory stem in the hollow. Then, to complete the cane, he adds a polished handle, or hand-hold of mesquite and a rubber tip, and the cane is ready to "walk".

At various times after obtaining his license to preach, Rev. Yates attended Polytechnic College in Fort Worth, Stamford College, Vanderbilt University and Southern Methodist University.

His first preaching appointment was in 1913 at Camp Springs, east of Snyder. Since then he has held pastorates at Lamesa, Stamford, Tuxedo, Caps, Crosbyton, McAdoo, Hermleigh, Plains and Grassland, all in Texas, and at Durant in Oklahoma.

"I missed being a native Texan by just about two months," Rev. Yates said. "That's about how old I was when my parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Yates, moved to Texas from Alabama. We lived at Kosse, Texas, a few years before my father moved to West Texas in a colony of 18 persons and helped settle the town of Winters, which he named."

Rev. and Mrs. Yates have five children, 17 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. One daughter, Mrs. Josie Ray, who has two children, makes her home with her parents.

Although Rev. Yates did not hold a pastorate while in Morton, he was a member of the First United Methodist Church here.

ASCS News

BY JOHN HALL, C.E.D.

Producers in Cochran County are checking thoroughly into the disaster payment provisions of the 1974 feed grain, wheat and cotton programs administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

"We want to do all we can to explain how producers become eligible for prevented planting and low yield payments," said John W. Hall, Executive Director of the Cochran County ASCS office. Prevented planting means that the farmer is unable to plant because a severe natural disaster striking at planting time prevented him from planting. Low yield is when a disaster seriously affects the potential yield of a crop after planting.

In the case of wheat and feed grains, if the producer is prevented by a disaster from planting an acreage of annual nonconserving crop at least equal to the sum of his wheat and feed grain allotments, he may qualify for a prevented planting payment. Annual nonconserving crops normally planted in this county are any annual crop intended for harvest and produced for market or feed except for the following: (A) Annual grasses regardless of use. (B) Legumes. Peas or beans produced for seed, grain or processing are a nonconserving crop. (C) Feed grains and small grains destroyed by any means or used for other than grain by the date of certification.

All-America grid game expected to set record

The 14th annual Coaches All-America Game will be played for the fifth straight year in Jones Stadium, Texas Tech University, Lubbock on Saturday, June 22.

Tickets are on sale at the Texas Tech Ticket Office. Tickets can be obtained in Morton from Lions Club members.

For Lubbock and the Texas South Plains, this grid classic has become "ALL AMERICANS ON THE LINE FOR HANDICAPPED AMERICANS." Many needy charities in Lubbock, on the Texas South Plains and throughout the Lone Star State had benefitted through over $160,000 or of the net proceeds shared in the first four years at the game's Lubbock site by the co-sponsoring non-profit Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the Texas Lions District 2-T-2 (2700 Lions in 67 West Texas Lions clubs).

The Lubbock State School for the Mentally Retarded received a large amount of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce net game fund share for the school's new $61,000 specially-designed

MRS. JOE RUTHARDT
(Nee: Joyce Moseley)

M.L. Moseley of Whiteface and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ruthardt of Levelland.

Mrs. John O'Dell, aunt of the bride from Burkburnett, organist and Mrs. Chris Hearn of Littlefield, pianist, played traditional wedding music. Miss Debbie McHam, soloist sang "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown made by her mother, of lace and shadow mist over polyester. The empire bodice was fashioned with a stand-up collar, long bishop lace sleeves and a full skirt which extended into a chapel train. Both the bodice and skirt were accented by appliques of lace, dotted with seed pearls. Her double tiered wedding veil of bridal illusion fell from a floral headpiece of pearls and cut crystals complimented by appliques of lace and pearls. She carried a cascade of feathered carnations, centered with a white orchid, atop a white Bible covered with white lace; white satin streamers bearing lilies of the valley and pearls, fell from the Bible. Marking her favorite scripture in the 5th chapter of Ephesians, was a blue handkerchief, which also served as her "something old" given to her by her grandmother. The bride's gown was "something new" and for "something borrowed" was the Bible she carried which belongs to her mother. In her shoe were two pennies minted in 1955 and 1956, marking the years of the birth of the couple.

Miss Cathy Moseley, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Vicki Marshall and Miss Lea Legan. They wore identically fashioned gowns of lace over taffeta. Miss Moseley's gown was a floral motif of blue and white lace on white taffeta and the bridesmaid's were blue and white floral over blue taffeta. The gowns featured full skirts, empire bodice with low round necklines and short puffed sleeves ending in a ruffle. Their headpieces were blue shadow mist bands, covered with tiny blue streamers. They carried white wicker baskets with ribbon bows and streamers, filled with blue lace carnations and white daisies.

Kim Ruthardt, brother of the groom, served as best man and Bobby Moseley, brother of the bride, and Mike Burris were groomsmen.

Candlelighters were Kenneth Ruthardt and Louis Sanchez, brother and cousin of the groom. Bill Lasater and Randy Peden seated guests.

Following the ceremony the couple were honored with a reception in the Whiteface Community Center. Sunya Sanders registered the guests and classmates and friends of the bride served at the bride's table.

For a wedding trip to El Paso and Juarez, Mexico, the bride wore a sheer eyelet blue and white floral dress with white accessories, and a white orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Ruthardt is a 1974 graduate of Whiteface High School. Ruthardt attended

tea topics

By David and Eunice Bigelow

Everyone knows the answer to that eternal question, "Why did you climb the mountain?"

"Because it is there."

But tea plants, those famous mountain climbers, have a more specific answer. "Because the higher the elevation, the finer the tea."

In the shadow of Mt. Everest, when the mist lifts, you can see the tea gardens of Darjeeling, India. These cultivated growing areas are in the rarefied air of 3,000 to 7,000 feet. Hilly tea plants grow at a slower pace, adding flavor day by day. However, the yield of new leaves is fewer, making each wee leaf rarer and more expensive.

The Darjeeling shoots, plucked from the Himalayan plants, release a subtle, mysterious flavor that makes a rich, after-dinner drink.

Tea from the rolling ranges of Ceylon is softer and more fragrant, such as Constant Comment, which is further flavored with orange and spices.

The next time you brew a cup of tea, sit back and muse about all the mountains you too have conquered.

"A cup o' tea" is as symbolic of England as Big Ben, the Beatles and British tweeds. Everyone there from the local chimney sweep to the Queen is reputed to indulge in tea sipping two or three times a day. One of the most popular blends happens to be Earl Grey.

There's an interesting story behind this fine tea. In the early 1800's, a Chinese mandarin admirer supposedly sent this unusual tea to Earl Grey, then Prime Minister of England. It became so popular with his friends and colleagues that soon Earl Grey's drawing room became almost more famous for tea than for political discussions. As a result, he eventually authorized the sale of the blend under his name.

The taste for his once-private blend has crossed the ocean and has been melted into this country's teapot—making Earl Grey an all-American, at-home favorite.

He will now report to a formal school for specialty training or to a ship or shore station for on-the-job training.

OSHA proposes noise standard for farmers

How much noise emanates from tractors and other farm machinery is not one of those things about which farmers have been overly concerned. But if the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) has its way the question may become more important than anyone would have thought possible a few years ago.

OSHA is proposing a noise standard for agriculture. The proposal has not been published, but it is on the way, and as now written would impose an expensive, time consuming and largely useless set of noise monitoring and protection rules on all farm employers regardless of classification or size.

Hearings on the proposed standards are scheduled for May 29 and 30 in Washington, so there is a chance the OSHA regulations on acceptable noise levels and the required protection against unacceptable noise will be reasonable and practical.

Very little information is available on either the amount of noise exposure in agriculture or its effects on employee hearing. And the absence of such information makes it impossible to determine, first, if there is a problem, and second, whether any problem which may exist can be corrected by practical means. One of OSHA's prime considerations in this area should be the fact that, unlike much of industry, nearly all exposure to noise in agriculture is frequently interrupted by periods of

arm-facts

Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Estate prices Up...Peanuts More Popular...Demand for Cotton Increases...Watermelons on Market...Hay Cutting Underway.

FARM REAL estate jumped over the United States by 21 per cent during the past year, from $233 to $280 per acre. Although the per-acre prices may be higher in some areas of Texas, latest figures show Texas farm real estate prices climbed by a more modest nine per cent, and Pennsylvania was second with 31 per cent, followed by Alabama, Iowa and South Carolina with 30 per cent.

peanuts and peanut butter are being consumed by Americans more than ever, the USDA reports. There are 524 million pounds of shelled peanuts used in edible products from August through December, 1973, an eight per cent increase demand for peanuts came because of the higher prices for beef, dairy products and poultry. Growers received about two cents a pound more for peanuts in 1973 than they did the previous year. Peanut planting in Texas is more than 35 per cent complete, but moisture is short for planting in the Cross Timbers area.

COTTON CONSUMPTION is up over the world by about two million bales, to about 59 million. The carryover in the United States August 1 is expected to be 3 1/2 million bales, below a previous USDA estimate because export volumes now is expected to increase. Cotton planting in Texas is about 70 per cent complete, compared to 75 per cent at the same time last season. Planting is making rapid progress on irrigated fields on the High and Low Plains, but more rain is needed on the High Plains to complete planting. Boll weevils and flea hoppers are reported in cotton in the southern half of the State.

WATERMELONS are ripening in the Coastal Bend area where labor and truck shortages have been reported. Watermelon harvest is expected to begin in the San Antonio-Winter Garden area, according to Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, and vines are in the bloom state in East Texas. Sweet corn and tomatoes, are beginning to ripen in Central Texas, and harvest of peppers, eggplant, squash, potatoes and cucumbers continues on the Upper Coast. Squash and cucumber harvest is over in the Coastal Bend and sweet corn and carrot harvest is almost over in that area.

HAY CUTTING is underway all across Texas, and yields of this first cutting are reported good. Prospects for a second cutting are good in East Texas but most of the western half of the State needs rain for the second crop. Rainfall during the week ending June 1 helped many areas in East Texas and Southeast Texas. Areas north of Beaumont were reported to have had five inches during the week.

NUMBER OF broiler chicks placed and the number hatched were down slightly during the week ending May 25. There were 3,839,000 placed, which is two per cent below the same time last year and also for the previous week. Chicks hatched totaled 3,942,000 down one per cent from a year ago and two per cent below the previous week. Eggs set for broiler production numbered 4,584,000 which was four per cent below a year ago.
