

New Year Greetings

As old ends, new begins: More of same in store?

As the year 1974 winds down to its not unwelcome end, Cochran countians are probably reflecting back upon those twelve months with mixed emotions. Of all thejectives that might be used to describe this tumultuous year, certainly "normal", "comfortable" or "uneventful" could not possibly be included among them.

One thing is certain — the momentous events occurring on the national and international scene has assured it of a very prominent place in the history of our Republic.

Some of those events, most of which either directly or indirectly effected the lives of Cochran countians, — most of them adversely — included the following:

Watergate, which finally climaxed with the resignation of an American President for the first time in history and elevated an appointed Vice-President to the Number One post, also setting a precedent. The second precedent took place in late December when an also appointed Vice-President was sworn in, making this the first time in history that the two top government offices have been occupied by officers with no mandate from the people.

An oil embargo was imposed by the Arab countries as a result of their war with Israel, and the price was increased to the point where the Western World was thrown into near economic chaos.

A nation-wide 55 mile per hour speed limit was imposed as an energy saving measure, making it especially difficult for Texans with their long travel distances.

Inflation continued to spiral upward and was continuing the trend as the year came to a close.

A steady rise in unemployment and business recession brought on by the inflation was becoming accute by year's end.

A stick-out plus on the national scene was the late December report by the Defense Department that not one single American life had been lost during the year in the still-smoldering Vietnam war.

On the local level, Cochran county, "Texas' Last Frontier", celebrated its fiftieth anniversary with a year-long observance, after being founded on May 7, 1924.

The local economy was affected both by the scarcity and over-abundance of rainfall. Going into 1974 after a dry autumn in 1973, area farmlands endured seven months of drought, immediately followed by more than 20 inches of moisture during August, September and October.

After a record-breaking year of cotton production in 1972 and 1973, county farmers faced both reduced production and reduced prices for the 1974 crop. Some were caught up.

Plus factors for the coming year were the underground reserve of moisture deposited by the heavy rains during the autumn, the proved productivity of county farms and farmers in the face of the worldwide need for more food, and the adaptability of local producers in meeting the changing needs of agriculture.

The challenges, rewards and setbacks of the year 1975 for Cochran countians still lies cloaked in the mystery of the future, but if the past is any yardstick for foretelling the future, they will meet its hardships and trials head-on as they have in the past and make the beginning year of their second half century a foundation of

IN LATE NIGHT ASSAULT

Armed robber shoots local woman

Mrs. Loma Richards, of 105 NW 4th Street, was shot by an armed man in an attempted robbery at her home late Sunday night.

According to a sheriff's report, Mrs. Richards had just arrived home from the Tic Toc Restaurant which she owns and operates, when an unidentified assailant opened her car door and demanded her money — the report presumed it was the day's restaurant receipts that she was carrying in two money bags. As she reached for the bags to hand them to him, her assailant fired one shot from a small calibre pistol and fled, leaving the money behind.

According to the sheriff's report and that of a close relative, the bullet shattered her metal watch band, passed through her left wrist and dug a furrow across her abdomen. A large number of metal fragments from the watch band were reportedly forced deep into the wrist wound.

Mrs. Richards was rushed by her husband to Cochran Memorial Hospital where she was reported in good condition Wednesday afternoon. It was at first thought that surgery would be performed to remove the metal fragments, but a relative reported to the Tribune Wednesday that the operation would probably not be necessary.

A check with the sheriff's office late Tuesday indicated that the identity of the assailant, who was wearing a ski mask at the time of the attempted robbery, was still unknown and that no new leads had been received.

The case remains under intensive investigation, the sheriff stated.

They came, they saw and they conquered again for the third straight year. Who is this mercurial band of modern-day raiders, and whom did they sack for the third straight time? "They" are the Morton Indians and "Whom" is the Lubbock Caprock Basketball Tournament, that's who and whom.

The Tribe rolled smoothly along to their third Caprock championship in the seemingly effortless stride that they have shown all season so far in racking up 17 wins against no losses against first rate competition from throughout the South Plains.

They found the going the easiest in their first tournament game against the Denver City Mustangs as they coasted to an almost effortless 79-40 win which gave them all the appearance of saving their strength for harder things to come.

Mike Williams turned in another excellent performance, sinking 10 of 16 field goal tries for twenty points and recovering a fabulous 18 rebounds. Troy Patton was close behind in the soaring department with 18 points and Rusty Lamar rounded out the double figure performers with 5 of 11 floor shots for 10 points.

After the Mustang appetizer, the Tribe cleaned up the entire of Lubbock Christian High School meat with a 65-43 count and then looked around expectantly for the dessert, which was not long in EVERY PLEASANT HABIT — Two Morton Indians hold the Caprock Basketball Tournament championship trophy that the Tribe won for the third straight year Saturday. The Indians, presently rated No. 1 in AA classification on the South Plains, had played and defeated Dimmitt, another South Plains cage powerhouse, in the championship round in each of the past three years. The Indians' season record currently stands at 17 wins and no losses.

Holidays are anything but quiet for lawmen

Local lawmen had anything but a quiet holiday period this year as work in several forms, from family altercations to traffic violations to wild chases to armed robbery investigations demanded their attention.

The most spectacular incident, of course, was the attempted robbery and shooting of Mrs. Loma Richardson which is described in an accompanying story.

One incident which, if it was not so deadly serious, could be likened to the antics of the Keystone Cops of early movie days was a wild chase of a pickup truck by the highway patrol and both city and county lawmen which took place Christmas night.

The action took place, according to lawmen's reports, in a deep broken plowed field off SH214 south of Morton and continued in the mud and snow for 20-30 minutes. The pickup was finally run down after a wild scramble described by the officers as closely resembling a demolition derby, when the officers had shot out the tires of the vehicle to the point it could not continue to move.

The officers said that they later counted 21 bullet holes in the pickup. There were no injuries in the wild chase, which netted one juvenile who was much the worse

Farm labor legislative target

Enactment of Farm labor legislation that would give union officials control over American food production is a real danger in 1975, the chairman of the Farm Labor Research Committee warned in a statement released this week.

"The election sweep by union-backed candidates paves the way for enactment of one-sided farm labor legislation in the new 94th Congress unless an aroused public lifts its voice against the potential trampling of individual agricultural employee, grower and consumer rights," said W.B. Camp, a California grower and Chairman of the FLRC.

"Legislation to extend the National Labor Relations Act or an even more repressive regime to agriculture could be quickly reported out by the union-dominated majorities on the House and Senate Labor Committees."

Camp said he had learned that officials in the U.S. Department of Labor have drafted a bill which basically would bring agricultural workers under the 40-year-old NLRA, and have discussed it with officials of the Department of Agriculture.

Such legislation has been proposed as an "instant remedy" to the violence and coercion that has occurred in the jurisdictional battle between Teamsters President Frank Fitzsimmons and United Farm Workers President Cesar Chavez, Camp said.

"Unfortunately," Camp said, "some misinformed or misguided agricultural associations have embraced the NLRA extension as the lesser of two evils. They ignore the history of continuing labor strife in non-agricultural industry during the past four decades.

"Extension of the NLRA to agriculture would effectively subordinate individual rights to the rights of the union organization. If union officials are now armed by federal law with special monopolistic privileges in the agricultural area, they will be able to undermine the productivity and destroy the economic health, and abuse the rights of agricultural employees, employers and consumers of agricultural products to the same extent as in

Local firemen present check to Boys Ranch

Morton Volunteer Firemen donated a check in the amount of $100 to Great Plains Boys Ranch Christmas Eve.

The check was for the purpose of making the boys' Christmas "a little bit more cheery," Fire Chief Rex Crawford, who presented the check, said.

The money was drawn from funds earned by various fire department activities, all of which goes to charitable causes, Crawford said.

MORTON POLICE CHIEF Chester Miller proudly displays the new ambulance recently purchased by the county for service in the Morton area. The 1974 Chevrolet Suburban has all the facilities and equipment required for certification under federal law. It has a four patient capacity, heating and air conditioning throughout, loud speaker system, two way radio equipment, maneuverable spotlights fore and aft, beeper, sirene, multiple flashing red lights, oxygen system, plasma administering capability, emergency flares and many other special features. The Frontier ambulance service is operated jointly by the county, city and hospital district, with chief Miller in charge of furnishing qualified drivers.

GI loan rate reduction can result in saving

The reduction from 9.5 to 9 percent in the maximum allowable interest rates on GI and FHA home loans could mean as much as $9.90 per month savings to the average veteran home owner, Jack Coker, Director of the Waco VA Regional Office, commented.

Over the 30 year life of the average $27,500 GI loan, the total saving from the .5 reduction could be as much as $3,546, Coker pointed out.

The reduction, effective November 25, was announced concurrently with Housing and Urban Development on November 22.

The new 9 percent rate resulted from the second reduction this year and it followed four successive increases which took the rate from 8.25 percent in January to 8.5 percent as of August where it remained until the current reduction.

Telephone tax levy reduced

General Telephone customers paid an estimated $1.8 million less in Federal Excise Taxes on telephone bills during 1974 because of a 1 per cent reduction in the tax.

By the end of 1974, General will have collected an estimated $15 million under the eight per cent tax levy, which will drop another 1 per cent on January 1, 1975.

The decrease on January 1, 1975 is the third step of a 10-year reduction schedule in which there will be successive 1 per cent rate reductions on the first of each year, completely expiring in December, 1981.

The tax elimination was enacted as part of the Excise, Estate and Gift Tax Adjustment Act of 1970.

The excise tax on phone bills was first imposed by Congress during World War I as a "temporary" measure. Although repealed briefly after the war, the tax was reinstated during the Depression and has continued ever since at varying rates as high as 15 per cent on local service and 25 per cent on long distance calls. From 1954 until 1971, it stood at 10 per cent.

New Ways to Help the Brushing Habit

Using the new improved toothbrushing method with a good-tasting, quick-spreading dentifrice, these youngsters find toothbrushing easier, more pleasant.

Do youngsters in your family resist brushing their teeth regularly? Two recent events may help. First, the American Dental Association has developed an easier method of brushing. Secondly, a new blue gel anti-cavity toothpaste with stannous fluoride has been introduced with a flavor that may actually encourage children to brush more often and longer.

The new approved brushing method, a simple side-to-side motion, replaces the former up-and-down method which was not so easy for youngsters to master. Using a small soft-bristled brush, the new method is aimed at accomplishing a far better brushing job. The new gel dentifrice, Aim, helps by spreading more quickly than ordinary toothpastes.

- The new simple brushing method includes four steps:
1. Brush outside of teeth angling bristles toward gums, using short side-to-side strokes.
 2. Brush inside back teeth, angling bristles toward gums, using short side-to-side strokes.
 3. Brush inside front teeth, holding brush vertically, angling bristles toward gums, using short up-and-down strokes.
 4. Brush chewing surfaces, keeping brush flat, using short side-to-side strokes.
- To spread the domestic sport of toothbrushing further, parents are urged to brush along with their children to set a good example.

coming, and not particularly tasty when it arrived.

Dessert consisted of the same old "Tidbits of Dimmitt Bobcat" that the Caprock has served them for the past three years — and there was not much change in the manner of service or the flavor of the offering.

Unlike last year, when the Tribe swallowed the Bobcat whole to the tune of thirty points, the chef served up a mixture that had a tendency to stick in the throat sometimes, especially in the early going and up to the half when they came to a 34-34 impasse.

The third quarter, however, saw the Indians gaining momentum to wind up the period with a 52-47 margin. They enlarged on that lead only slightly in the fourth stanza and the scoreboard read Morton 68, Dimmitt 61 at the final buzzer.

Williams took scoring honors in both the last two games, bucketing 16 of 21 floor shots and 2 of 5 free throws for 16 points and contributing 14 big rebounds and 8 steals to the cause in the LCHS game and tallying 19 on 8 of 21 field goals and 3 of 5 charity shots in the Dimmitt contest. Against the Bobcats he picked off a superb 19 rebounds and contributed four steals.

Patton was second best Indian in both contests, converting 7 of 16 field shots for 14 points in the LCHS game and 6 of 12 floor shots and one of two free throws for 13 points against the Bobcats.

Fouec Grisby demonstrated deadly accuracy from the charity line in the later contest, hitting on 9 of 9.

Based on its won-lost record and its level of competition, the Tribe has been upgraded to the No. 1 position on the South Plains in the AA classification.

Next action for the Indians will be at Levelland against the Lobos on Tuesday, January 7. The Tribe beat the Lobos earlier on the home court by 12 points, but the Levellanders have moved up in both performance and rating since that time and the Tribesmen will have their work cut out for them.

The following are individual and team statistics through the first 17 games, which are complete up through the Caprock journey:

industry generally.

"In the present state of inflation and world food shortages, the nation simply cannot afford to extend to the food-producing sector of its economy a system of labor law which would benefit only union officials intent on increasing their own monopoly power," Camp declared.

The FLRC Chairman called on farm workers, farmers and consumers to "join together to thwart this power drive, and to protect their rights from the coercive tactics of union officials."

He said that the Farm Labor Research Committee will step up its educational campaign among members of Congress, farm organizations, the news media, and the general public to insure that farm labor policy guarantees the rights of employees, employers and consumers.

The Farm Labor Research Committee is a non-profit, non-partisan organization with the single purpose of researching and analyzing farm labor-management relations, paying particular attention to proposed legislation in the field. The FLRC disseminates its findings as a public service to the agricultural community, the public and Congress, to help develop a sound farm labor policy which will benefit farm workers, farmers and consumers.

for wear and they suspect, other stimulants, the officers said.

Another thrilling chase by sheriff's deputies and a city patrolman took place on SH214 north on December 20, according to another sheriff's report. The report indicates that Jimmy Blue, of Muleshoe, was observed speeding through Morton and both the sheriff's car and the city car gave chase.

The chase continued for 26 miles at speeds well in excess of 100 miles per hour, the officers said, until Bue's 1972 Pontiac was finally corralled between Needmore and Muleshoe. Blue was returned to Morton where he was later released on $200 bond, with arraignment scheduled for January 8.

There was several hundred dollars in property damage, but no injuries reported when a 1973 Oldsmobile station wagon collided with a black angus calf on SH214 north shortly after midnight Monday morning.

The vehicle, driven by Glen Price, of Morton, who was accompanied by his family, was proceeding south on 214 approximately two miles north when the accident occurred. The automobile was heavily damaged and the calf was killed, investigating officer James Lytal reported.

In other business, the sheriff's book indicates there were three arrests for public drunkenness, one charge of driving while intoxicated and one warrant issued for a threat of bodily harm during the past week.
