Texas teachers approve FROM Wall to wall, no soil at all, on carpets cleaned with Blue Lustre. Rent electric shampooer unification with NEA $1. Taylor and Son Furniture.

Texas teachers have approved unification of the Texas State Teachers Association with the National Education Association. Jewel Howard of Dallas, TSTA state president who announced the result of a membership referendum on the issue, termed it "a victory for the united teaching profession."

With some

145,000 professional and life members eligible to vote by secret, mailedin ballots, the totals were: For unification, 54,992. Against unification, 46,661. Tabulation of the mail ballots was completed at TSTA headquarters May 16 by a 13member election committee appointed by Mrs. Howard. Unification, in essence, means that Texas educators who wish to belong to TSTA state and local associations also must hold membership in NEA, beginning September 1, 1975. TSTA has been the Texas state affiliate of the national association since March 1921, but reciprocal membership previously has been voluntary. NEA now has made unification a requirement for its local and state affiliates.

Membership of Texas educators in NEA now totals 43,538. TSTA's membership is more than 160,500. Nationally, NEA has 1,634,207 members.

The national association has guaranteed to make up any dues revenue which TSTA might lose, if it should experience a decline in membership, for three years beginning September 1, 1975.

Mrs. Howard predicts that even if the state association does lose some of its members because of unification, it will regain its numerical strength within the next three years.

"Other states which have unified, almost without exception, have wound up with net gains in membership rather than losses," Mrs. Howard said. "Now that Texas has joined the other 49 states already unified with NEA, I feel sure that most of those who voted against unification will want to continue their membership in the united teaching profession. The TSTA house of delegates voted at the March state convention in Houston for unification with NEA, and called for the statewide referendum to give all members a chance to endorse or reject its decision.

The membership's affirmative vote reversed its action in a statewide referendum on the mail vote was 2 to 1 against unification. However, the 1974 TSTA house of delegates had passed "new business item 13" to leave the door open for another try at unification. TSTA officers and executive committee led the staff in an all-out drive to secure statewide acceptance.

Those who support unification feel it will strengthen teacher organizations and give Texas road building and education. The cost to some localities, in the past year, proved to be greater than the aid received. Others got back more than they put in.

A comprehensive state-bystate study of the programs, based upon Treasury Department figures, was made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization that keeps watch over government taxation and spending.

A breakdown of its figures indicates that the amount of aid received by Cochran County was relatively small.

An estimated $861,000 went to the local area in the year under a variety of aid programs.

In the State of Texas as a whole, the grants totaled $2,119,000,000, the Government's figures show. The amounts refer only to grants-in-aid and revenue sharing and do not include Federal spending in local areas for goods and services.

As to the cost of the benefits received, the Tax Foundation finds that some $2 .73,000,000 of County car mishaps light during April the taxes collected throughout the state went into the aid programs. Cochran County's share of the cost was approximately $921,000, exclusive of matching funds.

Nationally, the figures show $38.5 billion was distributed in grants-in-aid and $6.1 billion in revenue sharing, a total of $44.6

In 23 states the costs exceeded the grants received. The other 27 states came out on the plus side. Indiana was the biggest loser, paying $1.58 for every $1 that was returned. Alaska was the chief gainer, paying only 36 cents per $1 of aid.

The inequity is attributed to the fact that some communities need more aid than others.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and no persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first four months of 1975 shows a total of 13 accidents resulting in one person killed and six persons injured.

THERE WAS HARDLY a seat left in the house as the various musicle groups of the Morton school system presented a concert in the county activities building auditorium last week. The concert marked the swan song of the 1974-75 school year activities for the bands and choir, as graduation and the end of the school year are scant days away.

Mahon gives constituents report on agriculture bills

By Rep. George Mahon
Over a period of several weeks various friends from Texas have communicated with me in regard to legislation relating to the difficult problems which now

confront the agricultural sector of our economy. I thought a brief report on the present status of these legislative efforts might be of some interest.

Last week the House of Representatives voted to sustain the President's veto of the Emergency Agriculture Act of 1975. I actively supported the effort to override, feeling that while there were two sides to the issue, enactment of the legislation would tend to introduce some stability into agricultural markets promote greater availability of credit for farmers. In addition, I felt passage of the measure would serve to increase production, which would benefit both consumers and our national balance of trade. However, our efforts to override the veto fell short of the needed votes. Secretary Butz, who urged the veto of the bill by the President, Congrats to you.

For many weeks I have been seeking to secure passage of legislation which would provide additional Farmers Home Administration operating loan funds. Additional loan funds are included in the Emergency Employment Appropriations Act, which I introduced as Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. This measure has passed both the House and the Senate, but final approval by the Congress is still pending, and there is the threat of a Presidential veto. Operating loan funds for the FmHA have also been included in a Supplemental Appropriations bill which will soon be considered by the House and Senate. However, it is unclear just when the additional funds will be made available, but I can say with complete confidence that they will be provided. The USDA has asked the Office of Management and Budget to make a request of Congress for an additional $110 million, but the Administration has failed to accept the recommendation of USDA in this matter. Nevertheless, we will find some way to provide FmHA loan money.

Many of our people are interested in the livestock situation. Last week the House passed legislation amending the Emergency Livestock Credit Act of 1974.

This excellent sorghum hybrid is famous for its versatility and adaptability. It yields along with the full-season varieties on the Plains although it is classed as medium maturity. Its hybrid vigor and exceptional drouth tolerance help Pioneer brand 846 turn in consistent high yields, even under stress. It is tolerant to rust, smut and MDM. Talk to your dealer about 846!

Mrs. Mary Cox All food stamp recipients services held must verify entire income

Services for Mrs. Mary Etta Cox, of Robbstown, mother of Mrs. Truman Doss of Morton, were held in Robbstown Funeral Home Chapel at 2 p.m. Sunday. Another service was held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the Carter Funeral Home Chapel in Ralls. Elba Hall, minister of the Ralls Church of Christ, officiated.

Mrs. Cox, 92, a former Ralls resident, died Saturday morning in Robbstown. A native of Clarksville, she had lived in the Robbstown area for the past 20

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. John H. Bramlett of Robbstown, Mrs. C. Robert Ivey of Houston and Mrs. Doss; three sons, Herman of Kilgore, Joe of Lubbock and Woodrow of Hurst; 15 grandchildren, 33 greatgrandchildren and one greatgreat-grandchild.

All income received by food stamp recipients must be verified if it is expected to be received during the certification period or is meant for use during the certification period. This includes total salary and wages, gifts or awards for maintenance and bonuses paid as income (such as the crop bonus commonly given by farmers).

Charges are occasionally made that employers do not report total wages paid to employees, particularly the crop bonus. However, local welfare officials are somewhat skeptical of these reports. Both the employee and employer commit criminal offenses when income is intentionally reported incorrectly to obtain benefits or increase benefits from the food stamp program. Local officials feel it is not likely an employer would conspire with his employees to defraud the government. Employers simply have nothing to gain when their criminal responsibility is taken into consideration. The employer commits a criminal offense when he intentionally signs a false income verification statement. The provisions are contained in The Penal Code of Texas, Section 32.32, subsection b.

It is recognized that some abuse is possible in any program. Consequently, an investigation unit has been created by the State Department of Public Welfare. This unit is composed primarily of former police officers who are familiar with investigative responsibilities and the proper legal procedures. If you have knowledge of any attempts to defraud the government, you should report it immediately to the welfare office at Cochran County Courthouse, Room B-3, Morton or telephone 266-5138.

IS THE CHURCH PART OF YOUR LIFE?

You don't need to know much about polar bears to get the mes-sage here. This cub hasn't a worry in the world. But one day he'll grow up to know all the frustrations of life in captivity. Motherhood is security . . . but only for awhile. And the human mother is no more able to perpetuate the bond of total protection than is her wild counterpart.

Some parents today have abdicated their responsibility to guide leir children. They have broken the family bonds too soon. Their hildren pay for this negligence: They age—but they don't mature. Whims are fickle...and momentary. The Church strives to replace such elusive goals with something more substantial, some-thing more stable. The inner values of character and faith remain as vital today as ever.

Such stability and serenity could be your greatest g

Local owners new eligible for federal flood insurance

"We think the new, expanded National Flood Insurance

Program offers the best way of protecting property owners from

While flood insurance is available to all residents of the community, Mr. Hunter emphasized that the Federal

Under the expanded program, broader coverage can be obtained for all buildings and their contents. The limit of insurance for single-family homes is now $35,000, and $100,000 for other residential and nonresidential buildings, at the subsidized rate of 25 cents per $100 coverage. The rategoes to 40 cents per $100 for non-residential buildings. The contents of all residential buildings can be insured up to $10,000 per unit at 35 cents per $100 of coverage, and the rate goes to 75 cents per $100 for the contents of all nonresidential structures up to a maximum of $100,000 in coverage per unit. Policies are effective immediately during the first 30

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced today that effective May 5, 1975, the City of Morton has been accepted into the National Flood Insurance Program.

This means, said Acting Federal Insurance Administrator, J. German couple guests in Miller home

Hans Werner Kummerow and his fiance, Miss Gabriele Bachmann of Nurnberg, Germany were visitors last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kummerow was the Miller's tour guide when they were in Europe in October 1973. He is a senior law student at the University of Erlangen.

Miss Bachmann is a registered nurse and works as a pediatric nurse in the Medical School Hospital at the University of Erlangen.

Miss Kummerow and Bachmann have spent three weeks touring the United States. This was Miss Bachmanns first trip and the fourth one for him.

He spent one year in La Puente, California as an American Field Service Exchange Student. He later returned to the States while serving as an officer in the German Navy and again as an officer on a German freighter which brought a cargo of Volkswagens to Corpus Christi.

They were impressed with the friendly reception by the people of Morton and the flat terrain of the plains area.

Kummerow was the guest communities across the country. He congratulated the local governing body here for taking action before the July 1, 1975 deadline imposed under the Act for enrolling in the program.

The program is designed to stimulate individual participation in it as protection against natural disasters, and to help promote sound flood plain management on the part of local governing authorities.

In becoming eligible under the program, a community must submit an application in which it certifies that it has adopted certain minimum flood plain management measures for the flood-prone areas of that community which conform with Federal requirements. These measures vary according to the characteristics of the community and the nature of specific flood threats. But they are generally designed to regulate the future development of flood hazard areas, and to ultimately require many mixed emotions arise. This is the place I have had success and failure, happiness and sadness, and discipline and maturity. Over the last few months it has really been hard for me to realize that this is my last year of high school - attending the last football and basketball games, having the last playday, the last banquet. And the very hardest thing this year for me was playing my last tennis match. At this point I really became aware that the "high school" phase of my life was ending. There are so many things to remember, yet the future holds so many promises. Although plan to be a medical receptionist some time in the future, I will never forget the many experiences and memories I have of Morton High School.

Area Scouts compete in Bull Lake camporee

Scouts from the George White District Boy Scouts of America gathered at Bull Lake on Friday, May 16, to participate in the district's Spring Camporee. Some may ask, "What is a camporee?" It is many things. It's the thundering of hundreds of feet on their way to an evening campfire. It's the blue smoke from many campfires cooking hamburg mulligan or spaghetti or ham and eggs or French toast. It's the patter of rain on many tents at night. It's the ripple of wind-blown flags in the morning sun. It's catching the idea of teamwork in a patrol. It's the spirit that says, "Our gang is as good as anybody." It's "Young America" learning self-reliance firsthand

A camporee is a showplace of the Scout program and, therefore goes far beyond just a gathering

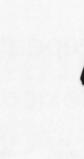

The Spring Camporee was designed to test scouts on various camping skills. The events were as follows: First Aid Contest,
