Primary Elections Saturday

Floyd County voters will join voters throughout Texas Saturday in electing presidential delegates for the national political conventions.

The only contested race on the local level in the Democratic primary is the one for county sheriff, where C. L. McKay, Fred A. Cardinal and incumbent L. L. "Bud" Rainey are the candidates.

Floyd County Democrats running unopposed are Jonelle Fawver for county tax assessor-collector; Kenneth Bain, Jr. for county attorney; John R. (Randy) Hollums for District Attorney, 110 Judicial District; George Miller for District Judge, 110th Judicial District; Grigsby "Doodle" Milton for county commissioner, Precinct No. 3; and Aaron Carthel for county commissioner, Precinct No. 1.

None of the above face Republican opposition in the November general election.

Only choices for Republicans are for the presidential delegates (they can vote for any four of eight delegate candidates, four for President Ford, four for Ronald Reagan) and for United States Senator, where three candidates are listed on the ballot. The Republican ballot will have one candidate for railroad commissioner, Walter Wendladt, and one for county chairman, John N. Farris.

Democrats vote for any three from a list of nine presidential delegates, three each for Jimmy Carter, Lloyd Bentsen, and George Wallace.

Also on the Democratic primary ballot: candidates for U. S. Senator, U. S. Representative, Railroad Commissioner, Associate Justice, Supreme Court, Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals, Associate Justice, Court of Civil Appeals, and State Representative, 66th District.

Absentee voting in both primaries ended Tuesday with 76 votes cast in the Democratic and eight in the Republican. The County Clerk's office described the absentee turnout as "average."

A sample ballot and lists of voting places and precinct conventions for Democrats are published inside this edition.

Mackenzie Recreation Starts May 1

Recreation facilities at Lake Mackenzie will open May 1 for fishing, hiking and camping, according to directors.

Plenty of good camping sites will be available, some with tables and canopies. More tables, covers and grills are to be built as soon as funds become available.

Twenty eight electric hookups for motor homes and travel trailers have been provided.

Rest Rooms are available on each side of the lake, also trash barrels located at convenient points.

Entrance to the lake is at the northeast corner off FM 207 between Silverton and Claude. All permits will be available at the new ticket office at the gate entrance.

At the last board meeting, the following charges for permits were established:

Daily permits good Sunday through Thursday per person over 12 years of age, $1; 12 years old and under, no charge.

Season permits for Friday and Saturday, $1.50.

For camping out, and additional charge of $1 per family for either tent or pickup with topper cover will be made.

For travel trailers or motor home without refrigerated air conditioning, a daily charge of $3 will be made for hookups; with refrigerated air conditioning, $5 per day.

No water supply is available at present at the lake. Drinking and camp water must be brought to the lake. Also, all food must be brought from the outside since there are no concessions on the grounds.

Recent rains have caused an 8-inch increase in the water level, now standing at 42 feet at the dam.

There will be no boats or other floating devices allowed at this time on account of the water level not being up to the boat ramp.

Fishing will be restricted to bank fishing with only one rod or pole per person, no throw lines or trot lines allowed. Fishing should be good since lots of channel cat, trout, black bass and crappie have been stocked during the past two and one half years.

Last sampling of the fish by the wardens included a 5-pound, 13 ounce black bass. This spring, 300,000 small walleyes were stocked in the lake.

Fees collected will be used for recreational improvements at the lake. No tax or bond money is available for recreational purposes.

Converting A Standard Recipe to Metric

The Texas Department of Agriculture home economist offers this recipe for Texas Strawberry Ice Cream as an illustration of how to convert a standard recipe to metric. Some quantities are rounded up or down for convenience.

(standard)	(computations)	(metric)
1/2 cup sugar	.5 x .24 c = .120 l; .120 l x 1,000 = 120 ml (rounded up to 125 ml)	125 ml sugar
1/4 tsp. salt	5 x .25 t = 1.25 ml	1.25 ml salt
3 egg yolks, beaten	5 x 2 t = 10 ml	3 egg yolks, beaten
2 tsp. vanilla	.47 x 1 pt = .47 l; .47 l x 1,000 = 470 ml (rounded up to 500 ml)	10 ml vanilla
1 pint whipping cream	.24 x 2 c = .48 l; .48 l x 1,000 = 480 ml (rounded up to 500 ml)	500 ml whipping cream
2 cups strawberries		500 ml strawberries

Method for crank-type freezer: Mix salt, milk and egg yolks in saucepan and cook over medium heat until bubbles appear around edge of mixture. Be sure to stir constantly. Allow mixture to cool to room temperature. While mixture cools, crush strawberries with sugar. Then add strawberry-sugar mixture, vanilla and cream (unwhipped). Freeze according to freezer directions. Method for refrigerator: Combine sugar, salt, milk and egg yolks in saucepan; cook over medium heat stirring constantly until bubbles appear around edge of mixture. Allow mixture to cool to room temperature. Stir in vanilla. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze 1/2 to 1 hour, or until mixture is partially frozen. Beat cream until peaks form. Spoon the milk mixture from tray into a chilled bowl; whip until smooth. Fold in whipped cream. Then fold in crushed strawberries. Pour into two refrigerator trays and allow to freeze approximately 3 hours, or until firm, stirring from time to time. Yield: 1 quart or nearly 1 liter.

MORE NEWS FOR VETERANS

A large number of children of totally disabled veterans are currently receiving medical care from private physicians and hospitals through the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Veterans Administration (CHAMPVA), according to D. G. Ayres, Veterans Service Officer for Floyd County.

This cost-sharing program is an extension of the military's Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services (CHAMPUS). The military program permits dependents of active duty and retired members to also obtain civilian medical care on the cost-sharing plan.

Eligible for the medical care through CHAMPVA are the minor children of veterans who are rated permanently and totally disabled by the Veterans Administration because of diseases or injuries which were incurred or aggravated during a period of active military service. Entitlement also extends to the minor children of deceased veterans when the deaths were caused by disabilities which were incurred during military service. For inpatient hospital care, the eligible child or his custodian is liable for 25% of the total bill incurred, while CHAMPVA, through a commercial insurance carrier, will pay the remaining 75%. Out-patient medical expenses are handled in the same reimbursement manner once a required annual deduction is met.

The age of 18 years generally will terminate entitlement for a child under this program.

Our future with Gifford-Hill's aluminum pipe has made history

Farmers tend to be pretty tough customers. They want to get everything they can out of every nickel they spend. And that's good.

Because the tougher they get the more likely they are to use Gifford-Hill's aluminum pipe.

First of all, it's clad.

But that's not all. It's also roll formed. The walls are so you don't have to worry about thin spots and cracking.

And the ends are reinforced so you don't have to worry about getting out of round.

Whether you need a pivotal system, an underground aluminum surface system, you just can't outdo us.

All you have to do is take a look at our past. That's a very good idea about what to expect in the future.

An open letter to Floyd County from SHERIFF BUD RAINEY

April 29, 1976

Dear Friends,
"Needless to say, it is election time. I wish that I could talk with every voter in Floyd County before May 1, but my work -- the job you elected me to do four years ago -- must take priority. This makes it impossible for me to meet with each of you personally.
"I do want, however, to bring you up to date on several things that have happened in your Sheriff's Office in an attempt to upgrade law enforcement in Floyd County. First, I believe that proper stress has been laid upon the importance of a professional police outlook and professional police standards. Every deputy sheriff is certified by continuous training through the Texas command level, it is reasonable to insist upon even higher education standards. As a result, I have personally continued at Wayland Baptist College. These college degree in law enforcement at my own time - to work towards a educational requirements have proven an asset in building better relationships between the Sheriff's Office and your home. We have had better communication with each other than ever before.

"Professional law enforcement has been my life! My work for six years in Floyd County as a Texas Highway Patrolman was enhanced because of the training received at Texas' Law Enforcement Academy in Austin from which I graduated as a patrolman. This has been supplemented on many occasions by additional police seminars and training programs. I now hold the advanced certification, the highest certification that can be earned through the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education. I also hold the Instructors Certification, and am qualified to instruct Law Enforcement Classes in Texas.

"Second, better communication with the community has been achieved with the establishment of a Sheriff's Office in Lockney. We also have established a direct telephone line from the Lockney area to your Sheriff's Office in Floydada. This faster and more convenient means of communications brings all of us closer together.

"A third factor has been the installation of a teletype system. This modern piece of equipment provides direct access to the National Crime Information Center in Washington, and to the Texas Crime Information Center in Austin. It also provides direct access to the Texas Department of Public Safety in Austin which houses seven state law divisions - Texas Rangers, Texas Highway Patrol, Drivers License, License and Weight, Motor Vehicle Inspection, Intelligence, and Narcotics.

"Your Sheriff's Office is as close as your telephone - 24 hours a day. This is new within the last three years. This around the clock availability means a greater community service role and provides for a greater law enforcement role as well. "But on the other side, crimes are occurring in Floyd County as well as the Nation. The average National Clearance rate is approximately 14 percent. In Floyd County, our crime clearance rate is approximately 24 percent - ahead of the national average. While it is true that a modern police department requires additional costs, it is just as true that a modern police department as professionals, confidence in our integrity, and public conviction that we will perform our mission. We thank you for the privilege of serving you these past four years and look forward to working with you after the next election in making Floyd County one of the safest counties in Texas in which to live and raise a family."

Sincerely,
L. L. "Bud" Rainey

Texas Unemployment Rate Drops

Texas' unemployment rate took a healthy drop of three-tenths of one percent in March. Texas Employment Commission Chairman Harold K. Dudley said today in Austin.

"The March rate of 5.1 percent is one of the lowest in the nation," Dudley declared, adding that some 30,000 workers in Texas found jobs during the month. The state's February rate was 5.4 percent. Dudley attributed the state trend to four major factors: settlement of labor-management disputes, increase in agricultural employment, increases in allied industries, and seasonal activity in tax-return preparation services.

"The picture for March is an indication of the healthy economy in the state," Dudley commented. "I believe that the state will continue to have one of the lowest unemployment rates in the nation and that the Texas economy will continue to expand."

The TEC official added a prediction that the state unemployment rate would continue to drop, generally at a slow rate.

Twelve of Texas' 23 major labor areas had March jobless rates below that of the state. The 12 include Abilene, 3.1 percent; Austin, 3.6 percent; Dallas-Fort Worth, 4.6 percent; Galveston-Texas City, 4.6 percent; Houston, 4.9 percent; Lubbock, 3.5 percent; Midland, 2.5 percent; Odessa, 3.5 percent; San Angelo, 3.0 percent; Tyler, 4.9 percent; Wichita Falls, 3.8 percent.

Major labor areas exceeding the state average were Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange, 5.8 percent; Brownsville-Harlingen-San Benito, 9.4 percent; Corpus Christi 6.6 percent; El Paso, 8.7 percent; Laredo, 15.6 percent; Longview, 6.5 percent; McAllen-Pharr-Edinburg, 8.9 percent; San Antonio 7.0 percent; Sherman; Denison 8.5 percent; Texarkana 8.9 percent; Waco, 5.2 percent.

During the first three months of this year, TEC found over 96,000 jobs for workers throughout the state. This was a gain of nearly 20 percent over the corresponding period of 1975.

Caprock Canyons State Park

QUITAQUE--The surrounding habitat of caprock, canyons and scenery has prompted the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to rename lake Theo to Caprock Canyons State Park located four miles north of Quitaque in Briscoe county.

The new 13,600 acre park is open to visitors without charge from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily at the present time. These hours will be changed later this spring and extend the time to 9 p.m. each evening.

Only the lake area is open to day use with several picnic tables and some good fishing in the 120 acre lake.

"The clear lake is located in one of the park's deep ravines and it stays clean because there is another lake upstream that catches all the silt and debris," said Dennis Wynne, park superintendent.

A master plan has been devised to develop and open the area to full use by 1980 and this would include overnight camping, hiking throughout the park, photography and other park activities, said Wynne.

Construction is underway at the present time on the face of the earthen dam which will dress-up the structure and riprap will be placed along the water level to stop erosion by wave action.

One of the most interesting residents of the new park is the aoudad sheep. This animal, an African import, has increased its range in the rough country along the caprock with as many as 60 sheep being spotted in one group on the park.

No hunting or firearms will be permitted on the park as all state park lands are wildlife sanctuaries.

Many other Texas natives are seen daily in the park such as mule deer, quail, wild turkey and over 120 species of birds over a 12 month period. These species have been recorded by Panhandle and South Plains bird clubs. Rattlesnakes also call this park home.

Fishermen are reporting good catches of crappie and channel catfish and bass are becoming more numerous on stringers leaving the lake.

Anglers or boaters want to put their craft on the lake are restricted to boats less than 19 feet in length and motors under 12 horsepower. This rule applies to all state lakes under 225 acres in size.

All regulations pertaining to a Texas fishing license, boating safety requirements and rules will apply to Caprock Canyons lake. Visitors are reminded that all flowers, plants, rocks, artifacts and wood (including firewood) are to be left as they are found in the park.

The park gates will be locked at 5 p.m. and later this year at 9 p.m. each evening. Anyone left in the park will have to contact park headquarters or walk four miles to Quitaque for help.

Visitors can find the new park by driving to Quitaque and turning north at the intersection of highway 86 and FM 1063. Approximately three miles north, a colored sign saying Lake Theo will be seen. Turn left and go one mile to the park entrance.

MANAGING PONDS FOR MORE FISH-- Most farm ponds in Texas are producing fish far below their potential because they are not managed properly, says a fisheries specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Texas has about one-half million acres of small farm ponds, and these can produce up to a thousand pounds of fish per acre annually under proper management. Channel or blue catfish offer the best potential. In lieu of a commercial ration, fertilizer should be applied in the spring at the rate of 100 to 150 pounds per acre to help produce food for the fish. Control of aquatic weeds is also important.

Pre-Registration May 6

There will be a pre-registration and immunization clinic held in the A. B. Duncan Elementary School Cafeteria in Floydada Thursday, May 6th, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Parents of Migrant Children who will be four years old by September 1st but not yet five are urged to register their children at this time.

Parents of children who will be five years old by September 1st but not yet six are urged to register their children at this time for Kindergarten.

Parents of children who will be six years old by September 1st are urged to register their children at this time for the First Grade for the coming school year.

Parents are urged to bring their child's birth certificate and immunization record signed by your doctor.

Your cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated by your school officials.

Consumers Get More Credit Protection

May 14 will be a turning point in credit policy history. The holder-in-due-course doctrine will no longer automatically require credit users of continue payments when they were defrauded by the seller.

Leaning toward helping the consumers, this new Federal Trade Commission ruling keeps lenders and finance companies holding a contract from repossessing merchandise or demanding payments when the consumer cannot get the seller to stand behind his product.

Under certain conditions consumers can stop payments and get back money already paid on installment contracts when their complaint is stalled by the seller.

To be protected by the new ruling:

Your claim must be valid, and you must document with evidence that you have been defrauded or deceived.

Your credit contract must have been arranged or recommended by the seller involved, or he may have sold it to another creditor. If you finance the purchase on your own, you may not be protected.

Credit card purchases are not covered by this rule. But similar protection is provided under the Fair Credit Billing Act.

Traditionally, legal acts governing credit contracts have been strongly oriented toward protecting the creditor to promote free enterprise. This new ruling indicates increased awareness of the role of the consumer in the free enterprise system.

FLOYD COUNTY

The question has been raised by interested people as to whom Fred Cardinal would select as deputies in the case he is elected Sheriff of Floyd County.

Fred has asked to use this opportunity to make this question clear.

Quote, "I have made no commitments to anyone as to whom I would hire to fill my staff.

Should I be elected sheriff, I will hire honest, competent, and capable people who are professional law enforcement personnel with public service Number One in minds."

As the May 1st election rapidly approaches now is the time for voters to select a man to fill the very responsible position of sheriff.

We must consider these points:

Do we want a mature, honest, religious man with the best of morals? If so, then the answer is clear! We Must elect Fred Sheriff of Floyd County.

Exercise your privilege and vote May 1st

Spoiled Brat

Most normal people were genuinely horrified by the recent heckling incidents in Madison, Wisconsin. Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. Henry Jackson had one of the hecklers spit right in his face and the nation was treated to news pictures of the disgraceful incident.

People wonder what kind of creep it is that would spit in the face of a political candidate and make fun of the crippled condition of another, Governor George Wallace.

A Chicago newspaperman, Mike Royko, also wondered about this. So he checked it out, looking into the background of the young man who spit in Henry Jackson's face. Here is his report.

To begin with, his name is Ben Masel, he is 21, and he was a student at the University of Wisconsin until he dropped out to devote all of his energies to being an obnoxious pain in the lower back. He is connected in some capacity with a rag back. He is connected in some capacity with a rag back. He is connected in some capacity with a rag back.

For further information, we contacted his parents. They live in a suburb of New York City. It is upper middle class. The cheapest homes are in the $50,000 range. Most of the residents are professional people. The schools are excellent. The houses have lawns and big trees.

Ben's mother said: "Ben is very, very, very bright. He has a very high IQ. He was a national merit semifinalist in high school. Sports? No, he wasn't active in sports. But he is an excellent chess player."

No surprises. I have yet to run across a Yippie type who came out of a working class background. And Ben definitely couldn't have.

Why not? Let's say he had grown up in some city neighborhood.

Long before he got to be 21, he would have learned that it is not nice to spit in somebody's face, even if you don't like their political views.

The first time he did it — whether it was on the street corner, in the hallway in school, or in the neighborhood bar — somebody would have pounded large lumps on his very, very, very smart head.

But the way Ben undoubtedly grew up, if he spit at someone, the school psychologist would have discussed it with him and his parents, and everybody would have finally concluded that maybe he was right. Or if not right, not entirely wrong.

I can only guess at that, though, because Ben's mother, and also his father, who was on an extension, said they did not wish to discuss him further.

And I can't blame them. One day the nurse puts this sweet bundle in your arms. You clothe him, feed him good nourishing food, teach him to talk, and send him to good schools, raise him with all

Truman Roberts Seeks Re-election Judge TCCA

Truman Roberts is strongly supported for a second term as Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals by an important poll, newspaper editorials and key endorsements from all parts of the state. His outstanding record as a prosecutor, District Judge and one of five judges, for the past five years, on the state's highest court in criminal matters is recognized in the State Bar of Texas poll. Judge Roberts received 76.4 percent of the ballots cast by more than 11,000 attorneys in this significant vote. "Roberts' record on the court...is one of a thorough-going commitment to equity and impartiality in the execution of the law," the Corpus Christi Caller comments. "The Caller feels he has fully earned a second term on the bench." The Houston Chronicle endorsed Judge Roberts with praise of a sound job, his devotion to the law and a reputation for fairness and integrity in all matters pertaining to his duties. "It is our opinion that Judge Roberts has been a credit to the court and has contributed greatly in elevating its stature," an Austin American-Statesman editorial said. "He deserves re-election and the court system from district to appellate level would benefit."

Attorneys of Victoria County said "We feel that Judge Roberts' knowledge of the law and his demonstrated ability to apply it fairly to both sides of the docket make it imperative that he remain on the bench."

Other lawyer support included expressions from the suburban Houston Lawyers Association, Amarillo Trial Lawyers Association, Walker County (Huntsville) lawyers, 52nd Judicial District Bar Association and Mesquite Bar Association.

Roberts was a prosecutor for 11 years as County Attorney and then District Attorney of the 52nd Judicial District. He served 10 years as Presiding Judge of the 52nd Judicial District before election to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Judge Roberts is a past president of the District and County Attorneys Association of Texas and former chairman of the Judicial Section of the State Bar. He served for five years on the Executive committee of the Governor's Criminal Justice Council and was a member of the Texas Senate Advisory Committee on Youth Affairs.

the advantages, and send him away to a college. Then you pick up the front page and there he is spitting in Henry Jackson's face.

No wonder so many people are using the Pill. For further insights into Ben, the high IQ spitball, we talked to some of his present associates.

Sombody named Aaron Kay, who answered the phone at the Yipster Times, said:

"You want to know about Ben? I bet you heard about the spitting incident. Well, you have to understand that spitting on public officials is Yippie tradition. Remember when Ehrlichman got spat on during the Watergate trial? Remember? Well, you are talking to the guy who did it!"

Just consider that. Here is a person, who, by normal standards, is a grown man. Eighteen months ago he spit at someone. And he's still bragging about it. Can you imagine how he must have carried on when he finally beat the old bed-wetting problem, assuming he has?

Kay was still babbling about all the spitting he and Ben are going to do at the Republican convention when I hung up.

In Chicago, we found another social oddity named Michael Chance, who is also a correspondent for the Yipster Times. They seem to have a staff that is equal in size, and in other respects, to many well-known asylums.

Chance said that people should not get so excited about somebody spitting in Jackson's face and mocking George Wallace's crippled condition.

"It was nothing personal against either of them. You have to understand the theory behind it. The days of violent protest are over. Now we do things to attract attention, and that's exactly what this did. All Ben did was injure egos, which is better than hitting people on the head with lead pipes.

"I first met Ben when he showed up as a street freak at the Republican convention in 1972. He's been with us ever since.

"He is a very smart kid. Did you know that he is a chess champion in Wisconsin?"

Wow. But can he spit and play chess at the same time?

I don't know about you, but I find all this reassuring. If these are America's radical revolutionaries, then we are safe. Long before they could overthrow anything, they would run out of saliva and collapse from dehydration.

WEATHER-DAMAGED GARDENS - If heavy rains, high winds or hail damage home vegetable gardens, the homeowner must decide whether to leave the damaged plants or to replant. If space is available, a horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service advises leaving some of the damaged plants and replanting the remainder. Since most vegetable seed will germinate rapidly now that the soil has warmed, replanting is often the best alternative. Whether leaving the damaged plants to recuperate or replanting, the overall delay in production will mean closer attention to insect control, watering and other maintenance practices.

Judge Truman Roberts

TRUMAN ROBERTS has established an outstanding record over the past five years as judge of the state's highest court in criminal matters. Before election to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals he served 11 years as County Attorney and District Attorney, then 10 years as Presiding Judge of the 52nd Judicial District.

Judge Roberts has been endorsed in his race (over a Dallas opponent) by 76.4 percent of more than 11,000 attorneys voting in the State Bar of Texas poll.

Vote to keep a man with this excellent experience and recognized ability. Vote in the Democratic Primary on May 1 to re-elect Judge Truman Roberts to a second term on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Jon Newton Seeks Texas Railroad Commission Office

JON NEWTON
Texas Railroad Commission

JON NEWTON BELIEVES:

"Texans are going to get a handle on rising utility costs only when we reject phony political promises and attack the problem both here and in Washington."

LEADING JOURNALISTS AGREE:

"The public will expect and demand of the commission a performance more judicious and exacting than ever before in its 85-year history. Of all the candidates in this important race, we believe Jon Newton is best qualified to meet the needs of this new day for the commission." Dallas Morning News, April 19, 1976.

"Jon Newton is an unusually well-qualified candidate for this office which today is of tremendous and growing importance to our state and nation." Kilgore News Herald, April 18, 1976.

"He has worked successfully for consumer and environmental causes, he is for a realistic and wise use of our state's resources and he has spoken out in federal forums for adequate energy policies." Port Arthur News, April 20, 1976.

"If a voter wants to do something about solving energy and transportation problems, one effective way would be to vote for Jon Newton for Texas Railroad Commission." Houston Chronicle, Feb. 15, 1976.

"Newton talks common sense on energy and is ready to go to bat for all Texans... (his) views are sound, his goals admirable and his qualifications superior." Victoria Advocate, Feb. 15, 1976.

"We need men like Jon in every capacity in state government." Beeville Bee-Picayune, Jan. 19, 1976.

"Ask Jon Newton' is becoming the byword around the Capitol when it comes to energy and utility regulations." Houston Post political column, Feb. 15, 1975.

JON NEWTON HAS THE ANSWERS.

VOTE FOR THE RESPONSIBLE DEMOCRAT FOR THE TEXAS RAILROAD COMMISSION.

Pd. Pol. Adv., Jon Newton Campaign Committee, Tom Hagan, Treasurer, P.O. Box 1952, Austin, Texas 78767

Jon Newton of Beeville wound up his Democratic campaign for the Texas Railroad Commission this week with a pledge to reshape the agency's priorities so that the consuming public will have a larger role in its vital decisions on energy and transportation.

"Since it became the nation's top agency regulating oil and gas production many years ago, the Commission has tended to be industry-oriented," Newton said. "This made sense so long as the price of energy was stable and within reach of most consumers. Now this has changed and the consumers desperately need a stronger voice in Commission policies."

Newton, a lawyer-legislator who serves on the Governor's Energy Advisory Council and the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, is seeking the position on the three-member Railroad Commission now held by Ben Ramsey, who is retiring.

He is the only candidate to win the endorsement of a substantial number of newspapers, including the Dallas News, Houston Chronicle, Port Arthur News, Kilgore News Herald, Victoria Advocate and Wichita Falls Times. The Houston Post referred to him as the Legislature's leading authority on energy and utility regulation matters.

The Dallas News commented that "if the qualifications were the only criterion for election to public office, Newton would be a shoo-in."

Newton has campaigned for Railroad Commission action to reduce the economic hardship of rising utility rates. He has opposed further intrusion of federal regulation of Texas natural resources, contending that the energy crisis will not be solved by giving the Federal Power Commission control "in order to continue a bankrupt energy policy which has already caused enough problems for the Texas consumer."

Newton reported that expansion of federal control would cause a reduction of $7 billion in personal income for Texans over the next 10 years, a loss of 36,000 jobs, and a loss of at least $1.7 billion in state and local revenues. These figures are from a study by the Governor's Energy Advisory Council.

Newton also has campaigned for steps to improve public confidence in the Railroad Commission, which has drawn fire in the controversy over utility rates.

He has proposed that there be a two-year moratorium on Railroad Commissioners leaving public office and going to work for regulated companies, and that every employee of the Commission be required to file an annual statement reflecting his or her interests and holdings in regulated industries.

"There has been a great deal of criticism of the Commission which has been magnified during this political season," Newton said. "But I believe it is important to keep such criticism responsible and to look ahead toward a stronger and more effective agency. Energy is a long-term problem and it is not going to be solved by partisan politics and demagoguery."

The Floyd Philosopher

Wants Truth In Advertising Applied To All Politicians' Speeches

Dear editor:

I was reading along not paying much attention to what the news article was saying when I caught myself, went back up the column and read the paragraph again.

What it said was that Ron Nesson, the President's press secretary, said that Mr. Ford was shaking up his speech-writing staff but it didn't amount to much since only four of the speech-writers were affected.

I got to thinking, Only four? How many has he got? Then I wondered some more. How many has the Vice President got? The Secretary of State? Senators? Congressmen? Governors? For all I know, Mayors and maybe even grammar school principals?

In other words, in most cases, when a public official makes a speech these days he's only saying what his speech-writers wrote, and the better he can read the better it sounds, I often wondered why President Johnson allowed his writers to use the word "substantive" in his speeches as he could never get the hang of pronouncing it. I can't either.

Anyway, I got to thinking some more. If what a politician says is what somebody else wrote for him, shouldn't the truth-in-advertising law apply? Shouldn't, as he talks on television, a line move across the bottom of the screen saying This Speech Written by Goodman Ace, or whoever the writer was? If a cornflakes manufacturer is required to say on the box what the contents consist of, shouldn't a politician be required to tell who manufactured his speech? Just as a shampoo company is required to say what its goop contains, so many parts of this, so much percentage of that, shouldn't a politician, if more than one writer composed his speech, be required to reveal: a percent of this speech was written by Goodman Ace, 15 percent by Robert Orbin, 25 percent by John Casserly, and the rest came from the Encyclopedia Britannica?

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Veterans May Again Be Eligible For Home Loans

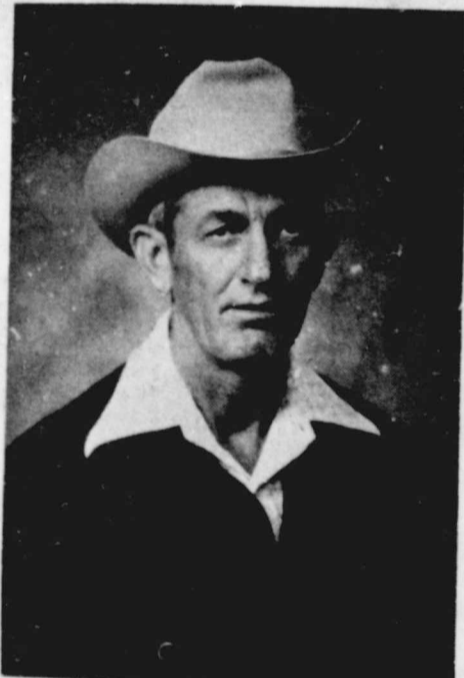

A large number of veterans may be eligible to have their GI home loan eligibility reinstated. According to D. G. Ayres, Veterans Service Officer for Floyd County, the Veterans Housing Act of 1974 relaxed restrictions on reinstating GI home loan eligibility. Prior to the enactment of this legislation, loan benefits could be restored only in cases demonstrating a "compelling reason." Since January 1, 1975, the VA has been permitted to restore loan benefits whenever the property has been disposed of and the home loan paid in full.

Through the GI Home Loan Program a veteran can obtain a loan from a private lender for the purchase, construction, repair or improvement of a home which is to be occupied by the veteran. The VA guarantees 60% of the loan amount up to a maximum of $17,500. There is no limit on the loan amount except that the loan may not exceed the reasonable value of the property appraised by the VA. Veterans who have benefited before 1974 may have loan entitlement obligations for a maximum benefit. Maximum benefits were raised to $7,000 in 1968 and to $17,500 in 1974. The additional difference between present maximum and the amount used in 1974. Further information on the GI Loan Program can be obtained from the Veterans Service Officer.

More than nine million

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends for the kindness shown us while Lewis was in the hospital at Lubbock and here at the Caprock Hospital.

Space will not permit all the names we could mention but a special thanks to everyone who so generously gave to the love fund, which helped very much, also for the many cards, calls, food, prayers and words of encouragement. We will never forget your kindness. May God bless each and everyone of you. The Lewis Gilliland Family 4-29p
