PAT WEBSTER

THE DAIRY QUEEN RESTAURANT HAS A NEW DIRECTOR OF MARKETING.

She is Miss Pat Webster, just appointed to the position by I. B. (Barney) Chapman II Dairy Queen Companies of Hurst.

Announcement was made by I. B. (Barney) Chapman II of Fort Worth, president and majority owner of the four corporations that make up the Chapman group, all of which will be served by Miss Webster.

She will direct new-product experiments, program sales and sales promotion, and will receive and appraise recommendations of local restaurant managers. She will work directly with the companies' area supervisors, as well as the managers of the four corporations' 52 Dairy Queen restaurants in three states.

A graduate of Texas Tech, Miss Webster has previously worked in marketing for the Buckboard and McDonald's restaurants and for the Union Bank and Reed's department store in Danbury, Conn. The four Chapman companies are: Dairy Queen of West Texas, Inc., with 24 restaurants in West Texas and New Mexico; Dairy Queen of Taylor County, Inc., with six DQ's in Abilene and Clyde; Dairy Queen of Central Texas, Inc., with 17 restaurants in the San Antonio-Austin region; and Dairy Queen of Richmond, Inc., with five restaurants in and near Richmond, Va.

Preschool children frequently experience terrifying anxiety dreams and nightmares. Nightmare activity declines for the 4 to 8 year olds and further declines from 8 to 14 years of age, according to Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Mrs. Randall Stapp (the former Virginia McCoy) was honored with a shower June 19 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Moody.

Mrs. Arlon Miller registered guests after they were greeted at the door by Mrs. Viloa Moody.

Mrs. Randall Stapp was in the receiving line along with her mother, Mrs. Louis Stapp and the groom's of the bride, was flower girl. Each was attired identical to the other wedding attendants.

Mrs. Donville Moore of Crosbyton, was at the bride's register book.

The bride, escorted and presented in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organza over bridal satin designed and made by the bride and her mother. The stand-up collar, wide cuffs, and V shaped yoke in front and back was of French imported lace. The softly gathered skirt falling into a chapel length train, was bordered at the hemline with a wide ruffle of matching lace. A waist length tiered veil of illusion fell from a cap of satin and lace. The bride carried a colonial nosegay of white daisies, carnations and baby's breath with picot streamers.

The groom wore a white Windsor tuxedo, matching vest and white ruffled shirt with a black bow tie. A reception followed the ceremony at the bride's parents home. The outdoor setting featured the serving table covered with white net over red, centered with a four-branched candelabra entwined with greenery and red and white carnations. The white three-tiered heart shaped wedding cake was decorated with red roses and was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The bride's bouquet and the bridesmaids nosegays were also added to the table.

Miss Lee Ann McElroy and Miss Billie Boland

The couple repeated vows before an altar bearing two arched votive candelabra at either side of a fifteen votive spiral candelabra, placed behind the altar. Large baskets of white gladioli and red carnations flanked each side and a white kneeling bench centered the wedding scene. Bridal aisle was marked with red satin bows.

John Priddy provided traditional wedding music at the piano and accompanied Mike Fisher as he sang, "Twelfth of Never," and "Wedding Prayer." He also accompanied the bride at the piano as she sang, "These Are the Best Times" just before the bridal couple left the altar.

Miss Peggy Littlefield served the bride as maid of honor. Attending as bridesmaids were Misses Debbie Harris, Debbie Bishop, Jan Mize and D'Ann Grant, sister of the groom. They were attired in identical red dotted swiss dresses trimmed in white lace with V necklines, short puffed sleeves, and belted empire waist. They wore white picture hats accented with red dotted swiss bands, and each carried a colonial nosegay of white daisies with touches of red and baby's breath.

The groom's father served as best man. Groomsman, who also served as ushers, were Randy Marsh, Dal Burrows, Scott Grant of Ft. Worth, cousin of the groom, and Kerry Grant, brother of the groom. They were dressed in black Windsor tuxedos with red ruffled shirts.

Matt Wideman, nephew of the bride of Lubbock, was ring bearer and Allyson Barnhart of Houston, cousin CHRYSANTHEMUMS FOR FALL COLOR—Get your landscape in shape for fall color by planting rooted cuttings of chrysanthemums, says a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The plants will be compact and will not need much staking. Plant chrysanthemums in a sunny area in fertile soil. Use a mulch to conserve moisture and control weeds. Sidedress with ammonium sulfate fertilizer six weeks after planting and again in mid-August.

LIVING'S GREAT AT 78 (68 in the winter)

Energy conservation pays its greatest dividends when directed at heating or cooling your home. For every degree you set your thermostat above 72° in the summer you can save, on the average, about 5% on your total bill. And for winter heating, every degree above 68° adds about 3% to your electric bill. Lighthouse Electric Cooperative reminds you that you can save money by the wise use of all appliances, but heating and cooling represent your biggest savings potential.

A yard is approximately the length from the tip of your nose (looking straight ahead) to your fingertips of an arm stretched out to the side. To determine the approximate length of a meter, just turn your head to the opposite side. A meter is just a little longer than a yard. Mrs. Janice Carberry, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

Without food additives, cottage cheese would separate, cookies would dry out in two days, foods with fat or oil would become rancid and marshmallows would get hard.

"God Bless America" Theme Of Youth Rally In Dallas

DALLAS—About 12,000 teenagers from throughout Texas will focus on the need for a spiritual resurgence in America here July 2-3, on the eve of the nation's bicentennial.

"God Bless America" is the patriotic-spiritual renewal theme of the annual Texas Baptist Youth Evangelism Conference at the Dallas Convention Center.

The large number of youth attending during a holiday time indicates their concern for a spiritual, moral and ethical revival in America," said Dr. Lester L. Morriss, director of evangelism for the 2.2-million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Morriss said youth will be a vital part of presenting the gospel message to the 4.7 million Texans unaffiliated with any church or synagogue.

Program personalities include Steve Davis, the former University of Oklahoma quarterback; evangelist Arthur Blessitt; Frank Pollard, pastor of First Baptist Church, Jackson, Miss.; and Ted Padgett, pastor of Arlington Heights Baptist Church, Fort Worth.

At one point in the program, the youth will be given an opportunity to kneel in prayer for national repentance outside the convention center.

The Floyd Philosopher Says American Enterprise Is Still Alive; Men's Vests Prove It

Immediately preceding the Youth Evangelism Conference, 1,000 participants in a five-day evangelism school will learn to share Christ and to live the Christian life.

Editor's note: the Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses, of all things, men's styles.

Dear Editor:

Some people are saying that the spirit of independence has gone out of America, that the old, original, individual aggressiveness is disappearing, that too many people are waiting around for the government to take care of them, little knowing that the government is having a hard enough time taking care of itself.

Such people have not been paying attention to men on television lately. They haven't noticed that more and more men are wearing vests.

The clothing industry for one, like buckskin wearers 200 years ago, still believe in and practice the pioneer spirit.

For years the clothing manufacturers thrived on women's willingness to be told what to wear, long skirts this year, short ones next year, although they much preferred to go from short to long because the other way around some women took their scissors and stayed in style. You can shorten a long dress but it's hard to lengthen a short one.

But then women started getting independent and put on pants, leaving the dress manufacturers and their fluctuating dress lengths about in the same shape barbers were when kids stopped getting haircuts.

Did the clothing manufacturers run to Washington for help? No. They took aim at men. First they tried changing the shape of the coat labels. This worked in some cases but not enough men noticed the change and kept wearing last year's suit. Then they flaired the pants leg, and that helped a lot, making some men with narrow cuffs ashamed to come out in public.

Now the manufacturers have come out with vests. From the President on up to Walter Cronkite, they're wearing them on television, makes no difference what the temperature is or that nobody has a pocket watch and a chain to drape across them.

This will go on I guess, even going so far as getting politicians to step off planes wearing hats, till some small group of radicals start a movement called Men's Liberation.

By the way, although it doesn't seem likely now, for a while I was speculating on how interesting it'd be if the Democrats nominated Jerry Brown and the Republicans Jerry Ford. Then all of us in this country could cast off our fears over what somebody else might think of us for taking a public stand on politics and defiantly put bumper stickers on our cars: "I'm For Jerry."

Yours faithfully, J.A.

Farm 'conference' is set for Lubbock

A "Listening Conference" sponsored by the Texas Farmers Union will be held in Lubbock on Monday, June 28. The conference will begin at 5:30 p.m. with a dutch treat dinner at Furr's Cafeteria in the Town and Country Shopping Center, 4th & University.

According to Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman, of Waco, the purpose of the "Listening Conferences" being held throughout West Texas is to receive comments and recommendations from Farmers Union members on issues now before the Congress. "We know that farmers and ranchers are greatly concerned about current legislation. We want to discuss these issues which are of great importance to producers and farm families including reform in the federal estate-tax laws, natural gas deregulation, the cotton check-off program, grain inspection legislation and the beef check-off and promotion act. It is important that we know how Farmers Union members across the country feel about these issues. The whole purpose of our trip is to hear directly from our members," Naman said.

Attending the series of conferences along with Naman will be Victor Ray, Director of the Department of Planning and Development for the National Farmers Union, from Denver, Colorado, and Kenneth Moss, Director of Field Operations for Texas Farmers Union.

Ray, who also serves as Assistant to the President of the nation wide general farm organization, is a nationally recognized expert in the field of group dynamics and is a frequent participant in national and regional farm conferences.

"With Victor Ray assisting us in these meetings and utilizing his expertise, we expect to have a series of very challenging and beneficial meetings for both the Farmers Union members attending and their farm organization spokesmen," Naman commented.

"I urge all Farmers Union members in the surrounding counties to mark their calendars and make plans now to attend the "Listening Conference," Naman said.

Other "Listening Conferences" sponsored by the state-wide farm organization will be held in Big Spring on Tuesday, June 29, 6:00 p.m. at Cokers Restaurant; in Anson, Wednesday, June 30 at noon, at the 66 Sirion Restaurant; and in Memphis, Thursday, July 1, at the Community Center beginning at 8:00 p.m. with a covered dish supper. The other two meetings will be preceded by a dutch-treat meal.

Pioneer woman lives on same farm 60 years

By MARIE HARRIS
Herald Regional Editor

Annie Matsler, 85, lives on the farm where she and her husband, the late Alvin Matsler, started their life together after their marriage on Christmas Eve of 1917. Her place is two and a half miles east of the Happy Union Community Center.

She is happy there, talking to her house plants and giving tender, loving care to them and her various fowls. "All of my life I have raised chickens," said the alert, active woman. "I have raised everything through the years — including turkeys." Now she has two peacocks, bantam chickens and guineas.

Mrs. Matsler said the peacocks are good watch dogs. "When something strange comes on the place, they start hollering — they even holler about a rabbit jumping around."

HER OTHER activities include piecing and hand-quilting quilts and attending meetings of the Happy Union Sewing Club twice a month. If she gets restless or bored she gets in her almost new car and drives to Plainview.

Mrs. Matsler, born in McLennan County near Waco, Jan. 30, 1891, came to Hale County with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Washington Lackey, Dec. 6, 1906. Her father was a farmer and bought a section of land about five miles south and a mile east of Plainview.

Annie, her mother, and her seven brothers and sisters, came here on the train, as far as Wright near present day Kress, and her father, who had brought the stock on ahead, met them in a covered wagon and took them to their new home.

MR. AND Mrs. Matsler milked cows and butchered beef cattle and hogs — "We would not have had any meat if we hadn't done so."

She described how they sugar-cured the pork, wrapped it in flour sacks, sewed them and hung them in a room in the smokehouse. In addition to smoking meat, the Matslers also hung beef on their windmill tower to dry and then wrapped it.

"We could not keep beef in the summer time," explained Mrs. Matsler, "but we kept hog meat all year."

She remembers how they raised a big garden and canned everything, and dried peas and beans. She used to help gather the corn and although she did not plow in the field, she and her children plowed the garden with one horse.

BEFORE the children were born, Annie often would ride the plow with her husband. "I was afraid to stay at the house by myself," she said. "Covered wagons would come by and I was scared when I was alone, but we were thrilled if any settlers camped and came to the house to visit and eat."

Peddlers used to come through the country with big packs on their backs and frightened Mrs. Matsler. "Once when two cows got loose, I saw them in the distance and thought they were peddlers, she said. "That's how silly I was!"

Mrs. Matsler was an adult leader for 4-H members from Bellvue, Happy Union and Ellen communities, as she lived near all of them. She was chaperoning a group of 4-Hers on a picnic and outing in Broadway Street Park in Plainview one time when a tornado hit and they spent the night on pallets in the shelter house.

ALSO Mrs. Matsler was a member of the Happy Union and Ellen Home Demonstration clubs and a charter member of the Hale County Home Demonstration Club. A member of the Methodist Church, she attended services at the Methodist Church at Ellen where she taught Sunday School, at the Ellen Baptist Church and the Happy Union Church. When the latter disbanded she moved her membership to St. John's Methodist Church in Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Matsler had seven children, Mrs. Robert (Jewell) Brooks of Hart, John Lackey Matsler of Oklahoma City, Ernest Matsler of Floydada, Mrs. Don (Majorie) Miller of Amarillo, Mrs. Robert (Virginia) McCollum of Fayetteville, N.C., and Mrs. Clifford (Annabelle) Wiley of Borger. She also has 14 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren. Mr. Matsler died Aug. 1, 1959.

When the Matsler family gets together for a reunion every year at a park in Plainview, usually about 80 members of the family attend.

Mrs. Matsler said her father-in-law, John Taylor Matsler, laid off the city of Plainview.

vors of veterans may contact their local Veterans Service Officer for assistance.

SUMMER ROSE CARE—Roses need special care during the summer so that they will provide an abundance of blooms in the fall, points out a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Roses should be watered thoroughly twice a week if there is no rain. A 10-15-5 fertilizer should be applied around the base of the plant and worked lightly into the soil. Pruning the plants back one-third will produce a lot of blooms in October. A spray program to control blackspot and mildew should continue throughout the season.

EXTENSION HAS SOLID BASE—The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has learned to meet the needs of the people of this state and therefore has a solid base on which to build, said Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the state agency last week at the biennial State Extension Conference. The single most important thing we can do, he challenged the 1,000-member professional staff, is to continue to strengthen the direct involvement of people in the design and execution of Extension educational programs. He also stressed the team approach of county agents (generalists) supported by subject matter specialists and the use of the result demonstration method of teaching as a key tool for effective education.

Leo Jackson Promoted At Irving Bank

Leo V. Jackson, son of Mrs. A. C. Jackson of Floydada, has been promoted by the Irving Bank & Trust Co. as senior vice president and trust officer. Jackson has been with the bank since 1967 when he was hired as vice president in charge of the new accounts department. In December, 1973, he was promoted to the trust department and before his present promotion served a dual role as a commercial loan officer and as officer in charge of the trust department. Earlier in his career Jackson was a high school teacher and football coach in several Texas cities. He moved to Irving in 1958 as athletic director for the Irving School System and later served as deputy superintendent of the school system.

Jackson was reared in Floyd County and was a certified residential appraiser prior to his employment with the Irving Bank. He has been president of the city's Rotary Club, an Irving Chamber of Commerce vice president, a district governor of Rotary International, a chairman of the City of Irving's 50th anniversary celebration and a member of the Irving Parks and Recreation board.

Jackson is married to the former Marian Farmer of Flomot.

VA NEWS

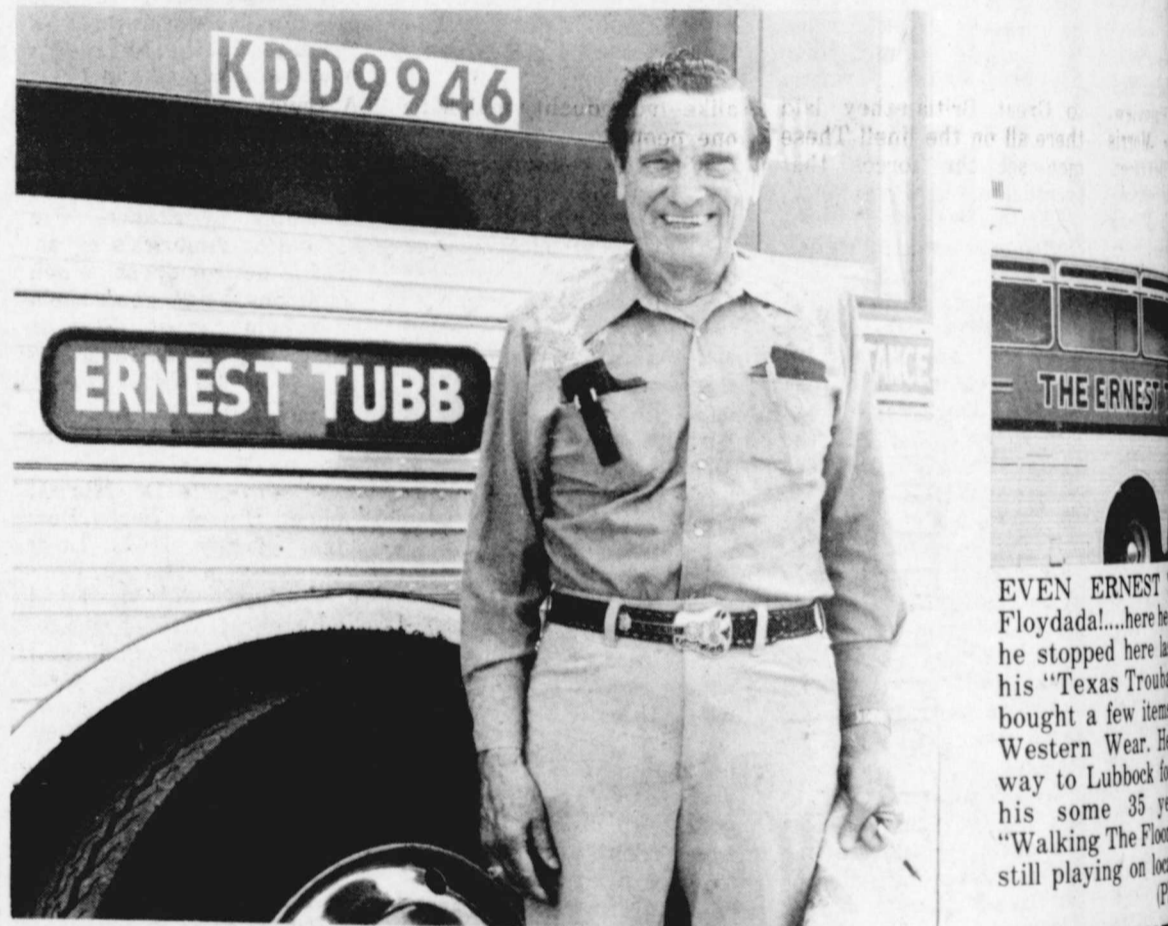

Additional inscriptions such as "Husband", "Wife", "Mother", "Father", and "Son", are permissible on U. S. Government headstones and markers according to D. G. Ayres, County Service Officer for Floyd County.

The Veterans Administration will furnish a headstone or marker for the unmarked grave of a veteran who was separated from active duty under conditions other than dishonorable or for the grave of a person who died on active duty.

The approved inscription for these Government furnished headstones and markers is the veteran's name, branch of service, year of birth and year of death. In addition, the Veterans Administration will provide the inscription of optional items on the marker, if so desired. These include grade, rate or rank, wartime service, day and month in dates of birth and death, and a religious emblem.

The VA has no objection to the addition of an inscription after delivery. However, this additional inscription must be done AT PRIVATE EXPENSE. Also the additional inscription must be within the bounds of good taste and the work accomplished in such a manner as not to mar the appearance of the monument. However, should damage occur as a result of this additional inscription the Government will not assume liability for replacing the monument.

Requests to inscribe additional words or phrases on a headstone or marker must be made on an individual basis to the VA National Cemetery System or surviwheat, if a farmer has any to harvest, is about $3.50 per bushel. Sims said he received that price for wheat 20 years ago when he was a beginning farmer.

"Costs have increased," he says. "Inflation has hit us everywhere except at the market where we need to be getting $6 per bushel to make money and we can't even get enough to break even."

Of his 2,000 acres last fall Sims planted 800 in wheat. As harvest approaches, he hopes for grain from 190 acres.

"That wheat is going to make less than the 33-35 bushels per acre we made last year—and last year's production was down," he said.

Sims says a combination of bad weather—during the past winter a lack of rainfall—and continued federal government interference is putting most farmers out of business.

Sims said his neighbors were being forced to sell out and move into other vocations.

"From October through March there has been a farm and farm equipment sale within 100 miles of here almost every day," he said. "A man can go only so long, then he has to get out from under it."

Sims said most farmers go to their bankers for loans on yearly basis, getting money needed for planting through harvest. Then, after harvest the first trip is back to the bank to pay off the loan.

"If you get hailed out or don't make a crop for any reason, maybe your banker will give you another year—let you mortgage your barns, your equipment, anything you have in an effort to give you another year to make it."

A few years back Sims said he raised cotton, but after six or seven bad years he was forced to look for another crop. He now grows wheat and milo, and runs cattle—up to 500 head during winter when the wheat looks good.

"I don't know how long I'm going to be able to continue," a concerned Sims said. "I enjoy farming—it's a part of me and has been so long a time."

"But, unless times change for the better none of us Texas Panhandle farmers are going to be around much longer—it's that serious."

NEW DISPLAY AT MUSEUM—Kaye Finley of Floydada is pictured with the Floyd County Historical Museum exhibit featuring kitchen items which belonged to her great-grandmother Stobbs and her great-great-grandmother Ballard. "Country kitchen" items in the new display include a crock jar and pitcher; butter churn, knives, and stamps; a collection of butter molds; and a rolling pin and bread bowl. Most of the items displayed are at least 75 years old. They are on loan to the museum. (Staff Photo)

The Floyd County Program Building Committee and the Floyd County Extension Office is offering a homeowners and producers are encouraged to bring specimens of their plant problems so that these specialists can possibly diagnose and recommend action. PLANTS—small plants should be brought were the whole plant can be transported easily such as garden plants, cotton, grain sorghum and corn. Large plants such as trees or shrubs bring a portion of the affected plant such as leaves, limbs, etc. INSECTS—insect specimens should be brought for identification purposes.

We hope that the homeowners and producers will avail themselves to this type of program so that they can receive information in their specific plant problems.

FLOYD DATA

Mr. and Mrs. Tate Jones arrived home Saturday from San Antonio where they had been several weeks following surgery for Mr. Jones. He is reported to be up and about and doing nicely.

The same things and better. Visions and beliefs that one can do it!

As conclusion to the program Dr. Morris told of a Frenchman in the 1830's who went around the U. S. A. trying to figure out what made America great. He didn't discover the answer until he was on the ship returning to France. The secret to America's greatness is her goodness. When she stops being good she'll stop being great. This is really a great challenge to each of us. Be the very best we have to give.

Refreshments of various homemade cookies and colas were served to Dr. Morris, Colleen Hutsell, Becky Perkins, Tracy Gill, Lesa Younger, Kim Hutsell, Donna Boling, M. M. Fred Minyard, M/M Wayne Stephens, Larry, Stephen and Jeannita; Kathy King, Mrs. Coleman Garrison, G. H. Chappell, Bailey Loyd, Jimmy Myers, Clinton Dickerson, Orville Turney, Calvin Shelton and Tobe Riddell.

FLOYD DATA Grandchildren of Mrs. G. L. Bryant were in Floydada this week visiting in home. The grandchildren are Jimmy Bradley, his wife and baby, Dawn, of Hialeah, Fla., and Mollie and Charles Bradley of Miami, Fla.

Home Makers Meet

We have four new residents Mary Baker, Lee Rushing, Laura and William Cates. We hope they enjoy being here.

The week has been pretty busy with exercise classes, games etc.

Tuesday was manicure day. We had a lot of pretty hands when the day was over.

Wednesday we had ice cream and a lovely field trip. Taking the trip this week was the driver, Mr. Freeman, Hope Hammonds, Florence Badgett, Agnes Anderson, Dora Langford, Viola Weems and myself.

Thursday the City Park Church of Christ women gave the residents a birthday party. We had three with birthdays, this month, Clara Williamson, Vivian Hinkle and Robbie Bratton.

It was a very nice party with a pretty cake and punch for all the residents, employees and guests.

It is so nice of these women to give this honor every month. They also took two of our residents, Ray Reed, and Hope Hammonds, out for lunch Wednesday. This Means so much to them.

All of our residents are home from the hospital except Robert Day. Hope he will be better soon.

We appreciate all our visitors this week which include: Artie Webb, Estelle Eubanks, Edd and Dorothy Neff, Mable Smith, Mrs. W. C. Sims, Mrs. Kate Crabtree, Mrs. Lee Rushing, Joyce Davis, Mrs. Jimmy Forbes, Mrs. Noman Hamilton, Kay Lyn and Mary Ann Rainer, Julie Ibarra, Frank Ibarra, Duffy Hinkle, Sandra Wall and Roy Hale all of Floydada. their names at the bottom of it.

These men who signed their names at the bottom of the Declaration of Independence, had much to lose—had America lost the war, most of these men would have been hung for being traitors to Great Britain—they laid there all on the line! These men set the forces that turned the world around.

The government was formed to protect the rights fought for and won. Now, the government is more of a provider than protector!

A few years ago a newsman cut the first part of the Declaration of Independence and left the names of the original signees off. He took this paper to Miami Beach and could not find any one to sign it. Finally two bums finally signed it after the newsman had bought them coffee. The newsman was accused of being a traitor, a communist and so on for carrying our Declaration of Independence around!

We are so privileged to live in a government that has outlasted any other system, stated Dr. Morris. We need to love and understand and appreciate what these men did for us 200 years ago.

Dr. Morris said, "You and I need to rediscover who we are, right now. You and I, we are the people (1) "We the people" us—not Austin or Washington. The real strength of America is we the people."

(2) We need to rediscover where we came from; What are our bench marks or trade marks. Are you Scotch, Irish, Indian, German, French, Welch, Pole, English and others? Different kinds of people came to this country. There is no pure American Race. We are many different people. The American character is that of beef stew all good but distinctive and each has contributed. The strength of the American character is that we are not all alike—individuality makes us one people.

(3) Let's rediscover how we got here. We are inheritors of ideals and institutions which were laid down for us from our grandfathers. In grandfather's time a man's word was as good as a bond. Remember the ideal sayings. All men are important; all jobs are important; We have forgotten so much. Let's rediscover the things which made us a great people.

You and I can rediscover how we got here, our spiritual value, ethical value and courage. Rediscover where we're going. There was a time in history when we were sure but there has been a period we lost our sense of direction, sight of goals and objectives. Once again rediscover what all of these can be. Just look out and see where we're going. What would have happened had Washington decided to go back to his farm and leave the troops without a leader? There are Edison, Wright Brothers, Salk, Linberg, and today people who can do

New Industry For Lockney!

Lockney Industries, Inc. signed a contract Saturday with the Development and Recruiting Committee of Lockney Business Association for the purchase of 9.46 acres of land in Lockney industrial park.

The expansion division of Demco Trailers of Waco will manufacture primarily combine transport trailers at the Lockney plant. The Lockney plant initially will employ about 10 people. Total employment is expected to reach about 20 in a year's time.

Construction on the planned 16,000-square-foot building will start as soon as the deed is transferred. The site has already been surveyed and "staked off."

Charles Couch has resigned as materials manager at The Tye Company and will be vice president and local manager for manufacturing firm. Couch said construction will probably be completed in the first half of July, and the manufacturing facility may be in full-scale production by August 1.

Development Committee chairman Ted Carthel stated: "We are extremely delighted at our success in obtaining this industry for Lockney. We were in competition with several other towns."

"We would like to give special thanks to George Sparkman and others at Lockney First National Bank for their leadership and help in getting this done. Also special thanks to Plainview Savings and Loan and vice president Bobby James for their backing on the project."

Carthel also expressed thanks to other members of the Development Committee—Junior Lee, Mac McGavock, Wilbur Mize and Chuck

Wilson—for their hard work in securing the new industrial park and manufacturing plant.

TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

PEACH HARVEST THROUGHOUT THE STATE remains active and a crop about 40 per cent larger than last year is anticipated.

In the Rio Grande Valley, cucumbers, sweet corn, and okra are available in good supplies. At Laredo, melon harvest continues active and onion harvest is virtually completed.

In Central Texas, tomato harvest is underway. Tomato harvest is also underway in East Texas and supplies of sweet corn and snap beans are also available.

The quality of melons is reported excellent in the Coastal Bend area.

MEANWHILE, STATEWIDE WHEAT HARVESTING continues. Yields of dryland wheat vary considerably and, overall, the crop this year will be about 40 per cent under that of a year ago.

Sorghum conditions vary throughout the state. A good crop is in prospect in Central Texas; planting on the Plains is continuing.

Range conditions have improved throughout much of the state. However, screwworms continue to increase.

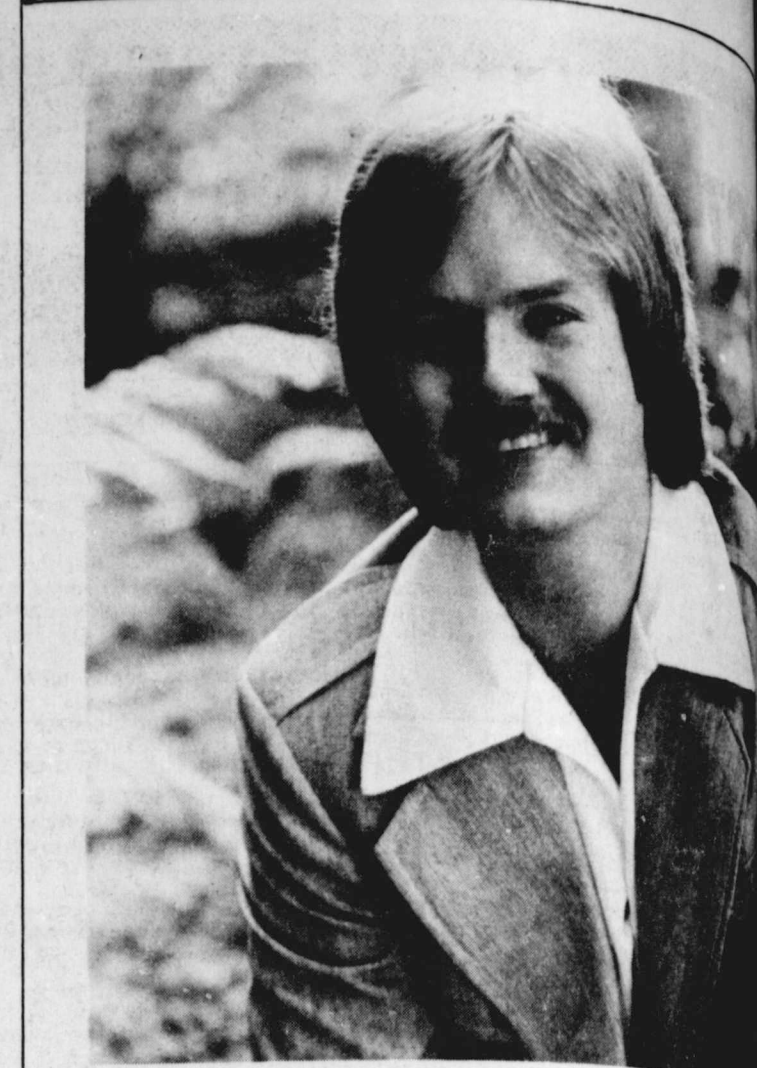

LIVESTOCK PRODUCERS ARE URGED to check their livestock regularly, treat wounds on livestock with approved screwworm control remedies, delay surgery on livestock as long as possible, and submit suspected samples to the fly lab at Mission.

Farm Labor Force Increases. So Do Wages... Up A Notch... More and Less

The agricultural labor force on Texas farms and ranches showed a recent increase of 6 per cent, the Texas Crop and Livestock Service notes. The Texas farm labor force totaled 264,000. The number of farm and ranch operators and unpaid family workers showed a decrease of 1 per cent while the number of hired workers increased 22 per cent.

Average wages paid all agricultural workers was $2.38 per hour; this is an increase of 19 cents per hour compared with a year ago.

Incomes Are Up, But So Are Prices

Total personal income increases in 1975 ranged from gains of 33.5 per cent in Alaska and 17 per cent in Nebraska to increases of 4 per cent in Idaho and 4.5 per cent in North Dakota, according to Department of Commerce figures.

The nationwide increase from 1974 to 1975 was 8 per cent, little different from the national advance in consumer prices.

A 10-minute call to San Francisco doesn't take a lot of dough.

For just $2.44 or less, you could take down these recipes by Long Distance.

We're printing these recipes to make a point: a Long Distance call lets you say so much, for so little.

In a 10-minute phone call to San Francisco, between 5 p.m. and 11:00 p.m. tonight, you could take down the recipes below. And by dialing 1+, the most you pay is $2.44, plus tax.

So enjoy a pleasant visit tonight by Long Distance. Whether you call to get a couple recipes... or just to find out what's cookin'.

1. SOURDOUGH STARTER

1 package active dry yeast	1 cup instant nonfat dry milk
2 1/2 cups warm water	2 tablespoons sugar
(105° to 115°)	4 cups all-purpose flour

a) Stir yeast, water, dry milk and sugar in 2 1/2 quart crock or non-metallic bowl until yeast is dissolved. Stir in flour gradually until a smooth batter forms. Let stand loosely covered in warm place 3 to 5 days. Stir down batter occasionally. Store loosely covered in refrigerator.

b) Replace exact amount of starter used for each recipe by stirring equal amounts of homogenized milk and flour back into starter. (For example: replace 1 cup starter with 1/2 cup homogenized milk and 1/2 cup flour.) Let stand loosely covered until it bubbles, overnight. Stir down. Each time this process is repeated, the starter becomes more active and develops a more sour flavor. Note: if stored as much as two to three weeks between usings, just pour off the watery layer on top and replace following procedure in (b).

2. SOURDOUGH BREAD STICKS

1 cup instant nonfat dry milk	2 teaspoons salt
1 cup warm water	2 teaspoons sugar
(105° to 115°)	1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup Sourdough Starter	1/2 to 1 cup all-purpose flour
(see Recipe No. 1)	1/4 cup butter or
2 cups all-purpose flour	margarine, melted
3 tablespoons vegetable oil

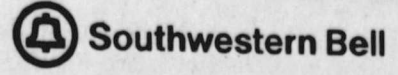

a) Mix dry milk, water, Sourdough Starter and 2 cups flour in non-metallic bowl, cover loosely. Let stand in warm place until mixture is coarse and bubbly, at least 8 hours.

b) Mix oil, salt, sugar and baking soda into sourdough mixture. Stir in enough of the remaining flour to make dough easy to handle. Knead dough lightly on well-floured board, about 2 minutes.

c) Roll dough into rectangle, 15 x 10 inches, on well-floured board. Cut into fifteen 1-inch strips. Roll each strip into even round strand about 14 inches long. Double strand over and twist to form bread stick. Place bread sticks on greased baking sheet, brush with melted butter. Cover with plastic wrap. Let rise in warm place until double (1 to 1 1/2 hours).

d) Heat oven to 375°. Bake bread sticks until golden brown, 30 to 35 minutes. (Makes 15).
