Hamilton and Wilson stressed to the President, the "...need and demand for immediate action to these matters if consumers at home and abroad are to be assured of long-range continuous supplies of food grains at reasonable prices and the farm production plant is to be maintained for the demands ahead that may be placed on it."

Copies of the letter to the President were sent to all members of the Texas Congressional and Senatorial delegation with requests that they push for and follow-up on the detailed action.

Grain Sorghum, Cotton Damaged by July Rain

AUSTIN—Too much of a good thing can be bad, and many farmers in southern parts of Texas feel that way about rain.

As much as 15 inches of rain fell during the first three weeks of July, interrupting land preparation for fall vegetable planting and damaging crops that were ready for harvest.

"The grain sorghum crop was one of the hardest hit—an estimated $134 million was lost in sales due to the rain," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reported. "Harvest of damaged and poor quality grain is now underway along the Coastal Bend but prices farmers are being offered are much lower than they normally would get."

Grain that normally would have brought $4.50 per hundredweight or more is bringing prices as low as $1.50.

"The cotton crop in the Coastal Bend has been damaged by the rain, too. Farmers expect the bolls to rot. And in the Valley, open cotton is strung out, and if it can be harvested, the grade will be considerably lower than usual," White said.

For farmers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and the Laredo area, the rains meant a delay in land preparation for planting of fall vegetables, White explained.

And in the Eagle Pass vicinity, watermelon and cantaloupe harvest is behind schedule.

Citrus in the Valley has benefited from the rain. The only ill effect reported is that growers are having to spray for citrus mites, which have become more troublesome.

credit by 1981. This would be equivalent of a $200,000 exemption.

"Sixty thousand dollars is no longer a typical value for a small farm or ranch or business, as it was when this exemption was set in 1942. We live in a far different world and I am pleased that the Senate has acted to correct this situation," Bentsen said.

An Amazing Comeback... New Regulations... Moving On

Cotton, which has been counted down and out several times, has and is making an amazing comeback this season. A year ago at this time, cotton prices to producers averaged 37 cents a pound.

Now, a year later, the statewide average is 70 cents per pound. Cotton is also now nearing the parity ratio, although it still has about a dime a pound to go before getting there.

Despite the cotton price, commodity prices on the average increased only two per cent this past month. And livestock prices showed a three per cent decline.

Putting everything together, agriculture continues to be way below parity. The ratio of parity is now at 67; that compares with 68 a month ago and 71 a year ago.

A look at individual commodity and livestock prices tells the story even more clearly when comparing them with parity.

Wheat averaging $3.51 a bushel in Texas is about $1.40 per bushel below parity. Sorghum, which averaged $4.54, is more than a dollar under parity. The only crop above parity is oats at $1.66, and that is only a nickel above the ratio.

Take a look at livestock and you see even more discrepancies between prices and parity.

The only bright spot there is sheep at $17.20; that is 70 cents above parity. Hog prices averaging $44.30 are about $9 under parity. Calf prices averaging 35 cents are almost 50 per cent below parity, and beef cattle averaging $32.40 are $25 under parity.

NEW REGULATIONS ARE IN EFFECT in relation to the screwworm eradication program. All livestock shipped out of the state must now be certified by state authorities or accredited veterinarians to be free of screwworms.

And livestock going into southeastern states must be sprayed or dipped for screwworm control even though they are screwworm-free.

Screwworm infestations are now threatening several states and are becoming more of a problem in Texas every day. The big increase in infestations will occur now through November.

Meanwhile, screwworm officials at Mission urge livestock producers to check livestock regularly, treat wounds on livestock with approved screwworm control remedies, delay surgery on livestock as long as possible, and submit suspected samples of screwworms to the fly lab at Mission.

By cooperating along these lines, livestock producers will be doing their part to hold down the infestations at as low a level as is possible.

WITH SUMMER MOVING ON, so is crop harvesting. Cotton harvesting is picking up speed in the southern portions of the state and is just beginning in the central areas.

Sorghum harvest is moving along rapidly and planting of fall sorghum is underway in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

DAIRY SITUATION BRIGHT—The remainder of 1976 appears bright for Texas dairymen, according to an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Estate tax changes lauded

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said Friday, changes in the estate tax approved by the Senate, which have the effect of increasing the tax exemption to $200,000, are a boon to the widows and children of farmers, ranchers and small businessmen in Texas.

Bentsen, a member of the Senate Finance Committee, had introduced a bill to increase the inheritance tax exemption from $60,000 to $200,000. The inheritance tax changes written by the Finance Committee approved by the full Senate late Thursday night include portions of the Bentsen bill and portions of measures proposed by other Senators.

It would replace the existing estate tax exemption with a $30,000 credit against the estate tax which would gradually increase to a $50,000

MRS. JOEL AARON

Lesia Wilson, Joel Aaron Wed

The patio beneath a large, old American Elm tree at the home of the bride's parents was the setting for the early morning wedding of Miss Lesa Deen Wilson and Joel Mark Aaron on Monday, August 16 at 8 a.m. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Chuch Wilson, Lockney, and Mrs. Lola Aaron, Lubbock.

Boyce Mosley, elder at West Third and College Church of Christ, performed the double ring ceremony. A tall arch of lemon leaves and emerald palms flanked by large baskets of white and yellow glads, soft blue dahlias and darker blue bachelor buttons formed the focal point for the nuptial ceremony.

Music for the wedding was provided by the bride's relatives, taped earlier especially for the wedding. These included Mrs. Arnold Leonard, Ft. Worth, organist, Dr. and Mrs. James Carthel, Houston, soloists, and Mrs. Tommy Parish, Houston, soloist. Also singing in the wedding chorus were Mr. and Mrs. John T. Carthel, Mr. John Lee Carthel, Ron Carthel, Brandt Leonard, Cara Carthel, and Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Wilson. Preparing the master tape and in charge of the music during the ceremony was Dennis Teasdale, Floydada. He used large speakers placed at vantage points in and under the tree, which gave a rich, stereophonic effect.

Maid of honor was Melinda Wilson, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Desiree Isom and Cathy Carthel, all of Lockney. Ringbearer was Ruth Elaine Wilson, sister of the bride.

She also rang the large wedding bell mounted in the yard at the conclusion of the ceremony. The bell was loaned by the bride's uncle, Dee Copeland, Lockney.

They wore identical floor length dresses made by the bride of polyester in shades of blue designed with low round necklines trimmed in white lace, long puff sleeves with lace-edged self ruffles over the hands. The softly gathered skirts were gathered to empire waists and the white satin sashes extended into streamers in the back. They carried crescent bouquets of white and yellow poms, blue bachelor buttons, gypsophilia, and asparagus fern, and tied with blue streamers. They wore bandeau headpieces of the same fresh flowers.

Best man was Ron Carthel, Lockney. Groomsmen were Terry Bradshaw, Lubbock, brother-in-law of the groom, and Randy Pierce, Ralls. Ushers were Lee Carthel, Lockney, and Fed Selman, Petersburg. Mrs. Ron Carthel was at the register. The table was laid with a white hand embroidered cloth, and held a large bouquet of roses from the gardens of the bride's mother and grandmother.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wilson chose a full length, long sleeved polyester jersey dress in Mediterranean blue. The mother of the groom also wore a full length polyester dress in a deeper blue. They were fashioned by the bride as a gift to the mothers. They wore corsages of yellow, white, and blue flowers identical to the attendants' flowers.

Following the wedding, a reception honoring the newlyweds was held at the West Third and College Church of Christ. Members of the houseparty included Meses, Arthur Nigh, Sam Jones, Lena Brotherton, Delton Jack, Frank Duckworth, Newell Harper, Louis Ray Stapp and Durwood Jack, Mrs. Everett McCullough, and Mrs. Thurman May, cousins of the bride, served at the bride's table. They wore matching dresses like the bride's attendants and Mrs. Ron Carthel, the registrar.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace and embroidered linen cloth over blue. It held a silver candelabra encircled with flowers of the attendants. The table was flanked by large baskets of white blue and yellow garden flowers and a large color portrait of the bride. Crystal and silver appointments were used. Fresh flowers enhanced the wedding bells atop the bride's 3-tiered wedding observation decks offer a view of the springs above the falls from an area that had been closed off by fences. You can even "go see where the Indians ground corn" without leaving the path to "the top."

Summer's End Signalled By Closing Of Springs Ranch

The picnic and camping areas have new tables. Wooded areas near the pool, also formerly fenced off, have been opened.

In all, about $100,000 worth of improvements have been made in the last two years, according to Mrs. Jones.

Water from the series of small natural springs surfaces about 100 feet north of the pool and cascades over the falls, making the "roaring" sound which caused early settlers to name the site-Roaring Springs. It is said that the roaring of the water could be heard for a mile or two up and down the creek.

The pool is filled with water from the springs. They say it's 60 degrees, but it seems colder than that. When the water is not being diverted to the pool, it flows to the riverbed (the South Fork of the Pease River).

Mrs. Jones says the water flows from Colorado, and Springs Ranch is the only place in Texas that it surfaces. At any rate, the falls at The Springs is one of the few waterfalls in the area.

And Springs Ranch is one of a few nearby public recreation areas where river-walking aficionados can "do their thing." (The pool may be the main attraction to most Springs-goers, and others go to picnic and camp, but for some of us, the best part of The Springs is the walk "down the river," barefoot, wet sand between our toes. Going past The Flat Rock, heading north, maybe walking all the way to The Bridge.) Hundreds of Boy Scouts go to The Springs every year to hike and camp.

There's no vehicle traffic allowed in the riverbed, a rule which may displease motorcyclists and dune-buggy riders who used to thunder up and down the river but which suits us creek-walkers just fine. Probably suits the cattle at Springs Ranch just fine, too. The area really is a ranch where they run about 50 cows.

"...I don't know what there is about this place. It's just an old riverbed, but...there's something magic about it somehow..." -overheard at The Springs, summer, 1969.

Hello again! Well here it is summer nearly gone and fall on its way.

Last Friday the folks from Flomot came and brought our devotional we enjoy them so very much.

Friday afternoon some of the residents enjoyed shelling peas.

Monday and Tuesday our devotional was from Psalms. We all received a special blessing.

Monday afternoon we worked on pillow tops in crafts.

Tuesday afternoon Mable and Edna took Lewis Roberts and myself to Floydada. Mr. Roberts had a dentist appointment. He has recovered from his visit.

Wednesday the folks from the Methodist Church came and led our devotional. Thanks so much. We all enjoyed the singing.

Thanks to Shirley Stansell for bringing doughnuts for all our residents Wednesday afternoon. This was a nice treat. We also shelled peas at that afternoon.

Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Muncy came and John Jenkins brought our devotional. Thanks so very much. We all had a special treat brought to us by Wayne Campbell's sons, Jeff 8 and Jackie 6 from Floydada. They sang "Do Lord." Thanks boys you will have to come again.

Thursday afternoon was our Bingo game. Our big winner this week was Mary Carville.

She won a box of mixed candies. Lucky Lady!

The lovely flowers were shared this week from Lisa Wilson's wedding. Thanks so much for thinking of the home.

I want to thank everyone who brought fresh peas and watermelon, whose name I didn't receive. We enjoyed them very much.

Until next time-God Bless and Keep Smiling.

Insurance Shortage Next?

MIAMI (UPI)—There's the meat shortage, the paper shortage and the gasoline shortage. Now get ready for the next one—the insurance shortage.

That was the warning from B. P. Russell, board chairman of a New York insurance holding company, to the National Association of Insurance Agents convention here.

"This may sound a little odd, a little unusual," Russell conceded. "But these are odd and unusual times."

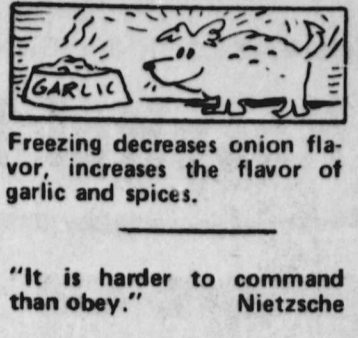

He said the nation's insurance firms may be heading for the worst "capacity crunch" ever because the value of their invested reserves is declining.

"We have had a slow market crash and the bond market is in shambles too. Now, just superimpose on top of this weakened condition, the accelerated increase in loss ratios.

"In just a few short months the industry has gone from underwriting 'profits to big underwriting losses,'" Russell said.

SWPS plant begins coal operations

Bob Brummal, Southwestern Public Service Company's Division Manager in Lubbock has announced that Southwestern Public Service is now burning coal at its new Harrington Station Power Plant.

This is the first time in the modern history of the company that coal has been used to fuel the boilers that produce steam at Southwestern plants. The low-sulphur coal is being brought in from Wyoming in 110 car unit trains on a twice a week schedule and will be used at the rate of 3500 tons per week when the generating unit is operating at capacity.

Construction of the second 350,000 KW generating unit is underway at Harrington Station with completion scheduled in 1978. Plans call for additional coal fired units to be in service in 1980, 1982 and 1984.

As the political campaign heats up, one thing is evident. For the first time in the memory of those who will elect the governmental leadership of our nation in November, it is considered politically desirable to be known as a "born-again Christian."

In the past, it has been a political liability for a candidate to be known as a dedicated Christian, the theory being that such a man was, in some sense, out of touch with political reality and therefore not to be trusted with great responsibility.

A few years ago, Sen. Eugene McCarthy (D, Minn.) walked out of the Senate chamber when another senator, in a speech, quoted the U. S. Constitution. Later, Sen. McCarthy explained, "I have a rule. Anyone who quotes the Bible, the Constitution, or Senate rules in debate, I vote against him."

But now, with the Watergate revelations and the more recent sex scandals among governmental officials in Washington fresh in our memories, people are looking for candidates who can pass the test of personal integrity.

So it is that it is now good politics for a candidate for public office to wear openly the robe of righteousness — whether or not it fits.

If this puts the candidate into some ridiculous positions it is unfortunate but necessary, campaign planners believe. If, to gain the support of ardent Women's Libbers, the candidate must declare himself in favor of the killing of unborn children, he will have to hope that Christians will not notice the inconsistency. If, for the same reason, he endorses the Equal Rights Amendment, which former Sen. Sam Ervin has described as "the worst piece of legislation to ever pass Congress," he will have to hope that voters will not measure his Christian commitment against his political positions.

Our nation is facing what many observers believe to be the greatest crisis in its history.

We cannot continue to spend $60 billion a year more than our income without, some day, coming face to face with the imminent prospect of national economic disaster.

We cannot allow another nation to become militarily stronger than we are without risking a confrontation that could result in our being forced to surrender in order to escape destruction.

We cannot permit the moral disintegration of our society to continue without running the grave risk that our nation will perish from internal corruption.

Bill Bright, head of Campus Crusade for Christ, has issued a call to Christians to "pray daily that men and women of God will be elected to public office at all levels of leadership . . . so that our land will be healed and our people will rejoice in righteous rule." He quotes from the Scripture: "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord."

A time of crisis is a time of opportunity. This is a time of opportunity for each of us to prove himself to be a dedicated Christian and a loyal American.

Mitch Probasco Receives Degree

Mitch Probasco, a 1972 Floydada graduate, has received his degree in Animal Management from Texas Tech. Probasco was listed on the Dean's Honor Roll the past two semesters while taking 21 hours in each semester.

He and his wife, the former Tana Hunter, now reside west of Floydada where he is engaged in farming.

An old superstition says that if a girl sleeps with a mirror under her pillow, she will dream of what her future husband looks like.

PLANT BLUEBONNETS NOW—Texas homeowners desiring a cover of bluebonnets for their landscape next spring should plant seed as soon as possible, advises a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Bluebonnets are actually winter annuals. They must be planted in late summer and form a small rosette of leaves. During the winter they develop a good root system, and then the plants grow rapidly during the spring rainy season. Seed will germinate poorly if not scratched or soaked in warm water for a few days. Seed should be broadcast on tilled soil and covered lightly.

mother when she is not entitled to pension. Applications should be made in their behalf to any VA office, veterans county service officer, or to service officers of major veterans organizations.

The possible eligibility of all survivors is reviewed by VA when notification of death is received, but sometimes circumstances surrounding the veterans death do not always provide information to identify all possible survivors.

There are no income limits on eligibility for survivor benefits for spouses and children when a veteran's death was the result of military service.

Veterans Reservists and National Guardsmen may be eligible for special veterans' FHA insured home loans. According to D. G. AYRES, Veterans Service Officer for FLOYD County, all individuals who have served in the Armed Forces of the United States and who were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable after at least 90 days of active service or active duty for training are eligible for these special FHA insured mortgage loans. In many respects, the benefits of the FHA program are similar to those of the GI home loan program as administered by the Veterans Administration. The FHA program, however, is open to veterans who are not eligible for a VA insured home loan, as well as, to veterans who have used their eligibility under the VA program.

Under the provisions of the FHA program, eligible veterans may obtain a loan in an amount up to a maximum of $45,000. One hundred percent of the first $25,000 of the appraised value of a home can be financed with no down payment. However, the veteran must make a minimum payment of $200 to cover prepaid items. If the loan is in excess of $25,000, the veteran must pay, as a down payment, 10% of the next $10,000 and 15% of the remaining balance up to $45,000.

A veteran wishing to use the FHA home mortgage insurance program must submit a "Certificate of Veteran Status," with the FHA loan application.

Further information on the FHA home loan for veterans can be obtained from your local Veterans Service Officer.

Letter To The Editor

(This was sent as a mailgram today to the president and the Texas Congressional Delegation.)

Mr. President:

Wheat prices to farmers in Texas today at $2.90 and less are a full $2.00 per bushel below the current wheat parity index of $4.91 which would make wheat comparable to other goods and services and cover growers cost of production. The 25% drop the past ten days puts the price well below production costs and any hopes for profit or even capital maintenance.

Producers attribute these low prices directly to government action, (1) the encouragement of all-out production to meet assured world needs; (2) assurance of open and free access to world markets when vetoing the Congressional-passed Emergency Farm Bill; (3) the imposition of temporary embargo of U.S. wheat sales to the USSR and their resulting smaller than expected purchases, and (4) announced increase in the 1977 wheat allotment to 62.2 million acres giving a false impression of increased need even in the face of a USDA projected June, 1977 record free stock carry over of over a billion bushels.

Accordingly, it is now requested that all available forces of government be activated which might reverse the downward trend in prices which began with the limits imposed by the long-range Russian Grain Agreement and continue downward, namely and including, expanding program authorization for Public Law 480 export sales, assistance in financing Commodity Credit Corporation export sales, and increase in loan rates to a usable level to relieve pressure on local bank funds and loan limits as farmers continue to "orderly market" this crop while borrowing to begin production costs on the 1977 crop, as well as an announced uniform set-a-side program which would reduce the projected billion bushel carry-over expectations and strengthen price and demand now.

These matters need and demand immediate attention if the consumers at home and abroad are to be assured of long-range continuous supplies of food grains at reasonable prices and the farm production plant is to be maintained.

Respectfully yours,
Winston Wilson, President
Texas Wheat Producers Association

Dwight Hamilton, Chairman
Texas Wheat Producers Board

I just enjoy painting the old home places, windmills and barns that are gradually disappearing. I see an old house one day and the next day it's gone," he says rather wistfully.

Floyd County Maggots Help Texas Screwworm Count Reach 10,177

MISSION, Aug. 17: Lab identification of Floyd County's first 1976 screwworm case this week helped swell the year's Texas count to 10,177, says a U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) spokesman.
Dr. M. E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., veterinarian in charge of the Screwworm Eradication program, says 148 Texas counties are now listed as infested with this parasite of warm blooded animals. The program is operated by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS).
James Glasson collected the Floyd County sample from a castration wound in a lamb owned by Eddie Teeter of Lockney. The infestation was on a ranch three miles south and a half mile east of Lockney.
Screwworms are larvae (maggots) of the screwworm fly. Adult females of this species deposit eggs on wounds in warm blooded animals.

As eggs hatch the tiny worms enter the wound to feed on live flesh, growing to about half an inch long within a week. They then drop to the ground where they pupate for another week before emerging as adults.
The APHIS program uses sterile males in fighting this pest. Female screwworm flies mate only once in their lifetimes.
Wild screwworm populations are first located by lab study of samples collected by livestock owners. Sterile flies, produced in the APHIS insectary, are released to mate with the wild flies. Eggs produced as a result of a sterile to fertile mating will not hatch-ending the life cycle.
Pre-addressed, postage paid, free sample mailing kits are available from County Agents, veterinarians, livestock inspectors, or Program headquarters at Mission.

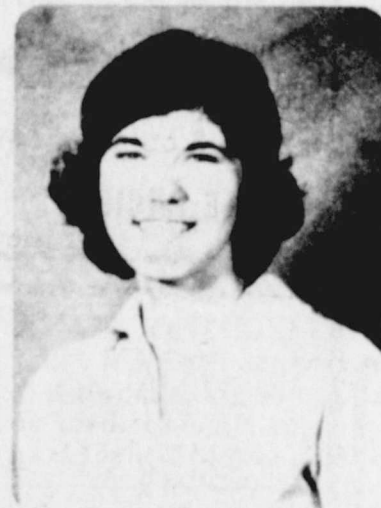

These women lost their lives in the Colorado flood...

But they are still alive. They have a message for you.

On July 31 these women hastily left a weekend retreat in the Colorado Rockies. They had been warned to flee a flash flood which was roaring down the canyon. They started out, but never reached the bottom of the canyon alive. More than 100 others also lost their lives in the Big Thompson Canyon that same night.

A tragedy, people say. It is certain that these seven women who were part of the staff of Campus Crusade for Christ International will be deeply missed by family, friends and fellow staff members.

But what these women and their families would want you to know is that they are more alive than ever—in heaven. That they lived a full and wonderful life on this earth. And that they now are better off in the presence of the loving God and Savior whom they served.

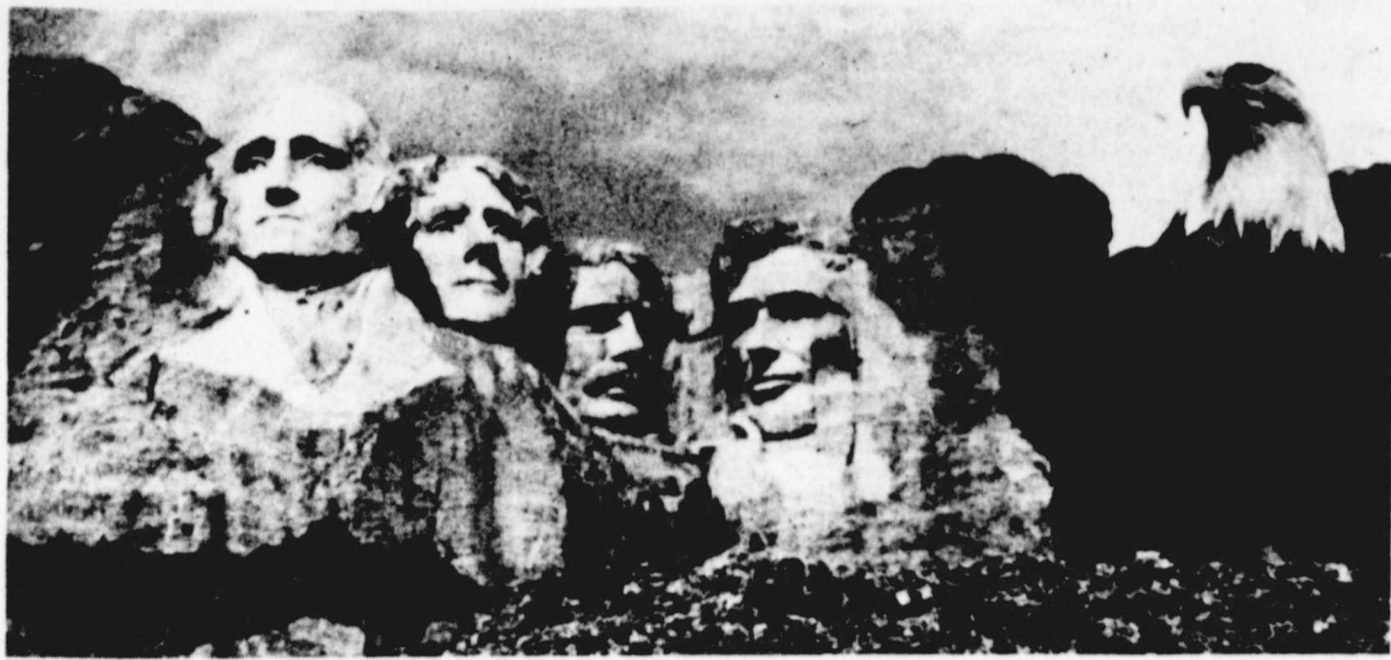

If you were to die today, do you know for certain that you would go to heaven? Would you spend eternity in heaven with Christ or separated from Him forever. For those who have a personal relationship with Jesus Christ, death's sting has been taken away. God is our refuge and strength. A very present help in trouble.

He reaches out in love to all men and women, offering His forgiveness, peace and comfort through Jesus Christ. So there is no reason to fear life or death.

Jesus said, "I am the resurrection, and the life; whoever believes in Me shall live even if he dies, and everyone who lives and believes in Me shall never die" (John 11:25,26).

A personal relationship with Jesus Christ doesn't begin at death—but it is available to you now—in life. Twenty-eight other women leaders of Campus Crusade for Christ International left that retreat with these seven. They are still alive—physically as well as spiritually.

But they also have a more keen awareness of the delicate balance between life and death. And more than 5,000 other staff of Campus Crusade for Christ have a keener awareness of life. For them, life is Christ. For the women who died, Christ is life. The message that follows explains what these women want you to know—how you can find new life in Jesus Christ. They had committed themselves to sharing this message in life or in death.

BICENTENNIAL SALUTE....The State of Texas will be honored August 24-25 at Mt. Rushmore National Memorial in the Black Hills

Texas Lone Star Flag To Fly Over Mt. Rushmore

The State of Texas Lone Star flag will fly over Mt. Rushmore National Memorial in South Dakota's Black Hills August 24-25, as this national Bicentennial focal point recognizes Texas in the National Park Service's 1976 "Days of Honor" commemoration. Sec. of State Mark White will receive the Texas flag in ceremonies at the memorial, Aug. 25.

"The Texas flag which flies over the memorial will be presented to Sec. White during our evening lighting ceremonies," says Rushmore Supt. Harvey Wickware. "Ceremonies both days will recognize Texas in the 1976 Days of Honor commemoration developed to fulfill Rushmore's role as a national Bicentennial focal point."

The Lone Star flag also flies in a special Avenue of Flags constructed for the Bicentennial at Rushmore. South Dakota Gov. Richard Kneip, on behalf of all South Dakotans, has invited any Texans traveling north to take part in their state's
