First came to Floydada years ago, I was impressed completely "shut down the sidewalks" every year to support its football team. We moved here, I came to realize that the great pride in the city of its youth in other words the hand and the Scholastic League try own children walked to elementary school, corridors of Junior High, corridors of Floydada High become ex-students, I true Whirlwind pride is that it has become in surrounding towns

By Wendell Tooley
Well, friends, it's that time of the year....the exciting county championship football game comes up Friday night with the Whirlwinds invading Lockney's stadium.

Kick-off time is 7:30....and you better be there early....there won't be enough seats to go around....it will be standing room only.

For the Whirlwinds it will be the third Homecoming game in a row....Littlefield, Floydada, and now Lockney.

The Winds are riding high after the Homecoming victory over Levelland, and the Longhorns are hoping to get back in the winning circle after losing to strong Dimmitt last week.

Both teams begin their first district play....Lockney is 4-2, and Floydada 3-3 for the season. Both teams have played some tough teams.

For comparison both lost to Post....Lockney beat Littlefield and Floydada didn't....Floydada beat Olton by a much larger margin than did Lockney. Lockney has been in the top five AA South Plains ranking.

The county championship is not only at stake....the winner could also very well be the district champion!

Coach L. G. Wilson said this week that physical condition of the Whirlwinds is tops and the team is up for Friday night's game.

Starting line-up for the 'Winds Friday night on offense include: Jay Womack, Larry Jones, Mickey Minnett, Rusty Cagle, Randy Ratheal, Morris Keele, Calvin Reese, Jesse Morales, Jim Potts, Jon Jones, and Sheldon Sue.

On defense will be Larry Jones, Ricky Covington, Jack Carthel, Jay Lackey, Randy Ratheal, Rusty Cagle, Mickey Minnett, Ronnie Wall, Lyn Wood, Rick Carthel and Danny Colston.

Halfback Clint Riddley is the leading rusher for Lockney this year, and is among the district's scoring leaders. Gerardo Rodriguez is the other starting running back for Lockney. Danny Clark also sees a lot of action carrying the ball for the Longhorns, and quarterback Glen Lane can pass or run.

The Longhorns have a pair of big, good linemen-Gregg Taylor and Fortunato Delgado-who play on both offense and defense at tackle positions.

Bon-Fire, Snake Dance Tonight

There will be a snake dance and bon-fire tonight! Everyone is to meet at the Mac Center at 8 p.m. and show your support for the 'Winds against the Lockney Longhorns by participating in the snake dance and bon-fire.

The snake dance will start at the Mac and continue to the new track field where the bon-fire will be held.

Remember that's tonight, Thursday, October 14, at 8 o'clock.

Tickets On Sale At High School To Whirlwind-Lockney Game

Floydada Whirlwind fans may get their tickets to the Lockney Longhorn-Whirlwind game at Floydada High School this week.

No reserve tickets are being sold but by purchasing tickets early it will eliminate standing in line to get tickets prior to the game.

....A Note From The Green Peppers

This is the beginning of our district games, and we begin our first conference game with our rivals, the Lockney Longhorns. Since this will be Lockney's Homecoming we really need to be fired-up for them.

We would like to encourage everyone to be at our snake dance at

City Council In Brief Session

Floydada City councilmen held a relatively brief session Tuesday night devoting most of their time to discussing of various upcoming projects.

They agreed to renew the same lease with Keith Reeves on City Farm grass and farm land lease for 1977, and took no action on Pioneer Natural Gas Company's request to amend Oct. 17, 1972 Gas Sales Contract.

Councilmen decided against any public official liability insurance, then registered those who had plans to attend the Texas Municipal League conference to be held November 13-16 in Dallas.

After a discussion on HUD, Community Development Block Grant, no additional action was taken at this time.

City officials decided to go into a new year round program on city streets and airport road. Rather than a seal coat program on the 40 paved streets as in the past, councilmen decided to seal cracks in the paving which they feel will be more beneficial to traffic. City purchased a 600 gallon asphalt machine earlier for this program.

Winner Is Harvey Allen

Harvey Allen, of Floydada, missed only 6 of 24 games to win the $7.50 first prize in this week's Hesperian football contest.

Second place goes to Diana Wilson of Floydada. She missed 6 games of 24 and she will receive $5.00.

Lucio Vasquez is the third place winner. Lucio missed 8 games of 24 and will receive $2.50. There were 5 others missing 8 games, but Lucio guessed the exact tie breaker.

Honorable mention goes to the other 5 contestants that missed 8 games. They are Olga Enriquez, Bill Bruder, Vel Simpson, Bobbie Minnett, and Mrs. Sammy Hale.

The football contest must have really been rough this week because of the high number missed by the contestants. There was one tie and a few upsets that made a big difference on the contest.

Be sure to fill out our next contest and send it in. Everyone needs a little spending money and this is a good way to win it.

Wilson Wins

Boot Hill Contest

Dwayne Wilson of Floydada guessed right 14 times and won first place in the weeks Boot Hill Football contest. Dwayne picked the upset of Tech over A&M, also the Cleveland win over Pittsburg and the Detroit win over New England, for the $25.00 prize.

There were six players that picked 13 games right. Humberto Flores of Lockney grabbed the second place prize of $10.00 as he guessed within 4 points in the tie breaker score.

Jim Huggins of Lockney missed the tie-breaker by seven points to win the $5.00 third prize.

WEAKNESS IN FEEDER CATTLE
Things aren't too bright for the feeder cattle market, at least for the remainder of 1976, says a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Feeder prices are expected to weaken into the fall and winter due to continued weakness in fed cattle prices, big feedlot losses, no major drop in sight for feedgrain prices, a big supply of feeders still available, and more competition from other meats. Choice feeder steers in the 600-700-pound range will likely move to the low $30's by October, with many feeders moving to slaughter during that period.

Meddlin's BY PEGGY MEDLEY

THERE was so much homecoming activities going on that I'm sure not all parties and such has been reported, but its never too late to use hometown names. So if you had a party and wish to report it, call me. At this moment, after you type so many names and try to compile their towns they are from, homecoming seems like work. It was work to a lot of people, but I think those on the homecoming committee are proud of their accomplishments and deserve a lot of credit for a job well done.

If a person had a camera clicking at all times, the pictures would tell the stories. If it was more than ten years ago since seeing one another, some classmates had to introduce themselves all over again and then you could hear, "Oh Yeah, now I remember." One remark overheard from an ex was, "I saw one of my former teachers, she also taught my child, and she still looks younger than me!"

Most of the women ex-students were comparing notes of their families, etc, while a percentage of the male ex-students were recalling mischief they got into as high school students. It was really a fun day for all.

The 1971 class received recognition for having the most exes present with 31. The 1973 class had 21 exes present as did the 1955 class. Ona Bagwell Wade of Cottage Grove, Oregon, was recognized for traveling the greatest distance. All exes traveling over 1000 miles for homecoming were also recognized.

Lone Star Club Meets

The Lone Star Home Demonstration Club met October 5, in the home of Mrs. Jewell Rexrode. The meeting was called to order and the THDA creed was read in unison, led by the president, Mrs. Herman Huffman. Roll call was answered, "What Autumn means to me," followed by a quote, "we are only certain of today, yesterday is gone and tomorrow is yet to come."

The program was given by Kathy Burk, Home Service Advisor for Light-House Electric Cooperative, on Energy Conservation.

Refreshments were served to Mes. Herman Huffman, C. L. King, Raymond Teeple, W. A. Stewart, Allen Kellum, J. P. Taylor, H. E. Frizzell, Kathy Burk, and the hostess, Mrs. Jewell Rexrode.

Next meeting will be October 19, at 2 p.m. with Mrs. C. L. King as hostess.

Americanism Theme For

Athena Meeting

A look at the presidential candidates from a wife's point of view, with the two candidates wives portrayed by Mrs. Ted Carthel and Mrs. John Peck, was the informative program for the Athena Jr. Study Club members Thursday night, October 7. Mrs. Jerry Cannon, portraying news-woman Barbara Walters, interviewed the two ladies, asking individual questions of each and then getting their views on the same issues. After hearing the opposing viewpoints, club members voted by secret ballot for the candidate of their choice. Gerald Ford received eight votes, Jimmy Carter, six votes; and a write in candidate, Ronald Reagan, one vote. Members were seriously urged to become familiar with the presidential candidates view, make a choice, and then vote on November 2.

Sixteen members were present for the meeting, held in the home of Mrs. Roy Turley. An appropriate refreshment of Watergate Cake and Pentagon punch were served by the hostess and a co-hostess, Mrs. Jerry Cannon.

Adding to the Americanism theme, Mrs. Wilbur Mize showed slides of Washington, D. C. taken on her trip there last November. Mrs. Ted Carthel told members about a free paper called "Pick A President" which explains the Democratic and Republican platforms, and discusses the views of each candidate. Mrs. Jerry Williams will try to order these and have them available at the next meeting.

The upcoming Halloween Carnival was discussed during the business session, and a committee was appointed to plan our booth. A new idea for a Community Improvement Program was presented. Since there is no formal art department in the local elementary school, the idea was raised of an Athena member planning an art project for a certain grade level and presenting it to the classes in that grade. Mrs. Wilbur Mize and Mrs. Paul Koonsman were asked to pursue the possibilities of this.

The next club meeting will be October 21, at 7:30, in the home of Mrs. Sue Zorger. Members are reminded that this will be poetry night. Have and original poem ready!

between purely local organizations and the big national unions with their monopolistic power. Because of their political clout, the big unions usually resort to strikes or the threats of striking as their first move in collective bargaining.

Strikes against government at any level are different from strikes against the private sector. In the first place, the public gets hurt since there are no corporate profits against which to measure the unions' demands. Secondly, the taxpayer's wallet is the source of whatever additional cost is involved.

An independent research group has gathered figures from the Bureau of Labor Statistics on what has happened in the 34 States where governments are required by law to engage in collective bargaining. The report shows four interrelated trends over the last several years.

"1. A dramatic increase in the number of state and local employees.

"2. An increase in unionization. Since 1956, the number of employees in the public sector has increased six-fold.

"3. A trend toward legislation giving these unions more power in dealing with governments at all levels. During the period surveyed all but 7 of the 34 States which have such laws or executive orders outlawed strikes by public employees and even those 7 imposed some restrictions.

"4. A sharp increase in the number of strikes against the public even in such states where strikes are prohibited by law."

"In every state except one," the Council says, "passage of a compulsory public sector bargaining law has resulted in increased strike activity." The figures show that the number of strikes in states with collective bargaining laws has been consistently greater than in those without.

Even if there were no strikes, there is a danger in allowing public employees to become puffy in the hands of the big national unions which have no interest in the local community but only for power brought about by the size of the union. If public sector collective bargaining proves to be the wave of the future then we are going to have to keep these dangers in mind or else like the horrible example of New York City-ordinary citizens will be working for the unions.

Country Areas Facing Crime Rate Increase

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Crime has become the newest and biggest problem in rural and suburban areas, requiring a new approach by local officials, a former sheriff says.

Robert E. Stockdale, now a Kent State University administrator, said in a recent interview that county and township governments have begun trying to catch up with what he said amounts to a country crime wave.

"Crime rates in rural areas of our country are rising 27 per cent a year," Stockdale said. "The Federal Bureau of Investigation estimates that there are 1.1 million active law violators loose in America today. I can't think of a bigger problem facing our growing rural and suburban areas.

"Only one in 12 rural Ohioans lock their barns or garages, according to an Ohio Farm Bureau Federation survey," Stockdale said. "Only two out of five lock cars. It's an invitation to theft."

One step toward controlling rural crime is to educate residents to be as cautious as city dwellers are, he added.

Another is the "absolute necessity" for retraining and new training in police methods for suburban and rural officials, he said.

Kent State maintains a training academy for peace officers, in part in connection with the 1963 state law requiring that police have at least the level of training the law set as a minimum. Stockdale said more than 1,000

Ohio police officers have graduated from that academy.

Quarter Horses Featured On 'Sports Spectacular'

The CBS Television Network will telecast portions of the All American Quarter Horse Congress on its "CBS Sports Spectacular" program, Saturday, November 6, beginning at 3:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Held in Columbus, Ohio, October 19-24, the Congress is the largest horse show in the United States. Over 2,000 Quarter Horses are expected to compete in the 94 different events. Since many of the horses will be entered in more than one event, entries are expected to reach over 5,500, with some classes having as many as 350 entries. The mammoth show is sponsored by the Ohio Quarter Horse Association.

CBS has long been instrumental in telecasting equine sports, but the Congress is their first venture into an all Quarter Horse event. Film crews will be at the weeklong Congress taping major happenings for "Sports Spectacular." Veteran CBS sportscaster Jack Whitaker, along with Chic Anderson will anchor the telecast.

The Congress offers in excess of $250,000 in prize money to the winners of the classes. Besides the horse show, an equine trade show, Quarter Horse auction, demonstrations and lectures by the nation's leading authorities on many aspects of the Quarter Horse business, all will be part of the Congress. It is estimated that between 30,000 and 50,000 people will register at this year's Congress.

The American Quarter Horse is the nation's most popular horse, as over 1.2 million horses have been registered with the parent organization, the American Quarter Horse Association, since its inception in 1940. The Quarter Horse is well-known for his use as a pleasure horse, cowboy's horse, race horse at 440 yards and under, and as a show horse. In most of the events at which he is shown, the rider is dressed in western apparel, although four English events are gaining widespread popularity — English Pleasure, Jumping, Working Hunter and Pleasure Driving.

Heroin Worth 412 Million Seized By U.S. Customs

U. S. Customs officers in Eagle Pass, Texas have seized 28 pounds of Mexican brown heroin valued at more than $12 million.

Clarence L. Bingham, Acting Regional Commissioner of Customs, said the narcotic, of very high purity, is the largest amount of brown heroin ever seized in Texas.

The drug was seized early Friday evening, October 1. An announcement was delayed while Federal narcotics agents allowed the smugglers to proceed and followed the drug to its destination—Chicago.

Two men have been arrested and are in Federal custody for attempting to smuggle the narcotic. A 29 year old Mexican national, driver of the 1973 Pontiac Ventura in which the drug was hidden, was detained when the car was searched. An accomplice, also a Mexican national, was arrested after he used a taxi to transport luggage in the car to the U.S. side of the border. This was done to make it appear that the smugglers car had not been to the interior of Mexico.

Customs officers in Eagle Pass said they became suspicious of the car when it entered the United States and its license number was entered into a computer, the Treasury Enforcement Communications systems (TECS).

CIS Toll-Free Line For Medical Information

There is a new lay educational resource on cancer that is becoming operational in Texas, according to Sheridan S. Evans, M. D. president, Texas Division of American Cancer Society.

Called the Cancer Information Service (CIS), the program is sponsored by M. D. Anderson Hospital with cooperative assistance of many agencies in Texas concerned with cancer control. The program is funded by the National Cancer Institute (NCI), which established similar projects for the other 17 Comprehensive Cancer Centers designated by Congress.

enjoys the support of the Texas Medical Association and Texas Cancer Coordinating Commission.

The CIS also is co-sponsor with the American Cancer Society of a newspaper column, "Cancer Answer-Line," which is distributed to most daily and weekly papers in Texas. We hope your community paper utilizes the column.

You will probably be seeing newspaper articles about CIS in your area soon, since current plans call for the program to be operational throughout the state by early 1977. From time to time you may get requests for patient services through your Area Office that originated from the CIS in Houston. The toll-free number for Texas is 1-800-392-2040 and 792-3245 for the greater Houston area.

This new service supplements and complements other efforts in the state to assure Texans easy access to information on cancer.

MOSITURE KEY IN GRAIN STORAGE-Watching the moisture content of grain crops as well as taking simple precautions can insure safe storage after harvesting, says an agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Harvesting grain at a moisture content of 18 percent or above can greatly increase harvesting efficiency. However, for safe storage, these moisture percentages are suggested:

corn, 13; flax, 8; rice, 12.5; sorghum, 12-14; soybeans, 11-12; sunflowers, 8; and wheat, 12-14. The higher the grain temperature and moisture content, the quicker the grain must be dried mechanically to prevent mold.

It's a kind of humility we could use a lot more of.

Floyd Philosopher As He Has Figured Out A To End The Threat Of Atomic War

The Floyd Philosopher on his farm tackles a big problem of.

The man can perfect nearly himself. Xerox has perfected a seat reserved for Perryton, an exact duplicate into it and an exact duplicate natural no ticket taker in the stadium gate can tell it from the what sort of mob riot is going to just one seat on the worse than an average day in understand it, there are enough atomic and hydrogen bombs on hand in the world that, if they were all fired at the same time, they'd have enough force to kill everybody on earth ten times over. You can see not even cats could come out of that alive. It'd be an impractical way to solve the pet cat and dog problem in big cities.

But, if the laser beam shield can protect a country, and every country gets one, and the atomic war problem thus is over, the world then would have the problem of what to do with all those guided missiles stockpiled underground in silos, being carried under water on submarines and toted around the skies in airplanes, each one aimed at the other fellow.

The only solution I can come up with is a world-wide garage sale of atomic weapons. Surely there ought to be some countries interested in them for internal use only.

This won't really solve the problem, but you've got to remember that in foreign affairs problems are never solved, they're just shifted around. It's sort of like a Presidential debate.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

N-SERVE Nitrogen stabilizers.

You can apply spring rates of nitrogen this fall. And have it working for your corn, next spring. With N-SERVE* nitrogen stabilizers. N-SERVE cuts nitrogen loss by slowing change of the nitrogen in the soil. So your nitrogen remains available so your corn can use it. You get efficient use of the nitrogen you apply. And more fertilization of your corn. Come see us for more information on N-SERVE nitrogen stabilizers. Just look for the sign the N-SERVE policeman.

You'll grow bigger with a little help from Dow.

Early Freeze Clips 11 Per Cent From Cotton Estimate

By KETH HENLEY
A-J Farm Writer

A JOINT 25-county High Plains cotton production estimate of 1,786,000 bales was issued here Monday by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and the Plains Cotton Growers Inc. (PCG).

The October estimate, taking into account the effects of last week's abnormally early freeze, is down about 11 per cent from the September forecast of 2,005,000 bales.

But the prospective production still is up from last year's short crop of 1,420,200 bales and the 10-year average annual output of 1,647,087 bales.

In addition to last week's cold, hail last month cut into the crop potential, officials said.

Many unopened bolls which are mature in size may be rather light in weight, an exchange-PCG spokesman said, as a result of the permanent interruption in the fiber maturation process in the freeze areas.

Acres for harvest, following adjustments based on new reports on certifications of acres by farmers, are estimated at 2,507,500. This is up 4,500 acres from last month's estimate. The harvested acreage last year was 2,444,750 and the 10-year average is 2,051,675.

Yield is projected at an average of 341.8 pounds of lint per acre, against last month's estimate of 384.5 pounds and last year's low 279 pounds.

The production estimate is based on current conditions, officials said, not on the crop situation as of Oct. 1.

Warm, open weather could limit the damage to fiber quality as a result of last week's freezing and near freezing temperatures, according to a cotton scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

"Immature cotton will be hurt," said Dr. Levon Ray of Lubbock. "But quality of the mature cotton, except for a few small, late-set bolls at the top of the plant, could be helped."

Ray explained that in some cases, the late, immature bolls now would never reach the gin, thus only the fiber in the bigger bolls would be measured for quality.

Quality Reduction Likely
He acknowledged, however, that there probably will be a slight overall reduction in quality across the High Plains cotton producing region.

Ray said that approximately 80 per cent of the crop already had been made and one-half or more of the plants in the remaining 20 per cent have "enough leaves to make some fiber."

For plants that do not have enough leaves to contribute to fiber development, favorable weather the past three days should help bolls dry out and open, he added.

Verticillium wilt still is a problem throughout the area said the cotton scientist. Because of the poor weather last week, it has become progressively worse.

"This also will mean lower micronaire readings," Ray said, "and it could reduce yields as much as 10 per cent."

Micronaire, a measure of fiber fineness, is an important lint quality factor which is directly affected by cotton maturity.

On the bright side, prices are well above year-earlier levels.

Market Quotations Up

Spot market quotations, which marched steadily higher during the spring and summer months, closed last week at a national average of 79.36 cents per pound on the base quality.

This was up about 28 cents per pound, or $140 per bale, from the year-earlier levels.

Harvesting of corn on the High Plains has passed the halfway mark, but sorghum cutting has just begun.

Grain farmers have concentrated on getting the corn crop out of the field because of falling plants due to stalk rot and damage by the southwestern corn borer.

Grain sorghum officials estimated that volume harvest activity will begin sometime this weekend for milo.

"Sanforset" Denims Lock In Cotton Market

NEW YORK--A new process for treating cotton makes denim wrinkle-proof and shrink-resistant. The process, with the trademark "Sanforset," has met with such good consumer response that already there is a shortage of the material.

Cotton Incorporated, the fiber company of U. S. cotton producers, is advertising and promoting products made with the "Sanforset" process to help secure more markets for cotton producers.

"The 'Sanforset' process also has great potential for helping cotton regain other markets," says James P.

Hangley, Cotton Incorporated director of apparel mill marketing.

"A successful process for imparting durable press finish to 100 percent cotton products could probably create a total market for more than 2 billion yards of cotton goods--enough to require an extra million bales of cotton," says Hangley.

"Of course that's not feasible right now, but that is the potential."

Fabrics treated by the "Sanforset" process are currently available only from Burlington Mills. The Blue Bell Corporation is buying the fabric and using it in its jeans, which are marketed under its Wrangler "No Fault" label and its Sedgfield "Do Nothing" label. The H. D. Lee Company is using the fabric for its "Lee-Set" garments.

The new process is especially impressive because it leaves the fabric with a soft feeling, or a good "hand," comments Hangley.

The treated fabric also fades faster than regular denim to achieve the faded look that many young buyers want in jeans, says Hangley.

Burlington is installing new line of equipment to meet demand for the fabric and Riegel and Graniteville are purchasing the equipment, Hangley says.

Potential for use of the new treatment could run as high as 90 million yards, or 48 million garments, according to Hangley.

"We think there is great potential," comments Hangley. "The Sanforized Co. commissioned a survey which showed that 78 percent of the consumers would rather buy 100 per cent cotton jeans than synthetic blends if they could get the desired smoothness, softness and fading."

This is only the second year that "Sanforset" fabrics have been available, says Hangley.

The process involves applying cold liquid ammonia to cotton fabrics, followed by compression of the fabric to reduce shrinkage and remove wrinkles.

The process was developed by a Norwegian company and licensed to Cluett, Peabody & Co. in the United States. The Sanforized Co. is a subsidiary of Cluett, Peabody.

Cotton Incorporated is looking at other possible uses for the process, says Hangley. Textile mills will probably use it next on corduroys, but in the future it could be used on sheets and dress shirts, he says.
