The report came from NRM Petroleum Corporation. The commission said the daily allowable had not been received Thursday, and that the well would probably utilize flow pressure as long as possible before using pump.

Ten A & M Instructors Here By September

"The progress of the West Texas Regional Training Center has moved so well, I feel that we are two years ahead of schedule, and by September first we should have ten instructors here with the center," were the optimistic remarks of James R. Bradley, director of the Texas Engineering Extension Service here Friday afternoon.

Bradley said there would be additional instructors for fireman training, water and waste water, and public works. At present five instructors are here.

Bradley also expressed his enjoyment in working with the Floydada people, expressed thanks to Senator Ray Farabee, Hereford REC manager James Hull, who worked on the site committee...the local staff, Regent Mrs. Wilmer Smith and to Lighthouse Electric manager Alton Higginbotham for going to work on getting the center located in Floydada some three years ago.

Development Company president Gene Ehler officially welcomed the crowd. Mayor Parnell Powell compared the looks of the new building with the empty field that was there before the center located here...he praised the teamwork of the Floydada people in contributing both money and time for the location of the center in Floydada.

STOVALL MANAGER
 One of the major announcements by Bradley was promoting acting manager of the center, Lawrence Stovall, to manager. He praised Stovall for his good work in getting the center open and in service to the people of this area of Texas. Chamber of Commerce and Floydada

Mayor Powell introduced Senator Ray Farabee who summarized the state approval work that went into the creation of the center and he was most complimentary of the enthusiasm of Floydada and area people. The building was open to the public Friday afternoon and will be open through 1 p.m. Saturday.

Rock Chat

By Wendell Tooley

THE FOLKS AT TEXAS A & M were real smart to locate the West Texas Regional Training Center in Floydada. One big reason is the mounting cost of gasoline.

All these students who have been driving all the way to Bryan, Texas from the Panhandle area will find the drive much nearer and less expensive into Floydada.

LAST WEEK we published a picture of Mr. and Miss Floydada High School. Also noteworthy is the selection of Randy Rainwater and Nanette Burk as "most considerate," Morris Keele and Holly Hartsell as "most good natured." Congratulations to these FHS students.

BACK DURING THE Presidential election campaign Congressman George Mahon assured me that the Congress of the United States was not about to let George Meany and his unions get too far out of hand. Recently, the Congressman voted down the unions common situs picketing bill designed to increase the power of organized labor.

Now, it pleases me to get this news release from State Senator Ray Farabee:

"Senator Ray Farabee voted for and supported a resolution that expressed the importance of the Texas right-to-work law.

The resolution, sponsored by Senator Walter H. Mengden, supports retention of federal authorization that allows states to pass right-to-work laws

Noting that Texas and nineteen other states have passed such laws, the resolution will be sent to President Carter, Congressional leaders and members of the Texas Congressional Delegation to establish Texas' legislative support for right-to-work laws.

Senator Farabee said he supports the resolution "because it is important that Texas as a state and its citizens as individuals have the freedom of choice to join or refrain from joining a union."

THE ONLY MAN who ever got his work done by Friday was Robinson Crusoe.

TWO FISHERMEN sitting on a bridge, their lines in the water, made a bet as to which would catch the first fish. One of them got a bite on his line and became so excited that he fell off the bridge.

"Oh, well," said the other, "if you're going to dive for them, the bet's off."

Three FHS Teachers Announce Future Plans

Three Floydada High School teachers have announced their plans for the future and will complete their last month of teaching here in May.

Speech and drama teacher Holly Moritz plans to return to college after two years at FHS. Jan Herber, wife of Steve Herber, who is now county agent of Crosby County and living at Crosbyton will possibly try to get a teaching job nearer home.

Jack McIntosh has no plans in mind except to retire from teaching. He is teaching math.

McIntosh has taught math for six years, and says he plans to take time to do some things "he wants to do."

All Sports Banquet

The annual FHS all sports banquet will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday night in Duncan Elementary Cafeteria.

The banquet is to honor outstanding athletes in basketball and all the spring sports. Assistant FHS principal and athletic director L. G. Wilson will emcee the banquet.

Pivot Irrigation In Floyd County

Pivot or circular irrigation systems are now being installed by many farmers in Floyd County. These systems have been in use for a number of years in the counties west of Floyd County and have helped to conserve the underground water supply because their soils are sandy and in many cases much water was wasted as it leaked down past the root zone when a surface system was used.

Most of the soils on top of the "Caprock" in Floyd County are Pullman clay loam or similar type soils.

present for a Scout presentation that Tuesday night in which the Teague family were involved. She returned home Wednesday.

Wednesday night's rainfall brought varying amounts to our area, from .40 to 1.20 in the southeastern part. All that fell was wonderful, and farmers appreciate each drop that comes.

Travis Young is having a farm sale at his farm on the Silverton Highway today, Thursday, April 14.

Mrs. Tillman Powell (Doris) will enter St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock Monday, April 18, for major surgery. She expects to be in the hospital about five days. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Spending Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Johnson and boys were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Jones and her mother, Mrs. Roberts of Floydada.

South Plains Hobby Club met Wednesday afternoon in Lockney at the home of Mrs. Mildred Wells, with Miss Kathy Burke of the Light-house Electric giving a program on the making of "Crepes". Mrs. Kendall Cummings presided over the meeting, and roll call was, "A Useful Hint For Spring Cleaning." Mrs. Fred Marble gave the "Thought For The Day." Kathy Burke demonstrated making Crepes, and they were served at the refreshment time, with as-

These soils for irrigation are "tighter" and have a slower intake rate for water and may present a problem with runoff of the irrigation water being applied. Traction problems may also occur for the pivot systems.

Pivots have been used for a few years in the Northern Panhandle on Pullman type soils successfully. However, if installed to "run over" a terrace system, care should be taken to see that the "tracks" made over the terraces do not become too deep. This may cause terraces to break and cause a wash in the field. Applying a light application of less than 1 1/2 or 2 inches in most cases on Pullman soils will be necessary to prevent runoff and traction problems or "sticking" of the system. If irrigation runoff begins the system is running too slow and should be "speeded up". Playa lakes or other low areas that concentrate runoff water may present additional problems due to the extra water and "tighter" soils causing problems of running the system through the lake without "sticking".

Most systems will cover 126-131 acres out of a quarter section. A 900-1000 gpm system will be needed to fully irrigate and grow such crops as corn or grain sorghum. Systems with less water should be planted partially to a crop that can be expected to produce under pre-irrigation or reduced irrigation.

When one is deciding on a system two important considerations are: floatation and the Co-efficient of Uniformity. Floatation is important in Pullman soils. The weight of each tower and the size tire has much to do with floatation. In most cases the more towers a system has the less each tower weighs and the wider the tire the better the system will "stand up" in the wet soil. Weight, number towers, tire size varies from brand to brand and these items should be given serious consideration.

The co-efficient of uniformity means how evenly the system applies the water. For example, if 1 1/2 inches is being applied and a can is placed anywhere in the field it should be the same amount less evaporation. If one catches 3/4 and another 2", then the system would not be applying the water evenly. Exactly the same amount in every can or 100% uniformity cannot be expected, but it should be 85% or better for a conservation irrigation system.

These are only some of the important factors to consider before converting to a pivot system. The Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District will be glad to assist farmers with information on pivot irrigation. Please contact the SCS in the Agriculture Building or telephone 983-2352 for assistance or information. All programs and services of the USDA-SCS are available to everyone without regard to race, color, creed, sex or national origin.

ATION systems are now being installed in Floyd County. In m soils light applications of 1 1/2 or 2 inches or less will be needed system to function properly.

Understanding Yourself

Helpful Ideas From The International Lutheran Laymen's League

THE ART OF LISTENING

People are so often preoccupied with themselves that they forget to look outside themselves.

But there is a beauty and meaning in the ordinary things of the world waiting right out there for attentive ears and open eyes.

For the most part, God Himself speaks to us in ordinary ways, in the ordinary events of life, in the still small voice, while people wait for the dramatic occurrence they are always demanding, but won't listen to when it comes.

God's still small voice to our world is Jesus Christ. In His own unpretentious way the Son of God gave His life for us all. In Christ, God was reconciling the world to Himself, not counting our sins against us. He is God's still small voice in history, not to be drowned out by the whirl of industry, the roll of drums, the thunders of war, the pronouncements of the mighty, or the jabbering of people preoccupied with themselves.

view their child as an individual being rather than an extension of their own egos, and can feel loving concern for their child, the baby's birth can be a joyous event after all."

Mrs. Hillis says that how children learn will be a focus of attention of another workshop. Parents who compare their child's development to that of other children can be asking for frustration, she adds. How to avoid this kind of situation will be among the many ideas expressed during this session.

In the fifth workshop, the early years of marriage will be outlined. Open, honest communication, sharing feelings, and mutual trust and respect are among the topics to be discussed.

"For most adults, a permanent and rewarding marriage is the most satisfying part of their lives," she says. No one has yet found the exact combination of effort and promise or of personality and circumstance that lifts a couple and their marriage out of the ordinary. Some general threads weave through most successful marriages."

In all of these workshops, the stress factor will be emphasized.

Participants will be able to attend any two of the five workshops. The keynote address by Dr. Mears will precede these sessions, and he will also conclude the program.

"Coping with factors that lead to stress and frustration is a challenge every family faces daily. We believe these workshops, along with the expert, common-sense advice Dr. Mears is expected to offer, will be invaluable to every family."

Speakers for the five work sessions are Mrs. Ilene Miller, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station; Mr. Phil Carpenter, marriage family counselor at Central Plains Mental Health Center, Plainview; Mrs. Nel Loper, executive director for the National Foundation-March of Dimes; Dr. Connie Steele, assistant professor-child development, Texas Tech University, Lubbock; and Deborah Johnson, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station.

Mrs. Bobby Cohorn of Lamesa is program chairman. Mrs. Tom Box of Plains is task force chairman, and Mrs. Catherine B. Crawford, district agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock, is coordinator.

Editorial: The public library: best bargain in town

Few people would disagree with the proposition that libraries are good institutions. But while people pay homage to libraries, not enough people pay attention to them.

Your library needs active support and use; not passive endorsement. That's why the American Library Association's message during National Library Week (April 17-23) is "Use Your Library."

Did you know that the dazzling array of services public libraries offer cost you per year about what you'd pay for one dinner in a moderately-priced restaurant?

It's not surprising that more and more people are realizing that libraries are an essential public service. When funding cuts caused library branch and program cuts in Detroit and New York, the resulting public outcry made headlines all over the country. Nationally, between 1974-75, library circulation jumped 10 percent, the biggest jump in the 37 years such records have been kept.

But still, a recent Gallup Poll found that one-third of Americans had never used a library, that 37 percent had no idea how public libraries are funded; and that a majority of these non-users were totally unaware of the wide range of services available beyond book loans.

If you still haven't discovered what's undoubtedly the best bargain in town, National Library Week is the perfect time to do so — Use Your Library.

super-active life. He not only played again, he regained his all-pro status.

It was breast self-examination and mammography that probably saved Mrs. Margaretta "Happy" Rockefeller's life in 1974 when breast cancer was discovered.

Almost two years after surgery for the removal of her left and then her right breast, Mrs. Rockefeller urged American women to act promptly and courageously as she had done—inspired by the earlier experience of Mrs. Betty Ford.

LAKE MACKENZIE — A recent aerial photograph by The Plainview Herald depicts the general shape and outline of Lake Mackenzie, nine miles northwest of Silverton. Although no more water has been impounded this spring, fishing conditions should really be hot in the next few weeks, according to observers. The dam depth is still about 40 feet. Shotgun blast kills woman SILVERTON — A 32-year-old woman was killed by a shotgun blast on a farm about 16 miles southwest of here while on a hunting trip with her husband. Mrs. Manuela Robles was pronounced dead at 5:15 p.m. Sunday by Justice of the Peace Dick Taylor of Quitaque. Judge Taylor ruled the shooting accidental.

Officers said Mrs. Robles and her husband, Sergefredo, were hunting rabbits on their farm during the afternoon. Mrs. Robles was seated in a pickup truck and had tried to lift the weapon when it discharged. The family had lived on the farm here about 10 years. She was born in Mexico and was a Catholic.

Services for Mrs. Robles are pending in Roma. Surviving also are three daughters, Melba, Patricia and Greselda, all of the home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Giragado Gonzalez of Roma; three brothers and two sisters.

other segments of the cotton industry are kept abreast of current and projected trends in the economy and the cotton market.

In the April issue of the division's monthly publication, the COTTON SUMMARY, Cox and his staff analyze the carryover situation and what it means for the future.

They point out that cotton carryover should be evaluated in terms of days' or months' supply rather than absolute amount. The world carryover this year, they note, will amount to less than a four-month supply the lowest level since 1924-25.

The Cotton Incorporated economists say their estimates of the carryover have dropped as use and export demand for U.S. cotton have

Cotton Stocks Dropping To "Carryunder" Levels

RALEIGH—America's cotton producers are entering the planting season firmly on the side of the law—the law of supply and demand.

In fact, say economists at Cotton Incorporated, cotton demand is overpowering supply, and both U.S. and world cotton stocks will be pulled down to their lowest levels in decades.

When the current cotton marketing year ends July 31, the cotton industry will be looking at a carryover that will be more like a carryunder, says David W. Cox, vice president of economic research and development.

Cox says the U.S. carryover is now estimated at 2.9 million bales, the lowest in 25 years. "On a world basis, he adds, "the carryover is also expected to be very little—about 18.9 million bales." The low stocks, coupled with improvements in the economy, add up to continuing strong demand for U.S. cotton on both the domestic and export markets, Cox says.

Cotton Incorporated is the fiber company of U.S. cotton producers. Through the company's Economic Research and Development Division, producers and

Two of the top men behind existing and potential government regulations that can be weighty factors in determining the future profitability of High Plains cotton operations will appear as speakers at the 20th Annual Meeting of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. The meeting begins at 1:30 p.m. April 14 in the Aztec Room of the Southpark Inn on South Loop 289, Lubbock.

Following the two "serious" speakers on the podium will be well-known humorist and inspirational lecturer Millard Townsend of Lubbock. There is no registration fee for the half-day affair and the public is invited.

An expected 500 or more High Plains cotton producers and agribusinessmen and their wives will also hear organizational reports from PCG President W.B. Criswell of Idalou and Executive Vice President Donald Johnson of Lubbock.

The government officials to address the meeting are Grover C. Wrenn, Deputy Director of Health Standards Programs for the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) and Edwin L. Johnson, Deputy Assistant Administrator of Pesticide Programs for the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

"Both these men are destined to have a significant impact on our industry in the years ahead," commented Criswell, "and what they have to say should be of interest to everyone on the High Plains whose livelihood is even remotely connected to cotton."

As examples of the regulatory activities so important to cotton people, Criswell cited EPA's upcoming hearings that could lead to a ban on the widely used herbicide Treflan, and OSHA's proposed cotton dust standard "which if enforced as now written could close over half the gins on the High Plains and more than double what producers are now paying for ginning."

PCG's hope, according to Johnson, is that having EPA and OSHA officials on the program will open lines of communication and "assist in efforts to assure that regulations of the future from both agencies will be reasonable regulations, reasonably administered."

In addition to addressing the PCG membership meeting which in Lubbock, plans call for the two officials to visit typical cotton production and processing facilities in the area that will be most affected by regulations proposed by their respective agencies.

Following the membership meeting, slated to adjourn at 5:00 p.m., PCG's 50-man Board of Directors will meet to elect officers for the 1977-78 year. Current officers, each of whom has now served the maximum two years in his present office, are President Criswell, Vice President Lloyd Cline of Lamesa and Secretary-Treasurer Joe D. Unfred of New Home.

PCG represents cotton producers in a 25-county area surrounding Lubbock. Each county elects two directors to the research, market development and service organization.

Business conditions improved markedly for the U.S. textile industry in February, Cox reports, with mill use of cotton running 5 per cent ahead of January's pace. With seasonal adjustments in the daily rate of consumption, February was the strongest month for domestic mill cotton use since July 1976, he points out.

It now seems, he says, that domestic mill need for cotton in the current marketing year will reach or exceed seven million bales.

Off To A Good Start... Watch For These... Water Report Due Soon.

The program to eradicate the screwworm for Texas this year is off to a good start. Less than a half dozen cases have been confirmed this year.

Officials at the fly plant in Mission say they are pleased with the cooperation being shown by livestock producers throughout the state.

They urge continued cooperation and vigilance so that the pest can be "done in" once and for all this year.

The number of samples being sent to Mission has been on the increase in recent weeks, officials said, and this indicates that producers are doing their part in the total eradication effort.

There's also good news from Mexico, too. That program is also progressing well, and a new distribution center is to be dedicated there April 26.

About 400 million sterile screwworm flies are being distributed in northern Mexico and the southern part of Texas as part of the program to wipe out infestations.

All livestock producers should continue to check their animals regularly, treat wounds with approved screwworm-control remedies, delay surgery as long as possible, and submit suspected samples to the fly lab at Mission.

Use can't reach that high, notes Cox, since cotton supplies are not sufficient to provide domestic mills with more than 6.8 million bales. At the same time, the Cotton Incorporated economists have found the pace of export shipments of U.S.

News & Reviews

First Baptist Church Media Center/Library

This is a special week at First Baptist with the beginning of revival services and sharing in the Good News Texas emphasis by Texas Baptists. In the form of books, records and cassette tapes, Christians all over the world can share directly with you about how God is working in their lives as they become living proof of the transforming power of Jesus Christ. To make it easier for you to have access to many of these fine materials, we are planning to have a checkout desk in the foyer of the church before and after each service. A library staff member will be present to assist you in checking out a book, tape or record. We hope you will use these materials to enrich your life and share them with your friends and neighbors.

Some of the authors to be featured are Corrie Ten Boom, Dale Evans Rogers, Joyce Landorf, Sergio Khouradov, Catherine Marshall and Grant Teaff. A selection of cassette tapes and also a cassette tape player will be available for check out. As usual we will be recording the services and any requests for copies should be made through the pastor or a member of the library staff.

Ordinarily this reviewer is not particularly fond of Biblical fiction because of the tendency to confuse fact and fiction. However, the story about the great prophet Elijah and entitled THE MANTLE is exceptionally well done. The author, William H. Stephens, is also editor of "The Illustrator," a Biblical backgrounds resource publication of integrity and fine quality. This author has communicated well the religious climate of the day when King Ahab allowed Jezebel to bring into the land of Israel and make a part of his court the worship of Baal. With good taste but with forcefulness, he shows the effect of the worship of Baal on the life of the common people. He portrays God's prophet Elijah in an interesting manner, making his struggle to lead the people to worship the one true God a picture of victory over personal limitations through obedience to his call. It is not difficult to see in this Old Testament account a parallel of human nature today.

WHERE'S TH' FIRE?

The Floydada Volunteer Fire Department answered seven calls for the month of March. Three of these fires were outside the city limits. The first fire of the month was a house fire on the Leighton Teeple farm at South Plains. There was minor damage to one bedroom. There were three trash fires reported last month; two were on March 3rd, and the other on March 17th.

We answered a call to a car on fire on the morning of March 10 with extensive damage to the engine of the car. There was a rural grass fire on March 17th at Muncy. We had some hay bales on fire on March 13th on South Main Street. The fire was contained by two volunteer firemen before the trucks could arrive.

For the year of 1976 there were a total of 1,714 man hours of training accumulated by this department. These are all volunteer hours. Larry Guthrie was the high fireman with 149 hours of training. There are currently six Volunteer Firemen enrolled in the E.M.T. course being taught here in Floydada.

We would like to thank everyone who helped make our fund drive for Muscular Dystrophy a success. We raised just under $300.00.
