Lake Lot Drawing Saturday

A public drawing will be held Saturday, May 7, 1977, at the housing area on the north side of Lake Mackenzie to determine the taxpayer who receives first choice of lots. The drawing will begin at 1:00 p.m., and those eligible to take part in the drawing are the people and businesses who pay taxes to the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority.

The procedure to be followed for the drawing prescribes that each person, business or taxpayer who wishes to enter into the drawing will sign a letter of intent with one of the banks in the Water District. The letter of intent will state (1) that $400.00 will be deposited to the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority Recreation Fund if the taxpayer's name is drawn. At the time a person signs the letter of intent the money will be held and cannot be touched unless (A) the taxpayer's name is drawn, at which time the money becomes the money of the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority, or (B) the taxpayer's name is not drawn. At this time the letter will be returned to same along with the taxpayer's money. The letter of intent will also state (2) that when the taxpayer's name is drawn, he will indicate on the master plat the lot of his choice. The person or proxy of person drawn must be present within five minutes or the name will be placed aside and another name drawn in its place.

Whirlwinds Regional Track Champions

By Doug Simpson
In spite of the fact that only four individuals will represent Floydada

High School at the state track meet on May 14th, the Whirlwinds were able to satisfy plenty of onlookers, including coaches Joe Paty and Connie Carthel, as they swept the Class AA Region I division track meet last Friday and Saturday at Texas Tech. The Winds, by finishing the day with 55 total points, equalled or bettered their season's best times in a total of four events, and qualified for the state extravaganza in the sprint relay and 100-yard dash. That feat, which enabled the Whirlwinds to recapture the crown for the third unprecedented time, was especially significant, considering that the victors acquired just one point in three frustrating field events.

"The first in the sprint relay established the tempo for the entire afternoon," remarked an understandably pleased Coach Paty following the event. "We only got a point in the field events, but our runners were able to get the necessary points for us. I was very pleased with our performance, and it was made possible through a team effort."

That single point was picked up in the pole vault by Rusty Cagle, whose 13 feet 3-inch leap netted sixth place in an event that saw a Colorado City vaulter clear more than 14 feet before being named the winner.

Also participating in the field events were Steve Westbrook in the pole vault, Paul Radloff in the discus, and Mickey Minnitt in the long jump.

The 440-yard relay team was off and running to a first place medal from the very first leg, as the foursome of Jay Womack, Danny Colston, Randy Ratheal and Minnitt bettered the season's finest time of 43.0 to outlast Dimmitt by two tenths of a second and pick up 20 badly needed points.

Colston qualified for the finals in the 120-yard high hurdles by crossing the tape at a sizzling 14.7 speed, and was able to repeat at that rate the following day for a fourth place finish, behind unbelievably difficult competition.

Jay Womack fulfilled his goal of a trip to the state meet by taking a strong second place in the 100-yard dash with a 10.1 clocking, just in front of Minnitt, whose 10.4 effort achieved fourth place.

Randy Ratheal improved his 440-yard dash by more than a second in the finals of that event, and in doing so, broke Steve Puckett's old school mark of 49.4 by crossing the finish line in third at a blazing 49.1 clocking. This was offset by the fact that the senior, "Fighting Whirlwind" honoree missed a trip to state in that race by a mere tenth of a second.

Mile runners Richard Ramirez and Jesse Martinez also improved their respective times in that event, although the pair failed to place in the point category, the top six. After staying with the front six runners for three full laps, each crossed the line with 4:48.2 timings.

The Mile Relay team of Womack, Ricky Day, Charles Bradford, and Ratheal entered the final and deciding event with a goal in mind—to secure the regional championship by capturing at least third place, behind state qualifiers Dalhart and Slaton. The foursome was fully aware of the 10-point lead it had to protect, and responded to the challenge by setting a season best mark, a sizzling 3:22.7, for third place, 12 welcomed points, and the championship of Region I Class AA division.

Thirty-four schools participated; the first ten were:

Floydada, 55; Slaton, 40; Colorado City, 34; Denver City, 29; Childress, 29; Crane, 24; Dalhart, 28; Olton, 28; Dimmitt, 26; Boys Ranch, 18.

be available to his employees and their families. Would these facilities favorably impress someone considering a plant location in your home town? If there is some question in your mind, visit with your community leaders and determine how you can help toward upgrading these facilities.

What services does your community furnish? A prospect will take a close look at the availability of adequate electricity, natural gas, telephone service, water and sewage capacity. Future industrial growth may be blocked if these services are not kept up to date.

II. The next step is to prove to the prospect that he can make a profit in your community. An important tool often used to prove this is your community survey. This is on file at the Electric Company office or at your Chamber of Commerce. The survey presents an overall view of your town, listing facilities, services, climate, utilities, local government, transportation, etc.

Sometimes a special labor study may need to be prepared for the prospect to substantiate claims that the town's labor supply can meet his requirements.

Southwestern Public Service Company has prepared a Target Industry Report that may be obtained from our office or the Chamber of Commerce. This report reflects some of the best opportunities for industrial development within your community.

III. Helping the industry obtain financing is the third factor to be considered. More and more prospects are asking communities to aid them in securing financial assistance. Thus, it is important that community leaders be familiar with all sources of financing available to prospective industry. These leaders should know where the prospect can get the money for land and building at the least interest rates.

IV. The fourth step in attempting to locate new industry involves the problem of where to place the new business. Your Chamber of Commerce maintains a file on land and buildings available to industrial prospects.

V. Actively seeking a prospective business for your community is the final step in locating new industry. Whenever you learn of a local citizen who has a good "idea" for starting an industry, encourage him to "follow through." If you hear a rumor about a company that is planning to expand, tell your Chamber of Commerce. They can follow-up on the rumor and furnish that company details about your community...it may not be a rumor.

I HAVE JUST LEARNED some information...highly secretive, that plans are about to be worked out by the Commissioners Court whereby there will be a library, jail, offices for the extension office people...so, we need to have faith in the court at this point, and at the 10:30 meeting Monday morning in the county courtroom, possibly the entire program can be laid out for everyone to consider.

CONGRATULATIONS to the First Assembly of God Church people on the beginning of construction for their new sanctuary...we'll take a picture when the framing starts up.

Consumer Debt, $1,650 Per

Family In Floyd County

NEW YORK. —To what extent have Floyd County residents been utilizing the installment credit available to them in their recent stepped-up spending for consumer goods?

How large is their debt load, relative to income, and how well are they managing it?

As in other parts of the country, there was an upturn in consumer spending in recent months, especially in December, causing the debt load to expand considerably.

From the standpoint of business, this was a good sign. It was a solid indicator of an economy that was on the rise. People were again in the marketplace for new cars, washing machines, furniture, refrigerators and other costly goods and services.

Because most of it was bought on credit, as usual, the increase in the debt load reflects the increase in consumer buying.

Nationally, according to figures from the Federal Reserve Board, consumer credit at the beginning of the year was at a three-year high, nearly $179 billion. It was 10 percent more than a year earlier. Auto buying was the chief reason.

In Floyd County, based upon average earnings and spending locally and upon the national findings, the amount of installment debt outstanding is estimated at $1,650 per family.

In general, the debt load is equivalent to about one-seventh of net disposable income.

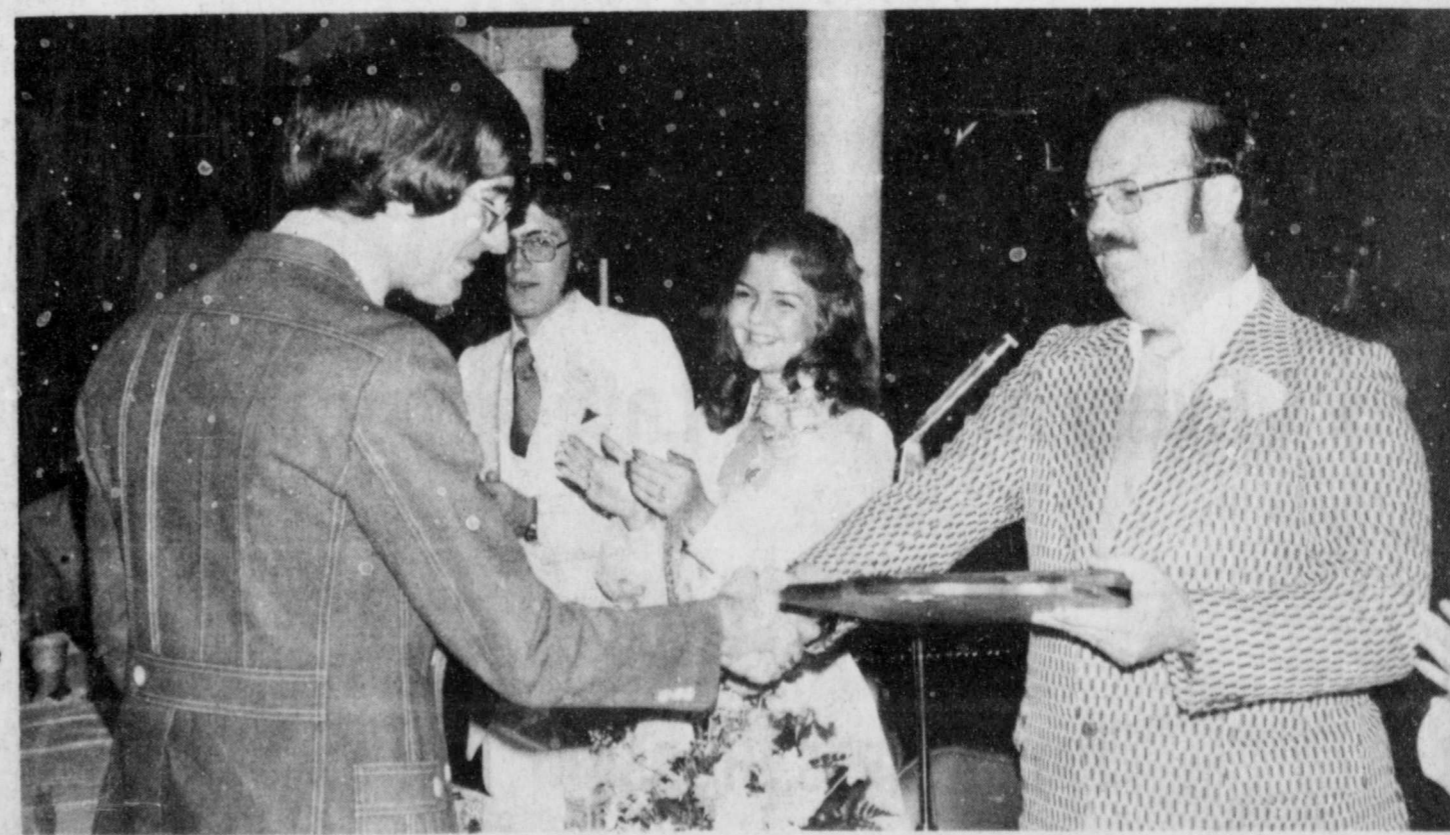

That is the average. Some families have bigger obligations than that and some have much smaller ones. There is a small proportion that buys for cash and has no installment debt at all.

As for the Floyd County population as a whole, the amount of such debt outstanding at the beginning of the year was approximately $6,258,000, it is estimated.

The largest part of it consisted of loans for car purchases. Most of the rest was for other consumer buying, for personal loans and loans for home repair and modernization. Mortgage loans, charge accounts and single payment loans are not included. They do not fall into this category.

Some 15 percent of the average local family's after-tax income, or about $140 per month, is needed to meet the installments on its debt, it is calculated.

HALFWAY — C.I. "Stony" Wall of Amarillo was presented a framed proclamation honoring his work in connection with the High Plains Research Foundation during Thursday's Board of Trustees meeting at the Halfway complex. During the presentation, board president Don Marble explained that Wall is one of the original members of the board and was instrumental in obtaining financial backing to purchase land on which the center conducts many of its activities.

"He has been one of the Foundation's biggest supporters and driving forces. He took a personal challenge to raise funds to keep the center operating during our early years and he has never stopped his support," Marble said.

Wall, chairman of the board of Pioneer Corp., is a former president of the natural gas concern. He has been a member of the High Plains Research Foundation for almost 20 years, Marble said.

IN OTHER business, the 50 board members and scientists present reviewed research projects currently underway at Halfway by 16 scientists and re-elected 40 members of the board to three year terms. "The board consists of 120 members, elected to staggered three year terms," Jack Cloude, Foundation executive director, explained.

The center, he said, was established in 1956 as an independent agricultural research organization. For the past three years it has been part of the Texas

Residents Of Floydada Nursing Home Will Be Honored

Residents of local nursing homes will be honored during Nursing Home Week, May 8-14. The annual observance is sponsored by Texas Nursing Home Association whose official Host this year is the famous Kentucky Colonel, Harland Sanders of Louisville.

In joining the program Paul Westbrook, Administrator of the Floydada Nursing Home announced an Open House on Mother's Day Sunday, May 8th, from 2 until 4 p.m. Theme of the week is "Be a good neighbor...visit a Nursing Home."
"This is an all-out effort by our profession to urge people in every community to take time for a personal visit and a close look into the operation of today's licensed nursing homes," said Westbrook. "We can provide every need of our residents except one...we can't make them know that the community cares about them. This special week gives everyone a chance to show that the people in the community do care about their neighbors in nursing homes."

"America is experiencing a dramatic rise in need for more and better health care facilities, and nursing homes are meeting that need with continuing expansion of services and facilities," he continued. "We want everyone to know what our nursing home is really like, and about the total care we administer to our residents. A visit during Open House will be a big step in that direction."

For a Mother or a Grandmother, a memory of every loved one in her family.

Response Enthusiastic To Art Exhibit

The Floydada Fine Art Exhibit drew enthusiastic response when it opened Sunday afternoon at the First National Bank. A "Meet the Artists" open house gave the public an opportunity to recognize more than thirty local artists who have paintings and drawings displayed in the lobby and the community room during this week.

An excellent variety of subject-matter in all media makes the exhibit unusually interesting. Paintings and drawings are noted as to title, artists name, and medium, making it easier for the beginning art-enthusiast to study the work.

The display will continue through Friday, May 6, and the public is cordially invited to come into the First National Bank during banking hours to see the exhibit.

GUEST ARTIST FOR MAY
In addition to the work by local artists, two paintings by Carolyn Harris Whittington may be seen. Mrs. Whittington, the guest artist for May, has an oil, "Deep in the Forest," and a pastel "Pepper Pot" in the lobby.

- 1) Expect to see motorcyclists. When you drive with this mental frame of mind it's easy to see motorcyclists in traffic, and to take appropriate action.
- 2) Respect the "space cushion" around motorcyclists—front, rear and alongside. Allow as much space for the motorcycle as you would for another car.
- 3) Check your attitude about motorcyclists. If you think of them as "troublemakers" or a nuisance on the road, it's unlikely you'll really share the road safely. Mentally put yourself on that motorcycle, then drive accordingly.

Peggy's Meddlin's BY PEGGY MEDLEY

I remember first hearing Bob Wills' music as a teenager...then like most, as his type of music grew it grew on the public. You could hear his recordings on radio, the old Zenith brand...our generation grew up listening to his music. Bob Wills is gone now but his music continues and seemingly is well loved by teenagers of today. Bob's Texas Playboys is keeping his type of music alive. It had been 20 years or more since I heard his band until Saturday when we attended the open air concert at Turkey. Heavy clouds threatened the football field and area where some 1500 or more had gathered to hear the sounds from the strings of the musical instruments. Some of Bob's original band members present included Leon McAuliffe on the steel, Al Stricklin on the piano, Smokey Dacus at the drums and Leon Rausch on the guitar. A highlight of the program, at least to me, was the appearance of "Laura Lee" of Fort Worth, first girl vocalist with the Texas Playboys. She commented "There have been prettier and better girl vocalists with Bob's band, but I was the first." Laura Lee joined the band in 1943 when most male vocalists were gone to the war. Bob's widow, Betty also of Fort Worth, was back again this year. She has since remarried and is now Mrs. Betty Anderson Wills Sheets. Bob's sisters, nieces and a number of other relatives were present, to pay tribute to the "King of Western Swing." Three of the band members present last year have since died and some members of their families were also present.

There was a standing ovation when emcee, Dr. Charles Townsend of West Texas State University, announced, "The Texas Playboys are on the air!", then applause and shouts as the band struck up the tunes of "San Antonio Rose," "Faded Love," "Dusty Skies," "Maiden's Prayer," "Trouble In Mind," "Stay A Little Longer," and finally "What Makes Bob Holler," mentioning just a few.

Also among those present to honor Turkey's hometown boy were the younger set. Grouped in front of the band stand, seated on grass in the center of the football field were the teenagers...giving forth with screams of delight as the band played the tunes they made famous during the 1939's and 1940's. Well, so much for music.

ONE of my coffee buddies passed along a recipe for a three layered pie...quick to make...and mighty light and cool for this time of the season. Instant pudding, pie filling and whipped cream. Sounds like the commercial—ballgames, hot dogs and Chevrolets...Anyway this recipe is for:

WEST Texans made a vain attempt back in the dust bowl days to joke about the dust and the effect it had on their lives. One story is told about a man who visited in this area during that time and a drop of water happened to fall on him. Being such a shock, he promptly fainted, and it took two buckets of sand thrown in his face to revive him. Fortunately weather conditions are not quite that bad now adays...the nice showers of the past several weeks have helped greatly in greening lawns and shrubs...and apricot trees are loaded.

Irrigation Gas Regulation Gets Senate Committee Okay

AUSTIN — The Senate Natural Resources Committee Wednesday favorably reported a bill by Senator Kent Hance of Lubbock which would place regulation of natural gas used for irrigation under the Texas Railroad Commission. Several Panhandle farmers were at the meeting to lend support to SB 1202, while opposition to the measure came from Pioneer Corporation — parent company of Pioneer Natural Gas Company — and Texas Farm Bureau.

Committee Chairman, Sen. Max Sherman of Amarillo, offered a substitute bill for SB 1202 which he said would alleviate the fear of many farmers north of the Canadian River that their gas would be cut off if their supplier, Emerald Gas Co., was classified as a utility.

Sherman said the substitute measure would make only those gas suppliers who serve municipalities subject to Railroad Commission scrutiny. Hance concurred in the proposal and substitute was adopted.

The Lubbock senator noted that under his bill, a supplier of natural gas would be required to present a request for a rate increase at a public hearing before the increase could go into effect.

"A farmer's only choice when confronted with a natural gas price increase (at present) is to either pay the increased price or to turn off his irrigation wells," Hance said.

John Aiken of Hereford, brother of Senate dean Sen. A. M. Aiken of Paris, said he believes it is "imperative that the farmer have somewhere to go" to appeal a rate increase.

"We want some recourse," Aiken said. "As their profits skyrocket our profits go down."

T. C. Measles of Tulsa said if prices continue to increase he will have to quit using the fuel and go to dryland farming practices.

Other support came from Texas Electric Cooperative with spokesman Walter Richter saying a lot of farmers are applying to cooperatives for electric hookups to replace gas on irrigation pumps.

"Frankly, we don't need the business," Richter said. Bill Lampey, representing Pioneer Corp., said the Panhandle gas supplier opposes the bill because of the financial risk associated with supplying gas to farmers. In addition, he said, the Railroad Commission has no perimeters for this type of rate making.

"I don't think regulation is going to lower rates," he said. "The history of regulation is that it (the rate) is going to go the other way."

Lampey said Pioneer has not raised its rates since 1971, but in an answer solicited by Hance, conceded the gas company has been passing through its cost of gas in monthly adjustments. He said rates for farmers are lower or equal to those paid by domestic customers.

Troy Harris President Ag Judging Conference

Troy G. Harris, agri-business instructor and livestock judging team trainer at Cloud County Community College in Concordia, Ks., was elected president of the National Association of Colleges and Teachers in Agriculture Judging conference in Maryville, Mo., on April 15-16. He will hold his office for two years.

Harris is completing his second year at Cloud County and initiated the livestock judging program there. Prior to coming to the college, he taught production agriculture at the Vocational-Technical school in Beloit, Ks., for two years.

The NACTA judging conference consists of community colleges and four-year non-grant institutions all over the United States. These institutions compete annually in three divisions: livestock, dairy, and soil evaluations. The conference locations for 1978 and 1979 will be the University of Tennessee at Martin, and the University of Minnesota Technical in Crookston, respectively.

Harris' duties as president will be to bring the judging conference history up to date, to establish conference locations for 1980 and 1981, and to represent this judging conference at the NACTA meeting this June at the University of Pennsylvania.

Troy is a former FHS ag teacher and son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Harris of Floydada.

Floyd Received $720,000 Travel Receipts In 1975

AUSTIN, Texas —Floyd County received $720,000 of the state's $5,306,118,000 travel receipts in 1975, a national study commissioned by the Texas Tourist Development Agency has disclosed.

In addition to gross receipts, the study found that Floyd County had 22 of the state's 207,676 travel-related jobs, with an annual payroll of $119,000.

It also estimated $28,000 in State and $7,000 in local taxes were paid by visitors.

The study was done by the U.S. Travel Data Center in Washington, D.C., an independent travel research organization funded jointly by public and private sectors.

It was based on the Center's Travel Economic Impact Model, which for the first time, breaks out a state's share of the national travel market on a county-by-county basis.

The model measures the economic impact of all travel involving overnight trips away from home, and day trips at least 100 miles or more from home. Thus it includes travel by Texans as well as out-of-state visitors, for all purposes. It includes estimates of the traveler's spending at home in preparation for the trip, his spending en route, and that at his destination.

Basic data for the model comes from the National Travel Survey, conducted every five years by the U.S. Census Bureau, and from the Center's own National Travel Expenditure Model.

It was the latter which, last year, estimated that Texas had displaced New York for third place in the nation's $75 billion travel industry. Only California and Florida now outrank Texas, the Center said.

"We're pleased that travel research techniques have finally developed to the point that states can determine where, within their boundaries, travel dollars are spent and travel-related jobs exist," said Frank Hildebrand, executive director of the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

"Now we can trace travel's considerable economic impact on a county-by-county basis, observe changing patterns annually, and help direct the rapid growth of this burgeoning industry."

Mrs. Dena Myrick returned home Sunday from a two weeks visit in Canton, Texas, with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ross McWilliams. While there she accompanied the McWilliams' to Dallas where they were present for the wedding of their son and grandson, Jackie Doyle McWilliams.

MILK PRODUCTION DOWN, FEED COSTS UP—Texas Milk production the first two months of 1977 was down about 5 per cent compared to last year, a major factor being increasing feed costs that are putting some producers out of business. Dairymen delivering milk on the Texas Federal Order Market during January and February decreased almost 300 although the average daily delivery per producer increased 130 pounds. The milk-feed ratio was 1.49—8 points below the average ratio for 1976 and 17 points below last February's ratio due to decreased milk prices and increased feed prices, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

against doctors, hospitals and the producers of pharmaceuticals. More recently, there have been malpractice court actions against lawyers but now a fairly new one has come on the scene.

THE LATEST OF MALPRACTICE ACTIONS has been against school systems. The parents of a 19-year-old have brought suit in Long Island, New York against the school district from which their son graduated. The action is based on the inability of the high school graduate to read. They say he is unemployable because he cannot read and write well enough to fill out a job application; that the piece of certified parchment scroll he received on graduation is worthless. The parents say their son lost a job as a carpenter because he was unable to read figures on estimates.

THE IDEA OF TAKING

A SCHOOL SYSTEM TO COURT for malpractice or breach of contract to educate is a novel one which raises questions about professional accountability for the consequences of the educational process.

THE THREAT OF THIS KIND OF ACTION must leave school administrators asking just how much obligation, if any, school legally have to their students. The question arises if there is an agreement implied between the educators and the pupils and are the courts the proper place to assess negligence in meeting the specific requirements of that contract.

IN THE CASE OF THE 19-year-old, the attorney for the parents claims the school had no right to give him a diploma in the first place. He said, "My client can only read about the fourth grade level." He points out that, even after the high school graduate had special tutoring in the latter part of his year of graduation, little improvement was made and the tutor suggested that he should not be allowed to graduate. The school let him graduate anyway, even though as the boy now says, when he went out to get a job he could not fill out an application and couldn't even read the want ads or the street signs.

IN 1972, A SIMILAR SUIT WAS FILED in California by the parents of a high school graduate alleging, that after thirteen years of regular attendance in the public schools, he could not read. According to a Harvard Educational Review, this boy's high school records indicated his intelligence to be average or slightly above and that he had never been involved in any major disciplinary action. He maintained average attendance and average grades but couldn't read.

A LOWER COURT RULED FAVORABLY BUT the California Court of Appeals recently reversed the decision on the grounds that negligence had not been demonstrated. As a result of this decision, it would appear that cases claiming educational malpractice would face some tough obstacles but, despite this decision and a few others, those who feel they are the victims of the formal educational system, seem to be taking to the courts in increasing numbers. The University of Bridgeport, Connecticut, for example, has been sued by a woman who said she did not learn what was promised in the catalog description of a particular course. A jury in New York recently awarded $750,000 in damages to a 23-year-old man because he had allegedly been misclassified as retarded when he was four years old and failed to receive the education he deserved. The case is being appealed.

PROBABLY "TAKING NOTICE" OF THESE CASES, a school district in Virginia has ordered 60,000 high school students to produce at least one piece of writing which must have flawless grammar, punctuation and spelling by the end of the year. In making his decision, the superintendent said, "At times we don't expect enough of our students. They do whatever we expect of them and if we expect mediocrity, that is what we are going to get."

PACKERS MAY MAIL CHECKS TO STOCKMEN—Despite some controversy, mailing of checks by packers to producers for livestock sold is "in order" and does not constitute an extension of credit by the packer, say two specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Payment is generally made by check to producers who are not present at the point of transfer of livestock. A producer can draw up a written agreement requesting that his check for the sale of livestock is to be mailed. The check must be mailed before the close of the next business day. In case of nonpayment, the producer must notify the packer within 30 days. If the check from the packer is not honored, the producer must notify the packer within 15 days.

NEW STANDARDS FOR PUBLIC WATER SYSTEMS—Effective June 24, both public and private water systems will be subject to new regulations by the Texas Department of Health Resources (TDHR).

The TDHR will begin enforcing the National Safe Drinking Water Act of 1974 on that day, says a resource development specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Any public water systems that serve 25 or more persons or have at least 15 service connections and that are used at least 60 days during the year will be subject to the new standards. These standards include sending a monthly water samples to the TDHR for analysis and having the system operated by a state certified water operator.

CONTAINER GARDENING FOR FRESH VEGETABLES—Anyone who likes homegrown vegetables can grow his own through container or "mini" gardening, says a horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Various types of containers can be used to grow such favorite vegetables as tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, squash, leaf lettuce and green onions. The containers can be placed on windowsills, patios, balconies, rooftops or almost anywhere the sun shines. Water the plants with a nutrient solution two to three times a week.

THE PERFECT PAIR

FOR THE SOUTH PLAINS

This matched pair of heavy yielders can produce a profit in spite of increased cost of farming. They both have in-bred yield potential which gives you a profit even with expensive water and fertilizer. 8311 has dominated yield results in this area for three years. 8272 promises even more. They both have sturdy stalks and good roots . . . they can take a lot of punishment and still be standing at harvest. And if you split big acreage between the two, you're going to have as pretty a field as you've ever seen. . . good exertion of heavy, uniform heads, all at the same height . . . beautiful . . . and profitable.

A four-year-old, disease-safe, high test weight yellow endosperm hybrid which is now a proven champion. Bushel weights normally run two to five pounds above other hybrids . . . and that's pure profit. Classified as a medium-late variety, it adjusts its maturity to make full use of growing seasons. A relatively short hybrid with good standability, 8311 has sturdy stalks, good roots and good head exertion. It has outstanding height uniformity and semi-open heads of golden bronze grain. This great hybrid has good tolerance and good resistance to post-freeze lodging.

This new full-season Pioneer hybrid is recommended for this area where adequate water and fertilizer are available. And though it responds to water with super yields, it can also take a little moisture stress and still produce well. It has good roots and stalks and excellent tolerance to MDMV. It has a beautiful appearance . . . the grain will be dark red on semi-compact heads. Plants are short like 8311 with good exertion and uniform head height for easy combining.

Perennial Grasses, Alfalfa Keeps Texas Soils In Texas

AMARILLO— Planting perennial grasses and alfalfa may be the only way to keep some erosion-prone Texas High Plains soils in Texas, says an Amarillo agronomist.

In February and March, some farmers suffered heavy dollar losses when 60-plus mile-an-hour winds literally blew the sandier-textured soils into adjacent states eastward.

Not all farmlands were affected, says Dr. Frank Peir of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Primarily affected by the winds were those fields having sandy texture and topography and which did not have enough plant growth or crop residue to deter the eroding action of strong winds.

Peir believes perennial crops offer continuous protection from both wind and water erosion, plus a good source of income through livestock production.

The Extension agronomist acknowledges that returning erosion-prone dryland areas to perennial grass is difficult, but that it sometimes is the best resource available to remedy the problem. The reason for the difficulty is the limited number of grass and legume species capable of surviving and producing economically adequate amounts of forage under dryland conditions.

Weeping lovegrass works especially well for dryland on deep sandy soils," he says. "Switchgrass, Indiangrass and side-out's grama do well also on the finer textured soils under dryland as well as irrigation. Bermudagrass is best for irrigated situations or low areas where subsurface moisture is available."

The agronomist says these warm season grasses should be planted in the spring when danger of hard frost is over. These warm season species planted in the fall do not become well established and are often killed by winter weather. He also advises having a firm, well prepared seedbed to establish a good stand and get ahead of weed competition.

"On sandy soils or where wind erosion is a hazard the grass can be planted directly into standing stubble that has been grazed to remove excess loose material," he

Wayland Boosts Plainview Economy

PLAINVIEW, Special — How much is Wayland Baptist College worth to the local community?

Since its fledgling days at the turn of the century when it was oftentimes jokingly called "Quincy High School" and its teachers sometimes worked without pay, it has come of age — financially solvent, a strong four-year senior college, and growing every year — making it one of the permanent and strongest supporters of the City of Plainview and the surrounding area.

Consider a total budget in excess of $3.5 million, a work force of 104 professional and staff people with a gross payroll of $1,490,851 and numerous student workers with a payroll of $313,396 and you will begin to see the local value of this growing college.

A current study has been compiled and released by Wayland's Business Administration Department and the Office of Public Relations.

The total college-stimulated business volume, both direct and indirect comes to nearly $16 million. Of this total, the following amounts are spent by full-time college employees and their families: $265,802 on food and beverages, $62,382 for personal transportation costs, $108,901 on clothing and related items, $201,878 for household goods and furnishings, $18,739 on recreational activities, and $25,300 on educational activities.

Money spent by students for local purchases amounts to $1,062,672 a year, or $37.66 per male student and $13.42 per female student per week. Also enriching the economy, although there are no current figures several thousand visitors to the college including potential students, parents, and those participating in special tours or events such as the basketball clinic leave behind their expenses for food, lodging and other necessities during their stay. A study in 1973 shows $1,062,500 was spent by this group.

Saga Food Service, the contractor supplying meals to the college's student body, spends $125,000 to $150,000 on purchases in the immediate market area. In addition they employ six full-time workers and 20 part-time students, amounting to $100,000 in salaries.

The college itself buys

$655,179.97 worth of goods and services from local merchants on a yearly basis. And, an estimate of about $1,209,955 is paid to real estate owners for college employees and off-campus student housing. In addition the college made direct payments for public utilities in the amount of $149,567.27 last year.

About 50 percent of the college employees own homes in Plainview and pay an estimated $25,900 in real estate taxes on these properties annually.

State teacher allocation is based on student average daily attendance in public schools. Based on an estimated 230 additional children in Plainview public schools due to college employee's dependents, making an average daily attendance figure of about 216, allows the Plainview Independent School District to employ 11 additional teachers. Considering an estimated average teacher salary of $10,000 (probably a low estimate) this would amount to nearly $110,000 extra funds toward teacher salaries due to college employee's children.

The student aid program at the college from all sources of state, federal, denominational, and general gifts to students provides funds for students in the form of scholarships, grants, loans, and jobs in an amount of approximately $1.3 million.

Besides the direct amounts of money spent, the secondary effects of college-related buying in the city are proportionately higher employment, additional tax dollars, and greater economic activity in general. Purchasing by the college, its students and employees results in increased business volume which provides 346 additional jobs.

Of course, besides the economic impact of the college there are other not as easily measured but important contributions. These are the cultural and recreational offerings open to community residents, and student and employee volunteer services in many community involved programs. The college also serves as an attractive incentive to businesses looking for new locations.

Not to be overlooked are the many contributions made by Wayland administrator faculty and staff members to the various civic bodies in the area. Nearly every administrator and faculty member at one time or another, has served on a local board or agency.

Wayland personnel, because of academic background and expertise, also provide invaluable services as consultants — without pay — to local industry including area churches. Such services include business evaluations as well as feasibility studies for new products. Too, churches profit through such programs as music and educational development. On the other hand, Wayland's Science Department personnel are oftentimes involved in local agricultural needs. All of these things go together in making for better cooperation between the college and area resident and businesses.

Implications Of Farm Policy Proposals For Grain Producers

COLLEGE STATION—

"Carter Administration proposals to raise the loan rate for corn to $2 per bushel while holding the wheat loan rate at $2.25 would, if implemented, tend to encourage feedgrain production relative to wheat production," says Dr. Ron Knutson, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The long term-effect of the proposed changes in policy is more important than its short-run impact," contends Knutson.

The proposal to raise corn prices relative to wheat has the potential over the four-year life of the bill of realigning wheat and feedgrain prices. This realignment is based on the U.S. Department of Agriculture premise that (1) if wheat prices fall to the support level, wheat should be priced competitive with feedgrains; and (2) the U.S. is in a world market position where it can significantly influence or set the floor on feedgrain prices. These notions represent a substantial change in farm program philosophy, points out Knutson.

"The Administration also proposes to establish a 300-million-bushel wheat reserve," notes the economist. "This reserve would be held by farmers under a three-year storage contract. The producer would be prepaid storage costs in addition to the loan. In return, he would give up his right to market the grain until the market price reached $3.15 per bushel—140 per cent of the loan rate. The loan would be called when the market price reached $3.94—175 per cent of the loan rate."

Under normal crop conditions, the effect of the 300-million-bushel wheat reserve proposal would be to maintain market prices between the $2.25 support level and the $3.15 release price. Under these conditions farmers could potentially expect returns between the $2.60 target price and the $3.15 release price. However, a market price for wheat of less than $2.60 is probable this year if the weather generates favorable growing conditions, says Knutson.

"Under conditions of relatively short supply, the $3.94 per bushel required release price for wheat would tend to act as an upper price limit. However, the reserve is not large enough to withstand a major production shortfall unless similar reserves are established by other countries," contends the economist.

"Such international reserves are part of the Administration's plan. Good production this year will tend to increase pressure to lift the 300-million-bushel loan limit next year." Sorghum target prices are being proposed using the same cost of production formula as for other crops. This would give sorghum a target price of about $3.70 per hundred-weight. The loan rate for sorghum has not yet been announced. Indication is that it will be either equal to the corn loan rate or 95 per cent of the corn rate on a bushel basis. In either case, in contrast with corn, the sorghum target price will be marginally higher than the sorghum loan rate. The corn target price, set on the basis of cost of production, is $1.75 per bushel compared with a $2 loan rate. This year feedgrain demand is considered strong enough to maintain corn prices above the loan level.

"The proposed elimination of acreage allotments would increase the uncertainty of the proportion of the production on which deficiency payments would be made," says Knutson. "Under the proposed plan, payments would only be made on production needed for domestic use, export demand and necessary carryover. The larger the supply relative to market needs, the lower would be the proportion of current production eligible for deficiency payments. With the new price alignment, wheat and rice are the only commodities where target prices are substantially higher than support prices and thus have the potential for deficiency payments."

A CORDIAL INVITATION FOR TEXANS TO "visit a nursing home" next week has been issued by Kentucky's most famous Colonel, Harland Sanders, on behalf of more than 96,000 residents in the 996 licensed facilities across Texas.

Colonel Sanders, named celebrity host of Nursing Home Week by the Texas Nursing Home Association which sponsors the annual observance, extended the invitation from his home in Shelbyville, Kentucky.

"Many fine Texan citizens reside in Nursing Homes," said the Colonel, "and I am pleased to invite everyone to take time to visit nursing homes in their communities...especially during the week beginning on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 8th."

"The folks will be mighty happy to see you," he continued. "Your visit will be a rewarding experience for all concerned. Be a good neighbor, visit a nursing home...and while you're there, tell them the Colonel said hello!"

Nursing Home Week, beginning on Mother's Day, has become a tradition in Texas. Member homes of TNHA regularly schedule a variety of activities such as Receptions, Open House, Displays of Handicrafts, and other special programs open to the public.

Hernandez Completes Basic Training

April 28—Marine Private First Class Benito Hernandez, son of Florine B. Edmonson of Floydada, has completed basic field artillery training.

The five-week skill course was conducted at the Marine Corps Base, Twenty-nine Palms, California. The training was designed to prepare students for future assignment as field artillery battarymen. During both classroom and practical application periods, students received instruction on the operation, firing and maintenance of 105mm and 155mm howitzers.

He joined the Marine Corps in August 1976.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Faye Walters

Well, we are still having April showers but since Saturday was the last day of April, we will start looking for the weather to change. I think all the farmers wish it would stay pretty a few days so they can plant.

Our devotions have all been so good this week and we want to thank everyone who took part in them.

Exercise classes are going real good and so are our arts and crafts. We have two new workers, Mollie Jones and Alta Probasco. They are both working on our quilts. We are happy to have them.

We would like to thank Ann Swepton's Sunday School class for bringing the fruit, candy, gum and cookies to our residents. They really enjoyed them.

Wednesday we had a nice field trip. Henry Love, Grady Freeman (driver), Dora Langford, Agnes Anderson, Docia Manning, Hope Hammonds and myself all made the trip.

Thursday was bingo day and everyone enjoyed the games. Agnes Anderson was top winner with six games. Hope Hammonds won three games; Clara Williamson, Hallie Bertrand, Ray Reed, and Willie Stambough all won two games.

We are sorry Tessie Green is in the hospital. Hope she will be better soon.

Our administrator and his wife have been gone to the Nursing Home convention. Sunday is Mothers Day and it is also the first day of Nursing Home week so we will be having Open House at the nursing home. Everyone is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served and we will also have some good entertainment.

Our visitors this week included: Mr. and Mrs. Hubert E. Davis, Parnell Powell, Hazel and Kim Bradley, Josephine and Verdie Smith, Lewis Peach, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones and Jade, Mrs. Keith Reeves, Jerry Jarrett, Trena Reeves, Dorothy and Otis Anderson, Floyd and Mamie Anderson, Mrs. George Wexler, Mrs. J. Floyd 4-H's Winners At District

Fifteen Floyd County 4-H's competed in the District 2 eliminations held in Lubbock, April 30. 4-H's from a twenty county area took part in the contest making competition great. All of the Floyd County entries did an excellent job at the contest and represented their county very well. In the junior division of champion animals, Earl Broseh and Michael Cawley placed third in very tough competition.

Also, in the Junior division Heather Holt and Monte Teeter placed first to win the Agronomy division. Tiffany Duvall and Dana Poole placed first in the Junior division of the Horse division.

In the Junior Division of Hand Skills, Libby Williams and Shawnda Brock placed first to win their contest.

Karyn and Melanie Foster placed first to win the Junior Clothing Educational Activity Division. Kim Carthel and JerriAnn McCormick put forth a fine demonstration to win the Junior Division of Home Environment.

In the Senior Division Floyd County will have two teams to enter the state contests scheduled at Texas A&M, June 7 and 9. In the poultry Division Darlene Broseh and Sharon Jones won first and qualified for State 4-H Round-Up.

Also qualifying for Round-Up was Clay Hamilton who placed second in the Senior Public Speaking Division. This was a well prepared and coached effort and for this effort Mike Brown, Assistant County Extension Agent would like to say for himself and the 4-H's, a well deserved "THANK YOU" to the leaders, parents, and a special thanks to Linda Terrell for their help in the preparation for these contests.

Also, officers and delegates for the District 4-H Council were installed. David Foster is Information Chairman, and Stephanie Turner and Jody Foster are the Floyd County delegates to the council.

Pictures not available at this time are: Shawnda Brock and Libby Williams, Darlene Broseh and Sharon Jones, and Clay Hamilton.

DANA POOLE AND TIFFANY DUVALL placed first in the horse division. In lower photo Heather Holt and Monte Teeter first in the Agronomy division.

FARM LEADERS SEEK EXEMPTION ON FUEL TAXES BEING CONSIDERED

WACO—A group of farm leaders, representing various counties from across the state on the Texas Farmers Union Board of Directors, have unanimously stated that they hope the Administration will exempt agriculture in any consideration of fuel taxes to discourage usage.

The farm group stated in a resolution that "the farmer is already the most efficient industrial consumer of fuels in America" and that any tax on his operating fuel "will only add to the cost of producing food and further inflation."

Texas Farmers Union also went on record as opposing two research and promotion groups, Cotton Incorporated and the proposed Beef Research and Information Act. The farm organization alleges that once the act has been voted on by producers in a referendum and passed, all producer control and democratic representation are lost.

Said one spokesman, "These boards who gain control of the producers' dollars soon become dominated by special interest groups who do not necessarily represent producers.

The undemocratic system is perpetuated by a lack of clear-cut criteria for determining who is a qualified special interest group; how many, if any, producers a group must represent; and whether each should get one vote regardless of its size. "The end result is that a few groups maneuver for control while the producer himself, and the fact that it is his money, are ignored. After the referendum vote there is not another democratic vote on anything by the producers. And there is insufficient review on a periodic basis of what the boards are doing with their money and power."

The Texas Farmers Union passed a resolution unanimously calling for a continued boycott of participation in Cotton Incorporated and the Cotton Board. All but one member voted in favor of urging beef producers to vote "no" in the beef referendum coming up for a vote probably the first of June. The group reminded, however, that even for a "no" vote the producer must register in local ASCS office during the registration period just prior to the vote.

"We are not opposed to producers researching and promoting their products," emphasized the spokesman for Texas Farmers Union. "We simply question the absence of democratic controls once these boards are established. If this problem could be remedied during the drafting of enabling legislation, many of our members could support such a program which would benefit producers. We urge the Secretary of Agriculture and Congress to take another look at these programs."

The Floyd Philosopher Comes Out With History's Simpiest System Of Taxing Our Incomes. Includes illustration of a man with a beard and hat.

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm comes out with a simplified tax system this week, surely with tongue in cheek, although you never can tell.

Dear editor: About this time of the year, a short while after income tax paying time, somebody comes out with a demand to simplify the tax forms and everybody agrees; that is, everybody except lawyers and other people who get paid for filling in the forms.

One economist who had trouble understanding the complicated 1040 instructions which send you from one page to another and then back again, in language not even clear to the man who wrote it, came out with a simple plan. He says throw out all the forms, the deductions, the credits, etc, and just tax everybody 10 percent of his income, regardless of what it is. He claims this will bring in about the same tax revenue as the present complicated system, not to mention how much coffee it'll save for people who stay up late April 15 sweating over the thing. This plan is far too simple for the government to consider. The government isn't interested in something unless it's unreasonable.

The plan however is sound, only it doesn't go far enough. Instead of taxing 10 percent of your total income, it ought to tax 10 percent of what you have left at the end of the year. This would suit everybody except those with a million-dollar income. They like the present system.

Now the government will argue this wouldn't leave it enough to operate on. The same argument can be turned the other way: the present tax system doesn't leave some people enough to operate on either.

But we're all facing days of austerity, we've been told, and the government shouldn't be exempt, although this goes contrary to the fundamental principles of politics. When a politician tells us to tighten our belts, he generally shows us how belts are adjustable by loosening his. Congress recently taught us how to fight inflation by giving itself a 29 percent raise.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

SANITATION, NUTRITION HELP CONTROL INTERNAL PARASITES—A Texas A&M University veterinarian says that internal parasite treatment in livestock may be ineffective if good sanitation and nutrition practices are not followed. Cattle develop some resistance to parasites but this can be overcome if animals are overcrowded and undernourished. When animals are moved from the infection source and placed on an adequate ration, they will rapidly lose most of their parasites. The medium stomach worm and the common liver fluke are the most serious internal parasites in Texas livestock.

Peace Officer Rattlesnake Rodeo May 12

In a telegram to Cecil Fox, President of the Caprock Peace Officers Association, Governor Dolph Briscoe expressed his regrets for not being able to attend the 29th annual Rattlesnake Rodeo and Peace Officers Meeting.

The event is the Caprock Peace Officers annual Barbeque and Rattlesnake Rodeo that is scheduled for Thursday, May 12 at the Association headquarters at Clairmont, Texas.

Corn Growers Association

Certified

AUSTIN—Texas Corn Growers Association is now officially certified as representative of producers in 18 counties and will hold a referendum for officers and assessments July 29.

Agriculture Commissioner Regan V. Brown certified the group in a hearing here April 28. Under the Commodity Referendum Act, the Texas Department of Agriculture is responsible for monitoring the referendum and subsequent assessment procedures.

Corn growers will vote in their county seats for six board members who will set assessments collected from producers, not to exceed one-half cent per bushel.

Monies collected in the program are used for education, research, market development and promotion of corn, Commissioner Brown stated.

Persons who wish to be a candidate for the board must submit petitions signed by ten corn growers to the Texas Corn Growers Association, 707 West Grant Street, Dimmitt, Texas 79027. Carl King of Dimmitt is currently serving as president of the association. June 29 is the deadline for petitions.

The election returns will be canvassed by a four-member team composed of a representative of the Texas Department of Agriculture, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Corn Growers Association, and a county judge from one of the participating counties. Commissioner Brown will certify the returns.

The 18 counties included in the referendum are as follows: Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Parmer, Randall, Swisher, Dallas, Hansford, Hartley, Moore, Ochiltree, Sherman, Carson and Hutchinson.

FLOYDDATA
Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lyles returned home Saturday from Temple where Mrs. Lyles underwent eye surgery Wednesday before at Scott and White. She is reported to be doing well. There with their parents during surgery were Mrs. Cecil Baxter of Floydada and Floyd Lyles of Lockney.

HUTCHISSON TO RECEIVE AWARD—Dr. John E. Hutchison, director emeritus of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, has been selected to receive the prestigious Distinguished Service Ruby Certificate Award of Epsilon Sigma Phi, the national fraternity of Extension Service employees. The award will be presented at the national council meeting of Epsilon Sigma Phi in November in Washington, D.C. The award is bestowed to only one member annually at the national level, and Hutchison is the first Texan ever to be honored with the award. Hutchison served 18½ years as director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

of Lubbock. Many more valuable gifts have been donated by merchants throughout the Caprock area to be given at a drawing being held during the day.

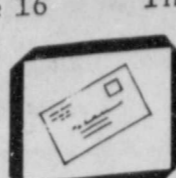

The program calls for registration to begin at 9:00 a.m. with the fee being $3.00 per person. Barbeque at 12 noon being catered by Jacksons of Post. After lunch Judge Norman Hahn, County Judge of Kent County will address the Peace Officers followed by the Rattlesnake shoot. President Cecil Fox will award prizes at 3:30 p.m.

This year the Shooters have regrouped to form five groups. The scoring will be the same, a hit in the head scoring 10 points and a body hit scoring 5 points. Awards of Rattlesnake jewelry will be awarded winners in each group.

The Caprock Peace Officers invite the attendance of all Peace Officers and guests.
