Mayor Parnell Powell officially made the following proclamation about the

"WHEREAS, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation system encompasses more than 70 thousand miles of the nation's finest roads and highways in 1977;

"WHEREAS, these vital travelways are essential to the continued growth of the Texas economy and for "Transportation - America's Lifelines" in the Lone Star State; and

"WHEREAS, the daily lives of every citizen depend on transportation. All industrial production, all the agricultural bounty of our state, every necessity must be moved from producer to consumer; and

"WHEREAS, more than most other Americans, Texans must be able to move freely across the great expanses of our state, to jobs, to recreation, to education and cultural opportunities;

"WHEREAS, the transportation in-dustry, including highway, rail, air, water and pipelines, account for almost 30 percent of the total state economy;

"WHEREAS, indeed, transportation constitutes America's lifelines;

"NOW, THEREFORE, I Parnell Powell, mayor of the City of Floydada, Texas, do hereby proclaim May 15-21, 1977, as NATIONAL TRANS PORTATION WEEK in Floydada and urge all citizens to lend their support to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

"IN WITNES WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Floydada to be affixed this 10th day of May, 1977.

Junior High Conservation Essay Winners Named

Ricky Heflin, Floydada Junior High School, was named the first place winner in the Junior High division of the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District essay contest.

Each year the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District sponsors a Conservation Essay-Contest for Junior and High School students. In each contest Mark Martin awards the students with cash prizes. The theme of the essay this year was 'Soil and Water Conservation in Floyd County - Present and Future."

Ricky received a check for $25 for his first place essay. Second place winner was Bryant Higginbotham of Floydada Junior High School. Bryant received a check for Third place winner was Treva Hambright of Floydada Junior High. Treva

received a check for $10. Presenting the awards Wednesday afternoon at Floydada Junior High School was G. L. Fawver, chairman of the Floyd County Soil and Water

White Collar Jobs Up

What changes have taken place in the makeup of Floyd County's labor force in recent years?

To what extent has automation caused a shifting in jobs? What is the distribution now, as between white collar and blue collar employment? Government figures show that the proportion of men and women in white collar occupations in the local area has been rising, year by year. At the present time, on the basis of data gathered for the country as a whole, the white collar ratio locally is about 11.5 percent higher than it was back in 1960.

At that time, according to the census taken that year, there were 4,290 people employed in the local area, 1,190 of them in white collar occupations. The rest were in blue collar jobs, in service industries or working on farms. The facts and figures on employment are from the Department of Commerce and from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, which has made detailed studies of labor force distributions.

Since then, automation and mechanization in the factory, on the farm and in production processes in general have had a marked effect on the composition of the work force.

As a result, what with the readjustments that have taken place, the it is estimated.

What One Person Can Do

JOHN HALLIGAN, 'SHOESHINE PRIEST"

John Halligan's "parish" is the 6,000 shoeshine boys of Quito, Ecuador. Living hand-to-mouth, sleeping in doorways, few such boys go to school. Few have any hope. But for 13 years, the Bronx Jesuit priest has offered a way out of their grinding poverty through the Centro Muchacho Traba-(Working Boys Center) of Quito. The Center now has 320 members - boys from 6 to 25. Its 4-story building has machine shops, classrooms, cafeteria and dormitory for 27 homeless members.

"We are trying to start a revolution," says Father irrigation landowners within the District. He pointed out that this program is now maintained entirely by fees paid by such tax allowance claimants.

Other members of the District's Board of Directors include James Mitchell of Wolfforth, vice-president: Selmer Schoenrock of Levelland, secretary-treasurer; Mal Jarboe of Floydada, member; and Ray Gerk of Halligan, "against the miserable attitude the poor generally have of their own worth, society and the future." He points out that few Ecuadorians earn even the minimum needed for food and shelter, and 100,000 workers have no jobs.

Most Center members still shine shoes, but each boy puts his earnings in the Center's bank, receiving 12 per cent interest. They get three hot meals daily, and attend school and recreation programs. Older boys study mechanics and carpentry, and 20 boys have joined a cooperative housing project begun by Father Halligan. Each will build his own home, paying monthly installments of $7.20 for 12 years. This is Quito's first cooperative housing pro-

1. SOURDOUGH STARTER

1 package active dry yeast (105° to 115°)

1 cup instant nonfat dry milk 2 tablespoons sugar 4 cups all-purpose flour

a) Stir yeast, water, dry milk and sugar in 21/2 quart crock or nonmetallic bowl until yeast is dissolved. Stir in flour gradually until a smooth batter forms. Let stand loosely covered in warm place, 3 to 5 days. Stir down batter occasionally. Store loosely covered

b) Replace exact amount of starter used for each recipe by stirring equal amounts of homogenized milk and flour back into starter. (For example, replace 1 cup starter with ½ cup homogenized milk and 2 cup flour). Let stand loosely covered until it bubbles, overnight. Stir down. Each time this process is repeated, the starter becomes more active and develops a more sour flavor. Note: if stored as much as two to three weeks between usings, just pour off the watery layer on top and replace following procedure in (b).

Homemaker Service Provides In Home Help

Homemaker service aides who will provide in-home help for elderly persons in 15 West Texas counties have become more professionally trained to serve the aging through a Texas Tech University-directed program. The aides have participated in a 15-session training program conducted by the College of Home Economics and financed by a grant from the Administration on Aging (AOA) of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Many of those who enrolled in the training course require further training, according to Gail House, director of the Homemaker Service Aide Program

South Plains Office on Aging entertained a fifteencounty area of Senior Citizens May 11th in Fair Park Coliseum in Lubbock in conjunction with Senior Citizens' Month in Texas. Some 446 area citizens registered for the days activities and picnic lunch.

The group was welcomed by Mayor Roy Bass on behalf of the city council. He told the Seniors they were builders of our country. Their stamina in overcoming hardships of the early day have left footprints on the High Plains. Today many government-supported agencies exist to aid Senior Citizens in solving their problems.

Each group attending elected its honorary citizen who was recognized and awarded a plaque of honorary merit by Judge Abernathy. Those from Floyd County receiving honorary mention were George McAda, Lockney, and J. C. Wester of Floydada. Those receiving plaques were Menard Field, Floydada, and Mrs. Bob Knox, Lockney.

Pioneer Reunion Set At Plainview Next Saturday

The theme, "Pioneers -Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," has been chosen for the 49th Pioneer Round-Up to be held in Plainview, Maturday, May 21st. Miss Judy Smith, president of the sponsoring organization, Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club, stated that all activities will be held in the Hale County Agriculture Center and will have the entire facilities there while the Plainview Band Parents Carnival will be held in another location.

The reception beginning at 10 a.m. at the Hale County Agriculture Center in Plainview, is a big feature and is a time when the real 'old-timers" get together to reminisce and exchange stories of the past. Mrs. Fannie Mae Green, chairman of this committee and her assistants are expecting many pioneers from near and afar to arrive soon after 10. . One of the few remaining parades in Plainview will be staged at 2:30 p.m. originating at the Santa Fe Depot on north Broadway. Parade will move south on Broadway to the American Legion Hall where it will disband.

Durward Lynch will be parade marshall. The color guard will also head the parade and the Plainview bands will march. Some bands will march. Some floats have already been entered and Mrs. Jan Tye. chairman of the parade committee, stated additional floats are welcome on that date. Antique cars, riding clubs, miscellaneous riders including the Texas Tech Red Raider for 1977-78 are some of the other attractions scheduled for the parade. Winners will be announced at the night pro-

The "Country Store" and concessions will be open all day at the Hale County Agriculture Center and Mrs. Edna Looper and Mrs. Ruth Renegar are the chairmen, Sandwiches, pies and cakes will be available at lunch time. Also a bake sale will be included. A special item this year will be a drawing of a hand crocheted afghan by president Judy Smith. All proceeds from this drawing go to the scholarship fund given by the Plainview BPW Club to a Plainview High

Wesley Ann Circle Meets

The Wesley Ann Circle of United Methodist Women met Monday evening, May 9, in the Floydada home of Mrs. Ann Smith with Mrs. Opal Ashton as co-hostess. Following a salad supper and business session presided over by the circle chairman, Mrs. Billie Jordan, Mrs. Anne Willson gave a delightful book re-port on "The Greatest Salesman in the World."

The following members and guests were present: Mmes. Elizabeth Armstrong, Julia Baker, Eldie Bryant, Margie Fowler, Diana Glover, Lula Green, Bennie Leibfried, Jewel Ella Reue, Cora Lee Shipley, Helen Solomon, Margaret Springer, Kathleen Stewart, Grace Robertson, and Anne Neuman.

Most old people in the United States seem to hold negative views toward agings, themselves--and life in general. They share these negative views with the young, although it appears that old people are not more or less gloomy about age than are young people, according to Mrs. Vivain Blair, family life education specialist-aging, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

A clean, well-maintained air conditioner means more efficient cooling-and comfort-for the family.

Regular inspection and cleaning of filters and grills in home air conditioner units keeps the house cooler-and saves fuel.

Filters are traps for the almost invisible impurities in the air and regularly build up an accumulation of dirt. Air conditioner filters in most units-and those in older buildings-require vacuuming and warm-water washing monthly. Shake off excess water, dry and replace filter.

An alternative to that is the disposable filter-available in various sizes, usually easy to change, and inexpensive.

New homes-or recently remodeled homes-may need more frequent filter changes, or cleanings, during the first cooling season, because of extra dust in the system.

For cleaning room grills, use a soft cloth, mild soap and warm water-not waxes or cleaners.

If the system seems sluggish after cleaning, call a service man certified by the manufacturer of the air conditioner-or an electrician.

Since cleaning filters and grills is relatively simple, someone in the family should be responsible for giving a frequent check. More cooling-cleaner home-saves energy.

Water board delays seeding decision

By CARROLL WILSON

The Texas Water Development Board postponed Friday the issuance of weather modification permits to two South Plains cloud-seeding firms.

"We won this round," said Nolon Henson of Randall County, chairman of the 1000-member Citizens for Natural Westher. "It's the first good news we've had on this

Henson told The News Saturday the water board postponed its decision on issuing permits for weather modification activities to Plains Weather Improvement Association and Atmospherics, Inc., until a June 13 meeting.

Henson said the board asked representatives of the two firms, which have proposed to seed clouds to stop hail over most of the Southern Panhandle, to explain how they comply with Texas law which requires that cloud-seeding activities be conducted so as not to substantially alter weather patterns.

If the decision is postponed to June 13, the decision might fall within the purview of a new state law Henson and his group have been fighting for in the legislative session now

The faw, which passed out of a Senate committee last Wednesday, would require that residents of areas over which cloud-seeding was proposed be allowed to vote for or against such activity.

Henson said the water board's attitude Friday in Austin was such that he felt the board would not have granted permits to the two firms had the decision been made Friday. Henson and other Randall County area farmers have been fighting the weather modification firms for three year, contending that the firms, in their efforts to reduce hail have also reduced rainfall in the weather modification

Over the next 50 to 75 years people who retire could receive benefits as high as 243 percent of their earnings before retirement. -Keep seed out of direct "Truly absurd is the man who Clearly, this type of benefitexceeding a worker's highest earnings-was never intended to be offered by the Social Security system.

The problem is a flaw in 1972 amendments which will ultimately cause Social Security benefits to increase much faster than the cost of

As the law now stands, the ratio between a worker's earnings and his projected Social Security benefits changes each year according to changes in the cost-of-

Benefits have been automatically tied to the cost-ofliving. If it goes up, benefits do, too. If it goes down, they

But the mechanism for determining changes in the cost-of-living is flawed. Although the legislation works as it was meant to work now--and will continue to do so in the near future-it will eventually lead to wide discrepancies in the relationship between an individual's earnings before retirement and the Social Security benefits that person later receives.

If the flaws in this legislation are not corrected the tax needed to support such a system could be as high as 40 percent of this country's payroll, or in the alternative, the Social Security system would go bankrupt.

I have proposed legislation to help correct the problem by cutting the projected deficit in half. The trustees of the Social Security system confirm that my bill would stabilize the system by providing a stable relatinship between earnings and benefits.

This legislation would have no effect on people who are already retired and receiving benefits. And it would not change the proviautomatic cost-of-living increased in benefits after retirement.

We must reassure the people of Texas and our nation that the Social Security system is working, and that it will remain financially

My bill, which has the full support of the Federal Council on the Aging, is a vital step in that direction. As a member of the Finance Committee, I will be doing whatever work is necessary to insure its passage.

This legislation will improve the fiscal soundness of the Social Security trust funds, and insure that the Social Security system performs equitably over the

We must protect the future of a system in which we have all placed our trust.

Today one out of every seven Americans receives benefits from our Social Security system. And over 100 million Americans are paying the taxes that support it

Crude Oil Production Declines

DALLAS — Despite 12 months of production at or near the maximum effective recovery rate in nearly all of Texas' oil fields, the state's crude oil production last year declined for the fourth consecutive year. The 1976 output of the nation's No. 1 oil producing state was almost 1.2-billion barrels and pushed the state's cumulative production since 1889 to just over 41.5-billion barrels. But last year's output was almost 179,171, 40,605,785; 1975, 32-million barrels below 1,251,784,956 32,448,893; 1975 production and more than 111-million barrels below the all-time peak production year of 1972. The following table

By using electricity wisely you'll be helping to control your electric bill without sacrificing your comfort or convenience. Here are some tips from experts at Edison Electric Institute.

1. Regularly clean or replace air filters on appliances (exhaust hoods, humidifiers, etc.). Clogged filters impair performance and cause the units to run

2. Turn off TV sets that are not being watched. Children, especially, are likely to leave a set on when called outside to play or summoned at mealtimes. Even when turned off, so-called "instant-on" TV sets draw some current to maintain selected circuits on standby readiness. Unplug sets having this feature when they won't be used for lengthy periods such drying. as overnight or during vacations.

for the next color TV set, percent solid state." Solidstate designs draw about one-third less current than tube sets and, because they dissipate less heat, put a lighter burden on the cooling system.

First iron those fabrics that require lower temperatures and work up to those requiring higher heat. An iron heats faster than it cools so it's quicker to go from low to high than the reverse. Less energy will be needed, too. Turn off the iron five minutes or so before all clothes have been ironed, and finish ironing with the heat stored in the soleplate. Always turn off the iron when work is interrupted by telephone or doorbell. 5. Store soiled dishes and glassware in the dishwasher until it is fully loaded. Dish-

Anhydrous ammonia is used extensively as a source of nitrogen. It can also be a source of danger if used carelessly, says Doyle Warren, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

An accident with the pressurized gas can kill or inflict injuries. Ammonia inflicts a dehydration or water-absorbing burn, and only water flushing in the eyes or on the skin can deter its effect. Flush for at least 15 minues and do not apply ointments to the burn. Warren also urges farmers to take a quart container of water along when applying anhydrous ammonia.

Wear rubber gloves, chemical splash goggles and a face mask apporved by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) when working with anhydrous ammonia, cautions Warren. Always wear clothing which covers the entire body and be certain to wear a full face mask when working around the nurse

Be especially careful when filling the nurse tank and never leave the equipment during the filling operation, Warren advises. Also, stay clear of the bleeder since many eye injuries have resulted from facing the bleeder valve.

Farmers should check tank valves, hoses, safety equipment and other equipment continuously. Corroded and worn valves and tanks, along with dry rotting hoses, are dangerous. Failure of equipment is a major cause of accidents, notes

Federal standards covering design, construction location, installation and operation of anhydrous ammonia systems are in effect, and farmers should be familiar

Information on the proper use of anhydrous ammonia can be obtained from the county Extension office. Copies of OSHA standards on anhydrous ammonia can be obtained by writing OSHA, 555 Griffin Square, Room 602, Dallas, Texas
