He said QA&P runs a train through Dougherty into Floydada about once a week, twice a week when business requires it.

By phone Friday Congressman Omar Burleson in making the abandonment denial report said that QA&P would have 20 days to appeal the decision deadline being June 22.

Mackenzie Lake Open To Boaters, Campers, Visitors

ends of the lake are shallow and would pose a threat to skiers. Near the dam region is the most likely spot for skiers.

"We're trying to cut the red tape in this office and we believe these face-to-face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

Bullock reminded those taxpayers who are unable to meet with his representative on Thursday June 9, 1977 that they can still get their questions answered quickly by calling his TOLL FREE tax information number in Austin. That number is 1-800-252-5555.

"If Floydada-area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, Mr. Bogus will be there to assist them," Bullock

"Fridays and Saturdays, we will charge $1.50 for boat permits and the same for recreation permits," Green explained. "Sundays through Thursdays, the fee will be $1 for both boat and recreation permits. We also will have annual permits for sale at $20 each," Green said.

Texas Parks and Wildlife lake and safety rules will be applied on Mackenzie. However, the lake has deviated from some of the rules for each person's safety. There will be no boating within 50 feet of the dam. This will always be a restricted zone. There is also a no wake sign 50 yards from the launching ramp. The lake will be off-limits until noon this Friday and then there will be no limit to the boats on Mackenzie. All persons under 16 years of age will be required to wear a Coast Guard Approved Flotation device. Older persons will follow TP&WD rules and regulations.

"CURRENTLY THE LAKE is muddy and a lot of trash is floating due to the tremendous rise from recent rains," Green said. "We've been cleaning the lake of large debris in order to eliminate any possibilities of a boating accident. Boaters will still have to use common sense while boating on this lake," Green emphasized.

"We're looking for a large crowd this weekend," Green pointed out. "We hope we have the best possible rules and regulations for any lake in Texas. We're mostly concerned with the safety of Lake Mackenzie visitors," Green said. "A lake patrol will be on the water at most times, along with state game wardens. This will be a great recreational opportunity to the sportsmen of this area and we hope we have the best possible facilities," Green stated.

Jesus looked at all barriers between persons as evil, whether economic or social. The parable of the rich man and Lazarus shows how seriously he considered this problem. (Luke 16:19-31) Jesus told of a rich man who while on earth would have nothing to do with the poor beggar at his gate. He did not care that the beggar lay in pain with diseases so ravaging his body that the dogs came and licked his sores. The rich man believed firmly in "What is mine is mine." But then both men died. Lazarus was carried to heaven, to Abraham's bosom. The rich man lay in torment in Hades, crying out for help. He called for Lazarus to come and relieve his anguish. But a great chasm had been fixed between them. The rich man's heartlessness and misuse of his money had condemned him eternally.

Jesus told us wealth can be a barrier to our fellow human beings. But he also said that it need not be that way forever. A person can break old habits and use money redemptively.

In the story of Zacchaeus we see Jesus reaching out to a man who was isolated and hated because he was a traitor and a cheater. (Luke 19:1-10) He was more than a collector of taxes. He had enriched himself by taking enormous profit under the tax license of the Romans. Yet Jesus went home to dinner with this and won him. Zacchaeus repented. He freely offered to give half of his goods to the poor. And he agreed to restore four times over what he had unlawfully taken. How much easier it would have been just to repent without letting his pocketbook be baptized. Salvation is free. But putting it to work may be costly. Jesus knew that whenever persons really find God, they begin to look for ways to use their money for the Kingdom.

The doctor asked the octogenarian how he was feeling. "Slowing down a bit," allowed the old man. "Used to walk all around the block every morning before breakfast. Now, when I get half-way around, I'm so tuckered out, I have to turn around and come back."

Hail Suppression Compromise Reached

A-J Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Water Development Board members here Thursday took the easy way out of making a controversial decision on bitterly opposed license renewal applications for two South Plains weather modification companies.

At the urging of Lubbock board member George McCleskey, the six-man panel unanimously approved a motion by Glen Roney of McAllen to grant permits to the companies, a concession to them, but only through Oct. 31 and only for the target area and operational areas within eight miles of the target area — a concession to more than 4,000 protesting farmers.

The board's decision, called "a livable compromise" by attorneys for the companies and the farmers who've fought their operations since 1970, also encouraged calling elections across the South Plains to determine voter preferences for modification activities, but did not commit the board to changing the permit area or term after those elections.

Under legislation passed by the just-concluded 65th Legislature, such elections would be possible upon petition by area residents. Gov. Dolph Briscoe is expected to sign the legislation, which was carried in the Senate by Sen. Kent Hance and in the House by Rep. Jim Rudd.

The board's action received applause from modification supporters in the crowd of about 100 persons who had packed into the old Supreme Court Room of the Capitol.

After the meeting, though, both supporters of the two companies and representatives of the farmers, many dryland farmers of the South Plains, declined comment on the decision until the formal order is drawn up later this week by board General Counsel Bruce Bigelow.

Apparent confusion over whether the board was actually ordering the elections or merely suggesting them with a promise they would be considered spawned the reluctance to speak.

Board members heard nearly two hours of discussion on the applications, mainly by attorneys for the companies. Jerome Kirby of Littlefield, and for the farmers, Harrell Feldt of Midland.

Kirby argued that testimony contained in more than 640 pages of transcript from hearings in Lubbock confirmed that "we (the companies) have not hurt anybody" through weather modification operations.

Kirby claimed the two hail suppression companies have "eliminated at least 50 per cent of the hailfall" in the area and denied charges the companies had also reduced rainfall over the same period.

Feldt claimed it was Kirby's job to prove the applicants had not injured anyone or their lands and that he had not done so. He contended that the testimony made it "absolutely and completely clear" that seeded clouds produce more precipitation than unseeded clouds, but that it is less intense and thus less beneficial than natural rainfall.

Following their arguments, board members tried to unravel legal complications posed by approving a permit with the stipulation that elections called in the affected areas could change the outcome.

Final approval came on Roney's motion to approve the permits for shorter periods and for a less expansive region that the companies had requested.

Both firms had sought four-year permits to fly cloud-seeding missions.

The Zimmatic Corn Crop Lease is designed so you can lease a Zimmatic without using your normal operating credit sources... your Zimmatic pays its own way by turning on your production.

If the U.S. Senate has its way the allotment cotton production since 1938 may be suspended 1977 through 1982.

The Senate on May 24 passed a five-year suspension of cotton, wheat and feed grains would have coverage on current year plantings. For cotton, the allotments have been figured on historical variety of ingenious ways to protect allotments cotton allotment benefits while planting cotton.

Should the language of the Senate bill be planted in a given state or county on a given year would not be used to determine allotments would be no state or county allotments and every year would be figured as a percentage of planted acreage for that year.

First, presumably before or near the beginning of the season, the Secretary of Agriculture would acreage required to supply domestic and export minus any needed carryover adjustment. During the season he would estimate the acres planted to cotton. Acres planted would be needed acres to arrive at a percentage factor used in determining individual farm allotments.

For example if planted acres were 10 million acres were 10 million, the factor would be 100 percent. Thus a farm with 500 acres planted to cotton for target price payments, if called for, would have provision in the Senate bill that would provide 50 percent. All planted acreage would be used in determining disaster payments.

The House Ag Committee has reported a similar bill. The same allotment provisions for wheat and cotton change in the cotton allotment system. If the committee bill as written, the difference in provisions of the two bills will be settled at Conference Committee.

With this in mind the Cotton Producers Association is meeting in the National Cotton Council is meeting in the clock.

Continuing discussions on the High Plains Cotton in the Legislative Committee of Plains Cotton Lubbock, are leaning toward support for the year plantings concept.

The PCG Legislative Committee position was adopted in January of this year recognized the inequity of allotments and attendant benefits on long-term for protection of cotton allotments "only cotton or the transfer of cotton allotments to J.D. Smith of Littlefield, Chairman of the Committee, expressed the committee's feeling that plantings allotment system looks like it would objectives even better than we thought the legislative position was adopted in January.

Il Penseroso Closes Year With 'Luau'

Il Penseroso Junior Study Club members closed their club year with a Hawaiian 'luau' in the home of Mrs. Van Bradley, Thursday night week.

Using a silhouette design, Barbara McCormick used words to draw the portrait of an outstanding clubwoman, and revealed that Mrs. Bill Bigham had been chosen for that honor in Il Penseroso this year. Mrs. Bigham, a district and state first place winner with her international affairs department report, was given a small silver plate, engraved with her name and her honor.

Outgoing president Cheryl Bybee recognized her officers, and presented each with a basket of homemade bread loaves. Mrs. Bybee then installed new officers, including Cheryl Bradley, president; Mrs. Bigham, first vice president; Betonia Belt and Judy Jackson, second vice presidents; Susan Flippin, secretary; Sharon Kinard, treasurer; Brenda Elam, historian, and Gayle Jackson, reporter. The new president presented the outgoing president with a small silver plate, engraved with her name and office.

During the business meeting which was conducted by Mrs. Bradley, the members answered roll call with appreciative remarks about their affiliation with Il Penseroso. The women voted to adopt a cottage of girls at Girlstown, and also approved a new constitution. Committees were chosen to make plans for a summer outing for club members' families, a get-acquainted brunch in August, and the club's booth at the Floyd County Fair in September.

Cheryl Teeter was presented with the quilt which she had won in a drawing among club members. The individual blocks were made by club members. The women voted to make two tion and interior finishing as his skills permit. But even though an addition may be desirable in terms of getting the space the family needs, it can leave the family with added financial burdens. The same factors that have driven up the cost of new housing are affecting remodeling and home improvements.

Some things a family might consider if adding new rooms is the only alternative are the cost per square foot generally drops if two floors are added instead of one, and new plumbing will generally cost less if it is installed near the existing plumbing.

Also since prices vary from one contractor to another, it may pay to do some comparative shopping. Know exactly what you want or at least some definite ideas. Weigh each contractor's suggestions. Then be sure that you get estimates on the same things from each one.

Motley Slaying Trial Date Set

PLAINVIEW (Special) — Dist. Judge George Miller said Wednesday he has set a July 18 date for the capital murder trial of Larry C. Fortenberry, one of two men charged with the shotgun slaying of Motley County Sheriff Jaimar "Jinks" Wilson.

Fortenberry's trial was moved here on a change of venue from Wilson's hometown, Matador.

The other man charged in the sheriff's death, Stacy Albert Carter, went through eight days of juror examinations in Lubbock before a mistrial was declared there in his capital murder case.

The mistrial ruling came on the heels of Carter's surprise plea of guilty to a charge of attempted murder in the wounding of John Rogers, who was with Wilson when the sheriff was killed Nov. 12, 1976.

Court observers speculated that Carter agreed to turn state's evidence against Fortenberry.

They speculate that after Fortenberry's trial, Carter may be sentenced on a reduced charge in connection with Wilson's murder — with the punishment possibly to run concurrently with the 20-year sentence the North Carolina man was handed after pleading guilty to shooting Rogers.

Carter and Fortenberry face life or death situations under the capital murder charges against them.

Life imprisonment or death sentences are the only punishment options under Texas law in a capital case.

Only eight of the necessary 12 jurors had been selected for Carter's trial when the court proceedings in Lubbock came to an abrupt halt after more than a week of work.

Court observers expect similar problems choosing a jury in the case here.

Miller, judge of the 110th Judicial District, said that names of 250 prospective panelists will be drawn in Plainview Friday afternoon.

Wilson, 61, was just 49 days away from retirement when he met his death at the side of U.S. 70 about 3.5 miles east of Matador.

The wounded Rogers, 49, is said to have told investigators that he and the sheriff were looking for stray cattle when they came upon two men apparently tampering with the license plate on Rogers's car.

As the sheriff was questioning the men, they suddenly produced sawed-off shotguns and began firing, prosecutors assert.

Fortenberry, 28, of Mount Hermon, La., is represented by court-appointed attorneys Steve Hurt and Joe Cox of Plainview.

Mennonite colony settles in West Texas

SEMINOLE, Tex. (AP) — It could be a scene from a Hollywood western frontier epic.

The hard-working menfolk toll in the fields trying to urge crops from the West Texas plains. The women dress plainly and wear no jewelry. The children do their lessons in a one-room ranch house school.

It could be a movie scene but it's happening in 1977.

And these frontiersmen speak German.

These new pioneers are Mennonites — looking for a homeland. A colony of 600 uprooted their families from Mexico (too much political unrest) and Canada (too cold) and headed for Texas. They have purchased more than 7,500 acres near the New Mexico border.

They are not looking for a new life. Rather, Bishop Henry Reimer says, the colonists want to go back to their traditional lifestyles — including black wedding dresses and hard work.

"This is why we come to Texas," the leader of the Old Colony Mennonite Church said. "To get back to the old ways and to keep the kids on the farm and keep their German."

The Mennonites are Protestants and use a German version of the Bible. The family is responsible for instilling religion in their children.

They began arriving in the Lone Star State last fall. Eventually, they hope to bring thousands more settlers to the vast property.

In addition to the crops the men have started a dairy herd and plan to establish cheese factories, machine shops and a furniture factory.

They have received a warm welcome from area residents. Seminole Mayor Bob Clark said the Mennonites are not "welfare people."

"They take care of themselves, control their children and they are work-oriented; and, for that reason, I am glad they are here," Clark said.

Local bank president Dwayne Herman also thinks the new neighbors will be an advantage for the region.

"The only negative comment I've heard is that they might not spend as much money here because they are self-sustaining," Herman said.

The Mennonites say they will pay local taxes although they could claim a religious exemption for their church-owned land. They say they'll pay the taxes until they build their own school system.

Bishop Reimer hopes Texas will provide the right atmosphere for the children to "learn like we grew up."

"We have to work for our kids — what else do we have to work for? In the Bible it says we should keep them in their mother's language," he said.

And they are doing just that. The lessons are taught in German. English is taught as a second language.

In the small schoolhouse the children (ages six to 13) sit on wooden benches. The boys on one side and the girls on the other. The Bible is the only textbook.

The girls never cut their blonde hair. It's kept in braids. They wait quietly while the blue jean-clad boys leave at the end of the day. The boys always leave first, another age-old tradition.

Another Mennonite custom dictates that a woman wears a black dress on her wedding day. Helen Reimer, 25, the bishop's daughter, explains the simple reason for the simple garb.

"It is the way it is always done," she said.

Chihuahua, Mexico, is the current site of the world's largest Mennonite colony. But Reimer thinks 30,000 of the Mexican Mennonites may eventually come to West Texas. He said they hope to buy 50,000 more acres on the plains.

Squatters are part of the problem in Mexico, Diederich Reimer, 42, said. The peasants move onto the land and stay.

"They have been doing this for years and years. They take it away, start living on it and working on it and the law starts helping them."

The Mexican government has not helped the Mennonites, Reimer said.

"They want money — the policemen, tax inspectors and whatever. They try to get more than they are supposed to, more than the law says they should," said Reimer, who is not related to the bishop.

The Canadian Mennonites also face a financial crunch. Reimer said farmland there costs up to $3,000 an acre. The Texas Mennonites hope that many of their 20,000 brethren north of the border will make the trip south to join the colony.

The Mennonites believe in large families, averaging six children each. They would like to turn those large families into a large colony in Cowboy country.

Idalou's Police Chief Tim Ward Quits Post

IDALOU (Special) — After seven years as the town's police chief, fire marshal and then chief ambulance driver, 28-year-old Tim Ward is looking forward to a less hectic life as an insurance salesman.

Effective Friday, Ward is resigning his position as police chief. The city council, which appointed him to his offices, will decide this month whether they will ask him to continue serving in the other two capacities.

Ward, of Floydada, moved to Idalou to accept the jobs in 1970. He had served as deputy sheriff and deputy marshal in Crosby County.

"This is a beautiful town, the people here have been very good to me and I hate to leave them but I got a better job opportunity offered," Ward said. Since his tenure began the city has added emergency equipment and built onto the municipal building, he said.

Although Ward will not be moving from Idalou in departing from his former jobs he said, "I feel I'll be leaving a big part of myself."

An Idalou patrolman will act as chief until a replacement is appointed.

WOODWORK

SOMEONE GAVE Joe Tappan "The Joys of Hometown Living" and Joe loaned it to me so I could read it, because he is pretty good, and so do I.

The book is divided into 15 sections, and includes poetry, the author and others, and in really fine reading for folks over this because I doubt it would appeal for younger persons until around for a few years.

The general theme of the book is great to live in a small community, one big family; one feels more and when someone has trouble, folks pitch in to help.

I have lived in large communities like Sudan, Throckmorton, Newburgh, Ind., and in communities like Slaton and Plainview agree that the medium-size are the best to live in, the best families, and in most ways have advantages over the big metropolises where most folks don't care what you do, so long as you care for parking space.

Each division in Olson's book is Joy of (something or other) the first one is called "The Surroundings." Some of the other divisions include first-name community activities, neighborhood raising children in a safe environment, feeling secure, personal family living, patriotism, and with family and friends.

He tells lots of good things about towns — how nice it is to know a doctor and lawyer by their first names, how much fun it is to go shopping, you'll know and like the other in the stores, customers and owners, and many other things nature.

Anyway, it is a good book with a nostalgic tribute to those who make life warm and wonderful, where Joe got it, but he may have time getting it back.

The song, "Home Sweet Home" has been 150 years. It was written in 1823.

Sales Tax Collections Up 16%

AUSTIN-Comptroller Bob Bullock reported Thursday that state tax collections for the current fiscal year are running a healthy 16 percent over the same period in fiscal 1976.

Bullock said tax collections through the first seven months of fiscal 1977 (September 1, 1976 to March 31, 1977) totaled $2.24 billion, an increase of $315.8 million over the same period of fiscal 1976.

The Comptroller noted that during this period sales tax revenue has increased by 16 percent, motor vehicle sales tax by 25 percent and natural gas production tax by 33 percent.

A 159 percent increase in corporate franchise tax revenue was due largely to the release of funds paid under protest after the settlement of a court case, he explained.

The report on tax collections was included in Bullock's monthly financial statement for May.

The Comptroller reported that total state revenues thus far in fiscal 1977 are $3.8 billion, up 11 percent over 1976. Meanwhile, he said, total state expenditures during the same period were $3.95 billion, an increase of only 1 percent over 1976 levels.

The state closed its books at the end of March with a cash balance of $1.31 billion, Bullock concluded.

New City Policeman Former Movie Stunt Man

By Wendell Tooley

Floydada's new policeman Jim Gollihar probably won't ever have to use his "gun slinging" prowess in Floydada, but just for the record he's a former western shoot-out stunt man who decided that he and his family needed the security of a regular monthly check.

"Pay is very good for movie and contract work for various towns for shoot-outs, but the work and the pay just aren't regular enough," Jim said as he looked over past pictures of stunt work in California and various Texas towns.

His biggest and best stunt contract was to be one of the bad guys when he worked for Universal Studios in "Bad Night in Jericho." The movie starred Dean Martin and George Peppard... also Slim Pickens.

In the shoot-out near the end of the show... Jim was one of the first bad guys to be shot and his horse dragged him down the street.

The shoot-outs Jim has participated in at Electra, Texas, (Cowpoke City) one in Wichita for the Culpepper Cattle Company, are similar to those staged each day at Six Flags.

STARTED AT EARLY AGE

Jim was reared at Graham, Texas and entered the stunt business at the early age of 15. He says there is a lot of skill not only in fast gun slinging but trick falls in the street from horses, high porches, roofs, and bar room brawls.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Since 1972 Jim has concentrated on being "the good guy" as he served as deputy sheriff in Cotton County, Oklahoma, then served at Olney and Electra Tx. for the police department. He has four children; Jimmy Dale 17, Douglas Charles 14, Vera Darlene 7 and Sandra Sue 6.

LIKES THE YOUTH

Jim says he enjoys working with the youth of the city and plans a bicycle safety rodeo this summer to better inform the youth on traffic rules here. The Gollihars live at 518 West Lee.

The odds of recovering from cataract are great. Surgery can restore vision in 95 percent of cataract cases for which it is recommended.

The odds are 1 in 20 that your preschool child suffers from a vision problem. But it can be detected early and corrected. One aid in detection is the Home Eye Test available free by writing to The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, SN, 79 Madison Ave., N.Y., N.Y. 10016.

Of the 45,400 new cases of blindness this year, 50 percent will be needless.
