Bank Deposits Up Over Million Dollars

State Bank Call deposits about two and a half million dollars. The bank showed $22,661,994.01 this June 30th as compared to $20,107,282.45 last year. The loans were up from $7,403,461.82 to $10,191,678.25.

The Lockney bank was up in deposits from $12,352,807.55 to $12,357,166.27 and loans were also up from $5,813,977.38 to $7,019,955.26.

Clay Henry at the Floydada bank said deposits were up because farmers were selling both 1976 and 1977 wheat in the government loan program. He said some money "had come home."

Henry said a lot of the increase in loans was for farmer's increasing costs of operation.

Gene Collins at the Lockney bank said not much wheat money had been deposited and the increase in loans reflected the greater size of farming operations, plus overall expansion in the Lockney trade area.

Elevators Receive More Than Last Year

Reported about the same amount of wheat handled as last year. Only elevators showing a gain were Muncy and Sandhill Elevators which were up some 20%.

This year's wheat crop made a better per acre yield than last year, but several damaging hail storms hurt the overall county production.

It is expected that County Agent Doyle Warren will come up with an estimate of overall county production to determine the economic impact.

ing" since Monday night and luckily I was invited for "lunch with the courthouse bunch" Friday.

Retiring librarian Nita Merle Hull was honored at the lunch and received three nice gifts. Our best wishes to Nita Merle as she "slows down"...and she says her first act of retirement is to throw her clock away.

"We are making phone calls to local tennis players, trying to get more sign-ups," Pat continued.

The past two years over 200 have entered the five day tournament.

Barrow mentioned that this is the first year that graduates of junior high and high school may still compete in their respective divisions. The tourney

Onion Harvest In Full Swing

BY DOUG SIMPSON

This year, the demand for onions is up, the price is fair, and the entire crop wasn't affected too badly by weather conditions. But as local plants got in full swing for this season's harvest the past week or two, unexpected difficulties had to pop up, or it just wouldn't be normal.

First of all, due to some bad weather, the yield is down, a spokesman at the Floydada Pepper & Vegetable Shed reported this week. The average there is 250-300 sacks per acre, (50 pound sacks). The price, however, is looking up since the demand has improved.

But the biggest problem is not the yield. The most pressing problem vegetable companies have is actually two things. Take your pick on which one could be described as the "most serious." To begin with, the energy shortage causes problems in transportation. Onions are shipped to far away places such as New York, Canada, Oklahoma City, and Houston. More trucks are needed to accommodate the loads.

Secondly, there is a problem that originates right here in town. There is not enough housing in Floydada to accommodate the many migrant workers who travel here to work either at the fields and at the plants.

shipped to the destination.

A spokesman there said that since farmers had to make a living by producing, there was nothing they could do to help prices go up. He added that if the demand was good, the price would be higher and vice versa.

DEBRUYN PRODUCE

DeBruyn Produce, operated chiefly by Chuck Holmes, employs 135, including 100 field hands. Holmes said that his average yield was about 300 sacks, but that the demand was up and the prices were up from last year. He said that his business did not have the transportation shortage problem, but did experience the housing difficulty. He also employs migrant workers who are in need of accommodations. Holmes agreed that there is nothing farmers can do to control prices.

With the vegetable plants in operation the population of Floydada has increased and the economy improves because of the need to buy groceries and many other items.

No Kidding

Couples who decide not to have children tend to be less sociable than those who do, according to a study by psychologists at the University of Kansas. The researchers found that intentionally childless couples and those who are unsure whether they want children showed less interest in people and a preference for being alone. In addition:

- Intentionally childless couples are not more materialistic than other couples.
- Intentionally childless couples are equally interested in their communities.
- Wives not intending to have children expressed a greater value for personal freedom than did others, including men.
- Husbands and wives not intending to have children are likely to have high prestige jobs.

A graduate of Baylor University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Mr. Payne and his family are also engaged in evangelistic work. Both he and Mrs. Payne are employed by the Floydada Independent School District.

Rotary Governor Here Wednesday

Rotary District Governor A.B. Martin of Amarillo will make his official visit to the Floydada Rotary Club, holding club assembly meeting at 7:30 Tuesday night at Lighthouse Electric, and speaking at the regular Rotary Club meeting Wednesday noon.

Martin will discuss the program of the coming year for the 46 clubs in this 573rd district of Rotary International which covers most of Northwest Texas.

The District Governor's Rotary Ann (Pauline) will accompany him to Floydada and she will be honored at a tea in the home of Rotary President Aldine Williams, 114 1/2 California, at 10:30 Wednesday morning. All Rotary Anns are invited to the tea.

The new District Governor is a native of Weslaco where he graduated from high school, received his Master's Degree from the University of Texas in 1941 and his Doctor's degree there in 1949. His BA degree was from Southwestern Texas State College.

Tax Representative Floydada Thursday

AUSTIN--State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced he is sending a representative from his Lubbock office to Floydada on Thursday, July 12th to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer Raymond Bogus will meet with local taxpayers at the Floydada Court House-Room 103 from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

"If Floydada-area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, Mr. Bogus will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

"We're trying to cut the red tape in this office and we believe these face-to-face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

Bullock reminded those taxpayers who are unable to meet with his representative on July 14th that they can still get their questions answered quickly by calling his TOLL-FREE tax information number in Austin. That number is 1-800-252-5555.

The Lubbock office, headed by Donald F. Paxton, serves Lubbock and surrounding counties.

PACKED AND READY... for seven day scouting session. Cadette Scout leader Mrs. Helen Lipham, and Cadettes Karen Turner and Jonna West will leave Lubbock next Thursday, traveling by van, enroute to Wyoming and the National Center West. They plan to tour along the way at the Royal Gorge, Colorado Springs, Garden of the Gods, Grand Tetons and Yellowstone National Park. The Floydada group will be among 13 other Cadettes and Senior Scouts and four leaders making the trip from the Caprock Girl Scout Council. (Staff Photo)

Enjoy Low Fat Meat Cuts

daily nutritional requirements...yet contains considerably less fat and fewer calories than is generally believed.

As far as cholesterol is concerned, Mrs. Hall said a 100 g (3 1/2 oz.) serving of lean, raw beef, pork, veal or lamb averages only 68 mg of cholesterol-beef, 68; veal, 71; pork, 62; lamb, 71. For comparison, following are the mg of cholesterol per 100 g of other foods (raw basis): herring, 85; mackerel, 95; shrimp, 150; chicken, with skin, 81; chicken, meat only-breast, 79; drumstick, 91; turkey, with skin, 74. One large whole egg contains 252 mg cholesterol. These figures were compiled by the Consumer and Food Economics Research Division, ARS, USDA, and published in the Journal of the American Dietetic Assn., Vol. 61, No. 2.

Some of the low-in-fat cuts of beef include: eye of round; top round steak; bottom round steak; rump roast, tenderloin; flanked steak; sirloin tip roast; sirloin steak; heel of round; boneless neck pot roast and stew meat. For lamb, either the leg or loin chop are low-in-fat, stated Mrs. Hall.

"There is still a great deal of misinformation going the rounds about pork in relation to fat," she continued. "Actually, many pork cuts are lower in fat than either beef or lamb. This misunderstanding about pork and fat is most unfortunate. It means many people are depriving themselves of one of our most delectable foods."

ACCIDENT CONTROL
During one recent calendar year, 27,000 persons were treated in hospital emergency rooms for injuries associated with skate-boards and there were nine fatalities, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

What One Person Can Do

Probably few people beyond northern Georgia even know Jim and Mona Sims' names. What they do is not spectacular. But they do it with grace.

If you have hiked the Appalachian Trail where it begins near Vogel State Park, you might know the Sims. The trail passes within inches of their living room door. Across the path, under the same roof, is the craft shop and haven for hikers which they run for the State Parks Service.

Jim Sims had to put a sign on their door, "Ranger's home." He did it because hikers who would occasionally blunder in were embarrassed at finding they were in someone's home. The Sims didn't mind. In fact, they take a warm interest in wayfarers. "We get wonderful letters from people who've stopped by off the trail," says Mr. Sims. "A lot of times it was just that we'd dried their clothes for them in our clothes drier."

The couple, in their mid-fifties, used to spend summers in a cabin in the park. When Jim Sims retired from government service, they settled in their present role. They took on a mission to be ready to help people coming through in any way, even with spiritual support. They have two Bibles opened on a table in the hikers' lodge. "A lot of them are searching for something," says Mr. Sims. "They're confused and don't know what they're looking for. They come out here to meditate and become closer to God." And if they want to talk about it, their hosts will

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Summer brings with it a desire to get out and do things—to play golf and tennis, to eat out, to go to amusement parks, and to engage in many other forms of activity and amusement. Often consumers are offered a way of enjoying these pleasures at what is represented as being considerable savings. This way is through the purchase of a coupon book.

Coupon books are sold in many Texas communities. Buyers are told that the coupons contained in the booklet are worth a couple of hundred dollars in discounts and merchandise. The coupon booklet itself usually costs about $20.

The question consumers need to ask before they buy them, however, is whether they do represent a real savings. Many consumers complain that some merchants fail to honor the coupons. Many are misled into thinking that they are getting something free, when most cases they have to buy something to use the coupons.

In some states, attorneys general have taken legal action against several coupon book sellers during the past few years. In some instances, the promoters failed to disclose the limitations and conditions on the use of coupons. In other instances, promoters exaggerated the value of the coupons.

For example, promoters didn't tell consumers that the coupons could be used only if they purchased something of equal value. And consumers weren't informed that some of the coupons, like the ones for theaters and restaurants, were good only during off-

Theme of the new Noble Grand is "Light of Love," her symbol, "The Heart," slogan "Move Closer to Your World, Through Love and Service," her watch-word—Hope, Faith and Love, (and the greater is Love) her scripture is 1 John 4:7 "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God, and everyone that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God." Her colors are pink and white, her flower is the rose and her song, "Love Is The Theme." The Noble Grand's project is tables for the Lodge.

Amanda Hart, retiring Noble Grand, accompanied herself on the piano as she sang the Noble Grand's song, then Mrs. Hart gave her retiring speech of gratitude to members. She presented a table to the Lodge as her gift. Mrs. Hart was then escorted to the chair of Past Noble Grand, at which time Artie Webb, her right support through her term, presented her with her Past Noble Grand certificate and jewel pin.

Mrs. Gooch gave her acceptance speech and ask all members to stand behind her as she worked in love to carry on Rebekah Odd Fellowship.

In some cases, deceptive promotional tactics were used to sell the coupon books. Telephone solicitors for one outfit convinced the consumers to buy the book by telling them that the proceeds would go to charity. They may say it will go to help build a playing field for local youngsters. As it turns out, only a dollar of the $20-dollar purchase price will benefit the local charity; the rest of the money will be profit for the coupon book promoter.

So, in short, coupon books aren't always the bargain they seem to be. Here are some ways to avoid the problem of Pay particular attention to the expiration date of the coupons. If they can only be used for a short period of time, they may be of limited value.

Understanding Yourself

Helpful Ideas From The International Lutheran Laymen's League

ONE IN THE FAMILY

If there's one place in the world where people can be expected to be at one with one another, it is at home, in the family.

But although it sometimes seems that it is right here that life falls apart, it doesn't have to be so. Misunderstandings and disagreements are not new to the human family, nor to the family circle on the human scene. They have their root, as St. Paul said, in human nature, which likes to write its own story, governed by its own passions and punctuated by its own pride.

St. Paul said to people, "Don't be conceited. Don't have an exaggerated opinion of yourself." This does not mean that you have to downgrade yourself. That's not humility. Genuine humility is to see yourself as you are, without rose colored glasses. You don't have to discount your strength to be humble. What you can do is build up those around you, letting them feel that they are more important to you than you are to yourself.

Cox & Son Irrigation Well Permanently Closed

The final chapter in a long legal entanglement over the closing of an irrigation well on the Lewis Cox and Son farm in Floyd County has ended with the well destroyed.

The Cox well was drilled in 1968, and, as a result of a well location survey, was discovered to be in spacing violation of the Douglas Cox well, located only 149 yards west, in 1974. After a series of public meetings before the Floyd County Committee, and the District's Board of Directors, the Lewis Cox well was ordered closed in 1974.

Lewis Cox then filed suit against the District seeking to enjoin the enforcement of their order. Culminating the numerous trials and appeals through the District, Appeals, and Texas Supreme Courts, the Texas Supreme Court affirmed the District Court's order denying Cox's plea for injunction against the District and finding for the District's suit seeking summary judgment against Cox.

In disregard of the Court's findings, the Cox well was again placed into operation in April, 1977, and the District filed contempt of court charges against Lewis Cox on April 20, 1977.

Before the contempt trial could be heard, on June 9, 1977, Lewis Cox destroyed the subject well (see photos)—Mr. Cox testified at the June 9th trial that he had placed a six-foot cement plug in the well, several feet below land surface.

In response to the District's suit for contempt, Judge John T. Boyd found, that since Lewis Cox had destroyed his well and was now in compliance with his order of November 3, 1976, he would not find Cox in contempt but would provide for recovery of attorney fees by the District, if precedent for such award could be shown by the District's attorneys.

Lewis Cox has recently completed a new well located 161 yards due east of his destroyed well, and 410 yards east of the Douglas Cox well.

Legal Process Slow

Several persons have expressed concern that the legal processes, and cost associated therewith, available to the District for enforcement of its rules and regulations are much too slow and costly and are subject to such lengthy delay as to effect, at least, a partial circumvention of the District's aims and powers.

Texas Law provides that "the District may enforce its rules by injunction, mandatory injunction, or other appropriate remedy in a court of competent jurisdiction (Chapter 53.102)".

Although the District sometimes encounters gross "legal delays" in its rules enforcement, it continues to pursue its purposes and ultimately sees its rules enforcement to their legal conclusion.

It has been suggested that the District adopt procedures for seeking fines for violation of its rules; as is provided for the enforcement of the rules of several Federal and State water agencies. However, the District's Manager has noted that if the District could recover its attorney fees—and if such recourse to recovery of attorney fees was made well known to the rules violators—the resultant "fine" would be an effective deterrent to abating stalling tactics through "legal maneuvering".

In any event, he further noted, both parties are subject to the high cost of attorney fees for any protracted legal process; a fact that has guided the District to first seek and pursue all other means to enforcement of its rules before seeking solution through the courts.

GREENHOUSE VEGETABLE GROWERS TO MEET—The 14th Annual Texas Greenhouse Vegetable Conference at Texas A&M University, July 17-19, will feature information on the latest production techniques and ideas as well as special presentations on energy conservation directed toward self-sufficiency. Producers will also have an opportunity to apply for a private pesticide applicator's license, notes a horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

CAUSE OF BITTER CUCUMBERS—Most Texas

Legal Contingency Fund

Although the District infrequently encounters legal expenses in pursuing its rules application, a special "legal contingency fund" is maintained for this purpose. This fund, now containing several thousands of dollars, is maintained with a minimum reserve of $20,000 in order to guarantee the District's ability to pursue the enforcement of its rules in those cases where high legal costs are encountered. However, the District Manager noted, the pursuit of the Cox case did not require the use of any funds from the legal contingency account.

NOTE: A detailed review of the Cox case, through appeals to the Supreme Court, was presented in an article headlined, "Texas Supreme Court" in the November, 1976, issue of "The Cross Section".

Weather Modification To Be Eyed Monday

Swisher Citizens for Natural Weather have called an emergency meeting for Monday night for the purpose of taking the first step to call an election to decide the weather modification issue for the county. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the district courtroom in Tulla.

Recent legislation passed by the state legislature provides for elections which will be explained as well as the procedure in calling an election.

Ten percent of the qualified or registered voters must sign a petition calling the election. An outline of the target and operational areas will be explained.

A question and answer period will be conducted.

The county committee is composed of Earl B. Cosby,

Clyde Hancock, Pete Odom, Ray Tomsu and C. J. Vars.

All persons having an interest in the weather modification or cloud seeding issue are urged to be present.

The farm bill is now scheduled to begin its journey through the House of Representatives in Washington on Friday, July 15, but the real "action" will be carried over until the following week.

The bill reported by the House Ag Committee has been given an open rule, and if all goes according to plan general debate will take place in the House on the 15th. But the offering of amendments and voting probably will not come before July 19, according to word received by Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The cotton section of the bill under consideration calls for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan level equal to the smaller of (1) 85 percent of the four-year average U.S. spot market price for cotton or (2) 90 percent of a price equivalent to the adjusted average Liverpool Cotton Outlook "A" index during the first two weeks of October preceding the required loan announcement on November 1 each year. The loan level for 1978, the first year of the program, would be 51.1 cents for Strict Low Middling 1-1/16 inch cotton.

The bill stipulates a target price at 110 percent of the loan, which for 1978 would figure $6.1 cents per pound.

A farm measure already passed by the Senate sets the loan by the same formula and at the same 1978 level as the House. But the Senate bill would set the target price at the cost of production as determined by the Secretary. For 1978 the Senate proposed target figure would be 51.1 cents, five cents below the price called for in the House bill. This and other differences between the House and Senate versions will be ironed out in a House-Senate Conference Committee after the House takes final action.

Under both bills farmers would be paid the difference between market price and the target price on production from the farm allotment, as is done under current law.

The Senate measure would set cotton allotments at a percentage (not less than 90 percent nor more than 100 percent) of each year's planted acreage. The percentage factor would be determined by dividing the acreage calculated by the Secretary as needed to supply domestic and export markets by his estimated U.S. acreage for harvest.

The House Ag Committee measure as it will be offered by Committee Chairman Tom Foley of Washington proposes no change in the current system which sets cotton allotments on historical plantings. But the House Cotton Subcommittee, chaired by David Bowen of Mississippi, has held hearings and reported a bill to base cotton allotments on current year plantings as does the Senate bill, but without the 90 percent minimum "factor".

The Bowen bill will be offered as a committee amendment by Chairman Foley.

"It now appears that the cotton section of the House bill, which is essentially what has been proposed by a unified cotton industry, including the Bowen allotment proposal," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "may have fairly smooth sailing."

Railroad Officials Appeal Decision by ICC Judge

By ORA LEE FRAZIER
Globe-News Correspondent

PADUCAH — An appeal has been filed by officials of the Quana, Acme & Pacific Railway Co. against the recent decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, D.C., that called for the line to remain in operation.

Lee Currey of Paducah, a shipper who headed the protest of the abandonment of the 104.8 miles of track that serve Paducah, Roaring Springs and Floydada, said yesterday the parent company of the QA&P, St. Louis and San Francisco Railway Co. (Frisco), has filed a lengthy exception to the May 25 decision of ICC Judge Geraldine R. Keyes.

State Sen. Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls, who acted as the protestor's attorney during the hearing, told Currey the railroad "is quite serious about contesting the matter and is filing the exceptions in hopes the ICC will make a contrary decision, allowing them to abandon the track between Acme and Floydada."

Currey said the arguments being put forth by Frisco officials are that Judge Keyes erred in failing to consider the 34-car per mile per year rule and in concluding operation of the QA&P line is not a burden on the applicant.

The railroad also claims that Judge Keyes erred in exaggerating the need of rail transportation by local shippers.

Judge Keyes in her decision wrote, "At the time the application was filed for abandonment (April 11, 1975) ICC regulations provided that if fewer than 34 carloads of freight per mile were carried over a line proposed for abandonment, a presumption is established that the public convenience and necessity does not require continued operation of the line.

Nov. 16, 1976, regarding abandonment of railroad lines and discontinuance of "While the hearing was in progress, the commission served its report of service in which it referred to the rebuttable presumption in the 34-car rule and announced it would no longer retain the rule for any purpose. Instead, it adopted cost and revenue standards for abandonment proceedings..."

During the public hearing Nov. 12, 1976, here, a cost witness for QA&P testified that train service after September 1973 from Acme to Floydada was one train out and one train back per week.

The QA&P witness during the Dec. 6 and 7 hearing on the matter in Washington, D.C., testified on rebuttal that an actual count of trains running in 1974 and 1975 had averaged 3.7 to 3.9 trains per week and 6.5 to 5.4 was the average number of cars per train.

The witness said that trains, in addition to the regularly scheduled one-train-per-week, were operated on an as-needed basis.

Judge Keyes concluded in briefs filed last Jan. 25, that "traffic over the line proposed for abandonment has increased from 1974 to 1976, both in terms of shipments and freight revenues. "This is predominantly an agriculture area which has shown an increasing production of cotton and wheat in the past six or seven years and shipments and revenues can be expected to increase as production increases."

QA&P has the financial ability to continue operations over the line. The line proposed for abandonment serves a substantial public need in connection with the movement of agricultural commodities to and from the stations located on the line...

"The shippers have increased their usage of the line and are on notice that unless such usage continues to increase there will almost certainly be another application filed for abandonment sometime in the future."

According to Judge Keyes, testimony was brought out during the abandonment hearing that the track in issue was the best segment of line in the Frisco system, the best shortline railroad in Texas through the 1960s and the rail on the 71-year-old line has an estimated remaining life of at least 30 years.

The QA&T has failed to establish that public convenience and necessity require the abandonment of this line. On this record, the injury to the shipping public far outweighs the burden on the QA&P in continuing operations."

Further action in the matter has not yet been determined.

SWIFT THINGS ARE BEAUTIFUL

Birds are beautiful in their flight
So are sky rockets in the night
Airplanes flying high above,
Gliding along like a dove.
A baseball thrown through the air,
The leap of a leopard swift and fair.
A young horse playing in a pasture,
A colorful fish swimming faster and faster.
The lightning crackling in the sky,
A cloud's fast movement as it goes by.

SLOW THINGS ARE BEAUTIFUL

The gentle fall of snowflakes.

The movement of a glacier in gentle quakes.

The crawl of a snail
The melting of hail,
The moons slow stride across the sky,
The time during winter when things seem to die.
The work of a leaf making food,
The growth of a root as it grows as it should,
The fogs' soft movement as it moves through the woods.

Inside The Locker Room

By Doug Simpson

University of Louisville basketball coach Denny Crum surprised plenty of folks by deciding to finish out the remaining two seasons on his contract instead of going West to take over the position at his alma mater, UCLA. The Bruins inability to find a successor for Gene Bartow, who depicted to the University of Alabama recently, has been the hottest news topic this past week and certainly beats discussing the neutron bomb as far as many sports fans are concerned. Wyoming's instant success Don DeVoe, has been interviewed the latter part of this week and if he refuses, it might indicate that UCLA basketball may have decreased in popularity or may have left something behind when Johnny Wooden traded in his office keys and workout clothes for three button suits. The Bruins have not captured an NCAA Crown since 1975, the same season Wooden retired. This is ironic since the club has had about as good material as Wooden had in some years of his title reign. If nothing else, the fact that the UCLA program has gone downhill the past couple of years may tell us that coaching leadership means a lot more than we think. The Bruins aren't the powerhouse without the old Wizard of Westwood and his magic, and they won't find another John Wooden. But De Voe might bring them the kind of leadership they've been looking for.

This year's Whirlwind gridders face an extremely tough non-conference schedule, as always. The opener with Friona might be among the less difficult challenges, but the second game of the season, with the Canyon Eagles, will be played at Wester Field. A packed house (so what else is new) should complement the setting for the contest very nicely. The following Friday, the Winds will journey to be at home again for an annually heated struggle with AA Power Post. Then, the Green journeys to Olton to do battle with a team that harrassed not only the Whirlwinds but many AA and AAA foes through the years. Better not place any bets on that one just yet—wait till the two clubs size-up lineup-wise. It's home again the following Friday for a grudge rematch with Littlefield (Remember last season's controversial 20-19 loss).

Finally, the Winds face Levelland on October 7, before district competition opens. The Lobos haven't given Floydada too much difficulty over the years, with the Winds grabbing two victories against one defeat. This year could be different. A tough non-conference slate always means additional preparedness by the time district play gets underway. Perhaps that's one of the reasons why the Whirlwinds always run roughshod over 4-AA foes each time.

Mark Hayes may not win the British Open with a single super round. But he's certainly made a name for himself over the Scotland and in America alike, as he fired an unbelievable 7-under par 63 in Thursday's second round, a course record, better than any past rounds over the history of the 106-year old event. Going into Friday's round, Roger Maltbie led by one stroke over familiar faces, Nicklaus, Trevino, and Tom Watson by a single stroke.

Before the Dallas Cowboy organization had even ordered shoes for their number one bonus rookie Tony Dorsett, the Heisman Trophy awardee had created action of his own. Dorsett had charges filed against him for injuring a barmaid that was struck by a vase Dorsett threw at her in a recent incident. Observers claimed that Dorsett became angry over an argument concerning a free drink.

The Cowboys have had "bombs" explode in their faces on occasions like this before. Remember Lance Rentzel, all-pro wide receiver. He was arrested in mid-1970 for indecent exposure and shipped to the Rams soon after...A season later, Duane Thomas was charged with possession of marijuana. In 1976, if you'll recall, Roger Staubach and Clint Longley were engaged in a fistfight that probably started over prolonged bitterness...Lots of NFL teams have players that get into trouble. But in Texas, the Cowboys are about the only club in which you are exposed.

Mets Win Sixth Straight, 11-4

Sparked by an overall well-rounded offensive and defensive performance, the Freshman League Mets captured their sixth consecutive victory against no setbacks by crushing the slumping Red Sox by an 11-4 count Tuesday night. With the win, the league-leaders were able to protect their unbeaten status and run roughshod over their opponents, the Red Sox, Dodgers, and Giants.

The biggest inning for the Mets was the third, as the victors were able to tag losing pitcher Donnell Weeks for four runs en route to their 11-run performance. The Mets were also backed by the pitching of winner Gary Nelson.

BASEBALL News

PIRATES-YANKEES

The Pirates with 4 hits and 13 runs in the first inning took out the Yankees 21 to 3. Nearly all the runs scored were due to bases on balls. The game was called after 3 1/2 innings of play due to the two hour time limit. Freeman Jones was the Pirate pitcher and Tommy Cathey and Clay Lowrance were the Yankee pitchers.

CUBS-YANKEES

In a close contest the Cubs clipped the Yankees 6 to 2. The Cubs only had two hits, both came in the 5th inning. The Yankees had only 1 hit for the night. Coy La Haume and Jerry Don Wilson pitched 3 innings each for the Cubs. David Pyle pitched 3 innings and Joe Collins pitched 2 innings for the Yankees. The game was tied 1 to 1 after 2 innings, the Cubs led only 3 to 2 after 4 innings.

WHITE SOX-PIRATES

In a wild high scoring game, the Sox finally prevailed 20 to 17 over the Pirates to stay unbeaten for the season. The Pirates took the lead in the 1st inning 10 to 1, but the Sox came back to score 12 runs to lead 13 to 10 after two and increased their lead 15 to 10 after 3 innings of play. Both clubs scored 1 each in the 4th inning with the Sox leading 16 to 11. The Pirates outscored the Sox in the 5th inning 6 to 4 and left the bases loaded, but it was not enough as the final score was 20 to 17. The Sox had 12 hits and the Pirates had 6 hits.

TO COMPETE AT STATE SHOW...Mona Henderson of the Floyd County 4-H Club showed the first-place registered gelding under five years of age, and placed second in showmanship at the District 4-H Horse Show last week in Lubbock, qualifying for competition at the State 4-H Horse Show at Houston July 27-30.

CONSERVE MOISTURE IN HOME LANDSCAPE—Drouth conditions during the hot Texas summers mean that homeowners must give close attention to wise use of irrigation water, says a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Since trees serve a multipurpose role and require years to develop, they should receive first priority. Moisture can be conserved by using a mulch around plants, using soaker hoses or flood irrigation, watering thoroughly when irrigating, and using sprinkler irrigation only in the late evening and early morning when the evaporation rate is the lowest.

TEXAS HIGH IN COTTON—The Texas cotton crop is off to a good start and prices look good, says a marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. A crop of well over four million bales is expected, and prices should average near those received for the 1976 Texas crop.
