wound up in second place. Of course we had some college kids who did well...see the story for full results. MUCH IS SAID about the honor student in school, and probably much more is noted about the outstanding athletes. Now and then there are good athletes who also excel in their studies. When you consider the athlete must spend hours and hours of training after school...and he or she must lose a lot of study time and sleep nights while participating in sports, he or she is due a lot of praise when he or she can also maintain a good grade average. Floydada school teachers tell me they expect athletes to work just as hard as non athletes, so the athlete who maintains his school work is certainly to be praised. ACCORDING TO A HALF page advertisement in the Sunday Plainview Daily Herald 585 Briscoe County citizens have signed petitions to boycott trade in Plainview. They are boycotting Plainview businessmen because some Plainview organizations favor cloud seeding, which the Briscoe citizens say breaks up rain clouds that would drop rainfall on Briscoe County.

Perhaps the Floydada Chamber of Commerce should send a letter to the Silverton Newspaper assuring the Briscoe people that there is no "rainfall problem" to spending their Plainview shopping dollar in Floydada.

UNDERSTAND AT LAKE Mackenzie the fishing for channel catfish is good in the 2 1/2 to 4 pound range. One flathead catfish was caught recently which weighed 6 pounds. Fishing for bass, crappie and walleye is slow. The lake is 85 feet deep and still fairly turbid.

Insomniacs Do Sleep

People who complain of insomnia usually sleep much longer than they realize, according to studies at Stanford Univ., whose sleep clinic monitored 122 insomniacs electronically over a 5-year period. Of 57 persons who claimed they slept less than 5 hours a night, the tests showed 55% slept between 6 and 7 hours, and 10% slept more than 7 hours. Of 46 persons who complained that they took an hour or longer to fall asleep, the data showed that, despite the strange surroundings, 12 fell asleep in 30 to 60 minutes after retting, 8 in 15 to 20 minutes and 20 in less than 15 minutes.

Community Appearance

The community appearance committee of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce would like to remind Floydada residents that it takes everyone's cooperation to help beautify and improve the appearance of our town. This summer we are asking everyone to make a special effort to clean-up, paint-up, and fix-up their homes and neighborhoods. Take a moment to compare your home and yard with this checklist: (1) Is the general appearance of your home and yard neat and clean? (2) Is your yard mowed, free of litter and weeds? (3) Are the sidewalks smooth and free from hazard and weeds? (4) Is the alley behind your house free from trash and weeds? (5) Are your hedges and shrubs trimmed? (6) Does your fence need painting, repair, or replacing? (7) Are there stacks of dead tree limbs on your property? (8) Is your home in good repair, painted, and presentable? (9) Are areas adjacent to your property free from trash, junk cars, dead brush, or weedy vacant lots? Now, are you proud of the appearance of your home and yard?

WHITE SOX - YANKEES

In a make up game that was rained out June 28th, the Yankees won their first game of the year over league champions White Sox. It was the Sox first loss of the season after winning 8 straight. The Yankees took out the Sox 19 to 12 as the Yankees scored 11 runs in the 2nd inning, 3 in the 4th, and 5 in the 5th. The game was called after 5 innings due to the 2 hour time limit. The Sox scored in every inning, but fell short with the 12 runs.

PIRATES - YANKEES

The Yankees with confidence after their 1st victory over the champion Sox made it two in a row with an extra inning 6 to 5 victory over the Pirates. Pirate pitchers were Freeman Jones and Leif Younger and they recorded 15 strike outs. The Yankees led 2 to 1 after 1 inning. The Pirates came back to lead 5 to 2 after 2, but had their lead cut 5 to 4 after 3. In the 4th, the Yankees tied it 5 to 5 with a run. Both clubs could not get runs during the 5th or 6th innings, the Yankees came close to winning the game in the bottom of the 6th with men on 2nd and 3rd with only 1 out, but the Pirates pulled off a double play to force the game into extra innings. The right fielder, B. Watson caught a high fly ball and threw the ball home to catcher Scott Mankins who put out the runner who had left 3rd base. The Yankees were not to be denied victory as Joe Collins took only 12 pitches to strike out the side in the top of the 7th. Joe Collins was the first batter up and rapped a single and moved up to 3rd base during the next two batters that were up and then stole home for the go ahead run to end the game.

The Floyd Philosopher Has A Scheme To Avoid Being Swamped With Presidential Libraries

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm thinks he has foreseen a problem for this country.

Dear editor: There's a future problem facing this country the people ought to be giving some thought to. It's Presidential libraries.

Although Gerald Ford served only two years, plans are now underway to build a Presidential library for his papers. Ground was broken recently for a library for John Kennedy. The Harry Truman library was built several years ago. The Lyndon Johnson library was completed a few years ago and is now crammed with millions of Presidential papers and other odds and ends. There's some random talk of building one for Richard Nixon.

Stop and think about this. If every President has to have a library when he leaves office, and if this nation endures for 1,000 years, do you realize how many libraries that's going to be? One hundred and twenty-five, if we have a retiring President every eight years.

Actually it'd be more than that, counting one-termers, future resignations, possible impeachments, etc., plus the libraries already built. Ought to come to over 150 at least. That is a passell of libraries, and they're going to get crowded, especially if one city winds up furnishing say 10 or 15 Presidents. It might take a Constitutional amendment saying no two Presidents can come from the same town and still have a library.

Therefore I have an idea. Let's head off this library crisis before it gets out of hand. The thing to do is to build one huge pyramid in about the center of the country and put all the past and future Presidents' papers and stuff in it, down to the last inaugural hat, pipe, bottle ship, First Lady's dresses and secret agreements with foreign countries.

Now nobody knows for sure how the Great Pyramids were built, but somebody in the military-industrial complex, if given a cost-plus contract, out to be able to get the hang of it, Egypt, where they are, would be a great place for junketing Congressmen to visit to study the things. They could come back by way of Paris.

If this country doesn't want to be over-run with Presidential libraries, we'd better get that U.S. pyramid started. It's more serious than you may think. There're plans afoot now to build libraries for ex-Congressmen. Will state Legislators and Justices of the Peace to next?

Yours faithfully, J.A.

Dividend Declared

By Gifford-Hill

DALLAS, TEXAS, JULY 11, 1977...Directors of Gifford-Hill and Company, Inc., declared a regular quarterly dividend of 20 cents per share on the common stock.

The dividend is payable September 6 to shareholders of record August 8, according to John R. Hill, Jr., Board Chairman and Chief Executive Officer.

Gifford-Hill, whose shares are traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol GFH, is involved in such diversified areas as construction materials and concrete products, agricultural and industrial products and truck transportation. The Company has corporate headquarters in Dallas.

What One Person Can Do

When David E. Freeman of Toronto, Canada, works hard, he can type one page an hour. That's because he can type with only one finger. David was born with cerebral palsy. But he has written six plays, several of which have been staged in New York.

His parents sent him to a school for the handicapped, where he started and edited the school paper. At 17, he entered a sheltered workshop, but quit after six months.

"That was all I could stand," he says. "The pay was 75 cents a week. I sanded blocks and separated nuts and bolts." He began addressing envelopes and hauling out garbage, kept on writing and finally sold a few pieces. Then, he enrolled in McMaster University, where he met William Glasco, a professor who also worked as a stage director.

Professor Glasco suggested that he adapt one of his stories for the stage. The play, "Creeps" was a hit and won the Chalmers Award as best Canadian play of the year. Later, it was produced in New York.

Mr. Freeman works at his typewriter seven days a week, eight hours a day. The need for independence is a theme that runs through every work of his plays and stories.

"But that doesn't just come to you," says David E. Freeman. "You have to grab it."

If each of us were to struggle as determinedly to overcome the obstacles in our lives, just think what we might achieve.

Timber prices
AUSTIN, Texas (Sp.) -- Doubled timber prices and more imports of wood products are predicted for the U.S. by a University of Texas forestry specialist. Dr. Stephen H. South Plains 4-Hers Earn Dress Revue Honors

LUBBOCK—Under the theme, "Fashion Fandango," at the University Center of the Texas Tech University, four young ladies showed off their own creations and earned themselves a trip to the State 4-H Dress Revue in Abilene by winning top honors in the District 24-H Dress Revue Thursday (July 7).

The winners are Shanna Igo of Hale Co.; Pearl Perez, Swisher Co.; Prynness Parkman, Bailey Co.; and Annette Parham, Lubbock Co.

Named as alternates are Mary Smith of Cochran Co., first alternate; and Kay Stephens of Yoakum Co., second alternate. These two girls will fill in at Abilene, September 16-17, in case any of the others can't compete in the finals during the State 4-H Dress Revue.

All 15 contestants, who represented a 20-County area of the South Plains, made and modeled their own outfits.

Special honors went to Miss Prynness Parkman for showing the best outfit constructed of fabric of cotton or cotton blend; and to Miss Shanna Igo for the best wool outfit.

Also awarded during the show was a $500 Aubrey W. Russell Scholarship. Cathy Hess of Scurry County was presented the award by Mrs. Sheila Fillingim, treasurer of the District Scholarship fund. The scholarship is offered by the home demonstration clubs in District 2 each year based on best record book and other criteria to a 4-H girl majoring in home economics at Texas Tech University.

Darlene Broseh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Broseh, Lockney, represented Floyd County in the Senior Division. Miss Broseh earned the right to participate earlier at the County Dress Revue held in May.

In addition to senior level competition, 36 juniors modeled garments of their own creation. Heather Holt daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Holt of Lockney, represented the Junior Division age 9-11 from Floyd County while Jill Whitfill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Whitfill also of Lockney, modeled in the 12-13 years of age Junior Division.

The two groups of juniors will not compete beyond the district level.

There are no 1-2-3 placings in the annual dress revue. Contestants are judged on their sewing and construction skills, overall appearance, modeling abili-

The Scientists Tell Me...

Learning About Snakes Can Save a Life

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

herpetologist at Texas A&M University.

More than 90 percent of snakes in Texas are non-poisonous and quite useful to man, according to a noted

"And even the poisonous ones help keep down the population of rodents and other pests," says Dr. James R. Dixon who is engaged in research on snakes for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

From years of study and research and a wealth of field experience, Dixon is able to relate dozens of useful findings. Since Texas is blessed with such an abundance of snakes, he finds that knowledge of snakes can do much to relieve anxiety and prevent indiscriminate killing of all snakes.

For example, two types of small snakes he often finds in flowerbeds around houses are quite harmless hunters of slugs and worms.

Other larger, harmless snakes may go in garages or other out-buildings after mice or rats. And if a house has any openings a snake may come inside for the same purpose.

Since there are so many different kinds of snakes in Texas, Dixon says it's easiest to learn to recognize the poisonous ones first.

He adds that in Texas there are four kinds of poisonous snakes: rattlesnake, moccasin, copperhead and coral snake. But, there are nine forms of rattlesnake in Texas, one of moccasin or "cottonmouth", four types of copperhead, and one type of coral snake.

Trouble with the coral snake is that it can be confused with the king snake and the scarlet snake. All have bands of red, black and yellow or white.

Coral snakes though are the only ones that have yellow on each side of the red band.

A good handbook Dixon recommends is Conant's Field Guide to Reptiles and Amphibians of North America. It's available in inexpensive paperback and pictures the different varieties of snakes and points out identifying characteristics.

Another good source of information is to check with your County Extension Agent for MP-1194, Poisonous Snakes of Texas.

There are ever so many misconceptions about snakes, Dixon says. In addition to the now well known ones about a milk snake can't milk cows, a hoop snake can't take tail in mouth and roll down hill, a "glass snake" (lizard) can't break in pieces and then reassemble, other misconceptions are:

1) A rattlesnake always rattles before it strikes. Not so, if he's asleep and you step on him or otherwise startle him, he'll strike and then rattle.

2) A poisonous snake strikes at a warm body because of a heat sensor. Actually, it's a temperature sensor and snakes use it to detect a difference in temperature. A snake may strike a cold-blooded reptile such as a frog, lizard or another snake.

3) A small poisonous snake is not dangerous. Definitely not so! Dixon says a small rattler is poisonous at birth and only the quantity of poison increases as it gets larger.

4) A coral snake is more to be feared than other American snakes because it has a cobra-like poison that works on the nerves.

Other American snakes do have a different type poison that works on the blood but the coral snake is not as deadly because of its small size and short fangs. It almost has to chew its poison in and it has little chance of doing this with a lethal dose.

As to snakebite, Dixon mentions several precautions: One of these is his habit of carrying a stout staff when in snake country and using it to make noise in front of him to scare away snakes. He doesn't put too much reliance in boots or canvas leggings for protection.

In case of snake bite, Dixon cautions students, the snake if at all possible should be killed and brought in with the victim. Dixon offers his services to help a doctor identify such snakes by calling 713/845-6751.

Treatment for snakebite can be both painful and dangerous and should not be administered unless the snakebite is poisonous.

Symptoms of poisonous snakebites Dixon mentions are immediate pain followed by swelling and cold sweat.

The most effective field treatment Dixon has observed is to pack the bite in ice and get it to a doctor as soon as feasible.

Lakeview News

(By Penny Golightly)

We recently had our McNabb reunion held each 4th of July since 1934. It brought back memories. I found my great grandpa McNabb's write up when he died, September 3rd, 1959. I was only 10 at the time. He started in the ginning business in 1919, the same year my grandma and Grandy Weaks were married. Walter McNabb was in the ginning business until he died. My grandy, W.J. Weaks was also in the gin business. So I come from a long line of gingers, as my dad was a ginner at New Home, at Ropesville for W.J. Weaks then at Lakeview, a manager and part owner of one. I was a little off on my information of my great Grandma McNabb. She was one fourth Indian. Both her mother and father were half Indian. Thought to be Cherokee. Her parents name was Mr. and Mrs. James Holmes Taylor. They lived on Indian Territory but not sure it was an Indian reservation. The oil well on Ona Ruth's land farmed by Verlon Wright is still being worked. The company is pumping oil into it to try and get it to flow. Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Bunch's nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. R.T. Bunch from Grand Prairie, were guests in the Bunch home over the weekend. Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrison on July 4th were Jerry Bob and Amy Harrison from Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Max Harrison and daughters, Debbie and Tracy, visited the Don Harrisons Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith from Plainview and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Harrison were Sunday guests of Mrs. R.C. Smith and Floyd, Beverly and sons, Brandon and Jayson Harrison visited Mrs. Smith and Floyd Saturday. Beverly, Brandon and Jayson went to Amarillo Wednesday to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Snider. Beverly's sister, Carol Hall from Lubbock, arrived Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Snider came Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Rex Harrison and family. Mr. and Mrs. C.N. Walding's grandchildren are here from Waukegan, Illinois. Chauncey and Sonya Roberson will be staying a month with their grandparents. Bill Edwards from Llano is here to help with the farming and visited Sunday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Edwards. Mr. E.H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Brown, and Scott have been to Cross Plains for a family reunion of Mrs. Brown's oldest brother's family, May Smith. Mrs. Leonard Alexander's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. F.M. Bishop of Frisco, Texas visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Alexander.

Another Record Crop Predicted for Corn

WASHINGTON (AP) — It looks now as if farmers will harvest another record crop of corn this fall, grain which can help dampen consumer food prices through most of 1978, the Agriculture Department said Tuesday.

The department's Crop Reporting Board in its first official corn estimate this year, put the crop at 6.33 billion bushels, up 2 per cent from the 1976 record of 6.22 billion bushels.

But officials cautioned that farmers still face at least two critical months during which dry weather and other problems could affect corn yields severely. The estimate was based on July 1 surveys.

The department also estimated 1976 wheat production at about 2.04 billion bushels, compared with the record last year of about 2.15 billion bushels.

As livestock feed, corn is the most important U.S. grain for producing beef, pork, poultry and milk. Along with wheat and other commodities, it also is a major item in farm export trade.

Farmers are well on their way in harvesting this year's wheat crop. Winter wheat, which accounts for about three-fourths of total U.S. wheat, was planted last fall. The remainder is spring-planted wheat.

Despite fears last winter that much of the wheat crop in Kansas and other major areas in the Great Plains suffered extensively from drought and wind erosion, good rains this spring enabled most of it to make a comeback.

The corn crop, however, needs more time to develop. It was planted this spring and needs to mature through July, August and September before the harvest is assured.

Although it was USDA's first official 1977 corn estimate based on field surveys, experts earlier had issued projections calling for a harvest of as much as 6.5 billion bushels if weather conditions are good, and as small as 5.4 billion if they are not.

How the corn crop matures in the midwestern Corn Belt is always a major key to the size of each year's harvest. For example, Illinois last year produced 20.1 per cent of the total U.S. corn and Iowa 18.5 per cent.

When Indiana, Nebraska and Ohio are added, the five states last fall produced nearly two-thirds of all the corn harvested in 1976.

Parts of the Corn Belt, including prime sections of Iowa, suffered drought last year which depleted subsoil moisture reserves. Although there has been rain to keep the crop going so far this season, experts fear the crop will suffer quickly if additional rains do not come at frequent intervals.

Drought also has been a problem in the Southeast and in the West. But California is not a major corn producer — accounting for only one-half of one per cent of the 1976 crop — and no state in the Southeast ranks with the huge output of the Midwest.

Even so, smaller crops in Virginia, Georgia and other states hit by dry weather can have their effect.

Retail food prices are still going up but the big grain harvests of the past couple of years have helped temper the rises by making livestock feed cheaper. This has triggered a larger output of grain-fed beef, pork, poultry and milk.

Department experts say 1977 food prices probably will go up an average of about six per cent for the entire year, compared with a 3.1 per cent gain in 1976. However, about half of this year's price gain is expected to be from higher prices for coffee, seafood and other foods which do not originate on U.S. farms.

Retail food prices climbed 8.5 per cent in 1975 and 14.5 per cent annually in 1974 and 1973.

Moreover, about 60 per cent of the retail cost of food is added by middlemen for transporting, processing and merchandizing after products leave the farm.

The report did not include 1977 production estimates for soybeans, cotton and a number of other crops. Those will be announced by USDA on Aug. 11.

Meanwhile, officials said in announcing the corn estimate that yields are expected to average 89.4 bushels per harvested acre, compared with 87.4 bushels in 1976.

Officials said that farmers will have 70.8 million acres of corn for harvest this fall, compared with about 71.1 million acres in 1976.

A year ago, in its first 1976 corn estimate, USDA put the crop at more than 6.55 billion bushels. There was much criticism at the time, including protests from some state officials, that the estimate was much too high because of widespread dry weather in some important regions.

The USDA in August of last year reduced its estimate to less than 6.2 billion bushels and in September cut it further to less than 5.9 billion bushels. In October, when harvest was under way, the department revised its estimate down again slightly.

By last Nov. 10, when more than three-fourths of the 1976 corn crop was harvested, it was apparent that yields were better than anticipated and the official estimate was raised back up to more than 6.06 billion bushels. Ultimately, a crop of more than 6.2 billion bushels was recorded.

Even if this year's corn harvest falls slightly short, there will be much more corn in reserve this fall than was on hand last fall. Officials predict that some 900 million bushels will be in reserve this Oct. 1, compared with 388 million on Oct. 1, 1976.

As a result of the huge harvests, grain prices have tumbled. Corn as of June 15 averaged $2.09 a bushel nationally against $2.74 a year earlier. Wheat was $2 a bushel nationally on June 15, compared with $3.42 the year before.

The July report indicated winter wheat production at 1,539,029,000 bushels, down 2 per cent from that produced in 1976. A month ago the 1977 winter wheat estimate was 1,25,800,000 bushels.

CALDWELL BOLL BUGGY REDUCES HARVEST COSTS

Caldwell's Boll Buggy was designed to transport picked or stripped cotton from the harvester back to the module. Consider the high cost and wasted time of an expensive cotton harvester deadheading back to the end of the row to unload in a module. The wear and tear . . . cost of fuel, time and labor. Boll Buggy keeps your harvester working more hours per day. Lets you take advantage of good harvest weather, thus reducing the risk of crop deterioration or loss, caused by bad weather. 850 cubic foot capacity holds 2 to 3 bales of picked cotton or 2.5 bales of stripped cotton. Walking beam axle holds load stable over rough ground, reduces stress on upper frame, and pulls better. Wheels are built for high flotation tires. Caldwell engineers designed the Boll Buggy for easy access to 4-row stripper. Notice the sloped side for dumping cotton from harvester to Boll Buggy.

Dear Sir:

Your office recently filed a lien against me for failure to pay my franchise tax on time. I've paid the tax, and want to get the lien released. How do I go about it?

A lien release will be mailed to you when you receive your franchise tax payment. To have the lien removed, you must take the release to the courthouse in the county in which the lien was filed. Don't send the lien release back to us—take it to the courthouse.

Mr. Bullock:

I recently had reproductions made of some documents, and the clerk in the copy shop added sales tax to my bill for the reproductions. Are copying services subject to the sales tax?

Yes. The making of reproductions for a fee is

How To Conserve Water

Check every faucet in your home for leaks. Just a slow drip wastes 15 to 20 gallons a day.

Put a bit of food coloring in the toilet tank to see if it's leaking into the bowl. Leaky toilets are among the home's worst water wasters.

Water lawns and gardens with good sense. Do it early or late, not in mid-day heat. See that the water goes where it should, not on sidewalks or driveways. And don't leave sprinklers on too long.

BOB BULLOCK
Comptroller of Public Accounts

Dear Mr. Bullock:
I read somewhere that the Texas Legislature passed a law exempting from the sales tax goods sold at fund-raising events sponsored by churches and other non-profit organizations. Would you please explain the new law?

You are referring to Senate Bill 382 sponsored by my friend Sen. Max Sherman of Amarillo. That bill, by the way, already has been signed into law and is now in effect.

It allows religious, educational, charitable and other non-profit, tax-exempt organizations to hold one tax-free sale or auction each calendar year.

Please note that such groups are allowed only one tax-free sale a year. If they hold more, they must collect the sales tax. The one tax-free sale may not exceed 24

be your own Meter Maid

You can add up your groceries while you're buying...

You can add up your gasoline while you're buying...

But
can you add up your electricity while you're buying?

Yes you can... Here's How!

Learn to read your electric meter. It will let you determine how many kilowatt hours you use in a given period of time... an hour, a day, a month or a year. That's how electricity is measured — by kilowatt hours used.

Your residential electric meter will have either 5 or 4 dials

Electric meters are easily read from right to left as you look at the meter. If the pointer on a dial is between two numbers, write down the smaller number. When the pointer is directly on a number such as one (1) (see center dial above) then read it as 1 if the pointer on the next dial immediately to the right has passed zero (0). However, read it as zero (0) if the pointer on that dial to the right has not reached zero.

The dials above read (from left to right): 9-3-1-1-5. If, however, the pointer on the second dial from the right above was between 9 and zero then the center dial would read as a zero.

Now let's read the same meter 24 hours later

This later reading is 9-3-1-3-8. Subtracting the first reading, 93115, from the new reading of 93138 — the answer is 23. Thus you would have used 23 kilowatt hours in the 24 hour period.

Now you can become a METER MAID and watch your meter like a miser if you choose. WE HAVE A BOOKLET CALLED "MANAGING YOUR ELECTRIC BILL" plus other WISE USE TIPS booklets that help keep you from wasting electricity and so help lower your cost. Any of these booklets are free for the asking at your Public Service office... come by and see us.

By Mrs. J.E. Green

The 4th of July has come and gone. A very quiet one as for some of us were concerned.

We did have a nice weekend. Our son, Clyde Green and daughter, Annie surprised me Friday evening and visited until Sunday morning when they return-

County Agent's Corner

By Doyle Warren
Floyd County Agent

NOTICE: Texas Corn Growers Association has been certified by the Commissioner of Agriculture to hold their corn commodity referendum check-off, with the regular election being held on July 29, and absentee balloting taking place from July 15 through July 26.

All interested corn producers should check with their County Agent to obtain an absentee ballot and leave it in the Agent's office. You do not have to be registered to be qualified to vote-only a certified corn producer in Texas, or owner of any interest in a corn crop.

VOTER INFORMATION

1. Although a signature and address is required on each ballot, this information is confidential. Only the canvassing committee will have access to the ballots, and after counting they are placed in a closed container which may not be opened without court order. How a person votes and the extent of production is completely confidential.

2. Ballots will be counted by a committee consisting of a county judge, a representative of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, a representative of the Texas Corn Growers Association, and a representative of the Texas Department of Agriculture. Results will then be certified to the Commissioner of Agriculture for verification.

3. Voter Eligibility. The law states all producers are eligible to vote in these elections-a producer is defined as anyone who produces or caused to be produced corn for commercial purposes. In practice, anyone who would have to pay the proposed assessment is his own name is eligible to vote in the elections. However, it is not the intent of the Act to have two votes allowed on the same production.

4. The ballot includes both a referendum proposition and a commodity producers board election. An individual voter may vote for a board member regardless of whether he votes "for" or "against" the referendum proposition. He may also vote for a board member if he declines to indicate any preference at all on the referendum proposition.

5. Referendums. Referendums verify your production in number of pounds produced in 1976. Also, vote only for the number of board members in your area as shown on the ballot, or a write-in vote. (Refer to areas defined by Counties as shown in the Referendum proposition.)

6. Each individual who votes must complete either Section A or Section B at the bottom of the ballot. If production in the case of any person was on a "share" basis, he should verify only that portion that represents his share. If anyone is unable to give his production in specific terms, he should estimate as closely as possible.

7. A. If you are voting by ABSENTEE BALLOT, fill out your ballot, sign and return to the Texas Corn Growers Office. It must be postmarked before midnight, July 26, 1977.

B. If you are voting by REGULAR BALLOT, fill out your ballot, sign and place it in the box provided at the site of the election.

8. Be sure to sign your ballot by normal signature and print your name and full address in the appropriate space at the bottom of the ballot.

9. Call the Association office if you have additional questions.
